

Triplets On SM 1571

Chapter 1571-After listening to his subordinate's report, Selseey flew into a rage and flung the glass in his hand.

With a crash, the glass smashed, and the resulting pieces bounced around.

The subordinate lowered his head, not even daring to take a breath.

Selseey queried with a dark face, "Who dares to build a research laboratory near the base?"

The base was the ruler, and no one had the courage to violate the rules.

Selseey looked up at his subordinate furiously and ordered, "Find out who built the research laboratory! Find out who did it!"

As the subordinate had conducted the investigation, he answered at once, "I've sent people to investigate it. The result will come out soon."

"I'll see who is so fearless!" Selseey snapped through his gritted teeth, with his hands on the table turning into balls.

He would let that person rot in jail!

The next day, Molly didn't get up until almost noon because of last night's incident.

She went downstairs and saw her children playing in the living room with Edmund, but she didn't see others.

The moment the three little children saw her, they immediately ran over and shouted together, "Mommy! You finally get up."

Molly squatted down, hugged them respectively, and then asked, "Where's your daddy?"

"Aren't Daddy and Mr. Ballard upstairs?" Claudia tilted her head, with a trace of confusion on her cute face.

"Is that so?" Molly squeezed Claudia's cheek and said with a smile, "Perhaps I was in a deep sleep and didn't notice them, n At this time, Edmund came over and explained, "Mr. Ballard is discussing with Mr. Anderson about how to get the insect out."

When Molly knew they were talking about so important a matter, she swiftly turned around and ran upstairs.

As soon as she reached the door of the study, she heard Mr. Ballard say, "Sean, eliciting the insect out will cause much harm to your body. You need to be prepared and arrange all the work in advance."

"Okay, I'll make the arrangements," Sean replied.

Upon hearing it, Molly immediately opened the door and went in.

As Sean and Mr. Ballard heard the sound, both looked in the direction of the door. When Sean found the person was Molly, he smiled and his expression softened.

"Morning." Sean greeted her.

Molly glared at them, dissatisfied. "Why don't you wait for me to discuss such an important matter?"

Mr. Ballard cast a glance at Sean and explained with a smile, "We don't want to disturb you."

"I don't mind it." Molly walked toward them, squinting her eyes. "Do you hide anything from me?"

“How dare we?” Smiling, Mr. Ballard denied it. “You know all the things we’re negotiating on. Nothing new is added.”

Molly was just asking, and she didn’t really think that they hid things from her.

Then she changed the subject. “Where is Kara?”

Sean tidied her hair and replied tenderly, “She is nearby, but she is emotional.”

They originally planned to elicit the insect today. However, since Kara’s emotions were unstable, the elicitation had to be delayed.

Molly could roughly guess the reason for Kara’s emotional change and she looked at Mr. Ballard for further confirmation. The latter sighed, “She was probably frightened last night. But luckily, her physical condition is good, and we can get the insect out two days later.”

At Mr. Ballard’s words, Molly breathed a sigh of relief. “Well, it’s okay.”

Sean caressed her head. “I’ve been waiting for many days. Waiting for another several days doesn’t matter.”

Molly nodded. When remembering what had happened last night, she asked, “What’s the situation outside now?”

Sean answered, “It’s in chaos. People from the base are going on patrol everywhere. They have known the underground research laboratory and are investigating the explosion.”

Chapter 1572-“What are you going to do?”

Molly knew how insistent the base was, so she was worried they would find out their current residence.

Sean raised his eyebrows and asked with a faint smile, “What do you think if we blame the whole thing on Eaton?”

Molly froze at Sean's question, but soon, she came to her senses and blinked.' Blame the whole thing on Eaton?' Molly smiled. "That's a good idea."

'Putting it all on Eaton is the best idea. The whole thing was caused by Eaton.

He deserves it.' "Okay. There's nothing to worry about. Everything's going to be fine."

Sean took Molly into his arms, a doting look in his eyes.

The two hugged each other quietly for a while.

"By the way!" Something suddenly occurred to Molly.

Sean looked down into her clear eyes and asked, "What's wrong?"

"The lab is ruined. We don't have anywhere to do treatment!" She sounded worried.

She was worried about where she could do research and get the Venomous Insect out of Sean's body.

Sean smiled. He lifted his hand to pinch the tip of her nose and said calmly, "Don't worry. I have a plan."

"What?" Molly was stunned again.

She knew Sean had contacts, but this was the Martial Art Union's territory.

There was no way they could find a second secret lab.

Sean guessed what Molly was wondering, but instead of explaining it to her right away, he took her hand.

“Come with me. I’ll show you a place.”

Then he led her down the stairs and headed toward the basement.

The basement was actually a wine cellar, with lots of wine stored in there.

Molly looked around and frowned. “You want to bring me to taste wine?”

Sean did not answer, but took out a remote control from his pocket.

He pressed the button quietly.

The wine cabinet slowly moved to the sides and a stairway appeared.

Before Molly could ask a question, Sean led her inside.

They head down the stairs. The basement was so quiet. Only the sound of their footsteps was sounded.

“Oh my God!” Suddenly, Molly exclaimed.

In the basement, there was a laboratory!

She turned her head in disbelief to Sean and exclaimed, “This is your plan?”

Sean nodded with a gentle smile.

Molly was so excited that she almost jumped up. She let go of Sean's hand and rushed down the stairs to check out the lab.

She was as excited as a child who just got a favorite toy. Looking at her, Sean had a happy smile. He walked over to her.

"The house belonged to a doctor before. It cost me a lot to buy the house."

"A doctor?" Molly frowned. "Is he a doctor from the base?"

"I'm not sure about that. He's already off the island."

Sean held her shoulders from behind. He leaned closer to her head, looked at her, and with a smile asked, "Do you like it?"

"Yes!" Molly repeatedly nodded. Her beautiful eyes were glowing. She looked very thrilled with the lab.

The lab was not as large as the Shepard family's underground lab, but it was better equipped with instruments and medicines. It would be a huge thrill for any medical researcher.

Chapter 1573-Molly walked around the lab, including the corners.

Then she turned to smile at Sean and responded, "I like it."

Sean smiled. "Good."

Then Mr. Ballard, Logan, and Edmund also came.

When they saw the lab, they were all amazed.

“Sean, it’s such a surprise! There’s a lab in the basement.” Mr. Ballard looked around and had a satisfied smile on his face.

Mr. Ballard had been as worried as Molly about where they could perform the treatment. But now the problem was solved.

Logan didn’t say anything, but he had a smile on his face.

Edmund exclaimed, “Wow! Mr. Anderson, are you a magician? How did you make such a wonderful lab?” He looked around like a curious kid.

Molly was amused by him and teased, “Edmund, you have been working in the base. Why do you act like you’ve never seen a lab before?”

“I’ve never seen such a great lab.” Edmund turned his head to look at her and admitted it, “This is the best underground lab I have ever seen! Look at all the cutting-edge equipment!” “Really?” Molly wrapped her arms around her chest and raised her eyebrows. “Please enjoy yourself here.”

Everyone was amused, including Sean.

They stayed in the basement for a while and then went back upstairs.

Later in the evening, Selon arrived.

Seeing Selon, Molly rushed to apologize, “Selon, I’m really sorry. The lab was ruined because of us.”

It was the Shepard family’s property after all. Molly really felt guilty.

But Selon wasn’t angry about it. He responded with a smile, “It’s okay. It’s just a lab. Our family doesn’t care about it.”

Actually, in this case, the base lost their chance to find out about the Shepard family forever.

Blowing up the lab destroyed all evidence.

“Mr. Shepherd, that’s very generous of you!” Molly gave a thumbs up.

Selon smiled and then asked, “Are you happy with the new lab?”

Molly froze. “Yes.”

‘How did Selon know about the new lab here?’ “Selon introduced the doctor to me.” Sean put his arm around her shoulder and explained.

Molly turned to Selon, who had actually found the lab.

She immediately responded, “It’s perfect. I really like it.

Thank you for your help.”

Selon rubbed his nose and grinned. “It’s okay. It’s no big deal.

“Please stay and have lunch with us if you’d love to.”

With Molly’s warm invitation, Selon stayed.

After lunch, while the others were talking, Selon whispered to Sean, “The Martial Art Union might send someone over.”

Hearing the news, Sean whispered, ‘Are you sure?’ His eyes twinkled.

“Yes. There’s been a lot of things going on at the base lately.

The Martial Art Union heard about it.”

“Who will they send over?”

“I’m not sure.”

Although Selon had been lurking inside the base, he couldn’t learn about some particularly classified information.

Sean’s eyes narrowed slightly and he then said calmly, a fierce look in his eyes, “I got it. I’ll be careful.”

Chapter 1574-“If there’s anything, I’ll keep you in the loop.”

Selon promised and left soon.

Molly had noticed the two whispering to each other but decided not to pry.

For now, inducing the venomous insect was her top priority, and she didn’t want any other concerns to distract her.

Later that afternoon, Molly and Mr. Ballard headed down to the new lab to prepare for the upcoming operation.

In the base...

“Mr. Selseey, we still haven’t found anything,”

A subordinate reported, his forehead beaded with sweat and his back damp with anxiety.

“What?” Selseey’s expression darkened as he repeated the news in a mournful tone.

The subordinate cowered and hurriedly bowed his head.” Don’t worry. We’re still searching. We’ll find something soon.- “Soon?”

Selseey thundered, slamming his hand on the table. He pointed at the man’s nose and cursed, “You’re all a bunch of losers! Did the union raise you for nothing?”

“You can’t finish such a simple task?”

The subordinate felt his anger and didn’t dare breathe freely. He trembled, fearing that Selseey would shoot him dead in a fit of anger.

He cursed for a moment before he took a deep breath and clenched his teeth.

The union is sending someone over, and he is the right-hand man of the vice-chairman.

“He holds immense power, and if we can’t come up with a reasonable explanation for what’s been happening in the base, we’re all going to be in big trouble.”

This was Selseey’s biggest headache.

If they didn’t have a fair reason for the recent events that had happened in the base, the union would definitely hold them accountable.

Everyone here might lose his life because of it.

The more Selseey thought about it, the angrier he became. His heart clogged with frustration, he swept everything off the table.

Just then, another subordinate barged into the room, shouting.

“Mr. Selseey, we’ve found something!”

Selseey’s face lit up with joy. He asked, “What have you discovered?”

“We found an object in the research institute.”

The man came up and handed him an item.

Selseey took it and found it was a badge.

He examined it closely and narrowed his eyes. This was an emblem of a family.

He recognized it as belonging to one of the ancient medical families.

‘Could it be that the recent events on the island were connected to this ancient medical family?’ Selseey scrutinized the emblem, noting that it was burned black but still recognizable.

The word “Scott” was engraved on it, along with some totems.

“Scott?”

Selseey muttered, his brow furrowed in concentration.” Which ancient medical family is Scott?”

He turned to his men and ordered, “Find out which family’s emblem this is!”

“Yes, sir!”

The subordinates hurried away on their mission.

Selseey's grip on the emblem tightened, and his complexion grew increasingly gloomy.

This was a lead on discovering who was undermining the base.

Even without the unison's request, he would make the culprit and his family pay a terrible price.

Those going against the Martial Art Union should die.

An hour later, the handler of the investigation came back with a report.

"Mr. Selseey, we've found out. The emblem belongs to the Scott family from Norlon."

Chapter 1575-"The Scott family!" Selseey suddenly looked pale.

He had heard of the Scott family in Norlon.

Many members of the Scott family were still working in the base.

Although they were now working for the Martial Art Union, no one knew if they were only subservient superficially and played tricks secretly.

Otherwise, how could the insignia of the Scott family be found in the ruins instead of that of other families?

Thinking of this, Selseey immediately ordered, "Make all the members of the Scott family in the base under our control right now."

His men did not hesitate and left quickly.

In the evening, Sean was busy in the study, and Tony came to report to him the current situation of the base.

“Sir, the plan went very smoothly. They would naturally suspect Eaton during the investigation.”

Tony reported as he sighed in his heart, ‘How could Mr.

Anderson be so smart to come up with this plan to kill two birds with one stone?

I couldn’t think of such a plan even if my hair turned white.’ “Keep watching and let me know if anything happens,” Sean ordered in a cold voice.

“Yes, sir,” Tony answered and left.

At this time, Molly came into the study.

Seeing that Sean was still busy, she frowned slightly, “Aren’t you going to bed yet?”

Sean raised his eyes and met her concerned eyes. Then he smiled and replied softly, “I will get treatment tomorrow, and I may not be able to work in the next few days, so I want to deal with the urgent matters tonight.”

Sean’s thoughts were right. Once the Venomous Insect began to be led out, even with the medicine developed by Molly and Mr. Ballard, his body would definitely suffer some pain.

Molly walked over, glanced at his computer, and then raised her eyebrows, “Let me stay with you.”

Sean did not refuse. He pulled her over and made her sit on his lap.

In an instant, Molly was enveloped by Sean's fresh smell, and her cheeks turned somewhat red.

She leaned against his chest obediently and watched his fingers tapping the keyboard, thinking, 'He has beautiful fingers. They are so slender and very suitable for playing the piano.' Aware of her gaze, Sean lowered his eyes and found she was staring at his hand. A light smile appeared on his face.

The minutes were ticking away.

When Molly was about to fall asleep, she felt a sudden warmth on the back of her neck.

She woke up in an instant.

Soon she realized that Sean was kissing her neck.

His warm lips and tongue moved slowly across the sensitive area behind her ear, and she could not help but shrink her neck and then muttered, "Is this how you work?"

Her voice was soft and low, and her tone sounded somewhat flirting, which stimulated Sean's desire.

Sean raised his hand and rubbed one of her red earlobes, his dark eyes flashed, and his voice was dumb, "The work is not my first priority. I probably won't be able to touch you for a while, so now..."

"Let us enjoy it."

Hearing this, Molly could not help laughing. She turned her head and pretended to glare at him, "Now you actually think of this thing!"

She had been focusing on the treatment of how to lead out the Venomous Insect in his body safely, and there were no other things in her mind.

Sean just smiled, bowed his head, and kissed the skin behind her ear gently.

Molly to shudder.

Finally, she was a little overwhelmed, so she turned her head, held his head, and took the initiative to kiss him.

A smile flashed across Sean's eyes, and then he regained the initiative, deepening this sweet kiss.

Chapter 1576-Sean carried her to the bedroom and gently put her on the bed.

Locking eyes with each other, they could only see their most loved one and were both unwilling to look away. Molly put her arms around his neck and kissed his cool and thin lips.

It was a long, tender night, which made their hearts grow fonder.

Early in the morning, the three kids laughed in the dining room. Molly poured the milk for them, gently smiled, and softly said, "It's time to have milk."

The kids obediently picked up the milk and gulped it. Seeing Sean walking in, they simultaneously put down their glasses and cutely said, "Daddy, good morning."

Sean smiled, "Good morning."

He walked to Molly, kissed her forehead, and sat beside her.

Claudia blinked and solemnly said, "Daddy, don't be afraid. Mommy will help you."

Alex and Ben quickly echoed, "Yeah, Daddy, you will recover soon."

The kids had heard about Sean's problem. Knowing he would undergo the treatment today, they encouraged him as soon as seeing him.

Hearing their words, Sean was deeply moved inside, "I trust your mommy."

The kids said in unison, "We will be good and wait for you outside."

"OK."

Seeing them so sensible and caring, Sean felt moved.

After breakfast, Molly and Sean went to the basement together. Mr. Ballard, Logan, and Edmund had already begun the preparation.

And Kara had also been sent there. When she saw Sean, her lifeless face instantly regained its brilliance. She was so excited that she tried to pounce on him, saying, "Mr.

Anderson, you finally came to see me."

Fortunately, she was tied up.

When Molly saw her staring at Sean like this, the vein on her forehead was a little popping out. If it weren't for the treatment, she would have pulled Sean away. But today, she must let Kara see him.

Thinking of this, she told herself to bear it. After Sean got rid of the Venomous Insect, she would never let Kara meet him again!

Sean keenly noticed her bad mood, so he held her hand and softly comforted her, saying, "Don't think too much. Treat her as your experiment rat."

Seeing Kara's approach did not affect him at all, Molly calmed down and took a deep breath, deciding not to care about the crazy woman. Seeing Sean holding Molly's hand, Kara immediately flew into a rage and yelled, "Molly, you are shameless! How can you seduce Mr. Anderson? You know I like him! I've long known you have designs on him! Shame on you!"

She was indeed crazy. Hearing her vigorously scolding Molly, Edmund and Logan frowned.

Sean couldn't bear it anymore and yelled, "Shut up!"

Then, he coldly looked at her, exuding terrifying murderous intention. Edmund and the others were taken aback. And the room suddenly fell into deathly silence.

Kara calmed down, soon changed her attitude, and gently said, "I won't scold her anymore. Don't be angry."

Her coquettish tone rekindled the anger that Molly had suppressed with difficulty. She hurriedly took a deep breath and coldly said, "Today, we are going to lure the Venomous Insect out of your body. Be obedient if you don't want to die."

Chapter 1577-If it were in the past, Kara would not say anything. But she somehow had a bad feeling today. So, she vigilantly looked at Molly and said, "What do you want to do to me? Do you want to torture me as last time? Don't even think about it!"

Seeing her go crazy again, Molly showed a gloomy look. When Kara had been sober, she had joined forces with Eaton to make trouble for them. Now, they finally could induce the Venomous Insect out. But she was still making things difficult for them!

Molly had tolerated her for a long time, so she didn't want to swallow her anger anymore. She immediately broke out of Sean's grip and strode toward Kara.

Kara was under Alioth's control and could not move freely. Seeing Molly approaching her with a gloomy look, she somehow felt a little nervous.

“Molly, what do you want to do?”

“What do I want to do?”

There was a trace of hostility on Molly’s face. She approached Kara, gave her a hard look, pinched her chin, and said, “Kara, I have tolerated you for a long time. When you were in Norlon, you were stupidly fooled by Eaton. But you have never repented. How dare you clamor in front of me! I should not have treated you so well! You’re ungrateful!”

Kara gaped at Molly, frightened by her aggressiveness.

Taking this opportunity, Molly took out a glass jar and said through gritted teeth, “Can you see this venomous insect? It was taken out of your body. Believe it or not, I can put it back into you if I want.”

Kara widened her eyes in fright and immediately began struggling.

But Molly didn’t give her any chance to escape, saying, “I warn you! Today’s treatment is crucial. You must cooperate! If you make the slightest mistake, I will send you to hell, understand?”

Molly was too worried about Sean, so she didn’t allow Kara to make any trouble this time.

Frightened by Molly’s “fierceness”, Kara trembled. Staring at the Venomous Insect twisting in the jar, she said in a trembling voice, “I will cooperate! Take the insect away!”

Hearing this, Molly put the jar aside with a gloomy face.

Edmund hid behind Logan in fright and said, “She turns out to be so scary when getting angry. I must not mess with her in the future, right?”

Logan smiled. He could understand Molly’s behavior. If he were her, he would have been a hundred times more ruthless. The life of her loved man was threatened, so she did not bother to care about Kara’s feelings at all.

But Edmund did not understand.

“You don’t understand because you’re single!”

Edmund was confused and speechless, suspecting Logan discriminated against him.

Hearing their conversation, Mr. Ballard laughed out loud, saying, “Young man, have you ever been in love? If not, I can arrange a date for you.”

Edmund felt more confused and replied, “No, thanks. I don’t want to date for now. But why did you suddenly bring out this topic?”

They had been talking about Molly’s fierceness just now! It had nothing to do with whether he had a girlfriend, right?

Looking at the silly kid, Mr. Ballard sighed, “She is worried about the treatment.

Sean is the most important person to her, so she gets so angry when Kara makes trouble. You’re single, so you don’t understand. Look, Sean is very happy about it.”

Hearing this, Edmund couldn’t help turning his head to look at Sean.

Sure enough, he was showing a doting smile with a gentle look in his eyes.

Edmund instantly understood and nodded, “It explains the matter.”

But he soon felt sad. No wonder Logan had said it was because he was single.

Chapter 1578-Kara calmed down. Soon, Molly and others began to prepare for the treatment.

This time, it was to induce the Mother Insect and the Child Insect at the same time, and there might be many uncertain things and accidents.

Therefore, they were cautious and made preparations well.

Half an hour later, Molly announced, "Mr. Ballard, let's begin."

"Okay." Mr. Ballard nodded and looked at Sean. Giving them a knowing nod, Sean quickly lay down on the bed.

Kara was lying on another bed.

She stared at Sean the whole time with great admiration in her eyes.

But Molly was already prepared.

To prevent Sean from being harassed during the treatment, Molly immediately pulled the prepared curtain over the bed to directly block Kara's view. Kara wanted to curse again. But facing Molly's fierce gaze, she shrank back. Edmund looked at them and shook his head. Kara was no match for Molly. Molly ignored her. She got the silver needles and the bottle filled with the Venomous Insect and placed the bottle by the bedside. It was a threat.

She was warning Kara that she'd better behave later. Kara didn't dare to refute.

Soon, everything was ready. Molly untied Kara's clothes.

In this treatment, the Mother Insect in Kara's body was the key point, so the pressure and risk to be taken were greater.

Mr. Ballard should have done it. But Kara was a woman, and her clothes had to be taken off for treatment, so it was inappropriate for him to do it.

Moreover, Mr. Ballard was getting old, and the treatment would take a while, and it was an exhausting job. Molly was afraid that he would not be able to hold up.

Therefore, she took on this task alone.

Soon, Mr. Ballard said on the other side of the curtain, "Molly, prepare to start."

"Okay." Molly took a deep breath, disinfected the silver needles, and then began to prick Kara's chest with one of them. After Kara's sanity was controlled by the Venomous Insect, her chest had been covered with dense red blood streaks.

At first glance, it was particularly shocking.

But it did not hinder Molly's speed.

She quickly pinpointed the acupuncture point and stuck it with one needle.

Almost immediately, Kara felt pain, and her body struggled slightly. Molly glanced at her, and said coldly, "This is just the beginning, and there will be more pain later. I hope you can bear with it! If the treatment is interrupted because of you, or if there is any accident, you will never get up from this bed!"

When Molly said this, her tone was deep and it didn't sound like a threat at all. It was more like an advance notice of a certain event. Kara somehow felt afraid.

She felt that if she said no, the silver needle in Molly's hand would turn into a killing weapon in the next second. Molly could see her fear and finally felt relieved. The silver needles pierced down one by one.

Ten minutes later, a layer of cold sweat broke out on Kara's forehead, and she was a little pale.

The blood streaks on her chest became redder, and even slightly emerged, like thin blood vessels.

Moreover, the blood vessels were still emerging, which looked a little scary.

Kara didn't hold on for long and cried out in pain.

She felt as if something was gnawing at her heart.

An indescribable pain spread to all her limbs.

On the other side of the curtain, Sean also let out a muffled snort. Molly's heart trembled when she heard it. He resisted the urge to go over to look at Sean and continued with her work.

Once the treatment started, there was no way to stop it.

She must persist!

Chapter 1579-Thinking of this, Molly forced herself to calm down and continued to observe Kara's situation.

As time passed, the blood streaks on Kara's body expanded, covering her entire upper body and even her neck.

Molly's heart tightened and she was a little worried because Kara's pain had just begun.

According to the records in the ancient books, when the Love Curse was forcibly removed from the human body, it would make people feel a piercing pain.

It felt like someone was holding a knife and stabbing the heart.

It was a living hell!

However, Molly still did not sympathize with Kara.

All of this had happened because of her and Eaton.

She deserved it.

After more than half an hour, Molly stopped.

At this moment, Kara's whole body was wrapped in pain.

If the pain at the beginning was like being bitten by ants, now it was someone pulling her desperately and cutting her.

She couldn't bear it anymore and screamed out.

"Molly, I quit. Please let me go. It hurts. It hurts!" When she spoke, she struggled uncontrollably.

Molly was prepared for this. She immediately took out a syringe and gave Kara a shot in her arm.

This medicine they developed a few days ago was used to calm emotions and relieve pain.

Mr. Ballard had expected the situation.

But this medicine had a time limit, and it would last for an hour at most!

After being injected with the medicine, Kara quieted down a lot. But her mood was still not quite right.

She alternately looked ferocious, hesitant, dazed... She seemed to have no specific consciousness.

But Molly knew that it was because of her inner emotions being driven by the Venomous Insect.

Seeing her calm down, Molly couldn't wait to go to the next bed to see Sean.

Compared to Kara's screams, Sean was very quiet.

It had something to do with his restraint.

At this moment, several silver needles had already been inserted into the specific points throughout his chest. Blue veins appeared slightly on his forehead, and layers of cold sweat kept coming out.

Perhaps due to the influence of the Mother Insect in Kara's body, Sean's eyes were constantly changing, forbearance, struggle, pain, loss...

Molly was worried. She couldn't help clenching her fists.

When Mr. Ballard saw it, he couldn't help comforting her, "This is normal. Don't worry."

Molly nodded and was about to say that she was not worried when Sean suddenly looked over.

His eyes were deep and cold.

He looked at her as if she was just a stranger.

Molly's heart tightened. When she wanted to look carefully, the look in Sean's eyes changed again.

After a moment, seeing it was her, Sean forced a smile and said, "I'm fine. Don't worry..."

This consolation seemed far-fetched, and Molly felt so upset.

She knew that he was fighting against the Love Curse in his body.

Right now, the Love Curse was about to be drawn out of his body, and his emotions would be affected.

His indifference just now was not an illusion!

It was just that Sean was fighting.

He didn't want to forget her.

From beginning to end, he had been doing what he had promised.

Molly's eyes turned red. She couldn't help but lean forward and kiss Sean's lips regardless of the crowd watching.

She said, "Well, I believe you!"

Sean gave her a pale smile.

Molly quickly backed away, returned to Kara's bed, and waited for the result.

Chapter 1580-About fifteen minutes later, Molly saw something swimming in the blood vessels on Kara's arm.

It was the Venomous Insect!

She froze for a moment. Was it finally going to be induced?

Thinking of this, she clenched her fists tightly, held her breath, and stared intently at the Venomous Insect. The Venomous Insect slowly moved upwards along the blood streaks emerging from the center of her chest. Although it was very slow, at least it went smoothly.

As time passed, the analgesic in Kara's body was wearing off.

After another half an hour, Kara, who had calmed down, became restless again, twisting her body non-stop.

Seeing this, Molly immediately reached out to hold her down.

"Ah!" Kara couldn't bear it again and screamed out in pain.

At the same time, at the door of the main entrance of the villa, the three children who had been playing in the living room were startled. They looked at each other, got up, and ran to the entrance.

Through the video intercom system, they saw several strange men in black suits standing outside the door.

None of them looked like nice people.

The faces of the children changed slightly.

"Are they from that base?" Ben whispered.

"Yes, they're wearing the badges of the base." On Alex's little face, there was a look of seriousness not for his age, and he said, "Let's go find Uncle Tony."

Tony had been in the base. When the doorbell rang, he hurried upstairs and saw the children running towards him.

"Uncle Tony, the inspectors from the base are here." Alex deliberately lowered his voice.

Inspectors from the base? Tony's face immediately darkened and he felt a bad premonition in his heart.

"They're bad guys." Claudia hugged the doll in her arms tightly.

She wanted her parents. Like an adult, Ben put his arm around her shoulder and softly comforted her, "Don't be afraid. Uncle Tony is here."

"You go to play in the living room. I'll go have a look." Tony patted their heads and strode towards the entrance.

Alex turned to her younger siblings and said, "Mommy is saving Daddy. We must not let anyone affect them."

"Yes." Ben and Claudia nodded.

On the other side, Tony glanced at the monitor screen, took a deep breath, and quickly opened the door to go out.

"What's the matter?" He asked politely.

"We are inspectors from the base." The other party first revealed their identity, and then stated their intention to visit, "The island hasn't been peaceful recently, so every household has to be checked."

"Checked?" Tony frowned.

Judging by their attitude, Tony knew that even if he didn't allow them to go in for inspection, they would probably go in by force.

“Yes, we need to check if there is anyone suspicious. I hope you can cooperate.”

Tony smiled and spread his hands, “Of course, please come in.”

When he turned around, the smile on his face faded immediately, and his eyes turned cold.

The base inspector followed him into the house.

When the children heard the sound of footsteps, they jumped off the sofa in unison, and stood obediently in a row, wringing their hands uneasily.

The inspectors walked in while observing the surroundings.

When they saw the three children, they were all stunned.

And the children stared at them intently with timidity on their little faces.

“Uncle, who are they?” Alex asked, pretending to be timid.

Tony walked over, rubbed his head, and replied, “They are responsible for the safety of the island. They are worried that suspicious people might come in here, so they came to have a look.”

Alex nodded and said nothing else.