

Triplets On SM 751

Chapter 751-hey met Dr. Scott was when they were only three years old,' Molly thought.

Molly smiled, nodded, and said, "Yes, that Grandpa Jadon. I'm going abroad to help him with a research project. This trip may take at least half a month. You three be good and listen to your uncle, okay?"

"Half a month? That's way too long!" said Claudia.

When Claudia heard that Molly was going abroad for a long time, she felt sad and unhappy. Claudia pouted and mumbled, "Can't you take US with you, Mommy? Without you around, I can't sleep at night. I want you to tell me bedtime stories..."

"Claudia, be a good girl. Grandpa Jadon has been kind to me before. This time, he needs my help, and I have no choice but to go. Do you understand?"

Molly asked while she raised her hand to gently stroke Claudia's head.

Molly did not want to leave her children, but she had to help Dr. Scott.

Claudia had no choice but to nod sensibly and said, "Okay. I-I'll wait for Mommy to come back..."

Alex and Ben did not say a word at that moment. They were behaving well and feeling sad, which made others feel distressed.

Thinking of not being able to see Molly in the next half month, Alex and Ben's moods instantly changed from cheerful to sad.

The children could not do anything. Molly had taught them that one must know how to repay one's kindness.

So, they could understand Molly.

After having breakfast, Molly brought the three little ones to the villa next door.

When Molly was going to the villa, Tony pushed Sean back. They were going to bask in the sun and do some rehabilitation training.

Molly glanced at Sean and saw Tony lifting Sean from the wheelchair. Sean wore a white shirt, emitting a clean and warm shimmer under the sun.

The scene from last night suddenly flashed through Molly's mind.

'Last night, I hugged and kissed him fiercely, and we almost lost control...' Thinking of that, Molly's cheeks blushed instantly, and a smile appeared on her face.

Molly managed to calm down after taking a deep breath.

Then, Molly walked toward Sean and shouted, "Sean."

Sean heard someone calling for him, and he turned around. When he saw Molly's beautiful face, his deep black eyes seemed to be suddenly covered with warm light.

"You're here," said Sean. His thin lips curled into a beautiful smile.

Molly led the three little ones to Sean with a warm smile. Then, she said, 'I'm here to tell you something. I'm going abroad in the next two days, probably half a month. While I'm away, I need you to help me look after my children.'

After saying that, Molly clearly felt that the three little ones were holding her tighter.

'Don't go, Mommy!' the three little ones thought.

“For half a month?” Sean was startled by Molly’s words. He subconsciously blurted out, “Do you have to be gone for that long?”

Sean’s words contained a hint of reluctance. He could not help but soften his eyes when he saw Molly.

On regular days, Sean would be reluctant to be separated from Molly, let alone for half a month

Chapter 752-Molly, too, did not want to leave, as she shrugged helplessly and said, “I couldn’t help it. Dr. Scott was kind to me when I raised my children abroad. If it wasn’t for him teaching me medicine, I wouldn’t have today’s achievements. I won’t have the chance to meet you.

“Sean, I must repay Dr. Scott’s kindness to me.”

As Molly said that, she bit her thin lips. She looked at Sean with crystal-clear eyes while gently pulling on the corner of his shirt. She added, “I’ll be back in half a month. You and the children wait for me patiently at home, okay?”

The soft tone and crystal-clear eyes were like a fawn looking at Sean like a clear spring gently swaying in Sean’s heart.

In the end, Sean could only sigh, and he could not refuse her.

Sean solemnly said, “I’ll ask someone to follow you, or I’ll accompany you.” Sean was worried about letting Molly go abroad alone, and he had to protect her by her side no matter what.

Molly understood Sean’s concerns, and she smiled elegantly. She said, “You don’t have to come with me. I’ll be fine. Someone will pick me up from the airport when I get off the plane. After I have arrived at the research institute, Dr. Scott will arrange a place for me to stay. I won’t go anywhere except for work and the hotel every day. There will be no issues with my safety.”

“No, that’s not okay,” said Sean.

Despite Molly's reassurance, Sean was still worried about her safety. He turned to Tony and instructed, "Carefully select a few bodyguards to follow Ms. May. Don't let anything happen to her. Or else..."

Tony was so frightened that he nodded quickly, "I understand, Boss."

There was a smile on Molly's face, but she did not say anything more.

Molly could clearly feel that Sean cared a lot about her.

In his opinion, Molly's every move and expression was worthy of Sean's attention.

Thinking of that, Molly felt even sweeter in her heart. So, she decided to spend more time with Sean and the children before leaving the country.

"Sweeties, I'll cook a meal for you at noon, okay?"

Molly asked the little ones under the sun. The light shone on her white sweater and jet-black hair. She was as beautiful as a fairy.

'Okay!' The three little ones responded in unison.

The three little ones could not bear to be apart from Molly, so they wanted to cherish the time they could spend with Molly when she was still around.

"But, it's kinda early now. What should we do?" Molly touched her chin for a while. She had an idea and suggested, "How about we go shopping? I'll cook you a good meal at noon since I will be leaving in the evening."

'Why the rush? Can't you leave in two days?' Sean asked. His tone was a little reluctant after hearing that Molly was leaving in the evening.

It was as if a huge boulder weighing thousands of pounds was pressing on Sean's chest. He was really reluctant to let Molly leave.

'Was it necessary for her to conduct the research abroad? Can't they ask someone else?' Sean thought.

"Sean, there's nothing I can do about it," said Molly.

Molly could understand Sean's feelings, but she explained kindly, "Dr. Scott is short of manpower, and it's very urgent. Besides, the earlier I go, the sooner I can come back to you."

'Molly's right,' Sean thought.

After that, Sean did not say anything more. He pushed his wheelchair forward and said, "Come, let's go shopping."

Molly smiled brightly and went to a supermarket nearby with Sean to buy some fresh ingredients.

Chapter 753-Molly picked some high-quality beef, boneless Basa catfish, chicken wings, coriander, potatoes, etc. She planned to cook some home-cooked dishes for the children.

The three little ones had no knowledge of grocery shopping, so they just jumped and hopped as they pushed the shopping cart. They said, Mommy, I want some cherries."

'I want some mangoes and grapes!' Claudia said.

Ben put his nose on a thorny ball and smelled it. He said with disgust," Mommy, is this a durian? It's so stinky."

Molly laughed and warned, ' Be careful when you walk around. Many people are coming and going in the supermarket, so you have to watch out."

1 “Okay!” said the three little ones.

After that, they jumped and hopped again while pushing the shopping cart. When they came to the snack aisle, they stuffed everything they saw into the shopping cart. In a short while, the shopping cart was full.

Molly returned to the villa and started cooking after they finished shopping for groceries.

First, Molly heated up the pan. Then, she poured oil into it and then she washed vegetables. There was a crackling sound of stir-frying vegetables and pots and bowls falling to the ground in the kitchen. It sounded like Molly was fighting with someone.

Sean heard the cracking sound coming from the kitchen. He pushed his wheelchair to the kitchen door, probed, and asked, “Are you alright? Do you want the housekeeper to help out?”

“Cough, cough!”

Molly coughed twice while covering her mouth and nose. She said, “Don’t worry, I’m fine. I can still cook some dishes. I just choked on the fumes earlier.”

“Okay then.”

Sean was relieved for a bit, but he did not leave in a hurry. He sat quietly by the kitchen door and looked at the busy Molly inside. He felt a strange sense of fulfillment and happiness.

‘It would be great if I’m by her side every day in the days to come.

‘Of course, I wouldn’t want Molly to cook every day. I just wanted to see her.

‘After my legs heal, I’m willing to cook for her and prepare a table of delicious food for Molly,’ Sean thought.

Molly did not know what Sean was thinking in his mind. After a while, she placed all the dishes she had cooked on the dining table and called out to the children who were sitting on the sofa, "Children, it's time to eat. Go wash your hands."

"Okay, Mommy!"

The three little ones ran to the kitchen in a hurry. They placed their hand under the tap and rinsed it clean.

Molly looked at the three jumping figures and laughed while she took off her apron. Then, she sat down at the dining table to eat with them.

At that moment, Brycen ran over from the villa next door and called out to Molly, "Molly, the food at home is ready. Hurry back, and let's eat!"

In the villa, the three little ones have started eating and munching the delicious food.

When Molly heard Brycen calling her, she could not help but laugh softly. She got up, walked to the door, and said, "Brycen, I have already cooked the meal here. Would you like to join US?"

'What? You just finished cooking here?' Brycen said that as he walked into the house. Sure enough, he saw the three little ones and Sean sitting around the dining table as soon as he entered the house. Brycen was about to drool when he saw that the dining table was full of sumptuous dishes.

"Oh, so that's what happened. No wonder you didn't come back to eat with us at noon. It turns out you have already cooked a meal over here."

Brycen said sarcastically while he walked to the dining table. He glanced at the dishes on the table and then at Molly. He said, "You made all these?"

Chapter 754- "Why do you sound like you don't have faith in my cooking?"

Molly asked teasingly and immediately sighed. She pretended to be sad and said, "I was going to ask you to stay for dinner, but now it seems that you don't have that luck. You can go home now."

"Hmph! You make it sound like I'm desperate for it."

Brycen muttered disdainfully and turned around arrogantly. However, his eyes were secretly peeping at the food on the table.

'I must say, Molly's cooking looks pretty good. These dishes look good, and they have a great aroma. But, I wonder how they taste.

'It's a pity that I couldn't try it!' Thinking of that, Brycen calmly walked nearer to the dining table and then sat down on the empty seat when Molly was not paying attention.

"Hey, what are you doing?" Molly glanced at Brycen. She could not help and burst out laughing. "Didn't you say you don't care about my food? Why are you still here? Go back already."

"Yeah! Since you dislike Mommy's cooking, you lost your chance of tasting it."

The three little ones cheered with schadenfreude and smiled at Brycen.

Sean did not say anything. To Sean, it was up to Brycen whether he wanted to eat here or not. Brycen would be part of the family in the future anyway, so he could be less courteous.

But, no one expected Brycen to turn back on his words, and he solemnly said, "When did I say that I don't want to eat? Hurry up and bring me the utensils. I want to taste Molly's exquisite cooking!"

Molly, Sean, and the three little ones were speechless.

In the end, Sean asked the housekeeper to bring the utensils to Brycen. Brycen went to the kitchen, filled his bowl with rice, and then sat contentedly at the dining table.

"Mmm! Did you really cook all these? It's delicious, Molly! It looks like I underestimated you!" said Brycen.

Brycen took several mouthfuls of rice in one breath. He felt as if he had eaten the most delicious food in the world, and his taste buds were enjoying the food very much.

Molly rolled her eyes at Brycen and smiled, "Didn't you say that you don't care? Spit it out now."

"Who said I didn't care? I cared about it very much! Molly, since you have such good cooking skills, why don't you cook at home? Don't you think it's unfair that you only cook for Sean?" asked Brycen.

Molly was speechless for a moment before she softly muttered, "I am so busy every day, and I don't have the time to cook. Besides, the housekeeper's cooking is also delicious."

"You said you don't have time? Then, why are you cooking here and now?" Brycen asked.

Brycen felt that Molly was biased, and she dedicated her excellent cooking skills to Sean alone.

'What kind of luck has this brat accumulated in his previous life? How could he get such a unique bias from Molly in this life?

I'm so jealous of him!' Brycen thought.

"No, Brycen. I'm going abroad soon. Since I will be busy soon, I wanted to spend some time with Sean and the children. That's why I'm cooking this special meal for today. When I return from abroad, I will cook all the food you want."

Molly did not want Brycen to misunderstand her, so she had to tell him her grievance.

Brycen frowned and said in surprise, "You are going abroad?"

Chapter 755-“Yup, maybe at least half a month or so. My mentor, Dr. Scott, from abroad, is starting a new research project, and he’s facing a manpower shortage. He personally called me to invite me there, so I can’t help myself but go,” Molly explained.

“I see. So that’s why,” said Brycen.

Brycen understood what Molly meant. He nodded solemnly, “In the years you were abroad, your mentor did help you a lot. Since he needs your help now, you should go help him. I support your decision! Girls like you should concentrate on their careers, not just think about love all day long.”

That was an intended statement.

Molly secretly glanced at Sean, and a smile appeared on her face.

Sean silently took a bite of the food, and he did not refute Brycen’s words. However, Sean felt regretful in his heart. If Sean knew Brycen had said that, Sean would not be allowed Brycen to stay and have a meal together.

In the afternoon, Molly told Grandpa Dave she was going abroad. After Grandpa Dave heard Molly’s explanation, he nodded and said, “Okay, go ahead. Remember to keep your luggage with you and arrange for two bodyguards with you. Don’t let anything happen to yourself, and take care.”

“Yes, Grandpa. I will.” Molly nodded with a smile. After that, she returned to her room and started packing her luggage.

Molly arrived at the airport in the evening and was ready to depart.

The vast airport hall was filled with lots of passengers in the evening.

After Molly had retrieved her boarding pass, she pulled her luggage and waited aside until it was time to board the plane.

Molly looked back and saw no one else besides Sean and Tony. She suddenly felt slightly upset and muttered, "If I had known, I wouldn't have stopped the children from coming to see me off."

Before Molly headed out, the three little ones had been bugging her to send her off. However, she did not want the children to watch her leave and cry on the spot. So, she decided not to let them come and sent her off.

Even so, Molly felt a little sad when she did not see the three little ones standing behind her.

"After you land, remember to take good care of yourself. Give me a call every day to let me know that you're okay. I'll be waiting for your call at any time." Sean pulled Molly's hand at this time and reluctantly urged her.

Molly also shook Sean's hand and softly muttered, "You are so busy every day. Wouldn't I be disturbing you if I called?"

"There's nothing in the world more important than you, Molly," said Sean.

Sean did not hesitate at all when he said that. He smiled gently at Molly and added, "I'll have the bodyguards accompany you on the plane in a while. I'll be more at ease knowing they are by your side."

"Easy for you to say. Did you think it through? You allowed some big men to follow me around. For other people, they might think I'm a female mafia boss," said Molly.

Although Molly said so, her heart was full of sweetness.

To have someone who always cared about her safety like that; even if Molly was far abroad, she was not afraid of being alone.

"Dear passengers, please note that flight XXX is about to take off.

Passengers who have not yet boarded the plane are requested to board in time.”

At that time, a female voice sounded on the system, reminding Molly that she should get on the plane.

Molly could no longer delay and reluctantly said to Sean, “I should go now. When I’m not around, remember not to slack off on your exercise and don’t work too hard every day. Wait for me to come back, and I’ll continue your treatment, okay?”

Chapter 756-’I’ll wait for your return,” Sean said and then nodded.

Although there was still a lot of reluctance in Sean’s heart, he could not delay Molly’s boarding time. So, he urged softly, “Go on. I’ll watch you from here.”

Molly, too, let go of Sean’s hand, turned around, and walked toward the boarding gate.

But, before taking two steps forward, Molly suddenly felt very reluctant. So, she turned around, ran toward Sean, and hugged him.

Then, Molly used her thin lips to touch Sean’s cold lips.

“Wait for me,” Molly whispered into Sean’s ear.

Her voice was gentle and soft. Like a small feather, it gently touched the man’s heart.

Sean raised his hand and locked the back of Molly’s head. He kissed her lips again and said with great emotion, ‘I’ll wait for your return.”

Then, Sean watched Molly turn around and board the plane.

The loud roar of the plane passed overhead. Sean pushed his wheelchair and stayed outside the airport. His eyes turned to the night sky, and he watched Molly fly to another country.

“Boss, it’s windy out here. We should head back now.”

Tony reminded Sean from the side. Tony took a blanket and gently covered Sean’s lap.

Sean nodded and went home.

A few hours later, the plane landed in Fomanesia.

Molly pulled her luggage and walked out of the airport. The person sent by Dr. Scott was already waiting outside the door. After the person saw Molly, she immediately greeted Molly, “Dr. May, my name is Selina, and I’m here on behalf of Dr. Scott to pick you up!”

The person who came and picked up Molly was a woman in her forties. She had blonde hair and blue eyes.

She dressed very intellectually and elegantly.

Molly stared at the woman and politely said, “Take me to Dr. Scott.”

“Sure.’ Soon, Selina brought Molly to the research institute and successfully met with Dr. Scott.

Although Dr. Scott was over sixty years old, he looked very gentle in his white coat and glasses. He did not look old and was still very energetic.

Seeing Molly rush here, Dr. Scott smiled with satisfaction. “Molly, you were greatly missed!”

“Long time no see, Dr. Scott. You are still as young as ever,” Molly said with a smile.

Dr. Scott smiled brightly. He nodded and said, "You flattered me. As expected, my great apprentice came to help me at a critical time! Come, I'll show you around the research institute and fill you in on our research project."

Then, Dr. Scott showed Molly around the research institute.

The research institute was much larger than Benjamin's. It was almost the size of a football field. The more spacious the research institute, the more critical Dr. Scott's research project was.

After Molly had looked around, she smiled gratifiedly and said, "I'll be under your care now, Dr. Scott. But, I'm not sure if half a month is enough."

"You just came. Why are you in such a hurry to go back?" Seeing Molly's impatience, Dr. Scott could not help but tease her.

Molly blushed. She did not intend to hide anything from Dr. Scott, so she explained honestly, "Dr. Scott, I have a boyfriend back in Norlon. We're currently having a great time. He's also happy to see my children. We might even be getting married soon. So, I wish to return early and be reunited with them."

When Dr. Scott heard that, he was amazed. Then, he quickly put on a kind, happy smile and said, "This is wonderful news!"

Chapter 757-A few years ago, Molly raised her three children alone in Fomanesia. Although it was not a problem to support her three children with her medical skills, it was a lie for a single mother to say that she was not lonely in a foreign country.

After Molly had left, Dr. Scott always kept Molly in his mind. Not only he hoped that his apprentice would be successful in her career, but he also hoped that she would meet someone who could take care of her in life.

When Dr. Scott heard Molly mentioning her soon-to-be husband and children, his face flushed with happiness, and he could not help but laugh.

“Molly, I’m so glad to hear that you are happy in your life. But, you might have to spend more time on your research here in the coming days. It will be hectic for you, so be prepared for that,’ Dr. Scott warned Molly in advance.

If it were not for the fact that the research institute lacked manpower, Dr. Scott would not be so eager to ask Molly to come over in a hurry.

And, since Molly was here, she would have to face a lot of pressure from work!

Dr. Scott had no choice but to give Molly a heads-up.

Molly understood what Dr. Scott meant. She smiled and said, “Dr. Scott, I’ll devote myself to the research with all my heart since I’m here. You can rest assured.”

“Okay, I’ll be more at ease with you around,” Dr. Scott said and nodded. He calmly told the assistant next to him, “It’s getting late. Selina, please take Molly to the hotel to rest early.”

‘Yes, Dr. Scott,” Selina replied and nodded. Then, she took Molly to the hotel.

Molly would be staying at the hotel for the coming busy days working at the research institute.

For the coming days, Molly was super busy.

During the day, Molly researched various cells in the research institute, and she would go straight to bed at night because she was so tired. In addition, there was a time difference between domestic and foreign countries. It was already midnight when Molly returned to the hotel after her work.

Molly took out her cell phone, and she wanted to call the three little ones. But, she did not want to disturb their sleep. So, she had to hold back her thoughts and looked at her children’s photos in her phone’s album.

Molly touched the three chubby little faces on the screen with her fingers. She sighed softly and said, "What am I gonna do, sweeties? I miss you all so much."

Immediately, Molly opened the chat log with Sean.

These few days, the two had kept in touch. Although the two of them were talking at different times, Molly's heart felt warm when she woke up and saw Sean's messages each day.

One day, Molly returned to the hotel after a busy day. She was about to rest after she took a shower. She was startled when a phone call came.

Molly picked up her cell phone and glanced at the screen. She saw that it was a video call from Sean.

"At this hour, it's already midnight in Norlon. Why are you still calling me?" As soon as the call was connected, Molly spoke worriedly.

Sean smiled and said honestly, "I haven't heard your voice for several days. And, I miss you, so I stayed up for the night and called you. How are you? Are you tired these days?"

A gentle tone came from the receiver, and Molly went soft.

After working for several days in a row, Molly did not feel tired at first. But, when she heard Sean's concerned voice, her heart suddenly softened. The fatigue from the past few days was like a heavy burden pressed on her shoulders suddenly.

Molly pursed her lips aggrievedly. There was a hint of pity in her voice as she said, "I'm tired, but I have to persevere. I believe that I'll be able to finish the research soon. Then, I can go back to be with you and the children."

Chapter 758-Molly looked a little tired. The camera's pixel could not block out her shiner, and she seemed haggard.

It caused Sean heartache as he noticed that she was not looking good. He frowned as he showed his concern. 'Rest for two days if you're tired. The research is important, but your health is even more important.'

Molly squeezed her aching shoulders. She shook her head as she said, ' No. We're at the important research and development stage of this project.

I have to help my teacher to complete it quickly.

"But, don't worry. I know when to stop if I can't handle the tiredness. I won't allow myself to be overly exhausted. It's you, who should take good care of yourself. You should do more rehabilitation training when the weather is good. Do more exercises..."

Molly nagged a lot. Sean felt very comfortable as he heard the sweet nagging voice across the screen.

Sean gently moved his finger to the upper part of the screen. He wanted to touch her cheek. But, it was impossible.

"Remember to comfort the three kids. I've never left them for such a long period before. I think they'll miss me very much."

Molly sighed softly after she said that.

She watched the triplets growing up. And, they had never been separated from her for more than three days.

But, she had to leave them for half a year this time. So, the kids would probably miss her a lot.

Sean understood her worry. He nodded, "Okay."

He would take good care of the kids even if she did not tell him to.

"It's late. You should rest soon. I won't take up any more of your time. Give me a call when you're free. I'll always be here for you," Sean urged her after looking at his watch.

He was mainly worried that the long phone call would keep her from going to sleep.

Molly should definitely rest. She smiled as she replied, "Goodnight, then."

"Wait."

Sean was a little disappointed across the phone. He sighed as he frustratedly said, "So, you want to end the call just like that?"

"Huh?" Molly was confused.

She understood what Sean meant the next second. Her cheeks were red suddenly. "What do you mean?"

"Kiss me," Sean said directly. He was not shy at all.

Molly's cheeks immediately became even redder. Sean's frankness made her unable to hide her emotion. Her heart was beating fast.

"Quick, I'm going to sleep if you don't kiss me," Sean urged her again. But, it was obvious that he hid his smile under the corners of his lips.

"You..."

Molly's cheeks were even redder. She was shy, and she had missed Sean very much for the past few days.

So, she bit her lips as she said, "Mua."

"I love you, Molly," Sean said.

He had not sweet-talked to any women in the past. But, when he finally met the person he loved, only then he understood that the feeling of love could not be hidden.

Much like now, he just wanted Molly to know how much he loved her.

Molly could not help but feel like crying as she heard his confession.

She quickly smiled as she sweetly said, "I love you too. Wait for me to come back."

"Of course."

They ended the call after that.

Molly put her phone on the bedside table. She was still smiling a little. Then, she lay on her bed. She slept with peace of mind after she covered herself with a quilt.

She had a sweet dream that night.

She was with Sean and her triplets in her dream. They were having a picnic under a towering centennial tree.

Around them was a green grassland. The triplets were running on the grass. Their laughter was high-pitched.

Cherry, Kiwi, and Papaya were running behind them, and she was snuggling in Sean's arms. It was windy.

But, everything was wonderful.

Chapter 759-The next day, Sean woke up late in the morning because he slept late last night.

He had his breakfast downstairs after freshening up, and his butler carefully served him.

Outside the house, the sun was just right. After Tony parked the car outside the villa, he then walked into the house while holding a document. He went to Sean's side and bowed his head gently as he said, "Boss, the person in charge from Peak Corporation called this morning. They invited us to send someone to Fomanesia to discuss the joint project. Whom do you want to send?"

Peak Corporation was a huge company overseas. A while back, a collaboration agreement was reached between them and the Anderson Corporation. Now was the time to discuss the project.

However, the profit from this joint project was average. So, the Anderson Corporation only needed to send a project manager to deal with them.

Unexpectedly, Sean suddenly stopped moving his hands as he heard that. He raised his eyebrows and said, "Fomanesia?"

"Yes."

"Molly is in Fomanesia." A hint of shimmer flashed across his eyes suddenly.

"So..." Tony knew what Sean was thinking almost instantly. He immediately smiled as he said, "Boss, how many days do you want to stay there?"

Sean gave Tony a knowing look. His lips raised slightly as he said, "You know what to do."

"Okay. I got it."

Tony picked right up on it.

He had worked for Sean for at least five or six years if not seven or eight years. If he was not sharp, he could not have stayed with the CEO for so many years.

Soon, Tony booked the flight to Fomanesia. The round trip was about a week.

He reckoned that one week should be enough for his boss and Ms. May to spend time together as she only went overseas for about 2 weeks.

The schedule was decided based on that.

Sean wanted to give Molly a surprise. So, he did not plan to tell Molly that he was going to Fomanesia.

But, he informed the triplets in advance.

Ben and Claudia were extremely excited after knowing that their father was going overseas to meet their mother. They immediately requested to follow him.

“Daddy, bring us with you!

“We want to see Mommy too. We miss Mommy very much. Daddy, bring US along.”

The triplets missed their mother a lot for the past few days when she was not around. But, they were worried that their mother might be busy, so they did not dare to contact her.

On top of that, there was a time difference between the two countries. It was around three or four midnight in their country whenever Molly finished working.

The triplets were already asleep at that hour. So, they missed the chance to call Molly.

That was why the triplets could only miss their mother every day.

So, they wanted to follow Sean now that they knew he was going overseas!

Except for Alex.

He was much more rational than his brother and sister. He immediately pulled their shirts after he pondered.

He advised in his childish voice, "Brother, sister, we're not going with Daddy."

"Why?"

Ben and Claudia opened their obsidian eyes. They looked puzzled.

Alex patiently explained, "Because daddy's main reason to go overseas is to work. Mommy is usually very busy too. So, they simply don't have the time to take care of US. Moreover, Daddy and Mommy can finally spend some time alone. We'll be third wheeling if we go."

"Well, seemed like you made sense..."

The two kids suddenly hesitated after their brother advised them.

'Good point. Daddy finally gets to meet up with Mommy. We should allow them to spend time alone and bond with each other!'

Chapter 760-"Nevermind, then. Daddy, we're not going. Remember to help US take good care of Mommy when you meet up with her."

Ben and Claudia changed their mind. They looked well-behaved but a little pitiful.

Sean was grateful when he saw that they were so sensible. He then raised his big warm palm and gently rubbed the triplets' heads as he said, ' Patiently stay at home and wait for Daddy and Mommy. Well be back very soon. And, well bring back delicious food for you when we come back.'

The triplets shook their heads as they heard that. They said in their childish tone, "Daddy, we don't want delicious food. We want you to get married to Mommy soon. We want to call you daddy openly. We want to be able to acknowledge each other with grandpa and grandma. Daddy, you need to do your best!"

The last sentence was as though they were giving Sean a pep talk.

Sean and Tony burst out laughing as they heard that. But, he did not want to disappoint the kids. So, he nodded his head as he promised, "Okay.

Daddy will do his best."

Sean then left with Tony after he said that. They headed to the airport and got on the plane that was going to Fomanesia.

After both Sean and Molly left, the triplets suddenly felt empty. They were not able to enjoy their food whenever they had their meals.

'But luckily, we still have grandpa and grandma!' The triplets smartly opened their electronic watches to call their grandparents. They asked with their little youthful voice, "Grandpa and Grandma, Daddy and Mommy both went overseas. Can grandpa and grandma bring US out to play?"

Alice was immediately overjoyed when she heard the triplets say that on the phone. She wished that she could just go to the May family's house to pick them up right away.

She then spoke on the phone, "Sweethearts, grandpa and grandma will pick you up from school. Just wait for US."

So, Ricky and Alice waited until late afternoon for the kids to finish school. They then immediately went to the school to pick them up to have seafood.

The three little ones enjoyed the food very much. But, what truly made them happy was not the food or the drink. They were happy because they were able to spend time with their grandparents!

Alice, Ricky, and the kids were talking and laughing. It brought them closer together, and Ricky and Alice loved the kids even more.

So, the couple secretly made a decision. They decided to find an opportunity to talk to Molly after she came back from overseas. They wanted to tell her about the true relationship between the kids and their son!

It would mean that the kids could recognize their roots sooner.

Molly was far abroad. She did not know what was happening in her home country.

She was busy working with her teacher in the research laboratory for long hours since early morning. She was so busy that she was almost disoriented.

Later in the afternoon, her teacher came to tell her, "Molly, we have to work overtime tonight. Ill treat you to dinner later. And, well come back to continue working after that."

"Oh. Okay!"

Molly agreed as she took off the big white lab coat to go out for a dinner with her teacher.

Jadon's car was a relatively old Maybach. Its model and style had been around for many years. Elders were comparatively nostalgic. They would not spend unnecessary money to buy a new luxury car even if they had the money. There was a slight sandalwood scent in the car. It was quite soothing to smell.

The evening breeze came through the windows. It brought a cooling comfortable feeling.

Molly sat in the backseat. She took out her phone to check if Sean had messaged her today.

She saw three unread messages after opening the messaging application, and she was happy.

But, after she took a closer look, the messages were not from Sean.
