

Trapped 751

Chapter 751 Brought an Outsider

Daniella's phone lit up with a flurry of text messages as soon as she powered it on. They were all from Neil. She began to read them one by one.

Neil: [I can save you, but you have to do three things for me.]

Neil: [First, find a way to obtain evidence of Draco's attempt to murder me.]

Neil: [Second, figure out how to get Bernard to come with you. I need to take down Bernard for the best shot at toppling Draco.]

Neil: [Third, tell me Draco's plan and method to murder me immediately so I can plan my countermeasure.]

Daniella quickly replied.

Daniella: [I need help. No one can know about this phone. If possible, plant recording devices in his study.]"

After Eira coerced Neil into drinking juice, he responded to Daniella's message.

Neil: [Leave it to me. I'll update you when I's done.]

Daniella felt a wave of relief wash over her. I'm going to send these people to hell one by one next!" she hell one by one next she thought.

The following morning. Alex received a summons to meet Evan at MK.

Alex walked into Evan's office with a puzzled expression.

After spotting Evan, who was getting ready and putting on his jacket, Alex asked, "Evan, why did you call me here so early?"

Evan's response was stern. "Since you don't want me to meet your parents, you may leave."

Alex's eyes widened in shock. "Are you serious? Are you really going to help me convince my parents?"

Evan repeated, "I won't say it again."

"Let's go now!" Alex said, his excitement evident.

The two of them settled in the backseat of a car. Alex couldn't sit still and asked, "Evan, have you thought about what you're going to say? My mother is not easy to deal with."

Evan rolled up his sleeves and suggested, "Why not talk to your father to resolve the issue instead of your mother?"

Alex pondered this. "You make a valid point... But I think the chances with my father are even slimmer."

Evan impatiently said, "One more question, and I'll have Reuben turn this car around."

"Alright, I'll follow your lead," Alex agreed.

Evan changed the subject, asking. "How far along is Paige's pregnancy now?" 1

Alex beamed with pride, saying, "Almost four months! Evan, I'm going to be a father!"

Evan smirked. "Do you think it's easy to raise a child?"

Alex confidently replied, "Trust that my son won't be any less than yours."

Evan merely said, "We'll see."

Half an hour later, Evan and Alex arrived at the Prices.

Rebecca was in the living room. She noticed the commotion and greeted Evan with a smile. However, her expression changed when she saw Alex following behind.

"Evan, it's nice to see you, but why did you bring an outsider?" Rebecca said mockingly.

Evan approached and greeted, "I'm here to see Mr. Price, Mrs. Price."

"He's in the study. Go ahead," Rebecca replied, taking a glance upstairs.

Evan nodded and prepared to go upstairs, instructing Alex, "Wait for me downstairs."

Alex reluctantly waited with Rebecca.

Evan went to the study, knocked on the door, and entered.

Franklin was engrossed in his antique collection. He smiled and said, "Evan, it's you! Come and take a look at the vase I just bought quickly!"

Chapter 752 Are You Accusing Me

Evan walked over and gave two serious glances. "Even though the quality is slightly lower than your previous antique collection, it's still pretty good."

Franklin sighed. "You're right... There are things that won't appeal to everyone, even if they're of good quality."

Evan asked, "What are you insinuating. Mr. Price?"

Franklin put down his brush and motioned for Evan to sit on the sofa. He poured a cup of coffee for Evan and said, "Evan, you're here to talk about the girl, right?"

"Yes, Alex loves her a lot," Evan replied.

"Can love last a lifetime? It's just a momentary burst of enthusiasm for now," Franklin remarked.

Evan asked, "Do you dislike Paige because of her family background or because of her as an individual?"

Franklin explained, "Evan, you know that Alex is my only son. He's going to take over Price Group in the future. Every family in Angelbay is watching the three most influential families closely. It will be very difficult for us to get back to our previous position if there is even a bit of a setback. I want Alex to marry. someone of the same social standing for the sake of the family."

Evan countered, "Do you not trust Alex's capability that much, Mr. Price?"

"Furthermore, if you don't believe that their relationship will last, why not let them be and see how long they can hold on?"

"Perhaps they might break up once the initial excitement fades, just as you said. On the other hand, your opposition will only make them more reluctant to part ways. After all, everyone in this world has at rebellious streak..."

Downstairs, Alex and Rebecca sat far apart.

Rebecca glared at Alex and asked, "Do you have anything to tell me?"

Alex had no intention of engaging with Rebecca.

Rebecca mumbled, "Why? Are you blaming me for slapping that woman yesterday?"

The remark triggered Alex. He turned to look at Rebecca. "Palga is not a seductress, and I'll say this one last time!"

"If she's not, then who is she? Look at you now. You won't go to the company or come home! If you're not drawn to her, what is it? Was I wrong for slapping her?" Rebecca raised her voice.

"She's carrying my child in her womb! Are you trying to end my legacy? Alex snarled.

"There's no telling who the father of her baby is! Don't you know about her habit of going to bars before?"

Does an immodest woman like her have the audacity to carry your child?

"She's leeching off you because she thinks you're rich! Perhaps she might get an abortion later in the pregnancy! Think with your head Rebecca said.

"Mother, I won't come back anymore from now on if you keep talking about her like this!" Alex declared.

Rebecca was exasperated. "How long are you going to remain oblivious?"

"That's enough."

All of a sudden, Franklin's voice was heard from the stairway

Alex and Rebecca looked up to see him.

Noticing that her helper was there, Rebecca hastily said, "Talk some sense into your son. He has lost his mind from being enchanted!"

"Are you done causing trouble? Do you think yesterday's incident wasn't embarrassing enough?" Franklin lost his temper at Rebecca.

Rebecca was shocked. "Frank, are you accusing me?"

Franklin said, "Don't get involved in your son's matters from now on!"

"Very well then, I won't get involved any further from now on since you say so!"

Rebecca turned and walked away in anger.

Alex couldn't believe that Evan would convince his father so easily. He was still in shock after leaving the residence.

Chapter 753 Someone Would Like to See You

After getting into the car, Alex turned to Evan and asked, "What did you say to my father that made him agree so easily?"

Evan leaned back and closed his eyes. "Be quiet."

Alex didn't press for more information. After all, he was thankful to Evan for handling the task.

Once home, Alex shared the good news with Paige.

Paige didn't display much emotion, but she said lazily, "It's good that you've resolved the issue."

Alex furrowed his brow, puzzled. "You don't seem too happy about it, huh?"

Paige sighed. "Do you want me to burst with excitement? Don't forget that we haven't explained things to my parents yet."

Paige worried about how her parents would react to the news. She thought, 'Even though my parents are good people, their thinking is conservative. If they find out I'm pregnant out of wedlock...'

Paige couldn't fathom the consequences, so how could she be happy?

Alex reassured her, "It's simple. We'll set a time, I'll get some gifts, and we'll visit them. I'm here. Don't be scared."

Paige forced a smile and quietly huddled on the sofa.

Later in the afternoon, Naomi knocked and entered Caroline's office as she sorted through documents.

"Ms. Shenton, the receptionist called to inform me that someone wants to see you," Naomi said.

Caroline looked up. "Who?"

"Zeke Jung."

Caroline was surprised. "Mr. Zeke? Why did he come unannounced?"

Caroline quickly stood up. "Please bring him up and make it fast!"

Naomi nodded. She was about to leave when Caroline stopped her. "Hold on! I'll do it myself!"

Caroline left her office and headed downstairs to welcome Zeke.

Zeke and Siobhan sat in the lobby, waiting for Caroline. They stood to greet her when she approached.

“Caroline,” Zeke greeted her with a smile.

Caroline extended her hand. “Mr. Zeke, Shiv, why didn’t you let us know you were coming? I could’ve picked you up.”

Siobhan smiled and said, “I apologize for disrupting your busy day, madam.”

Caroline reassured them. “It’s fine. I’m not very busy anyway.”

Zeke explained, “Shiv and I were concerned you’d be busy, so we didn’t call ahead. I hope we haven’t disturbed your work.”

Caroline said, “Not at all. Let’s head upstairs. After I make some arrangements, I’ll treat you to a meal.”

The three of them went upstairs. Zeke took a moment to admire Caroline’s office space.

“The design and decoration of your company are very cozy,” Zeke commented.

Caroline smiled. “You’re too kind, Mr. Zeke. My place is quite humble compared to your large company.”

Zeke complimented her, “You’re too humble. Everyone has a different style, but I can see that your place is designed for the convenience of the employees.”

Caroline shared her philosophy. “The employees are at the core of the company. They’ll be in the mood to work when they feel as comfortable as they do at home.”

Zeke acknowledged, “I should learn from you on this.”

Caroline poured coffee for Zeke and asked Naomi to prepare a glass of fresh juice for Siobhan.

“Please have a seat, Mr. Zeke. I’ll be back after making a call,” Caroline said.

Zeke nodded. “Sure, go ahead.”

Caroline left the office and called Kenny.

Kenny picked up, sounding busy, “What’s going on, G?”

Caroline explained, “Take a break from work for a moment. Mr. Jung is here with his daughter. Come join us for a meal and take over the evening meeting at the company.”

Kenny was shocked, “What? Mr. Jung is there? His daughter, too?”

Chapter 754 Spending Time With Ms. Shenton

“Don’t ask too many questions! I’ll send you the restaurant address later, and you can meet us there!”

Caroline interrupted him.

“Okay!”

Caroline went to Naomi’s office to discuss some matters after ending the call.

Then, she invited Zeke and Siobhan out for a meal.

At Angelbay Hotel.

Kenny ordered the best items from the restaurant's menu when he arrived first.

Caroline and Zeke went straight to the private room upon their arrival at the hotel.

Kenny was about to order drinks from the waitress in the private room when Caroline, Zeke, and his daughter entered.

Kenny hurriedly approached Zeke and greeted enthusiastically, "I've heard of your great reputation, Mr. Jung! Welcome to Angelbay!"

Zeke smiled and said, "Hello, Kenny."

Kenny was stunned. "You actually know me?"

Zeke replied. "Yes, of course. You're the Vice President of TYC."

Caroline commented to Kenny, "You're a little overexcited, huh?"

"How can I not be? Mr. Jung is a giant in the petroleum industry!" Kenny couldn't contain his excitement.

Zeke said, "You're too kind."

"Don't be so humble, Mr. Jung. Do you drink? What's your preferred drink?" Kenny asked.

Zeke replied, "I'm sorry, but I'm not a good drinker, so I don't drink much. We can just have lunch."

"Sure thing! This is your daughter, right? She is beautiful!" Kenny glanced at Siobhan, who was standing quietly by the side.

Siobhan nodded respectfully. "Hello, sir. My name is Siobhan Jung. You may call me Shiv."

*Shiv! Hello, my name is Kenny!" Kenny greeted her warmly.

Caroline urged, "Don't just stand there. Please have a seat."

The waitress served the meals after they sat down.

During the meal, they didn't discuss work as if they had a mutual understanding.

Kenny suggested, "Let G take you on a tour around Angelbay this evening, Mr. Jung. However, I hope you won't find it boring."

Zeke looked at Caroline and said in a respectful yet gentle way, "Thank you."

"Oh, right, G. Eira called me and told me that she'll be home tonight. Why don't you invite Mr. Jung to the house?" Kenny suggested.

He told Zeke, "Mr. Jung, you must come and taste Eira's cooking at our place. Her cooking is awesome!"

Kenny then turned to Siobhan. "Shiv, G has three children! You'll have a good time playing with them!"

Caroline added, "You're right. Eira's cooking is comparable to renowned chefs indeed."

"Thank you for hosting us then," Zeke said.

Siobhan chimed in. "Thank you for the invitation."

After lunch, Kenny returned to the company while Caroline showed Zeke and Siobhan around the city.

Zeke had quite a reputation and stood out in the crowd, with five bodyguards walking behind him. His presence was powerful as he walked down the street.

Journalists immediately began reporting his visit when he appeared on the street with Caroline, who was at the height of her popularity lately.

It quickly became a top trending post.

At MK.

Reuben headed to Evan's office after seeing the post.

He walked into the office and showed the news to Evan. "Sir, Mr. Jung from Zeke Corp. is in Angelbay, and he's spending time with Ms. Shenton!"

Evan looked up with a frown. "Zeke? What brought him to Angelbay?"

He took the tablet from Reuben and read the comments under the post.

[Oh my God! If MK's Mr. Jordan is a domineering CEO, Mr. Jung is a wealthy gentleman!

[Why do I find that Mr. Jung and Ms. Shenton make a well-matched couple?]

[Is Mr. Jung in Angelbay because of Ms. Shenton? What's their relationship? I'm curious!

Chapter 755 Developed So Quickly

Ms. Shenton is very fortunate. I admire her greatly, I'm a big fan of hers.]

[Mr. Jung is here for Ms. Shenton despite his busy schedule. It must be true love.]

Evan's expression turned serious as he read the comments from the online community.

"This is nonsense! Get someone to take down that post. If anyone reports again, I'll shut them down!"

Evan snapped, slamming the desk.

Reuben was taken aback. "Sir, Ms. Shenton..."

Evan narrowed his eyes. "Assign someone to keep an eye on them. Zeke's sudden visit to Angelbay is far from ordinary. If he's not here for business, he's here for Caroline. Being a divorcee, he might be looking for a stepmother for his child."

"A stepmother? Ms. Shenton is quite charming, isn't she?" Reuben was surprised.

He hesitated to speak further as Evan's demeanor had turned cold.

Reuben didn't dare to comment further, and Evan didn't want to dwell on it.

Zeke was known for being a good, humble, respectful, and kind man. A man like him could easily capture a woman's heart.

Evan wasn't concerned about Zeke's determined pursuit but rather that Caroline might find it hard to resist Zeke's affection.

After a brief thought, Evan reached for his phone to call Kenny. He wanted to confirm the reason behind Zeke's visit to Angelbay.

Kenny picked up after a while. "What's the matter, Mr. Jordan? I'm very busy, you know."

Evan asked, "What's Zeke doing in Angelbay?"

"Isn't he allowed to visit? If you must know, he's here to tour around with G! We took him out for lunch.

Although his status is as prestigious as yours, his temperament is much better than yours!

"Oh, and I've invited him to the house tonight!" Kenny said, trying to provoke Evan and make it clear that he wasn't the only impressive man in Caroline's life.

Evan's expression grew even more sour. "Did Caroline agree to his visit?"

"Yes! You don't have the right to object. It's her house, and she can invite whomever she pleases!"

Evan hung up as soon as Kenny finished his statement. He hadn't expected Caroline to invite Zeke to her home so quickly.

"Their relationship has progressed rapidly, considering they've only spent three days together in Staten City," Evan remarked to Reuben.

Reuben was surprised. "Are you going to Bayview Villa?"

"Is there a problem?" Evan looked displeased.

Reuben quickly shook his head. "No, your wish is my command!"

Caroline had called Eira in advance and asked her to prepare a few signature dishes for dinner. She realized she needed to bring her children home as well. Since returning two days ago, she had been so busy she hadn't had a chance to pick them up

After bringing Zeke and Siobhan to Bayview Villa, Caroline tried calling Evan.

Evan didn't answer her call the first time, so she conversed with Zeke while waiting.

Half an hour later, as Caroline was about to make another call, she heard the sound of a car engine outside

The bodyguard entered and said, "Mr. Jordan is here, Ms. Shenton."

Caroline was surprised. "Evan?"

The bodyguard confirmed, "Yes, he brought the children home."

Zeke, who had been in the living room, frowned slightly upon hearing that. He was aware of Evan and the many stories linking Caroline to him.

Chapter 756 Made Quite an Impact

Why are Caroline's children with Evan? Could it be because Evan's son is friends with Caroline's kids?"

Zeke wondered.

Caroline met them at the door while Siobhan asked Zeke, "Daddy, are you in a bad mood?"

Zeke smiled and ran his fingers through Siobhan's hair. "Nah, just lost in thought. Don't worry."

Outside, Caroline watched Evan enter the villa with the children.

"Mommy!" Liora rushed to hug Caroline's leg.

Tyler quipped, "Quit hanging onto Mommy."

Axel added, "Tyler, Lia's a girl. Don't scold her."

Liora shot back at Tyler, "You're just jealous because you can't sweet-talk Mommy like I can!"

Tyler was rendered speechless.

Caroline smiled at the kids and asked Evan, "Why did you suddenly bring them here? I was thinking of going over myself."

Evan's expression was unpleasant, and his tone was sharp. "Can't I come here?"

Caroline said, "That's not what I meant. Why are you speaking so harshly?"

Evan told the children, "It's cold outside. Get inside!"

The kids cast concerned glances at Caroline before going inside.

Caroline wondered why they looked at her differently.

Evan asked, "Zeke Jung is here, right?"

Caroline nodded. "Yes, why?"

"So, you invited a man you just met into your house?" Evan questioned.

Evan frowned. "Do you know what kind of person he is?"

Caroline realized the reason for Evan's displeasure and asked, "What are you worried about? Are you concerned he might harm me?"

"You invited him here after knowing him for only three days? Are you getting along with Zeke?" Evan

Caroline replied, "No. Are you suspecting something between me and him? Evan, he and I are business partners!"

Evan said, "You shouldn't have so many unnecessary interactions with him in a professional relationship!"

Caroline was frustrated. "Can you be more reasonable? Why do you think so poorly of people? He invited me to his house, so why can't I invite him to taste Eira's cooking?"

Evan's gaze turned cold. "You went to his place?"

Caroline was stunned.

"So, you were at his place when I came to see you at the hotel that night, but you weren't there?"

Evan was visibly angry.

Caroline was taken aback. "You came to see me? When?"

"On your second night in Staten City," Evan replied.

Caroline remembered Evan telling her to wait for him that night.

'So he did come,' she thought.

Caroline explained, "He invited me for a barbecue, but it wasn't at his place. Why didn't you text me that you were there?"

Evan sneered. "Seems like Zeke has left quite an impression on you!"

Caroline asked, "What makes you say that?"

"Why would you willingly have a barbecue with him when you never did in the past?" Evan mocked.

"I don't want to argue anymore! Come in or leave!" Caroline walked away.

Evan followed with a tense expression. He wouldn't allow an unknown man to stay in Caroline's house.

Evan entered the living room and made eye contact with Zeke.

Zeke stood up and extended his hand graciously. "I've heard a lot about you, Mr. Jordan."

Evan shook his hand courteously. "You have quite a reputation, Mr. Jung."

Chapter 757 Worth Making Friends With

Caroline found herself at a loss for words.

"Zeke greeted you kindly, but you chose to mock him," she thought.

Caroline opted to remain silent. Instead, she headed to the kitchen to assist Eira. Caroline opted to remain silent. Instead, she h

Meanwhile, Liora observed Siobhan closely and asked, "Are you his daughter?"

Siobhan smiled and replied, “Yes, I’m Siobhan Jung. And you are?”

“I’m Liora Shenton! Do you like my name? Liora giggled.

Tyler took a sip of water and teased, “Do you think your name is the best in the world, Lia?”

Liora glared at Tyler. “Must you mock me in front of others?”

Tyler nonchalantly leaned back against the sofa. “Why not?”

Liora gnashed her teeth and sought Axel’s help. “Axel, please rein in your younger brother.”

Axel turned his gaze toward Tyler and urged, Ty, show a bit more consideration for Lia.”

Tyler defended himself, “I’ve always been considerate. Lia, do you have trouble breaking the habit of seeking help when you can’t win an argument?”

Liora’s frustration reached its peak. “I can’t take it anymore!”

She launched herself at Tyler, pinning him down and unleashing a barrage of blows.

Their sudden scuffle took aback Siobhan.

“These two are so... lively,” she thought.

Siobhan was engrossed in watching them when Axel apologized, “I’m sorry. My younger brother and sister have outgoing personalities.”

Siobhan turned to Axel, her lips forming a faint smile. "It's fine. They're quite entertaining."

Siobhan's smile momentarily entranced Axel. He blushed and looked away. "Is that so..."

"Hmm. I wish I had siblings, too, so I wouldn't be bored at home," Siobhan mused softly.

Axel offered, "You can come and play with us."

Siobhan's eyes held a tinge of regret. "It's not convenient, though. I'm from Staten City."

Axel recalled his father mentioning this during the ride home with Reuben. He nodded, unsure of how to respond to Siobhan's comment.

Tyler finally pushed Liora away, eyeing her with feigned anger. "Could you try to calm down and be more ladylike?"

Liora grumbled, "I'm a lady, too! My anger is your fault!"

Tyler snickered. "You're scaring her."

Liora looked at Siobhan with a shocked expression.

Blushing, she asked shyly, "Am I too fierce, Shiv? Did I scare you?"

Siobhan giggled. "Not at all. This is quite fun."

Tyler observed Siobhan from the side.

'She exudes elegance, grace, and gentleness, just as the Jung family's heiress should. But girls like her wouldn't usually play with someone like me,' he thought.

Liora hopped off the sofa and told Axel, "It's Lego time, Axel."

Axel nodded and turned to Siobhan, extending a courteous invitation. "Would you like to join us?"

"Can I?" Siobhan blurted out unconsciously.

Realizing her slip, she promptly closed her mouth, lowered her gaze, and blushed.

Tyler, seated next to the Legos, added, "Feel free to join us. No need to be so formal."

Siobhan's blush deepened.

Liora stepped forward, taking Siobhan's hand. "Let's play, Shiv!"

Siobhan agreed softly, "A-Alright."

Meanwhile, Evan and Zeke occupied separate sofas.

Evan glanced at Zeke with hostility and asked, "How did you manage to visit Angelbay with such a busy schedule, Mr. Jung?"

Zeke replied casually, "I came primarily to see Caroline. She's a remarkable person worth befriending."

Evan's expression turned chilly. 'Already on a first-name basis, huh?

He sneered. "You can judge someone's character in just a few days, Mr. Jung?"

Chapter 758 Will You Take Me Home Tonight?

Zeke pondered. "Three days might seem short, but how can I run my company if I can't even judge someone's character accurately?"

Evan sneered. "You seem to hold Caroline in high regard, Mr. Jung--"

Zeke maintained a smile and locked eyes with Evan. "I assume you wouldn't have befriended Caroline if you didn't think highly of her character?"

"Befriend? Who said we're just friends?" Evan arched an eyebrow.

Zeke's smile faded. "What do you mean, Mr. Jordan?"

Evan revealed, "We're married."

"Hal"

A scoff suddenly echoed from the foyer.

Evan's expression turned serious as he looked at Kenny, who had burst into uncontrollable laughter.

"Hey... Mr. Jordan. Hahaha, I'm afraid not even Caroline is aware of that, Hahaha..."

Zeke observed Kenny, and his eyebrows relaxed as if he had grasped something.

He casually remarked, "It appears Ms. Shenton is quite popular."

Evan pursed his lips tightly and shot Kenny a displeased, narrowed-eyed look. "Caroline and I have children, though."

Kenny retorted, "That's a fact, but you're not legally married!"

Kenny strolled over to the sofa, wiping tears from laughter. He slyly glanced at Zeke. "Mr. Jung, you still stand a great chance."

Zeke and Evan were rendered speechless, while Kenny was delighted with Evan's solemn expression.

"Kenny? Why are you standing there laughing?" Caroline entered the living room.

Kenny feigned shock, asking, "You're married, G? Why didn't I know? What happened to our friendship?"

Caroline was baffled. She turned to Evan, whose expression was oddly solemn. "What is he up to?"

Zeke's gaze shifted to Tyler and Axel, who were talking

After a moment, he looked back at Evan. 'Why do Caroline's children resemble Evan so much? Is there some unique connection between them?'

While playing with toys, Axel noticed Zeke's stare. He pondered for a moment and then approached Evan.

"Daddy, will you take me home tonight?" 1

Zeke was taken aback. Evan noticed Zeke's changing expression and smirked with satisfaction. "No, because I'm staying over tonight."

Caroline's cheeks flushed. "Evan, don't say that in front of the children."

Evan defended, "Did I say something wrong?"

Caroline felt too embarrassed to continue the conversation in front of others. She took Axel's hand and said, "Come wash your hands with Mommy."

Zeke pieced together their relationship and realized he had oversimplified things. It was clear that Caroline and Evan's relationship was more complex than it appeared. No wonder Evan brings her children with him. She has a family, so I won't intrude."

Soon, Eira emerged from the kitchen and announced that dinner was ready. Everyone gathered at the table.

During dinner, Tyler and Liora continued their arguments while Siobhan watched with a constant smile on her face.

After observing Siobhan for a while, Zeke remarked, "You seem happy, Shiv."

Siobhan quickly suppressed her smile, lowered her head, and mumbled, "They're fun..."

Chapter 759 Easy to Get Along

Zeke felt emotional as he watched his daughter lose her smile once more.

Suddenly, Liora turned to Caroline and said, "Mommy, can I sit with Shiv? There's an empty spot over there."

Caroline smiled and replied, "Go ahead. Talk to Shiv."

But Tyler interjected, "Forget it, Mommy. Siobhan can still eat, but if Lia sits with her, she might get saliva in Siobhan's food." He looked at Liora with interest.

Liora's frustration boiled over, and she shouted at Tyler, "I can't stand you anymore, Tyler!"

Liora then picked up her plate and cutlery and walked over to Siobhan's side. She covered her mouth and said, "I promise not to spray saliva, Shiv, Can I sit next to you?"

Siobhan hesitated momentarily, then reached out and gently lowered Llor's hand from her mouth. "It's fine. I don't mind."

Llor wiggled her feet happily and glared at Tyler disapprovingly.

After the meal, Zeke prepared to leave with Siobhan.

Caroline saw them off and waited until they were in the car to say, "Mr. Zeke, I think Shiv enjoys playing with my children."

Zeke acknowledged, "You're right. I'm sorry for disrupting your family dinner tonight."

Caroline waved her hand dismissively and looked at Siobhan. "Will you come and play with us again, Shiv?"

Siobhan didn't answer but glanced at Zeke, who smiled and replied, "I don't think I'll have the time to bring her here again."

He realized Caroline might have been a suitable partner initially, but he no longer felt the same way.

However, he couldn't disrupt her connection with Evan.

Caroline pondered for a moment. "If you don't mind, Shiv can come and stay with us during summer and winter breaks, Mr. Zeke."

Zeke remained silent, considering the offer.

Caroline added with a smile, "Mr. Zeke, there are many children in my family, and Eira will watch over them. You're busy with work, and Shiv gets lonely at home."

Zeke thought, 'That's a valid point.'

After a brief silence, he turned to Siobhan and asked, "What do you think, Shiv?"

Siobhan blushed and replied, "I'll follow your wishes, Daddy."

Zeke smiled and said, "Alright, Caroline. I have my bodyguards arrange for Shiv to stay with you during breaks. Thank you for offering to do this."

Caroline nodded. "Sure. Have a safe trip, Mr. Zeke."

During their ride back, Zeke engaged Siobhan in conversation.

"Shiv, are you happy with the decision I made for you?" he asked.

Siobhan replied, "Yes. Ms. Carol and her family are very interesting and kind people."

Zeke couldn't help but notice the genuine happiness on her face.

Siobhan suddenly remembered Tyler. Her eyes glistened as she remarked casually, "Hmm, Tyler and Lioral are very cheerful. I find it easy to get along with them."

Meeting people like Tyler and Liora, who were quite different from her, intrigued her. She eagerly anticipated the upcoming summer break.

Meanwhile, at Bayview Villa

Evan received a call from Neil while playing with the children in the living room.

He checked his phone, excused himself, and went upstairs to take the call.

Neil got straight to the point, "Evan, I need your help with something."

Leaning against the windowsill, Evan asked, "What is it?"

Neil then briefly shared the contents of Daniella's text message with Evan.

Chapter 760 Put the Children In Danger

Evan scoffed. "Why should I agree to Daniella's request if it can be done easily?"

Neil asked in confusion, "What do you mean?"

Evan explained, "No one can enter his study except for himself and Bernard. He needs to be present for others to gain access. Moreover, there are iris and facial recognition scanners at the entrance, triggering a warning alarm if someone fails the verification."

Neil pondered for a moment. "If that's the case, your father is extremely cautious, and obtaining evidence won't be easy."

Intrigued by Neil's comment, Evan replied, "Not necessarily."

"Hmm?"

"I'll get back to you," Evan said, ending the call.

He went downstairs and brought Tyler and Axel to the bedroom.

They looked at him, puzzled. Tyler asked, "What's going on?"

Evan gazed at the children. "Is there a way to bypass my father's facial and iris scanners?"

Tyler and Axel exchanged glances,

Axel thought for a moment. "I'll need to access the data Grandfather entered previously and bring it back before I can tamper with it."

Tyler chimed in. "Also, he won't be able to enter his study while I'm working on it."

Axel chimed in. "You're right. We need him to enter the data personally to gain access."

"What if we add one more person at that moment?" Evan suggested.

Axel nodded. "That should work. I can add one more and remove it later. However..."

Evan pressed, "However, what?"

Axel looked at Tyler. "I'll need Ty to assist me in entering the data once I break through the firewall. I can't manage two computers alone,"

It was clear that Axel couldn't do it without Tyler's help.

Tyler reluctantly said, "I don't want to do it.",

Axel sighed, expecting this response.

Evan addressed Tyler, "You should know this isn't just for me."

Tyler stared at Evan, demanding. "Give me a good reason to do it."

Evan then shared Caroline and Neil's situation with Tyler. It was a chance for Tyler to understand the dark side of the world, considering his mature mindset.

Tyler was shocked by Evan's revelation

Evan asked, "Will you do it now?"

Tyler nodded, lost in thought.

Evan stood up and assured, "I take you there tomorrow night."

Later that night, Evan informed Caroline about the situation after putting the children to bed.

Caroline was furious when she heard the children were involved. "Have you lost your mind? Why are you involving the children?!"

Evan frowned. "Caroline, please calm down and listen to my explanation."

"I don't want to! I'd rather have no evidence than endanger the children!" Caroline snarled.

Evan asked, "Do you think I will put them in danger?"

Caroline replied, "Can you control everyone in Jordan Residence? That's your father's territory!"

Evan grasped Caroline's arm. "Trust me, okay? Trust me, Caroline! I'll make sure they won't be discovered because I'm the one bringing them there!"