

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 303

Alex Rockefeller and the rest couldn't help but turn to look at Hailey Lawson.

'She was the boss here. She should know what was going on, right?'

However, Hailey's eyes were wide open. She seemed nervous and afraid. In fact, she was as clueless as the rest. Hailey had not been here for close to half a year.

"Who are you people? Where are the workers in the factory? Who's the person in charge? Where did everyone go?" she asked in a shocked manner.

"I'm the person in charge. These are the people who work here. What's the matter? Are you looking for men? There are lots of us here. Take your pick. Your satisfaction is guaranteed," the one-eyed man said and started laughing.

"Watch your manners." Alex glared.

The one-eyed man laughed even more wildly, as did the rest of the group of people behind him.

Suddenly, the one-eyed man stared at Alex. "Manners? Stop acting. Favonius Bart asked you to come, didn't he? Did all the men working for him die? Is that why he asked a gigolo to come here? What's going on? Is he even using pretty women as a trap? Fine, the three ladies can stay. As for the guy, break his legs and throw him out of this place."

A few of the men stepped forward with sticks in their hands.

Just as Alex was about to attack, Brittany Rockefeller stopped him. "I don't know who you people are, and I don't know who Favonius Bart is either. However, from now on, this factory belongs to me. Please leave right away. Otherwise, I'm going to call the cops."

"Hah! The cops? I'm terrified!" The one-eyed man swerved his stick back and forth. He arrogantly reached out and touched Brittany's face.

"Old hag, you don't look too bad. I like mature women like you. Why don't we go inside and figure out how to call the cops together?" The one-eyed man said.

Wham!

Brittany immediately slapped him across the face. Brittany never held back when she wanted to exert dominance, she used 100% of her Silver Frost strength.

To be honest, the one-eyed man was just a normal person. How could he withstand the attack of a Royal rank martial artist?

Besides, to protect Brittany, Alex had been eagerly increasing her capability with pills and by channeling his own Chi energy into her body. Although Brittany was still at Beginner-Royal rank, she was much stronger than normal Beginner-Royal rank martial artists. Her defensive ability was also very strong.

The man's one-sided blindfold fell off as he was sent flying. Half of his face was visibly bruised, and the blood froze in the part of his face that was slapped. The one-eyed man fell to the ground and no longer made any sound.

"Boss, Boss!"

"Oh no! Boss passed out. What do we do?"

“Damn it. That woman is strong. Let’s attack her together.”

Alex instantly stepped forward, standing between Brittany and their foes. With a single kick, he knocked a row of them to the ground. He then grabbed one of their sticks. Just as Alex was about to dive in and cut them up like fruits, he was surprised to find Brittany doing the same when he turned around.

“Damn! Isn’t she fierce?”

Alex was dumbfounded.

From what he could recall, his mother was never really good at fighting. But Alex had never seen her in a fight. He didn’t expect her to be this powerful.

Maya Howards also felt tempted to join in the fight. She picked up a stick from the ground and started whacking their enemies. She was also at Beginner-Royal rank, and had significantly quicker reaction, speed and strength than normal people. Moreover, when she saw how fierce Brittany was, she also got excited. While attacking her enemies, she was cheering out loud.

At this point, Hailey Lawson was completely shocked. She kneeled on the ground and was in a state of disbelief.

Very soon, half of the group of fifty men fell to the ground. The rest of them quickly surrendered.

Brittany held onto a stick. She tapped it against one of the men’s forehead imposingly. “You, tell me, why are you here?” she asked.

The man’s face was badly bruised and he was terrified of getting hit again. “We really do work here.”

“Hailey, do you recognize these people?” Brittany asked Hailey.

“I don’t recognize a single one of them,” Hailey said while shaking her head.

Right then, Alex had already run into the factory to look around. When he returned, there was an extremely odd expression on his face.

“How are things on the inside?” Hailey asked him.