

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 490

She was frustrated in that instant, and said angrily, “Why can’t I get a single penny after my house went through such damage?”

“Didn’t Alex just buy you a twenty million dollar villa? Look at you, you were having the time of your life when you swam in the pool yesterday. You should do the same today too!” said Dorothy.

Claire shouted, “I don’t care, I want my money. Give me ten million dollars, or else I will stay here tonight and I won’t leave!”

Smack!

Dorothy slapped a credit card on the table. “Here’s a hundred thousand dollars. Either you take it or you stay right here, I don’t care.”

Realizing that Dorothy wasn’t joking with her, Claire couldn’t help but grab the credit card.

Beatrice then said, “Can I have ten thousand dollars please, Sis?”

“Why do you need so much money?” Dorothy frowned.

“I... To attend Zendaya’s concert at California State Stadium... My ticket has been bought by someone using borrowed money. If you don’t give me the money, I’ll have no choice but to go for online loans.”

“Are you nuts?” Dorothy instantly chided, “You must not go for any online loans! Haven’t you watched those tragic news? Once you have started borrowing online loans, it will be a bottomless pit after that and the debt will just keep snowballing. No matter how much fortune those people possess, they will be sucked dry by these loans, leaving them devastated and homeless.”

Beatrice said, “That is exactly why you should give me the money. Think of it as a loan that I borrow from you. I will repay you once I have graduated and started working.”

Dorothy was livid but there was nothing else she could do.

Alex frowned and said, “Didn’t you just attend Zendaya’s concert last time? Why do you still want to attend the concert this time? Did you forget you were almost kidnapped to warm someone’s bed last time?”

Beatrice glared at him. “How did you know?”

Alex said, “I... Heard it from someone else.”

Beatrice snorted. “Mind your own business.”

Alex pouted his lips as he thought, ‘Since I will be going up the stage at the concert later, shouldn’t I wear a mask whatsoever?’

Time flew, and soon the day of Zendaya’s concert came. On the other hand, Brittany purposely made the trip back from Michigan. First, it was to attend the concert, secondly, she wanted to meet Zendaya to discuss the matter of product endorsement.

Holly Yates also accompanied her on the trip.

The extra tickets in Alex's hand finally came in handy. Not only did Brittany and Holly attend the concert, but both Waltz and Maya also went there too. However, Alex had to play the piano for Zendaya, especially her newly released song. He had to stay with Zendaya and her team, so he could not stick around with Brittany and the ladies.

As for Dorothy, she wasn't too interested in this concert as it was almost similar to the previous concert. Although it was just a compensated concert, it was still teeming with people.

Beatrice, Wilson Jordan, Sam Culver, and several other fan club members arrived at the stadium together. After a brief reception, they walked into the stadium. Unexpectedly, Beatrice was almost knocked over by a man.

"Look at where you walk, what's the hurry?" Wilson, who had a crush on Beatrice, was livid and was about to beat the man up.

Beatrice hurriedly pulled him back. As she looked at the man, she said with a surprised expression, "Aren't you the famous piano master from Hong Kong, Maestro Alan? Oh gosh, could it be that you specifically come here to play the piano for Zendaya?"

It was indeed Alan.

He bumped into Beatrice after being pushed by someone else.

Attracted by Beatrice's good look and her slender figure, Alan did not act high and mighty but said, "My apologies for bumping into you earlier. Yes, I am Alan. However, I'm not the one who will be playing for Zendaya tonight. Master Rockefeller will take my place instead."

"And who is this Master Rockefeller?" Beatrice was surprised.
