

Triplets On SM 521

Chapter 521-Everyone present had odd looks on their face as they were utterly displeased with the current situation.

‘We waited for her for such a long time and wasted so much time just for Molly to invite a kid over?!

The people stared at Molly with a disgruntled and doubtful look, but none complained.

Since Molly had outstanding skills, they still had a degree of trust in her, which was why they tolerated her.

If someone did such a foolish thing, would they still be bothered to entertain her?

1 Queenie rested her head on her palm as she looked at Molly in disdain. She then mocked Molly with a smirk, “I thought you were going to get some big shot over to help you out. I didn’t expect you to bring a little brat.”

Molly took Alex next to her and ignored Queenie as she coldly said, “I am sure that I have saved the data on my computer. As for the reason why it went missing, we will find out very soon.”

Alex immediately understood what his mother wanted him to do after listening to what she said.

“Darling, can you recover the data for mommy and check why it was deleted?

Also, help mommy to check who meddled with my computer.” when Molly was talking to Alex, the coldness in her voice vanished and was replaced with affection.

Alex nodded and sat on the seat Molly prepared for him.

When he looked at Molly’s computer screen, his eyes turned serious, and he looked high-spirited.

“Sure, mommy.”

In the technology world, Alex was only second to his father.

None of the hidden codes would slip under his radar!

Queenie was amused as she watched from afar.

“Molly May, if you’re getting help because you have no one to turn to, at least get someone who looks promising! why are you using a child to take the blame?

Do you have no heart?” Queenie could not help but snicker as she continued, “Just admit it if you didn’t complete it. Why are you doing this? Even the child finds you embarrassing!”

“Queenie Jiin!” Benjamin’s cold gaze was like a cut to Queenie.

Benjamin knew that Alex was young, but after spending so many years with Molly, he was clear of Alex’s capability. Alex’s skills could not be compared with the ordinary joe.

Ben and Claudia were sharp and extremely brilliant kids too.

As for Queenie, a person who blindly judged and criticized a book just by looking at its cover, Benjamin found her to be outrageously ill-mannered!

Benjamin stared at Queenie for a few seconds before he managed to shut her up. He then turned to Molly and Alex.

‘I really wonder why Mr. Jiin would have a daughter like her,’ he wondered.

Everyone stared at Alex and was stunned.

Alex had a tiny pair of hands, but his fingers were gliding on the keyboard as he focused on the screen.

He was nothing like a clueless child!

Queenie was raging, she did not expect Benjamin to yell at her because of Molly.

'Darn it!' All she could do was bite down her lip silently as she watched from afar.

At the same time, Queenie could not help but feel anxious, when she saw Alex working on the computer, her emotions became harder to control.

She still pretended to be calm and let off some steam by insulting Molly and Alex, "How pretentious.

"Do you think you can fool everyone with this kid?" she looked at Alex's side profile. 'He looks just like a little kid. Could he really find out what I did...?' Her restlessness was like a ripple in the sea; the circles were expanding wider as time passed.

Alex used his hacking skills and connected Molly's computer with other specific websites and finally found the data.

Chapter 522-After twenty minutes or so, Alex started to slow down before a string of numbers ultimately popped up on the screen.

"Mommy, I found the data. I also activated the query mode and can confirm that..." Alex looked at the data and the smallest numbers at the bottom of the window. "The data was deleted at 2:36 o'clock in the afternoon. You can check the surveillance footage at that time and this case will be solved."

Alex's voice was crisp as it echoed in everyone's ears.

The people were in disbelief.

‘This little kid has exceptional skills!’ However, some of them were still skeptical.

The colleagues who were skilled in technology could not help but went up to Molly’s computer to have a look. After inspecting for a few seconds, they said with assurance, “The command inserted was indeed to recover the lost data. The numbers are not new codes.

II With the colleagues as witnesses, the other people’s doubts immediately vanished.

Molly looked at Benjamin flatly.

“I’m going to check the surveillance footage,” Benjamin said.

When Queenie heard what Benjamin said, she was terrified.

She was the only person in the research institute in the afternoon.

With fear in her, she fought back her guilt and said in a rush, “ What are you trying to say?!

“Are you saying that one of US deleted your data? This is slander! It’s possible that you deleted it yourself too! It’s not like things like this have never happened before.”

Her words came out of the blue.

Everyone looked at her with confusion and Benjamin paused.

‘Isn’t it a good thing to resolve this matter?’ ‘It’s best to finish this as soon as possible. What is Queenie doing?’ Molly frowned and chuckled before responding coldly.

“Slander? Did I even point my finger at someone? The solid proof is right before our eyes. There was a set of data on my computer, but someone deleted it!

“It was deleted at 12:36 o’clock in the afternoon, and our colleagues can be my witness that I was at the cafeteria at that time! Besides, I have the lunch lady as my witness too. If you don’t believe me, you can check the surveillance footage in the cafeteria.

“That’s why it’s impossible for me to delete it carelessly. Am I slandering anyone?

“You’re old enough to know. So, don’t you know that it’s a crime to falsely accuse someone?

“Besides, isn’t it necessary for US to investigate this matter? If someone like this exists in our team, who would still save their data on their computers?”

Molly’s words were clear and reasonable, perfectly firing back at each of Queenie’s remarks.

Molly arched her brows as she squinted before changing her tone. “Besides, you look rather agitated. Is it possible that there’s more to this case...”

Molly’s word had made everyone shift their complicated gaze to Queenie.

Their gazes were like shackles, tormenting Queenie.

Queenie’s eyes twitched as she yelled through gritted teeth, “Don’t accuse me!”

“Then, stop your nonsense.”

Molly glared at her coldly and held Alex’s hand as she stood at a side, looking as if she did not want to respond to Queenie.

Benjamin continued to make his move and headed to the surveillance room and requested to check the surveillance footage in the afternoon.

But, he did not expect the workers there to reject his request. Their reason was formal, just like what they said to Molly.

He then repeated himself once more, but the people did not budge. They just looked calm and rejected Benjamin again.

Benjamin frowned and looked confused. 'It's a serious matter, why are they so indifferent about it?'

Chapter 523-'In the research institute, if people are not united in a team because some of them are scheming behind closed doors, how would they succeed in their research?' He fought back his displeasure and walked out of the surveillance room. He then stood in the corridor and immediately contacted the director of the research institute.

And that person was Queenie's father.

"Alright, I got it." A gentle voice rang from the other end of the phone.

Then, the person continued.

"I will send someone to investigate this matter."

Benjamin responded, "Thank you very much." He then hung up the phone and returned to the meeting room.

Mr. Jiin sat in his office with his phone sitting on his desk. The black screen reflected his eyes, which showed that he was having a hard time.

He massaged his temples with his eyes shut and sighed before opening his eyes. He then looked at the landline on his table.

After two minutes or so.

Someone stood at the entrance of the research institute downstairs.

“Ms. May, the director wants to see you.”

Molly nodded in response and asked the butler to look after Alex before leaving the meeting room under the eyes of her colleagues. ‘Seems like the director knows about this too.’ The people in the meeting room concluded.

Molly then went upstairs with the person who informed her.

“This way please.” The person opened the door for her and spoke respectfully.

When Molly entered, she noticed that the room was stylish but simple. The flowers in the window boxes were fresh and pretty, adding colors to the room.

She could not tell the name of the flowers, but she soon saw a middle-aged who seemed grounded sitting before the window.

From afar, that man looked similar to Queenie, but when she was closer to him, there were no similarities.

They looked similar but different at the same time.

Molly spoke flatly, “Good afternoon, Mr. Jiin.”

Based on their identity in the medical field, the person who should start a greeting first should be Queenie’s father.

Mr. Jiin nodded as he looked at Molly from head to toe.

He then looked at Molly's face and smiled politely, but it was not welcoming. He was a man who was distant.

"Hello there, I've been hearing your name for a long time, Ms. May. It's our greatest honor to have you in our research institute."

Although Mr. Jiin was being courteous, Molly was too cold, she did not continue the conversation and the atmosphere in the office became cold.

Although he was not as notable as Molly, he was still the director of the research institute. He had many big projects on his hands, and he was a senior. So, it was only natural for him to have a sense of pride.

However, Molly did not save his face, which made him feel rather embarrassed and upset.

Instantly, he did not bother to beat around the bush anymore and said his motive. "I called you in because I heard that your data was erased from your computer, Ms. May."

Molly's gaze had never left him as she responded, "Yes."

She had been observing Mr. Jiin. she was clear about Queenie's characteristics, so she was unsure whether her father was the same.

After all, the same blood coursed through their veins.

She had put her guard up when Mr. Jiin continued calmly, "Regarding this matter, I humbly ask you to do me a favor and sweep it under the rug. You're the team leader, so you wouldn't want to have a bad relationship with your colleagues, right? Not only are you delaying the research progress, but you're also having conflicts with your colleagues."

'Tch...' Molly's gaze turned cold as she faintly said, "what do you mean?"

She was not questioning Mr. Jiin, and her tone was extremely calm.

“I can assign you to Northfolk official’s project, which was recently accepted by our research institute.

“Initially, only teams with three or more years of experience could take over this project.”

🔍🔍🔍🔍 Comment

Chapter 524-“If you could perform well in this research project, your reputation in Northfolk would rise to a new level, and you will be well-known. Such honors and opportunities are not available to everyone,” said Mr. Jiin proudly.

Mr. Jiin went through a lot of trouble to secure this research project, and he wished to keep it for himself. However, he had to give it to Molly unwillingly now.

After Molly heard Mr. Jiin finish talking, her eyes were even colder. Still, her heart was not tempted.

Molly knew that Mr. Jiin’s offer was very tempting. Northfolk’s government research project was equivalent to a nationdevelopment project.

For example, Sean’s project in his company was suddenly favored by Northfolk’s government, and they wished to collaborate and develop it together.

Then, the Anderson Corporation would be recognized by Northfolk as a symbol of honor and status.

That kind of reputation would naturally be famous throughout the city, which was built faster than working hard in a company for several years.

“So, you’re saying you want to cover up your daughter’s action?” Molly said with certainty.

'There's no one else that could make Mr. Jiin sacrifice his work unwillingly besides Queenie.' Molly thought.

Molly's eyes flickered faintly, and its cold light was wanton. She said coldly, "You can keep the project to yourself!"

Mr. Jiin was stunned for a moment. It was evident that he did not expect Molly to reject his offer. Before he could react, Molly had continued with a series of words.

"Your daughter hurt me for no reason, she maliciously deleted the data I had worked hard to compile, and she humiliated me at the meeting. Besides that, she also pressured me to show the evidence. But, the security department refused to cooperate with me and tried to cover it up. she had ruined my reputation and the research progress and dragged everyone down. Even if you don't mind having this kind of colleague around, I wouldn't want to be anywhere around her anymore. Not to mention, don't you think her purpose was to drive me away?"

Molly decided not to sugarcoat her words from the start and said to Mr. Jiin directly, "If you did something wrong, you must apologize. This is something even a three-year-old child could understand. Your daughter did something bad and got exposed, and it's okay for you to help her cover it?"

Molly curled her lips coldly and said with ridicule, "I have managed to prove my innocence, and now you want me to settle down? Why should I? I'm your employee, but that doesn't mean you have the right to bully me at will!"

Molly would not even bother to stay in a place like this! staying there would only insult her reputation and waste her time.

"If you insist on covering up the issue, then I can't continue to serve in this research institute," said Molly. After that, she stood up and left.

There was one more thing that Molly had not told Mr. Jiin.

If Molly took the initiative to send her application to the Northfolk government to take over a new research project, she could get it with her capabilities and reputation!

As for Mr. Jiin's offer, Molly did not care about it from the beginning.

Molly's appearance was cold. She returned to the laboratory and packed her things. It just took her a while to clean up her desk.

Molly did not want to stay in this shabby place for even a second!

Benjamin saw this, and his heart tightened. He came over and asked, "What happened?"

Molly was holding her stuff and glanced at Benjamin, she explained to him briefly about what happened and then left with Alex.

The group of people in the laboratory looked at one another.

Benjamin sighed heavily. He clenched his fists hard and muttered, "Cover up..."

Benjamin tilted his head and gazed at Queenie. His appearance turned ugly and not like his usual warm appearance at all.

After that, Benjamin turned around and went to pack his belongings into his bag. He took it and left.

Benjamin did not have much stuff in the research institute, so he only kept a few things on his desk.

Chapter 525-The rest were the materials of the research institute's projects, and he did not need to leave with them.

Benjamin went directly to the director's office. He walked in with a cold appearance and handed in his resignation.

Benjamin's handwriting was very scribbled because he wrote it when he went upstairs. There's only one sentence in the letter. " Letter of Resignation, Benjamin Forts."

"What's this for?" asked Mr. Jiin. He was taken aback by Benjamin's actions.

Benjamin was impeccable in every aspect. Mr. Jiin had always intended to hand over the good projects to Benjamin.

After seeing Benjamin's affronted expression, Mr. Jiin suddenly thought of something and reacted immediately.

Mr. Jiin said, "We can discuss this matter again. Regarding Ms. May's issue, I didn't directly come to a conclusion!" His indifferent attitude toward Molly just now had disappeared. His tone even sounded a bit like he was pleading.

Benjamin squeezed the computer bag in his palm tightly. He squinted his eyes and coldly said, "Mr. Jiin, your decision today disappoints me! I can no longer stay in this team to do my best and continue to work"

Benjamin used to think that Mr. Jiin was great to work with. But, he never thought that Mr. Jiin would make such a decision!

Benjamin thought, 'Not only did he not appreciate Molly's talents, but he also mistreated her. Why would he think that Molly would still want to work for him?' "Benjamin, Queenie is my daughter. I can't let her be embarrassed like this. I would be embarrassed too. So will the research institute!" said Mr. Jiin. He knew he could not reason with Benjamin, so he began playing the emotion cards again.

At that moment, Benjamin felt disgusted with Mr. Jiin.

Benjamin thought, 'This research institute is supposed to be about work and not a playground for politics. Since his daughter's reputation is more important, he can take good care of his precious daughter! since he dared to gang up and create a toxic environment, his daughter can have the research institute to herself as her plaything. I'm not gonna stay for sure.' "Molly and I had decided to leave.

Anyway, this matter hasn't been known to everyone yet, and it won't affect the reputation and you and your daughter's face value." Benjamin said indifferently and continued, "That's all."

Then, Benjamin's figure slowly disappeared from Mr. Jiin's unwilling sight.

As soon as the news spread, the whole research institute's staff was instantly mind-blown.

Even though the issue about the deleted computer data was not appropriately addressed, everyone knew in their heart who did it.

'This was all Queenie's handiwork Who else could shield her besides the director of the research institute?' 'Mr. Jiin and Queenie thought that they could fool US?' 'Their actions had forced Molly and Benjamin away, in the end. Will the research team continue to function?' Molly's team members and other department staff were dissatisfied.

Although Molly and Benjamin have only worked with the others for a short period, they were impeccable from their knowledge to their abilities.

Molly was especially involved in many fields of medicine. She was like a walking medical dictionary!

So much so that when most people encounter complex problems, they would turn to her for answers.

When Molly answered their questions, she would never say a single word of nonsense, she also helped people draw inferences from one case and explored something even more profound.

Molly's influence had made many arrogant graduates of prestigious schools take the initiative to restrain their arrogance.

Although Molly had a cold personality, everyone knew she would never reject any colleague who asked for help.

Molly was undoubtedly a brilliant doctor, and her work efficiency exceeded Queenie's.

Chapter 526-One can only be acknowledged by others with their absolute strength, not by household relationships!

As a result of Queenie's spoof, Mr. Jiin had lost such an outstanding colleague.

At that moment, everyone could not help but talk about it. Some who were being mistreated previously became even more dissatisfied with Queenie.

The gossip never ceased ever since the news came out.

Queenie was a little upset about it, but she did not dare to confront everyone by herself.

At first, Queenie just wanted to force Molly to quit and get out of the research institute. It should be something to celebrate.

However, she did not expect Benjamin to leave as well. Her actions had caused her to lose more than her gains.

Queenie hurriedly left the laboratory and rushed upstairs. She thought, 'Father must have a way to ask Benjamin to stay. He had just left and should have sentimental feelings for the research institute!

Without further ado, she quickened her pace and rushed to her father's office.

She did not have the time to read the situation when she opened the door and impatiently said, "Dad, how could you let Benjamin leave?!"

As Queenie walked to her father, she added, "Can you persuade Benjamin to stay? Like you invited him to join our research institute before, so he would give face to you, right?"

Queenie was impatient and restless in her heart. The lingering resentment of dealing with Molly's incident had not dissipated.

At that moment, Queenie's mind was a mess. Her only thought was to get Benjamin back no matter what!

The thought Queenie had was pricked into her heart deeply, and it controlled her sanity.

Because of that, Queenie approached her father without realizing that his expression was ugly.

Mr. Jiin's tone contained a bit of anger. He reprimanded, "Queenie, I have overlooked your recklessness in the past, but now you have caused too many troubles, and you are still acting so stubbornly!"

1 "Do you know how great the loss was to the research institute with Molly's resignation?!"

Not to mention that Benjamin was also taken away. The departure of two medical leaders was a real hit in an instant.

Queenie disapproved and felt wronged, she angrily said, "Molly's reputation is nothing but a boast. There's nothing great about her! Why are you blaming your own daughter instead of that outsider?!"

Queenie was also emotionally unstable. Her mind was all about Benjamin, and she could not listen to her father's words.

Mr. Jiin glanced at Queenie in disappointment and told her earnestly, "It's not a good thing to be too arrogant. You will suffer from it one day in the future!"

Since there's no use in arguing any further, Queenie did not listen to her father's warning, she turned and left.

sigh...

Mr. Jiin looked at his daughter. He could only shake his head and sigh.

Molly took Alex back to Terahis Grove, when Sean was about to go to Molly's house, he heard the car's sound and was surprised to see Molly taking Alex out of the car.

Sean asked, "Why did you come home so early today?" He knew it was not even time for Molly to get off work.

Molly did not want to mention it and silently went over to help Sean push his wheelchair.

Alex saw that Molly did not want to speak, and his face also turned angry.

'Silly Mommy, just tell Daddy about how you were wronged. If you don't say it, how will Daddy know and find a chance to comfort you?' Alex thought.

Alex followed behind Sean and Molly into the house.

Alex thought, 'Forget it. Mommy wouldn't know what to do. If that's the case, then I'll say it for her.' "Uncle Sean, did you know? The people at the research institute are terrifying. They secretly deleted Mommy's work and covered it up...

II

Chapter 527-Alex recounted everything that happened to Molly in the research institute today to Sean.

Everyone else was in the living room and had heard what Alex said. The grumpy Brycen could not control himself after he heard what had happened.

Brycen said, "What a ridiculous research institute. I bet they can't even conduct proper research at all. They should first research about etiquette, righteousness, shame, and thick faces. How dare they force you to resign!"

Sean also frowned in displeasure after hearing that.

From the beginning, Sean had thought about setting up a research institute for Molly. It was for her to conduct any research that she wanted freely. He did not expect Molly to be schemed and forced to resign after she went to that research institute.

"It doesn't count as being forced to resign. It's a very toxic environment and was filled with devious schemes. Nothing at that place was authentic research. It is a place I don't wish to stay, so it's better to resign." Molly comforted her family cheerfully, knowing they cared about her very much.

"I'd rather have this problem happen sooner than after I've done all the research and know it's all in vain," Molly added.

Thinking of that, Molly began to smile.

Sawyer knew that Molly did not laugh from her heart. He just reached his hand out and patted Molly's shoulder to comfort her. He said, "They are the ones who couldn't see the good in you, so don't be sad."

As Molly was about to answer Sawyer, someone came to her door.

It was Benjamin.

Molly was a little surprised and glanced at the clock on the wall.

'I resigned on the spot and came home after that. But, Benjamin should still be at work at this hour.' Molly thought.

Benjamin seemed to be able to read Molly's mind. He smiled and said, "Don't be surprised. I resigned too."

Benjamin added, "I'm sorry that today's incident made you feel wronged. I was the one who introduced the job to you, so I'm also responsible for that. We don't need to stay in a place like that."

"It's okay." Molly did not want to talk about the research institute again. She looked at Benjamin lightly and said, "It's all in the past. It doesn't matter anymore."

Benjamin knew that Molly did not want to mention it, so he did not continue.

The triplets saw that Molly was in a low mood, so they took turns telling Molly jokes. Soon, everyone was talking and laughing in the living room.

Since many people were present, Sean did not chat with Molly. Until at night, he seized the opportunity to ask her when she went over to his house to treat him.

"So, what are your plans after leaving the research institute?" Sean asked.

"Nothing yet. I '11 just wait and see. If there's no suitable job for me, I will just accompany my family at home," said Molly. Her family could still manage without her getting a job.

Molly did not want to ever experience what happened in the research institute.

"That's good. Since the first day I met you, I haven't seen you idle for a few days. Just think of it as giving yourself a break," said Sean. In fact, he had an idea in his mind.

Sean wished to set up a research institute for Molly.

The Anderson Corporation was involved in many industries and had its own private hospital.

Whatever research Molly wanted, Sean could also provide her.

Sean could take Molly under his wing and provide her with support and protection...

But, Sean also knew Molly would not accept his kindness for no reason, nor will she blindly rely on others' protection.

So, Sean could only bury this thought deep in his mind.

Benjamin left after having dinner at Molly's house.

When Benjamin returned to the Forts residence, he discovered that Mr. Jiin and Queenie were in his house.

Mr. Jiin and Benjamin's father, Garry, had been friends for many years.

Seeing that Mr. Jiin brought Queenie to his house together, Benjamin could guess the purpose of them coming to his house.

🔍 🔍 🔍 🔍 Commen

Chapter 528-Even though Benjamin resigned, Mr. Jiin was still regarded as his elder. Benjamin simply greeted Mr. Jiin and did not bother to look at Queenie. He turned around and went upstairs.

"Benjamin, come and sit down." Garry saw Benjamin and stopped him. Garry asked Benjamin to come over and said, "I heard from Mr. Jiin that you had tendered your resignation today. So, what's the matter? We can discuss it if there's anything going on."

"He's right, Benjamin. We have known each other for so long, and I'm no stranger to you. We can talk about your resignation again. Both you and Ms. May are a great addition to our team. If you agree to come to work, we will also invite Ms. May to come back and continue to participate in the research. If she's still not satisfied, I can ask Queenie to apologize to her."

Mr. Jiin had always cherished the talented, not to mention rare talents like Benjamin and Molly.

It would be a lie if Mr. Jiin said he did not feel his heart ached when he let both of them go.

Compared to the two of them, Mr. Jiin's daughter, on the other hand, was useless, a disappointment, and caused him a lot of headaches.

After Benjamin and Molly left his office today, Mr. Jiin pondered again and again.

He finally decided to go to the Forts residence. He hoped to convince Benjamin to return to the institute to continue working.

To Mr. Jiin's surprise, when Benjamin heard his words, there was a hint of mockery in what Benjamin was about to say.

"Mr. Jiin, do you even know what you are talking about? Do you think it would be easy to invite Molly back to work? To be honest, Molly is a low-key person, but her medical achievements are better than mine. I have no idea what your thoughts are about her."

Benjamin looked at Mr. Jiin and Queenie. He continued, "Many foreign research institutions have offered Molly the job in recent years. But, she had not accepted any of them all this while, she would agree to join your research institute because I invited her. I didn't expect you to mistreat her like that, with that said, do you think she would reconsider and come back again?"

To Benjamin, even if Mr. Jiin had the thought of persuading Molly, he did not have the face to go to Molly to say such things.

"I'm sorry. Even if you and my father are good friends, I can't agree on this matter. It is also impossible for me to forget about it."

After Benjamin had finished, he did not bother looking at them and went upstairs directly.

Queenie, who was silent, saw Benjamin going upstairs, and her heart was distraught. She disregarded Zain and Garry's presence and directly went after Benjamin.

"I like you, Benjamin!" Queenie stopped Benjamin before he could get back to his room.

"I've liked you for a very long time. I know that everything today is my fault. I was being obsessive, but it's all because I like you. I don't want you to have too much contact with Molly, so, I have been harsh on her."

Because of the confession, Queenie was nervous to look at Benjamin for the first time.

The man who had always been warm and good-natured smiled coldly after he heard what she said.

"You? Like me? You think you can hurt others arbitrarily in the name of liking someone just because you like me?" said Benjamin. The contempt in his eyes was undisguised. Like a sharp knife, it went straight into Queenie's heart.

"Unfortunately, I don't like you at all. Not only that, but I also hate you. So, please stay away from me." Benjamin ignored how hurtful his words were. He ruthlessly pushed away the person blocking his way and left without hesitation.

Queenie's face was pale, and she did not even dare to stop Benjamin again, she stumbled and finally fell to the ground.

Queenie never thought that Benjamin would become so heartless because of Molly...

Chapter 529-Since Molly did not have to go to work, she had more time at home. This was something that the triplets were usually happy about. But, after what Molly had gone through at the research institute, the triplets were worried about Molly.

Every day, the triplets would find ways to make Molly happy. They would also do something to divert Molly's attention.

Today, they saw Molly sitting alone in front of the window wall. She was staring at the lawn outside the window in a daze. The triplets thought for a moment and went to Molly to present her a proposal.

"Mommy, let's go out somewhere this weekend together!"

Before Molly could answer, Brycen's voice sounded instantly.

"That's a great idea. Even though it's not yet spring, the autumn weather is rather refreshing. It's a good time for the whole family to go somewhere!"

"Yeah, Uncle Brycen's right. The sun is not bright, and the weather is just nice. We can go for a picnic to see the beauty of nature and relax." The triplets added after seeing their Uncle Brycen agreed. They also did not forget to ask Sean beside them, "Uncle Sean, do you think so?"

"Yeah." Sean replied with a smile, "On that day, I'll ask the chef to make more delicious food to bring along."

"Hooray! We are looking forward to the weekend!" The triplets cheered happily.

Molly looked at the happy children with doting smiles on their faces. She could not refuse them.

Time passed in a blink, and soon it was the weekend morning.

The weather today was good. Molly and her family went out with Sean and the others.

The triplets had prepared the things they needed to bring as early as the night before.

The place they had decided to go was Century National Park.

In the park, there was a vast grass field. Since autumn was gradually coming, the ginkgo leaves on the tree had turned yellow. When the breeze blew gently, they swayed and fell from the tree. This scenery was a unique beauty. The warmth of midsummer was not the bleakness of late autumn.

"Mommy! Hurry up!" The triplets chose the best place excitedly.

Because it was a weekend outing, there were many people in Century National Park.

After the triplets had finally found a good spot, they quickly asked Tony and Sawyer to help lay the mat and sat down happily.

Molly looked at the lively scene, and she happily placed the food she had brought.

Sean had also asked his chef to prepare a lot of food, most of which was suitable for picnics.

Molly also prepared a lot of food including pieces of bread, pastries, milk beverages, and some snacks that the triplets like, she put all of them on the picnic mat; a pile full of them.

The triplets played excitedly on the grass field, and Molly did not stop them. It was in the nature of children to love to play. Since they could not come out and play often, they must be pleased about it.

So, Molly did not want to spoil their fun.

The triplets continued playing, while Molly took pictures of them at a side with her cell phone, she wanted to record all her children's growth.

"If only I could go and run with them too," said Brycen. He looked at the happy triplets with envy in his eyes. If he could turn back time, he would cherish his legs!

Brycen could only sit there alone and eat snacks while watching the triplets play by themselves.

"At this time next year, it will be soon enough," Molly said coldly when she heard what Brycen said.

Sawyer, who was setting up his easel, could not help but smile when he heard their conversation.

In the past, Sawyer had never thought that he could enjoy such a life with his family, nor did he witness the rebellious Brycen being attacked verbally.

Chapter 530-“What are you laughing at? You should play with your little niece and nephews when you got the time, yet here you are, painting. You are just wasting the good time here!” said Brycen, and he gave Sawyer a disgusted look.

Sawyer did not bother about it. He just minded his business and lightly said, “You won’t understand.

This is the moment when the inspiration is most abundant. It will be a waste of good time if you don’t paint it out.”

Brycen had lost his argument with Sawyer, so he moved to a spot to eat and vent his sadness.

After the triplets played for a while, they saw someone flying a kite. There were various shapes and sizes of kites flying high in the sky. The triplets were envious.

Sean noticed it, and he signaled Tony to go and get a few kites.

Since this was a place for a family outing, there were kites sold nearby. Soon, Tony returned with the kites.

“It’s a kite!” The triplets exclaimed. They saw Tony bringing the kites and looked at Sean with surprise in their eyes.

It was as though the triplets were asking Sean whether it was him who asked Tony to buy it for them.

Sean nodded to them with a gentle smile, and the triplets smiled happily.

However, as soon as the triplets held it in their hand, they were stunned. They pursed their lips on their little embarrassed faces. They wondered, ‘So... how do we fly a kite?’ The triplets raised their little heads and shook the kites in their hands. They asked their uncles, “Uncle Sean, Uncle Brycen, and Uncle Sawyer, how do you fly a kite?”

Brycen scratched his head and was a little embarrassed, “Well... I have never flown a kite before.”

Brycen could talk for three days and three nights without stopping if it was about how to be a good racing athlete.

But, Brycen really had no ideas about how to fly a kite.

Sawyer also thought the same. He shook his head helplessly at the triplets. It would not be a problem if they asked him to draw kites.

The three May brothers were all unique, and each was extremely talented in their own field.

The triplets had no choice but to turn their little heads to Sean. They stared eagerly at him, expecting an answer.

Sean could not help but smile and said, "I don't know how to fly a kite either."

Sean had never been exposed to children's stuff since he was a child. When he was a child, he was busy with different courses and activities, when he grew up, he was busy with work every day.

After he saw the triplets' spirits fading, Sean added, "But, I did watch a tutorial on kite-flying before."

"Really, Uncle Sean?! what does it say?" The triplets regained their spirits and looked at Sean expectantly.

"Well, there are two steps mentioned in the video; one is to run, and the other is to pull the kite string regularly, and it will naturally fly."

Sean's description was somewhat correct, but the triplets were still clueless.

At that moment, Tony walked up with a smile. He raised his hand and suggested, "I know how to fly a kite. How about I teach you?"

Tony had flown kites when he was a child. Although he had not played it for a long time, he was more experienced than anyone present.

The triplets were about to agree happily when suddenly they heard Molly speak out.

“How about trying it for yourself? since you want to fly it, you have to learn it by yourself. Only ask Uncle Tony for help if you can’t do it.”

Molly spoke lightly while looking at her children. Her beautiful eyes were sparkling under the rays of the sun.

The triplets stood there thinking about Molly’s words and agreed after a few seconds.

The triplets were also very interested in exploring the unknown. They did not say much and acted directly with the freshness of the experience.
