

Triplets On SM 1251

Chapter 1251-“You didn’t see how gloomy the faces of Williams and Anthony were at that time!”

Tony’s expression became excited when he got to the point.

Sean looked up from the file and glanced at him with a calm face, “Don’t count your chickens. The Shepard family definitely won’t give up so easily! Besides, the Martial Art Union certainly does not want to abandon the Shepard family.

They are the descendants of the ancient medical clan, so they are of great use to the Martial Art Union.”

“Do you mean that the Martial Art Union will come to snatch them?”

Tony’s look of excitement turned to one of solemnity.

“Yes. They absolutely will.”

Sean directly asserted, “Therefore, this time in addition to a few men sent, I also have asked Megrez, Alioth, and Alkaid to follow them secretly. The main aim is to keep an eye on Anthony, but also to avoid a rescue from the Martial Art Union.”

“You are really thoughtful.”

Tony was immediately impressed after hearing this, ‘Then what about Williams?

Shall we need to send people to keep an eye on him? Although Anthony is already under our control, it is still difficult to ensure that Williams won’t secretly abscond. In addition, shall we need to be on our guard against Selon who is abroad?”

“Williams is under the control of Dubhe and Phecda. As for Selon...”

Sean's signature paused for a moment and said, "Don't worry about him now.

He saved Molly before, so I will keep my word not to deal with him. Moreover, he originally should be unaware of the collusion between the Shepard family and the Martial Art Union. He has nothing to do with this matter, and then we will see."

Tony saw that he had arranged everything well, so he didn't say anything else and went out to deal with business.

On the other side, Molly spent the whole day at home with grandpa and Mr.

Ballard.

In her spare time, she also talked with Caitlyn about her two brothers' situation.

Sawyer's condition was obviously much better, and insomnia had rarely appeared.

"Thanks to your sleeping incense, it's very useful to him. Of course, the daily regimen of medicine is also essential."

Caitlyn added after she reported.

Molly nodded, "Nevertheless, it is also very important to maintain a good mood.

When he was alone abroad at that time, he was depressed and suffered from illness all by himself. That made it more difficult to recover. But at home, things are different.

In the company of grandpa, Brycen, and three little ones, he has become much more cheerful."

"It's all thanks to you." Caitlyn laughed.

Molly did not deny it, "Yes, I'm the biggest contributor." Seeing her rare self-congratulation, Caitlyn couldn't help joking, "I just haven't seen you for a month. Why have you become so complacent?"

Molly raised her chin, "It's the truth! Since you have praised me so much, wouldn't it be a waste of your kindness if I didn't accept it?"

After a few jokes, Molly turned to ask about Brycen, "What about Brycen?"

Hearing this, the smile faded from Caitlyn's face. She even became a bit annoyed, 'That guy looks like a normal person, but actually his legs still have some hidden problems! A week ago, he secretly drove out without everyone's knowledge. While on the way, his legs suddenly throbbed and he almost had an accident!"

"What?"

Molly's face immediately changed after she heard this, "He was too wayward!"

"Maybe he hasn't driven for too long and couldn't help himself..."

Caitlyn hesitated, but still put in a good word for Brycen.

Chapter 1253-Molly snorted coldly. "How can I not get angry? I've devoted so much effort to healing your legs. I've used so many precious medicinal materials for your legs.

But what have you done, Brycen? If you dare to drive again before recovery, move out of the villa! I hate uncooperative patients like you, who don't cherish your health and cause the whole family to worry about you. And I won't cure you if you drive again!"

While Molly uttered the last few words, her tone grew serious and cold.

Brycen got nervous.

He knew that Molly really got cross with him, because she worried about and cared about him a lot.

Suddenly, he regretted not having resisted the urge to drive his car.

So, he apologized sincerely. "No. I won't drive again. Really! If you don't believe me, I'll ask Russell to take the car away. I can kneel on the washboard until you become less angry."

"Brycen, don't be all talk," Sean suddenly spoke, who had been watching Molly scolding Brycen.

Hearing Sean's words, others looked at him. Sean walked in, followed by Tony, who carried several washboards in arms.

Sean motioned Tony to put them in front of Brycen and then added, "Put your words into action. I specially brought these washboards from the storage room for you. Don't need to thank me."

Brycen became stunned.

'Daaamn!

'This dude fights dirty!' "Don't be so mean," Brycen uttered.

Molly has been angry with me. Why does Sean make things worse? Ahhhhhhh' Sean pretended not to understand Brycen's words and praised him. "I didn't realize that you were so far-sighted in the past. You even predicted that you would kneel on a washboard someday and you prepared many washboards.

Great!"

Brycen didn't know what to reply.

'Huh! I'm far-sighted?

'I prepared the washboards for you, okay?

'If I had known I would have to kneel on the washboard someday, I would never have prepared them.'

At this moment, Brycen felt like shooting himself in the foot.

Indignant, he couldn't wait to fight with Sean.

'Does Sean still respect me as Molly's brother?

'From now on, Sean and I are sworn enemies.' Others burst out laughing while seeing it.

Mr. Ballard laughed so wildly that the tea in his cup was dropped. "I've said that no one could easily take advantage of Sean!"

"Certainly, my grandson is very smart." Mr. Anderson Sr. looked proud.

Grandpa Dave shot a cool glance at him and queried suddenly, "Do you think Sean will agree if Molly asks him to kneel on a washboard?"

When Mr. Anderson Sr. heard the question, the smile froze on his lips.

But Mr. Ballard laughed more joyfully. "So, my apprentice is the most influential person."

Molly, originally furious, felt amused after what Sean had done.

But she didn't want to let Brycen go easily, so she said, "You don't need to remove your beloved car from the villa. You can look at or touch it when you want. However, if you dare to get in the driver's seat again. I'll really smash it!"

"Is that so? Okay, okay, I won't drive the car again. Thank you, Molly. You're so considerate."

Brycen was so grateful that he was about to hug Molly.

But Sean made a quicker reaction. He pulled Molly into his arms and avoided Brycen.

Brycen, not removing the car doesn't mean that you don't have to kneel on the washboard. We're waiting for you to put your words into action. And... if you dare to hug Molly again, I don't mind asking my men to bring a few more washboards for you."

Chapter 1252-But Molly was deaf to Caitlyn's words.

Depending on Brycen's situation, he wouldn't be able to drive for at least six months.

In Molly's eyes, he was acting against the doctor's advice.

She narrowed her eyes and looked fiercely towards the garage.

At this time, Brycen was carefully cleaning his beloved car.

Molly gritted her teeth and said, "This Brycen needs to be taught a lesson."

Caitlyn said by the side, "When he came back at that time, your grandfather had kicked his ass. After that, I did a physical examination for him and found no problems with his health. But I think I should tell you about this, so you can make sure it's okay. Otherwise, if he does it again, he'll be dead."

"Will he dare to do it again?"

Molly stood up suddenly and was about to rush to Brycen and teach him a lesson.

Halfway to him, she stopped, turned and asked Caitlyn. "He bought a lot of washboards the other day, didn't he? Do you know where they are?"

Caitlyn nodded, "I know. They are in the storage room."

Molly turned and walked to the storage room without a word.

Nearby, seeing this scene, Grandpa Dave, Mr. Ballard, and Mr. Anderson Sr.

picked up their tea cups leisurely.

"Did Brycen actually buy some washboards?"

Mr. Ballard remembered the phone call Molly made to her home while they were in Domster.

'Aren't those washboards for Sean?' Grandpa Dave answered, "Yes, he did. He bought more than one. He carted dozens of them back, and each one was different."

"Hey, at that time, I said Brycen wasn't nice to treat my dear grandson like that. I never thought he would use them first."

Speaking of this, Mr. Anderson Sr. put down his coffee cup excitedly and pulled out his cell phone, "I have to ask Sean back to see this good show."

Mr. May Sr. felt a little speechless.

'Is it not so good to do in front of me?' But then he thought that his grandson deserved it, so he stopped thinking about it.

'That guy needs to be taught a lesson, then he won't dare to do it again.' Then, minutes later, Brycen, who was carefully washing his car, got a brand-new washboard as a 'gift'.

"Kneel on it. Since you don't want your legs, kneel on this washboard all the time. If you think it's not enough for you, there are more in the storage room, and I'll bring them to you one by one."

Molly was very imposing. Staring at her "rebellious" brother, she had a fierce expression on her face.

Brycen was confused and had no idea what was going on.

"Molly, did you give this washboard to the wrong person? Isn't it for Sean?"

Coming back to pick Molly up to see the engagement venue, Sean had just walked in the door when he heard this.

He stopped and raised his eyebrows.

Molly sneered, "He needn't use it now, but it fits you very well."

"No..."

Brycen felt speechless, "What did I do wrong? Let me know about it."

Molly was sullen, "You drove out secretly. Do you think you are good at it? Do you feel like you don't want to live or something? If you think so, you can tell me.

I can help you to achieve it."

Brycen finally figured out what was going on.

His expression immediately became very guilty.

“That... Do you know all about it? Sorry. I am wrong. I know I am wrong. I promise that I won’t drive out secretly again. I just hadn’t driven in a long time. I wanted to drive so badly I couldn’t control myself for a moment.”

He smiled ingratiatingly and admitted his mistake sincerely, Molly, please don’t be angry. I promise that I won’t do it again.”

Chapter 1254-Brycen failed to hug Molly. He exploded, “Damn it! What’s wrong with me hugging my sister? You’re so jealous! You don’t even allow me to hug her.”

“If you want to hug someone, find yourself a wife. Don’t hug my wife.”

Sean coolly glanced at Brycen, holding the person in his arms even tighter.

Brycen was burning with anger.

That was too much!

But he didn’t dare to snatch Molly from Sean.

It was not that he was afraid he couldn’t do it. If Molly did not want him to hug her, Brycen would be embarrassed.

Brycen looked pitifully at Molly, “Molly, how could he do that?”

Molly snuggled into Sean's arms and said calmly, "I think Sean is right. You should find a wife."

As she spoke, she subconsciously glanced at Caitlyn over there.

Caitlyn, who was stunned and seemingly shy, looked away.

Brycen did not see the small movements of the two. He said with an injured look, "Why did you also say that? So what if I keep single? I'll spend my life with my beloved racing cars. No one can stop me."

Molly narrowed her beautiful eyes. "Is that so?"

"Of course! Women are not as fun as racing."

Brycen said with conviction.

When Molly heard this, she was speechless for a moment.

She felt her brother was so dull.

All he thought about was racing.

Molly was so pissed off by this wooden head that she let out a laugh and said, 'Okay, in that case, then you will sleep in the garage tonight with your favorite cars. I think you don't need the room upstairs. We'd better vacate it and transform it into a tearoom for the three elders.'

At this point, she turned her head and instructed the butler. "Please take out all the things inside today and throw them into the garage."

The butler replied, "Okay."

Brycen was shocked.

What did he say wrong again?

Why was his sister so unpredictable?

It was true that women were complex.

Molly didn't bother to pay attention to her foolish brother anymore, so she went out the door with Sean.

As soon as they got into the car, Sean pinched her cheeks which were puffed out. "Are you still angry?"

Molly said, "What's Brycen thinking? Can he not feel the change in Caitlyn's attitude toward him?"

"Apparently not. After all, not everyone is as wise as I am."

Sean took her hand and said seriously.

Hearing this, Molly looked at him and said with amusement, "Are you boasting?"

"Just stating the facts."

Sean curved his lips and kissed the back of her hand. "I was a little slow to react to your affection for me at first, but I quickly realized it and took action to get together with you! But Brycen is different. He has no feelings for Caitlyn now. He just thinks she is horrible.

"It is still too early for them to be together!"

Molly couldn't argue with that.

It was true.

Every time Caitlyn wanted to treat him, Brycen was crying out for help.

Caitlyn might still be a “witch” to him.

Thinking of this, Molly was vexed. “Then what should we do? Are we going to just watch them go on like this?”

Brycen was not important. Molly just didn’t want to see Caitlyn suffer.

However, Sean knocked her on the forehead. “You already have a lot of things to worry about every day. Why do you even want to take care of such things?

Our own engagement party is coming. Why don’t you prepare for it?”

Chapter 1255-Molly patted her own forehead and smiled as she leaned on Sean’s shoulder. “I believe you! But my family is different. I’m worried about them.”

“You shouldn’t be! You’re the youngest in your family. You need to be taken care of.” Sean sighed.

‘Molly is always too thoughtful. She always wants to handle everything by herself.’ Sean knew Molly needed to be strong because she had no one to rely on when she was younger.

But things were different now...

“You have me now. You don’t have to deal with everything alone. You can depend on me. Even if the world is going to end, I will be by your side. Do you understand?”

Molly was stunned. She was surprised at Sean's sudden confession of affection.

After a few moments, Molly came back to her senses. She was touched inside.

"You're... You're out of your mind. Why are you saying this to me all of a sudden? Do you think I can handle it?" "That's what I'm trying to do."

Sean raised his hand, caressed her cheek, and said in a soft tone, "I want you to depend on me for the rest of your life. I want you to never have to worry about anything ever again."

Molly looked into his eyes. She drowned in his tenderness.

Sean's eyes were full of deep love. His eyes were so deep, so tender, and Molly was overwhelmed.

Molly couldn't help but rub her cheek against his palm.

Then she said sweetly, "I know. I will take care of myself from now on."

Seeing Molly snuggle up to him like a kitten, Sean replied, "Ok! Don't worry about your brother and Caitlyn again. They're both adults and they'll handle their own business. We can't get involved in other people's relationships."

Molly nodded her head.

Just then, the car arrived at the hotel.

Tony, who had been suffering from the couple's romance, reminded, "Sir, here we are!"

Sean nodded and led Molly out of the car.

Their engagement ceremony was going to be held at a luxury hotel of the Anderson Cooperation.

This hotel was a famous expensive place in Northfolk.

A room there cost $100,000 a night. The decor and service were first class!

When they entered the hotel, the hotel manager personally came out to meet them and then led them to the ballroom.

As the manager walked forward, he introduced, "The ballroom is decorated according to your requirements, Mr. Anderson. On the day of your engagement party, the hotel will be closed to the public. We want to give you a perfect engagement ceremony.

"Our chefs are top-notch. And we have also hired several Michelin 3-star chefs, so we can offer a wide variety of cuisines for our guests.

"All the staff is ready. When the day comes, we will make sure everything is perfect..."

Sean listened to the manager's report. He looked satisfied.

It was Molly and his engagement ceremony. He took it very seriously.

But Molly was stunned.

"It's just an engagement party. Do we have to stop the business here? That's a huge loss!"

The hotel could make a profit of tens of millions of dollars a day.

'Is this too much?' Molly wondered to herself.

Chapter 1256-Sean's usual cold facade immediately softened.

He pulled Molly closer to him and whispered, "My future wife, are you trying to save money for me?"

Molly smiled slightly, "Not really. I just think this hotel makes a lot of money in a day. If it is close to the public on that day, you will lose big money."

"I think it's worth it. As long as I can give you a perfect engagement ceremony, I think it's a gain! Besides, we're not short of the profits of this hotel, and I can earn them back in a minute," He said casually as if he was just talking about how lovely the weather was.

Molly was speechless and sighed in her heart, 'Rich people are so confident in making money...' As they spoke, they walked to the door of the venue.

The manager was sensible enough not to go in and only opened the door for them.

From this point of view, Molly couldn't see the full panorama of the venue clearly, but her heart beat faster even if she only saw part of it.

She was a little nervous.

Before going abroad, she was calm when she announced to her family that she would get married to Sean.

She didn't feel much when she heard that they would have an engagement ceremony before having a wedding ceremony.

At this moment, standing in the venue, she was actually a little hesitant.

"What's the matter?" Sean noticed her feelings and asked softly.

Molly shook her head, looked at him, and said, “Nothing. I know I can see a particularly beautiful picture after pushing open this door, so I am a little reluctant to open the door.”

Sean smiled and said, “Don’t be reluctant. This is all for you. If you don’t go in, I will be upset and think that you don’t want to be engaged to me.”

“No...” Molly denied his guess immediately.

Before she finished speaking, she saw Sean solemnly stretch out his hand to her and heard him say in a deep and charming tone, “Since you don’t think so, then why don’t you come in with me? The picture inside is only temporary. I guarantee that there will be more beautiful pictures in the future, and they are permanent. As long as I am by your side, I will always make you feel happy.”

Hearing his words, Molly felt warm and sweet, thinking, ‘He notices my timidity. I didn’t want to break the beautiful picture, but he said there would be more beautiful pictures in the future...’ Molly took a deep breath and smiled at him, “Hmm, I believe you.”

Sean smiled, took her hand, and then stepped into the venue.

What came into her view was a dream-like scene!

The whole venue was decorated with the theme of the starry sky and sea.

The ceiling was dotted with countless stars and light blue flowers. At a glance, it looked like the stars in the sky were reflected on the sea.

The stars and the sea reflected each other, making the venue more romantic.

On the stage, there were whales and dolphins roaming freely and a cruise ship passing by coral and seaweed, which was full of artistic conception.

Seeing this scene, Molly was shocked!

She had thought that the engagement ceremony prepared by Sean would be unbelievably magnificent, but she hadn't thought it would be like this!

The venue was not only gorgeous but also romantic.

All the decorations used here were at the top level.

Those swimming fishes in mid-air were almost made of crystal.

The cruise ship was studded with diamonds.

Not to mention those crystal cups, silk tablecloths, exquisite candlesticks, cutlery, and other items showed luxury and romance!

Chapter 1257-After seeing the scene, Molly was stunned.

It took her a long time to come back to her senses. She turned to Sean and muttered, "This is... This isn't what I had expected!"

Sean tensed up and hurriedly asked, "Don't you like it? I asked the kids for advice and then I decided on the plan." A hint of nervousness was in his tone.

Molly wasn't surprised by Sean's words. She asked, "What did the kids tell you?"

"They said that after you had them, you used to take them to watch the stars.

And that when you had free time, you would take them to the oceanarium to see the fish.

"Alex told me you used to tell them you wanted to be a fish, so you could be free and swim in the ocean.

“Ben told me you liked the stars because they were so beautiful, so they suggested I design the venue this way.”

Molly now understood and she laughed.

She remembered years ago, after she was sent abroad, she had no friends or family, and she often felt alone and had no one she could rely on. At that time, she was so vulnerable and nervous.

She often thought that if she were a fish, she could get away from people and ignore the judgment of others.

If she could become a star in the sky, she would not be alone, because stars always have many companions.

Now that she thought about it, she found how silly she used to be. But those fantasies got her through the hardest days.

Later, she had three lovely babies. She often took them to watch the stars and the oceanarium.

But then, she got busier with her work. To earn more money, she no longer had time to take the kids to watch the stars.

Molly was so surprised that Sean made her wish come true at their engagement ceremony.

Since Molly was silent, Sean thought she didn't like the arrangement. His thick eyebrows furrowed.

“What's wrong? Why are you laughing?”

Molly came out of her trance, and then she shook her head. “Nothing. I just want to tell you that I love it!”

“Really?” Sean couldn’t believe it.

“Yes.” Molly nodded solemnly and continued, “The kids know me well. They know what I like... But I guess you’re surprised, aren’t you?”

Molly had been a tough girl ever since they met each other, and she didn’t look like a girl who had fantasies.

How could Sean have imagined that underneath all her tough cover, a girlish heart was hidden?

“Indeed, I’m surprised.” Sean nodded.

As Sean was designing the venue, he hesitated.

However, the kids insisted Molly would love it, so Sean decided to follow the kids’ advice.

Molly laughed, “I’m a good actress.”

Suddenly, her eyes clouded over. She became serious. She looked into Sean’s eyes and said, “My life used to be very hard. I didn’t dare to dream too much. I needed to work hard to take care of the kids. I didn’t dare to expect anything romantic until I met you...”

Molly’s eyes became soft, and she continued, “Sean, before I met you, all I had was my grandfather. Grandpa is getting old, and I can’t let him take care of me all the time. It wasn’t until I met you that I knew I could have dreams. Because of you, I understand that someone will love me. Thank you for such a perfect engagement ceremony. I love you!”

After that, she stood on her tiptoes and kissed Sean on the lips.

Chapter 1258-When he felt her sweet and warm breath, his heart softened.

For one heart-stopping moment, he started to panic and was distressed greatly about her experiences.

He had never known her to have so many misgivings and worries.

Outwardly she was an invulnerable and capable mother, but in reality, she was a woman who craved love and care as much as a little girl.

Sean's eyes glittered with tenderness. He finally put an arm around her waist and drew her close to him.

He held her a little closer. Consequently, they were pressed up against each other's bodies.

And he clasped her head with another hand.

He kissed him with unusual fervor.

Soon Sean seized the initiative and became the dominant power of the kiss.

In this tender moment, they were all over other and nuzzled. Also, romance was in the air.

After an unspecified amount of time, Sean did not stop until she could hardly breathe.

Molly went crimson, and her eyes were glassy. Seeing her full sensual lips, Sean could resist kissing her again.

But he kept his arm around her waist and asked, "Do you really like it?"

"I do, truly."

Then a radiant smile turned up the corner of her lips.

After that, she danced out of his reach, "I didn't see that clearly. I want to take a closer look at the details. I wonder what other surprises you have in store for me. Let's go." "Okay."

Sean took her hand and approached the stage.

Only as she got closer did she see three lively and lovely dolls around the liner.

They wore gorgeous suits and gowns with crystal baskets hanging from their arms.

Molly immediately recognized that they were her children," Any implications?"

Sean replied, "They said they would be there for you on your journey to find happiness."

Hearing that, Molly felt warm.

"Jesus, these little things are really good at flattering."

She actually was pleased to see that.

It was a surprise prepared for her by her sweethearts, after all.

Then Sean led her to other details.

More details were manifested in decorations, as Molly said.

Some of the ingenuity of Sean and his children were contained in these exquisite and intimate details.

Molly was satisfied after looking around the hall, "All right, that's it. Everything's great."

Sean was amused, "Ha, you are so easy to be satisfied with!" "Avarice is the bane to happiness. I really appreciate what you did for me.

Above all, you and our sweethearts are the ones who prepared these surprises for me. I would only be glad."

In fact, she would be happy to spend the rest of her life with Sean, even without this ceremony.

Instead of putting this feeling into words, she kept it in her mind.

She believed Sean knew what she was thinking.

And he did know.

Her consideration sent his love for her welled stronger than ever.

Chapter 1259-"I have prepared other surprises, but you won't be able to see them until the day of our engagement ceremony. Moreover, I am not satisfied with not being able to personally participate in the arrangement this time. So when we get married, I will give you something even better. At that time, you will know that these are nothing."

Hearing this, Molly was slightly surprised. Is something even better?

The engagement ceremony alone, in her opinion, was already luxurious enough. But in Sean's eyes, it was just "nothing"?

Well, is this how mega-rich people live?

She said, "Mr. Anderson, I didn't see that you still have the potential to spend money like water."

Sean was stunned for a moment when he heard this, and then he laughed, "A good man should spend money to make his wife happy."

Hearing his words, Molly was overwhelmed with joy and said jokingly, "If you're like this, I'll be under a lot of pressure to make money. After all, not everyone is like you, you know, rolling in cash. Ordinary people like me have to work hard to make money. If I can't give you expensive gifts and you look down on me in the future, what should I do?"

Speaking of this, she frowned seriously, as if she was distressed. Seeing her like this, Sean raised his eyebrows slightly.

Naturally, he saw that she was acting.

However, he didn't mind cooperating with her and said, "Don't worry. You will be in charge of all my bank cards from now on, and you can spend money however you want."

Hearing his words, Molly smiled, "Is that so good?"

Sean leaned over, and whispered in her ear, "A good man also should make money for his wife."

Then he nibbled on her earlobe. Molly felt itchy and quickly dodged him with a smile. Sean pursued her relentlessly...

After a short while, the two hugged and kissed again.

Just when they were making out, the door of the banquet hall was suddenly pushed open from the outside.

The three children rushed in.

“Ouch!” Ben couldn’t help but let out a soft cry when he fell on his bottom. Alex and Claudia threw themselves on top of him, and their movements were hilarious and cute. Molly and Sean were startled, and they couldn’t help turning their heads to look and happened to see this scene.

“What are you doing?” Molly laughed. She hurriedly broke free from Sean’s arms and went to help them up.

The three children were still carrying their school bags with their kids water bottles hanging around their necks. They looked so soft and cute.

“Hee-hee, we came to see you, Mommy. Do you like the surprise we’ve prepared?! When we arrived here, we saw Daddy and Mommy were... kissing.

So we didn’t come in to disturb you in the first place.” As soon as Ben stood firm, he couldn’t wait to answer with a bright smile on his small face.

Molly was amused, and tapped on his forehead, “You...”

“Who brought you here?” Sean also came over at this time and asked with a smile.

“It’s the driver. We knew that Daddy and Mommy would come, so we asked him to bring us here after school.” Alex replied obediently.

“We didn’t peek on purpose just now. The door was not closed tightly...Uncle Tony covered our eyes. But Ben didn’t stand still and hit the door, so he fell.”

Claudia explained in a sweet voice with a blush on the side.

Sean smiled, squatted down, and picked up the little girl, “It doesn’t matter if you saw it. Mommy and I love each other, so we kissed.”

Claudia blinked and laughed, “Yeah, we often kissed Mommy also because we love each other.”

With that, she kissed Sean affectionately on the cheek,” Now Daddy, since we love each other, we should kiss too.”

Sean’s heart was about to melt when he heard her words. He looked gentle and nodded in response, “Yeah, that’s right.

Chapter 1260-Seeing this, Ben stretched out his arms and said, “I want to kiss Daddy too.”

Sean smiled, squatted down again, and let the little boy kiss him too.

Alex didn’t move and just stood there shyly.

Molly hugged Alex and said, ‘They’re both kissing Daddy and it’s not fair. Alex, can you kiss me?’”

Alex nodded, and seriously kissed Molly on the cheek.

Then he asked, “Do you like it here, Mommy?” After hearing this, the other two children looked over expectantly with bright eyes.

Molly noticed their expressions. She smiled softly and nodded heavily, “I like it. I like it very much. Thank you for your careful preparations. I just looked around carefully. I love it.”

When the three children heard it, they were all overjoyed.

They couldn’t wait to introduce to Molly those arrangements. Molly listened patiently.

It took more than an hour. Only when the three children found their mouths dry were they taken away.

In the evening, the family had dinner in the dining room of the hotel. The dishes were all designed for the day of the engagement banquet. The ingredients were all airlifted back from abroad daily, fresh, luxurious, and delicious!

After Molly tasted it, she thought it was very good. Sean had always been picky, but he was very satisfied after tasting it.

The three children were even too stuffed to walk. Their little bellies were full and round.

Later, they returned home talking and laughing.

But as soon as they entered the door, they saw Nathan.

Seeing him, Molly looked surprised and asked, "What's the matter?"

Hadn't he just come in the morning? Why was he here again now?

Nathan was a little embarrassed, and he seemed at a loss for an excuse.

Sawyer helped on the side, "Recently, I was thinking about expanding the studio, so I called Nathan to discuss the solutions. He has a friend who does interior design, and he came here to give me the drawings."

"Oh, I see." Molly didn't suspect anything.

Sawyer nodded and asked her, "Have you visited the engagement venue? Do you like it?"

Molly smiled and said, "I like it."

There was undisguised happiness on her face.

Nathan saw it and immediately said sincerely, "I have never had a chance to say it. Congratulations to you and Sean."

Molly glanced at him and said happily, "Thank you."

There had always been a gap between her and Nathan, but his blessing was what Molly liked to hear.

After thanking him, she was a little tired, so she went upstairs to change her clothes.

Seeing that there was no follow-up, Nathan looked a little disappointed.

His implication just now was somewhat obvious. He wondered if Molly hadn't noticed it, or if she didn't want to invite him at all. It was probably the latter...

He felt a little helpless and sighed.

Seeing this, Sawyer didn't know what to do.

When Grandpa Dave saw it, he wanted to put in a good word for his grandson, but he was afraid of making his granddaughter Molly angry.

He finally gave up! Anyway, it was the May family who had failed Molly first. He didn't want to upset her.

Thinking of this, he called out to Sean who was beside him, "Come and play chess with me. Your grandpa's chess skills are too bad. Every time he loses, he plays tricks. It's very boring."

Sean smiled, sat down, and said, "Okay."

Later, when Molly came downstairs after a shower, Nathan was about to leave.

Before leaving, he said to Sawyer, "Tomorrow morning, I'm going to the neighboring city to sign a contract. The plane is leaving at 7:30. If you have any questions about the design plan, you can directly contact my classmate and communicate with him. I'll give you his phone number later."

"Okay." Sawyer nodded and got up to see him off.

Molly poured a glass of water and watched the scene silently.

Nathan nodded to her and said, "I'm leaving. Bye."

Molly nodded without saying a word and watched him walk to the door.

Just when he finished changing his shoes and was about to leave, Molly suddenly said, "Wait a minute..."