

Triplets On SM 1411

Chapter 1411-The situation on the island? Molly frowned, and her eyes fell on the research base not far away again, hesitating.

Without getting a response from her, Eaton asked, "Molly, did you hear what I said?"

Just when he thought she really wouldn't go downstairs, the door suddenly opened.

"You came out?" He looked happy and smiled gently.

Molly glanced at him and walked down the stairs first without any emotion on her face.

In any case, she must first get some information from Eaton.

The maid cooked something simple and light.

"You must have a poor appetite after traveling all the way. You should drink some soup to warm your stomach." Eaton handed her a bowl of soup. Molly didn't pick up her spoon immediately but checked it.

She began to eat when she confirmed that nothing was wrong with it. With a resigned expression, Eaton sat down and said, "Molly, why are you guarding me like this? I've never wanted to hurt you."

Molly didn't bother to argue with him.

When he hurt Sean, he had already hurt her.

But she knew that it would be a waste of time to talk to a paranoid person like Eaton.

So she said unhappily, "Don't you want to tell me about the situation on the island? Go on, then." Seeing her like this, Eaton could only give up and start talking. "Here, you can't go out at night. There is a curfew. You can walk around from 8:00 to 6:00 in the daytime, but you can't go within 500 meters of the research base."

Couldn't go within 500 meters? Molly lowered her head, hiding the emotion in her eyes.

There were so many rules. She felt more and more that this base might be doing shady things!

If it was normal scientific research, no matter how strict it was, the rules would not be so ridiculous.

There was something wrong! A glint of light flashed across Molly's eyes, and she deliberately said in disgust, "What a shabby place! There are so many rules."

She sounded very annoyed. But she was secretly glad.

She was glad that she could go out and walk around. Maybe she could buy a mobile phone, or borrow one from someone.

Eaton, who was sitting opposite, didn't know what she was thinking. But he was still on guard, so he said, "It's always been like this here. Bear with it. Besides, to ensure your safety, I will send Rhett to follow and protect you."

Hearing this, Molly frowned suddenly and looked at him.

Eaton continued, "If you feel bored at home, you can go to the study to read.

There are all the medical books you like, and you can read them whenever you want."

It sounded like he was offering her much freedom. Molly's face darkened, and she tightened her grip on the spoon with undisguised sarcasm in her eyes.

It sounded nice.

Protect her? She preferred to call it “surveillance”. It felt like being imprisoned!

This feeling made her very uncomfortable.

She was extremely disgusted!

Thinking of this, she lost her appetite in an instant. She put down her spoon, got up, and left without even looking at Eaton.

Eaton didn’t care at all. He took a sip of the soup with satisfaction as if nothing had happened.

He was happy that his goal had been achieved. As for other things...

There would be plenty of time!

He would set her free when she fell in love with him!

After returning to her room, Molly walked to the balcony. Looking at this strange environment, she couldn’t help but miss Sean and the children.

They should have reached the Grandset by now...

If such a thing hadn’t happened, she should have been by their side now.

Chapter 1412-Thinking of this, Molly made up her mind to act quickly and find a way to contact Sean as soon as possible.

At this time, Sean and his party finally returned to the headquarters of the Grandset after a long journey.

The headquarters was an ancient castle as luxurious as a palace.

It was late afternoon, and the sun was setting, making the landscape of this place even more magnificent.

The surroundings of the castle were heavily guarded.

At the entrance, there was a guard every few steps, and all of them were tall and strong.

After learning that the Master was coming back, Chester had made preparations early. He led the five Asura Kings and the Stars Group leaders to come out to greet Sean.

After the car stopped slowly, the driver got out and opened the car door respectfully.

Under the watchful eyes of everyone, Sean got off the car.

When he appeared, everyone looked excited because their Master, the spiritual leader of the Grandset, finally came back!

After they had waited for so many years, he finally came!

Seeing the expressions of the crowd, Sean felt a little emotional.

When he was seriously injured and returned home back then, he had never expected that one day he would be able to come back.

In the depths of his deep eyes, some unseen emotions surged...

The three children followed beside Sean. They looked around curiously.

This was their first visit to the Grandset.

Everything was so novel and exciting.

Alex and Ben looked calm as always, without showing a trace of timidity.

But Claudia, seeing so many people, couldn't help being a little timid. She was tightly grasping Sean's big palm.

Mr. Ballard followed behind and looked around.

He had never seen such a scene in his long life.

He couldn't help sighing secretly in his heart.

The Grandset's welcoming ceremony was grand!

Chester stepped forward first, and said with a smile, "Finally! Welcome back."

He patted Sean on the shoulder.

Sean came to his sense. He nodded his head, glanced at everyone with serious eyes, and said slowly, "Guys, long time no see!"

As soon as he said that, the five Asura Kings, the people of Stars Group, and countless other subordinates shouted in unison, "Welcome back, Master!"

It was loud and majestic!

The three children couldn't help but blink and look at each other.

"Do they work for Daddy?" Ben asked in a low voice.

Alex nodded, "I think so. After all, Daddy is their Master."

Ben couldn't help grinning. He raised his head, and said, "It sounds pretty awesome..."

Claudia was taken aback, a little frightened. She couldn't help pulling Sean's hand, and said softly, "Daddy, I want a hug."

Hearing this, Sean couldn't help looking down at the little girl.

Claudia had Molly's eyes.

His eyes instantly softened. He bent over, picked up Claudia, and comforted her softly, "Don't be afraid. They are my subordinates. They won't hurt you."

When Claudia heard this, she nodded obediently, and then praised, "Daddy, you're so amazing."

Seeing this scene, all the subordinates were shocked with their mouth open.

In their impression, their Master was always a decisive and ruthless man.

In the Grandset, everyone was scared of him. They would even find their knees weak under the Master's gaze!

This was the first time they had seen him so gentle.

Chapter 1413-Only the people who had been to Northfolk kept calm. God bless them...they had been astonished even more back then.

“Master, please go in and take a rest.” Chester said, “I’ve already got everything cleaned up.”

Sean nodded and walked up the steps with Claudia in his arms.

After entering the castle, Sean was not in a hurry to rest. He handed the three children to Merak, “You take them up to rest and settle Mr. Ballard well.”

Merak nodded respectfully, “Yes, Master.”

After Merak led them upstairs, Sean resumed his usual indifferent expression, walked to the main seat, and sat down. Chester also sat down, while the others stood beside him respectfully.

Suddenly, the atmosphere in the entire hall became serious. Sean crossed his legs casually, leaned back on the chair, scanned everyone present with dark eyes, and finally looked at Chester, “Tell me about the current situation in Unbounded Land.”

He hadn’t returned to Unbounded Land for several years. With the fight with the Martial Art Union some time ago, the situation here must have changed. Chester immediately informed him of the situation in detail, “After the trip to Domster, the Martial Art Union has shown their ambitions. Recently, there is a bit of chaos in District 16. They seem to want to occupy it.”

Unbounded Land was an independent Free Continent apart from the five continents. There were only regions instead of countries in this place.

In the entire Unbounded Land, there were a total of thirtyseven regions, of which the Grandset governed sixteen districts, and the Martial Art Union governed fifteen districts.

The rest of the area was “No Man’s Land”, and the situation there was chaotic. It was the area that the Martial Art Union had always wanted to take.

Hearing Chester's words, Sean frowned and asked in a deep voice, "Have you found anything?"

Since the Martial Art Union wanted to occupy District 16, it would do something.

Chester was silent for a few seconds and replied, "You have not been in the Grandset these years, and the Martial Art Union has been making frequent moves. I am afraid it has infiltrated two districts secretly, and..."

He paused, and looked more serious than before, "They've also instigated people to make trouble in District 16."

No Man's Land had always been very chaotic. With the instigation of the Martial Art Union, it must have become even more chaotic. Ordinary residents must have a hard time living. After hearing this, Sean's eyes darkened, and he sneered, "I'd like to see whether they are capable of occupying the Grandset's territory!"

Sean narrowed his eyes slowly, showing a trace of sternness, and continued in a cold tone, "The debt owed to us has not been settled yet, and they dare to think so much. They're just daydreaming!"

Chapter 1414-ould already imagine how miserable the Martial Art Union would be.

"Chester, don't show mercy. Now that I'm back, the next move is to clean up the influence of the Martial Art Union!" Sean ordered Chester in a deep voice.

Chester nodded, "I think so too!"

"Send all the subordinates to dig up information, and remove all the important forces of the Martial Art Union one by one. They're so annoying." Sean said in a deep and domineering voice.

In any case, he came back to eliminate the Martial Art Union this time!

Chester noticed that Sean's face was pale, so he said, "Master, I will do as you said. But you have just come back, and you need to take a break for several days. Then we will call the patriarchs of the major families under your command to come to discuss this."

Sean had no objection, "Okay."

After they discussed the matter, Chester asked everyone else to go back to work, leaving only himself and Sean.

After everyone left, Chester asked about the doubts in his heart, "What's going on? You came back in a hurry this time. We've only been back for a few days. I thought you'd come back after a while. Did you come back just to deal with the Martial Art Union? And..."

He looked around and lowered his voice slightly, "Where's Madam? Why didn't she come back with you?"

As soon as Molly was mentioned, Sean's face turned cold and he looked angry.

Chester realized something was wrong, and frowned, "Did something happen?"

Sean pondered for a few seconds before he said slowly, "I was poisoned with Venomous Insect."

"Venomous Insect?!" Chester was stunned and then frowned, "When did it happen? Who did it? Could it be the Martial Art Union again?"

Before he could finish his sentence, Sean raised his hand to signal him not to get agitated, and then continued, "It's not the Martial Art Union. It's Eaton."

"It's him?!" Chester was a little surprised.

He did remember there was such a person, but his impression was not deep.

“To save me, Molly had no choice but to go to him,” Sean said.

That was what happened!

Chester’s expression darkened. His eyes were extremely cold, and he sneered, “It’s been a long time since I saw such a reckless person!”

He knew the relationship between Sean and Molly very well. Now that Molly was taking risks alone, the Master certainly felt guilty and worried.

So, he patted Sean’s shoulder and comforted him, “Don’t worry. I will find a way to rescue Madam.”

Then Sean told Chester that Molly had reached the Unbounded Land and that Phecda, Megrez and Alitoh were following her.

“Thank goodness! That’s good.” Chester breathed a sigh of relief, “With them around, there should be all right, so you can relax first.”

Sean nodded and didn’t say anything else.

He raised his hand and rubbed his aching eyebrows.

After a long flight, coupled with his poor health, Sean looked very pale and exhausted now.

“Hurry up and go upstairs to rest. I’ll let you know if there is any news.” Chester watched him go upstairs before turning and leaving.

When Sean went upstairs, the three children happened to come out of the room.

When they saw Sean, they said in unison, “Daddy!”

Then they ran upto him.

Chapter 1415-“Where’s Mr. Ballard?” Sean asked softly.

“He’s already resting,” Claudia replied in a childish voice.

The long flight was also very exhausting for Mr. Ballard, so he went to bed early.

Sean smiled, “Then why don’t you go to bed?”

Alex and Ben looked at each other with excitement.

“Daddy, we want to take a look around,” Alex said.

Ben and Claudia nodded in agreement.

“Not now,” Sean said slightly, “You guys should have a good meal and then take a rest. You can go play tomorrow.”

The three children were very interested in the castle and wanted to wander around now. But thinking that Daddy was not feeling well, they didn’t insist.

“We’ll listen to Daddy,” Alex said to his younger siblings.

Ben and Claudia nodded.

Then, the three children led Sean to the dining room restaurant. Mommy was not here now, and they should take care of Daddy.

So when they arrived at the dining room, the children encouraged Sean to eat something softly.

“Daddy, the shrimps are delicious. You should eat some.”

“Daddy, eat some of this. It’s good for your health.”

“Daddy, have some soup...”

The children kept talking to Sean.

Seeing the children’s clear eyes filled with anticipation and concern, Sean obediently ate it even though he had no appetite.

Watching Sean eat everything, the three children looked at each other and smiled.

“Daddy, after dinner, you should go to bed early. If you have work, you can do it tomorrow.” Alex said with a serious face.

Claudia added, “That’s right. Otherwise, Mommy would feel sorry.”

Sean felt warm in his heart, and couldn’t help smiling, “Okay, I’ll listen to you.”

After eating, Sean asked Merak and the maid to take the three children to take a bath. No matter how energetic they were, they were still tired after flying for tens of hours.

The children soon fell asleep. Sean went back to his room and lay down to rest for a while.

At this time, Tony knocked on the door and came in.

“Sir, Phecda’s plane has landed, and we just got in touch.”

Hearing this, Sean immediately sat up and asked, "How is Molly?"

Tony hesitated for a few seconds before replying truthfully, "They lost track of Mrs. Anderson."

"What?" Sean's face changed, and his eyebrows were furrowed fiercely, "How did they do things? How could they lose Molly?"

"When Eaton left the country, he took a chartered plane.

Phecda and the others landed a few hours late... But what is certain is that Mrs.

Anderson went to the territory of the Martial Art Union, not the Grandset."

Hearing this, Sean became even gloomier.

He had guessed it, but he still couldn't help worrying when he heard that Molly had gone to the territory of the Martial Art Union. The Martial Art Union... really shouldn't exist!

"Sir, Phecda and the others have gone to track down the location of Mrs.

Anderson, and there should be results soon.

rt Tony said so, but Sean couldn't fall asleep at night. All he could think about was Molly. Molly didn't sleep well either.

She was in a strange place and there were bad people around. How could she dare to sleep with peace of mind?

When she got up early the next morning and went downstairs, she didn't see Eaton but saw Kara sitting in the lobby on the first floor instead.

Kara was eating breakfast, and she looked much better.

But Molly did not say hello to her.

The maid ran over and asked, "Ms. May, what would you like for breakfast? I'll go and prepare it for you."

Chapter 1416-"I'll just grab a bite. Don't bother." Molly nodded to the maid, then picked up a plate of toast and a glass of milk, and sat across from Kara.

Kara kept her head down all the time as if Molly didn't exist.

After taking a bite of the toast, Molly looked around the hall but did not see Eaton.

It looked like he had gone out.

Thinking of this, Molly raised her eyes and looked at Kara who was sitting opposite. She pretended to ask casually, "Why didn't you go to that research base with Eaton? Aren't you his assistant?"

This question angered Kara.

Kara put the cup back on the table. She looked up, glared at Molly, and sneered, "Are you mocking me?"

Molly was startled.

What was wrong with Kara? Did she have persecution delusions?

But... her current situation was indeed not very good. Molly took a sip of milk calmly with a hint of surprise in her eyes, and said slowly, "Oh, he doesn't need you now."

Kara's face turned blue with anger, and she was about to say something when Molly continued, "In this case, why are you still following him? Is it really because he drugs you with a second Venomous Insect?"

Molly folded her hands on the table and looked at Kara with scrutinizing eyes.

Molly was curious why Kara was still willing to follow Eaton after what he had done to her!

Was Kara masochistic?

"Molly, are you trying to turn me against him?" Kara sneered, "I'm telling you, even if Eaton doesn't like me, you can't win me over!"

Win her over?!

Did she have some misunderstanding? Molly couldn't help sneering, "Are you worthy of me trying to win you over? With your personality, I have disliked you since the first day I saw you. I don't want to waste my time!"

This was true.

From the first time they met, they had disliked each other.

It was just that Molly had chosen to ignore Kara when she disliked Kara, but she had never thought of hurting Kara.

Kara was the opposite.

After hearing what Molly said, Kara became even angrier and immediately retorted, "Do you think I like you?"

Molly raised her eyebrows and said, "Kara, if you hadn't made a stupid mistake, things wouldn't have turned out the way they are now."

"Before the first poisoning, you didn't run away, and you were even poisoned the second time. You are something." She gave Kara a thumbs-up sarcastically.

"Molly!" Kara stood up suddenly, pointed at Molly, and cursed, "What do you know? If I didn't listen to him, I would die."

"Die?" Molly curled her lips and looked at Kara as if she was looking at a fool, "Who said you would die? If the Venomous Insect is removed, could he still control you? Why don't you go find a cure?"

Kara couldn't help laughing angrily after hearing this.

It sounded easy, but how could Venomous Insect be cured?

"Let me tell you, Molly, the current situation is that you and I are both subjugated, and no one is better than the other!"

With that, Kara was about to leave.

Suddenly she thought of something, paused, turned around, folded her arms, and looked at Molly maliciously, "Well, you're even more passive than me. If it can't be cured, Sean may lose his sanity, and even develop feelings for me, the bearer of the Mother Insect. You should be burning with anxiety right now."

Chapter 1417-Speaking of this, Kara suddenly looked complacent, feeling that she finally vented her anger.

Annoying Molly was something she had always loved to do.

Kara laughed, "That's good. Even if I don't get what I want, you won't get what you want either."

"I want to see your expression when Sean falls in love with another woman."

She looked at Molly provocatively.

Molly sneered, "Are you insane? You're daydreaming! My man's taste is not that bad. I don't think he will fall in love with someone like you!

"Also, I won't let this happen!"

Seeing Molly so certain, Kara put away her smile and sneered, "You're just fooling yourself! You have no idea how vicious the real Venomous Insect could be. When it attacks, it will drive people crazy."

Kara had thought Molly would be frustrated and flustered. But Molly was calm as always.

Kara suddenly felt annoyed.

"If you don't believe me, let's wait and see!" Kara turned around and walked away.

Molly lowered her head and looked at the toast in her hand. Thinking of what Kara had just said, she instantly lost her appetite.

She was very confident, but she was still disgusted by Kara.

Molly put down the toast. She glanced at Kara's unfinished breakfast out of the corner of her eye, and slowly narrowed her eyes.

From their conversation just now, it seemed that Kara didn't know the way to resolve the Venomous Insect.

Otherwise, with Kara's personality, she wouldn't have stayed by Eaton's side as she did now.

Thinking of this, Molly frowned.

If so, it would be a little troublesome.

Kara hated her so much. She might have to knock Kara unconscious and take Kara away when she left.

Otherwise, Kara definitely wouldn't follow her away.

It was a headache!

Molly took a deep breath. She had to think about it in the long term. At present, there was another important thing, which was to find out the situation of the research base.

She looked around and blinked. Eaton was not there, so she could just take this opportunity and went go out.

She was going to first get a general idea of the island's terrain and conditions so that she could escape later.

Without further ado, she got up immediately and walked quickly to the porch.

Unexpectedly, as soon as she reached the gate, someone directly blocked her.

It was Rhett!

“Ms. May, Where are you going?” Rhett’s tone was stiff as if he was questioning a prisoner.

Molly’s face turned cold, and she refuted unhappily, “What? I can’t even go out to take a walk?”

Although Eaton had said in advance that he would send someone to follow her, she was still very annoyed.

Rhett said expressionlessly, “Okay.”

With that, he stepped aside.

Molly didn’t even look at him anymore and went straight to the outside of the house.

Rhett followed immediately.

Molly could feel him following her without turning her head, and she felt very disgusted. But she didn’t say anything and just kept a cold face.

After leaving the community, she saw a bustling street.

The facilities on this island were very complete, and she could see the traces of daily life and a variety of stores.

Standing by the side of the road, Molly looked around and thought about hailing a taxi to take her around the entire island.

But there seemed to be no taxi on the road.

She could only turn around and ask Rhett behind her, “Are there taxis here?”

Rhett didn't ask much and just said, "On the island, you can only travel by renting a car at a special car rental station."

Chapter 1418-No taxis? Molly frowned. It was troublesome!

But to find out the situation on the island, she could only choose to obey the rules here.

"Take me to rent a car." She said to Rhett.

Rhett didn't say anything and took her to rent a car. Molly sat in the back while Rhett was driving.

"Where do you want to go, Ms. May?" Rhett stared at Molly through the rearview mirror.

"Just drive around." As a newcomer, Molly didn't know where to go. Anyway, she decided to take a look around the island to learn the situation first.

So, Rhett drove the car and wandered. Molly looked at the flashing street scene outside the car window, which was no different from ordinary cities.

Suddenly, a cell phone ringing broke the silence in the car. Rhett glanced at the caller ID, subconsciously raised his eyes to look in the rearview mirror, and unexpectedly met Molly's cold gaze.

He quickly picked it up. Eaton said in a gentle voice as always on the other end of the phone, "Rhett, is Ms. May up? Has she had breakfast? What is she doing now?"

He asked many questions.

It seemed that he was concerned about Molly, but he was actually calling to check on Molly!

Molly sneered. Eaton was hypocritical.

“Ms. May got up and had breakfast. I’m just accompanying her to drive around the island.” Rhett didn’t hide anything and reported everything to Eaton on the other end of the phone.

Eaton wanted to talk to Molly.

But Molly didn’t have the slightest intention to talk to him, so Rhett could only hang up the phone.

They wandered around like this all morning. At noon, Molly randomly found a nearby restaurant for lunch.

After lunch, she wandered around again, and Rhett followed her all the time.

Others might think she was shopping with a bodyguard. Molly pushed open the door of a coffee shop, walked in, went straight to a table by the window, and sat down.

She casually ordered a cup of coffee and a small cake.

After about ten minutes, a young and beautiful woman came over with coffee and cake.

Maybe because she was close to Molly’s age, Molly couldn’t help but take one more look at her.

As soon as the woman met Molly’s eyes, she raised her eyebrows and smiled, “Well, Ms., I haven’t seen you before. Are you new here?”

Her enthusiasm infected Molly, and Molly couldn’t help smiling, “Yes, I’m a newcomer.”

Putting the coffee and cake on the table, the woman sat across from Molly, and introduced herself, “I am the proprietress of this coffee shop, Lesley Fallon...”

Sorry, I like beautiful things and people. I like you when I see you. How about we make friends?"

With that, she stretched out her right hand. Molly raised her eyebrows when she heard such straightforward words.

The woman in front of her looked gentle and friendly. She should be a few years older than Molly. She was a very charming woman.

It was interesting.

"Coincidentally, I also like to make friends with beautiful girls. My name is Molly.

You can also call me Joye."

"Hi, Molly, are you a family member of the doctor on the island, or are you a doctor yourself?" Lesley looked at her curiously.

Molly said, "I am a doctor, not a doctor's family member."

Her tone was light, with a trace of coldness. Lesley heard it and probably guessed that she might have something hidden, so she didn't continue to ask but changed the subject with a smile, "I came here with my fiance. He works in the research base."

Molly's eyes lit up when she heard the words "research base"

Chapter 1419-Lesley didn't notice it and continued, "I felt bored by myself, so I opened a shop for fun. Molly, I'm glad to meet you."

She smiled and said nicely, "If you feel bored, you can come here to sit and chat with me."

"OK..." Molly did not refuse.

In this shabby place, it was rare to meet such a nice woman. Molly thought it was a good way to pass the time.

Lesley became happy. She took Molly's hand, and said with a smile, "Then tell me, what is your skincare regimen? Your skin is so good..."

Molly chuckled, suspecting that this was her real purpose.

But she did not hide it.

The two met for the first time, but they chatted for more than an hour until Rhett came to remind Molly, "Ms. May, it's time to go back."

Molly had been talking with a smile. But when she heard it, her face turned cold instantly.

"I'm going back, and I'll come to see you another day." She said goodbye to Lesley and left the coffee shop.

On the way back, Molly thought a lot.

She couldn't leave the island in a short time. Why not make friends?

Besides, maybe she could find out something about the research base from Lesley.

She didn't notice Rhett in the driver's seat watching her through the rearview mirror from time to time.

When Molly came back, Eaton hadn't come back yet. So Molly went directly upstairs to her room and didn't come downstairs until dinnertime.

At the dinner table, they were all eating in silence, and the atmosphere was relatively peaceful.

Suddenly, Eaton put down his fork, took a paper napkin, and wiped the corners of his mouth. Then he turned to look at Molly and said, "Molly, don't go out for too long in the future."

Hearing this, Molly raised her head and smiled ironically, "What? You brought me to this island and imprisoned me, and you still want to control my social life?"

Eaton, who do you think you are?"

She sounded very harsh and disdainful.

Eaton frowned.

He didn't want her to have too much communication with people outside because she might contact Sean at anytime.

It had taken him a lot of effort to keep her by his side. He would never allow such a thing to happen!

Now that they were at it, Eaton stopped pretending and went straight to the point, "Okay, I won't affect your social life, but..."

He narrowed his eyes, and his eyes turned cold, "If I find out that you contact Sean once, then you should know the consequences!"

This was an unabashed threat!

Molly felt furious. But she didn't want to have another word with this kind of person, so she could only suppress her anger.

Looking at the food on the table, she suddenly felt disgusted.

Molly put down her fork, turned around, and went upstairs.

Kara, who had remained silent all this time, couldn't help but shiver when she heard their dispute.

If Eaton wanted to hurt Sean, he would hurt her first.

In an instant, the painful memory of the attack of the Venomous Insect came back to her. She immediately lost her appetite, put down her fork, and went upstairs too.

Molly returned to her room, still resentful.

If it weren't for Sean and finding out the situation on the island, she would have wanted to drug Eaton and the others and knock them out.

But the reason told her that it was not time yet.

Eaton could say whatever he wanted, and she would just ignore him.

The next day, she took a few medical books and went out.

Rhett didn't stop her and drove her to the coffee shop just like yesterday.

However, Eaton specifically told him to keep a close eye on Molly so that she wouldn't get a chance to contact Sean.

So Rhett did not keep a certain distance to monitor Molly this time. He stood behind Molly and stared at her and Lesley.

Chapter 1420-However, Molly didn't mind. Anyway, he could stare however he wanted.

"Come, try our new coffee." Lesley walked over and handed her a cup of coffee with a smile. Molly smiled back, "Thank you."

Lesley looked up at Rhett, and asked tentatively, "Would you like a cup?"

Rhett shook his head expressionlessly and refused. Lesley didn't insist. She pulled a chair and sat across from Molly.

Molly took a sip of the coffee, and her eyes lit up, "It's delicious, very mellow."

"I'm glad you like it." Lesley noticed the medical book by Molly's hand, and joked with a smile, "Well, it turns out you're here to study?"

Molly smiled, "Yes and no. As a doctor, I need to read some books. Live and learn!"

"My fiance said the same thing." Lesley couldn't help laughing, "He always encourages me to read more books."

Hearing this, Molly raised her eyebrows and asked casually, "So, Lesley, do you know medicine too?"

"Well, yes, but I only know a little bit about it." Lesley smiled shyly, "And most of them are about alternative medicine."

"Alternative medicine?" Molly suddenly became interested, "I did a lot of research on alternative medicine."

"Really?" Lesley was also surprised.

The two found a common topic and began to chat. While chatting, they casually talked about medical techniques.

Lesley didn't hide anything. She generously told Molly everything she knew.

She indeed knew a little bit about medicine.

Even so, Molly learned from her words that her fiancé's background might not be simple because some of what Lesley said involved ancient medical techniques.

Generally, those who mastered this kind of medical technique were probably from ancient medical families.

She looked at Lesley with a more inquisitive look, wondering if she was from the Grandset.

Thinking of this, she pondered for a while and asked, "Your fiancé is an outstanding doctor. I'd like to get to know him if there is a chance. What's his name?"

Hearing this, Rhett immediately said, "Ms. May, you'd better not inquire about another woman's fiancé. Otherwise, Mr. Scott might be unhappy."

When Molly heard this, her face instantly turned cold. Her hand resting on the table was slowly clenched.

Lesley glanced at Rhett, and couldn't help laughing, "What?

Is he your boyfriend? Isn't this too strict?"

Molly sneered, "He's not my boyfriend. He's just an insignificant person. Don't tease me like this, Lesley."

From Molly's words, it could be heard how much she hated that man Mr. Scott.

Lesley realized something was wrong, and smiled awkwardly, "Oh, I see. I was just joking."

Then she took a deep look at Molly. Molly forced a smile. Her good mood was ruined by Rhett.

But now she could only bear it, and she shouldn't act too hastily. Otherwise, it would be difficult for her to come out next time.

After collecting herself, Molly glanced at Rhett out of the corner of her eye and stopped asking about Lesley's fiancé.

Molly asked, "Are you interested in reading medical books? If you're, I'll bring you some more tomorrow. I happen to have some ancient medical books."

"No way! Do you also want me to read medical books? I'm starting to regret having you as my friend." Lesley immediately looked bitter and said jokingly, as if she had been deeply troubled by it.
