

Triplets On SM 1501

Chapter 1501-A different wife?

Interesting?

Sean stared attentively at the disguised Molly, his eyes tender. He said slowly, "No matter how her appearance has changed, the one beneath the surface is still her. And I think her original appearance is the most beautiful."

As he spoke this, his eyes were full of love.

Molly put down the mirror, her heart in sweetness.

Though reluctant, she pretended to complain, "This is not fair. I also want a handsome guy, a different husband."

She didn't want him to be disguised as Vaughn again.

That was too ordinary.

So she said to Alkaid, "Can you make him a different one?"

"Okay, no problem."

Alkaid became a little excited. It was a rare chance that she could make Sean's face the one she wanted it to be.

She immediately turned around to prepare tools.

Sean came to Molly, squeezed her ear, and smiled helplessly, "You want a new one so much?"

Molly beamed, "No matter how much your appearance has changed, you're yourself, just as you commented on me."

Sean arched his brows and said, "Was I wrong?"

"No, not at all."

Molly bit her lips and said shyly, "Actually, I have a thought."

"What is it?" Sean was a little confused.

Molly stuck out her tongue and turned to ask Alkaid, "Can I have a try in a while?"

She wanted to try it?

Was this her thought?

Amused and helpless, Sean said, "Do you want me to be your test specimen?"

"No." Molly wrinkled her nose and said, "I just want to have a try. I'll leave the other complicated steps to Alkaid."

She was truly curious about the art of disguise. It made her hands itch just by looking at it, so she wanted to try it herself.

Since she wanted to do it, how could Sean dare to stop her?

Although he was speechless, he had to sit on the sofa to let her do that.

“Madam, this is the potion. Apply some on Master’s face.”

Alkaid handed the potion to her.

Molly took the bottle, poured some on the makeup cotton, and began applying it gently on Sean’s face.

Now she was so attentive, just like she did her research.

Sean looked at her quietly, inexplicably having an illusion that he was a test specimen.

She moved her hands very gently as if afraid to hurt him.

Alkaid taught her patiently. Molly did as she told her, not daring to make the slightest mistake.

After a while, she did finish all the simple steps.

She heaved a long sigh of relief before she looked at her” masterpiece” and gave a satisfied smile, “Not bad.”

Alkaid also nodded and smiled, “Madam, you’re really smart. You learned it in one go, and what you did is no weaker than mine.”

Molly laughed, “I’m flattered. I’m no match for you.”

She just did as she was told. She was not as skilled as Alkaid.

Then Alkaid handled the following complicated steps, and Molly watched quietly beside her.

After about half an hour, Sean's disguising was finally completed.

Alkaid put down her hands, looked at his face, and said with raised brows, "Are you satisfied with this face, madam?"

Molly came to him, her eyes with a hint of amazement.

The disguised face was perfect, completely different from his real face.

The style was also different!

The lines on his real face were cold, showing he was unapproachable.

But the face now was so attractive, especially the beautiful thin, long eyes, which looked so seductive.

Chapter 1502-"Looks nice."

Molly tilted her head to look at him, her eyes beaming." Good. If it were ancient times and he had long hair, he would be strikingly handsome!"

Sean raised his brows.

Alkaid interposed, "He is now!"

If Master went out now, numerous ladies would swoon.

"That's right."

Molly burst out laughing, but then asked, " Now we've been disguised. Um, can we pass the research base's search and examination on this island?"

“Of course!”

Alkaid smiled and said confidently, “Madam, don’t worry. All is taken care of. All your faces have their identities. They’ll match. Our people have arranged everything since they landed here. Otherwise, how could we move freely here?”

“That’s great.”

Molly touched her face.

She had been worried that they would get exposed if those people came to their door to search.

Sean rubbed her head and said softly, “You don’t have to worry about such trifles. All has been taken care of.”

Molly nodded, amazed at his speed of dealing with things.

He had just been on the island for a while, but had done so many things.

Meanwhile, she couldn’t do anything because of the surveillance.

Not knowing her thoughts, Sean just looked up at the clock on the wall.

It was almost 12 a.m.

“Alkaid, it’s so late. Go back to sleep,” Sean said to Alkaid.

Alkaid answered yes. Then she quickly packed up everything and left.

“Let’s go upstairs to sleep, too.”

Sean took Molly’s hand and went upstairs with her.

Both of them had been busy all day. As soon as they touched the bed, they fell asleep, even without physical contact between lovers.

Sunlight came into the room the next morning, making it bright.

Molly opened her eyes slowly, but saw a strange face. She instantly woke up in fright.

At this point, Sean also woke up. Seeing her frightened face, he laughed and patted her cheek.

“Are you muddleheaded after the sleep?”

Hearing the familiar voice, Molly chuckled.

She was muddleheaded indeed. Yes, she forgot they had been disguised last night.

The two of them stayed in bed for a while before getting up to freshen up.

As soon as they came out of their room, they heard a series of urgent knocks on the door downstairs.

The person knocked so hard as if to break the door.

Molly and Sean exchanged a glance, alerted, and quickly went downstairs.

When they opened the door, they saw patrol officers of the research base.

Seeing these people, Molly knitted her brows subconsciously.

What she had been worried about happened.

“What can I do for you?” Sean asked calmly, looking aloof.

The man looked into the house and said, “Show your ID cards.”

Sean handed the fake ID cards he had prepared to him.

The man took them and examined them carefully. After making sure they were real, he handed them back to Sean and asked, “How many people are there in your house?”

“Just two, me and my wife.”

The man then looked at Molly and nodded. “Okay.”

Molly thought it was over.

But the man signaled to his companions behind him with his eyes, and then these men were about to enter the house.

“What are you gonna do?”

Molly immediately reached out to stop them.

“A criminal escaped from the research base. In case someone covers him up, we must go in and search.”

They acted as if they had the right.

Molly's face turned cold. She said harshly, "You want to search because you say you want to? What right do you have?"

"The base has the highest status on the island!" The man sneered, "Stopping us? Are you trying to hide something?"

Chapter 1503-Molly still wanted to say something, but Sean stopped her. He then shook his head. "It's alright. Let them inside."

Only then did Molly step aside with a dark face to allow them inside.

The two of them stood outside and watched as they headed upstairs after finishing the search of the first floor.

They only came back down the stairs about a quarter of an hour later.

It was obvious that they couldn't find anything.

What was more annoying was that they left without even giving an apology.

"No wonder they're the research base's dogs. They're so domineering and barbaric."

Molly's voice was as cold as ice.

Seeing how angry she was, Sean wrapped his arm around her shoulders and coaxed her with a gentle voice. "That's just the way they do things. You can just ignore them."

Even though Molly knew it was best to ignore them, she still felt annoyed. She then pursed her lips. "I hope there won't be a next time."

“Since they couldn’t find anything, there definitely won’t be a next time,” said Sean.

“Okay.” Molly nodded and then she seemed to have thought of something. She furrowed her brows and asked worriedly, “Will they be able to find the underground medical room?”

If that lab was discovered, then they would be in trouble.

Kara was still in there.

“Don’t worry. That’s not going to happen.” Sean’s voice was soft. “That underground lab hadn’t been discovered for years. It shouldn’t be discovered this time either. Besides, you’ve seen all the arrangements made at the entrance. The place is well-hidden, they won’t find it at all.”

“You have a point.” Molly breathed a sigh of relief and then said, “Looks like we can’t go to the medical room today.”

The two of them were planning on investigating the Venomous Insects that day.

“We still have plenty of time.” Sean patted Molly gently on the head and smiled.

“It’s rare that we have such free time. Spending time together alone doesn’t sound bad at all.”

After hearing those words, Molly smiled as well. “Not bad indeed. Then let’s go and enjoy our alone time.”

She then cocked her brows at Sean and then dragged him upstairs.

Seeing how happy Molly was, Sean was even a little looking forward to what was about to happen.

What Sean didn’t expect was that Molly actually led him into the study.

“It’s rare that we have some free time. How about we read together?”

Sean cocked his brows and couldn’t help but sigh. ‘What the hell was I looking forward to?’ “What’s up?”

Molly had a blank face and didn’t know why Sean was sighing.

“Nothing. Reading’s fine.”

Sean pinched Molly’s cheek lightly.

After saying that, the two of them entered the study. One began reading books on the sofa and the other began sorting out files in front of the computer.

The room was quiet, but warm and sweet as well.

Nearing lunchtime, Sean’s phone rang.

When he looked at his phone, he realized that it was the children calling.

Molly answered the call.

When the children saw the stranger’s face on the screen, they were all dumbfounded.

Alex was the first to react. He asked politely, “May I ask who are you, Miss?”

Why are you holding my daddy’s phone?”

He was stunned that there was a woman that he didn't know near his father.

Molly was also dumbfounded by Alex's question. Then, she remembered that she had changed her look and got the idea of teasing the children.

Molly then deliberately deepened her voice and said, "I'm your daddy's new girlfriend."

The children were all shocked. What? New girlfriend? Since when did Daddy have a new girlfriend? Is he cheating on Mommy? That's impossible! There's no way Daddy would do such a thing!"

Alex's face immediately darkened and said seriously, "Miss, I think it's you who has ideas for my daddy, right? Let me warn you, he has a family and it's not a good idea to be a homewrecker!"

"You're absolutely right, I have ideas for your daddy. It's just that I'm way more prettier than your mommy!"

"Get Daddy on the phone!"

Chapter 1504-face.

He had no intention of helping Molly out.

Molly felt her ears burning and mouthed to Sean sulkily." Stop laughing!"

Sean was smiling even more after seeing that.

Molly felt both awkward and helpless. All she could do was be honest with the children. "It's all a misunderstanding, my babies. I am your mommy."

Her voice returned to normal as she said those words.

The children on the other end of the line were all stunned.

The voice that they heard was obviously their mommy's.

The children blinked their eyes and stared at the woman on the screen suspiciously. "You're our mommy?"

Molly quickly nodded her head. "That's right."

"No way!" Anger appeared on Ben's little face as he shouted, "You look nothing like our mommy! Don't think you can fool us!"

'Oh oh! Things are getting out of hand! I thought Molly.

She didn't know whether to laugh or cry. ' Babies, I'm really your mommy, I'm serious. I've just changed my looks.

Besides..." Molly chuckled and continued feeling a little embarrassed, "I was just kidding with you."

The three children looked at each other with suspicious looks on their faces.

"You're not lying to us?" asked Claudia.

"I'm not.' Molly shook her head.

She then said all the children's favorite food before the children fully trusted her.

Just when Molly wanted to breathe a sigh of relief, Alex's voice sounded from the other end of the line. "Mommy, you're so childish. You scared the hell out of us. Don't do that next time!"

“That’s right. We thought Daddy was cheating on you with someone else.”

“You were going too far just now, Mommy.”

The three children each complained to Molly.

Molly felt like she was a student who had done something wrong.

“I’m so sorry, my babies. I won’t do it next time.”

Molly kept on apologizing. She even held her hand up to swear.

“There won’t be a next time, Mommy!” Alex reminded her.

Molly replied with a smile, “That’s right. I promise there won’t be a next time.”

She then dragged Sean over and said unhappily, “Shouldn’t you be saying something to help me out?”

She felt that Sean shouldn’t just be sitting to one side and watching the show.

Sean cocked his brows and smiled meaningfully. “You were ruining my reputation. You deserve this. I’m not going to help.”

Molly’s face immediately turned red. “I was just wanting to tease them...”

She didn’t know that things would get out of hand.

Seeing what was happening, a smile appeared on Sean's face. He pinched Molly's face and said dotingly, "This will teach you to behave next time."

After saying that, Sean took the phone and asked the children, "Have you been behaving yourselves at home?"

"Daddy's voice but a stranger's face?' The three children looked at the face on the screen for a while before asking, "You've changed your looks as well, Daddy?"

"Yep!"

Claudia sized him up and said with a serious face, "Daddy's so handsome, but I still think Daddy's original look is better."

"I agree." Alex and Ben nodded in agreement.

"The same goes for Mommy as well," Ben added.

Sean smiled. "Our looks at the moment are only temporary. We'll return to our original looks soon."

"Okay. It's so extraordinary though."

The three children were interested in how Molly and Sean were able to change their looks, so they asked a ton of questions.

Sean talked to them for quite a while before hanging up

Chapter 1505-After placing the phone down, Molly recalled the interaction she had with the children and couldn't help but sigh. "I really miss the children. I really want to go back home as soon as possible."

"I do my best to get us home as soon as possible," Sean said without hesitation.

He then paused and his dark eyes locked on to Molly's pretty face. His lips curved into a smile.
"However, if you want, we can have another child."

After hearing those words, Molly immediately blushed and glared at Sean. "It's still early in the day.
Can't you control yourself?"

'What is he thinking? He really knows no shame!' Molly exclaimed inwardly.

Sean's eyes flashed as he reached out to pull Molly towards him. He then leaned in next to her ear and said, "I can't really control myself on this matter."

His voice was deep and extremely sexy.

Molly's heart skipped a beat. When she raised her head, she locked gazes with Sean, whose eyes made her feel like being trapped in a vortex.

The next second, Sean lowered his head and kissed Molly.

The moment that their lips touched, Molly closed her eyes and leaned obediently into Sean's arms.

Her whole body could sense the passion that he was bringing her.

Just when Molly's mind was going blank, Sean removed his lips from hers.

Looking at Molly's passionate and watery eyes, he said with a soft voice, "Let's try something different today."

"What?" Molly was a little dumbfounded.

Sean then wrapped his arms around her waist, lifted her up and sat her on the table.

Molly immediately realized what Sean meant by “something different”. This made her snow-white face turn red.

Before Molly could react, Sean leaned in and kissed Molly again.

The temperature slowly increased. The only sound that could be heard in the room was the sound of the two of them breathing.

It was already over an hour later when everything quietened down.

Molly leaned on Sean’s shoulder with a red face and was panting lightly.

Sean picked her up and returned to the room so she could wash up.

After lunch, Alioth came to report about Eaton.

“Master, Eaton still wouldn’t talk. He wouldn’t say anything about the Venomous Insects and the antidotes.” With that said, Alioth frowned. “I was worried that I would torture him to death, so I stopped.”

Sean squinted his eyes and said in a deep voice, “Then think of something else.

We’ll torture him until he decides to talk.”

His voice was calm, but his voice sounded cold to others.

“Yes, Master.” Alioth left in a hurry.

After that, Sean contacted Selon and asked straightforwardly, "Look into Eaton Scott and see who's close to him at the research base."

"How come you suddenly want to know about such things?" Selon was a little surprised.

Sean pondered and said, "The way I see it, I don't think Eaton can bring the medicine out by himself alone."

"Got it. I'll get on it right away."

After hanging up, Sean's face darkened and his eyes dimmed.

In the afternoon, Lesley arrived.

However, seeing that two strangers opened the door, she was shocked. She thought she had arrived at the wrong place and quickly apologized. "I'm so sorry."

She then looked at the door number and frowned. "I am at the right place."

Seeing her reaction, Molly smiled and pulled Lesley into the room. "Lesley, it's me."

Lesley came back to her senses after hearing the familiar voice. "You've put on a disguise, haven't you?"

Molly nodded and asked, "What brought you over? I thought it's a mess outside?"

Lesley remembered why she was here after hearing Molly's question. "I'm worried about you. I think a doctor has escaped from the research base. Now those people are searching every corner of the island. This made everyone feel panicky. I'm worried that something will happen to you, so I thought I'd come and take a look."

"I see." Molly felt a little touched after hearing those words. This was because Lesley came to check on her by putting herself in danger.

Chapter 1506-rds, Molly and Sean looked at each other. They then asked, "When?"

"7:00 pm on the 30th."

"The 30th?"

Molly frowned. "We've only got seven days left."

Lesley nodded. "Yes, seven days."

"Is the time going to change according to the situation on the island?" asked Molly as she looked at Sean worriedly.

She had a reason to be worried.

After all, a doctor had escaped from the base and had brought out some medicine. This was a hidden danger for the base. Therefore, it was possible to change the time that other doctors came out.

However, Lesley shook her head. "That's unlikely. They actually like the island to be so heavily guarded."

Sean nodded in agreement. "You're right. It is a good thing to them."

The island was guarded heavier than ever, with what happened before, the people in the base would be even less worried that the doctors would escape again.

"It's just that..."

Lesley looked over with her brows furrowed and a serious look on her face.

“We’ve planned to rescue Logan. If we take action, there are a lot of uncertainties. What should we do if something we didn’t plan for happened?”

When Molly heard those words, she couldn’t help but frown as well. “That’s right. How come I haven’t thought of it? The people from the base are everywhere. It’ll be harder for us to execute our plan.”

“That doesn’t mean there’s nothing we can do.” Sean was still calm as if everything was under his control.

“Really? Then tell me about it,” said Molly as her eyes lit up.

Sean calmly walked towards the computer, turned it on and searched for the map of the island.

“You guys, come over.”

Molly and Lesley quickly walked over.

Sean turned the computer around and allowed them to see the map on the screen clearly.

“Lesley, on the day that Logan comes out, you have to book a restaurant table and prepare a candlelight dinner. The restaurant will be this one here,” said Sean as he tapped on the computer screen with a fountain pen.

Molly and Lesley took a closer look and realized that the restaurant was located at the seaside.

“My men have already reconned that place. It’s a good location to make our move.”

Sean squinted his eyes slightly. For him and the Grandset, the operation had to succeed. There was no room for failure.

“Since when did you let your men recon that area?” asked Molly, feeling puzzled.

This was something she didn’t know about.

Sean cocked his brows. “That’s not important. The important thing is that I have a plan and I will need Lesley’s cooperation when the time comes.”

With that said, Sean looked at Lesley.

The latter was a little taken aback. “Just tell me what you need me to do. I’ll do my best to cooperate.”

Lesley was willing to do anything as long as it involved saving Logan.

Sean hesitated before saying slowly, “You can see what’s happening as well.

Only one doctor has escaped and they’re already looking everywhere for that doctor. If Logan is to be rescued in front of their eyes, then there will be a lot of trouble and you won’t be able to live peacefully either.”

“I know that’s for sure.”

Molly remembered the barbarians from the base and sneered. “If Logan is rescued then they’ll definitely come for Lesley. Then what’s the meaning of our plan?”

It would just be a different way of being limited by the base.

“Therefore, we need to set up a...” Sean paused. “We need to fake Logan’s death.

Chapter 1507-“Fake Logan’s death?” Molly widened her eyes in shock.

'What kind of plan is that?' Lesley was taken aback at first and then came back to her senses. She then said, "What are your plans? I'll definitely cooperate."

"Alright." Sean nodded. That was what he wanted to hear.

Therefore, Sean lowered his voice and slowly told them his new plan.

Molly and Lesley both listened quietly. They would occasionally nod to show that they understood.

About half an hour later, Sean finished outlining his plan.

Lesley raised her head and nodded at Sean. "I agree with your plan. Let's stick to it."

With that said, she took a deep breath. A helpless smile appeared on her face. "I just want Logan to be safe."

When Molly heard those words, she felt her heart ache. She quickly reached out and wrapped her arms around Lesley's shoulders to comfort her.

"Then that's decided." Sean nodded.

Lesley stayed for a little while longer before getting up to leave.

Only when Lesley had left did Molly ask worriedly, "Sean, is this really going to work? Do we have enough men?"

They were in the Martial Art Union's territory. If they didn't have enough men, then there would be a lot of inconveniences when they started executing their plan.

Sean chuckled and said, "Of course we do."

'Enough?' wondered Molly.

She blinked her beautiful eyes and asked curiously, "Alioth, Megrez, and Phecda are all here and there are Tony and his small team as well. Are there any others here?"

Molly knew that Sean was very capable, but they were in the Martial Art Union's territory.

Sean smiled, but didn't say a word.

Seeing this, Molly was sure that he had brought other men as well. She immediately felt curious.

"Tell me, how did you manage to do it? I thought the security to get on the island was very strict," Molly asked desperately.

She had no idea how Sean was able to allocate for so many people to get on the island.

This was something Molly really wanted to know.

Sean smiled and said calmly, "I'm able to pull this off by effectively using the other party's flaws."

"Will that be alright?" Molly was a little worried. "Will they be discovered?"

"Don't worry. I won't do anything that I have no confidence in." Sean pulled Molly into his arms. "Since we're already on the island, my goal is simple. I want that base to be destroyed."

With that said, his eyes darkened a little.

The destruction of the base would be a fatal blow to the Martial Art Union.

After that, destroying the Martial Art Union would be much easier.

Under his comfort, Molly finally felt relieved. "That's good to hear. We can finally go back to the Grandset after everything's solved."

She would then be able to focus on dealing with the Venomous Insect in Sean's body.

"Yes." Sean pecked Molly on the lips. "By then I will be able to go on holiday with you."

Molly quickly nodded with a smile. "Okay."

Later on, Mr. Ballard sent over some information about the Venomous Insects.

They were all his analyses and guesses.

Molly began reading the information seriously and focused her attention on work.

In the evening, Selon and Alkaid came over.

Molly was making dinner when she saw them, so she greeted them with a smile.

"Come and have dinner with us."

Everyone knew each other quite well, so Selon and Alkaid didn't refuse. They sat down after hearing what Molly had said.

As soon as Selon sat down, he said, "Mr. Anderson, I've found something."

As soon as he said that, everyone present looked at him.

Selon continued with a smile, "It's about the medicine that Eaton has and the people that are related to him inside the research base."

Chapter 1508-found out.

"Eaton works for a man named Jackson. The latter is a powerful man at the base.

"He is in charge of a research team. It's said he sells the drugs privately now and then. He has complicated connections.

"Eaton is close to him. Maybe we can find some clues from Jackson.

"And after I took the drug back yesterday. I immediately had the ingredients of the drug analyzed, but..."

He paused and gave an apologetic look, "There's no antidote for the Venomous Insect in them."

Molly wasn't surprised, but she still inevitably felt loss.

She had hoped that those drugs would cure the second Venomous Insect in Kara's body.

But it turned out the whole thing was not that easy to get solved.

"It's okay. I have faith in Mr. Ballard and in you." Sean took her hand and said reassuringly.

Molly nodded and didn't say anything else.

Selon continued, "Although those drugs are not the cure for Venomous Insect, I am sure that Jackson is definitely not a usual man. Maybe we can find out something from him."

“Then bring him here for questioning,” Sean said without hesitation. Do you know where he lives?”

Selon was prepared. He raised his eyebrows and smiled, taking out a piece of paper from the folder he had brought and handing it to Sean.

“Here’s where he lives.”

Selon frowned and said in a concerned tone, “The man looks strong. I guess he could probably have training in fighting. When you guys go to get him, be careful.”

Sean glanced at the paper and narrowed his eyes.

Jackson was living in a small villa arranged by the base.

“That’s all I’ve found out.” Selon smiled, “You guys need to find out the rest yourselves.”

Sean looked up at him and nodded, “Thanks.”

Selon waved his hand, “It’s a piece of cake.”

Molly grinned, “But that’s amazing! You got so much information in such a short time.”

“I have my way.” Selon raised his eyebrows and continued, “Besides, my family has been working with the base for years, so it was easier for me to investigate some things.”

Molly nodded, “Thank you.”

Without Selon’s help, they wouldn’t have gotten so much information so quickly.

“It’s okay. You guys have helped me a lot too. It’s no big deal. We’re friends.”

Molly nodded, “You’re right. Friends help each other.”

They all laughed after Molly’s words.

Selon didn’t stay after dinner. He left soon.

“Sean, what are your plans for next?” Molly frowned, “When are you going to make a move on Jackson?”

According to Selon, Jackson was not easy to deal with.

Sean knew what she was worried about. He curled up the corners of his mouth and said softly, “Tonight! Don’t worry! I’ll arrange for the right people to do the job to make sure everything goes smoothly.’ Molly rested assured, “All right.”

Chapter 1509-.After about half an hour, Tony came out of the study and left.

“Is everything okay?”

Molly heard the sound and stepped out of her room.

Sean came up. “Yeah.”

“Who else is going besides Tony?”

Molly asked, feeling anxious.

Sean didn’t answer directly but raised an eyebrow and smiled. “Don’t you trust me to handle things?”

“Of course not, I’m just worried.”

Molly looked up at him. “Can you tell me about it?”

“Sure! Come to my room.”

Sean threw his arm around her shoulder and led her into the room.

As night fell, the island grew quiet, with only the occasional car horn breaking the silence.

Outside Jackson’s villa, Tony crouched on the fence, his sharp eyes fixed inside the building.

All the windows were covered with curtains, allowing only a sliver of light to escape.

Below the wall, Blackrose stood in a black dress that accentuated her curvy figure.

She lit a cigarette and leaned back, parting her lips slightly as she exhaled a plume of smoke.

She was the picture of lazy charm.

Tony glanced downward, the corners of his mouth twitching, and grumbled, “Come on. We’re hereto deal with someone, not to have fun. Get serious, can you?”

She acted as if she were here to take in the night view.

Blackrose shot him a mischievous wink and replied airily, “I’ll handle Jackson, and gathering intel is your job.”

Her tone was brimmed with confidence.

Tony felt helpless. He hopped off the fence and removed his gloves. "You can go in. I've hacked their entire security system."

"That's more like it."

Blackrose eyed the fence taller than a person and stubbed out her cigarette. Her gaze sharpened in an instant.

With practiced grace, she vaulted over the fence under Tony's watchful eye.

Her weapons were revealed at the same time.

In the next instant, the bodyguards guarding outside fell dead before they could make a sound.

Blackrose was swift, precise, and ruthless, dispatching each of the guards with a single blow.

She pushed open the door to the house and strode straight to the second floor.

Tony had already figured out which room Jackson was in.

So, Blackrose made a beeline for her target.

She gently pushed open the door to the master bedroom. The room was dimly lit, but she could see the outline of a figure on the bed.

Jackson seemed deep in slumber, oblivious to the intruder.

Blackrose gripped her weapon tightly, closing in on the bed one step at a time.

But just as she was about to strike, Jackson, who should have been asleep, suddenly stirred. In one fluid motion, he sprang up and lunged toward her.

Blackrose was startled but swiftly dodged the attack.

Jackson was relentless, striking fast and hard, with a crushing force and ferocity that demanded attention.

'This man has got something!' Blackrose raised her eyebrows in surprise.

Before they came, Tony had warned her that Jackson might know some moves.

She hadn't expected him to be so good.

And...

He was a master of martial art.

His moves were more vicious than the last.

Blackrose curled her lips. "How interesting!"

Chapter 1510-Blackrose was intrigued. Her actions turned faster.

Jackson didn't expect her to be such a terrific fighter.

Jackson was sweating and panting heavily. Blackrose now had the upper hand, and Jackson kept backing up.

Suddenly, Jackson hit the edge of the bed. His face immediately turned pale and he collapsed on the bed.

Instantly, Blackrose gave a fierce look and reached out to grab him.

However, Jackson swiftly rolled over to the other side of the bed. He pulled open the drawer and took out a pistol from it.

Staring at the muzzle, Blackrose clutched her weapon, her face tense.

A look of triumph flashed across Jackson's eyes.

However, just as he was about to pull the trigger...

"Ahh—" Jackson let out a scream and felt a sharp pain in his wrist. That woman's speed was incredible and her kick was so hefty that his pistol dropped.

Blackrose quickly catches the pistol. The next second, the muzzle of the gun was pointing at Jackson's temple.

"If you move, I'll shoot you." Blackrose's stern voice rang out in the room.

Jackson didn't dare move. He glanced at her out of the corner of his eye and asked, "Who the hell are you?"

'The security guards are on patrol everywhere. How did she get in here?' "You're in no position to know who I am." Blackrose replied with a grim face.

Just then, Tony came in with a couple of men. Seeing that Blackrose had Jackson under control, he gave her a thumbs up. Blackrose was one of the Grandset's top five fighters! Her fighting was truly amazing!

Blackrose didn't say anything. She gestured to Tony with her eyes to tie Jackson up.

"Who are you guys? What do you want? Do you know who I am?" Jackson yelled.

Tony thought it was noisy, so he told his men to take off a sock and stuff it in Jackson's mouth.

"Oooh..." Jackson squirmed as if he was protesting the sock.

"Be quiet!" Blackrose pressed the gun against his head, and Jackson instantly quieted down.

It was about 3 a.m. Sean faintly heard a knock at the door. He was usually a very light sleeper. He quietly opened his eyes and looked at Molly, who was sleeping in his arms.

Molly seemed to be sleeping very deeply.

He looked at her with gentle eyes and carefully pulled his arm out from under her head.

Then he got out of bed and quietly went out of the room.

It was Tony who knocked on the door.

He reported in a low voice, "Sir, we got Jackson."

Sean nodded, "OK. Go back and rest."

"What about Jackson?"

"Give him to Alioth. Tell Alioth to question him. I want answers as soon as possible."

“Yes.” Tony then hurried away.

It was silent again.

Sean turned to his room, where Molly was still asleep. His eyes softened at once. He quietly walked over and lay down on the bed.

Just after he lay down, Molly snuggled up to him. She opened her drowsy eyes to glance at him and then closed them again.

“Why are you up?” She muttered.

Sean softly replied, “Nothing.”

He gently patted her on the back to put her to sleep again.

Molly let out a mumble and then got a comfortable position in his arms. She lifted her arms and wrapped them around him. Surrounded by his warmth and smell, she drifted off to sleep again.

Sean kissed her on the forehead. Then he slowly closed his eyes and fell back to sleep.
