

Triplets On SM 1261

Chapter 1261-Nathan was taken aback, and turned his head to look,” What’s the matter?”

Molly picked up a garbage bag next to her, walked over, and said sullenly, “Help me throw something away.”

“Oh...” Nathan took it in a daze.

But as soon as he took it, Molly gave him another thing.

He took a closer look and found it to look like a card.

“What is it?” He subconsciously looked at it and froze the next second.

It was not an ordinary card, but an invitation.

It was her and Sean’s engagement ceremony invitation letter! Nathan’s eyes lit up, and he suddenly looked at Molly.

Molly looked awkward, turned her head away, and said, “I accidentally messed up the signature when I signed it. Take it if you don’t mind.”

Nathan was very happy in his heart and even smiled with excitement.

“It’s okay. Thank...you.” He opened the invitation.

There were a few lines of elegant and beautiful words of invitation, and there was no such thing as a messed-up signature.

Molly hadn't expected that he would open it as soon as he took it. She was a little embarrassed, and urged him to leave immediately, "What are you still waiting for? Hurry up and throw away the trash!"

Then, she turned back with a cold face. Seeing this scene, Grandpa Dave was filled with relief. Sean looked at her with gentle eyes. His girl was really cute with an awkward look!

Sawyer looked at Nathan and saw him smiling happily. Just an invitation letter made him so happy. If Molly called him brother in the future, wouldn't he wake up from his dream with a smile?

Soon, Nathan left. Molly continued to drink water as if nothing had happened and then went upstairs to see the three children.

The three children just got out of the bath, and they all smelt nice. They were playing puzzles on the carpet in cute pajamas. Seeing this, Molly immediately went over to join them.

The three children naturally welcomed her very much.

About an hour later, when Sean came to see Molly, she was already sleeping on the pile of puzzles. The three children were leaning on her, asleep.

The heads of the four were put together, and the picture was inexplicably warm.

Sean's eyes turned soft. He went over lightly, picked up the children, put them on the bed, and tucked them in.

Then he turned around and picked up Molly. He moved lightly, but Molly still woke up a little bit.

Seeing Sean, she raised her hands, wrapped them around his neck, and muttered, "Have you finished playing chess?"

"Well, Grandpa Dave and the others all went to bed, so I came up. Why are you lying on the floor? What if you catch a cold?" Sean carried her back to the room, walking steadily. When speaking, his voice was low and deep, like a cello tune, pleasant and sultry. Molly felt her ear itch, rubbed against his arms, and responded, "No, the children are very warm."

Sean couldn't help chuckling.

When the two were talking, they entered the room.

He put Molly on the bed and was about to get up and leave, "Good night."

Molly wrapped her arms around his neck and asked, "What about you?"

Sean said with a light smile, "I'm going back to my room next door."

"Oh." Molly muttered, "Then you can go."

She said so, but she didn't let go of her hands. Sean raised his brows slightly, looked at her with deep eyes, and said with a slight smile, "How can I leave when you're like this?"

"Find a way by yourself." Molly lazily replied, closed her eyes, but wrapped her hands around his neck even tighter.

Chapter 1262-Sean leaned over and asked, "Want to sleep with me?"

"No, I'm such a conservative person. Don't talk nonsense." Molly didn't even open her eyes.

Seeing her denying it, Sean didn't care. He also wanted to be with her and didn't want to be separated.

After thinking about it, he stopped hesitating and directly picked her up in his arms.

Molly opened her eyes and looked at him in surprise," What's wrong?"

Sean said calmly, "I'd like to stay, but I haven't showered yet, so I can only take you home. Do you mind?"

Molly laughed when she heard his words, and said, "I don't mind."

Sean smiled and carried her downstairs. Molly nestled in his arms with peace of mind.

When the two went downstairs, they met Brycen who was drinking water in the living room.

Brycen looked at Sean with a look of surprise, and asked, "Where are you going with my sister so late at night? She's already asleep, and you still wouldn't leave her alone?"

Sean was a little confused, and couldn't help lowering his eyes and looking at the girl in his arms.

Molly closed her eyes, and her eyelashes fluttered slightly. She was pretending to be asleep!

He raised his eyes lightly, and said calmly, "I'm taking her home."

Brycen asked in disbelief, "Sean, you look abstinent on the surface. I didn't expect you are such a hooligan! She's already asleep, and you still want to take her home?"

Sean said confidently, "I'm taking my wife home. What's the problem?"

Brycen was about to say that this was a big problem because they were not married yet.

But Sean said before Brycen could, "Oh, you're single, so you probably don't understand how much a couple like us hate to be separated from each other when we are so in love."

With that, Sean left without looking back.

Brycen froze in place for a long time before realizing that Sean was laughing at him for being single.

“Damn, Sean, what are you talking about? Don’t you think it’s a little inappropriate?”

When Sean, who had already walked out of the door, heard this, he replied bluntly, “No. We’re happy together and we love each other. A single man like you wouldn’t understand.” Brycen instantly felt speechless.

After Molly came out, she couldn’t help but laugh out loud.

“Stop pretending to be asleep?” Sean asked calmly.

Molly laughed so hard that her whole body trembled, “Isn’t it just to show how reserved I am? If Brycen knows that I’m willing to go with you, he probably wouldn’t be able to bear it. N “Just for this? So you don’t care about my reputation?” Sean lowered his head and bit her earlobe, “Those who don’t know the truth might think I’m very horny.”

When Molly heard this, she couldn’t help blinking, and looked at him, “Aren’t you...horny?”

Sean fell silent. Well, he was a little horny!

He entered the villa, feeling a little speechless. Molly quickly entered the state of pretending to be asleep again.

So that night, everyone from the butler to the maids and bodyguards knew that Sean didn’t go to bed in the middle of the night, and he went to the next door and secretly carried Molly home.

Early the next morning, when Molly got up and went back to the next door, she heard Brycen complaining to Grandpa Dave about what Sean had done last night.

“He’s so arrogant and he doesn’t take us seriously at all.

How dare he steal her so blatantly...”

Before he could finish his sentence, he was knocked on the head by Grandpa Dave, “Watch your tongue. Steal her? Your choice of words is terrible.

Chapter 1263-s head.

Hearing his words, Grandpa Dave felt both angered and amused, “They have three children, and they are going to get married. What’s wrong with them sleeping together? You are the only one to worry about it! If you have the time, why don’t you consider your marriage?”

Brycen got a headache when he heard this.

Weren’t they talking about Molly? Why did Grandpa suddenly change the topic and talk about him?

Brycen was about to protest but was interrupted by Sawyer who was next to him, “Molly, morning. Come and have breakfast.”

“Okay.” Molly replied calmly, “I’ll go upstairs to change clothes first, and wake up the three children by the way.”

They nodded and watched her go upstairs.

After more than ten minutes, Molly and the three children came downstairs.

Brycen stopped blaming Sean and began to talk about Nathan, “Look at Nathan.

It's just an invitation letter and he couldn't wait to make it public."

When Molly heard it, she couldn't help asking, "What invitation letter?"

Brycen immediately handed over his phone. Molly took it and glanced at it. It was Nathan's update on social media.

It was a picture of the invitation letter she had given him last night without any words of explanation.

However, there were many people's likes and comments below as well as Nathan's reply, My sister's engagement party invitation, my sister!"

Molly read it and gave him the phone back without saying anything.

Brycen asked, "After reading it, what do you think?"

Molly looked puzzled, "What can I think? It's indeed my engagement party invitation."

"No, I mean, don't you find Nathan's ostentatious posture familiar?" Brycen said confidently, "This is exactly what I usually look like. I always want to tell the whole world that I have a beautiful and amazing sister!"

Hearing his words, Molly felt speechless.

Why did he sound so proud? Brycen seemed too obsessed with her as her brother.

She didn't bother to pay attention to his excitement and just quietly took care of the three children when they had breakfast.

After breakfast, the doorbell rang. Molly thought it was Sean, so she immediately went to open the door.

Unexpectedly, just as she opened it, she saw Lara and Walter standing outside the door. As soon as Molly saw them, her face turned cold.

She frowned, looked at them coldly, and asked, "What are you doing here?"

Standing outside the door, Walter and Lara were a little embarrassed.

They came here naturally for her marriage...

Some time ago, when they learned that Molly was going to marry Sean, they were looking forward to attending the engagement ceremony as her parents.

It would not only make them feel respected but also improve their relationship with Molly.

Unexpectedly, when the Anderson family was preparing for the wedding, they never talked to them at all.

Not only that, but Molly didn't seem to have any intention of inviting them.

When they saw Nathan posting the invitation letter last night, they finally couldn't sit still.

"We'd like... to talk about something." Walter hesitated, but he finally spoke.

When he spoke, he smiled at Molly flatteringly.

Lara also looked cautious, and said in a soft voice, "Can you let us in, Molly?"

Hearing her words, Molly frowned even more, feeling a little disgusted.

She didn't mean to let them in, and cut straight to the point," Who do you want to talk to? Grandpa, Brycen, or Sawyer? I'll ask them to come out and talk to you."

Chapter 1264-Walter and Lara froze, and they hurriedly said, "No, we're here to see you..."

"See me?" Molly said sarcastically, "What is there to talk about with you?"

When the three of them were talking, Grandpa Dave, Brycen, and the others in the room heard the sound, and they hurried over to find out what was going on.

Seeing the two of them, they immediately understood the purpose of their visit.

Grandpa Dave sighed and didn't speak. Brycen didn't say anything either and carefully glanced at Molly's face. Molly looked indifferent. Walter and Lara also noticed it, and they felt a little uncomfortable.

But they knew that Molly's attitude was something they deserved!

They took a deep breath and explained their purpose, "We heard that you are going to get engaged to Mr. Anderson. Right now, the engagement date is approaching. As your parents, shouldn't it be better for us to make some preparations? After all, if your parents don't attend, people will laugh at you."

Molly seemed to sneer when she heard this, "There is nothing wrong with it. I've been laughed at for not having parents for long. Speaking of which, didn't you two say that I was uneducated? No one taught or raised me. Now you're calling yourselves my parents? If it wasn't for Grandpa's pity, I would have died long ago.

"So, for my wedding, Grandpa is enough!"

When Lara and Walter heard her words, they trembled violently, as if recalling the scene of how they had treated Molly back then.

At that time, the two of them had said all kinds of cruel things to her. They had said that she was embarrassing and they wished that Diana were their child...

Now, it was finally their turn to hear Molly's sarcastic remarks here.

Both of them felt a little uncomfortable. Lara's eyes were red, and she said, "Molly, I know you are still blaming us for treating you like that. I'm sorry...But your father and I have repented with all our hearts. Can you give us another chance?"

Walter also pleaded sincerely, "Yeah, we hurt you like that because of our vanity.

Your mother and I have been repenting, and I hope you can give us a chance to make things right."

Hearing their apology, Molly felt cold inside.

She sounded indifferent, as if they were just strangers, "Not all mistakes would have a chance to correct. You don't have to do this. After all, your so-called repentance, in my opinion, is very cheap. And, it can't offset the harm you did to me back then!

"Now I have accepted the fact that I have no father and no mother. Please stop flaunting in front of me because, to me, you are not even as good as strangers, do you understand?"

Hearing her words, both Walter and Lara turned pale.

Grandpa Dave sighed deeply. Both Brycen and Sawyer fell silent, not knowing what to say.

They were also in a bad mood.

One side was their most beloved sister while the other side was their parents who had raised them.

If possible, they hoped that their family could be harmonious and happy. But the reality was cruel!

“Molly, don’t be like this... You’ve forgiven Nathan. Why can’t you give me and your dad a chance?” Lara couldn’t stand this kind of treatment and burst into tears.

Walter also said in a hoarse voice, “Yes, Molly, no matter how much you refuse to accept it, we are your parents, and this is a fact that cannot be changed.”

Chapter 1265-“So what?” Molly was expressionless, and her eyes turned colder, “This relationship was cut off by you. You treated me like garbage, and you abandoned me. If you didn’t want me then, why do you want me now?”

Hearing her questioning, Walter and Lara choked and subconsciously wanted to refute.

But they couldn’t say anything because what Molly said was true.

Back then, they had indeed regarded her as a thorn in their side, and even wished she had never existed.

Seeing their reaction, Molly looked even more sarcastic, and continued, “As for why I can forgive Nathan, it’s because he is different from you. From the beginning, I never had too much hope or expectation for him.”

She had never thought about recognizing Nathan.

Even if she was misunderstood by Nathan later, she didn’t feel much. She hadn’t cared much about him, so he could be forgiven after he made up for it later.

But Walter and Lara were different. She had once had a deep longing for fatherly love and motherly love. But what had greeted her was their disgust, slander, humiliation, and total denial.

When she first arrived abroad, she was in a bad mood, and once doubted whether she really shouldn’t exist in this world.

It was Grandpa who had encouraged and comforted her. Later, with the appearance of the three children, she had taken a new lease on life.

Now, she had family members who she wanted to protect and people who loved her. She no longer needed this extra parental love.

“So, please don’t come again! You are not welcome here.” Molly ignored them, turned around coldly, and went upstairs.

Walter and Lara froze in place.

They were completely at a loss and looked at Grandpa Dave, “Dad...”

Grandpa Dave said angrily, “It’s too late. You...you have to blame yourself!”

After scolding his irresponsible son, he also turned around and entered the house.

Walter and Lara looked at their two sons next to them, “Brycen, Sawyer, please help us and talk to Molly...”

“Mom, you have seen Molly’s attitude. I don’t want to do things that make her unhappy. I’m afraid I can’t help you.” Brycen was as direct as ever.

His parents looked very pitiful, but when he thought that Molly had been living outside since she was a child, and she was driven out after she came back, and was isolated and helpless, he couldn’t soften his heart.

Sawyer avoided the pleading eyes of his parents, and said calmly, “I don’t want to do things that will make Molly unhappy either. She has suffered enough in the past, and she finally became so happy. I don’t want to add any trouble to her.”

Lara burst into tears.

She hadn't expected that even their sons wouldn't help them.

She was so angry that she lost her temper. She immediately reprimanded, "Your father and I have raised you in vain.

You're unwilling to do us such a small favor."

Neither Brycen nor Sawyer said anything.

They wanted to help their parents, but they might not be able to be Molly's brothers anymore if they did! They didn't want that.

Seeing their sons fall silent, Walter was somewhat disappointed. But they had made a mistake first after all.

Therefore, he sighed, pulled his emotional wife back, and said, "Forget it. Let's go back. If we want to apologize, we have to persevere. Molly can't forgive us now, and it's understandable. Let's go."

With that, he took Lara's arm and turned to leave.

Chapter 1266-Molly stood on the balcony on the second floor, silently watching the two leaving without any change in her eyes.

The three children came over, held her hands affectionately, and comforted her softly, "Mommy, don't be unhappy. Didn't you teach us that we shouldn't be angry with irrelevant people? So, don't be sad, okay?"

Hearing their words, Molly couldn't help but withdraw her gaze and look at the three children beside her legs.

The children all looked worried. Molly's heart instantly melted and a slight smile appeared on her delicate face.

She knelt, rubbed their heads, and said, "I'm not sad. Don't worry."

"Really?" The three children tilted their heads and looked at her as if they didn't believe it.

Seeing them like this, Molly couldn't help but pinch their cheeks, "Of course. I'm a strong woman. How could I be sad about such a small matter? It is undeniable that I'm a little upset, but I'm not sad.

"Those who I don't care about can't hurt me! If one day, my emotions fluctuate greatly, it must be because of you three, your Great-grandpa, your uncles, or Daddy. Only the people I love can touch me."

The three children breathed a sigh of relief when they heard her say that.

"That's good. Mommy, as long as you're happy, we will be happy."

"Yes, mommy, your good mood is the most important thing in the world."

"Mommy, we love you so much. Please smile a lot every day so that you can be a beautiful bride."

While speaking, the three of them leaned over one after another and kissed Molly on the cheek. Molly was so touched that she hugged and kissed them, and she couldn't bear to let them go. When Sean came in, he happened to see the four huggings each other.

He had been next door just now. After he heard about this incident, he hurried over.

He had been worried that Molly's emotions would be affected, but as soon as he came in, he heard the heartwarming comfort from the three children.

The opportunity to comfort Molly was snatched just like that...

Sean smiled, walked in slowly, and said deliberately, "Why do you always secretly hug each other while I'm not around?"

When the children saw him coming, they called him enthusiastically, "Daddy."

When speaking, they let go of their hands. Ben complained,"

Daddy, it's because you can't always be by mommy's side, so we can only replace you and give mommy comfort!"

"That's right." Claudia nodded her head and seconded.

Alex looked up at Sean and said with a very serious expression, "So, Daddy, when will you and mommy live together? This morning, Uncle Brycen accused you of coming to steal mommy last night. You're about to get engaged. Why don't you just live together? It will save you from running around and wasting your energy! Besides, if mommy is in a bad mood or something, you can take care of her as soon as possible."

"That's right. She's your future wife and you have to comfort her by yourself."

Ben reprimanded from the side.

Sean raised his eyebrows and looked at the children. The three of them were winking at him behind Molly.

They seemed to be saying, 'The road has been paved for you, and it will be up to you next!' Sean chuckled, "I'd like to, but I'm afraid your mommy will be unwilling."

The children immediately denied, "How could mommy be unwilling? She must be very willing."

Then they turned their heads and asked Molly, "Right, mommy?"

Chapter 1267-Molly read their mind at a glance, and directly exposed it," Okay, you guys, don't think I don't know what you're planning! But, you are right. I don't mind. But there are elders at home, so we'll follow the procedure. There is no hurry." When Sean heard this, he disapproved, "I don't think so."

His eyes darkened slightly.

Molly saw it, and she blushed. She got up immediately, and patted him, "The children are still here. Don't talk nonsense."

Taking advantage of the situation, Sean took her hand and said softly, "It's the truth. I want to be with you every moment."

Molly was amused.

She wanted to be with him every moment too. But the two families lived close to each other and they slept together at night. Was there any difference?

Sean whispered, "Actually, I have a plan. Do you want to accompany me to carry it out?"

Molly asked in confusion, "What plan?"

Sean said, "Let's just go to the courthouse and get married."

Molly froze and said in surprise, "What did you say...?"

Sean looked serious, "You heard me right. Let's go get our marriage certificate.

I'm really in a hurry. Our wedding ceremony is at least a year away, and I don't want to wait until then. So, at least we should get it settled first. Let's make it legal.

"A certificate is not much needed for us, but Molly... I want to give you a home, and give the children a legitimate home."

Hearing his words, Molly was stunned for a long time.

She realized that Sean probably made this decision because he was worried that she would be influenced by Walter and Lara.

He probably wanted to make up for her previous lack of love, so it sounded very abrupt.

But after thinking about it, she thought that their relationship was no different from being married.

The most important thing was his promise, "I want to give you a home, and give the children a legitimate home."

To her, it was really attractive.

She was dizzy for a moment, and she nodded blankly, "Okay, let's...make it legal."

Sean hadn't expected her to agree, so he cheered up and asked, "Is that true?"

The eyes of the three children next to him also lit up, and they said nervously, "Mommy, if you agree, you can't go back on your word."

"I wouldn't. When did I ever go back on my word?" Molly laughed.

She somehow felt that something was not right. But when she thought of being able to marry the man next to her, she felt that it was something to be very happy about and looking forward to!

Hearing this, Sean naturally didn't want to delay, so he took her hand and said, "Let's go get married now."

With that, he left the balcony with her.

The three children followed with excitement and said, "We are going to be witnesses."

"Daddy, don't forget your IDs!"

"Should we tell Grandpa Dave and the others about this?"

Sean was very calm, and said, "Let's not tell them yet."

While they were talking, they went downstairs.

Grandpa Dave, Brycen, and Sawyer were still worried about Molly's situation in the living room.

Mr. Ballard had heard about Molly's past from the three of them, and he was also worried.

When he saw the family of five rushing downstairs and going out, he asked quickly, "Hey, what happened? Where are you going?"

Sean responded calmly, "I'm taking Molly out for a walk." Hearing his words, they naturally didn't stop them.

Chapter 1268-An hour later, Tony arrived at the gate of the courthouse in confusion with a bag in his hand, which contained a beautiful white dress, a veil, and a bouquet.

Beside him was Chester who was asked over temporarily to be a witness.

There was also a professional photography team transferred from the entertainment branch of Anderson Corporation.

Chester only glanced at them and knew what was going on. He immediately laughed, "Aren't you... a little impatient?"

"It's logical." Sean calmly corrected him.

Sean took the bag from Tony's hand and said to Molly, "Put on the dress for the photo later." Molly hadn't expected him to be so well prepared and she didn't refuse.

She quickly found a place and changed clothes.

After half an hour, signing, taking pictures, and reading the oath were all done in one go.

When Molly came to her sense, she found a newly released marriage license in her hand.

"Congratulations, Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson." Tony congratulated them immediately. With a confetti cannon in his hand, he fired some confetti into the air.

The three children applauded excitedly, "Congratulations, Daddy and Mommy, for becoming a legal couple."

Chester also smiled and said, "Although I feel that the process is not right, I still want to congratulate you."

Molly finally came to her sense when she heard this and she patted her forehead, "I knew something was wrong. Our engagement ceremony has not yet been held, and we have gotten our marriage license. This procedure is completely messed up!"

Then she poked Sean's chest, "It's all your fault. You said so many sweet words, and I was so dizzy that I agreed."

Sean smiled slightly. He raised his hand and held her fingertips, "The procedure is just a formality, and it will eventually come to this point anyway. I've just done it in advance. Besides, you agreed and now it's too late to regret it."

"Yes, Mommy, we heard with our ears that you agreed. You can't go back on your word."

The three children testified beside them. Molly was resigned and amused.

But she had no intention of repenting. As Sean said, they would eventually get married anyway. It was just a little bit ahead of schedule!

Tony kindly reminded on the side, "But, Mr. Anderson, I think you shouldn't disclose it to your family for the time being. Your mother just finished the engagement party with great effort. Now you've gotten married before the engagement party is held. The elders all value traditions, and they will probably complain about it, especially your grandpa. He will reprimand you for not following the procedure."

Big families cared about formalities the most when it came to marriage, especially a famous family like the Anderson family! But Sean didn't care.

Molly said before Sean could, "Yes, we can't say it for now. My grandpa also cares about this." Sean felt bitter at heart.

Why did he feel that being married was no different from not being married?

Was such a good thing so shameful?

Forget it! Anyway, Molly was legally his wife now and he could feel at ease in the future!

After the young couple received their marriage licenses, the photography team took some photos and then went back. Tony and Chester also considerately left them alone.

They took three children with them.

The children were very sensible, and said, "On the first day of marriage, Daddy and Mommy should celebrate well. We should give them some privacy."

Molly was amused and watched them leave before she turned and looked at Sean.

They looked at each other affectionately.

Sean stroked her cheek lightly, leaned over to kiss her, and said softly in a low and seductive voice, "We're husband and wife from now on, Mrs. Anderson."

Chapter 1269-When Molly heard the last three words, the look in her eyes shivered.

'Mrs. Anderson... right?

'This title sounds especially good when it's from Sean!' She gave a charming smile and replied, "Hope you can give me care and help, Mr. Anderson."

Sean froze, seemingly so dissatisfied with this title.

Although "Mr. Anderson" didn't sound that bad, he preferred a more intimate one.

But then he realized that they had just been married for a few minutes. In this case, it was better to do things step by step, so he didn't force her, but simply changed the subject, "Where do you want to go to celebrate?"

Molly thought for a moment but couldn't make a decision. She shook her head, "I have no idea. This is my first marriage. I don't have experience... I think I can listen to you. What's your plan?"

Sean was lost for words.

This was also his first marriage, so he didn't have experience, either.

But as a man, he obviously couldn't say he had no idea about something like this, just as she did.

He pondered for a while and said, "Let me take you somewhere."

"Okay!"

Molly agreed with a smile, but also began thinking about where he would take her.

'Movie theater?

'Opera house?

'Or a place of romance?' While she was thinking, Sean had taken her into the Rolls- Royce beside them.

When they sat down, he told the chauffeur where they were going, "To the International Finance Building."

"Okay, sir."

The chauffeur took his order respectfully and immediately started the car.

Molly was slightly surprised.

'International Finance Building?

'That is the best office building in Northfolk, isn't it?

'Why go there?

'Is there a spot there we can use to celebrate?' She opened her mouth, wishing to ask.

But she realized that if she got the answer, the surprise wouldn't be a surprise.

Therefore, she held her tongue in time and kept quiet in great confusion.

Half an hour later, their car finally arrived at their destination.

"Here we are," Sean whispered to Molly.

Then he got out of the car and helped Molly step out.

When she was out, Molly was confused, looking around.

Almost all she could see around here were science parks and office buildings.

Even if there were restaurants, they were a street ahead.

She really didn't understand what they could do here.

After hesitating for a moment, Molly finally asked, "What did we come here for, Sean?"

Sean held her hand and smiled, "You'll know in a while."

As he spoke, he took her to the finance building, not giving her a moment to think.

They took the elevator to the 23rd floor.

When they arrived, Sean led her down a corridor to a grandlooking gate and said, “Look, this is what I want to show you. N Molly raised her eyes in confusion. After looking around, she still didn’t find anything special.

‘This is just a company, isn’t it?

‘It’s not worth visiting, is it?’ She was about to look away when she saw a sign board beside it from the corner of her eye.

It read “M. M. Love Foundation.”

“This is...?”

Molly was confused, trying to figure out the meaning of the words.

‘M. M.?

“M. M.

“Are they the initials of my name?”

Soon she realized it, surprised.

Sean didn’t deny it. “Yes, this is the philanthropic foundation established in your name. From now on, if you want to hold free treatment events, help children who are congenitally ill, or do other things, you won’t have to do them through other channels.

“There are people here who can take care of the finances and prepare for the public charity you want to provide. And you don’t have to worry about fund changes and problems.

“By setting up this foundation, I just want to tell you one thing. You can do anything you want when you are with me. No matter what it is, I’ll support you.”

Chapter 1270-To her surprise, Sean had done something great-he had started a foundation for her.

With this foundation, from now on, she could control the capital flows herself, making sure every penny was just spent in the right place!

“You, you...”

Molly was so happy and surprised that she was at a loss for words.

Seeing her expression, Sean asked with a smile, “Do you like the wedding gift I prepared for you?”

“Yes, I do, very much!”

Molly nodded with a smile.

She preferred such practical and meaningful actions to the showy but valueless stuff.

She couldn’t wait to go in and take a look.

“Can I go in?”

“Of course.”

Sean handed her a key card.

Molly took it with joy and touched the door lock sensor with it.

With a beep, the door of the foundation opened.

Molly immediately stepped in.

The office area had been perfectly prepared, and relevant departments had been divided.

There were signs that people had moved around here, and the office tables were filled with documents and water glasses.

This showed that the corresponding full-time workers were already in place!

“Now the foundation is just in its early stage, but there are certain people who are in charge of the specific rules and operation. And I will perfect it in the future.

You’re its chairwoman with the highest authority and decide everything about the foundation. Of course, in order not to make you tired, I will also manage things here on weekdays. You won’t have to worry too much.”

While Molly was looking around, Sean explained further.

Apparently, he had taken everything into account and prepared everything before he took her here.

After looking around here, Molly was too touched to say anything.

Only after a long while did she ask, “I guess you must have taken a lot of time and effort to prepare this, right? When did your preparation begin?”

“Not so early. I asked someone to do this before I went abroad. I wanted to present it to you as an engagement gift. But now, with our planned date changed to an earlier one, just take this as my wedding gift to you.”

Sean looked at her deeply and said after a pause, "This gift is not romantic, but as long as you don't hate it, it will be enough for me."

Molly said with a broad smile, "How could I hate it? And I don't think such a gift is not romantic because it is a love foundation. Where there is love, there's romance. And you named it M.M., so this is the greatest love you gave me."

Speaking of this, Molly couldn't hold her emotions anymore. She leaned over and held the man tightly.

"Thank you. No matter what I do, you always give me so much support. You supported me when I wanted to go to Domster. Now you did so much to satisfy my wish... Sean, why are you so nice? Meeting you is the luckiest thing in my life."

Hearing the little woman whispering in his ear, Sean smiled joyfully.

He held her waist and asked in a low voice, "Meeting you is the luckiest thing in my life, too."

What did he do to deserve her? He must have been so much blessed.

He could go pick the stars for her!

And he could also betray the whole world for her!
