

The Pinnacle of Life –

Chapter 0580

“Hey, where are you going?”

“To reflect on my mistake!”

Alex spent the entire night in the basement.

Alex, who was full of energy but had nowhere to vent, went straight to concoct both the Energy Recovery Pill and the pills to alleviate Nathan Pattingson’s damaged energy core. Then, he also managed to concoct a batch of Blood Energy Pills.

It was six thirty in the morning.

Deep in her sleep, Waltz was slapped by Alex on her thigh. “Wake up, sleepyhead!”

Waltz was still in a drowsy state. “It hurts! Wait, what time is it?”

Alex replied, “The Energy Recovery Pill is ready. It can restore your martial arts, do you want it? Otherwise, I’ll give it to Michelle Yowell.”

Waltz leaped out of the bed immediately upon hearing Alex’s question. “Yes, yes. I want it, quick, give it to me.”

She was rather loud.

Nathan Pattingson, who slept a floor beneath, heard everything.

He had a habit of waking up early and had been meditating since a while ago. After hearing their conversation, he gently shook his head. He secretly lamented, 'It's really good to be young! I did not expect Mr. Rockefeller to be a playboy as well!'

He started reminiscing about his past. He used to have plenty of ladies around him during his prime. The women even bore his many children, that was how the Pattingson family grew into such a prosperous family that was blessed with many offsprings. That was also why even after both his son and grandson were killed by Alex, he could still be very respectful toward the young man and dared not disobey him even the slightest.

"This is for you!"

Alex threw a bottle, which was filled with a single kumquat-sized pill. It was the Energy Recovery Pill.

"Swallow it now and I will cast a protection art on you to help you absorb its recuperating power and restore your energy core... The cultivation techniques that you practiced years ago left a flaw in your energy core. It's not developed completely and there are impurities present, that is why your cultivated energy core is in poor quality. It could be considered as a mediocre energy core at best."

Waltz pouted. "Can you stop being so mean?"

Alex replied, "I was just telling the truth."

"Well, you are trying to strike my confidence by saying that I have poor potential as a fighter." She flipped around and placed her legs on Alex's lap.

"I just want to tell you that since you are going to rise again after falling, I'll lend you a hand by striving for the opportunity to develop an exceptional energy core. With this, you should be within reaching distance of Maya soon."

“Maya? She’s way behind me!”

“That was a long time ago. She started late but she has great potential. Mark my words, she will break through the Mystic rank soon.”

Waltz extended her arms and wrapped them around his neck. She let out a breath as she said, “You need to help me develop a top quality energy core, Senior. I can’t be compared like this anymore, how else can I hold my head high? If we were to succeed, I shall reward you...”

“What is it?”

Waltz whispered something in his ears.

Immediately, Alex widened his eyes. What she said was actually about the thing that he did with Dorothy in the office yesterday. Dorothy pulled out halfway through, he wondered if Waltz would do the same?

‘Pooh! What am I thinking?! Dorothy is my wife, but she isn’t! This little witch, she is just trying to seduce me again.’

“Take the pill and focus. Stop fantasizing!”

In the next moment, Waltz swallowed the Energy Recovery Pill. Under Alex’s immediate support using his Chi of lightning attribute, faint yet ever present electric power began flowing through Waltz’s body and helped her to develop a new energy core!

The Chi of lightning attribute could remove impurities in an energy core and completely develop it without flaws.

Alex was very experienced in this since both Brittany and Maya’s energy cores were developed using similar methods.

An hour later, Waltz's energy core, after breaking and rebuilding, was successfully restored. Furthermore, it was two grades more powerful than before, it was a top quality energy core.

Alex received a call from Dorothy at nine in the morning.

They were supposed to go to Assex Manor today to attend Madame Joanne's wake.

Before departure, he gave Nathan the pills that could suppress his injuries and had him stay behind to protect Waltz. Even though her energy core was restored, she still needed to undergo a process in order to return fully to her former powers.

Alex, Dorothy, and her family arrived at Assex Manor at ten o'clock. Unexpectedly, they were stopped at the entrance.

Emma Assex looked at them coldly. "Why did you come here? You were banished by Grandma a long time ago, now you're just abandoned children of the Assexes! Grandma was brought to her death by you bearers of ill luck, you people are murderers! How dare you show your faces here for her wake? You do not deserve to be here! Begone!"

Immediately, she threw a basin of water into their faces.

Alex quickly pulled Dorothy to dodge the water while Beatrice stood quite a distance away, so they were safe. Unfortunately for Claire, she was drenched from head to toe by a basin of water of an unknown origin!
