

Triplets On SM 1121

Chapter 1121-Molly's mood fluctuated greatly, and she missed Sean so much. She wanted to rush to Ferro City immediately to see Sean. But in the end, she held back.

She had to wait... She could go to see him after the matter here was dealt with!

At this moment, it was already bright outside. Folke immediately told them to load everything into the cars and helicopters.

After a whole morning of busy work, the entire warehouse was emptied. Folke assigned some men to deliver supplies to other medical stations respectively.

Then he asked his subordinates to send messages and invited the official leaders stationed there to go to the slums to discuss cooperation in detail.

After the arrangements were made, they finally set out on their way home.

At the same time, in the slums, Selon and others had just had lunch and were discussing the shortage of supplies.

Since this morning, there had been a serious shortage of modern medication, and they could barely survive on traditional medicines.

But the consumption was too great. If it continued like this, they would not be able to survive today.

"I wonder how Captain Green and Dr. May are doing. Why is there no news yet?" A doctor in the same group with Molly looked up into the distance and said in a worried tone.

Hearing this, Daisy couldn't help but sneer, 'Do you expect her to bring back the supplies? To put it bluntly, I think the so-called warehouse is fake! An old man of unknown origin is very suspicious in itself. But Molly believed in his words and even asked Captain Green to take so many people there.

“If they find no supplies, it doesn’t matter. But if there is a danger on the road, all the others will suffer. Can Molly bear such consequences?”

When Daisy said this, her intentions were extremely sinister, and she blamed everything on Molly.

The others could not help but feel a little hesitant when they heard this.

“Well, Dr. May is indeed a bit reckless. How could she believe nonsense?”

‘Isn’t she risking others’ lives? Does she think that she can call the shots when she has some medical skills?’

Daisy felt very happy when she heard them criticizing Molly.

During this free clinic trip, she had been outshone by Molly, which was quite annoying.

Knowing that Molly followed Captain Green and the others to carry out such an important task, she was even more annoyed.

At this moment, she was trying her best to slander Molly and even hoped that Molly would fail from the bottom of her heart.

When Selon heard these comments, he looked unhappy, and he immediately shouted angrily, “That’s enough! I decided to let Dr. May go with them! They’re going to get back those supplies, and the journey is dangerous, and they may even die!

“Dr. May is a responsible person and she stepped forward under great pressure.

But now you’re speaking ill of her behind her back! Let me ask you if it were you, would you have the courage to do it? If not, shut up.”

With that, he got up angrily and was about to leave.

Daisy was taken aback, and she quickly got up to chase, "Selon..."

But before she finished her sentence, she was interrupted by Selon, "Daisy, since you have the time for gossiping, why don't you spend more time healing the wounded? Don't always target Dr. May. Dr. May doesn't care about you at all! The Black family is a known medical family after all. Don't disgrace your family."

With that, he left without looking back.

Daisy stood where she was with a pale face and a broken heart.

Apart from this, she hated Molly even more, "I don't believe she can get the supplies back!"

Chapter 1122-Just as Daisy was secretly gritting her teeth, a doctor suddenly hurried over and asked her, "Did you see Selon, Dr. Black?"

Daisy was in a fit of anger, and her tone was not very nice, "He just walked over there. What happened?"

The doctor had no time to talk to Daisy and directly chased after Selon in the direction he was leaving.

Seeing this, Daisy bit her lips and followed over to have a look. After a short while, she saw Selon rushing over.

She was just about to ask when Selon said in an urgent tone, "Is this true?"

Someone sent supplies? Could it be Dr. May and the others?"

The doctor was panting and said, "It's true. There are more than 20 vehicles of medical supplies."

While talking, the two hurried past Daisy.

Daisy was stunned and muttered, “How is it possible? How is it possible?!”

She didn’t believe it, so she turned around and followed quickly.

They rushed to the entrance of the slums and indeed saw a huge convoy.

At this moment, the cars had stopped, and the leader in black was waiting beside a car.

Selon quickly stepped forward and greeted him, “Hello, I am the person in charge here, Selon Shepard. I heard that you are here to deliver medical supplies?”

The man in black was Dubhe’s subordinate. He looked Selon up and down, and frowned, “Who is Selon Shepard? We are here to see Madam...Ms.

Molly May.”

Selon was taken aback, “Molly?”

He quickly came to his sense and said, “I’m sorry, Dr. May is not in this area now, but I am her friend, and I am also in the same medical team as her this time. You can talk to me directly.”

Hearing his words, Dubhe’s subordinate said with a frown, “These medical supplies are collected by my master from other countries, and they’ve been specially sent here to help Madam.”

Selon was shocked, “Your master? Could it be Mr. Sean Anderson?”

“Yes!” The subordinate nodded lightly, and then said, “Since Madam is not here, and you are the person in charge here, I will give the supplies to you. Please send some men to move all the supplies there. These cars are full of good medicines and you have to be careful!”

While speaking, he went to open the back door of a truck.

There were countless bottles and cans neatly stacked inside and all sorts of medicines were included.

Moreover, there were even many precious medicines among them. Seeing it, Selon was extremely shocked yet delighted. For the slums, these medicines were now a timely help.

Selon was overjoyed and immediately thanked him, “Thank you and Mr.

Anderson so much. You’ve delivered these medicines just in time!”

Daisy was also extremely shocked.

She couldn’t believe it, and questioned, “How is it possible? How can Molly’s fiancé have such great ability?”

When the subordinate heard this, he glanced at her and explained, “Oh, there is one more thing! These precious medicines are collected by my master. And we still have dozens of vehicles on their way. But those were the ones that were snatched from you... On the way here, we found several warehouses and helped you get the medicines back. But the journey is a bit difficult, and it will take them some time.”

Hearing his words, everyone was shocked again.

Selon looked excited, “Really?”

Chapter 1123-“Of course! I knew you are in a hurry, so we’ve sent some over first.” The subordinate responded calmly.

They didn't know what to say.

They had never expected that at their most difficult time, it was Molly's fiancé who extended a helping hand.

Moreover, they helped to get back the supplies!

"Dr. May is our lucky star!"

"She is. I heard that her fiancé is the head of the richest Anderson family in Norlon! The Anderson family is indeed extraordinary." "Mr. Anderson has done all this for the sake of Dr. May. After all, it's all thanks to Dr. May..."

At the moment, the doctors sincerely admired Molly. They all praised her.

Daisy blushed as if she had been slapped hard in the face.

A few minutes ago, she had insinuated that Molly couldn't get back the medical supplies and even said that Molly might cause trouble.

But she was proved wrong so soon.

Not only did Molly's fiancé send dozens of cars of medical supplies, but he even helped the slums get back those looted supplies.

Daisy felt like a clown at the moment, and she was blushing with shame. But no one paid any attention to her at the moment.

Selon quickly called for some people to come over to carry the supplies!

The medical crisis was successfully resolved that very day.

At around four o'clock in the afternoon, Molly, Folke, and others also returned safely and they brought back all the remaining supplies.

This news directly swept across the slums!

When Selon heard it, he immediately came out to greet them, "Molly, Folke, you guys are finally back. Are you all right?"

'We're fine.' Molly and Folke got out of the car and responded.

"Great! I was worried about your safety." Selon was overjoyed, "Thank you!"

"That's our duty. It's just we lost some teammates." Folke sounded a little sad.

When Selon heard this, his expression turned solemn, "What happened on your trip to the warehouse this time?"

Folke roughly explained what had happened.

When Selon heard that the team had almost been wiped out, he became tense.

"The good thing is, in the end, with the help of these two, the people they brought arrived in time, so we survived."

Folke finally made a summary and introduced Dubhe and Merak.

"Who are these two...?" Selon had noticed these two just now.

One of them looked serious while the other looked very cute. Such a combination was eye-catching.

Molly stood up and said, "These two were sent by Sean to look for me. This time, they are responsible for escorting the supplies."

Then Molly told Selon about the distribution of the medical supplies in the warehouse.

After hearing this, Selon nodded, "Dr. May, you're thoughtful enough to make sure that other regions will also have medical supplies! Thank you two for your help..."

"We were just ordered to help Madam," Dubhe said very lightly. Merak just shrugged and did not speak.

Molly and the others had been traveling, and they hadn't had a good rest last night. So Selon quickly arranged for Molly and the others to go to rest.

Molly was indeed exhausted, so she didn't refuse and was about to go back.

When she was about to leave, she suddenly thought of Merak and Dubhe, "

There is a shortage of accommodation here. You two..."

She hesitated, not knowing how to arrange it.

Dubhe said simply, "I can figure out a way by myself. As for Merak, I think she can stay with you, Madam."

Chapter 1124-After hearing this, Molly agreed and took Merak back to the residence.

As soon as Merak entered, she looked around the room.

Then she frowned and said, "Madam, this is where you live?"

Molly smiled and said, "Yes, this place is good. At least it has some private space. Some doctors sleep in bunk beds, and there is no privacy at all.

Sorry, I know you might not be used to living in places like this. It's just that the conditions are limited at the moment. I'm afraid you'll have to make do. N Molly hadn't known Dubhe and Merak for very long, but judging from their clothes, she could see that they must have lived a comfortable life.

When they suddenly came to live in such a difficult environment, they might not be used to it.

But Merak didn't seem to mind it. She sat on the bed, and said casually, "It's okay. We have encountered more difficult conditions on our missions."

Hearing this, Molly was slightly taken aback.

"On your missions?" She was going to take a bath. But she stopped after hearing this.

She had a lot of questions about Sean on their way back. But she hadn't found the opportunity to ask them.

Now that it was mentioned, Molly decided to ask, "Merak, can you tell me what you and Dubhe usually do by Sean's side?"

Merak blinked, but did not cheat, "We do things for the president, like collecting information, etc."

"Collecting information?" It was a bit unfamiliar again, and it sounded like some illegal organization.

Merak seemed to be able to see what Molly was thinking, and added in time, "The Anderson family's business is very big. It is all over the world, and some competitors' information needs to be collected. We are usually responsible for it..."

Molly suddenly reacted, "Oh, I see."

However, she still felt that something was wrong, but she couldn't figure it out.

Seeing her like this, Merak knew that she probably didn't know anything about the Grandset. It was hard for her to say this kind of thing. She could only wait to meet the master, and let him explain to Molly himself.

That night, Molly had a lot of things she wanted to talk to Merak about, but she was so tired that she fell asleep soon.

At the same time, in Ferro City, when Sean was about to go back to his room to rest late at night, Tony hurried in.

Seeing his expression, Sean couldn't help asking, "What happened?"

Tony said nervously, "There is news from the slums. I heard that Madam followed Folke's team to a large warehouse to get back the medical supplies."

"What did you say?" Sean's face changed dramatically, "Where is she now?"

Where is she?"

Tony said, "I don't know yet. The news transmission is a bit slow at the moment.

I'm not sure if Madam is safe or not. But you don't have to worry too much.

Folke brought a lot of people, and he will protect Madam.

Moreover, now Dubhe and the others should have arrived in the slums. If they find that Madam is not there, they will rush to her rescue."

How could Sean listen to him?

Hearing that Molly was out in danger, Sean couldn't sit still for a moment, and immediately told Tony, "Go arrange a car immediately, and I'll go find Molly!"

"But Mr. Anderson..." After Tony heard this, he immediately wanted to persuade Sean.

But Sean sounded very determined, "No buts! This time, I came to Domster for Molly's sake in the first place. Nothing is more important than her safety! Go right away."

Tony had no choice but to nod, "OK."

Chapter 1125-At night, Sean and his men hurried to the place where Molly was. He was concerned about Molly's safety, and he just wanted to confirm her safety as soon as possible.

This time, apart from Tony, he also brought Phecda and some other subordinates!

In the early morning of the next day, Molly, who had slept well last night, was finally energetic.

Just when she was about to get out of bed, she suddenly saw a big tiger under the bed, and she almost screamed in fright.

It was Sil low! Molly didn't know when he came in, and he was lying prone under the bed and sleeping.

Molly took a deep breath, patted her chest, and managed to calm down. She felt speechless and a little worried... What if Sillow ran out and scared people?

After Molly washed up, Merak was still sleeping. Molly didn't disturb her and went out of the room directly.

Unexpectedly, Molly saw Dubhe, who was leaning against the wall and resting his eyes.

She was a little surprised, and hurried over to say hello, "Dubhe, why are you here?"

Dubhe opened his eyes, and greeted her respectfully, "Morning, Madam."

Then he explained, "Sillow wanted to come down to get some fresh air, so I took him out for a walk while no one was paying attention. But he seemed to smell your scent and refused to leave, so I had to let him go inside."

"Is that so?" Molly nodded, but still said, "He can stay here at night. But during the day, don't let him walk around, because he may scare other people."

"Okay." Dubhe nodded.

Molly didn't say anything else, "Well, you stay here. I'll go to work."

Dubhe nodded and watched Molly leave.

As soon as Molly left, he turned around and entered the room. He picked up Merak who was sleeping and said, "Madam has already gone to treat the wounded! Follow her."

Merak was sleepy and annoyed, "Why do I have to go? Can't you follow her? N "I'm a man, and it's inconvenient for me to follow her closely. Go quickly..."

Dubhe immediately lifted Merak and threw her to the ground.

Merak pouted. But thinking of Molly's safety, she could only obey.

At this time, after breakfast, Molly went back to see the wounded.

On the way, she found many doctors greeting her respectfully, "Morning, Dr.

May!"

"Hello, Dr. May. Have you had breakfast?"

"Dr. May..."

Molly looked at the enthusiastic crowd, feeling a little confused. She had no idea that her good deeds were already well known. From the doctors to the wounded, everyone was sincerely grateful to her.

At this time, standing on the roof of the old hospital, Jose and Selon saw everything.

Jose said lightly, "This time, Dr. May has stolen the limelight."

Selon responded, "Dr. May has done a lot on this trip. Without her, the medical supplies would not be available now."

Hearing this, Jose didn't say anything.

"Uncle Jose, you also led a team out to investigate the matter of supplies this time. Have you found any clues?" Selon didn't talk much about Molly because he didn't want to hear Jose speak ill of Molly, so he changed the subject.

Jose pondered and said, "I have found some. Those who robbed the supplies this time are from martial art families. They are making trouble everywhere, and their purpose is not clear yet. I only know that they have been looking for someone right now. I heard that that person is a descendant of one of the ancient medical families, the Ballard family, and he is familiar with ancient medical classics!"

"What? The Ballard family?" Selon looked very surprised and said, "Isn't the Ballard family no longer existent in the world?"

Jose said, "It's just hidden! The Ballard family is still passed down from generation to generation! Right now, many people have begun to look for the old man from the Ballard family! I guess they will come here to look for him soon."

Selon's face changed slightly.

The martial art families were now making trouble everywhere. If they came here, would they still live in peace?

Chapter 1126-Molly didn't know all this.

As soon as she entered the area where the seriously wounded were, she began to treat the wounded.

After she finished two simple operations in the late morning, Jean came and said, "Molly, Mr. Dan has been asking to see you since he woke up in the morning. Please go have a look!"

Molly was amused by the scene Jean described.

Yesterday, when they came back, they all had been very tired, and Dan had been escorted away to rest, so he and she had been unable to see each other.

She then nodded and went to visit Dan.

The old man was now lying sick in bed. When he saw Molly come over, he waved to her warmly. "Molly, you're finally willing to visit me. Why have you been so busy since you came back? Meeting you is no easy job!"

Molly paced over with a smile and said, "There're so many wounded people outside. I have to take care of all of them, so I haven't had time. What do you want me to come here for? You don't feel well?"

Dan nodded repeatedly. "Can you give me a shot of antidote you gave me earlier? I feel a little uncomfortable."

Hearing that, Molly turned serious and immediately began to examine him.

The wound on Dan's chest had healed, but the virus in him was really a little hard to suppress.

Molly immediately fetched the antidote and injected it into him.

Dan breathed a long sigh of relief and said, "Fortunately, I met you, or I would have died a long time ago."

Molly had wanted to ask him about the virus in him earlier. She said, "Sir, I've known you for so many days, then I won't beat around the bush... Could you tell me how what is in you ended up in your body?"

Dan never expected Molly to be so direct, so he was stunned.

After a few moments, he smiled embarrassedly, "Little girl, your question is so direct!"

Not showing her attitude, Molly looked at him with a smile. "Being direct is not bad, is it? Both you and I know the SRS is a bad thing. Numerous people died of it overseas in those days. Now you have the same virus in you. I have to find out what is going on."

When it came to this, her face turned serious. "Sir, I believe you're not a dangerous person. Yet, if someone else learns about it, you'll suffer a miserable fate, so I hope you can tell me!"

Dan was silent for a while before he sighed, "Of course, I know, but Miss... It's not that I don't want to tell you, but that knowing it is not good for you. I can just tell you that someone injected it into me, hoping to control me."

Molly knitted her brows.

She was bewildered. 'Mr. Dan is so old. Why do those people want to control him? And who are they?' Molly wanted to ask further, but Jean came in. She said anxiously, "Molly, some children have been sent here. They're from other areas where the seriously wounded stay. They are all seriously infected. Go have a look!"

Then Molly didn't have the mind to ask any more questions. She just said,"

Have a good rest. Let's continue the chat at some point."

Dan nodded and said, "Okay. Go!"

Molly then left.

Outside, Merak, who had been following her, narrowed her eyes.

After a while, she left quietly, going to visit Dubhe.

Seeing her come over, Dubhe asked, "Why aren't you with Madam?"

Dubhe answered, "I want to tell you something."

She recounted what she had just heard from outside the ward.

Then she said, "If I remember right, the martial art families were involved in buying and selling the SRS. Now they are running riot here and there. Does it have something to do with this?"

Chapter 1127-well!

"Yet, after hearing your recount, I don't think this might be the only reason why they're looking for this old man. It might also have something to do with the virus in him!"

While they were talking, one of their subordinates appeared from nowhere and reported in a low voice, "Boss, while our men were collecting information in the vicinity, they found some people of the martial art families. They seemed to be looking for someone, and they were already approaching the slum in droves."

Dubhe's eyes darkened. "It seems this place will lose peace in the days to come."

He turned his head and instructed Merak, "Try to be with Madam all the time in the following days."

Merak said, "Yes, sir, but what... what about the old man?"

"I'm not sure if he is Jordan Ballard, but I'll ask someone to watch him."

Dubhe made the decision calmly. Then he said to the subordinate beside him, "Keep collecting information. If you find something, come back to report right away."

"Yes, sir."

This subordinate then left with his order.

As for Molly, she had been busy for a whole afternoon because the wounded were so many. Only when it was dinner time did she have a brief rest.

Merak handed her dinner. "Madam, eat something, okay? You hadn't had enough at noon."

"Okay."

Molly took the dinner box with a smile.

She was starving. As soon as she took it, she began gobbling.

But she also asked Merak, "Have you had dinner?"

Merak laughed, her two ponytails wagging, "I've already had!"

"That's good."

Molly nodded and looked her up and down.

This girl looked really cute.

She was small and nice with delicate features, and she also liked candy.

She had not had a chance to ask her earlier. Now she finally had some free time, so she asked, "How old are you, Merak? You look like a girl of 13 or 14.

You should attend school at this age, shouldn't you? Why did you come to such a chaotic place with Dubhe?"

Although she had heard Folke say that thanks to Dubhe and his companions, they could have gone through the hard time, Molly could never imagine Merak was one of the helpers.

After all, this face was so tender and so young.

No matter how she was viewed, the girl was pure and innocent.

Hearing that, Merak blinked her eyes and said with a smile, "I'm 18 this year, already an adult. I've graduated from college."

"Oh?"

Molly was so surprised.

‘Graduated from college at 18?’

‘She seems gifted!’ “I really can’t see that. Your face doesn’t match your age!” Molly teased her.

“This is the advantage of my face. It can easily fool others,” Merak grinned.

When she was sometimes on a mission, those enemies would simply let their guard down when seeing this face!

Molly chuckled, “Even though you’re already an adult, you’re still a little girl in my eyes. Sean was cruel! How could he let you come here? Wasn’t he afraid you would be in danger?”

Merak immediately began defending Sean, “It’s my honor to serve Ma... the president. If not for him, I would have died a long time ago, so this is nothing.

Besides, although I look weak, I can fight pretty well. I’m actually an expert in martial arts. I can fight ten people alone. No problem at all!”

Chapter 1128-Speaking of this, Merak was proud.

Molly was more surprised. ‘I really can’t see that!’

‘Is this the so-called ‘small figure with great energy’?’

‘The people around Sean are all so strange!’ She was curious, so she wanted to learn more. She asked Merak, “How did you meet Sean? You said you might have died without his help. What does that mean?”

Merak answered honestly, "I'm an orphan. My parents abandoned me when I was young. Then I was sent to the orphanage. When I was seven or eight, something happened at the orphanage. Many of my peers there died, but the president saved me! Then he brought me back, asked Dubhe to take care of me, and gave me a job... Anyway, if not for him, I wouldn't be here today. In my heart, the president is the greatest man."

Molly never expected to hear so many twists and turns. After hearing them, she felt complicated.

She apologized to Merak, "Sorry, I didn't expect to hear about such an experience from you. I shouldn't have asked."

"Nothing. I don't care about it anymore!" Merak laughed with a carefree heart.

Molly found she really didn't seem to care about it, but she herself still couldn't calm down.

She rubbed Merak's head softly and said, "Misfortunes have all gone. If you're willing, you can regard Sean or me as your family! When you leave here, you can go home with me! There're three kids in my family. I think they'll like you very much."

Molly's behavior stunned Merak.

No one had ever talked to her in such a soft tone or with such a soft attitude since her childhood.

Nor would anyone say something like "regard me as your family" to her.

Even Dubhe, who had brought her up, had never mentioned that.

But now, Molly, who she had known for just a few days, said that to her.

Merak seemed to be touched by something.

She felt her heart a little warm.

She blinked, barely suppressing her emotions. Then she nodded seriously and said, "Madam, thank you for regarding me as your family!"

"Why do you have to thank me for this?"

Thinking it was amusing, Molly pinched her cheek and said, "You're so cute. I think it's good for me to have a sister, so don't call me madam from now on! Call me... Molly. What do you think?"

Merak blushed, a little embarrassed, but she was overjoyed.

She pursed her lips as if to think about it. Then she said bravely, "Molly... Molly, you've just said there're three kids in your family. Are they the children of you and the president?"

"Yes, they're triplets, two boys and one girl. They're all bright but mischievous."

When it came to her three kids, she couldn't help but grin.

Merak's eyes lit up. "Then I'll have to visit them. You and the president are both so beautiful, so your kids must be very cute!"

Molly nodded.

While they were happily chatting, Sean, who was on the way here, couldn't help but sneeze.

So nervous, Tony asked caringly, "What's wrong, sir? Did you catch a cold?"

There's a blanket on the backseats. Cover you with it! Although winter is almost over, it is sometimes cold and sometimes warm. And the environment is so terrible, so it's easy to get sick. We have to be cautious."

With a calm face, Sean glanced at the nagging Tony and said, "I'm fine. I'm in perfect condition. I guess Molly misses me."

Chapter 1129-Tony was speechless.

His boss had not shown off his love for a long time, but he suddenly did it!

Tony simply shut his mouth!

But Sean asked, "How far are we from the slum now?"

"If we take the safe route our men told us, we can arrive there tomorrow night at the earliest if we move at full speed," Tony said honestly.

Sean seemed dissatisfied with this speed. "Too slow. Quicker."

"Sir, if we move too fast, I don't think you can endure it. Phecda has gone to collect the information about Madam. I don't think anything will happen," Tony persuaded patiently.

Sean frowned, wanting to say something when an off-road vehicle appeared ahead of them.

Tony narrowed his eyes to see it and found it was their own car.

"Phecda is back."

Tony immediately asked the chauffeur to stop the car.

And the subordinates' cars after Sean's also stopped.

Phecda soon came over and reported to Sean on the backseats, “Master, I’ve gotten the news about Madam’s team’s information! They’ve taken back the things from the warehouse successfully and met Dubhe and Merak. Now they’ve been escorted back to the slum untouched. They’re very safe.”

After hearing the report, Sean, who had been worried, was finally relieved.

‘Thank God...

‘Thank God! She is fine!

‘If anything really happens to her, those troublemaking martial art families will have to face a dark future!’ Phecda continued, “There’s another thing. I’ve gotten the information that the martial art families are approaching the slum. It is said that the old man of the Ballard family has shown up there. Now a few areas are already in chaos... It’s estimated that the area where Master’s fiancée is will soon have trouble, too.”

Sean’s eyes instantly darkened. “Try your best to inform the other members of the Stars Group, asking them to rush to the slum at full speed! I think we’ll learn about the intention of those hidden families soon.”

“Okay, I’ll be going right away.”

Phecda then drove away.

Sean had just been relieved, but now he was worried again!

If possible, he hoped he could deal with the affairs here as soon and take Molly home.

In Terahis Grove.

The three kids and Brycen May were sitting at the stone table in the yard, supporting their chins with both arms.

The four of them looked at each other and heaved a long sigh.

Claudia said cutely, "I miss Daddy and Mommy so much. When will they be back?"

"Not a month yet! Well have to keep waiting some time!"

Ben answered his sister's question in a childish tone.

Alex said, "Not seeing each other for just a month, but the month seems as long as a century, right?"

"No, every second feels like as long as a century, okay?"

Brycen refuted Alex. In fact, he worried about his sister no less than the three kids did.

Caitlyn came over with fruit. Seeing this, she couldn't help but say, "You guys have almost turned into statues because of the long wait for Molly to return! Mr.

Anderson has called us, saying he's going to visit Molly, hasn't he? And he has said Molly is safe and sound! So you guys don't have to worry about her!"

"We know! But we can still miss her! I know she won't eat or sleep well in that terrible place. I think she must have become very thin now! Thinking of that, I feel my heart throbbing!"

Brycen covered his chest in a much exaggerated way.

Caitlyn raised her brows and said, "Really? Then I think something is wrong with your heart. Let's go. Ill give you a shot, and your pain will be gone."

Brycen sprang up in fright. "We can talk! Don't use needles every time! A hero solves problems through negotiation, not action. Don't you know?"

Chapter 1130-you talking about?" Caitlyn asked sulkily.

Brycen answered hurriedly, "Nothing. I said you're a goddess, a queen, and a peerless beauty."

Mr. Anderson Sr., who was playing chess with Grandpa Dave beside them, shook his head and chuckled, "I think you two are a good match. You might as well enter a relationship!"

Grandpa Dave laughed, "This is a good suggestion. This young man has been wild since he was young. No one can restrain him except for Caitlyn and his sister."

Hearing these words, Caitlyn froze for a brief moment and glanced at Brycen subconsciously.

But Brycen waved his hand to refuse it repeatedly. "No, don't mismatch people, gentlemen! She and I have no chance."

"Why not?"

Mr. Anderson Sr. put a black chessman on the chessboard and said, "At a glance, I know Caitlyn is excellent, and her medical skills are no weaker than Molly's. More importantly, she is also beautiful. She's more than a perfect match for you. Why don't you like her?"

"It's not that. Our characters are completely different. She thinks about mistreating me every day. How could she like me?" Brycen refuted firmly.

Caitlyn heard that and snorted, "I didn't expect that you know who you really are. Right, I won't like you."

After that, she turned and left with a cold face.

That made Brycen so confused. He scratched his head and asked those around him, "What's wrong with her? I don't think I said anything wrong, did I?"

Silent for a while, Mr. Anderson Sr. said, "I think you'd better remain single."

Grandpa Dave shook his head and remarked angrily, "A nerd. N Even the three kids couldn't bear to see it.

Alex put his hand on his forehead and sighed, "Uncle Brycen, you're hopeless!"

Ben looked at Brycen with a poker face, "Will Uncle Brycen still be single when we're all in relationships in the future?"

"So very poor Uncle Brycen! He'll die single."

Claudia patted Brycen sympathetically, "Don't worry. When you're old, all of us will look after you."

Brycen was baffled.

'What's going on?' In Domster.

Since she had returned from the warehouse, Molly had been working to treat the wounded in the area where the seriously wound were for two consecutive days.

Since she was widely famous, more people were coming over to ask her for help.

She almost worked every second of each day!

Every night she returned to her place, she, exhausted, would fall asleep as soon as she hit the sack.

On the morning of the third day, when she had just finished an operation and come out, she saw Selon come over and say, "The other areas have received the goods and materials you guys have sent and also sent people here to discuss the matter of looking for other warehouses. Now they've joined up with Captain Green and his team, but they all want to meet you and extend their gratitude."

Molly was not so surprised to hear that, but she thought she couldn't take that credit, "They don't have to thank me, do they? It was Captain Green who had been to look for supplies, and they were also the people who had worked for it."

"That's right, but you played an important role in that. So don't decline, okay?"

Speaking of this, Selon smiled, "You're now well-known in all regions."