

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 373

Scott Pattingson was the top dog among the younger generation in the Pattingson family. He had the highest levels of natural talent and comprehension. Hence, the Pattingson family did their best to help him grow. Indeed, he was born a genius. At twenty-five years old, he had already achieved Intermediate-Mystic rank and reached the sixth stage with the family-inherited Golden Crushing Punch. With a single punch, he could even crush steel plates.

Right then, Scott used 100% of his inner force.

He wanted to kill Alex Rockefeller with a single punch so that those from the Yowell family and Divine Constabulary could see clearly that he was not one to be humiliated.

After letting out a wild roar, the inner force concentrated around his fist started to crackle.

Everyone's hearts stopped briefly, frightened by the might of his punch. Even Anna Coleman had a fearful look in her eyes. She could imagine how terribly injured she would be if she was punched. That was if she even survived in the first place.

On the other hand, Alex's punch was the Coleman family's Dragon-Tusk Punch.

But it didn't look quite like it either.

It was gentle and light, without any sound or gust of wind.

"Go to hell!" Scott shouted mercilessly.

Michelle Yowell screamed in fear. She turned around and didn't dare to watch what happened next.

Boom!

Their fists collided against each other.

Then, the sound of bones cracking could be painfully heard, and one of them was sent flying. Instead of Alex, it was Scott who was sent flying.

Scott's eyes were wide open in shock. He couldn't believe that his fully charged Golden Crushing Punch couldn't even make Alex move an inch when it hit him. It was as if Scott was hitting a hundred tons of steel.

Meanwhile, every inch of Scott's bones was crushed instantly due to the reversed impact. It hurt him to the core of his heart.

Even more unbelievable was the fact that a stream of energy emitted from Alex's fist. It thoroughly destroyed Scott's nerves, veins and inner organs.

Now, Scott couldn't feel anything in his body. He felt as if he had been struck by lightning.

This wasn't the kind of electrifying jolt one felt when attracted to the opposite gender. Instead, it was the kind that went up to several tens of millions of high-voltage electricity.

It only took Scott one second to realize he was done for. His life had been taken away in an instant. Before he died, a realization occurred to him. Not only was Alex a martial arts expert, but he was also the true master of cultivation.

Although Scott felt endlessly remorseful, it was too late.

Bam!

Scott fell to the ground and was no longer breathing.

Everyone in the Yowell family looked as if they had just seen a ghost

Evan Laws covered his mouth. "How is this possible? How could this be?" he cried out pitifully.

Anna blinked her pretty eyes several times-she was thoroughly shocked.

Michelle even cried out loudly.

Sky Melvis was still recording a video of the battle. He walked over to look at Scott before shaking his head and sighing. "Scott Pattingson lost to a single punch and died on the spot. No grudges will be held in this fight!"

Sky had said 'no grudges will be held' twice.

This was the underlying rule of the martial arts world. In a battle that determined life or death, regardless of victory or defeat, friendly forces of either side were not allowed to exact revenge. Otherwise, they would be considered as the failures of the martial arts society and be ostracized.

Even Divine Constabulary agreed with this rule.

However...

Sky turned off the camera and pulled Alex aside before speaking in a soft voice. "Scott Pattingson is the strongest person in the younger generation of the Pattingson family. He's also a leading member of the Pattingson family. Although he died in your hands in a fair fight, you must be careful when they secretly try to avenge him. I will use this footage to appropriately warn them against doing so," Sky said.

"Thank you." Alex nodded.

"We're family, after all," Sky chuckled and said.

"Are you really the Immortal Doctor?" Sky asked after a pause.

'What?'

Alex was stunned. He started thinking to himself. Wallace Yoke really did not hold back from advertising Alex. Since Wallace couldn't dominate America entirely, he used this poor strategy to slowly reveal Alex's identity.

As one of the Twelve Battle Kings of Divine Constabulary, and one of their twelve sub-group's leaders, Sky was willing to stand up and protect Alex with his life by going against the Pattingson family. Naturally, Sky had his reasons, Alex's greatest value was that he was the Immortal Doctor.

Although Alex had already taken a guess at Sky's thoughts, he didn't think much of it.
