~Ellie's Point of View~

Godfrey had just landed with us back and Blood Claw and I smelled it. A sweet, fragrant scent of jasmine and an earthy, woody scent ... pine? It filled me and gave me such a safe, warm sensation I couldn't stand it. I had to follow it.

Before I could even unwrap myself from Godfrey, my Grammy called out, "Jasmine! My sweet Jasmine!"

I quickly looked around to see who she was looking at, and then ... I saw her. An older version ... of me.

"Mommy," I said with a breath so low and pitiful I wasn't sure if I said it or thought it.

Our pack, Violet said.

My legs felt like they were going to give out, my heart raced in my ears I tried to move, but I was frozen. I'd had this time with Grammy, I knew they were alive but to see them...

My look-alike ran toward me and behind her was a shorter man, but he was bulky and hardened. He definitely looked like someone you didn't want to anger. He looked like a warrior.

Just when I thought my knees would give out they both wrapped their arms around me and their scents just engulfed me. I felt Grammy's arms wrap around me from behind.

There was a flurry of movement and noises around us but it all melted away. Violet purred with contentment and at this moment nothing else mattered. It didn't matter where we actually were standing, I was home. They ... were my home.

"My baby, my sweet Lilly," my mom said, through tears.

Being called Lilly was going to take some getting used to, but I had told Grammy I absolutely wanted to get rid of Ellie, since that was what Gunner had wanted to call me. Ellie was created by Gunner and he made me into what he wanted. Ellie was dead as far as I was concerned.

“The whole time you were all here, the whole time,” I sobbed.

“I was too,” I heard.

Everyone parted and moved to my sides, and a man came toward me.

Your brother, Violet said.

A flash went through my mind of this man, building a treehouse for me. How had I forgotten him, all this time? How could I have not known him? Yes... my brother, Ridge!

He threw his arms open and I fell into him, sobbing on his bare chest. I realized everyone was very barely dressed, there must not have been much to wear after their battle.

“I want to know everything but first I have to find my mates,” I said, wiping my tears.

“We’ve met your mates, very brave men,” my father said.

“What? When did you last see them,” I demanded.

Just then, Godfrey appeared and was screaming at anyone he could command. I ran to him.

“Please tell me, what’s happened, where are they,” I pleaded with him.

“They went after Gunner, likely thinking they would find you. I went after you, hoping to get Gunner,” he said.

What a mess. My heart sank. They weren’t here!

MATES where are mates, Violet yelled.

“But where did they go, did they just run off or what,” I asked, getting impatient.

I caught the faint smell of Skyler and it was making me absolutely dizzy. I sat down in the grass and I knew he had been standing near here not too long ago.

Godfrey looked at me like he wanted to back hand me, but he knew this was not the time to lose his cool.

“They went into a portal, but there are two witches with them,” he said, just as Ash and Daisy appeared.

“What can we do, our entire pack is prepared to help,” my brother said, stepping forward.

That was the last thing I was able to understand. I couldn't hear anything anymore. I let go of the struggle and began rolling around in the grass. I looked up to see my entire family around me, screaming and forming a barrier, my whole body was on fire.

~Skyler's Point of View~

We went into a void, a weird f*g void that felt like we were falling. Like a damn roller coaster with no seatbelt. I reached out for Angel who was the only one I could see and she grabbed my hand. We were moving so quickly I was actually stunned I was able to grab her.

Just when I thought I might throw up from the motion we landed. Well ... we fell out of the damn sky hard on some grass. I jumped to my feet, not knowing what to expect. I relaxed for a second when I saw everyone else around as well, except warlock Ben.

“Where'd Ben go,” I asked in a whisper.

Not like I had to whisper, any supernatural creature would hear me. Katrina c****d her ear to the wind and we all stared at her.

“Gunner was here, I can pick up his scent, it's recent,” Chance said.

That's why I needed my crew! I couldn't smell sh!t, but then again, I was still nauseous. The smell of burnt bodies lingered in my nose and I wasn't sure I could ever get rid of it.

“Is there any chance you know where we are,” Hunter asked Angel.

“The south of England,” she said, in a whisper.

Whew, thank fvck we were still at least on Earth and in our own realm, I thought. But why here, who would help Gunner out here?

“My dad is scouting, he’ll be back with a report in a minute,” Katrina said.

Well sh!t, I thought. I sat down and took a rest. My b.utt no sooner met the grass and the warlock fell from the sky in front of me, making me jump.

“No time to rest,” he said, wagging his finger at me.

Okay dad, sh!t, we’ve only been at war for two days but yeah, sure.

“There’s a pack just over this hillside, in the valley. Gunner is there, I’m certain, they are helping him or housing him ... I’m not sure why or who they are,” he said.

“Well if he’s taken Ellie to be his Luna, which is what Tyson says, he needs a pack. He doesn’t have a pack anymore so maybe he’s taken over another one,” Hunter said.

“I didn’t pick up Ellie’s scent,” Ben said.

“I didn’t pick up Ellie’s scent,” Ben said.

sh!t ... is that good or bad? Where was she then?

“She can’t be anyone’s Luna if you guys have marked her, their pup couldn’t be a true Alpha,” Chance said.

We all thought about that, nobody was sure what to say. I went to step toward River and a body fell out of the sky. We all jumped back.

“Just me,” Tyson said, standing up and shaking himself off.

“Any updates,” I asked, getting in his face.

I still didn’t trust this fvcker.

“Yes, Godfrey is back, with Ellie and her grandmother, they’re both fine. But nothing on my dad, is he here,” Tyson asked, looking around.

“Thank the Goddess Ellie is safe! That’s such good news,” Angel said.

I got right up to him, ready to attack.

“If I find out you touched her you piece of sh!t,” I said, inches from his face.

“fvck no, I don’t have a death wish! She didn’t even see me, she was too busy meeting her family, so I took off,” he said, putting up his hands.

We all let out a long breath. She was safe with her pack, and Gunner didn’t have her! Oh thank the f*g Goddess. I might have to start praying now.

“They’re all trying to figure out what to do, how many more to send through the portal, they need to get people out of the Blood Claw lands, they don’t know if it’s safe there or what, I think they are taking a lot of people to your house actually, and your parents’ house. The only one missing is my little sister Tyra,” Tyson said.

“Great, a f*g party and we’re here with Ellie there,” I said, getting impatient and dealing with Dusk yelling at me.

MATE, MATE NEEDS US, he yelled to Hawk and Buck.

Calm down just a little more time, she’s safe with her family, I whined.

MATE NOW, Buck growled.

YES, YES I know, I know but we can’t exactly just leave! fvck! Dusk was about to shift and jump in the damn ocean if it meant trying to get to Ellie, he was about to rip me in half.

“This portal is only one way, I can’t jump back through it. Sit tight, I’m going to teleport to Godfrey,” Ben said, disappearing.

We all sat down in the grass, feeling defeated. Our wolves were losing their sh!t at the mention of Ellie.

We all stared off into the distance. The council was technically an international body, we couldn’t just very well attack this pack. We had no clue what we would be walking into anyhow.

Tyson sat down and looked around carefully.

“Where the hell are we anyhow, does anyone know,” he said.

“Southern England, apparently, does that mean anything to you,” Hunter said.

Tyson jumped up, “oh sh!t.” We all stared at him, waiting for his revelation.

“Dad’s new Beta has a British accent,” he said.

~Godfrey’s Point of View~

My, my that little mutt Tyson was actually proving himself to be useful, I just may have to spare his life after all. He’d done a rough assessment for Isaac to determine how many Blood Claw were either present or dead so we could determine if Gunner had hidden reserves somewhere. I had a telepath double check him to make sure he was being honest and so far he had been.

Gunner was running scared now, no witches, no fairy, no heir and no Ellie. Hmm.

I stood with the majority of the council and two dozen Shadows overlooking the pack where Gunner was hiding. The scouts were giving a rough estimate of only sixty wolves including women and children. What the hell was here for him, what does he want with such a small pack?

“The only thing I can think is maybe he promised my sister to someone in the pack when she comes of age, she’s only 12 though,” Tyson said.

“Maybe he’s just starting over, making a whole new pack,” River said.

“That’s about the only thing he could be doing,” I said.

“What’s the hurry, I mean everyone is beat, I know the guys want to go see Ellie, let’s take a day and recoup,” Angel said.

The mutts all glared at me and I wasn’t having it.

I’d given absolutely secrecy orders to everyone who had just come in with me, not to let on that Ellie was in heat. I needed everyone to focus!

“Godfrey, a word,” Isaac said, and I knew damned well what he was going to say.

He was still on my sh!t list for not doing something about Gunner sooner, when Ellie’s pack was first invaded.

I picked him up and dashed about a quarter mile into the woods so no one would hear us.

“Let them go back, their wolves will be furious if she’s left alone for her first heat, it doesn’t do anyone any good for them to stay,” he said.

I glared at him, “we ... are at war here! They can make mutts LATER.”

“You have no idea, no understanding of what this is, what it means to them. Gunner can wait a couple days, he’s not going anywhere. I’ll personally stay here with a small contingent and make sure he doesn’t go anywhere,” he said.

“I don’t like it,” I pouted.

Just then Dina showed up, ready to put in her two cents.

“Don’t give me that,” I said, putting up my hands before she could even talk.

“Godfrey you can’t possibly understand their love, their bond. Let them have this. We did most of this for Ellie, they need it! Not to mention we’re all exhausted,” she protested.

“Oh damn you children ganging up on me,” I moped.

Quinn appeared holding a large struggling red deer and said, “come on old friend, let’s hunt.”

I stomped my feet, “oh none of you ever take my side!”

I pouted like a child that wasn’t getting his way, but that’s what I was no less, I had no shame.

“Fine! But Quinn you’re staying out with me all night,” I pouted, dashing after the deer as he let it go.

I was a sucker for a good hunt and everyone very well knew it!

~Lilly's Point of View~

I didn't know what was going on, but someone was lifting me, my father? Everything was happening so fast and I couldn't focus, I couldn't think about anything but the heat, I needed to get my clothes off right this minute, they were burning me!

*MATES WHERE ARE MATES,* Violet yelled.

She hadn't shut up and I wasn't sure how much more I could take. If she wanted to shift, why wasn't she just doing it! She was determined to tear me wide open and I would have some words with her if this ever stopped.

I heard some weird moaning and it was getting on my nerves ... oh wait, was that coming from me? My stomach was in knots, everything ached and it all hurt so bad!

Suddenly I was back in my room at our little house, and I was totally alone in the room.

*MATES HMMM DUSK, DUSK NOW,* Violet yelled.

I rolled around on the bed, finding Skyler's pillow and inhaling it, hmmm. My nipples were painfully hard and they brushed against my shirt, throbbing.

Violet howled and I pulled my shirt off, desperate for my skin to get some relief. I pulled my pants off as well and fell back to the bed, finding River's pillow and rubbing myself all over it.

Hmmm, ocean I love you.

I was suddenly very aware of every inch of my body, every single pore, every little hair was causing me pain if I touched it. I was completely on fire, but from within.

I felt such an intense need, such a deep hollow ache and there was only one thing I could muster enough of a coherent thought to do. I laid on my back and put Hunter's pillow on top of me and Skyler and River's on either side of me. I reached down between my legs and began touching myself. I was a wet mess and it felt so good, but it wasn't what my body really needed.

*HAWK, HAWK,* Violet yelled.

"Hmmm," I moaned, turning into River's pillow.

I rubbed myself, harder and with more intensity, it was building and I couldn't take it. I was ready to erupt!

Suddenly the bedroom door flung open and Skyler stormed in, his eyes were black. I jumped to my knees and growled at him, not even in control of my own body anymore.

I needed him, I was throbbing, I was desperate. He quickly threw off his shorts just as River ran into the room. I knew Hunter couldn't be far behind and I couldn't wait another second.

"Please, touch me, please I need you," I moaned, my hand still cupped between my legs, my other massaging my nipple.

I couldn't stop, I had no control.

Skyler bolted to me and took my hand away, slowly licking my fingers, sending sparks and shivers all over my body.

"Mine," he growled.

~Hunter's Point of View~

*Ellie is in heat,* Isaac said, over mind-link to my brothers and I.

We all immediately jumped to our feet and stared at Angel, silently demanding she teleport us. She looked at us confused, and then looked to Isaac for guidance as he emerged from the trees.

"Send them back to their house quickly, you have my permission," he said.

We all grabbed each other's hands and we were suddenly standing in our yard. The scent hit me like a freight train, almost knocking me over.

Ellie's arousal.

I looked to see my father and Ellie's father standing in the yard. They gave us a nod and took off walking. If there had been any unmated shifters around her when she went into heat, they likely had to fight them to get them away from her and I was grateful to them.

By the time I turned toward the porch, Skyler was already gone and River was going inside.

This moment was literally everything we had been waiting for our entire lives. Our perfect mate, hot and ready for us.

I ran to Ellie's room, River and Skyler were already naked and kissing Ellie, not wasting a second.

I dropped my shorts and started with her leg, and climbed my way up, trailing little kisses.

She broke from kissing River to notice me.

"Hmmm, Hunter," she moaned.

Skyler was behind her, kissing over her mating marks, which is a very sensitive spot and from what I understand drives a she-wolf crazy.

I touched the outside of her sweet pussy lips, she was soaking wet already. I couldn't wait a single second, I dove right into her with my lips, my tongue and a little bit of teeth. She was so damn sweet, so warm and all ours.

She was panting and I reached up and massaged her breast, finding her nipple and rubbing my thumb over it.

I moaned into her, making her vibrate and she opened her legs even further to me, shoving her hips into my face, she was so close already.

I thought I would want to tease her, torture her a bit ... but I knew her heat could last for days and I didn't want her totally exhausted right away.

*Mate me, stop stalling,* Violet yelled.

*Eager little girl, just let us take care of you, savor you,* I said back.

With that I picked up the pace and within seconds I felt Ellie's sweet juices flowing out, her insides tightening around my tongue.

"Ohh yes, yes, ohhh please, more ohhh," she moaned.

She was ready and none of us could wait another second to be inside her.

"Hmmm, sweet girl," I said, climbing up her body as she panted and tried to catch her breath.

"Baby, only one of us can be your first, do you want to choose," River asked, holding her face.

"How could I choose, I want all of you," she said, still panting.

"You'll get all of us baby girl, but we can't overwhelm you until you've had a chance to adjust," Skyler whispered in her ear.

"Hunter then, since he found me," she said, reaching for my face and pulling me in for a long kiss.

"Maple syrup, make me yours in every way," she said, pulling back. I smiled and stroked her face.

Violet started growling at Buck and I had to move.

I lowered myself back down her to her and positioned myself between her legs. There was no need for me to prep myself, I was hard as a rock before I even came in the house.

"This is going to hurt baby, but just for a second, you can squeeze our hands," River said.

He and Skyler each took one of her hands and she spread her legs for me, looking like a goddess. She was my goddess, my everything.

"I love you," I said, kissing her belly.

"I love you Hunter, please ... please I need you," she moaned, lifting her hips as I put my hands on them.

I grabbed myself and gently thrust into her about half way, letting her get used to the feeling and before I could decide to push more, Violet yelled, *MORE, MORE.*

Ellie thrust her hips into me and screamed out in a wince of pain, I wanted to stop but her hips kept moving.

“I’m okay, please more, please,” she moaned.

River nodded to me and went back to sucking her nipple, I bent down to get the other one and made long, hard strokes in and out of her.

“Skyler, I want to take you in my mouth,” Ellie said.

Skyler was up and in front of Ellie’s face before I even knew what happened and River put one of his hands under her head to replace Skyler’s body.

Skyler stroked himself and she opened her mouth to lick his tip. I was glad she was adventurous, willing to try pleasing all of us at the same time. We had no idea how this was going to go, how she would be able to handle all three of us.

She felt so damn good wrapped around me, she was so tight and so wet, I wasn’t going to last long. My mind flashed to all her little dresses, all the times she teased us. I’d had so many weeks of foreplay, and a lifetime of waiting for her.

I wanted to change positions but I didn’t want to interrupt everyone else, especially since I knew she’d need us for her entire heat. I knew I’d get my chance to have her in every position.

“Baby, you feel so good,” I moaned, kissing her chest.

“More Hunter, faster,” she moaned back.

I thrust faster, pulling back and grabbing her legs. I put her ankles up on my shoulders and grabbed her ass. She squealed and moaned onto Skyler’s dick, making him moan.

It only took a couple minutes and I couldn’t hold back anymore.

She moaned and I felt her tighten around me, it was so fucking*g intense. Her body shook and I held onto her tightly.

“My little mate ... baby I’m going to fill you up,” I said, just as I came inside her, harder than I ever thought possible.

It was longer and more intense than I could have ever imagined, my sweet girl was going to get pregnant from this heat and that was all I could think about. It was so fvcking*g hot.

I looked up to see Skyler grunting and finishing in Ellie’s mouth. She looked a bit surprised but if she was scared or nervous she didn’t show it. She s.ucked him dry and then rubbed her l!ps over his tip, making him shiver. Our perfect sweet mate.

~Ellie’s Point of View~

I was never more exhausted in my life and I knew there was still so much more to come. I woke up after being asleep for a while, I had no idea how long but I had to use the bathroom so badly. I felt all three of my mates laying on me or holding me in some way. I knew I probably only had a small amount of time to do normal things before my heat took over my body again.

I wiggled out from under Skyler’s shoulder and got my leg out from under Hunter’s th!gh and ran to the bathroom. I did my business and went to leave, but realized how bad I smelled. Not to mention some of Hunter’s essence was running down my leg. I grinned and touched it, hmmm.

I instinctively wrapped my hands around my belly, wanting to be protective of the pup I knew was already growing. I desperately wanted to give them a big family.

I quickly brushed my teeth and was glad I would at least accomplish that if nothing else with the little time I had.

I fl!pped on the shower and got in, but before I could get myself all soapy I heard, “let me.” River.

I turned to face him and he had a devilish grin that made my tummy burn for him. He took the washcloth from me and began to caress my back.

I was no longer a little girl, getting all bubbly and excited, clapping her hands when she got giddy. No ... I was a seductress, I held power over three strong warriors and I needed to harness it.

River's bare hand roamed my body along with the washcloth in the other and I took mine to his hard length between us and began stroking him. I wanted to make him feel every bit as amazing as they had made me feel, and he didn't get his release before I fell asleep.

His lips found mine and he was rough, just like I wanted, just like I craved. I had never felt more powerful, like his whole universe rose and fell with me, with my very touch.

"Hmmm my little mate," he moaned.

"Hmmm my big mate," I moaned back.

*Ahem I'm awake, oh hey there Hawk,* Violet said, just as I felt the heat overtake me, making me burn with desire that only one thing could quench.

"Mate me River, I need you," I begged, stroking him more fiercely.

Skyler appeared and turned off the water, then towed my hair for a few seconds. River picked me up and carried me back to the bed.

"How do you want it little mate," he whispered in my ear as he climbed on top of me.

My mind was a mess, I couldn't think straight but I had a flash from my spying days and knew I had to command him. His willpower was gone, his every thought right in this moment was only for me, for my pleasure.

I pushed against his shoulders and smiled, as he allowed me to shove him back. I flipped over onto my knees and wiggled my butt at him. He growled fiercely and immediately had his hands on my ass, giving it a slap. Skyler was instantly underneath me, kissing me and caressing my breasts that dangled for him.

"River, I need you," I moaned, as Skyler nipped me.

He thrust inside me, filling me and stretching me. He wasn't slow like Hunter had been, he was eager and hard and I loved it. I pushed myself back into him as Skyler s.ucked on my b.reasts like they had the answers, like they were going to tell him something. I didn't know how this could just get better and better but it did.

I looked up to see Hunter inches from my face, stroking his hard shaft and I l!cked my l!ps knowing exactly what he wanted. I took his tip in my mouth and swirled it with my tongue.

"You want to have our pups little mate," River m0aned as he curled himself around my backside, k!ssing up and down my spine.

I pulled back from Hunter and came undone at the thought.

"Hmm yes, yes! Ohh yes, please I want your pups," I m0aned, popping Hunter out of my mouth for just a second.

Violet was m0aning and jumping around in my mind and I was so overwhelmed I couldn't stand it. Skyler's hands were all over me, and now one was massaging the front of my v****a while River was still relentlessly pounding me from the back, he didn't slow a bit. Hunter's h.uge e.rection completely filled my mouth, not allowing for even a bit of space. He held my hair and guided me.

"You're so fvcking*g beautiful baby, I love you," Skyler said, popping a n!pple in and out of his mouth.

River moved faster and held my h!ps so tight, he started grunting and then I felt him, his warmth flooding me. I m0aned with intense satisfaction and felt myself suction around him, and that was all Hunter needed before his warmth flooded my mouth.

"Just let go baby, I've got you," Skyler said, sensing my shakiness.

I dropped myself onto him and he wrapped his arms around me, his warmth welcoming me and making me feel so safe. I quickly fell asleep again.

~Skyler's Point of View~

We let Ellie sleep for about an hour before waking her up to eat something, she looked good and thoroughly fvckinged and I couldn't get enough of it. I made her sit on my lap while I fed her and the guys stared daggers at me the entire time. Dusk told their wolves to fvck off.

I knew the heat would take over again shortly, and this time would be for me. She had already proven she could keep up with us, she had no problems telling us what she wanted, but could she take more than one of us? The idea of two of us filling her at once was all I could think about.

*I want to try two of us taking her,* I said, over mind-link to my brothers.

*Why don't we save that for another day, she was a virgin until about 12 hours ago remember,* River said.

I looked at Hunter and he seemed like he was thinking about it.

*Well since you're a party pooper it's me and Hunter, don't worry I'll ask her first,* I said.

*She's fvcking*g in heat of course she wants two of us in her, that's not really fair,* River whined.

*I say if she's down for it I am,* Hunter said.

I grinned and k!ssed Ellie's neck as she finished her sandwich. Time for some of my dirty little dreams to come true.

Ellie was laying on the bed and I was straddling her, k!ssing her while my hands roamed all over her. Hunter was underneath her and River was being a b***h sitting on the side.

"How do you want me, little mate," I said, biting her bottom l!p.

Her eyes grew wide and she said, "I just need you in me, my body is on fire!"

"How about Hunter and I at the same time," I asked, already more than smelling her ar0usal ... begging for us.

Her eyes lit up and she leaned back into Hunter as he reached around to grope her b.reasts. She never did answer but she m0aned and spread her legs to me.

I winked at River and he shook his head.

I kissed down her body, it was warm and she was already panting.

*Let me go solo for a little bit,* I mind-linked to Hunter.

I tuned out literally everything else but Ellie. Her touch, her scent, her sounds it was all so overwhelming and so perfect.

I rubbed my tip over the outside of her wet pussy lips and she moaned.

*Fuck me Skyler, I know what Dusk has been saying to Violet,* Ellie said.

I looked up at her and our eyes met, her lips curled, my little minx.

*Such a naughty little girl, what am I going to do about that,* I said back.

I thrust into her, hard and in one quick motion, making her cry out with pleasure.

*Punish me Dusk,* Violet moaned.

I growled and grabbed her hips, pounding her into the bed with all I had. I was so deep in her, more than I'd ever felt and it was addictive, I couldn't get enough.

"fuck," I moaned out, feeling her already tighten around me.

I lifted her legs so their backside was against my chest and I pounded into her relentlessly as she screamed my name and lost herself, milking me and clenching around me.

*Pull her back Hunter,* I mind-linked.

He reached under her arms and pulled her back into him, while I pulled out. Ellie looked like she was a limp mess, trying to collect herself.

"You ready little mate," I said, still trying to catch my own breath.

*Do it,* Violet commanded to me and my brothers.

River helped lift her hips and Hunter pushed into her from underneath.

"Ohh, yes, yes," Ellie moaned.

I let Hunter find a rhythm and I stroked myself, spreading her legs as far as I could get them just as I had dreamed.

I spread her sweet p.ussy lips and teased her with my tip as Hunter moved in and out. She was soaking wet and I got her juices on my cock.

When Hunter pulled out a bit I thrust in, and we began alternating, me in, him in.

*Ohhh fvck, ohhh YES,* Violet yelled.

*You like that you little tease,* Dusk said.

“Oh YES YES,” Ellie moaned.

River moved in closer to help hold her up, she wasn't going to last too long but I was already so close.

With perfect timing we joined our rhythm and then moved inside her as one, and she let out a guttural moan from deep in her throat.

There is an old tale that when fated mates of multiples mate, having two or more mates put their seed in her at once can guarantee multiple pups to grow. The thought of it increasing the odds we could have multiples was just so damn hot.

“Ohh baby fvck yes,” Hunter moaned.

“Ohhhhh ohhh yes,” Ellie moaned out, and that was all it took.

I grabbed her free hand, interlaced our fingers, and lost myself inside her. It was so fucking intense, so explosive. I had never cum so hard and for so long, it was like it would never end. I wanted every last drop inside her, I wanted her to feel all of me.

I looked down at her, watching every little face muscle move, every little thing she was experiencing just flowed through me, we were one. Plus ... Hunter, damn it.

Oh well I'll get you all to myself soon enough my little minx.

The Triplet Warriors And Their Pup Mate Chapter 55 - Tips

~Lilly's Point of View~

I woke up more exhausted than I could have ever thought possible. I felt all three of the triplets laying on me in some way and I just felt an overwhelming sense of safety and protection. I felt Violet knocked out cold and I was actually just... normal for the first time in three days.

I wiggled myself out of bed and took the quickest shower on record, wanting to ensure I could get through it alone. I wandered out to the kitchen and saw a huge breakfast with a note. Had someone been here?

"Left this super quick, you were all asleep. Hope everything is well ... Love, Angel."

"Aww," I said, grabbing some grapes.

I instantly felt hands around my waist and lips on my neck, Skyler. I turned and fed him a grape.

"Good morning baby," Hunter said, coming into the kitchen.

"How do you feel," River asked, sitting at the table.

"Exhausted beyond anything I could ever imagined, but insanely happy," I said, giving them all a smile.

"So are we baby, you were everything we could have ever wanted and so much more than we could have imagined," Skyler said, pulling me into his lap.

I was pretty sure if he had his way I would never walk anywhere on my own or sit in a chair on my own. It will probably be a million times worse when I'm pregnant!

"I wanted to just say, I don't want anyone calling me Ellie anymore. That was what Gunner named me and I don't want it," I said.

"We were going to ask you about that," Hunter said.

"I think we have a whole lot to bring each other up to speed on," River said.

About an hour later Ash and Isaac came to discuss everything as well. Godfrey wouldn't be able to come until dark since it was a sunny day.

"We don't think Gunner is interested in you anymore but of course we can't totally be sure. We're going to keep you here with guards just to be safe," Isaac said.

"Who can we spare though, we need everyone with us," Ash said.

"Chance and Max volunteered," Isaac said.

"I don't want to take someone as valuable as Chance from your fight," I said, quite serious.

"There's no one I would trust more than Chance to watch her," Hunter said.

"Or you could be wasting his talents having him babysit," I said.

"It is already decided," Isaac said, dismissing me.

"It's okay Lilly, remember what I told you about Chance that day he came over," Hunter said.

"Yes, you trust him more than anyone," I said.

"Yeah and now that he has a mate he'll understand all the more. So he'll be careful," Skyler said.

I jumped to my feet.

"He has a mate!"

"Oh yeah we forgot that part. Katrina is his mate, weird huh," Skyler said.

"Aww that's so sweet," I said, feeling overjoyed.

"We can't spare Katrina, don't let anyone say otherwise," Isaac said, matter of fact.

"I still can't believe Tyson fights for us, I would never ... I could never trust him, he's still Gunner's son at the end of day," I said, wanting to get my point across.

I shivered. Everything about Tyson gave me the creeps.

"We're keeping him on a short leash but we can't deny that he's been helpful," Ash said.

Just then, there was a knock at the door and Chance came in, followed by Max. I quickly got to my feet and ran toward the weretiger.

"Congratulations! I'm so happy for you both," I said, giving him a h.ug.

Skyler was immediately at my side trying to get my arms from around his neck. Chance smiled.

"Easy k!ller, I'm a happily taken man. Thank you though, I am very lucky," Chance said, pulling back.

I heard someone else and looked up to see Daisy and Sunny coming in with bags of groceries.

"We're staying too sis!! So glad you're okay," Sunny said, giving me a h.ug.

"Don't forget us," I heard, and looked up to see my mom and Grammy.

I burst into tears and ran to them.

"Sorry honey but you need to say your good-byes to the boys, we have to go," Ash said, k!ssing Daisy on the cheek.

He was really talking to me I assumed ... but Daisy made her way over to h.ug the guys.

When they were done I said, "come back here a minute."

I went to our bedroom and sat on the edge of the bed.

"Make sure you wash the sheets okay," River said, looking kind of embarrassed.

I laughed and actually snorted.

“Take care of each other, be brave but not too brave okay, I need all of you in one piece ... for our pup,” I said, holding my belly.

“Pups plural,” Skyler said, reaching for my belly. I giggled.

“That’s just an old tale,” I said.

“I still want to believe in it,” he said, rubbing my belly.

I stood and we all hugged, I never wanted it to end.

“Don’t cry Lilly,” Hunter said.

“I love hearing you say my real name,” I said.

“I love you Lilly,” they all said together at once, as if rehearsed.

~River’s Point of View~

In the time we were gone the Shadows regrouped our army, and we were able to get everyone back together. However, this time we had a completely different mission since we technically couldn’t invade a pack that hadn’t done anything wrong.

The plus side though, was that we were pretty confident the pack only housed werewolves and they had zero magic on their side.

At dusk, we surrounded the compound and in our human forms my brothers followed Godfrey, Raul, Quinn and Isaac to the main gate. They only had a dozen or so guards patrolling but after seeing vampires, they all immediately surrendered.

Werewolves and vampires were of course natural enemies but wolves knew damn well that physically they were no match.

“Where ... is your Alpha,” Godfrey said.

“You’re looking at him mate,” said a large man with a British accent who had just shifted back to his human form.

“You’re housing a criminal, guilty of mass war crimes. Turn him over to the council and we’ll leave your pack in peace. You would be absolute fools to fight us, but if you do so you’ll leave us no choice,” Isaac said.

“You’re the council? I seriously doubt the council is going to k!ll she-wolves and pups,” he said, clearly in defiance.

“If we do, it’s on you, I’m giving you the choice. Give us Gunner,” Godfrey said, moving quickly to be just a foot in front of the Alpha.

“Look, whatever he’s promised you, is a lie. His old pack is gone, his Luna is dead, his magical powers are gone, he has nothing to give you but false promises,” Isaac said, getting impatient.

“You’re not gonna do sh!t,” the Alpha said.

In the blink of an eye, the Alpha shifted back and ran. Most followed him and the rest remained on the ground.

Quinn growled and stomped his feet, then suddenly his demon took over and a fifteen foot tall fiery being stood, the heat radiating off him was unlike anything I’d ever felt and we all ran as far back from him as possible. He began hurling fireballs at the buildings, and growling with a fierce terrifying rumble that shook the ground.

*All teams full ahead,* Shane said, over mind-link.

Several she-wolves and pups ran from the homes while our fae and witches began teleporting them to a safe location.

All shifters turned except my brothers and I. We had told everyone we wanted to save our energy but wanted to face Gunner on two feet at first if possible.

Tyson shifted and ran full speed ahead once he saw what everyone else was doing. He couldn’t mind-link with us but he was putting it together.

Part of me wanted to tail him, make sure he wasn’t tipping off his dad somehow. When Gunner kicked him out of the pack, his ability to mind-link was severed but we all wondered if he could still do it because they were family.

The wolves that initially ran turned to fight but there were only eight of them and they were shredded to pieces within minutes.

*Anyone have eyes on the Alpha,* Isaac demanded over mind-link.

There was no response.

*Twenty-two she-wolves and pups moved to safe house, they claim all remaining are male wolves,* Angel reported.

sh!t, that was about a fourth of their population and I was glad they could be taken out of the fight.

“Come out, come out you coward,” Godfrey taunted, while levitating about twenty feet in the air.

It was eerily quiet so much so that I could hear everyone’s hearts racing. I saw Raul and a couple other vampires flying overhead, scouting. They could land on a roof and count the heartbeats inside, it was insanely useful in battle.

Raul dropped in front of me, “I got a good look into the woods, there were make-shift shelters there, probably twenty tents set up.”

sh!t, they had help? Another pack staying here?

I felt Hunter’s scent getting further away and quickly began looking for him, seeing him duck into a house. I began to run after him, hating that he didn’t ask for back-up but that was “Mr. Warrior” for you.

Something was just off and I couldn’t put my finger on it. I was a damn good investigator and I had to slow things down and think. I stood in front of the house and looked around me. There were easily eight houses on fire and another three still standing in my line of sight that were untouched. There had to be a few more I couldn’t currently see.

There was another large building a quarter mile in that the vamps reported seeing overhead, that would be their packhouse. This was just too many buildings, too many houses for so few people.

“Raul do some of the houses look new, can you tell? Maybe just built in the last couple weeks,” I asked.

“Yeah actually, some looked new. You think Gunner brought some reinforcements here,” he said.

*Does anyone think there are far too many houses here for the amount of people that we’ve found,* I mind-linked to everyone.

*This house is empty, no furniture or anything, still being built,* Hunter mind-linked, jumping out of a side door to join me.

We hadn't sensed the ability for them to have any magic so we didn't use any ourselves. There were no force fields in place over the grounds and there was nothing stopping any teleportation. My heart sank just as Angel seemed to read my thoughts, and she wasn't even anywhere near me.

A flurry of mind-links began to run in at once like a stream with everyone trying to talk over each other.

*Vamps reporting large group of warriors in the west end field, with a bright light coming from their center, magic sensed,* Shane said.

*Mobile portal!! Witches and fae block it,* Angel screamed.

*They're disappearing ... someone block it,* yelled a shifter.

*They're shrinking, half have made it through the portal,* yelled another shifter.

fvck!

Hunter and I dropped, shifted and took off with all we had, Gunner was trying to flee!
