

Triplets On SM 1321

Chapter 1321-Sean looked down at her, raised his hand, and locked the bathroom door. Then he locked her in his arms, and said in a low voice, "No, why would I kidnap you, Ms. May? I love you." "Oh?" Molly blinked, and asked with great interest, "What are you going to do?"

Sean leaned over and said in a low and hoarse voice, "Anything. What are you expecting me to do?"

Molly's heart beat fast, and she found him so tempting.

He was so tempting that she couldn't help but want to kiss him.

However, they were in a bathroom of the school, and people might come in at any time. She barely restrained herself and asked him, "What's the matter? Why are you suddenly doing this?" "No, I just think... the way you talked about your fiance in class is very charming." Sean smiled and looked at her with gentle eyes.

Molly had talked about his condition as a case in class just now.

There were a few of her words that impressed him very much.

"He is the bravest man I have ever seen. He could endure the pain that ordinary people can't. Even if it was piercing pain, he could grit his teeth without making a sound. By his side, I can always feel his confidence and that is, the serious illness was not a big deal!

"Ancient medical techniques are extensive and profound, and they're worthy of dedicated study. Over the years, I have used them to cure many hidden diseases that cannot be cured by modern science. If you are interested, you can find some books to read first. If there is anything you don't understand, you can ask me. After you learn it, you will master one more medical technology! Of course, you might not be lucky enough to find an excellent fiance like mine."

At that time, the students joked, "Ms. May, are you here to teach today?"

Why do I feel that you are here to show off your fiancé?" "Oh, I'm heartbroken.

Ms. May, please stop it. My heart is hurting so much." "Don't do that to us singles! What's wrong with being single?"

Hearing this, Molly said with a smile, "Okay, let's not talk about him, though I like him very much! But, for your physical and mental health, I won't irritate you anymore..." "It's too much!" The students complained one after another.

Sitting in the back row, Sean had the urge to rush up to the platform, pull Molly into his arms, and kiss her passionately.

But he held back.

Now holding her in his arms, he became emotional.

His eyes were full of affection, 'I like you very much too!"

The sweet words made Molly full of joy.

It was not appropriate to confess one's love in public like in class. She had seen Sean looking at her intently as if he couldn't see anything else anymore. She became emotional too.

She couldn't help kissing him on tiptoe, "I know. Me too."

Sean immediately hugged her tightly and held the back of her head with one hand to deepen the kiss.

After a long kiss, both of them were a little breathless. Sean thoughtfully wiped the corner of her mouth, and said, "Well, let's go back. This isn't the right place."

Molly blushed slightly and complained, "What else do you want to do?"

Sean's voice was unbelievably hoarse, "What do you say?" "In broad daylight, how could you..." Molly blushed.

Sean said with deep eyes, "It's not forbidden during the day, is it?"

Molly blushed more, and she felt that they couldn't talk about it anymore.

If something went wrong, it would be bad!

She quickly opened the bathroom door, took Sean's hand, and said, "Let's get out of here first."

Chapter 1322-After they came out, Molly went back to the office and then left the school with Sean.

They had flirted and gotten a little carried away in the bathroom just now, but after coming out, Sean was still worried that Molly would be hungry, so he took her to lunch first.

Wayne sent Molly the class schedule when she and Sean were having lunch.

Molly glanced at it.

According to the schedule, she would teach every Monday, with one class in the morning and one in the afternoon.

She was quite satisfied, and handed her phone to Sean to show him, "In this way, I can fly over in the morning and fly back in the evening." "Will it be too tiring?" After seeing it, Sean felt a little sorry for her.

They could meet every day, which was great, but he was afraid that she would be too tired on such a schedule.

Molly shook her head, "Of course not. As long as I can be with you and the children every day, it will be worth it."

When Sean heard this, he looked at Molly with gentle eyes.

"After completing the agreement with the school, don't continue the class.

I don't want to see you so tired." "I think so too." Molly smiled.

When she was unmarried, she could do whatever she wanted.

Now, she wanted to spend more time with her family.

After lunch, Sean wanted to take Molly back to take a rest.

However, Molly tugged at his hand and said, "Take me to the research lab first.

I'll go and talk to Mr. Scott and the others about the handover. I don't want to delay this matter for too long."

When she came to Xesxia this time, she didn't plan to stay long.

Hearing this, Sean raised his eyebrows and did not refuse.

He thought she'd better settle the matter over there as soon as possible so that he could take her home earlier.

So, Sean told Tony to change the route and go to the research lab.

About half an hour later, the car arrived.

When Molly got out of the car, Sean grabbed her and said in a low voice, "I'll go to the branch office in the afternoon. When are you going to finish? Call me and I'll pick you up." "Okay." Molly nodded. She leaned over, kissed him on the cheek, and said with a smile, "Well, I'm leaving. Be careful on the road." "OK."

Sean looked at her with gentle eyes and gently rubbed her head.

He watched her enter the research lab.

At this time, standing by the window on the second floor, Eaton saw the intimate interaction between them.

With that gloomy eyes, his face looked ineffably cold.

Sean vaguely felt a gaze downstairs, and he couldn't help but look up.

The moment their eyes met, the atmosphere became tense.

Sean suppressed the gentleness in his eyes. He stared at Eaton with contempt as if Eaton was nothing and he did not take Eaton seriously at all.

After a moment, Sean withdrew his gaze and told Tony, "Drive." Tony nodded and drove away quickly!

Eaton froze in place. He looked very hostile.

Kara came over just in time to see his terrifying face, and she couldn't help but pause.

She hesitated and asked, "What's the matter with you? Why are you looking like this?"

Hearing her voice, Eaton reluctantly put away the hostility on his face, and replied, "Oh, nothing..."

He turned around, looked at Kara, and said with a bit of concern in his tone, "Have you finished taking the medicine?"

Kara hesitated and then nodded, "Yes."

That night, after she got the medicine, she went back to Xesxia overnight and came to the lab for testing.

Finally, it was confirmed that what Eaton had given her was indeed the antidote.

She injected the antidote into her body the next day, and she hadn't felt any discomfort so far.

Kara still couldn't believe it. It seemed that Eaton had changed!

Chapter 1323-After Eaton heard it, he pushed his gold-rimmed glasses and smiled, "I'm glad you took the antidote. I was impulsive before, and I hope you don't hate me.

Also, the medicine has cooling effects. It stayed in your body for some time and it might have damaged your health. When I go back later, I will get you some medicinal materials with warming effects. You can replenish your body with it."

Kara had been somewhat wary of him, so after hearing this, she immediately said, "Thanks, but I can get it myself."

Eaton felt her resistance and didn't care, "Okay, then I'll give you the list when I arrive."

Kara nodded.

While they were talking, Molly came upstairs.

As soon as Molly entered the door, she saw the two of them.

Molly paused, then greeted lightly, "Hello, Eaton."

As for Kara, Molly just ignored her.

Kara's expression was cold and she didn't bother to look at Molly.

Eaton smiled gently and said, "Hello, Molly, you came."

Molly nodded, and said lightly, "I'm here to see Mr. Scott. Is he there?"

Eaton's tone was gentle, "Yes, he's over there in Lab One. I happen to go see him too. Let's go together."

Molly didn't say anything. She took the lead and walked towards Lab One.

Seeing this, Eaton hurriedly followed.

Jadon was busy working in the research lab now.

Beside him were the two research and development teams led by Molly.

Before Molly went abroad, the Reagent Three she was in charge of had been successfully developed.

However, Reagent Four and Reagent Five had not progressed very well without her participation.

At this moment, everyone buried their heads in testing the data, trying to see where the specific problem lay.

After Molly entered the door, she greeted Jadon first, "Mr. Scott."

Jadon looked over and said with a smile, "Well, you came so soon. I thought you would stay at home for a few more days."

The R&D team greeted her warmly when they saw her.

Molly responded to them one by one, and then said with a smile, "No, there is nothing else at home. I was afraid that it would delay your progress, so I came here as soon as possible."

Jadon nodded kindly and said, "You just came in time. Before the official handover, help me find out the problems of these two sets of data. You are good at this, and your efficiency will certainly be higher than mine."

Molly agreed readily, "Sure."

She quickly took over the materials in Jadon's hands and started to work.

Eaton joked on the side, "Dad, you are good at bossing people around."

Molly has just arrived. You should let her take a break at least."

Jadon rolled his eyes at his son, "Do you think I want to do this? If it weren't for your incompetence, I wouldn't have had to ask Molly for help." "Yes, it's my fault."

I can't compare to Molly." Eaton smiled carelessly and looked at Molly, "Everyone knows that Molly is your favorite student."

When Molly heard this, she didn't even raise her head, as if she hadn't heard him.

Seeing that she was focused, Jadon didn't complain about his son anymore, but urged, "Don't just stand there. Go help."

Eaton nodded and immediately came to Molly's side.

Molly caught it out of the corner of her eye. She ignored Eaton and devoted herself to the data.

After about two hours, with everyone's efforts, they finally found the problem with the data.

Jadon was very satisfied, and he praised Molly, "Well, Molly has to make a move."

Molly shook her head, and said with a smile, "I'm flattered, Mr. Scott. But when I took over just now, you had identified several problems. I just followed the rules and found out the key to the problem."

Chapter 1324-"Okay, don't be so modest. Don't I know your ability?" Jadon collected the materials with a smile and then changed the subject, "Since everything has been dealt with, you should hand over the work to Eaton and Kara. They will still be in charge of the follow-up matters here." "Okay." Molly had no objection and quickly talked to Eaton and Kara.

The handover process took less than an hour.

When she went to Domster before, she had already handed over half of her work, so the rest was much easier this time.

However, it was already five o'clock in the evening after the handover. Jadon said lovingly to Molly, "Thanks for your help in the research and development of this reagent. The progress in your research lab must have been delayed a lot, right?"

Molly smiled and shook her head, "It's all right. I will catch up later. Mr.

Scott, I'm pleased to help. I have learned a lot from the development of this reagent. If you need it later, you can contact me at any time." "Okay." Jadon nodded and looked at the time, "It's almost time for dinner.

Would you like to stay for dinner with us?"

Molly hesitated, wanting to refuse, "Sean is still waiting for me ..."

But Eaton interrupted her on the side, "You have helped the research lab so much this time. My dad definitely should invite you to dinner. Also, you can take the chance to say goodbye to other team members."

Molly frowned, a little hesitant. But Jadon said, "I think it's a good idea! I won't be able to stay here for long this time. I'll leave next week. Molly, how about I treat you to dinner?"

Jadon sounded sincere, so Molly naturally couldn't refuse.

She had no choice but to say, "Okay, I'll give Sean a call."

Jadon nodded.

Soon, Molly told Sean about the situation here.

Hearing that she was going to have dinner with people from the research lab, Sean didn't stop her, "Go ahead, but I won't go. Something is going on in the company, and I can't leave." "Oh, I see..." Molly sounded a little disappointed, "Okay then! You can come and pick me up later."

Sean said softly, "Okay. When you arrive, send me the address." "OK." Molly nodded.

She was about to hang up when Sean added, "Remember, don't drink too much."

Molly laughed, "Don't worry. I know what I am doing."

After finishing the call, she turned to go back to the research lab.

But before she could enter the door, her phone rang again.

She thought it was Sean who had something else to say. She picked it up and saw a familiar caller ID on the screen.

It was...Selon! Molly was startled and immediately stopped. She walked to the side and picked it up, "Hello..."

She heard a familiar voice on the other end of the phone, "Dr. Joye, it's me, Selon." "I know." Molly responded in a calm tone, "I saw the news a few days ago that the same batch of medical teams along with us has all returned. After I left...nothing happened to you, right?" "It's fine. We're all fine." Selon responded gently.

"That's good..." Molly smiled.

She paused for a moment, not knowing how to continue.

After all, her current relationship with the Shepard family was somewhat delicate.

But Selon didn't beat around the bush, "I'm sorry about what happened in Domster. Uncle Jose, and what Shepard family did to you, I'm sorry."

Chapter 1325-Molly hadn't expected him to be so frank. After hesitating for a moment, she said, "There is no need to apologize. You saved me, and it's even now. But you should know about how the Shepard family is doing now, right?"

Selon was silent for a while, and replied, "Yes. My grandfather has already told me about the overall situation. I'm surprised by Mr. Anderson's identity! Now, the Shepard family is controlled by him. I know all about it."

After Molly heard this, she subconsciously defended Sean, "Mr. Shepard, it wasn't Sean who provoked you on his initiative. The Shepard family and the Martial Art Union joined forces first, and he took action to protect me.

'You may not know that after I left the slums that night, Jose and the members of the Martial Art Union went to Hurmante city, and tried to kill me. It was ordered by your elders.

"The Shepard family wanted to threaten Sean with my life! Now, the Shepard family is controlled by him. You're asking for it."

Selon couldn't help but feel a little helpless when he heard her so eager to protect her man, "Dr. Joye, don't get excited. I know what you said! I also know that Mr. Anderson hasn't done anything so far probably because of our friendship!

"So, I'm calling today to ask you a favor. Can you help me make an appointment with Mr. Anderson? I want to talk to him."

Molly was a little surprised.

She had thought that Selon was calling to yell at her.

That was why she had sounded so aggressive just now.

Now it seemed that she had misunderstood.

She calmed down, but didn't agree immediately and just asked, "What are you going to talk to him about?"

Hearing this, Selon chuckled, "Well... I'm naturally going to talk about the future situation of the Shepard family. Right now, the Shepard family is at a disadvantage. Mr. Anderson can ruin us easily. As the future head of the Shepard family, I have the responsibility to protect it."

Molly thought about the meaning of his words, and said, 'Do you mean that you aren't planning to join forces with the Martial Art Union?' "That's exactly what I mean," Selon replied in a firm tone.

Molly breathed a sigh of relief in her heart, but she didn't readily agree, "I see! I'll tell Sean. But whether he will see you or not depends on him." "Okay, then I'll wait for your news," Selon said readily.

They didn't talk for long.

After finishing the call, Molly immediately called Sean.

Sean quickly picked it up, and said in a gentle voice, "What's the matter?"

Didn't we just finish a call? Do you miss me already?"

Hearing this, Molly couldn't help laughing, "Yes, I miss you! But I have something to tell you. Selon called me just now, and he wants to see you." "Oh."

Sean raised his eyebrows slightly on the other end of the phone, and sounded surprised, "It came faster than expected!"

Molly sounded worried, "I didn't agree readily. But I think you want to see him.

What's your plan?"

During their conversation just now, Selon sounded no different from before.

But when it came to important family affairs, who could guarantee that he would not change his mind?

Sean said, 'I'll see him. As for my plan, let's talk about it when we go back to the hotel tonight. We can't make it clear on the phone. You can go to dinner with peace of mind now.'

Molly frowned, "Okay. But you have to promise me that you won't hide anything from me! You should know that I am very worried about your safety. So don't ever lie to me again."

Chapter 1327-Hearing Laila's words, Cody froze.

After a moment, Cody glared at Laila, who was giggling, and looked a little awkward, "You'd better watch your tongue."

When Jadon heard it from the side, he laughed out loud, and said, "I'm still here, and you're already thinking about a new job. Have you thought about my feelings?"

Everyone burst into laughter.

Cody became even more awkward, and he instantly blushed.

Molly patted his arm and said softly, "I'd love that. Welcome. If Cody raised his head in surprise. When he met her smiling eyes, he realized that he hadn't heard it wrong.

Ms. May agreed!

He smiled shyly and nodded hurriedly, 'Thank you, Ms. May.'

Seeing this, Laila and Mario also rushed to ask, "Ms. May, what about us?"

"You two are also welcome," Molly answered with a smile.

Then she sat back in her seat, filled her glass with wine, and turned to toast Jadon, “Mr. Scott, wouldn’t it be offensive if I openly poach your men?”

Jadon chuckled, “Of course not. It’s a good thing that they are willing to follow you. Besides, these kids belong to Xesxia University. This time they participated in the project as interns and it’s technically not formal employment.”

After all, Molly was his favorite student.

It didn’t matter which research lab she went to.

Hearing what he said, Molly also laughed, “Well, thank you, Mr. Scott. These three kids have great potential.”

They ate and drank during dinner. After a while, Molly drank several glasses of wine. When dinner was almost over, she was a little drunk.

“Lynn, can you go to the bathroom with me?” Molly was afraid that she would get too dizzy to find the location of the box later.

Molly’s face was flushed from drinking. Lynn didn’t want Molly to go to the bathroom, so she went with Molly without hesitation.

After coming out of the bathroom, Molly leaned on the sink and sent a message to Sean, “It’s almost over here. You can come and pick me up.”

Sean quickly replied, “I’ll be there in half an hour.”

Lynn walked to her side, caught a glimpse of the words on the phone screen, and couldn’t help joking, “You and Sean have such a good relationship. He’s so attentive to you when you have dinner with us.”

“What? Are you jealous?” Molly put away her phone, turned her head to look at Lynn, and said with a smile, “If you’re, go find a boyfriend yourself.”

“I’m not lucky as you.” Lynn turned off the faucet, took out a tissue, and wiped her hands, sighing, “If I meet a good man like your fiance, I will marry him.”

Hearing this, Molly smiled even more. She narrowed her beautiful eyes slightly and looked a little drunk,” Unfortunately, there is no one else like him in the world.”

Hearing this, Lynn pretended to be angry, “You’re so cruel!”

“I’m just telling the truth.” Molly glanced at her with a smile and then staggered out.

“Molly, you’re so annoying. I’m still single and you’re showing off your love in front of me!” Lynn complained, and then quickly caught up with Molly.

While joking, the two returned to the box.

Many people drank wine tonight. Jadon told Eaton, “Arrange a car and take everyone home safely.”

Eaton nodded, “Okay.”

Twenty minutes later, Molly*s colleagues were taken home one after another. In the end, only Molly and several others were left.

“I’ll take you home.” Eaton walked over and said to Molly gently.

Molly shook her head and refused without even thinking about it, “No need.

Sean will come to pick me up.”

As soon as she said that, a black Rolls Royce stopped by the side of the road, and Sean got off the car.

He was wearing a black shirt and black trousers. He was dressed simply, but he was eye-catching and good-looking in a different way. He looked elegant and dignified.

Chapter 1326-Hearing her stern tone on the other end of the phone, Sean thought of how she had cried after he went to take risks without telling her in Domster. He couldn't help laughing, "Don't worry. It's enough to make you angry once. How dare I do it again? I don't want to kneel on the washboard."

"Well, if you dare to lie to me again, kneel on the durian next time. Kneeling on the washboard is too light a punishment for you." Molly snorted coldly and said in a fierce voice. Sean laughed more and comforted, "Okay, it's up to you. You can punish me however you want, as long as you don't kick me out of the room at night." "That depends on your performance. If you dare to do it again, you will be sleeping alone." She hung up the phone before Sean could react. Sean couldn't help laughing when she hung up.

This was the first time Molly had hung up on him.

She was warning him not to do it again, but... she was so cute!

After putting away her phone, Molly returned to the research lab.

Her colleagues were all ready, and soon they set off to the restaurant. Eaton had booked a large box, and several groups of R&D personnel were all seated.

Sitting next to Molly was her teacher Jadon.

Eaton had planned to sit on the other side of her. But Molly pulled Lynn over and said, "Lynn, we will inevitably drink wine tonight. Please help me."

Lynn smiled and nodded, "No problem."

Eaton was slightly taken back. He took a deep look at Molly, and could only sit silently on the other side of Jadon.

Soon, the waiter brought the dishes, and everyone was chatting, laughing, drinking, and enjoying themselves. It was very lively.

During the dinner, a colleague came over with a drink, "Dr. Joye."

Molly quickly put down her fork and looked at him.

Under the lights, there was a friendly smile on her delicate face.

"Although we have not worked together for a long time, I have learned a lot from working with you. Please come back often to visit in the future."

The colleague looked sincere, and he was reluctant to say goodbye to her. Molly became a little emotional.

Everyone in the lab respected her a lot, and she had a pleasant time working with them.

"Okay, I will come back often to visit in the future." She nodded heavily, and the smile on her face became brighter. Her eyes were bright and beautiful under the lights.

When someone started, others also came to toast Molly one after another.

Fortunately, Molly had the foresight to ask Lynn to sit next to her and help her.

Otherwise, she would get drunk soon.

“Ms. May.” At this time, Laila, Mario, and Cody also walked over.

Laila’s eyes were red, and she said emotionally, “We don’t want you to leave.

Can you stay?”

She liked Ms. May.

Molly was beautiful and gentle.

When Molly heard it, she couldn’t help chuckling, “Even if you can’t see me here, you can see me at school.”

Seeing that Laila was about to cry, others might think they would never see each other again. Hearing what Molly said, Laila felt a little better and quickly promised, “Right... Ms. May, I won’t miss a single lesson of yours.”

Cody was quiet as usual, and he said lightly, “Ms. May, I respect all your choices.”

Molly looked at the three of them and felt very glad.

Laila glanced at Cody, and joked with a smile, “Ms. May, Cody is planning to join your research lab after graduation. Please take him in! He’s still your biggest fan, and it has never changed!”

Chapter 1328-“Mr. Scott, good evening.” Sean came to them and greeted them first.

“Oh, you come to pick Molly up. Then I can rest assured.” Jadon smiled with satisfaction.

Sean nodded and didn’t say much. He turned to look at Molly with gentle eyes, and asked softly, “Are you drunk?”

Molly took a step forward and leaned into his arms, "I'm not drunk, just a little dizzy." There was a happy smile on her face. She looked a little drunk but cute. Sean smiled dotingly, hugged her, looked at Jadon, and said politely, "Then I'll take her back."

Jadon nodded, "Go ahead. Be careful on the road."

Eaton was watching this scene with dark eyes. It was hard to see his emotions at this time.

On the way back, Molly was leaning on Sean's shoulder quietly, as if she had fallen asleep. Sean occasionally turned his head to look at her with dotting eyes.

Back at the hotel, after the car was parked, Sean carried her out of the car.

Feeling Sean's movement, Molly slowly opened her eyes. She looked at Sean with drunken eyes and muttered, "Sean, why are there two of you?"

Sean couldn't help laughing, "Are you not drunk?"

This girl was seeing double, and she said she hadn't been drunk?

He carried her back to the presidential suite and gently put her on the bed.

He thought she would just fall asleep like this.

Unexpectedly, Molly sat up suddenly, tugged at her neckline, and got up staggeringly, "Sean, I feel so warm."

Sean quickly supported her, fearing that she would fall to the floor if she lost her footing.

“You drank wine. Of course, you feel warm.”

“I want to take a shower,” Molly said softly and coquettishly.

Hearing her tone, Sean couldn’t get angry at all. He helped her to the bathroom, “Take a shower if you want.”

Molly nodded, lowered her head, and continued to unbutton her shirt.

But she couldn’t.

She frowned and looked a little annoyed.

After a moment, she looked up at Sean and said, “Sean, help me.”

When Sean saw her like this, his heart softened. He couldn’t help but raise his hand and pinch her face, “Okay, I’ll help you.”

Then he helped her unbutton her shirt.

As her shirt was unbuttoned, his eyes became darker and darker.

When he touched her delicate skin with his fingertips, his breathing became heavy. Molly was unaware of it. After taking off her shirt, she turned on the shower.

A jet of water sprayed out, dousing her from head to toe.

It was cold water.

She shivered, “It’s so cold.”

Sean hurriedly turned off the shower. Seeing her shivering from the cold, he felt both sorry and amused.

He took a towel, put it over her head, and then re-adjusted the temperature of the water.

Unexpectedly, Molly reached out and turned on the shower again.

Sean, who was standing under the shower, was caught off guard and got wet.

Turning around, he saw her giggling, "Your clothes are all wet."

If she wasn't drunk, Sean would think she did it on purpose.

"I really can't do anything about you." Sean looked down at his drenched clothes and sighed helplessly. Since his clothes were all wet, he decided to take a shower with her.

He took off his wet clothes. Molly stood behind him. She could see his good figure under the lights.

Her eyes widened, and her gaze seemed to be glued to him.

All of a sudden, she became more courageous...

She took a step forward and wrapped her arms around his waist from behind.

Chapter 1329-is back and began gently rubbing. While rubbing, she smiled sweetly and said," Nothing! I just think my husband is really handsome."

Sean's eyes deepened when he heard "husband". He suddenly turned and pressed her against the wall.

Molly was startled and raised her head, her beautiful eyes confused.

But this look was so alluring.

Sean lowered his head and pressed his forehead against hers.

This was the first time she had called him husband.

He was so excited that he asked hoarsely, "Honey, you call me what? Call me that again, okay?"

Molly blinked her watery eyes and laughed, "Husband!"

What's wrong with that? You're my husband!"

As his eyes deepened further, he said, "Nothing wrong. This is the right way to call me, honey."

Then, as if he couldn't control himself anymore, he lowered his head and kissed her slightly parted lips.

Molly's mind went blank.

In a trance, she felt like she was a log floating on the water. Gales and storms came to her, and she couldn't resist them, so she could only cling to his back.

About an hour later, the shower room's door opened. Sean came out with the drowsy Molly in his arms.

"My hair hasn't been dried," Molly muttered.

Sean put her gently on the bed, pushed her hair gently to one side, and whispered in her ear, "Just keep sleeping. I'll dry it for you."

Molly moved her eyelids as if to open her eyes, but she was too tired to open them. Then, after only saying “okay”, she fell asleep.

Sean looked at her defenseless sleeping appearance, his eyes quite soft.

He fetched the hair dryer, dried her hair, and went to sleep with her in his arms.

Now in Deer Bay Complex in Xesxia.

Kara had just taken a shower, ready to go to bed.

She had declined to attend the evening party with the excuse that she didn’t feel well.

She and Molly were enemies, so there was no point in going to the so-called farewell party.

If she went, she would feel unhappier.

She lit a scented candle, ready to turn off the light.

The doorbell suddenly rang, breaking the silence of the room.

Kara knitted her brows.

‘Who would visit me so late at night?’ She went out of her room to open the door in confusion.

It was Eaton at the door.

The man looked so straight and handsome in the dark night.

Stunned, she frowned and asked, "What's up? You've gone to the dinner party, right?"

Eaton stared at the woman in her pajamas, but her estranged tone made him frown slightly.

"The party ended," He answered.

He looked over her shoulder and said with arched brows, "You aren't gonna ask me to go in?"

Kara was a little hesitant.

Having gone through the previous matter, now she was on guard against Eaton.

In the end, she declined, "It's too late.

I'm going to sleep. You'd better go home now."

After that, she was to close the door.

Eaton moved faster than she did. He reached out, stopping her from closing it.

"What do you want to...?" Kara asked in shock.

Before she could finish that, she was stunned by his red eyes.

Eaton had drunk some wine, a gleam of scarlet in his eyes.

When he looked down at her, his eyes were filled with evilness.

“What are you afraid of, Kara?”

His voice was lower than usual, with a hint of gloom.

Chapter 1330-The handsome face was a few inches away. Kara looked at it, her heart pounding.

She clenched her hands, pretending to be calm. She looked away and said, “I don’t know what you’re talking about.”

Eaton gazed at her quietly for a few seconds before he chuckled, “It seems the last incident has truly cast a shadow on you.”

When this was brought up, Kara turned slightly pale.

She heard his voice again, “But I gave you the antidote, didn’t I?”

“So what?”

Kara suddenly turned her head, glared at him, and gritted her teeth. “I won’t trust the one who has hurt me!”

The two of them looked at each other for a long while.

Eaton finally sighed, “Kara, I won’t hurt you. Trust me one more time, okay?”

Hearing his imploring tone, Kara showed signs of letting down her heavy guard.

Seeing that she was unmoved, Eaton said with a wry smile, “If you are really worried, I’ll just go in and wash down the hangover-prevention pills with water, and then I’ll leave, okay?”

"I feel really terrible now."

Staring blankly at his imploring expression, Kara was hesitant for a long time.

Eaton took the chance to push open the door.

"You!"

Kara had no time to stop him, but watched him go straight to the living room and sit down.

Seeing that she was still at the door, Eaton arched his brows slightly and said calmly, "Bring me some hangoverprevention pills and pour me a glass of water, please."

Kara bit her lips gently, wishing to flare up.

But when she saw that he didn't seem to have other intentions, she finally went to pour him water and get pills for him.

But she had not let down her guard. She kept a distance from him, not daring to get so close.

Eaton didn't say anything about that, but threw back his head to swallow the pills.

The room went quiet.

Kara clenched her hands and asked him to leave coldly, "You've taken the pills and drunk the water. Can you leave now?"

Eaton turned to her and gave an elusive expression. "You want to kick me out so strongly? You should let me have a short rest, right?"

Seeing that he didn't want to leave at all, Kara inevitably became a little anxious and crossed her arms.

After going through the last incident, she was really afraid, afraid she would fall into the old trap.

Minutes ticked by. For Kara, this was torture.

Eaton didn't seem to feel anything. He looked around the room, finally fixed his eyes on Kara, and seemed to ask casually, "How have you been these days?"

Have you had any untoward reactions since you got the antidote shot?"

"No," Kara answered honestly but curtly.

"That's good."

Eaton smiled more broadly.

Kara frowned, having a hunch that something bad would happen.

No!

She couldn't let him stay here any longer.

Then she was to ask him again to leave, but Eaton suddenly took a bottle out of his pocket.

As soon she saw the bottle, her face turned pale!

She knew the bottle!

It was the bottle that used to hold that evil insect!

What did he really want to do?

Kara subconsciously took a few strides back, her face on alert.

“Why are you panicky?”

Seeing her reaction, Eaton chuckled, “Don’t worry. What used to be in it has gone.”

Although she heard him say that, Kara had cold sweat on her back.

She swallowed and tried to calm herself down, asking, “Then ... then what did you take this out for?”

What had happened to her last time was like a nightmare. She wanted to forget it, but she couldn’t.

Now, seeing Eaton’s unusual move, she was really terrified
