

Triplets On SM 1031

Chapter 1031-“Well, you’re single, but I’m not.” Molly teased her with a smile and then left the lab.

As soon as she came out, she couldn’t wait to press the answer button.

Sean’s gentle voice quickly came from the other end of the phone, “Are you off work?”

‘Yes, I just left the lab. I’m going to change clothes, and then go back.” Molly said as she walked towards the office.

Sean smiled and said, “Go ahead. I’ll chat with you...”

“OK,” Molly said briskly.

Although the two of them couldn’t see each other every day, they could hear each other’s voices and feel very good.

After returning to the office, she quickly changed her clothes and told Sean that Selon had come to ask for the antidote during the day.

“It seems that the Shepard family is not as unreasonable as I thought.”

Hearing it, Sean commented, and then said, “Besides, it’s good for you to get the ancient medical book you want.”

“Yes, although it’s just a fragment, it’s quite a reward for me! I was too busy to have a chance to read it during the day. I’ll go back and study it tonight.” Molly’s tone was tinged with excitement.

After hearing this, Sean couldn’t help smiling. He could feel her heartfelt happiness. When she was happy, he would be happy too.

But then he complained, "Aren't you tired? You are so busy during the day, and you don't have a good rest at night. Are you disobedient and not taking good care of yourself?"

"What are you talking about? Reading a book... can't be tiring. " Molly said with a little guilty conscience.

Sean snorted, "Really? It's energy-consuming. What if you turn into a fool?"

"No, I'm smart enough. Besides, if I become a fool, I'll go back and let you provide for me." Molly said confidently and zipped up her coat.

Sean loved hearing this, and even looked forward to it," Really? Then why don't you become a fool now?"

After Molly heard this, she felt so sweet, but she pretended to reprimand, "Sean, you are so vicious. You're expecting your fiancée to be a fool. If I become a fool, what benefits will it bring you?"

"Benefits? There is a lot! I can watch you, hug you and kiss you every day, and even..." Sean's tone suddenly became low, "I can do whatever I want!"

Molly's ears went numb from being teased across the screen.

She blushed, and didn't know how to respond, so she could only mutter, "Shameless!"

Sean chuckled and said, "Well, anyway, I'm only shameless around you!"

The two were talking, laughing, and flirting. When Molly left the lab, Molly felt that her steps were much lighter.

On her way back, the two chatted for a while about the Shepard family's free clinic.

Molly had one thing that she didn't understand, "The Shepard family will come out every year to make high-profile free clinics and do good deeds, and their industries have also been flourishing. It stands to reason that they should not reject cooperation or contact with others. But when you asked them to treat your legs, why did they refuse?"

"I don't know the specific situation. Maybe there are some rules. When I first approached you, didn't you also set a rule not to treat rich people?"

Sean didn't take the Shepard family's refusal to treat him to heart.

Hearing his words, Molly felt amused. Back then, she had indeed set this rule and almost missed the chance to treat him.

However, speaking of this, Molly suddenly remembered that she had never asked him in detail.

She said, "I always forgot to ask. How were your legs hurt like this?"

Chapter 1032-When she had just begun to treat him, they were not very familiar, so she hadn't asked much about it.

Later when they were together, she had only concerned about whether he would heal. Besides, there had been so many trivial matters every day, so she had never asked him.

Since she remembered it, she decided to get to the bottom of it.

Sean hadn't expected her to ask so suddenly, and he said with a smile, "Why do you want to know this all of a sudden?"

"It's not that I want to know suddenly, but I thought it was not the right time to ask... After all, you were seriously injured, and I was afraid it might hurt your feelings. Now we are getting married, so I want to know everything about you. "

Molly's tone was very gentle, and there was no concealment of affection in her voice.

But Sean fell silent.

Molly was surprised, and immediately realized something, and asked, "What's wrong? Can't you tell me?"

"No..." Sean's tone was also very gentle, but with a bit of apology and solemnity, "I'm sorry, Molly, the situation about how I was injured is a bit complicated. I can't tell you now... Can I tell you about it when I have a chance in the future?"

Molly had not expected to get this answer. She had thought that there should be no secrets between her and Sean!

But she didn't get angry rashly. She could hear the seriousness in Sean's tone.

Perhaps this matter was mixed with some unspeakable circumstances...

Molly was silent for a while, and asked, "You don't need to tell me the specific reasons and circumstances, but there is one thing I want to know. Was your injury accidental or manmade?"

This time, Sean answered quickly, "It was man-made."

Molly suddenly tightened her grip on the phone. Although she had guessed it in her heart, she still felt upset when she heard it.

She recalled the first time she had met him. His serious leg injury... They probably had not just wanted to break his legs, but even wanted to kill him!

What kind of person could hurt Sean, and even threaten his life? Molly suddenly understood why he didn't tell her.

Maybe he was afraid that she and the children would be involved in some danger!

Taking a deep breath, she suppressed the surging emotions in her heart and continued to ask, "Well...the people who hurt you, how are they now? Will they do it again?"

Sean pondered for a second, and said, "No."

Molly didn't quite believe it. If they had a grudge against Sean and wanted to put him to death, how could they give up so easily?

She gasped, "Sean, you don't need to tell me who hurt you, or what happened back then. But I hope you don't hide anything from me in the future, okay? I'm marrying you not to live a comfortable life with you, but to stick to you through thick and thin. If you... have anything, you have to tell me, okay?"

"Okay." Sean could hear the uneasiness in Molly's tone, and he readily agreed.

At the same time, he did not forget to comfort her, "Don't worry. I will not hide anything from you and I will tell you everything...including the past. When the time is right, I will tell you!"

"This is what you said. You can't break your word." Molly said urgently.

Sean's eyes were unbelievably soft, "OK, I won't break my word. I swear, I will never lie to you."

After hearing this, Molly barely felt at ease.

Sean was afraid that she would think wildly, so he simply changed the topic, "There are not many days left in this month, and you will go to the free clinic at the beginning of next month, and you will probably be even busier. So, this weekend, how about I take the three children to go see you? They miss you a lot."

Chapter 1033-recently, but he still needs acupuncture treatment. Besides, Sawyer... His symptoms have vanished, but we still can't slack off. I have to give him more treatment. Only in this way can I feel relieved to do other things."

Hearing this, Sean felt that he loved her even more in his heart. Where else could he find such a kind and considerate woman?!

"Okay, when you come back, I'll pick you up at the airport."

"Ok." Molly finally laughed.

After the two chatted for a while, Sean told her to go to bed.

Molly agreed, and told him, "You also should go to bed early. Don't stay up late working."

At night, the Shepard family Mansion was brightly lit. The ancient castle manor, which covered a very large area, was standing in the shade of green trees.

The luxurious interior decoration showed the extraordinary heritage of the Shepard family.

At this moment, in the hall on the first floor, Mr. Shepard Sr. was sitting on the main seat of the sofa. With a majestic face, he asked Selon, "Didn't I tell you to reject Molly? Why didn't you listen to me?"

Selon straightened his back and looked directly at his grandpa, "Molly has extraordinary medical skills, and her ability will be of great help to this free clinic.

Grandpa, you should know that in the war-torn areas of Domster, there are countless disabled people and many people are dying. Only excellent medical skills can save more lives!"

Mr. Shepard Sr. frowned and said, "We have summoned quite a few top doctors, and we don't need her."

“She knows ancient medical techniques as well as classical needle technique therapy. She is very experienced in the development of medicines, and she’s good at surgery. May I ask, how many of the doctors invited this time can do this?” Selon was stubborn and insisted, “So, I think she is indispensable!”

Speaking of this, Selon changed the subject, “I would like to ask you. Grandpa, why do you reject Molly so much?

Anyway, she saved your life, didn’t she? Besides, supporting excellent doctors has always been one of our family’s most important rules. Why are you reacting so violently this time? And the Anderson family...why are you so afraid of them?

Is there any problem between our family and them?”

“You don’t know...” Mr. Shepard Sr. kept a straight face and said.

Selon was even more puzzled.

Over the years, the Shepard family had been keeping a low profile and had little involvement with the outside world, let alone any grievances with the Anderson family.

But his grandpa had such a big reaction.

At the moment, Selon had to wonder whether the Shepard family and the Anderson family had enmity.

Just when the two were at a stalemate, Selon’s father, Anthony, appeared.

He said calmly, “Since Selon has agreed to let her come over, then let’s accept it. After all, it’s just a free clinic. After it’s over, let her leave immediately. It doesn’t matter.”

Mr. Shepard Sr. couldn’t help but frown, “Why even you...”

Anthony looked at his father calmly and said, "Dad, it's okay. A girl won't cause any trouble, and it won't affect us."

Hearing his words, Mr. Shepard Sr. was silent for a long time, and could only give up, "Since you have said so, you'd better focus on the follow-up matters."

The century-old foundation of the Shepard family cannot be ruined overnight. ■ With that, Mr. Shepard Sr. went upstairs to rest.

Chapter 1034-Hearing the conversation between his grandfather and his father, Selon was completely confused, "Dad, what do you mean by what you said to Grandpa just now? Why can't I understand?"

"It's nothing! There are some things that you don't need to know now. When you take over the Shepard family completely, you will know." Anthony stood up casually.

When he passed by Selon, he suddenly patted him on the shoulder, "Work hard on this free clinic. I will send someone to assist you."

With that, Anthony also went upstairs, leaving Selon sitting alone.

He was stunned for a long time, and suddenly found this home where he had lived for more than twenty years a little strange.

In the next few days, apart from going to Xesxia University to teach, Molly stayed in the research laboratory and handed over work.

Lynn sighed again, "If I am guilty, let the law punish me instead of letting me work with Molly. This is simply not humanly capable."

Selina was next to her, and she couldn't help but smile, "It's not that bad. When she was abroad, she didn't leave the lab for half a month. She ate, slept, and took baths in the office. She was practically living in the lab. If her three children hadn't come to see her in the end, it might have lasted longer."

"It's so scary." Lynn was glad that she hadn't followed Molly at first.

Otherwise, she might have died young!

Eaton listened to the conversation between the two girls and subconsciously glanced at Molly next to him. Molly was testing the red potion in the flask, so she didn't notice it.

He walked over and asked, "There is still a week before the free clinic. Why is the handover so urgent? If you are here, the success rate of the reagents would increase a lot."

Molly didn't even look at him, and was only distracted a little to respond, "I'm going home. A few patients in the family need treatment, and I will accompany the children for a few days. With you in the research laboratory, there would be no big problem."

Eaton said, "There is still a little difference. Your ability is above mine."

Just as Molly wanted to say that he was being modest, Lynn stepped forward and said, "Eaton, you are being too unreasonable. Molly is about to get engaged. She has been in the lab the whole time these days. Now she's finally going back home, and she should spend some time with her fiancé. Besides, they're preparing for the engagement party. How could the future bride not even participate in it?"

Speaking of this, she looked at Molly, "Molly, don't you worry about the party would end up with different results?"

Hearing this, Molly smiled and said, "Don't worry. Sean is taking care of it and he won't make me dissatisfied."

Besides, I don't care about the ceremony. I'll be happy as long as I'm with him."

Hearing her words, Lynn couldn't stand it anymore, "I shouldn't have asked! I'm so jealous."

Selina laughed, "You asked for it. Who can you blame? But with Mr. Anderson's status, the engagement party and wedding ceremony must be very grand. So there is no need for you to worry. At that time, Molly only needs to be a beautiful bride."

"Yes." Molly did not deny it and she smiled slightly.

Eaton found Molly's smile extremely dazzling. His eyes darkened, and he said, "My father told me to go to visit your family when I have time. Since you are going back to Northfolk, shall I go with you?"

Molly was a little surprised, "You want to go back to Northfolk with me?"

Chapter 1035-"Well." Eaton smiled elegantly, "Am I not welcome?"

Molly shook her head and said, "That's not true. It just feels sudden. And the lab, if you and I both leave, I'm afraid it will... n "With Kara here, it'll be okay. Besides, I'll be back the next day." Eaton said in a calm tone.

Kara's eyes were a little gloomy. But right now, even if she had any opinions, she couldn't say them aloud and could only accept them silently.

Seeing that Kara didn't say anything, Molly agreed.

When she was abroad, she had indeed received a lot of care from the Scott family. It would be inappropriate if she refused...

After Molly went back at night, she told Sean about it on the phone.

When Sean heard this, he just raised his eyebrows, and said calmly, "Okay, I'll wait for you."

The next day, Molly and Eaton boarded the plane back to Northfolk.

Sean came to pick her up as promised.

His wheelchair was parked next to the VIP exit. He was wearing a black shirt and trousers, and his long legs looked slender and abstinent. He was wearing a pair of gold-rimmed glasses, and a delicate chain of glasses was hanging lazily around his neck. With his handsome face, it was hard for others to take their eyes off him.

Many people passing by cast their eyes on Sean one after another.

Several girls were even ready to move, wanting to come up and ask for Sean's contact information.

Seeing this, Tony subconsciously took two steps forward to fend off his boss's untimely admirers...

As soon as Molly came out, she saw this funny scene.

She quickened her pace a little, walked to Sean, and said deliberately, "Oh, aren't you popular, my dear fiance?"

Sean smiled, ignored her teasing, and just opened his arms towards her, "Come here. Let me give you a hug."

This time, the couple hadn't seen each other for many days, so they had missed each other very much.

Molly also missed him very much, so she bent down and hugged him for a while.

When Eaton saw it from behind, a gloomy light flashed deep in the bottom of his eyes. Sean seemed to have noticed something. He raised his eyes lightly and looked at Eaton.

The two men looked at each other briefly. Eaton was the first to put on a smile, and said hello, "Hello, I'm Molly's colleague, Eaton Scott!"

Sean let go of Molly, and responded lightly, "I heard Molly talk about you. I am Sean Anderson, Molly's fiancé!"

Eaton pursed his lips and said, "It's a pleasure to meet you, Mr. Anderson! I've heard a lot about you. Since I knew that Molly is going to marry you, I've always hoped to find a chance to meet you. This time, I could finally have a good chat with you!"

"Sure." Sean smiled casually and looked at Molly gently, "The car is waiting outside. Shall we go back first?"

"OK." Molly smiled happily and took the initiative to hold Sean's hand.

Sean smiled happily, and told Tony, "Lead Mr. Scott the way."

Tony nodded, and made a gesture of invitation to Eaton, "Mr. Scott, please follow me."

Eaton nodded and took the lead.

Looking at Eaton's back, Sean narrowed his deep eyes imperceptibly.

He had only exchanged a few words with Eaton and looked at each other twice just now, but his innate sensitivity still made him feel something strange about Eaton.

Eaton had feelings for Molly, and he somehow looked dangerous... Eaton was not as gentle and harmless as he looked!

But Molly didn't notice anything unusual.

After she got out of the airport, she got into the back seat with Sean.

Eaton was arranged by Tony to take another car!

Chapter 1036-Seeing this, Molly was a little hesitant, "Eaton is a guest after all. Is it good to arrange this way?"

Wasn't it a little disrespectful to leave him alone in a car?

Tony was driving. After hearing this, he replied smartly, "No, Mrs. Anderson, I prepared good drinks in the car, and it will only make the guest feel the best reception. You can rest assured. Besides, Eaton looks like a sensible man. You and Mr. Anderson haven't seen each other for some time, and he certainly doesn't want to disturb you."

When Molly heard this, she felt that it made sense, but it seemed that something was wrong. She didn't figure it out for a while.

Tony was very discerning. After starting the car, he took the initiative to raise the partition, giving the young couple in the back seat some privacy.

Sean was satisfied with Tony's behavior. He hadn't paid Tony such a high annual salary every year in vain!

Then he turned his head and pulled over Molly when she was still thinking.

"Did you miss me?" He put his arms around her waist and whispered in her ear.

Molly was instantly pulled back from her thoughts and looked at him.

There was longing and tenderness in Sean's deep eyes and it made her heart melt. She nodded immediately, "Yes!"

With that, she couldn't help leaning over and kissing his lips.

Then, she tugged on his glasses chain.

Sean looked abstinent and elegant today, which gave her a very different feeling. She felt tempted...

Sean looked at her with deep eyes and said with a smile, "Why are you so active today?"

Molly smiled slightly, "As Tony said, we haven't seen each other for some time.

How can I resist the temptation of your beauty? Mr. Anderson, I like taking advantage of you."

Sean chuckled and said in a magnetic voice, "Good point. Well, in that case..."

After he said in agreement, he suddenly lowered his head and kissed her lips.

Molly was taken aback for a moment, but she took the initiative to wrap her arms around his neck instead of dodging!

Sensing her response, Sean became even more passionate with a heart full of joy.

He hugged her tightly as if he wanted to embed her in his body. He gently pinched her chin with his fingers and ravished her with his lips and tongue.

He was not rough, but domineering and possessive in his every move.

Molly was kissed so passionately that she found her knees weak, and she was completely lost.

She could only rely on instinct to tightly grab his skirt.

Sean took the time to look at her in his arms.

Her face was flushed, her eyes were blurred, and her body was clinging to his with full dependence. At this moment, the distance between them was so close that there was no gap!

With her in his arms, even Sean, who had excellent selfcontrol, was a little out of control.

Molly felt something in a daze and froze all over, and finally woke up. She backed away from Sean's arms hesitantly, glanced down, raised her eyes again, and met his gaze.

There were sparks in his eyes. His scorching gaze seemed to melt her...

"We... we're in a car. Tony is right in front." Molly somehow felt a little nervous and reminded him in a low voice.

Sean replied in a hoarse voice, "I know."

When he said this, his eyes became even darker.

Molly became even more nervous, "You...you must restrain yourself! Your legs are not healed yet, and you can't act rashly!"

Seeing her tense face, Sean raised his eyebrows and somehow felt amused.

But when he felt the blood boiling in his body, his heart sank.

He was a little annoyed. He buried his head in her neck, and said through gritted teeth, "If it goes on like this, there will be something wrong with my body sooner or later."

Chapter 1037-Molly's face was flushed, and she couldn't help smiling," How about... I give you some medicine to calm you down?"

Seeing her smile, he bit her ear as punishment, "I can't calm down when I'm so excited. What if something goes wrong?"

He was very light. But Molly trembled when she was bitten.

Her whole back was numb...

She hurriedly hid, "No, I'm good at medicine... Don't bite me. If it leaves marks, I will be so disgraced in front of others."

"Don't worry. You are my fiancée. What are you afraid of?" Sean said casually.

He intentionally teased her, and then lightly bit her again. Molly felt amused and dodged...

The two frolicked all the way, and finally got home. When they got off the car, the blush on Molly's face hadn't faded.

When Eaton got off the car and saw this scene, his eyes darkened. But he didn't show it and quickly collected himself.

Knowing that Molly was going home, people of the May family had been waiting in the yard. When they heard the sound of a car, they naturally came out to welcome her.

The first to run out was the three children.

They hadn't seen Molly for a while, and they naturally had missed her very much. When they came over, they surrounded Molly, and said in unison, "Mommy, welcome home. We missed you so much."

"Mommy, you seem to have lost weight. Did you not eat well?"

"Oh, Mommy!!!"

Molly was hugged enthusiastically by the three children, and she felt so warm.

She kissed each of them and didn't want to let them go.

Grandpa Dave and Brycen were watching with a smile.

After Molly and the children kissed each other, Eaton was invited in.

A few minutes later, when they were seated, Grandpa Dave spoke first, "You are Molly's colleague, Eaton, right? I heard Molly say that she was taken good care of by your family when she was abroad. I have always wanted to find an opportunity to thank you. Now we finally met."

"Mr. May Sr., you're welcome. Molly is my father's apprentice, and she's practically family. I should take care of her." Eaton replied politely, "I should have come to visit you earlier this time when I returned from abroad, but unfortunately I have been held up by work. This time Molly came back, so I came back too."

Then he handed the gift he had brought next to him, "Mr. May Sr., my father asked me to give it to you. I hope you like it."

"I'm glad you come to visit. Why bring a gift? You shouldn't have." Grandpa Dave said quickly.

Eaton said, "You are Molly's grandfather and my elder, so please don't refuse."

Grandpa Dave could only accept it.

After giving Grandpa Dave a gift, Eaton didn't forget others.

He gave a limited edition collectible of racing cars to Brycen, a painting to Sawyer, and toy gifts to the three children.

He was polite and thoughtful!

Molly saw it and found it a little weird.

She immediately said, "Eaton, the children's toys and supplements for grandpa can be accepted...But your gifts for my brothers are too expensive and they cannot accept them."

She didn't know the specific value of the two things, but she knew that the painting for Sawyer was very expensive.

She and Eaton were just colleagues. It would be too strange to accept these gifts!

Brycen had always been playful, but he was unambiguous about this kind of matter.

"Molly is right. We welcome you with open arms, but we can't accept such expensive gifts!"

Sawyer agreed, "The painting is good, and it's worth collecting. But I'm afraid I really cannot accept it."

Chapter 1038-Eaton saw that the two refused to accept his gifts, and a strange look flashed in his eyes.

He naturally knew that the gifts were not properly given. But he just wanted to give them on purpose!

"These things are only valuable in the hands of people who know how to appreciate them. I spend my days in the research laboratory. It would be a pity to let them collect dust!"

Sean was sitting beside Molly, and he had kept silent. But he had seen Eaton's actions.

Others might not understand, but as a man, he understood Eaton's purpose well. Undoubtedly, Eaton was trying to impress the May family.

Eaton made no secret of his feelings for Molly, which was a complete lack of respect for Sean.

Sean narrowed his eyes and said coldly, "Mr. Scott, you've probably stayed abroad for too long, so it seems you don't understand the standards of gift-giving in this country! Why don't I ask my assistant to introduce you?"

Eaton was stunned for a moment and slowly looked at Sean. The two looked at each other, and there was an unknown light in each other's eyes.

With an innocent look on Eaton's face, he said politely, "Okay, thanks, Mr.

Anderson."

Tony was quite blunt, and said, "Mr. Scott, you and Ms. May are just colleagues.

It would be improper for the May family to accept such expensive gifts from you.

If they accept, others will think that the May family doesn't have basic social etiquette. Some people may even gossip about your relationship with Ms. May.

If the word gets out, the May family reputation will be ruined."

After Eaton heard Tony's words, he responded calmly, "Tony, you're being so serious! I just gave gifts as I wished without thinking too much. As for the relationship between me and Molly, I don't think it should be so clear. In my heart, she is my family."

"That's wrong! You and Ms. May are not related by blood at all. You are not even her close friend. How could she be your family? Besides, Mr. Anderson and Ms. May are about to get married, and their love is deep. Their children are growing up. Maybe there will be two more next year... Your behavior is so inappropriate! Others might think you're here to propose marriage."

Tony's sarcasm was sharp, and he wasn't even trying to be subtle at the end. It was so blatant!

When the members of the May family heard this, they became aware of it and realized something else.

They couldn't help but look at Eaton in surprise. Molly was also a little surprised.

She had always treated Eaton as her colleague, and she had never had any other ideas about him. Moreover, she had never thought about him romantically!

Molly immediately said, "Eaton, you should take this gift back! Indeed, it's a bit out of etiquette."

After Eaton heard it, he froze.

But he quickly collected himself and said lightly, "Sorry, it seems that I didn't grasp the scale well. I didn't expect that giving a gift would cause such a big misunderstanding! Well, I'll listen to you and take it back. I'm sorry I was abrupt..."

With that, he looked at Sean and forced a smile, "Mr. Anderson, please don't take it to heart."

"Of course not! Mr. Scott, as long as you're more discreet, nothing will happen."

Sean responded playfully.

The two seemed to be polite, but a war without gun smoke had begun.

Seeing this, Grandpa Dave couldn't help shaking his head.

He knew that his granddaughter was outstanding enough to make Eaton covet her. But in his heart, Sean was the one approved to be his future grandson-in-law.

Chapter 1039-Grandpa Dave said at the right time, "Okay, it's all trivial matters. Sean has always been generous and he won't take it to heart. Eaton, sit down and have a cup of tea..."

"Okay, Mr. May Sr.," Eaton responded.

Then he sat down. He took a sip of his tea, but there was an imperceptible shadow in his eyes. No one saw it. Yet with instinctive keen perception, Sean still noticed it.

His eyes were cold. If Eaton could be more sensible, he wouldn't say anything.

But if Eaton did something stupid, he didn't mind giving him hell!

At noon, Eaton stayed for lunch and then set off for Xesxia.

Molly breathed a sigh of relief. After the incident in the morning, she found it a little awkward to face Eaton. She didn't even know how to get along with him!

After seeing her like this, Brycen said to Sean meaningfully, "My sister is so outstanding and popular, and you must cherish her. Otherwise, if you lose her to others one day, it would be too late."

Sean responded calmly, "Don't worry. There won't happen. Brycen, instead of worrying about me, you'd better worry about yourself first! You're not young, and you're still single.

Don't you feel lonely?"

Brycen was unhappy when he heard it, "Who is lonely?! I just don't want a girlfriend now."

He glared at Sean, "You bastard, I just reminded you kindly. Why are you attacking me personally?"

"I appreciate your warning." Sean glanced at him indifferently, "But I don't care about Eaton!"

“Yes, Daddy is the best, and he won’t lose. He and Mommy are the best match!”

“Uncle Brycen, can’t you wish something good to happen to Mommy and Daddy? Why do you defend an outsider?”

“That’s right. Uncle Brycen is so mean!”

The three children heard it from the side, immediately supported his father, and condemned Brycen.

Then the children looked at Molly and said one after another, “Mommy, you and Daddy must get on well, and you can’t run away with another man.”

“Yes, we will be very sad if you separate.”

“Other men are not as good-looking as Daddy, nor as rich as Daddy, so you must keep your eyes open!”

After Molly heard this, she couldn’t help feeling amused,” Okay, okay, I won’t run away. I’ll just stay with him for the rest of my life, okay?”

“Yes, great!” The three children nodded heavily, making others laugh.

Sean smiled and looked deeply at Molly beside him. For the rest of her life?

How could life be enough?

In the afternoon, Molly was at home with the three children and her family, enjoying a rare leisure time.

After dinner, Sean had some work to do, so he went back to the next door first.

Molly took the opportunity to call Caitlyn over and asked about the progress of Brycen and Sawyer's treatment.

Caitlyn gave her the medical information of the two of them, and said truthfully, "Sawyer hasn't had much neuralgia recently, but I've found that his sleep quality seems to have deteriorated. Most likely it has something to do with his working more. This problem needs to be adjusted.

Otherwise, if it's too tiring, he might relapse.

"As for Brycen, he had been actively cooperating. He was currently recovering well in all aspects and his rehabilitation was also proceeding according to the arrangement."

After flipping through a few pages, Molly felt that the problem was not serious, and told Caitlyn, "Arrange an examination for me tomorrow to see how well they are recovering. I need to formulate a new treatment procedure for them."

Chapter 1040-"OK." Caitlyn agreed, and then asked, "What about Mr.

Anderson? Should I prepare one for him?"

Molly shook her head and said, "Not for now. I'll go and see the results of his rehabilitation later."

"Okay, then I'll treat Brycen first. If you have any questions, come to me." Caitlyn took back the information and quickly went upstairs to find Brycen.

Not surprisingly, Brycen's screams were soon heard upstairs. Molly was not surprised and was going to see Sean next door.

But her phone suddenly rang at this moment. It was a call from Selon!

Molly raised her eyebrows, picked it up, and greeted him first, "Mr. Shepard, what's the matter?"

Selon's voice was gentle and calm, "Well, I'm calling to inform you of something.

The location of this free clinic has been confirmed. It's in a slum in Domster! Dr.

Joye, you should know about this place, right?"

Molly froze and sounded very surprised, "Isn't the location of the free clinic in the country? We're now going abroad, and it's Domster?"

Wasn't that place full of wars? In particular, the slums had fallen and become hell-like. It was unexpected that the Shepard family decided to hold their free clinic in such a dangerous place.

"Mr. Shepard, why didn't you mention it before?" Molly frowned.

She had thought that the free clinics would be held in some remote or impoverished areas of the country at most.

She had never expected to go to such a dangerous place!

She had no idea how long it would take her to come back after going there.

Even if she went there, it would be uncertain whether she could come back alive.

If she was alone, it'd be fine.

But right now, there were a lot of people in her family as well as Sean and their three children...

"Sorry, Dr. Joye, I didn't mention it because we didn't plan to go there. But later, we received some news that a group of compatriots were implicated in the war and were living in that slum, including hundreds of children. Now many of them have been injured, so we've made an impromptu decision to go to that place.

"It's indeed our fault to notify you so late. But I hope that you can go with us.

Your medical skills will be the hope of many people there.

"Of course, if you don't want to go, it's okay. I can cross off your name! After all, this matter is voluntary, and I respect your choice."

Hearing his words, Molly was in a mess.

She instinctively didn't want to go. If she went there and something happened to her, what should her children and family members do?

But as a doctor and a mother of three children, she could not refuse immediately when she heard that hundreds of children were suffering.

Molly was silent for a long time and then said, "Sorry, this matter... I may not be able to give you an answer right away.

I have to discuss it with my family."

"Okay." Selon was very straightforward, "The time for the free clinic is still set at the beginning of next month. Before that, just give me your answer."

"Ok," Molly responded lightly, hung up the phone, and froze for a longtime.

At the same time, in the study of the villa next door, Sean was facing a mountain of documents and was busy working.

Tony was quietly handling work on the side.

In the air, there were only the sounds of flipping through papers and the swishing of signatures.

Suddenly, a sharp siren broke the silence.

It was the computer in front of Sean that rang! The originally blue LCD screen was occupied by a blood-red alert page... Tony froze, and stood up suddenly, "Mr. Anderson, is this... an alarm from over there?"

"Yes!" Sean narrowed his eyes slightly and looked cold, "And it's the highest level of alert."
