

Triplets On SM 1051

Chapter 1051-Sean didn't intend to give more explanations. "I have my own way! Since Molly has made a decision, I won't do anything but to support her as her husband."

Others fell silent when hearing this.

Grandpa Dave sighed and also gave up...

After dinner, Sean went straight to the study.

Molly followed him quickly.

They entered the study.

Molly was actually quite confused with the change in Sean's attitude.

'He strongly disagreed with my decision this afternoon.

'Why suddenly...' "Do you have some questions to ask me?" At the sight of her furrowed brows, he took the initiative to ask.

His tone returned to his usual gentleness, not as serious as noon at all.

Becoming more and more confused, Molly stepped forward and asked," Yes. I want to ask you why you suddenly change your mind. Do you really support me? Or... do you just want to please me so you say that?"

Seeing her expression, Sean probably sensed her uneasiness.

He pulled her toward him and sighed. "If I said that I gave you my genuine support, you probably wouldn't believe me, would you?"

Molly lowered her eyes, remaining silent.

Staring fixedly at her face, Sean added, "I'm not that great. I can't bear to watch my beloved woman go to a dangerous place. But I can't stop you from doing what you want to do..."

"I know your ambition and your desire to save people. I also like the confidence and radiance you show when you save lives and heal the wounded. You look as bright as the sun and very attractive to me then. I can't persuade myself to confine you around me... So, do what you want to do!"

"I love you, so I hope that when you are with me, you can do whatever you want without any scruples. The world is big. Wherever you are going, I'll protect you!"

"It's okay as long as you come back to be with me in the end."

After hearing these words, Molly became stunned.

Sean had always been quiet and cold. Even since they got together, he hadn't said so many words to her, let alone these heartfelt and emotional words.

But he said these right now in order to reassure her.

Even if knowing that she was going to such a dangerous place, he endeavored to protect her.

Molly's eyes turned red immediately, and tears welled up in her eyes.

Why was he so considerate?

He was so considerate that Molly didn't know what to do...

Molly was too choked with emotion to speak. She could only bend down and hug Sean in the wheelchair.

Since Molly took the initiative to embrace him, Sean wrapped his arms around her waist.

They hugged each other tightly.

Molly whispered in his ear in a choked voice, 'I love you, too. I'm sorry that you have to indulge my willful decision before your legs recover. However, thank you for supporting me!'

"What can I do if I don't support you? You are my one and only. This is what I should do," Sean replied resignedly.

At this, Molly couldn't hold back her tears.

When Sean felt warm liquid on his neck, his heart skipped a beat, and his tone became softer. "Baby, don't cry.' "I cannot suppress it..."

Molly buried her head in his neck. "Sean, don't worry. No matter where I go, I'll definitely return to be with you. My home is where you and our children are.

You... stay at home and wait for me to come back!"

"Okay." Sean nodded and kissed her hair.

Chapter 1052-In the evening of the same day, the two of them stayed in the study for quite a long time before finally calming down.

However, Sean became very busy the following day.

He would always leave in the early morning and return home late at night. It seemed that there was an infinite load of work waiting to be done.

Molly didn't take it to heart the first day. She had thought that Sean was really busy.

However, the same thing happened in the next two days. She couldn't see Sean at all. This made her have a strange feeling of what was happening.

Molly was about to head to Domster. Why was Sean even busier than before?

She was about to go abroad and Sean wasn't going to spend anytime with her at all.

When Brycen saw how gloomy his sister's face was, he tried to tease her. "I think Sean wants to use this method to distract himself. He's afraid that he would want to tie you up to prevent you from leaving when you're about to set off."

When Grandpa Dave heard those words, he scolded lightly, "Stop talking nonsense. Sean has already agreed and wouldn't change his mind."

Brycen pursed his lips. He really hoped that Sean would do what he had just said. That would mean that Molly wouldn't be going to such a dangerous place.

'Is he trying to distract himself?' wondered Molly as she bit her lip. She was a little upset deep down. 'Could it be that everything he said that night was a lie?

Is he regretting it now?' Grandpa Dave knew what his granddaughter was thinking. He patted her hand and said quietly, "Molly, it is a little unusual for Sean to behave in this way. You should show more concern for him before you leave."

Molly nodded in agreement.

At that moment, Alex suggested all of a sudden, “Mommy, let’s go see Daddy at his office together this afternoon.”

“I want to go as well!” Ben and Claudia shouted at the same time.

Not only Molly, the three of them hadn’t seen their daddy in a long time.

Molly smiled. ‘Okay.’

Meanwhile, at the Anderson Corporation.

Ricky looked at the gigantic pile of documents on the desk in front of him with a bitter smile. The fear of being dominated by work immediately overwhelmed him.

He was finally able to retire and was able to spend more time with his grandchildren, but his own son dragged him back to be used for an extra labor force.

This was not what he wanted.

Knowing what Ricky was thinking, Sean said meaningfully, “Dad, you’re doing this for Molly and the three children.”

As soon as Ricky heard those words, he immediately became very energetic, picked up one of the documents and began reading it seriously.

For the happiness of the three children, he was willing to do all the heavy lifting.

Seeing this, Sean’s lips curved slightly into a faint smile.

In the afternoon, when Sean was busy, Tony knocked on the door before entering the office.

After hearing those words, Sean immediately put down all the work in his hand and saw three little figures running into the office. The woman he loved followed behind them.

Sean’s cold eyes immediately became gentle.

“Daddy, you haven’t talked to Mommy in ages. Are you mad at her?” asked Claudia as she looked at Sean with her big, beautiful eyes and leaned against the table.

Both Alex and Ben did the same. They also leaned against the table and stared at Sean, who they hadn’t seen for a few days.

Sean frowned at the sight of this and then replied with a smile, “No, I’ve just been busy, that’s all.”

When the three children heard this answer, they all breathed a sigh of relief.

They were relieved that their daddy wasn’t mad at their mommy.

Molly wasn’t convinced. She walked closer and scanned the documents on the table. She then looked at Sean with sad eyes. “I’ll be leaving the day after tomorrow. Do you have time to have dinner with me tonight?”

Her words were filled with grievance.

This made Sean want to laugh. He had been too busy lately and didn’t have any time to spend with Molly and the children.

Hence, he grabbed Molly’s hand, squeezed it lightly and nodded with a smile.

“Okay, I’ll keep you guys company tonight.”

Chapter 1053-After getting consent, Molly didn’t let the kids bother Sean so that he could work attentively.

In the evening after work, Sean left Ricky behind and took his fiancée and the three kids out for dinner.

The yellowish light enveloped the private room.

The table was full of delicacies.

The three children ate their meals in a good manner.

‘Take your time.’

Sean wiped the corner of Claudia’s mouth, his eyes filled with affection.

Molly looked at him for a moment. She frowned as she saw the fatigue on his face.

When Sean got busy, he ignored his health. Then how could she go abroad without worrying?

Noticing her gaze, Sean turned his head and met her anxious eyes.

“What’s wrong?” he asked confusedly.

Molly hesitated for a few seconds. She didn’t say what she was worried about and instead shook her head. She peeled shrimp for him and replied, ‘ Nothing.

You should eat too, or it will get cold.” Sean nodded and casually cut a steak for her.

After dinner, Sean sent them back and then intended to go back to the office.

Molly, who was even more anxious, held him back. "Sean, is there something wrong with the company? Don't hide it from me. I'm afraid..."

Sean saw at a glance that she had thought too much. He gave a slight smile, his voice gentle. "Nothing wrong. Recently, the company has been doing a summary, so there are a lot of things involved. I will only be busy for one more day."

"Really?"

Molly felt that he was telling the truth. Only then was she relieved. "Go ahead. I will wait for you back."

'OK."

Sean did not say anything else. He leaned over, kissed her forehead gently, and then turned to leave.

Later in the evening, Molly gave the three little ones a bath and put them all to bed. After that, she took a bath herself and went next door.

Sean and Tony came back at around 12:00 pm.

Molly was leaning on the sofa and napping.

When Sean saw this, he came up to her and called her softly, "Molly."

Molly heard someone calling her and slowly opened her eyes.

A handsome face appeared in front of her.

She glanced at Sean with a soft smile. "You're finally back."

Seeing her rubbing her sleepy eyes like a child, Sean was overflowing with tenderness. He said gently, "You were really waiting for me? Since you're tired, you should go to sleep first."

'It's okay. I thought you were so busy these two days, so I wanted to treat you.' Molly turned her head to look at the wall clock and sighed, "But I didn't expect that it would be so late."

"The company business today was rather urgent, so I returned a little late."

Sean helped her tuck her hair behind her ear. "And tomorrow will probably be busy too."

At that, Molly frowned at a loss.

She was going to Domster soon. If she didn't treat him tonight, she would have to wait for a month.

Sean saw what she was thinking and said, "Just do it tonight."

Molly had no choice but to agree.

Back in the room, Molly took out a box of medical tools. She treated Sean's legs with the tools and massaged his shoulders.

She noticed that his shoulders were stiff because of the heavy work, so she felt sorry for him.

After taking off the tools, Molly was ready to go back to rest, but Sean held her hand and said in a seductive tone, "Sleep here tonight, okay?"

Molly paused for a few seconds, and her ears burned, but she didn't refuse.

The day after tomorrow, she would leave for Domster, and she really didn't want to part with Sean. Now that they had a rare chance to stay together, she didn't want to miss it.

After all, they would be separated for a month.

Chapter 1054-After Sean took a shower, the two hugged each other and lay on the bed. Molly leaned against his chest, thinking about how busy he was recently, and thinking that the two of them would be separated for a month, she inevitably became worried again.

"While I'm away, you can't work so hard. Your body can't withstand intensive work like you did before.

"Also, you can't sit for a long time for the sake of your legs, otherwise the blood supply will be insufficient, resulting in poor blood flow. If so, it will affect the progress of recovery...

"In addition Listening to her nagging instructions, Sean surrendered and could only bow his head and kiss her lips directly.

The sound stopped abruptly.

Molly stared at the suddenly enlarged handsome face, didn't move, and just blinked.

Sean kissed her, let go, and said in a low and hoarse voice, 'At this moment, stop talking about it, and do something else.'

As soon as the words fell, he propped up his upper body, pressed down on her, and gradually deepened the kiss.

Molly completely yielded to it, closed her eyes, hugged his neck with both hands, and responded clumsily to him...

The temperature in the room began to heat up.

As time passed, Molly felt that her mind was a little blank.

Sean did not lose his mind, but his blood felt like boiling.

His eyes were dark, and deep in his eyes, it seemed that there was a wild beast about to rush out of the cage.

Molly vaguely felt that she was touched by something...

She froze, blushing, and wanted to push Sean away.

However, Sean said in a husky voice, "Molly, help me...will you?"

Molly was stunned, and asked subconsciously, "How can I help you? Your legs..."

It was not that this kind of situation had never happened before, but he usually stopped when he was impeded by his own condition of the leg.

But now he wanted her to help him.

'How could I help?' Molly was a little confused.

When she didn't know what to do, Sean suddenly took her hand...

Molly was dumbfounded.

"Sean..."

Her voice trembled slightly.

Although she was mentally prepared for love-making since they had been together, she couldn't react for a while when such a thing happened.

"Hey "

The man responded lightly, with a hoarse voice, a hoarseness that he tried his best to restrain.

Molly's mind went blank and she didn't know what to do.

She could only be clumsy and let him lead her... 1 His kisses were thick and dense, falling continuously.

Hasty and hot. Hot!

Molly felt that the time was so long.

She didn't know how long it took, and everything finally came to an end.

Molly came to his senses only belatedly.

A burst of shame surged up. She ignored the sore hands, and directly pulled up the quilt to cover herself.

Sean got up to clean the two of them up, and helped her wipe her hands.

Seeing her like this, he smiled and asked, "Afraid? Or disgusted?"

Hearing this question, Molly slowly pulled down the quilt, revealing two eyes.

Her eyes were erratic and she didn't dare to look directly at him. She muttered softly: "No... No, it's just a little sudden."

Seeing her like this, Sean's heart was so soft that he stretched out his hand to gently caress her head, and raised his lips and said, "Then get used to it first, I...

don't want to bear it anymore. And, next time, maybe it's more than that."

Hearing this, Molly hid in bed again, her heart beating fast.

Sean had an even wider grin, and happily hugged her into his arms, his expression full of satisfaction.

Molly felt ashamed, but because of this, the relationship between the two of them was getting closer, and she was very happy. She took the initiative to hug his waist and put her head on his chest.

"Good night."

After saying it softly, she also closed her eyes and soon fell asleep.

Looking at her peaceful sleeping face, Sean lowered his head and kissed her forehead, his eyes filled with unresolved tenderness.

"Good night."

Chapter 1055-They held each other to sleep.

The night passed.

Sean had breakfast the next morning and then went to the office.

Molly was going to Xesxia by plane in the afternoon to meet Selon and others.

Before leaving, Sean said, "I'll take you to the airport in the afternoon."

Molly was worried he would be too busy. "Won't it be too tiring for you to run around?" "It's fine."

Sean said gently, "I'm willing to do it for you."

Molly's heart melted.

Grandpa Dave, Brycen, and Sawyer were concerned to see her leave.

Gritting his teeth, Brycen said, "How about I pack up now and go to Domster with you? I can protect you there."

Molly laughed, "It's fine, Brycen. Given your condition, I may have to protect you. It's appreciated that you'll stay at home, taking care of Grandpa and the three kids." "But..."

Brycen was depressed.

More rational among them, Sawyer said, "Take care of yourself. Here is a dagger for you. Take it and keep yourself safe." "Sawyer is thoughtful to give you something substantial."

Grandpa Dave praised him and said with concern, "But can she board the plane with it?"

Mr. Anderson Sr. chimed in, "It's forbidden from Northfolk to Xesxia, but she can carry it on the trip to Domster. Even the army can't guarantee the passengers' safety. They'll need weapons to protect themselves." "Mommy, the dagger alone is not enough. You need to take some powder.

In critical moments, it will save your life."

Alex stood out and proposed.

Alex and Claudia echoed, "Yeah, Mommy, you need strong protection, or we'll be worried."

Molly's heart melted when she heard that.

She was aware of their concern and thus had discussed with Selon the potential safety hazards when she was in Domster.

She reassured them, "Guys, don't worry, personnel from different countries will be dispatched. There will be people maintaining order and a dedicated area for the medical teams. There won't be much danger in that area. Even if there were, the level would not be high. Moreover, the war has no longer reached the slums." "Really?"

The information relieved them a little.

Molly spent the morning with her family.

In the afternoon, Sean came to pick her up as promised.

At the door, the family members were reluctant to part with her.

Brycen cried, "Molly, my dear sister, you'll be gone for a month. I'll miss you.

The three kids' eyes reddened. They surrounded their mother and said, "We'll miss you too, mommy. Take care of yourself and don't make US worry.

'I will. You guys should obey your uncles, grandpas, and dad."

Molly kissed them one by one and got into the car after getting their promises.

She didn't dare look back.

She was afraid she would lose the courage to leave.

On the way to the airport, she was in low spirits.

Sean noticed it and rubbed her head. He asked, "Regretful?" "A little."

Molly rested her head on his shoulder. Her tone was depressed.

Sean laughed, "It's okay. You can count on me. Don't worry about everything."

Molly's nose tingled. Once again, she found that this man was so sweet.

She asked curiously, "Do you support me unconditionally no matter what kind of absurd things I do?"

Chapter 1056-"Not necessarily," Sean replied without hesitation. "It depends.

For example, you can't leave my side. This is the only thing I won't accept."

Molly felt like her heart was being burned by something.

She really didn't want to leave anymore.

As the two of them talked, the car pulled over outside the departure entrance of the airport.

Sean accompanied Molly until the security check.

When Molly walked in, she ignored everyone around them and leaned in to kiss Sean.

The kiss was short, but it was full of sentimentality.

When the two of them separated, she said to the man in front of her, “When I come back in a month’s time, let’s get married, alright? Let’s make our relationship official.”

The look in Sean’s eyes changed and his lips curved. “Alright, you’re the one who brought this up. I hope you won’t go back on your words.” “I won’t. You’re always my shield,” Molly replied with a smile.

A few minutes later, the plane to Xesxia took off.

Sean and Tony returned to the city.

On their way back, Sean asked Tony, “You’ve booked the ticket to Domster, right?” “Yes. We’ll leave around midnight tonight,” replied Tony.

About just over two hours later, Molly arrived in Xesxia.

As soon as she walked out of the airport, she saw the Shepard family’s car parked on the side of the road.

Selon was standing by the car and was waiting for her.

Molly walked over with her suitcase and felt a little surprised. “How come you’re here in person, Dr. Shepard?” “I wasn’t too far from here, so I thought I’d come and pick you up to take you to the Shepard family’s house,” replied Selon.

The medical teams who came to Domster would all meet up at the Shepard family’s house.

When Molly heard those words, she didn't overthink things and just said thank you.

After Molly got into the car, she asked Selon, "Roughly how many people had come this time?"

Selon didn't hold anything back. "The number of professionals that the Shepard family invited ourselves was around 100. The number that was invited officially was around 500." "That many?" Molly was surprised.

"Those numbers didn't include the people that the hidden families sent as well."

Selon told Molly some more shocking news.

Molly was even more surprised. "Other families had sent help as well?" "That's right. Almost every single one of them has sent someone over. If you total these people up, there would be at least 100 of them."

Selon gave Molly a rough estimate.

Molly showed a puzzled face. "For hidden families like you, you don't normally show yourselves at all. Before I knew about the Shepard family, I'd only heard about the Scott family. How come all of them are sending help this time?"

Domster was in a mess at the moment, but sending people there would be able to gain some credit.

However, to the hidden families, such credit wouldn't do too much good for them.

Molly's instincts were telling her that something was off.

"As forthat, I'm not so sure either..."

Selon felt a little strange as well.

The Shepard family just happened to bump into the clinics this time, so they had to come to Domster.

However, this wasn't the case for the rest of the families.

They just suddenly popped out of nowhere and took the initiative to offer help.

Selon's instincts told him that something fishy was going on.

His father and grandfather should also know as well, but neither of them said anything to Selon.

For a moment, both Selon and Molly felt silent.

About half an hour later, the car pulled over outside a house.

It was the Shepard family's house.

It was an old-fashioned house with a gigantic garden. It was grand and luxurious.

Selon was the first to come back to his senses. He turned to Molly and said, "Dr.

Joye, let's go inside first. I'll take you inside to get some rest. I'll go find out about what we just talked about."

Molly nodded, got off the car and was about to head inside the house with her luggage.

Just as Molly headed towards the house, she saw Beth walking towards her.

Chapter 1057-As soon as Molly saw Beth, she subconsciously furrowed her brows.

She was going to ignore Beth, but Beth asked deliberately, “Molly? Why are you here? Didn’t my grandpa remove your name from the list?”

Molly was a little taken aback when she heard those words.

‘My name was removed by her grandpa? Is that the old man I saved at that old-timey clinic? What’s going on?’ she wondered.

Molly looked at Selon with a puzzled look on her face. “Is this real, Mr.

Shepard?”

Selon didn’t expect his sister would come and ruin his plans. This made him a little awkward.

He didn’t tell Molly that her name had once been removed.

Selon was left with no choice but to say, “Dr. May, there’s been a misunderstanding. I’ll give you an explanation later on.”

He then furrowed his brows and looked at Beth. “Why are you here? Why aren’t you taking care of the doctors who were about to set off to Domster? What are you doing here?” i’ve especially accompanied Uncle Jose here. He will go with you to Domster this time,” replied Beth. She then targeted Molly again. “Selon, why do you insist on taking this woman with you? Domster’s a mess. Even with the protection of the military, it’s still very dangerous. Aren’t you scared that she’ll hold you back? It’s alright if others were injured or killed, but nothing can happen to you.”

Beth wasn’t going easy on Molly with her words either.

Before Molly could react, Selon quickly scolded, “What nonsense are you talking about? Go back to your room and stop saying such things.” Beth swallowed. When she saw her brother keep protecting such a woman and was even scolding her, she was even more annoyed.

However, she didn't dare to scold Selon. In the end, she could only glare at Molly.

Beth then turned on her heels and left.

After Beth had left, Selon looked apologetically at Molly. "I'm sorry, Dr.

Joye, my sister doesn't think about what she says. Please don't take her words to heart."

Molly wasn't bothered about Beth. 'I wouldn't fuss about someone who's not related to me. However, you should tell me about the name removal, Mr.

Shepard."

Selon knew that there was no way to avoid this topic anymore, so he could only nod his head. "I do apologize about this matter. My grandpa had mentioned about removing your name, but I don't think he meant any harm. Back then, we just decided to go to Domster and as an old man, he took a lot of things into consideration. He was worried that the environment would be inconvenient for you, so he suggested that I remove your name. However, I've decided to keep you on the list and I hope that you won't mind."

Selon quickly explained to Molly what happened, but he wasn't being completely honest.

His grandpa didn't want Molly to be a part of this because of the Anderson family. Even now, Selon didn't know what exactly was going on.

Although Molly felt something wasn't right, she couldn't tell exactly what.

However, she began to feel dissatisfied with the clinics this time.

The location had been a secret from the start and then she was suddenly told that they would have to go to Domster. Now, she even found out that her name was once removed. All the ancient medical families showed themselves as well this time.

Everything looked strange.

Molly then looked at Selon sharply. “Mr. Shepard, I’m attending the clinics this time to save lives. I have no interest in what are hidden families like you actually doing, but I don’t like being kept in the dark. If you know the truth, I hope you can tell me. Otherwise, I might have to drop out of the clinics this time. Neither do I want to be part of an operation that is full of uncertainties. I think this is what others are thinking as well.”

Chapter 1058-Selon could feel the dissatisfaction in Molly’s voice. He also knew that what he had done this time was unconvincing.

On top of that, he had a lot of doubts this time as well.

At the moment, they were about to set off for Domster.

Selon knew that if he didn’t make things clear then the other doctors probably wouldn’t trust him either.

Selon quickly replied, “Dr. Joye, the dispatch of the ancient medical families does seem a little strange. I haven’t received any news about this. However, my father has sent his most capable assistant here. I’ll go find out what was going on tonight. I’ll give you a reply tomorrow morning at the latest. Would that be alright?”

His attitude was sincere and didn’t sound like he was trying to cover anything up.

Molly hesitated for a while and had no choice but to agree with Selon’s suggestion.

Soon, Selon brought her to a quiet courtyard.

The courtyard was full of bamboo and looked very elegant.

“Dr. Joye, get some rest for now. Someone will bring you dinner later on. If you feel bored, you can have a walk around. You can always call me if you need anything,” Selon saw Molly to her room and said in a gentle voice.

“Thank you, Mr. Shepard.” Molly nodded to express her gratitude.

Selon shook his head. “We have quite a lot of guests today. I’m grateful that you won’t think I’ve not treated you well.”

After saying those words, Selon said goodbye and left.

After Selon was gone, Molly went into the room to get some rest. She also used this opportunity to text Sean. “I’ve arrived at the Shepard family’s place.”

“Okay,” Sean replied almost instantly.

Molly was thinking of telling the situation at the Shepard family, but she hesitated when she was about to press the send button.

There were a lot of uncertainties at the moment. If she told Sean, then it would just add to his worries. Therefore, Molly decided to not say anything.

Meanwhile, at the Anderson Corporation in Northfolk.

Sean had been busy for the entire afternoon and finally finished all the work.

Tony came to pick him up.

On their way back, Tony made his report. “Just received news. All the hidden ancient medical families in the country were dispatched. They all sent people to Domster. It’s going to be a hell of a party this time.”

When Sean heard those words, his face darkened. "Sticking their noses into other people's business would only get them killed!"

"I think they don't really know what's going on. But the words "Treasure of Ancient Medicine" was just too tempting to them. Recently, the ancient medical techniques in the country have been deteriorating. It was said that the ancient medical books were too advanced and no one could fully understand them. This time, the martial art families of the "Unbounded Land" has been spreading the word that the "Treasure of Ancient Medicine" can solve this difficulty.

That's why those families couldn't sit back anymore."

Sean furrowed his brows. "The martial art world and the ancient medical world never had too much to do with each other. Back then, in the Unbounded Land, none of the martial art families said that they had mastered the Treasure of Ancient Medicine. The reason that they've spreading such news deliberately was probably because they have other plans."

"We're not sure of that yet. However, Mr. Merrick is suspecting the same thing.

He has already ordered someone to look into this matter. He'll report to you if he finds anything." After saying that, Tony couldn't help but feel worried. "Sir, are you really sure you're alright in letting Mrs. Anderson go? Things are getting more and more complicated."

When Sean heard what Tony said, Molly's figure appeared in his mind.

His eyes darkened. "No matter. I would like to see who would dare to lay a finger on her!"

When the two of them were talking, the car arrived at Terahis Grove.

Sean was going to set off tonight. He missed the three children quite a lot, so he told Tony to bring him here.

The children had been spiritless the whole afternoon. When their daddy finally came home, they thought they could cuddle up with him, but that was when they saw their daddy with a suitcase in his hand.

Chapter 1059-ome important work to do, so I have to leave for a while.

That's why I came to say goodbye to your guys just in case that you miss Daddy."

Claudia rubbed her eyes and asked in a sobbing voice, "How long are you going to be away?"

Sean's heart ached and he couldn't help but kiss the girl on the forehead as he replied, "Well, probably a month."

Alex was very clever and he immediately guessed what was going on. "Are you going to find Mommy?"

Ben and Claudia were both dumbfounded.

Then, they became nervous.

"How come? Daddy, your legs haven't fully recovered yet. You can't go to such a dangerous place."

"That's right. You can't go. If anything happens to Daddy, what are we going to tell Mommy?"

Ben and Claudia were both very desperate. They grabbed Sean's arm with their tiny hands. "Daddy, don't go."

When Sean saw how worried they were, his heart softened.

However, he had to refuse their requests. "I'm sorry. Daddy has to go. I'm worried about Mommy, so I have to go to protect her."

“But...”

Ben and Claudia looked at Sean’s legs and didn’t know what to say.

Their daddy’s legs hadn’t recovered yet and he was even finding it difficult to walk. How could he protect Mommy?

Alex was worried as well.

He could tell that his daddy was determined to go and find his mommy, so he didn’t try to stop his daddy because he knew it was no use.

Therefore, Alex asked calmly, “If Daddy goes, how confident are you in being able to protect Mommy? Will you be able to return together?”

Sean didn’t expect Alex to ask such a question.

However, to gain his trust and get him to not be so worried, Sean made a promise. “I have 100% confidence!”

When Alex heard that, he didn’t immediately give a reply.

Being 100% confident sounded unlikely, but somehow, coming from his daddy’s mouth, he felt it was possible for some reason.

His daddy had always been very capable and always kept his word.

With that thought in mind, Alex said to Sean, “Since that’s the case then I’ll leave Mommy to you. I hope Mommy and Daddy can both return safely.”

“Alex?” Ben and Claudia found Alex’s words a little unbelievable.

They thought that Alex was going to help convince their daddy to stay. They didn’t expect Alex to support their daddy.

At that moment, Alex took the role of the eldest brother. He had a calm expression on his face. “Ben, Claudia, listen. We need to have faith in Daddy. If he said he can do it, then he can do it. Besides, we’re worried about Mommy anyway. With Daddy around, we won’t be that worried.”

Ben and Claudia fell silent, but one could tell from their faces that they were still finding it hard to decide.

Seeing this, Sean made another promise that he would come back in one piece.

Only then, the two of them were convinced.

That night, Sean and Tony boarded the plane towards Domster under the unwilling gazes of the three children.

Meanwhile, in the Shepard family’s courtyard.

Molly was finding it a little hard to fall asleep that night.

It was probably because she was in a foreign environment and faced with an unknown situation, so she didn’t feel sleepy at all.

By that time, Sean should already be asleep and couldn’t talk to her. Molly didn’t want to bother him either. Therefore, she had no choice but to take a walk in the courtyard.

However, after only walking around for a short while, Molly saw Selon walking in from the outside.

When Selon saw that Molly wasn't asleep, he was a little surprised, but he quickly recovered. "Dr. Joye, still awake?"

"Yeah." Molly tucked her coat and asked, "Is there something you want to talk to me about coming here so late at night, Mr. Shepard?"

Selon looked around and pointed at the pavilion not far away. "Let's talk over there, shall we?"

Molly immediately knew what he meant. "You've already got some news for me, Mr. Shepard?"

Chapter 1060-"Yes." Selon nodded and he had a serious expression on his face.

When Molly saw the expression on Selon's face, her heart sank as well. She immediately walked over to the pavilion.

After the two of them sat down, Selon didn't immediately open his mouth to speak.

He first pondered for a moment and asked, "Dr. Joye, what are your views on the ancient medical families within the country?" Molly was taken aback a little. She didn't seem to understand why he was asking her such a question.

However, she still answered quickly, "Mysterious, low-profiled, good medical skills, unpredictable."

When Selon heard such an answer, he wasn't very surprised. "Yes, for people outside this world, hidden families like us are really unpredictable. Whereas in fact, that's only what outsiders know. Nowadays, medical families have deteriorated to an unbelievable state! What you've heard or seen would mostly be unrealistic. For example, when we have a lot of books on medicine, people would think that our medical techniques have reached the top of the world and we're able to bring the dead back to life! However, the truth is that, ancient books are very hard to understand and ordinary people can't understand them. Those precious treatment methods and prescriptions can't be easily used anyway. The ancient medical techniques are not as great as they used to be."

Molly didn't expect to hear such a big secret from Selon so quickly. She was gobsmacked.

She only came back to her senses after a while.

When she was abroad in the past, her mentor had told her a lot of ancient medical techniques.

However, he didn't talk about the ancient medical families in any detail.

It was a rare chance for Molly to hear about such things, so she was very curious.

"Mr. Shepard, you suddenly mentioned this and the full dispatch of the ancient medical families towards Domster. Does this have anything to do with the deterioration of the ancient medical techniques?"

When Selon saw that Molly got straight to the point, so he decided not to hide anything. "It does have something to do with it. Just like what I've said, the Ancient Medical Books are very hard to understand. Therefore, all the major families have been looking for a way to solve the current problem. However, all their efforts were to no avail... It was until now, with the chaos of Domster, someone mentioned the "Treasure of Ancient Medicine", it was said that it could crack the Ancient Medical Books and the prescriptions within. That's why it caused all the hidden families to be shaken."

When Molly heard those words, she felt it was a little unbelievable. "How can this be? Domster is only a small country and the citizens there don't even have the same origin as us. The Treasure of Ancient Medicine sounds like something from our country, right? It can't exist in their country, right? Besides, if the word "Treasure" is used, why do I feel like it's a scandal?"

Selon's face was serious. "That's what I think as well, but I've double-checked with the elders in the family and they told me something. Have you heard of the martial art families? They are an existence that's similar to the ancient medical families."

"The martial art families?" Molly was a little stunned and was at a loss.

This was something that she had no knowledge of whatsoever.

"Wouldn't such families only exist in television programs?"

Selon smiled bitterly. "That's right. That's what I had always thought as well.

However, the truth is that, they really exist! Not only that, they're spread all over the world as well. It's just that they've hidden themselves well. It was said that some of those martial art forces were so strong that they could stand against a country. Especially the major families within the "Unbounded Land". They are even more terrifying. They place themselves even above a country. They are also passed down, generation after generation and haven't deteriorated at all.

The chaos of Domster this time was said to have been caused by a martial art family. The Treasure of Ancient Medicine rumor has also originated by them."
