

Triplets On SM 811

Chapter 811-“I know what to do!”

Sharon hung up the phone cheerily after saying that.

After that, she turned around and went to switch on her computer. She logged into an overseas anonymous website and registered an account using a fake email. Then, she sent a three-hundred-word letter to a newspaper publisher in Northfolk.

The smile on Sharon’s face turned ever more wicked after she sent the email.

‘Molly, Molly. How is a dirty and lowly woman like you going to compete with me?

I’m going to take Sean away from you sooner or later!

‘Then, he’ll be mine forever.

‘Oops. I almost forgot about Joelle.’ Even though Sharon had been very polite toward Joelle, she always thought that even Molly was better than Joelle. Molly could easily beat Joelle judging by appearance alone.

Besides, Joelle was an evil and scheming person. She was the even worse choice to be with Sean.

Sharon, herself, was the only person good enough to be with Sean!

On the same day afternoon, Northfolk Times.

The entire reporter department was shocked. ‘What the hell! Breaking news!

Take a look at this!"

"What's that? Why are you freaking out?!"

"What kind of breaking news? Let me see."

Other reporters gathered around curiously and looked at the anonymous email on the computer.

All of them were shocked after reading the entire content of the email!

That email was the exact one written by Sharon.

In the email, it clearly stated that Sean's fiancée was the heiress of the May family, Molly May. She was raised by a poor family because somebody had mistaken her for another baby and brought her home before she returned to her rightful family. Her life was supposed to take an earthshaking change, but she messed around with another man and got herself pregnant before getting married. She brought shame to the May family!

The May family could not bear to be embarrassed like this, so they kicked her out of the family.

Molly had no choice but to leave the country. Then, she gave birth to two boys and a girl.

'F*ck. I thought Sean's fiancée was a perfect woman! Is this what she has to offer?"

"Pregnancy before marriage. What a woman of easy virtue. Why would Mr.

Anderson be attracted to a person like her?"

"How dare a woman with three children ever dream of marrying Sean? How delusional can she be?! I'm sure that Sean Anderson would never want to be with a filthy woman like her.

“This woman has to be really good at seducing men. Mr. Anderson is just blinded by her, and he’ll be able to see clearly soon.”

“This is so disgusting!”“ The more they talked about it, the more they hated Molly.

All of them agreed that a woman like her did not deserve to be with Sean!

After a while, the managing editor saw this email too. Then, he gravely asked, “Who sent this email to us?”

The man who was sitting in front of the computer shook his head. “I have no idea. The email that sent US this has a fake IP address, and I can’t trace that person at all. I guess that person doesn’t dare to provoke Sean publicly, so he could only talk bad about Mr. Anderson’s fiancée secretly.”

“Sir, what should we do?”

The other reporters turned their heads at the managing editor.

The managing director fell into his thoughts, and his expression turned dark. After that, he shook his head. “We can’t let this gets out. Hide it now!”

“What? Why?”

The reporters were confused.

It was such big news!

It would definitely earn the company a lot of money if they just published the news!

Chapter 812-The managing editor shook his head and said in a deep tone, "Stop thinking about the immediate interests that this email could bring US. You've got to know that in Northfolk, there are some people that we can cross, and there are those that we can never afford to offend.

'None of US is going to have a good time if Mr. Anderson gets angry. So, let's just pretend that we didn't see this email.'

The managing editor walked away after saying that.

The reporters were very disappointed. If the things stated in the email were true, that information would blow the Internet up entirely!

How unfortunate.

Molly had no idea what was happening. She was still working and going back to the hotel every day as usual.

The best moment of her day would probably be video calling Sean and the triplets.

"Mommy, you've been away for a week now. When are you coming back to visit us?"

Molly had already left for a week before she realized it.

The triplets missed her so much, and they could not help but ask.

Molly paused and resignedly said, "I... I'm too busy over here, so I have no idea when I'll be able to come home."

"Sigh..."

The triplets sighed in disappointment.

They missed Molly very, very much. They wanted to kiss and hug her badly.

And, they missed when Molly would tell them a bedtime story and hang out with them.

However, it could not come true.

The triplets sat cross-legged together after hanging up. The expressions on their faces were not looking very good.

Then, Ben said in an injured tone, "Bro, when are we ever going to see mommy?"

"Brother, I miss mommy. Can we sneak out and visit her? I just want to get a glimpse of her, please?"

Claudia sniffed. Her eyes and ears were red, and She looked as though she was about to cry.

Alex had to be the most sensible older brother. Even though he missed Molly very much as well, he decided to calm his siblings down first.

"Ben, Claudia, be patient. I'm sure that mommy has a lot of work to do. But, she would call US whenever she had the time, right? We have to be more understanding!"

"But, Claudia's suggestion could actually work. We can pay mommy a visit since she's too busy to come back. Our winter break is coming soon, but we're not going to disturb mommy for too long. Let's just go there for two days, okay?"

Ben and Claudia were tempted after hearing what Alex said.

"Can we really do that?" Ben's eyes sparkled as he asked, and Claudia looked very excited too.

“Of course. But, we have to tell daddy about this first. We can only proceed after getting his permission.”

Alex said calmly as he started planning everything in his head.

He was going to tell Sean about how they were going to visit Molly and ask Sean if he would drive them there or if they could just get a train ticket and travel there on their own.

After all, they already knew how to purchase a train ticket.

“Okay, let’s ask daddy about it then!” Ben said excitedly. He just could not wait anymore to see Molly. He would do anything to just leap into Molly’s arms.

So, the triplets went next door and knocked.

Sean was busy working in the study room.

The butler brought the triplets to Sean. Sean was clearly shocked when he saw the triplets. He lifted his brows and said in a deep but gentle tone, ‘ What brought you here?’

“Daddy, we need to talk to you about something!” The triplets said unanimously.

The triplets looked very serious, and they were not messing around at all!

Chapter 813-Sean was surprised. Then, he nodded with a smile and patiently said, “I’m all ears.”

“We want to pay mommy a visit in Xesxia!”

The triplets said unanimously again, and their synchronization was unbelievable.

Sean paused after hearing what they said. "You guys want to visit mommy?"

"Yeah! Mommy said she's too busy to come back, so we'll just go to her place. We're only going to have a meal with her, and we won't take too much of her time."

The triplets had a very eager look on their faces. They just could not wait for Sean to give them the green light so that they could buy a ticket right away.

Sean thought that the triplets were very smart to think of meeting Molly by doing that.

Besides, their suggestion was really feasible.

Sean thought for a few seconds and nodded. "Okay. Give me two more days. I'll bring you guys there."

"Woah! Really? Daddy, you're coming with US?!" The triplets got even more excited as they looked delighted.

There was nothing in the world that they wanted more than spending time with each other as a family.

Molly did not know about their plans at all. Later at night, she lay on the bed after showering and video-called Sean as usual.

They chatted lovingly for some time and told each other what had happened in their day. Then, they ended the call reluctantly.

It was already getting late.

Molly was about to switch off her phone and sleep, but a message popped up on her phone before she could do that. The notification immediately caught Molly's attention.

"It Turns Out The Future Missus of The Anderson Corporation is Her!"

Molly smiled helplessly. 'Does the media have nothing better to talk about?

They're starting to make things up again.' She had never made her identity as Sean's girlfriend public, let alone being the future missus of Anderson Corporation!

'It's probably just a clickbait.' However, Molly tapped into it anyway. Her eyes popped as soon as she saw what was written in the context.

Her picture was posted alongside the media's online account on trending searches!

And, the media even found out that she was Sean's fiancée!

'What is going on?' Molly felt a little tired, but her sleepiness vanished into thin air after seeing that.

She was stoked as she sat on the bed. She only found out what was happening after reading every post on the trending page.

In the beginning, the media misunderstood that Joelle was probably engaged to Sean during a project launching event organized by the Herring family.

Joelle had no choice but to clarify things and told the media that she and Sean were just friends and claimed that Sean was deeply in love with his fiancée.

Then, the media started investigating the identity of Sean's fiancée, which was how they eventually found out about Molly.

But, there was more!

The way that the media described Molly's background was simply terrible!

“Shameless!”

“Pregnant before marriage!”

‘Shame to all women!’

Molly was labeled with these remarks, which immediately caused an uproar among the netizens.

The netizens said a lot of awful things about Molly after learning about her background.

“Mr. Anderson is the most charismatic man in Northfolk. How could a shitty woman like Molly May ever be good enough for him?”

“This woman gave birth to three children, yet she wants to marry into a wealthy family?”

How disgusting of her. Ptui!”

Chapter 814-The insults were like a tsunami that completely drowned Molly in the blink of an eye!

Molly already felt breathless after reading just some of the comments.

She threw her phone to the side and took a few deep breaths while clutching her chest before she could calm down.

‘Why is this happening?

I’m sure that somebody is tarnishing my name on purpose!

‘But, who could it be?’ Somebody gave Molly a call before she could figure that out.

Molly was shocked by the ringtone, then She looked at her phone and saw that it was Brycen. Then, she answered the call.

“Molly, are you asleep?”

Brycen sounded very worried. He had probably seen what was on the Internet.

Molly exhaled softly and tried to steady her voice before she said, “Not yet.

You’ve seen the news on the Internet, too, right? Do you think I can still fall asleep after reading what was posted online?”

“Sigh! I wanted to tell you not to read anything online, but you did anyway.”

Brycen sighed deeply as he said that. Then, he comforted Molly, “Molly, you don’t have to be bothered by what other people say. I know exactly what kind of person you are. If you don’t deserve to be loved, who does?

“I wonder which heartless wretch did this. How could that person set you up like this? I’ll kill that person if I ever find out who did this!”

The more Brycen talked about it, the angrier he got. He would make that person who discredited her sister pay no matter what it would take.

Molly understood what Brycen was thinking. She smiled and tried to make him feel better instead, “Brother, I’m fine.

“It’s just some comments on the Internet. I can’t even remember how many times I’ve listened to awful things like this throughout the years. I’m already used to this!”

I’m already used to this.

Brycen felt even worse after hearing what Molly said.

'Why is this girl so just tough and pitiful?

'I wouldn't feel so bad if she'd just cry and complain about it.' "Molly... I have no idea how to make you feel better. How about this, you should put your phone down and have a good sleep tonight, okay? Let's deal with this tomorrow."

That was the only way Brycen could come up with to comfort Molly.

After all, he was not physically with Molly. That was everything he could do.

"Okay, I got it. Don't worry."

Molly pretended to be fine and smiled. Then, she hung up the phone and lay on the bed wide awake.

She would be lying if she did not care about those comments about her on the Internet.

Nobody could be mentally strong enough to withstand those verbal abuse without feeling anything.

Only God knew how she felt after seeing the netizens say that she was not good enough to be with Sean. It felt exactly as though her heart was being sliced open by a knife.

Molly even started thinking to herself. 'Am I really not supposed to be with Sean?

'He wouldn't have a problem finding another woman that's better than me. Why did he choose to be with me?' However, her heart melted after thinking about how well Sean had treated her...

Molly felt a lump in her throat as she thought about that.

She could not help but take out her phone. Then, she opened her gallery and looked at a picture of her and Sean together.

It was taken in the backyard of the mansion.

That was a beautiful day. The sunlight shone on top of them, and it made her smile look extra bright. The man beside her looked incredibly handsome, and they looked just like a perfect pair.

The triplets were running around on the grass not far away from them, looking happy and innocent.

Chapter 815-At the same time, Sean saw what was posted on the Internet too.

Then, he immediately gave Molly a call.

However, she did not pick up her phone!

"Boss, Ms. May is most probably asleep, right?" Tony asked cautiously after noticing that Molly was not answering the phone.

For some reason, Sean was relieved. "It'd be good too if she's asleep."

He was worried that Molly would be hurt by the news. So, he thought that it would be better if she had fallen asleep.

Then, his expression turned dark as he ordered Tony coldly, "Give a call to all the major media companies and tell them to take the news down. I want all of these trending searches to disappear from the Internet by tomorrow morning. There'll be consequences for any company that fails to do so!

"And, find out who exposed Molly's identity and background. Make sure you don't let that person get away if you ever find out who he is."

Sean sounded cold and uncompromising.

Tony could tell that his boss was really mad!

Then, he went to do as Sean ordered.

Under the pressure of the Anderson Corporation, all the media companies and accounts online got scared. They deleted every negative post that was associated with Moly overnight!

All the negative news about Molly was completely gone in just one night.

The next day, when Molly woke up, she was greeted by a wonderful ray of sunshine. It lit up her whole room, and it felt very warm.

Molly stretched lazily, then she picked up her phone and wanted to read the trending searches again. However, she found that everything had disappeared!

It felt like everything was just a dream from last night.

‘That’s strange. I remember that my name was on top of the trending searches because somebody slandered my name. Why is everything gone now?’ However, it was not a dream.

Her inbox was still flooded with hate messages.

The netizens could guess that Sean did something to erase all the trending searches, so they sent Molly a private message to scold her.

“What a b*tch you are. Do you think that everything will be fine just because Mr.

Anderson helped you take down the news? I'll tell you what. You're just a piece of garbage, and you'll never be good enough for Sean Anderson!"

"You gave birth to three b*stard children before you even got married. You're such a shame to all women!"

"You're so disgusting. I really have no idea why Sean Anderson would fall for a person like you. So what if you have a pretty face? You're all rotten inside!"

And so on.

The netizens just would not stop attacking her.

One of them even sent Molly a picture.

It was a picture of Alice and Ricky holding the triplets in their arms.

Alice and Ricky looked very intimate with the triplets, and the scenery in that picture looked very beautiful. It looked as though Alice and Ricky had brought the triplets on vacation.

The netizens scolded the triplets too, after seeing the picture. "These kids are exactly as fickle as their mother. The children that came out of her womb are equally shameless.

They're so young, yet they're already trying to win Sean's parents over for you. You and your three kids are biting off more than you can chew!"

"This is weird. The Anderson family is such a powerful and influential family. Why would they accept these three b*stard children?"

Anger spread through Molly when she read those messages.

Even though she was mad after looking at the messages that were directed at her, she could still control herself. Besides, she was already used to it.

The netizens kept insulting her with the same words, and they could not surprise her anymore.

However, there was no way she could stand them insulting her children!

‘These netizens are animals! How could they go after little kids?!

‘This is too much!’

Chapter 816-t me!’ Molly gave up arguing with the netizens after she thought about that.

But inside, she was smiling after knowing how Sean had helped her erase the news.

She knew that Sean stood up for her against the whole world, and that was all she needed.

However, she had no idea why the triplets would be with Alice.

‘Why did they become so close with each other?’ On the other side, May Residence.

Brycen was having breakfast on the dining table with the triplets.

The triplets slept early the day before, and they had no idea what happened on the Internet last night.

The triplets got very angry after Brycen told them about what happened. ‘That’s outrageous! How could they do that to mommy?!’

“Our mommy is so beautiful and kind. She’s the best person ever. How could they insult her?” Claudia was burning with anger.

“No way. I’ve got to get them back for mommy!” Ben held his fists tight.

Alex did not say much and ran upstairs to get his laptop. Then, his tiny fingers started tapping on the keyboard.

Ben and Claudia went to him and curiously asked, “Bro, what are you doing?” Alex continued typing calmly as he said in a cold tone, “There’s no way the netizens would attack mommy out of nowhere. I’m sure that somebody set mommy up on purpose! I’m going to find out which media company was the first to expose mommy’s identity last night. Then, I’m going to look into who tipped them off and see who’s behind this!”

‘Hmph. There’ll be consequences for bullying my mom!

‘I’m never going to let this person get away with this!’ Ben and Claudia supported Alex’s idea very much, so they sat beside Alex concentratedly and waited for Alex.

After some time, Alex found out that somebody actually used an anonymous email address to send Northfolk Times a paragraph, and that person deliberately smeared Molly’s name and background...

‘Alright. I got you!’

Alex locked on his target. Then, he decrypted the real IP address of that anonymous email by using another software.

He was not going to give up until he found that person.

“There you are!”

Alex shouted excitedly after half an hour.

He finally found it. The IP address of the person who sent that email was... 26, Springlake street!

Brycen immediately stood up and grabbed his jacket after hearing what Alex said. "Come on. We're going to give this person a piece of my mind! How dare he do this to my sister?"

This guy is dead."

"Uncle Brycen, we'll go with you!"

The triplets followed Brycen and went to springlake Street.

On the other side.

"Boss, I've found out who tipped off the media last night."

Tony went into the CEO's office and politely said, "From what I know, Northfolk Times received an anonymous email that had an IP address of a foreign country. It's difficult to find out exactly who did this, but I'm certain that this person is trying to expose Ms. May on purpose and manipulate the netizens.

"And..."

Tony paused, as he did not know if he should continue.

Sean lifted his brows emotionlessly and waited for him to speak.

Tony gulped and continued, "Boss, the person who started everything was actually Ms.

Joelle."

Chapter 817-"Joelle?"

When Sean heard the name, his eyes flashed with surprise.

Tony nodded and explained, 'Boss, Ms. Herring revealed to the media reporters that you have a fiancée at the press conference of her own project. After that, the media followed the trail and found Ms. May.

'Even if this incident is not directly linked to Ms. Herring, there must be an indirect link!

Therefore, her being a suspect cannot be ruled out."

"Anything else?" Sean asked. His brows were tightly pressed together, and his expression was already hideous.

Tony shook his head and said, 'This is the information I have found so far, but the investigation is still ongoing. I believe there will be results soon."

Sean replied with a hum and said nothing else. His eyes were as cold as a thousand years of frost.

If Sean found out who dared to hurt Molly deliberately behind his back, he swore that the person would pay ten times the price!

On the other hand, in the villa where Sharon lived alone.

Sharon never expected that all the negative criticism about Molly would disappear after a night!

'The criticism in the top search last night was all taken down!

'Damn it. It must have been Sean!' Sharon thought. She was furious about it.

'I really don't understand what is so good about Molly. Sean protected her again and again. Why can't he give others a chance? This is unacceptable!' Sharon thought, as she could not accept it!

This incident had finally become a major issue, and Sharon was not willing to give up.

'Wait a minute!' Sharon suddenly thought of what Joelle had told her the last time. Joelle said that Molly's children seemed to belong to Sean.

And, Sean was the man who caused Molly's reputation to be ruined and humiliated back then!

'That's great. If I exposed this to the media, I'm sure Molly would break up with Sean. If they fight and break up, our goals will be achieved!' When Sharon thought of that, she suddenly felt charged up!

Sharon immediately took out her cell phone in high spirits and called an acquaintance reporter. She wanted him to release the news.

Unexpectedly, the reporter refused bitterly. "Sorry, Ms. Newman. The Anderson family has spread the word that no media is allowed to report any rumors about Molly May. So, I really can't help you!"

'Rumors? How is that a rumor? I'm telling the truth!' Sharon said.

Sharon was not convinced and argued with the other party. "Listen to me. Just release the news immediately. If it doesn't work, you can spend some money to buy an advertiser and let him spread the word like wildfire.

"Besides, Molly is originally Sean's fiancée. So, why can't we tell the world that her children are Sean's?"

'But...' said the reporter.

"No buts. If you want to lose your job in Northfolk, you can ignore my orders completely.

When that happens, you will be responsible for the consequences!”

Sharon viciously threatened the reporter and hung up immediately. Then, a smug smile appeared on her face.

That reporter once owed Sharon a lot of favor, and she knew that the reporter would be obedient.

If the reporter dared not to obey her, Sharon would be ruthless to him!

Sure enough, the reporter bought an advertiser and spread the news that Molly’s children were Sean’s within half an hour.

In ten minutes, the news had reached the top search again.

The netizens were reading about the other news last night, but it disappeared before they could finish reading it.

After the latest news was revealed, the netizens began to type and join the endless debate

Chapter 818-[No way. Molly’s children are actually Sean’s?] [That’s so fcked up. It doesn’t happen even in a telenovela, right?] [Could it be that Molly wanted to successfully wed into a wealthy family, so she asked someone to spread fake news deliberately?] (How could a wealthy family like the Andersons accept bstards from other families?) [Molly is such a scheming woman!] The netizens’ insults were getting heated up.

Molly became a victim again, and countless vicious words bombarded her wildly.

At that moment, the advertiser who released the news about Molly’s children being Sean’s biological children made another announcement, [Everything I said was true.

Molly's children are indeed Sean's biological children. If you don't believe me, you can see it yourself in the hospital to investigate the DNA comparison between Sean and those children. You'll know when you see the result!] As soon as the announcement was made, another uproar happened!

Even netizens who worked in the hospital immediately used their authority to check the DNA results of Sean and the three children.

As Norlonians, Sean and the three children's DNA information was naturally stored in the database.

The medical staff did not take long to find out their information.

To their surprise, Sean and Molly's children were actually related by blood!

The medical staff was stunned, and they immediately took pictures and shared them on the Internet.

The photos were spreading like wildfire on the Internet unexpectedly!

The netizens had finally confirmed that Sean was blood-related to Molly's children.

Although there were still a few netizens that raised their doubts about the authenticity of the photos, more and more netizens believed that the children were Sean's.

For a moment, the entire Internet was much livelier than last night, and the server was about to reach its maximum capacity!

At that time, Molly was busy with her work, and she knew nothing about criticism on the Internet.

It was not until lunchtime that when Molly took out her cell phone and planned to check the information, she found herself on the top search again.

'Why am I on the top search again?' In a daze, Molly clicked on the "Molly's children" link. After reading the content spread by the media, she was utterly stunned.

'The top search content is simply outrageous! They're saying that Sean is the biological father of my three children?

'They even made up the DNA comparisons to confirm what they said was true!' Molly thought.

"Are they insane? How dare the media spread nonsense for the sake of popularity." Molly rolled her eyes.

Molly would naturally not believe the netizens' nonsense, much less than the three little ones were blood-related to Sean.

In other words, Molly had long cared less about who the children's father was.

Although that jerk had hurt Molly and made her world bleak, at least she had three lovely children who would accompany her warmly when she was at her most helpless point.

That was more than enough for Molly!

After an hour.

Brycen took the three little ones and spanned half the city. They had finally found No. 26 Springlake street on the east side of the city.

However, they found that the place was an old abandoned house when they stood and looked at the house's front door. The walls were moldy black, the staircase was filled with green algae, and even the lizards had conquered the yard walls.

"Alex, it looks like no one lives here," Ben said softly. He held Claudia's little hand and followed behind Brycen and Alex.

Chapter 819-‘This doesn’t look like a place that someone would come to. Is the person who sent the anonymous emails to ruin mommy’s reputation really hiding here?’ Ben and Claudia pondered.

Alex did not say anything and walked into the house with Brycen. Alex suddenly pointed his little finger at the table and said, “This is it!

“Uncle Brycen, look at this old house and the table. The house has been deserted for many years, but this table has only a thin layer of dust. This proves that there must have been a laptop here before. But, where is it now?”

“Could they have taken the laptop away?” Ben asked curiously.

‘After all, no one would leave the laptop at the crime scene after committing the crime, right? So, that’s why the culprit who endangered mommy can’t be found?’ The three little ones thought.

In the end, the three little ones and Brycen left in disappointment.

They searched the house, but they could not find a clue.

While on the way home, Alex’s face was tense, and he softly sighed. Then, he said, “I’m sorry, everyone. I made our journey go to waste!

“Even though I discovered that the laptop that sent the anonymous emails was from No. 26 Springlake Street.”

But, no one knew that the laptop would be taken away and used to trick Alex.

Thinking of that, Alex became angrier, almost gnashing his teeth.

‘I won’t give up. My computer skills are top-notch. I can’t believe this is the first time I was tricked!’ Alex thought.

Alex was not going to give up. He would continue to investigate and never stop until he found something.

'It's alright, Alex. Don't blame yourself for this. You've done your best.'

Seeing Alex in a bad mood, Brycen immediately comforted Alex softly. Brycen reached out his hand and rubbed Alex's head.

Then, Brycen took out his cell phone to read the text messages. But, unexpectedly, Molly and the three children were on the top search again!

This time, the content of the top search was even more outrageous!

The news even said that the three children were all Sean's biological children!

'F*cking hell! Is the media crazy?

'Yesterday, they insulted Molly for not being a decent woman. Today, they spread a rumor that the children were Sean's.

'They really went all out this time!' Brycen thought.

Brycen wanted to call and scold the brainless and unethical media one by one.

'It's pure nonsense. Molly's children have nothing to do with Sean at all. So, how could the children be descendants of the Anderson family?

'The three little ones looked a bit like Sean, but a lot of people in the world look alike!

'It's impossible for Sean to be the children's father. If he is, he is the jerk who hurt Molly, and I will never be nice to him.' Thinking of that, Brycen snorted coldly and slid the top search away. He did not bother to look at it.

Unfortunately, the three little ones were sitting beside him and saw the top search clearly.

The three little ones were shocked!

They did not expect that someone would figure out their true identities!

The little ones thought that this secret was only known to the three of them; Sean and the old folks.

'Daddy, grandpa, and grandma would never spread the news. So, who is the culprit?

'Oh no... What will Mommy think when she sees the top search?!

'If Mommy finds out that daddy was the man who got her pregnant back then, would she break up with daddy?' The three little ones thought

Chapter 820-Molly did not bother about the rumors on the Internet.

The idea that Sean was the biological father of the children was absurd. Molly did not believe it at all.

In other words, Molly did not dare to think about it at all. On one hand, she felt that it was impossible. On the other hand, she was afraid.

'What if Sean is really the father of the children? What should I do?' Molly thought.

So, Molly pretended that she did not know about it. After she got off from work at night, she made a video call with her children as usual. She did not mention the gossip on the Internet to them.

When Brycen asked about Molly's situation, she smiled perfunctorily and said, "Don't worry, I'm fine. Someone is deliberately trying to ruin my reputation on the Internet, so I'll just ignore them. It would be even worse if I returned the favor."

"But, the netizens said that Sean is the children's father. What do you think of this?"

Brycen asked cautiously.

Even the DNA comparisons of Sean and the children were exposed on the Internet. At first, Brycen did not believe it, but he gradually took it seriously.

Molly was stunned for a moment, but then she smiled again. It was as if Molly was trying to appease Brycen and herself as she said, "Brycen, that must be fake news. How could Sean be the father of my children? That's impossible. You don't need to think about it."

'That's true," said Brycen.

Brycen was relieved. His eyes looked at Molly softly and said, "Molly, I will always be on your side no matter what happens. Remember that.

Whenever you need me, I will do anything for you!"

"Give me a break. You yapped so much when I wanted you to cook for me."

Molly was both touched and amused, but she knew in her heart, 'Although Brycen is a little rude on normal days, he definitely got my back if something really happens.' Thinking of that made Molly feel warm, and they chatted a while more before she hung up the phone.

Before going to bed, Molly called Sean, and the two of them had a sweet conversation on the phone.

Molly casually talked about some daily life and interesting matters that happened. However, she did not mention the rumors on the Internet. It was as if she was deliberately avoiding the topic.

When Sean saw that Molly did not mention the rumors about her, he knew that even though she did not say anything, she would still mind.

So, Sean took the initiative to interrupt Molly's words and calmly said, "Molly, you must be tired these two days."

On the other end of the phone, Molly was stunned and smiled. She said, "In this era, everyone is working hard."

'I mean, you have suffered too much these two days. It's my fault that I didn't protect you well.'

Sean soothed Molly and said, "But, don't worry. I will give you an explanation. I promised you I wouldn't let you suffer any more grievances."

"Sean..." said Molly. Her heart softened.

Sean's firm words gave Molly a sense of security, but they also puzzled her.

'He'll give me an explanation? What is he talking about? Is it about the children?' Molly thought.

Sean did not explain any further. He comforted Molly calmly and said, "I'll take care of everything."

"Okay," said Molly.

Although Molly had doubts in her heart, she did not dare to ask any more questions.

After hanging up the call, Sean breathed a sigh of relief.

Sean thought Molly would ignore him directly or even be angry with him! Fortunately, Molly was still emotionally stable, and he could still delay the truth.

Although it would not hold for long, it would allow Sean to breathe and deal with the rumor about Molly.
