

Triplets On SM 531

Chapter 531-And so, the triplets did exactly as Sean had described earlier. They held the kite string with their little hands and ran. After running several times, they still could not fly the kite.

As soon as they stopped, the kite fell tremblingly like a withered leaf.

Traces of melancholy appeared on the triplets' little faces.

Seeing that, Molly also planned to try it and took Claudia's kite. Molly pulled the thin line of the kite in one hand and held the spinner in the other. Then, she trotted.

The kite began to float up like it was supposed to.

The triplets stared at Molly and were slightly excited. They thought, 'Is Mommy going to succeed?' Sadly, the outcome was the same as the triplets when Molly stopped. The kite fell like a leaf.

"Awww..." The triplets sighed.

Sure enough, Molly failed too.

Molly was also upset. She picked up the kite and walked back.

'Why is it so hard to fly a kite?' Molly thought.

Sean smiled while looking at the person who came back to him. He said, "The tutorial said you must pull the string like this."

Sean did not hesitate. He subconsciously reached out and grabbed Molly's palm. While he learned the movements in the tutorial, he also taught Molly how to pull the kite string.

Molly was stunned for a moment, and her expression became unnatural. But, she did not break free.

Molly watched Sean's hand covering her fingers, and the palm of her hand was slightly getting hot. It was as if the other party was carrying a subtle electric current, and it rushed to her body.

Their action was intimate, and their distance was somewhat ambiguous.

This scene was captured by Sawyer. His eyes glanced at them repeatedly, and he quickly painted the scene on his canvas.

After some moments of brainstorming and guidance from Tony, they were able to fly a kite.

The triplets were very happy. They ran around holding the kite and had a lot of fun. Their little faces had big and sweet smiles.

Brycen held a cup of hot tea in his hand. He could feel the warm sun while he leaned on his wheelchair. He closed his eyes and enjoyed himself.

Brycen thought, 'Ah, it's been a while since I felt this comfortable.' Others were also sitting aside, bathing in the warm sun until noon. Then, it was about time for lunch.

The triplets stopped after Molly called for them. They took their kites and ran back to the picnic location.

Sawyer's painting was also completed at that time.

The painting was of the beautiful scenery in front. The lines were smooth and delicate, and the layers of paint were clearly visible.

Sawyer also drew the triplets flying kites in the painting. Their expressions were energetic, and their joy was vividly displayed.

But, in the lower right corner of the painting, there was a scene of a man and a woman holding hands.

Although the whole body was not painted, through the color of the clothes, those who were present knew at a glance who these two were.

The whole painting was well-structured with delightful colors, and the brushstrokes were not sloppy.

Grandpa Dave did not hesitate and praised Sawyer. He nodded and smiled as he said, "Not bad, Sawyer. You're really good at painting, and it's a masterpiece."

Truly enough, Sawyer had a high artistic talent.

Brycen overheard it. He leaned over to look, just when he was about to admire it.

'Huh??' Brycen pondered.

"Why am I not in the painting?" Brycen looked at Sawyer with dissatisfaction.

Brycen thought, 'Even Grandpa was in the painting, but why was I left out? This is so mean!' After Sawyer received his Grandpa's praise, he was full of joy. He smiled and replied, "I forgot."

Brycen was unhappy and shouted at Sawyer, "How could you forget about your own brother? You can't do this to me! To make up for my injured little heart, you will have to draw a picture for me in the afternoon!"

Chapter 532-when Brycen was about to continue howling, Sean interrupted him.

"Can I buy this painting from you?" Sean raised his chin and looked at Sawyer with a gentle expression.

Sean had been staring at it for a while. He obviously liked it.

Sawyer glanced at Sean and calmly said, “We’re a family. You don’t have to buy it. I can just give it to you.”

Sean could feel Sawyer’s kindness. Sean’s eyebrows raised slightly, and he smiled slightly at Sawyer.

The unexpected harmony between Sean and Sawyer made Brycen stunned.

Brycen thought, ‘Huh, what family? Sean’s surname isn’t May!’ When Brycen tried to break this weird sense of harmony, he was preempted again.

The triplets smiled and agreed with the two. “Yes, we’re a family! Uncle Sean, there’s no need to be so courteous with us! Tee-hee.”

The triplets thought, ‘We are a family, to begin with since you are our Daddy!’ Molly quietly sat aside, and she could hear the meaning of the words from the triplets. She felt inexplicably a little embarrassed.

“Come and eat. Some of the food is still hot from the thermal container. Hurry up and finish the food while it’s hot.” Molly took the initiative to change the subject and diverted everyone’s attention to the picnic mat.

There were several plates of fresh and delicious fruits on the picnic mat, delicate sushi and pastries, and a plate of milky souffle cake in the middle.

There were cups of freshly squeezed juice on a plate next to the cake and a small pile of toasted breadsticks in a greased paper basket.

This lunch would make people’s appetites significantly increase even at a glance from afar.

At the same time, everyone could tell that this was prepared wholeheartedly by Molly.

“Mommy’s the best!” the triplets praised Molly with their eyes lit up, and they sat on the cushion in anticipation.

‘Oh my gosh, those look delicious!’ Brycen thought.

Brycen was also getting ready to eat. He gulped secretly and said, “ Yeah, it looks very delicious. Molly, you’re an amazing cook.”

Molly showed a happy smile. She said somewhat smugly, “Of course, these are all trivial stuff.”

Molly’s culinary skills were not limited to just home cooking!

After everyone had eaten and played for a while, Molly’s cell phone suddenly rang.

Molly handed the teacup to Brycen, sitting next to her, and took out her phone from her bag.

‘An unfamiliar number?’ Molly pondered.

Molly stared at the number for two seconds before answering it. She asked, “This is Molly speaking.”

“Hello, Ms. May. It’s me.” That voice belonged to Mr. Jiin, who tried to cover up his daughter’s mistake a few days ago.

Molly’s mood sank instantly, and her eyes turned icy cold. Those bad memories in the research institute suddenly surfaced in her mind.

“And?” Molly’s tone became distant and cold.

“Ms. May, I realized how I handled things was inappropriate after reflecting on it for two days. Please don’t take it to heart. Queenie should be held responsible for her own mistakes. I’m calling to apologize to you on behalf of Queenie.” The voice from the phone was very sincere.

Mr. Jiin was in the office at that moment, looking at the scenery outside the balcony. He was feeling uneasy.

After Molly had listened to Mr. Jiin's words, she walked aside and slowly replied, "There's no need for that. I appreciate what you're doing. But, it's difficult for anyone to accept it after being targeted maliciously for no reason, even me. So, I can't work with such immature and scheming people again.

"Even if I go back to the institute, there will still be estrangement in each other's hearts, which is not conducive to the research project's progress."

Chapter 533-Molly rejected Mr. Jiin directly, and Mr. Jiin's face sank. However, he continued, "Ms. May, I understand that...

"But, we sincerely hope that you would reconsider. Queenie had also promised me that she would not do anything bad to you again.

Mr. Jiin paused for a moment. Even though he was suffocating in his heart, he gritted his teeth and said, "If you don't believe me, we can talk about this face-to-face. I can offer you anything you want."

Molly frowned, she opened her mouth and rejected Mr. Jiin like before.

Molly had said it from the beginning, and she would stand firm in her decision no matter what.

Mr. Jiin felt that he had said all the good things, yet it was ineffective. Suddenly, he became angry and harshly said, "Ms.

May, you may be famous abroad, but I'm very well-connected in Norlon! You will not have a better place to work apart from our research institute!"

Mr. Jiin squeezed his phone hard. The more he talked, the angrier he became.

He even growled a little at the end.

Molly's brows furrowed even deeper, and her good mood was completely ruined. She was displeased and said, "Your face changed very quickly, Mr. Jiin.

If that's the case, there is no need to waste any more time. My decision remains the same."

Molly hung up the phone right away. She thought, 'No wonder Queenie had such thoughts. Like father, like daughter. They are both problematic.<sup>1</sup> "Whose on the phone?" Sean asked casually when Molly finished answering the phone.

"It was Mr. Jiin from the research institute." Molly did not hide it from Sean.

"Didn't you tender your resignation? What else does he want from you?"

Sean just asked curiously, and Molly told him frankly about their conversation on the phone.

About Mr. Jim's apology and how he threatened her after being upset, Molly told Sean everything.

Sean listened to those words, and his eyes deepened. He comforted Molly and said, "He's just a private hospital director. There's nothing to be afraid of. To put it bluntly, it's just that your reputation in Northfolk is not as high as his. So, don't worry too much about it."

"Okay," Molly said and nodded lightly. Molly also felt that there was nothing extraordinary about Mr. Jiin. Power or not, it was just all about money.

Molly initially thought that the Jiin father and daughter were just different people.

But, she did not expect them to have problems with their morals, and she was disgusted with the Jiins.

“Let’s not talk about them. There’s always a solution to a problem. It’s getting late now, and the weather is getting cold. Let’s go home,” said Molly.

“Okay,” said Sean. When he heard Molly say to go home, he smiled lightly.

Everyone packed the things together and began their journey back to Terahis Grove. Molly was going to prepare dinner, but Sean said he had to return to his house to deal with something. So, he asked Molly and the others to go home first.

After seeing all of them enter the house, the smile on Sean’s face subsided. “Send this painting to be framed and hang it in my study, and then go and investigate Zain Jiin for me,” Sean instructed Tony.

“What do you want me to investigate about him, Boss?” asked Tony. He looked at his boss cluelessly.

Sean coldly said, “Everything.”

Sean wondered, T wonder what kind of influential figure gave such confidence to Zain Jiin. A director of a small research institute like him dared to speak harshly to Molly.’ Sean had made a note in his heart when Molly told him everything earlier.

“Leave it to me, Boss. Are you going home now, or are you going to Ms. May’s place? where would you like me to take you to?”

Sean waved his hand to signal his refusal. He only wanted Tony to get the things he wanted to be done quickly.

Chapter 534-Tony was highly efficient. At night, he came back with the framed painting and the information that Sean asked of him. After he hung the painting, he went to look for Sean.

“Zain has been the director for many years. But, he’s unethical,” he said.

Tony mentioned Zain was unethical, but it was just his preliminary investigation.

After all, Zain successfully got to where he was. And, he had been in the position for a long time. It was not easy to get something on him.

Even if someone suspected something, they could not get substantial evidence to support their claims.

“Boss, why did you want to investigate Zain suddenly?” Tony wondered. ‘Zain isn’t related to the Anderson Corporation’s business in any way. The only thing they have in common is Ms. May. But, she resigned a few days ago.’ “He dared to threaten someone that I protect. He said some harsh words boastfully. He wanted Dr.

May to have no place in the country,” Sean said as he smiled coldly.

‘It’s been a long time since I saw someone that cocky.’ Tony got the answer to his question.

T don’t need Sean to explain further. Zain said some harsh words. It’s obvious whom he threatened. The people that Sean protects aren’t that many.’ Tony silently prayed for Zain who acted recklessly.

‘He threatened the future boss lady of the Anderson Corporation. He was too reckless.’ Tony did not ask further. He immediately told Sean the information he found.

“Zain was from a poor family. Before he studied at the university, his family had financial difficulties. But, he was very hardworking. He’s a self-made businessman who now has a few companies...”

Tony was suspicious about that.

‘Zain was so poor that he had difficulty completing his university education. He didn’t get rich from trading in the stockmarket. So, it wasn’t easy to turn his situation around.

‘Moreover, I didn’t find any information suggesting that he had achieved anything great in the past years. So, how did he get such a large capital?’ “Check his assets. If there’s no issue, check his connections. I want to know who’s backing him up,” Sean said coldly.

Sean had the same thought as Tony. Sean had been in the business industry for many years. He did not believe that Zain could turn his situation around so suddenly as it was completely groundless.

Their conversation about Zain came to an end temporarily.

The Jiin family had no idea that they were being investigated. Queenie heard that Zain called Molly in the afternoon.

She sneered with disdain as she said, "She's far too ungrateful. Even the professors in this country must show us some respect. Who does she think she is? Does she really think she's still the overseas superstar people fight for? In Northfolk, she must show us respect even if she's very capable. She's heedless of the consequences!"

Queenie was upset with Zain for asking her to apologize to Molly.

She hated Molly even more for being ungrateful.

"I persuaded her nicely. But unexpectedly, she was so ungrateful. Well, in that case, I'll have to destroy her. I won't allow her to go somewhere else!"

Zain said that coldly. A hint of ruthless light flashed past his cloudy eyes.

Queenie was waiting for her father to say that.

'Molly, you're a b*tch!

'You seduced Benjamin. He rejected me and choose you!' 'You're a c*nt who had given birth to three kids. And yet, Benjamin wants you!

Chapter 535-Molly did not know that Zain and Queenie were so cunning that they had plotted against her behind her back.

Other than sorting out the medical documents for the past few days, she had been spending time with her kids at home.

Although she did not go out, she heard about things that had happened outside.

Brycen looked serious as he answered the phone call. He seemed like he had some concerns as he avoided Molly.

His action planted doubts in Molly's mind. When Molly heard Brycen mention the words hospital and Lara, she immediately thought that Lara had done something. 'Is she sick again?' But, after she listened to the conversation a little longer, she did not think Lara was sick.

She then messaged Caitlyn who was still working on her shift in the hospital.

Caitlyn replied to her shortly after.

Lara was recovering in the hospital. However, she got kicked out of the hospital suddenly today.

After Caitlyn asked around, she got to know that the reason Lara was kicked out was related to the research institute. It seemed like Lara got evicted from the hospital because of Molly.

But, Caitlyn did not know the detailed information.

Molly was angry as she rubbed her forehead.

She did not expect that Zain and Queenie would be so shameless. They targeted the people around her when they could not deal with her.

She did not care whether Lara was alive or dead. But, Lara was in trouble because of her. So, she went to look for Brycen after she gave a thought about it.

"Is she okay?" Molly would not call Lara her mother. Brycen got off the phone not long ago. He knew whom she was talking about when she asked him that.

"She's all right. The surgery performed by you was successful. She has been recovering well during this period, she has been transferred to another hospital now. She's fine." Brycen was worried, unlike Molly.

"I'll go and check it out in the afternoon after Nathan arranges everything." He was disappointed with Lara but she was his mother.

Brycen could not ignore her.

"Okay." Molly nodded her head, she did not ask further. Neither did she say she wanted to go with Brycen.

Because of Zain's action of kicking Lara out, Tony found more information after Sean asked him to check further.

Tony found a breakthrough due to Zain's action. He followed the leads and found something.

"Boss, something is wrong with Zain." Tony knew Zain would be in trouble soon. He said excitedly, "On the surface of it all, a few hospitals that are related to Zain's research institute seem normal.

But, that's not the case."

Life-or-death situations and medical disputes were common in hospitals. But, the issues that happened in the hospitals under Zain did not happen in other hospitals.

"A few years ago, a few patients died due to the hospital's selfinterest. I found out that they allegedly ended the patients' life."

Tony's tone was serious as he said that.

“A wrongful death?” Sean asked.

“The evidence is insufficient.” Tony said, “There were things in common between the few medical negligence cases. Those who died had some disputes with someone else before they were admitted to the hospital. Initially, they were alive when they were rescued. But shortly after, either their lives were suddenly in danger again or their illness kept recurring. And, they will die after they were rescued again.”

Chapter 536-Something must be going on behind this.’ Sean had doubts as he asked, “why weren’t all these incidents reported?”

‘It’s understandable that accidents can happen during surgical treatments. But, how was it possible that Zain was able to stop the families of the patients from spreading out about what happened?’ Medical disputes more or less happened in hospitals.

However, for years, it appeared that the Jiin family’s hospital did not have any medical disputes.

It was not normal.

The more Tony investigated, the more information he found. He explained, “It’s because Mr. Jiin did something. He blamed everything on the patients. He said their condition deteriorated which caused them to die during surgery or treatments.

“That was his hospital. He can alter the patients’ medical records and their death reports easily. He can just deceive some of the victims’ families effortlessly by talking to them.”

He stopped talking for a moment as he took a breath. He continued, “He’d privately pay some money to the families that were tough to deal with. After all, the victims were dead; no one would refuse the money.”

Doctors should save patients. But, they became the ones that killed them.

Tony felt chilly.

Sean frowned. He felt bad as he heard that. He coldly said, "Then, why are you still standing here? Give all the information you found to the media. They will pass it to the relevant departments to follow up."

Tony stood straight up as he acknowledged the order. He then turned around and went to deal with it.

Sean sat at the desk alone. There was a book called "Extraordinary Popular Delusions and The Madness of Crowds" on the table.

He stared at the light outside the floor-to-ceiling window. His eyes were filled with coldness.

'The Anderson family can't get involved in this matter too much.

'Because all the media are keeping a close eye on the Anderson Corporation's every movement.

'People will be suspicious if we do too much.

'Someone may then follow the leads and blame all the problems on Molly. This will make things worse.

'Moreover, the information that Tony found would be enough to screw over the Jiin family.' Sean raised his eyelids as his fingers trembled slightly.

He then opened the book that was on the table. The page was full of Toigean words. But, in his eyes, it was irrational enthusiasm and the anatomy of human nature.

The next day, a leading media reported that the Jiin family's hospital had some serious issues.

After that, a few more news was reported continually. This caught huge attention.

Suddenly, several media put their attention directly on the Jiin family's hospital.

Many journalists went to interview the doctors and nurses of the hospital.

The hospital was uneventful initially. But, ever since the media reported the news, a lot of attention had been given to the hospital.

Suddenly, the Jiin family's hospital went viral.

Many people were discussing it online. News related to the hospital was constantly updated.

"Breaking news, the Jiin's family hospital in Northfolk hid the truth from the masses."

"Breaking news, surgeons treated human lives as if they were not worth a straw. They lied to the families of the patients. The cause of death was actually..."

"Breaking news, the Jiin family's private hospital was just a money -making tool!"

Many people commented online, "This is an unethical hospital. They don't prioritize the patients' life.

They only care about charging expensive operation fees."

Someone commented immediately after it, "They killed my brother. They didn't even return our operation fees!"

"They've gone too far. Zain took others' life-saving money. Is he not afraid that this would reduce his life span?"

"This private hospital always put up advertisements to promote themselves. I've seen many of those on several different platforms. I didn't expect them to use dirty money for the advertisements!" News related to the Jiin family's hospital was all over the internet. People requested the relevant departments to investigate the hospital.

Chapter 537-Zain saw the news at home. He was shocked as his facial expression changed.

"Bam!"

A piercing sound could be heard as he threw the teacup onto the floor. Water splashed on the floor.

The teacup rolled twice before it stopped on the ground quietly.

He walked past the living room to go downstairs and get a cup of water. He did not expect the media to report about his hospital!

'What's happening?!

'The incidents that are being reported on the news happened many years ago. It was fine at that time, why were they suddenly being reported now?!

Zain was suddenly mad. He remained sensible as he took out his phone to call his assistant.

"Director..." his assistant said carefully as the call went through. It was obvious that his assistant knew about the news.

Zain was furious as he angrily said, "Go and find out who found out about this immediately!"

Soon, his assistant phoned him.

"Director, the first media that reported the news was a news media called Civic.

They're very authoritative in the media industry. The news that they reported last time were mostly social topics."

He said every word softly. He was afraid that he would say something wrong that would make Zain furious.

"This matter went viral. Besides, many reporters got in touch with the former patients' families. Some of the families that did not get compensation showed up at this time. They said that from the beginning they suspected their family members who were seriously ill and passed away eventually was our hospital's fault."

Zain was furious when he heard that. 'Bunch of bandits! They're making trouble now because they didn't receive their compensation.

'Most of those patients that I didn't treat were critically ill. They were going to die anyway, why should I waste my time and energy treating them?!

'Do they think hospitals are charities?!' 1 A reporter from one of the media companies interviewed the family of a former patient that was critically ill. The patient was from the Jiin family's private hospital.

The son of the former patient saw the news too. The incident that happened back then flashed upon his mind suddenly. He looked at the camera as he spoke emotionally.

"My father was being treated at that hospital back then!

"Initially, he was still fine. But, unexpectedly, he passed away after he went for surgery!

"But, the reason given by the hospital was merely because my father's condition worsened during the surgery. That was why he passed away." The former patient's son was heartbroken. He could not control his emotions as he cried. He looked desolate.

He sobbed as he said, "We can't bring back the dead. In the end, our family was forced to accept the fact that he passed away!" He then said, "But, at that time, we did suspect that the doctor did something wrong during the surgery! The initial medical report showed that my father's illness was moderate. He wasn't critically ill to the point where he almost died. How can it be a coincidence that his condition worsened exactly during the surgery?"

"Slow down. Take it easy," the reporter said as he comforted the family member of the former patient kindly.

"We're just an average household. We couldn't do anything even though we were very unhappy and confused about what happened. Only today we found out that we weren't the only family that suffered from this kind of 'accident' back then! So, now I'm completely sure that there must be something wrong with the Jiin family's hospital!"

He wiped his tears as he waved his hand to indicate that he was done talking.

The reporter made a bow at him gratefully. The reporter then looked at the camera as he said, "Thank you very much, sir. Were all the surgeries that failed at the Jiin family's hospital back then, accidents or intentional? I believe the relevant departments will uncover the truth!"

Chapter 538-Many people saw the news that was reported by that journalist. They were furious, and they commented online to scold the Jiin family fiercely.

At the same time, another media reported a piece of even more shocking news.

Everyone was attracted by the news as they opened it.

The headline was "A Private Hospital in Northfolk, Director Zain Took Briberies. Clear Evidence Found!"

The content of the news exposed that Zain made deals with several companies and forces. And, all of them were involved in briberies! Zain was involved in several capital projects in different industries by taking advantage of loopholes. All of them were for personal gains!

Suddenly, the Jiin family had a bad reputation.

Patients in the Jiin family's hospital were frightened. They wanted to transfer to other hospitals.

Suddenly, there was chaos in the hospital. All the medical professionals were very busy.

Molly saw the news too, and she was shocked.

She knew that Zain's characteristics were bad, but she did not expect that he was such a horrible person.

Popular searches came out of nowhere. All the news published about Zain was terrifying and frightening.

Because of this, the Jiin family was so busy that they could not even catch a breath.

In the eyes of the public, the Jiin family was like a bunch of rats in the sewer that was being exposed to light. They were rotten and disgusting. Everyone wanted to avoid them.

At night, Sean saw Molly when she came over to treat him. He said to her, "I want to invest in a research laboratory."

He thought about it for two days before he made the decision.

Molly stopped walking as she raised her head to look at Sean. She was confused.

She asked, "Are you doing this for me?"

She did not want to be overconfident. So, that was why she asked him.

'Will he go this far for me?' Molly had many thoughts in her mind, she controlled her emotion as she looked forward to Sean's answer.

Sean stared at Molly as he said, "Half the reason."

He was observing her facial expression. Her eyes were glowing gradually, and they were brighter than the chandelier.

Molly did not know that her thought was exposed, she said happily in her mind.

'Half the reason is enough.' She continued walking. She then sat beside Sean.

Sean could not help but smile, and his eyes were gentle. He then continued telling her the other half of the reason.

"The other half of the reason is that the Anderson family has a subsidiary in the medical field including medicines. But, the business is outside the country. The business is doing quite well. It's quite profitable too. So, the Anderson family wants to continue to expand in this industry.

"I've been thinking about it for some time because of what happened to you. I want to build a research laboratory in our country. And appoint you as the director of the research laboratory.

He said that pleasantly. He then stared at Molly as he asked her a question.

"What do you think?"

After Molly digested what he said, she was stunned for a few seconds as she stared at him.

'Director of the Anderson family's research laboratory?!

'What do I think?

'How can I make this decision for him?!' Molly bit her lips softly, she smiled awkwardly as her eyes wandered, she said, "You're planning to give me such a high-level managerial authority right after you appoint me. Is that really acceptable?"

She could accept the team leader position given to her out of nowhere back then.

But, this time, it was the director position. 'Am I being promoted too much?

'It feels like I'm cheating...' Molly had mixed feelings. Everything was so unexpected.

She did not think that she could become a director one day.

Sean noticed that she was distracted. He reassured her, "You're capable. You're totally worthy of becoming a director. Moreover, you're rigorous and serious when you work. You're a good fit for this position."

Chapter 539-'Besides, the position is yours if you want it.' Sean looked at Molly, but those words remained unsaid. He figured that Molly would just run away if she heard those words.

Molly hesitated with her head lowered, squeezing her palms under her sleeves.

Although she was happy that she got complimented, she still doubted herself.

'A director!!

'But, I'm so young!' No matter her age or her experience, she believed that she did not deserve that position.

She remained silent for some time, not giving a reply.

Sean stopped looking at her and flatly said, "No rush. You still have some time to think about it."

Although he said that, deep down, he wanted Molly to give him a response as soon as possible.

Molly bit her lips and nodded as she decided to put this matter at the back of her head.

She then looked at Sean with a serious expression, as she was ready to talk about serious matters.

“Your treatment is at the second phase now. You can increase the frequency of the exercises during your free time like using the exercise equipment that trains your legs.”

Her words made Sean excited as his clear eyes stared at Molly.

She then continued, “However, take it slow. You can’t train yourself too much at the beginning, and you must not overwork your body. Or else, not only would the treatment be delayed, but your nerves would also be damaged. If it gets serious, things are going to get ugly.”

If that day came, no one would be able to help Sean.

Sean’s eyes were filled with anticipation as he asked, “It’s been some time. Can I finally try walking now?”

His blood was pumping and his whole body was burning with passion.

Molly looked at his expression as an idea popped into her head.

‘Why does he look like a kid who is waiting for his reward?’ Sean’s icy presence was nowhere to be found. His charming features, along with his excited eyes, had Molly’s full attention.

She could not help but find him similar to her kids when they looked excited about something as well.

She commented in her head and thought to herself, 'He's pretty adorable.' "I'll be in charge of your training plan from now on," Molly said calmly.

Sean listened to everything she said with a trusting heart. He stared directly at Molly and affirmatively said, "Sure."

He believed Molly and he believed that he could stand up once again.

Molly smiled as she could sense the happiness in Sean. "It's too soon to be happy. You're not done with your treatment yet."

She bent down and held the needle firmly in her hand and started the treatment. Throughout the treatment, she could feel Sean's gaze on her.

She thought, 'It's probably because he's happy after knowing that he can finally try standing up.' It was rare to see Sean, who had always been cold and brutal, being so happy, so Molly could not help but be happy for him as well.

'When you like someone, you'll be easily affected by their emotions.

'That's the reason, huh?' Molly thought. When she saw that she was almost done with the needle treatment, she slowed her pace ever so slightly.

She was trying to buy some time and enjoy the alone time she could spend with Sean.

Molly sat aside after she was done, silently praying for time to tick slower.

That was because her affection toward Sean was just like the time.

It only grew stronger with time.

Chapter 540-“Alright, I’m going home.” Molly packed her things after Sean’s treatment and bid him farewell.

Sean nodded and smiled faintly at her. “Rest well.”

“Same to you.”

Molly left and went to her house next door. She was cheerful.

The triplets could tell and got really excited. ‘Mommy looks happy when she comes home! It must be because of daddy!’ But, they still put on a curious expression and asked Molly, “ Mommy, why are you so happy after going over to Uncle Sean’s place?”

Molly looked at them with a smile, “Nothing much.”

She did not notice that she sounded happy as well.

Molly then left the living room and went to the kitchen to make herself some tea before bringing it upstairs with her.

The triplets pouted and exchanged looks with one another. Needless to say, none of them believed Molly.

But still, they were rather delighted. Their parents’ relationship had made some progress and became stronger.

This was something that they had longed for!

After some time, they might even see their parents getting together. When that day comes, everyone would celebrate. The whole family could finally be together and stay together. They could even address Sean as their father openly!

On top of that, they did not have to worry about people using them to insult Molly.

The triplets were excited just from the thought of it. They could not even sit still on the couch, let alone watch the animated movie. They could not wait to live such a blissful life.

The next morning, breakfast time.

Sean looked at Tony who was eating a bowl of risotto. "Get someone to bring the exercise equipment into the house."

Tony gulped down his food and looked at him. "Sure, I'll arrange for someone to get it done."

"Alright, are you done eating?"

"Yeah, I'll get the car running."

Tony immediately understood what Sean meant and stood up before walking toward the entrance.

After that, the two of them said their goodbyes to Molly and her family, and they rushed to the hospital.

Since they revoked Michael's authority, Sean was pretty busy these days as he had to handle more work-related things.

He could not even make time to consider the next person to take up the Vice General Manager's position.

After Michael's authority was stripped away, he had a hard time in the office as he was always on thin ice.

Now, every time he visited the office, he would be furious.

'That scumbag Sean is so cruel to his own family! what a heartless dog!

'He's brutal, and he threw me into a situation like this. Even if I want to redeem myself in the future, I don't think it'd be possible anymore!

'F*ck him, man. I'm from the Anderson family too!

'How could he be so cruel?!' Previously, Michael had always had stacks of folders on his desk for him to handle. But now, they had all become some pathetic notices that were casually thrown on his desk.

His position did not even amount to that of a manager of a small department, so he could not take it.

He had never liked Sean, but now, he just wanted to kill him.

He even thought that Sean did not deserve to live and that he should be dead right now!

His evil thoughts grew in his mind as his eyes turned venomous as they stared out the window.

Sean had never stopped working since morning. He picked out the most important issues and settled them as soon as possible, leaving the rest for later.
