

Triplets On SM 1471

Chapter 1471-t's wrong?" Seeing Molly staring at him with fixed eyes, Sean couldn't help smiling, "Don't you like these clothes?"

"Yes, I like them all."

Molly approached the closet and glanced over these clothes. Then she turned to him with a sweet smile, "I like everything you prepared." Saying that, she took a pair of pajamas, "I'll take a bath first."

Sean nodded and watched her walk into the bathroom.

After about 40 minutes, Molly finished her shower. The first thing she did when she came out was to throw the clothes she had worn before into the trash.

Hearing the noise, Sean looked over at her.

Molly curled her lips and said, "It's dirty."

The clothes were stained with blood, not to mention that the blood was from the lunatic Eaton. She would not keep this eyesore.

Sean nodded and didn't say anything. But when he noticed that her hair was still wet, his eyebrows instantly tightened.

"Why don't you dry your hair?"

He came up to her disapprovingly and pulled her to him.

However, just as he grasped her wrist, he heard a painful cry from her.

“Ah!”

Hearing this, Sean’s face turned ashen. He looked down and found a bruise on her wrist.

His eyes were immediately turned cold and gloomy, “What happened?”

Molly also found it just now. She frowned and said after thinking, “Maybe I got it accidentally when I argued with Eaton.”

She didn’t feel pain at that time, but now it hurt a little.

Sean’s expression became colder when he heard that it was caused by Eaton.

The apple of his eye was treated like this by that scum Eaton. He would remember this.

Soon, he calmed down and stared at Molly gently, “I’ll rub it for you later.”

Molly nodded, “Okay.”

“But before this, let me dry your hair.”

He brought a dry towel to wipe her hair.

His movements were very gentle.

The room was quiet.

And it was even quiet enough to hear each other’s heartbeats clearly.

Molly's heart was filled with emotions.

Although they had not been separated for a long time, these days, every second of her life was like a year.

After drying her hair, he went to get the ointment. Then he pulled her to sit down on the edge of the bed and rubbed her wrist gently.

A long time later, he asked, "Feeling better?"

Molly nodded, "Yes, much better."

"That's good."

Sean rubbed her head and got up, "Then I go to take a shower." Molly watched him walk into the bathroom, and then she heard the sound of showering coming out. She kept her hands on the edge of the bed, dangled her legs, and waited for him quietly.

After a while, Sean walked out of the bathroom.

Molly turned around. As soon as she looked at his face, her eyes immediately widened with surprise, "You..." Sean returned to his original appearance.

Only when he came closer did Molly realize it, "How did you get this?"

Sean took out a realistic mask, "Put some potion on it, and then paste it on your face." "Let me see."

Molly instantly took it over and looked at it carefully.

Then, her eyes scanned his face again and again.

And this was still not the end. She even got closer and asked, "Won't it damage your skin?" Sean laughed, "No."

Molly reached out and touched his face. Then she blinked, "That's true. It's still so smooth."

Looking at her touching him, Sean felt a little funny, but he didn't stop her.

After a long time, Molly studied enough and said, "I do have to admit, your original appearance looks more pleasing."

Saying this, she kissed his cheek.

Sean raised his eyebrows and immediately put his arms around her. Then he lowered his head to kiss her slightly open red lips.

Chapter 1472-ains she had suffered here.

Feeling his love and care, Molly slowly closed her eyes and enjoyed his tenderness.

If possible, she wished time could stand still.

After quite a while, Sean left her lips and pressed his forehead against hers.

They stared at each other and saw themselves in each other's eyes.

"From now on, forget everything and just stay with me," Sean uttered in a low and gentle voice.

His words aroused her heart tremble, and she felt she couldn't have loved him more.

She nodded and responded, "Okay."

She wouldn't be afraid of anything while being with him.

Having been frightened and cried at night, Molly was actually very tired, and she tried to stay awake not to worry Sean.

She fell asleep the moment her head touched the pillow.

Sean was with her, gazing fixedly at her peaceful face. He held her hand tightly, not wanting to let go of it.

At around two o'clock in the morning.

Sure that Molly would not wake up, Sean stood up and walked out of the room quietly.

Phecda and Alkaid were waiting for him outside.

At the sight of Sean, they bowed respectfully. "Master."

They deliberately lowered their voices so as not to disturb Molly in the room.

Sean's face was dark, his eyes looked freezing cold, and he gave a frightening vibe.

"Where are Eaton and Kara?" Sean asked.

"We've locked them in an abandoned house by the sea," Phecda answered truthfully.

Sean nodded. Then he looked at Alkaid and ordered, "Stay with Molly and protect her."

"Yes, Master. I'll protect Madam well," Alkaid replied.

"Let's go." Sean went downstairs, immediately followed by Phecda.

Half an hour later, they parked the black car outside a dilapidated house by the sea.

Sean got out of the car and went straight into the house.

The large house was abandoned for long, in which the air was damp, and it appeared eerie in the dim light.

As Sean moved in step by step, his vibe became increasingly terrifying as if he had been Death.

Phecda, who was walking beside him, felt slightly nervous and clenched his hands subconsciously when sensing Sean's change.

Eaton and Kara were locked in the room at the end of the corridor on the second floor.

Megrez and Alioth kept guard outside the room.

Seeing Sean show up at the staircase, they became serious and stood up at once.

As Sean came near, they greeted him respectfully. "Master."

Megrez opened the door the next second.

Sean stepped in and saw Eaton and Kara lying unconscious on the ground.

As soon as seeing them, he recalled what Molly had suffered in the past few days, and his face turned dark.

“Wake them up!” Phecda said.

Megrez stepped forward without a second’s hesitation, grabbed Eaton’s head, and hit it against the ground hard.

Eaton was woken up in pain.

He opened his eyes. Obviously, he didn’t know what was going on and looked around blankly.

Before he finished examining the surroundings, he noticed Sean.

Chapter 1473-Sean gave out an intimidating aura. His presence was prominent.

Eaton was stunned. He thought he’d gotten it wrong. He stared at Sean incredibly.

“You...” Eaton paused. Then he exclaimed like he was looking at a ghost, “Sean, what are you doing here?”

Sean looked down at him, a stern look on his face. He kicked Eaton in the chest sharply and then stomped Eaton to the ground.

Sean’s face was extremely cold, not a trace of emotion in his eyes. He hissed, “Why do you think I’m here?”

Eaton’s chest was in great pain. He could barely breathe.

Gradually, he felt his neck sore, his forehead aching, and a strong taste of blood in his throat.

Then he realized what a situation he was in.

Eaton was shocked. He looked at Sean with a deadly stare and asked, "What's going on? Why are you on the island? How could you be on the island?"

Suddenly, he remembered what had happened last night.

After his fight with Molly, he had gone to his room to treat his wounds.

Unexpectedly, Rhett broke into his room and knocked him out.

Thinking about it, Eaton glanced around. Instead of Rhett, he saw Kara, who was tied up.

Eaton's face changed color. He questioned, "Where's Rhett? And where is Molly? Where did you take her?"

When Eaton spoke of Molly, Sean's expression became more frightening and a stern look flashed across his eyes.

Sean grabbed Eaton by the hair, pulled him up off the floor, and then slammed his head against the wall!

It was so brutal that Eaton almost passed out.

Sean roared, his tone as frightening as the devil, "How dare you mention Molly?

She is my wife. Of course, I took her away. How dare you covet her?"

Eaton's head was aching. As soon as Eaton heard Sean's words, his eyes became bloodshot. He looked crazy. "No! Molly is mine, mine!"

"Yours? How dare you say that? Eaton Scott, you're risking your life."

A storm gathered in Sean's eyes. He abruptly grabbed Eaton and slammed him to the ground.

Eaton screamed out in pain. His chest heaved with rage.

Molly's disregard for him these days and her thoughts of Sean had made Eaton lose his mind.

Eaton wished he could kill Sean right now!

"Sean, you're out of your mind. Are you forgetting about the Venomous Insect inside you? If you want to die, I can do you a favor!"

As Eaton said this, he tried to get up from the ground.

But Sean wouldn't let him. He stomped Eaton straight to the ground again. He looked down at Eaton like the latter was an ant. "You're a despicable man. You only conspire behind the scenes. How dare you threaten me? If I make you a cripple now, I wonder what you can do!"

Then Sean waved at Phecda.

Phecda immediately took out a pistol from his pocket and said, ' Master, let me do it for you. Don't get your hands dirty.'

But Sean stopped him, No, I'll do it myself!"

Sean preferred to handle Eaton himself.

He took the pistol.

Seeing the pistol, Eaton was terrified. He screamed, "Sean, what are you doing?"

I'm warning you, you better think twice before you do anything!"

Chapter 1474-When Sean heard Eaton's question, his face hardened." Scared now, douchebag? Why weren't you afraid when you imprisoned Molly here and put her under surveillance?"

As Sean said, he pulled the trigger and shot Eaton directly in the arm.

The blood gushed out, and Eaton yelled in agony.

However, Sean didn't even blink his eyes. "Why weren't you afraid when you got drunk and wanted to harm her?"

Boom.

Sean squeezed the trigger and shot Eaton in the arm again. The second wound was right next to the first.

Eaton's arm ached so much that he sweated coldly.

Veins protruded on his forehead, and his face was contorted with anguish.

But it was not over.

Sean's eyes became terrifyingly colder. 'Why weren't you afraid when you planned to rape her tonight?"

Boom, boom, boom.

Sean fired three shots in succession, and altogether five blood holes appeared in Eaton's right arm.

"Ahhhh—" Eaton's yell was so piercing and loud that the basement seemed to be shattered.

Kara was awakened by his yell.

Her mind went blank when she saw Eaton in rags and Sean like Death.

'What has happened?

'Why is Sean here?' Kara quickly cast her mind to tonight.

When Molly struggled against and quarreled with Eaton with a dagger, Kara hid in the room in fear and locked the door.

Later...

Later, Rhett kicked open the door, came in, and knocked her out!

At the thought of it, Kara realized that there was indeed something off about Rhett.

At the same time, she also realized that Eaton and she were at the mercy of Sean now.

Trembling with terror, she stepped back subconsciously.

When hearing someone moving, Sean took a look at Kara.

The moment Kara met Sean's eyes, her face turned bloodless, as she was fearful that Sean would aim the gun at her the next second.

Sean's eyes were cold.

He loathed Kara, too.

If this silly woman hadn't been used repeatedly by Eaton, Molly wouldn't have suffered that much.

However, Sean didn't mean to harm Kara.

After all, the mother insect was still in Kara's body.

Sean withdrew his gaze.

Eaton was about to faint.

But he forced himself to stay awake and glared at Sean.

"Sean, how dare you harm my arm? Do you know who I am? Do you know who supports the research base? Since you wound me, don't think you can leave the island!

"Moreover, the insect in your body will eat away your sanity inch by inch and make you gradually forget Molly. It will control you in the end! Enjoy your last happiness. I'm waiting for the day when you completely go mad!"

As Eaton had the strength to speak, Sean couldn't help kicking him away with disgust. "Being harmed by trash like you is indeed a stain on my life. But everything will soon come to an end."

Then Sean threw the gun to Phecda and ordered coldly, "Guard him. Don't let him die. After all, he is young, and his * good days' are in store for him. By the way, let him see with his own eyes how I'll leave this island!"

"Yes, Master," Megrez replied and then asked, "What about the woman?"

Sean cast a glance at Kara indifferently and said, "Lock her." "Yes, Master,"

Megrez answered.

Chapter 1475-After leaving the abandoned house by the sea, Sean came back.

Alkaid was still standing outside the door.

When she saw Sean, she reported at once, "Master, Mrs. Anderson is sleeping soundly."

Sean nodded and said faintly, "Good. Go and have a rest."

Alkaid left quickly.

Only then did Sean gently push the door in.

In the room, under the warm yellow light, Molly looked lovely with long hair spread on the pillow, and half of her face was buried in the pillow.

When Sean saw this beautiful picture, the coldness in his eyes dissipated quietly.

He slowly raised his hand to touch her face with tenderness.

However, he suddenly saw a drop of blood on the back of his hand before he touched her.

It must have been splashed on him in that abandoned house.

He didn't want to get her dirty, so he stopped in time and went to the bathroom instead.

He washed himself and changed into clean clothes before lying beside her.

Sean's movements were very light, but he still disturbed Molly.

Molly leaned over instinctively, naturally put herself into his arms, and rubbed against his chest.

The faint coldness on Sean's body faded away.

All the anger and all the murderous intentions came to naught at this moment.

Sean couldn't help hugging Molly tightly and kissing her forehead gently, and then they both went to sleep.

The next morning, Molly opened her eyes and saw the familiar face in front of her.

She could not react for a moment before she remembered the thing that had happened last night.

She was in a good mood, which was better than the sunny weather outside.

She hadn't had a good night's sleep since she came to this island. Yesterday, they finally met each other, and she finally got a good night's sleep.

Now, staying in his arms, she was a little unwilling to get up.

Molly smiled slightly, put her arms around his waist, and continued cuddling on the bed.

At this time, Sean also woke up and stared at her.

Molly smiled brightly and uttered happily, "Good morning."

"Good morning," Sean responded with a smile.

He just woke up, so his voice was a little hoarse.

Hearing his deep and charming voice, Molly felt that her ears were starting to burn. She could not help rubbing them and then said, "So early in the morning, you are seducing me. Mr. Anderson, don't you think you are too foul?"

Sean was stunned. Then he couldn't help chuckling and hugging her, "I don't seem to have done anything, have I? Too foul?"

Molly snuggled up to him obediently and said, "It's scary that I'm seduced even if you don't do anything."

"Your resistance is a little weak. I'll show you what a real foul is..."

As he said that, he suddenly took Molly's hand and put it on his stomach.

When Molly touched his tight but not exaggerated eight abs, her cheeks flushed, and she subconsciously wanted to withdraw her hand.

Sean grabbed her and said with a chuckle, "Is this too much? Come on, Mrs.

Anderson, how timid are you? This is just the beginning!"

Molly blushed and wanted to admit defeat, "I was wrong. I admit I am no match for you in flirting."

"Flirting?" Sean's voice was dull and hoarse. "I don't just want to flirt with you."

Last night, I deliberately restrained myself because of your feelings. In fact, I wanted to do more, so..."

He whispered in her ear, "Satisfy me now, okay?"

Molly blushed and wanted to refuse, but Sean held her and didn't let her go.

Chapter 1476-More than an hour later, the two of them had finally done and got up.

After showering, Molly went downstairs with Sean.

But she didn't expect to see Eaton just as she reached the first floor.

Molly was startled and subconsciously took a step back. Her face changed, and she questioned in a stern voice,"

Why... Why are you here?"

'How dare this madman appear here?' "Eaton" hurriedly waved his hand, "Mrs. Anderson, don't worry. I'm Phecda."

Hearing his words, Molly froze.

'Is he... Phecda?' Noticing this, Sean smiled, patted her head, and explained," Eaton's identity is special, so he can't disappear. Don't worry, n 'Oh, I see. I thought that madman had escaped.' Molly breathed a sigh of relief.

After calming down, she carefully examined Phecda's face.

'His face is exactly the same as Eaton's. Even their standing postures are almost indistinguishable.'
Noticing her gaze, Phecda was a little embarrassed.

At this moment, Alkaid suddenly appeared and shouted in a delicate voice, "Mrs.

Anderson!"

Molly turned her head and found that it was Beth.

To be exact, it was the 'Beth' Alkaid disguised as.

"My disguise was successful, right?" Alkaid raised her chin and said proudly.

Molly was really impressed and gave her a thumbs up, "Of course. I didn't even realize you weren't the real Beth."

But...

After looking at "Eaton" and "Beth" and then at "Rhett", Molly had extremely complicated feelings.

It was a bit strange to get well along with so many "enemies" Although she knew they were in disguise, she couldn't accept it.

So she said to Phecda, "I think... you'd better hide away next time you see me.

I'm afraid I won't be able to resist beating you up!"

Alkaid couldn't help but laugh out loud and looked at Phecda with sympathetic eyes, "I can't imagine that you would be beaten up by Mrs. Anderson."

Phecda had an innocent face.

If he could, he wouldn't want to disguise himself as Eaton.

Sean also couldn't help but laugh out loud. He pulled Molly and said gently, "Let's eat breakfast first."

He was afraid that Molly would really beat Phecda up if they stayed here a while longer.

Anyway, Phecda was his capable man.

Molly nodded, looked at Phecda, Alkaid and her assistant, and then followed Sean to the dining room to eat breakfast.

"These are all your favorites." Saying that, Sean served her a bowl of congee and a spoon.

Molly took them with a smile.

"Try this," Sean forked a fried egg onto her plate. When he saw her sip the congee with a satisfied smile, his heart suddenly softened.

There was a good atmosphere during the breakfast.

After a while, Molly asked, "Do you want Phecda to pretend to be Eaton?"

Sean nodded.

"Will that work?" Molly frowned, "What if they find out? After all, Eaton is a doctor. If Phecda goes into the research base, he will definitely be exposed."

Phecda didn't know anything about medicine.

"He pretended to be sick and took leave these days," Sean looked at her with a reassuring smile, "I'll take care of the rest of things. Don't worry."

Molly nodded and said reassuringly, "That's good. But...

Where's the real Eaton?"

'Has Sean already dealt with him?' When Sean heard the word "Eaton", his eyes went cold. He said, "Don't worry.

He's not dead yet. I won't let him die so quickly."

It would be too good for Eaton if he was dead so quickly!

Chapter 1477-Molly nodded.

She took no pity on Eaton at all.

His life had nothing to do with her.

She just thought Jadon should know everything, as Eaton was his son anyway.

She talked about her idea with Sean, who didn't offer any suggestions but said, "Do as you've decided."

After breakfast, Molly called Jadon with Sean's phone.

It was answered quickly. As Sean's phone number was unfamiliar to Jaden, he queried, "Who is that?"

“Mr. Scott, this is Molly.”

Jadon was very surprised to hear Molly’s voice. “Molly?”

Molly tightened her hold on the phone and uttered, “Yes. This is me.”

“Why do you suddenly call me? What’s up?”

At Jadon’s question, Molly kept silent for a few seconds and then spoke, “Well, Mr. Scott, I called you today because I wanted to tell you something about...

Eaton.”

The moment Molly mentioned Eaton, Jadon got annoyed and scolded, “That brat somehow chose to do research abroad. And he stopped working at home.”

Molly could feel Jadon’s anger from his tone and words, but it seemed he hadn’t known what Eaton had done.

Molly became hesitant at the moment, unsure whether she should tell him the truth.

“Molly, are you listening to me?” Without getting her answer, Jadon asked tentatively.

Molly interrupted her wandering thoughts, took a deep breath, and replied, “Mr.

Scott, I’m listening to you. Actually...

I called you to tell you what Eaton has done abroad...”

Then she told Jadon all Eaton had done, including how Eaton put the venomous insect into Sean's body, how he threatened her, and how he worked for the organization to develop SRS.

Having known the truth, Jadon was shocked and didn't calm down until quite a while later. "Molly, is what you said true?"

"Mr. Scott, you know me. If it wasn't true, I wouldn't tell you," Molly replied.

"How come? How come that brat does such evil things?" Jadon couldn't accept that his most outstanding son would be such a wicked person.

Molly could sense his disappointment even on the phone, and she felt slightly sad.

After all, Jadon was her respectable teacher.

"Molly, I'm going there now, and I'll definitely teach that brat a lesson," Jadon uttered.

"Mr. Scott, don't bother to come." Molly stopped him right away. "The island is not easy to get on, and we can't leave."

"Why?" Jadon queried.

Molly briefed Jadon on the current situation, but she didn't say that Sean had controlled Eaton because she worried it would hurt Jadon.

"Well..." Jadon felt it hard to accept the fact and could only sigh helplessly in the end. "I'm sorry, Molly. I didn't expect him to do those things... Don't worry. I'll contact that brat as soon as possible, and I won't let him harm you again."

Jadon's words warmed Molly's heart, and she uttered, "Mr. Scott, I don't know what Eaton will end up. Perhaps you need to be prepared."

Jadon guessed what would happen through Molly's words. However, he couldn't plead with Molly to save Eaton as Eaton had done those dreadful things first.

"I'll definitely punish him when I see him later."

The two hung up after chatting for another while.

Sean listened to their conversation from beginning to end.

When the conversation ended, he came to hug Molly and said, "It's okay if you want to let Eaton go for the sake of Mr.

Scott."

Chapter 1478-"Let go of Eaton?"

Molly shook her head, ' Why should I let Eaton go? He's evil. He deserves what he gets."

Then she sighed and continued, "Although Eaton deserves what he gets, I feel guilty to Mr. Scott. Eaton colluded with the Martial Art Union. I don't feel sympathy for him."

Thinking about what Eaton had done, Molly was angry.

A jerk like him doesn't deserve my forgiveness.' Sean smiled, "Since then, let me deal with him. You don't have to."

Sean had been worried that Molly would sympathize with Eaton. Now it seemed he was wrong.

"All right." Molly nodded, "It's for the best."

She never wanted to see Eaton, the psycho, again.

She was sure Sean would take care of it.

But- "What about Kara?" Molly asked, "Now I'm free, so I can work with Mr. Ballard together on the Venomous Insect."

The most important thing at that moment was to get the Venomous Insect out of Sean's body as soon as possible, and Kara was crucial.

"Kara is under our control. Don't worry." Sean smiled at her, "You can focus on your research with Mr. Ballard."

Molly was relieved. She cheered up.

"Sean," she said in a soft voice as she stepped forward and hugged him, "Trust me. I will find the cure soon."

Sean wrapped his arms around her waist and kissed her down on the lips with a smile, "Okay, I'll wait."

Looking into Sean's affectionate eyes, Molly couldn't help burying her face into his arms and raising her lips into a sweet smile.

Sean gently stroked her soft hair and whispered, "Don't put too much pressure on yourself. I believe in you and Mr.

Ballard. You will definitely find the cure."

"We will."

Molly hugged him tighter. She took a deep breath and murmured, "I want to spend the rest of my life with you."

And she would never let him be affected by the Love Curse and fall in love with Kara.

Although her voice was very soft, Sean heard it. He kissed her hair and said, "We will."

After the two hugged quietly for a while, Molly made a video call to the kids. The kids were at the Grandset.

The call was picked up quickly.

The kids all crowded in front of the camera. As soon as they saw Molly, their eyes welled up with tears.

"Mommy!" The children sobbed.

Molly's heart immediately tensed up. She hurriedly and gently coaxed, Don't cry.

Mommy's here!" Her eyes welled up with tears, too.

It had been more than ten days since Molly had sneaked away and she hadn't seen the children since then. In the past, when she wasn't with the children, they could still have video chat. But this time, the situation was so special that she couldn't call them at all.

Now that she saw the children, she almost burst into tears.

"Mommy, you're bad. Why didn't you call us? Have you forgotten about us?

Don't you love us anymore?"

On the other end of the line, the children were crying violently. Their lips pursed.

They looked so miserable.

"I'm sorry. I'm sorry. Mommy's bad." Molly repeated her apology. She felt extremely guilty.

She raised her right hand and swore, "I'll never do this again. Can you forgive me?"

With her repeated assurances, the children finally stopped crying. They missed their Mommy so much

Chapter 1479-Molly's heart melted. She said, "Don't worry. Your dad and I will be back soon."

After the video call with their three little ones, Molly couldn't shake off the lingering sadness.

Sean quickly pulled her into a warm embrace, gently comforting her. "It's not your fault. Don't be so hard on yourself."

"I just miss them so much," Molly sniffled.

She had never missed her kids so much.

Her tearful voice tugged at Sean's heartstrings, and he held her even tighter. "I know. I'll wrap things up here as quickly as I can, and we'll head back."

Nestled in his arms, Molly nodded. "Okay."

After a moment, she pulled away from his embrace.

Furrowing her brow, she mumbled, "Ever since I've been with you, I feel like I've turned into such a crybaby."

Sean tenderly stroked her head, reassuring her. "When you're with me, cry when you need to cry and laugh when you want to laugh. There's no need to hold back. I'm here to spoil you."

A smile bloomed on Molly's face, her heart swelling with warmth.

But she knew she couldn't afford to be overly sentimental right now. There was work to do.

Determined to focus on finding an antidote for the venomous insect, she contacted Mr. Ballard to inform him that she was safe.

"It seems that Sean is quite efficient. Thankfully, you're fine."

The old man's joyful voice rang through the phone.

Molly smiled. "I'm sorry for making you worry."

"What are you talking about?" the old master replied, feigning helplessness. "I'm your teacher, after all. It's only natural for me to worry about you, isn't it?"

Molly's heart warmed before she dove into the main topic. "Could you send me the information on the venomous insect that you've gathered recently?"

Mr. Ballard found her workaholic demeanor amusing.

He agreed readily. "Sure! I'll send it to you shortly."

"Thank you."

After ending the call, Molly promptly received the files from Mr. Ballard. Her smile vanished, replaced by a focused expression as she studied the data intently.

By the time she tore herself away from the computer, it was nearly noon.

She decided to cook a meal for Lesley and introduce her to Sean.

“Mrs. Anderson.”

Alkaid greeted her as she descended the stairs.

“Please invite Lesley over,” Molly instructed.

“Sure.”

Alkaid replied before departing to fetch the woman.

Molly headed to the kitchen to prepare lunch.

At noon, Lesley arrived as expected.

Upon seeing Sean, Lesley widened her eyes in surprise and shot a puzzled look at Molly. “Who is this?”

Molly smiled. “He’s Vaughn and also my husband, Sean.”

“Vaughn? Your husband?”

Lesley’s astonishment grew as she casually appraised Sean.

“They look so different. What’s going on?”

Molly laughed and quickly explained the situation.

Understanding dawned on Lesley, and she glanced at Molly with a hint of teasing. “So, you flirted with him that day because you recognized him, right?”

“Yes.”

Molly admitted it.

Lesley’s laughter grew louder. “Your little love story is quite the drama.”

She then extended her hand to Sean. “Let’s get reacquainted. Hello, I’m Lesley.”

Sean shook hands with him and introduced himself. “Sean.”

Lesley withdrew her hand and raised an eyebrow. “No wonder you were so protective of Molly. Turns out you followed her here. That’s touching.”

The corners of Sean’s mouth quirked up in a subtle smile.” You give me too much credit.”

Chapter 1480-When lunch was ready, Sean, Molly, and Lesley took their seats.

Molly told Lesley that now Eaton was under their control.

After hearing her words, Lesley immediately picked up her wine glass and said to Molly, “Congratulations! You are free and safe now.”

Molly smiled, "Thank you, Lesley. During my time on the island, you made me feel everything was not that difficult," Molly spoke with sincerity.

"I have the same feeling," Lesley smiled brightly, "I'm happy to meet you."

The three of them had a pleasant meal.

After eating, Lesley didn't stay much longer and went back to her coffee shop.

Molly stayed at home and continued to sort out the materials sent by Mr.

Ballard.

After looking through all the materials, she found that most of them were related to Love Curse and finally got a solution that the two kinds of Venomous Insects in Kara's body needed to be led out at the same time. This was exactly what Mr. Ballard had said.

Molly twisted her eyebrows because she knew it would be incredibly difficult to put the theory into practice.

Her heart could not help but become heavy, and she held the mouse tightly, shouting in her heart, 'Eaton Scott, this crazy guy doesn't deserve to be a doctor! He actually put two kinds of Venomous Insects in Kara's body. How cruel is he!' Maybe Mr. Ballard knew that she would feel uncomfortable after she read all the materials, so he sent her a message: [ Molly, try your best to know what kind of Venomous Insect is in Kara's body as soon as possible. I am afraid that the Venomous Insect we don't know will affect Love Curse and lead to variation.] After Molly read this message, her heart became heavier.

Two kinds of Venomous Insects might not coexist. Mr. Ballard had reason to worry.

Sean came in with coffee. Noticing that she was in a bad mood, he asked with concern, "What's the matter?"

He put the coffee at her hand.

Molly looked up and saw his concerned eyes. She hesitated for a few seconds before truthfully telling him the situation now.

“There are two kinds of Venomous Insects in Kara’s body. They may mutate, so I’m afraid it will be more difficult to solve this problem.”

Seeing the worries on her face, Sean went over and put his arms around her shoulder, comforting her in a soft voice. “Don’t worry, I’ve asked Alioth to arrange for you to see Kara tomorrow. You can do a full examination for her.”

“Okay,” Molly replied with a sigh, “That’s all we can do now.”

She didn’t care about Kara, but she was afraid that Sean would be affected, so she couldn’t help worrying.

Her worries soon came true.

In the evening, when Molly returned to her room, she saw Sean leaning against the head of the bed, frowning and looking very uncomfortable.

Her heart thumped, and she hurried over, “Sean, are you not feeling well?”

Sean looked up at her and forced a smile, “I don’t know why, but I felt Love Curse was attacking me.”

Molly’s face suddenly changed.

She quickly tore off his clothes, and her eyes flickered when she saw the blood streaks on his chest.

“I’m fine. I can stand it,” Sean soothed her gently.

His face looked a little pale, but he still said he was fine.

Molly was worried and also confused, “Why does it attack you again? Aren’t Eaton and Kara under our control? Why does it happen so suddenly?”