

Triplets On SM 821

Chapter 821-“Tony,” Sean called out coldly.

‘Yes, boss. What do you need me to do?’ Tony hurried into the study.

Sean gave his instruction indifferently with his cold, icy voice. “Find out which media has been spreading rumors on the Internet for the past two days and issue them a lawyer’s letter with a defamation charge. Let the law deal with them.”

‘Yes, boss.’ Tony nodded and went to investigate.

It did not take long for Tony to find the media company that first published the rumors on the Internet and the person in charge with just a phone call.

After some negotiation, Tony coldly informed, “Mr. Larson, this is not a warning. I’m here to remind you that the Anderson Corporation will send a lawyer’s letter to your company, and we will see you in court at that time!’ After Tony finished speaking, he hung up with a bang.

The person in charge of the media company stood there dumbfounded, almost stunned.

‘A lawyer’s letter? The Anderson Corporation issued a lawyer’s letter to our company? We’re finished!’ They were just a small media company and had no power to fight against the Anderson Corporation. It was no different from hitting a stone with an egg.

Mr. Larson was frightened, and he quickly called Tony with the intent of apologizing.

Tony ignored Mr. Larson’s call and did not bother to talk to Mr. Larson.

Mr. Larson panicked even more and hurriedly wrote an apology statement on the Internet and posted it on the forum. He stated that he had caused severe damage to Molly’s reputation by making rumors about her and was willing to sincerely apologize to her for forgiveness, etc.

Tony sneered lightly without even looking at it.

‘You were so ignorant when you made the mistake. Now that the disaster is imminent, how does it help even if you ask the Anderson family to forgive you?’ Tony thought.

The next morning, that media company was shut down.

Mr. Larson burst into tears in front of the reporters, announcing that the company had gone bankrupt. At the same time, he kept apologizing to Molly and saying he had damaged her reputation, etc.

The other advertisers were immediately frightened as soon as that happened, and they all behaved themselves.

No one dared to speak casually, let alone spread gossip about Molly and her three children.

The netizens deeply felt the feeling of the Anderson Corporation’s CEO protecting his wife!

No woman in the world would not want a rich and handsome man who was dedicated to protecting his wife.

The love between Molly and Sean was so pure that there was no trace of impurities.

They did not care about matching backgrounds or differences in status. It was because of love that they firmly guarded each other!

Thus, the netizens who initially despised Molly suddenly began to support Molly and Sean as a couple.

Naturally, there were still netizens who still hated Molly. But, when the heat of the rumors subsided, those unpleasant words also disappeared.

After the turmoil subsided, the three little ones’ tensed hearts could finally relax.

The three little ones went to the villa next door in the evening. They asked Sean, "Daddy, did Mommy really not suspect our relationship with you the past two days?"

"Don't worry," said Sean. He rubbed the three little one's heads in relief and added, "Your Mommy hasn't suspected anything yet, but I will find the right time to tell her the truth."

The three little ones nodded obediently, "Daddy, we believe in you. As long as you coax Mommy well, she will forgive you."

'After all, Daddy did not intentionally get Mommy pregnant back then. Everything was a misunderstanding.

'Although Mommy will be angry with Daddy, we believe that the two of them will be able to settle their differences. As long as Daddy is willing to coax Mommy patiently.* The three little ones thought.

Chapter 822-The three little ones did not know that Brycen had clearly heard their conversation with Sean.

Brycen went to the door of Sean's study on the second floor, as he wanted to call the three children home for dinner. But, he did not expect to hear the conversation between the three little ones and Sean.

'What did they just call Sean? Daddy?' Brycen dug his ears and wondered if he had heard it wrong.

'When did Sean become the three little ones' father?

'Are the rumors on the Internet true?

'Shoot! Could Sean be the three little ones' biological father?' Brycen thought.

Brycen was in disarray, so he hurriedly ran home and told Sawyer about Sean's conversation with the three little ones.

After Sawyer heard what Brycen said, Sawyer said lightly with disapproval, 'Brycen, you must have overanalyzed it. If Sean marries Molly in the future, he will be the father of the three children, so it's reasonable for them to call him 'Daddy'.'

In Sawyer's view, "Daddy' is just the three little one's nickname for Sean.

"No!" said Brycen.

Brycen shook his head and emphasized solemnly, "The three little ones called Sean 'Daddy' because they regarded him as their biological father, you understand? And, haven't you watched the latest news? The news on the Internet said that Sean is the biological father of the three little ones. Even their DNA results have been made public! Don't you think there is a profound relationship between Sean and the three children?"

When Sawyer heard that, his face finally became solemn.

Sawyer squinted his eyes and questioned Brycen, "So, you are saying that Mr.

Anderson is probably the father of our three precious nephews and niece?"

"It's very possible!" Brycen nodded seriously.

Sawyer nodded slightly and solemnly said, "Then, let's ask Mr. Anderson about this when he comes over. After all, this kind of thing can't be just speculation!

We have to figure it out."

Brycen had no objection to that. He planned to wait until later when Sean sent the three little ones back and questioned Sean.

At nine o'clock in the evening, Sean finally sent the three little ones home alone after watching a movie next door.

As soon as Sean entered the house, he felt two sharp gazes shooting straight at him.

Especially Brycen, he looked at Sean with a burning fire in his eyes. It was as if Brycen wanted to tear Sean into pieces.

Sean clearly felt the hostility, but he did not take it too seriously. He patiently said to the three children, "Go upstairs, clean yourself up, and go to sleep. We have to go to school tomorrow morning."

"Okay. Thank you, Uncle Sean!" The three little ones shouted sweetly.

Then, with their short legs, the three little ones went upstairs.

'Uncle?' Brycen thought.

Brycen almost laughed in exasperation when he heard that epithet.

'The three little ones call him Uncle Sean in front of outsiders but call him daddy in private?

'I don't understand why Molly is so fascinated with Sean, and even the three little ones trusted him so much.

'From the looks of it, apart from being handsome, rich, high IQ, a genius in business, and good in all aspects, Sean doesn't have any strong points!

'What do Molly and the children like about him?' Brycen thought.

Naturally, Sean did not know what Brycen was thinking. After seeing the children go upstairs, he turned his wheelchair and planned to leave.

“Not so fast, Sean. I have something to talk about with you!”

Suddenly, Brycen’s serious voice came from behind Sean.

Sean froze for a while but did not look back.

Brycen immediately walked two steps forward and blocked Sean’s path. He said condescendingly, “Follow me to the backyard. I have something to ask you!”

Chapter 823-nlight.

Sean sat in his wheelchair and said indifferently, if you have something to say, just say it.”

‘What’s with the attitude?’ Brycen got angry because he always felt that Sean was too cold and uncomfortable with him!

“Brycen!” said Sawyer.

Sawyer immediately suppressed Brycen’s anger and glared at Brycen with dissatisfaction. Sawyer then turned around and said to Sean in a nice tone, “Mr.

Anderson, forgive my brother. He’s like that. We asked you to come because we have something to ask you personally. So...” “Okay, just ask.” Sean agreed. He intended to hear what Sawyer and Brycen had to say.

Brycen and Sawyer looked at each other immediately. Then, Brycen asked straight to the point, “Sean, what is your relationship with our three little ones? Why did I hear them calling you daddy but then calling you Uncle Sean when we were around? Is there something fishy going on between you all?”

“Mr. Anderson, please explain yourself.” Sawyer joined in.

Sean was speechless. Sean did not expect Brycen and Sawyer to come to him forthat.

Sean was silent for a long time, not knowing how to answer.

‘Cat got your tongue?’ Brycen asked.

Knowing Sean was silent, Brycen thought Sean had given the answer by default. Brycen suddenly got anxious and shouted, “It can’t be. Sean, are you really the biological father of the three little ones? If this is a joke, this isn’t funny at all!”

Sean still remained silent, and he just glanced at Brycen lazily.

Those direct and frank gazes clearly told Brycen, ‘Yes, you guessed it right. I’m the biological father of the children.’ “F*ck!” Brycen exploded in an instant. He did not expect Sean to be the biological father of the three little ones!

‘In other words, this was the man who caused Molly to be kicked out of the house when she was pregnant before marriage, had no choice but to flee abroad, and suffered for many years?’ Brycen thought.

“Sean, you b*stard! Do you know that you have hurt Molly terribly!” Brycen yelled.

Brycen’s heart was full of anger. He clenched his fist and smashed it directly at Sean. Brycen wished he could hit Sean’s gentlemanly appearance!

Sean probably also felt he deserved it, so he did not dodge and quietly waited for Brycen’s punch to land on his face.

However, Sawyer hurriedly rushed up to stop Brycen before Brycen could hit Sean. Sawyer said, "Brycen, don't act so recklessly! Why do you want to hit him all of a sudden? Didn't you see that Mr. Anderson is still in a wheelchair?"

'Why shouldn't I hit him? So what if he's in a wheelchair? Sean has done so much harm to Molly. I have to settle this score with him!'

Brycen rolled up his sleeves and planned to put up a big fight with Sean.

'If it wasn't for this jerk, would Molly be so miserable back then?

'It's all his fault!

'He deserves to be beaten up!' Brycen thought.

But Brycen, Molly should be the one who settles her score with Sean. If you hit Sean, it's just to vent your anger. What's the point?"

Sawyer tried his best to stop Brycen and not let him do anything.

After all, this was the private affairs of the young couple. Apart from themselves, outsiders should not interfere.

Brycen was still not convinced, and he loudly shouted, "Molly is my sister! As her brother, why can't I teach this scumbag a lesson for her?

Chapter 824-Sawyer stopped Brycen desperately and persuaded Brycen, "Yes, Brycen. You are Molly's brother, but Mr. Anderson is not entirely a scumbag! He was probably kept in the dark about what happened back then. If he knew that the three children were his, I believe he would have reunited with his children a long time ago. Why wait until now?"

Sawyer's words barely brought Brycen back to sanity!

Although Brycen was furious, he was no longer berserk. He clenched his fists, suppressed his anger, and calmly asked, "Sean, explain yourself."

When did you know the three little ones were yours?

"And, after you got Molly pregnant back then, why didn't you take responsibility for that?"

You are not leaving until you explain this to me today."

'How dare he bully Molly? Did he even ask for my permission before he did that!

'Whoever or whatever Sean is, as long as he bullied Molly, that's a violation of my bottom line,1 Brycen thought.

At that moment, Sean sighed lightly.

Sean's black eyes were like a bottomless pit, and he seemed to be preparing his speech in his mind before he opened his mouth and said, "I'm sorry. I was also kept in the dark about Molly's pregnancy. If I knew that Molly was pregnant, I would be responsible to her regardless of my status with her then.

"As for the children, I only learned a while ago that they are my biological children. I have never told you all and Molly because I was worried she would be angry with me and wouldn't forgive me.

"But, I have confessed this matter to my grandfather and my parents.

They've asked me to find a time to make it clear to Molly. I'm still looking for the right time, but Molly has been on a business trip recently. I didn't want to bother her, so I kept it to myself for the moment."

As soon as Sean finished speaking, both Brycen and Sawyer were stunned.

It was the first time Brycen and Sawyer saw Sean talk so much.

Usually, Sean was cold to everyone else with a posture of rejection except to Molly, and he was polite to his elders.

Brycen and Sawyer did not expect Sean to be humble enough to explain things clearly.

Brycen's anger subsided inexplicably, and he cast a deep gaze on Sean.

Clearly, Brycen still wanted to say something, but he could not. Brycen thought for a while before he muttered in dissatisfaction, "I don't know how we should deal with this. Forget it. Let's just ask grandpa about it!" After saying that, Brycen glanced at Sean again and snorted coldly. Brycen then walked to the hall and asked the housekeeper to call Grandpa Dave.

Sawyer pushed Sean forward from behind. Sean faintly turned his handsome face sideways and said, "Thank you."

"There's no need for that. From now on, you are my brother-in-law. You don't have to be so courteous toward your family," said Sawyer.

Sawyer was quick to accept Sean's identity. For Sawyer, he was somewhat more at ease with a man of such quality to care for his sister and her children.

"Grandpa."

Not long after, Grandpa Dave came down. Brycen and Sawyer called in unison.

It was already late, and Grandpa Dave had already changed into his pajamas. Grandpa Dave put on a jacket and came down. He slowly crutched to the sofa and sat down.

Grandpa Dave solemnly asked, "What's wrong? It's late at night. Did something happen?"

“Grandpa, I heard you already knew that Mr. Anderson is the biological father of the three little ones?” Brycen asked directly.

Grandpa Dave was stunned. He guessed the two brothers probably knew about it, so he slowly nodded and said, “Yes, I’ve known about it for a while. What about it?”

Chapter 825-“Grandpa, why didn’t you tell me earlier since you already knew about it? If I knew that this jerk was the man who hurt Molly back then, I definitely wouldn’t agree to let him and Molly fall in love. I’d even strangle him at the beginning!”

Brycen stammered. He turned his head and glanced at Sean. Brycen inexplicably despised Sean.

‘Yes, Sean may not know what happened back then, but that doesn’t mean he’s innocent.

‘When Molly was kicked out of our family, her hardships abroad could never be taken away with a single word of ignorance.

‘Sean must compensate Molly ten times or even a hundred times. Otherwise, even God can’t stop me from beating him up,’ Brycen thought.

“That’s enough. This is a private matter between Molly and Sean. Brycen, you shouldn’t interfere even though you are the brother!”

When Grandpa Dave saw Brycen jumping up and down like a pissed-off monkey, he was very dissatisfied. Grandpa Dave immediately reprimanded him in a deep voice, “Just stop your nonsense, and it will save me some trouble.”

“Grandpa!” Brycen muttered in dissatisfaction. He sat on the sofa and added, “I’m doing this for Molly, okay? Which brother would not wish for his sister to find a good man?”

Grandpa Dave snorted coldly. He held his cane and asked, “Then, let me ask you, why is Sean not a good man? Which part of you do you think is better than him?”

"I..." Brycen was suddenly speechless. He muttered in a low voice, "A man should be responsible for his actions. If I were him, I would definitely reach out to Molly and make it clear when I knew that the children were my own.

I wouldn't wait until now.

"And, Molly was insulted by the world wide web two days ago. I didn't see Mr.

Anderson come out to say a few words for Molly. As Molly's boyfriend, he should help put in good words for her, right? In the end, did he do anything? Does he think it will be alright after all the rumors about Molly are settled?"

Brycen became angrier the more he talked. He turned around and looked at Sean. Brycen asked rudely, "Sean, do you really love Molly? If you love her, you should stand up and be with her to face the rumors together instead of letting her take all the blame herself! What is the point of just taking down those rumors from the top searches? If you are so capable, you should have protected her publicly. Do you dare?"

Brycen's words left Sean speechless.

'Brycen is right. When Molly was ostracized by the netizens, I should've fought with her initially.

'Although I've settled the issue in the end, I shouldn't let Molly face the storms on the Internet alone,' Sean thought.

"I'm sorry," said Sean.

Sean softly added, "It's my lack of consideration. Next time, I will stand by Molly's side, and I won't let her face it alone."

"Hmph, you better be!" said Brycen. He rolled his eyes in dissatisfaction.

Seeing that it was getting late and there was no point in all of them staying in the living room, Grandpa Dave stood up and waved his hand. He said, 'Forget it. It's getting late now. Sean, go back and rest.

"However, you must tell Molly about the children's identity and make things clear as soon as possible. That girl had a harsh life back then. As her husband and the father of the three children, you should make her feel safe with you!

"Even if she blames you with resentment, you must bear it no matter what. Can you do that?"

Chapter 826-Sean nodded quietly and replied, "Yes, I can.

in a few days, I will be heading to Xesxia to deal with some matters. I will go find Molly and make it clear to her. At that time, whether she blames me or not, I will patiently coax her and wait for her."

Sean reassured Grandpa Dave and the two brothers with his words.

"Very well then. That's settled. Let's all get some rest," said Grandpa Dave. He waved his hand, and everyone went their way.

The man is a man of his word. So, Grandpa Dave believed that Sean would live up to his words as a man.

The moonlight shone on the clean floor through the window in the middle of the night.

The bright light reflected and brightened the whole room.

Sean was lying sideways on his bed, tossing and turning for a while.

In nearly 30 years of his life, Sean had always been confident no matter what he did. He had rarely experienced the taste of failure and had never been afraid of failure.

However, Sean was not sure about confessing to Molly.

Like driftwood floating on the sea, he did not know which path to take.

'If I confessed to Molly about what happened, would she still accept me? Or, will she resent me, distance herself from me, and never forgive me?

'If it was the latter, I would rather keep Molly in the dark all my life than let her leave me,' Sean thought.

However, the truth could not be hidden for long after all.

Sean still had to take a difficult step in the end, and all of Molly's reactions were the consequences he should face.

Perhaps because Sean was feeling too uneasy, he, who had never wished for anything from God, suddenly made a wish at that moment.

Sean hoped that Molly would forgive him.

And, Sean also hoped that Molly would give him a chance and time to use the rest of his life to make it up to her, protect her, love her, and make her happy for a lifetime.

Unknowingly, Molly had been in Xesxia for over a week.

Molly was very busy every day. When she returned to the hotel after work, she threw her bag on the ground and lay on the bed lazily for a while. She did not want to think about anything. It took a while before she recovered from her daze.

Beep...

Suddenly, Molly's phone rang on the bed.

Molly fumbled around with her hand and finally got her phone. She grabbed it and saw that it was a call from Sean. Her eyes lit up, and she immediately slid to answer.

'Hello, Sean?' Molly's voice was soft and angelic with a hint of joy.

Sean could hear the exhaustion in Molly's voice. He said in a gentle and deep voice, "What are you doing?" "I'm resting. I'm so tired today," Molly massaged her shoulders and said.

Sean frowned in distress and immediately comforted Molly. He said, "You're working too hard. Why don't you take a break and rest for two days?"

"I can't. The work in the institute is very intense these days. I can't take a break."

Molly shook her head and refused. She could not help but sigh, "I really want to eat hot pot. I haven't eaten it for a long time. I'm craving for it."

"Then, I'll take you to eat it in two days," Sean said.

Molly was stunned for a moment. But, after she returned to her senses, she asked in a high tone, "You are coming over?"

"Why? Don't you want me to come?" Sean teased.

"Why not? I can't wait..." Molly's face turned red in the middle of her sentence. She changed her voice and softly said, "Of course it would be best if you could come. After all, I don't have time to come back, so..."

Sean chuckled and said, "Okay, then I'll see you in two days. Wait for me."

Chapter 827-After hanging up the phone, Molly put the phone to her chest, and she smiled beautifully.

It was as though all the tiredness that time had been swept away!

Molly even started planning in her heart to give Sean a tour around when he came over.

'Xesxia seemed to have a lot of scenic spots and a lot of light foods. I don't know whether we could finish exploring around...' Molly thought about it a lot and fell asleep before she knew it.

At night, Molly had a sweet dream.

In the dream, Molly and Sean held hands, walked on the beach, and watched the beautiful sunset together.

Everything was superbly beautiful.

Two days later, Sean arrived as promised.

Molly purposely asked for leave to go to the airport and pick Sean up. After Molly saw Sean from a distance, she could not wait to run toward him and hug him. She exclaimed, "Sean!"

Sean felt a soft mass rush into his arms. He immediately hugged Molly back and patted her back lightly. He said with a smile, "I'm here."

Immediately, Sean carefully looked at Molly's face and frowned slightly. He asked, "I haven't seen you for a while, and your dark circles are just like the patches on little pandas. Did you stay up all night every day?"

"No, I didn't." Molly rubbed her eyes dazedly and explained, "It's just that I'm too busy here, and I didn't have a good rest every day. Besides, I miss you and the children terribly. That's why I didn't have a good quality of sleep..."

'But, last night, I slept really well. Maybe it's because I had Sean in my dream,' Molly thought happily.

Then, the two went out to have a meal together.

Molly had not come out to eat for a while, and she started to gobble up her food.

Sean glanced at Molly and distressedly said, "Eat slowly. The food is all yours.

No one is going to steal it from you."

"I know. I want to eat faster to save time and accompany you more," Molly said with a smile and continued to eat quickly.

Sean felt even more distressed but did not know what to say.

Sean raised his slender fingers, gently wiped away the food residue from Molly's mouth, and said, "Please come back after you finish the work here. Don't let yourself get too tired. It hurts me to see you like this."

Molly was stunned for a moment. She could only feel that her heart was warmed.

Molly waved her hand quickly and nonchalantly said, "I'm fine. Everyone has a busy period at work. After that period, I'll have time to go home to be with you and the children."

"Great," said Sean. He smiled lightly and said nothing else.

After the meal, the two returned to where Molly was staying together.

It was a spacious apartment, and the decor was brand new. It was more aristocratic Naridic-style, and the environment was comfortable.

'When I first came here, I lived in a hotel. After that, Dr. Scott noticed that I was working too hard, so he arranged an apartment for me to stay in. If you don't mind, you can stay with me tonight.'" After Molly said that, she felt that there was a bit of ambiguity in what she said. She immediately added, "Of course, we are sleeping in separate rooms."

Sean naturally had no objection, but he still had something to say.

Sean was afraid that he would not be able to stay after he said it...

Seeing that Sean was silent, Molly did not mind and went to clean up the house.

Molly was very skilled in housework. Her loose hair slips down her earlobe, making her look graceful and virtuous.

Sean stared at Molly's figure and felt a little distressed. He wanted to get up and help her, but it was not convenient for him as he was still in his wheelchair. So, he could not help but feel a little weak.

"Molly." Sean suddenly called out softly.

"Yes?" Molly stopped her busy movements and looked back at Sean. Her beautiful watery eyes were sparkling at the moment.

Sean did not say a word and just hooked Molly's finger.

Molly smiled and put down the things in her hand. She walked toward Sean and asked, "What's wrong?"

Sean remained silent. He just reached out and pulled her into his arms.

Chapter 828-her slightly sensitive waist. The two's pose was intimate, and the air surrounding them was filled with love...

Molly's cheeks instantly blushed, and she said, "S-Sean..."

'Yes?' Sean asked.

Sean stared at Molly with eager and enthusiastic eyes. He noticed that Molly's face was blushing, and his thin lips curled into a beautiful smile. He gently lifted her chin and kissed her.

Molly's eyes widened unexpectedly. Then, she closed her eyes and indulged in the kiss.

Sean's kiss was extraordinarily gentle. It was as if he was carefully attending to a treasure and caring for Molly.

Molly gradually indulged in it, and the sweetness in her heart made her unable to extricate herself...

That night, Sean decided to stay for a night.

Molly took out the ingredients in the refrigerator and made a hearty dinner. At the same time, she also ordered a few candles and two bottles of red wine on the delivery application.

The candles were lit, and the wine glasses were filled with bright red liquid. A romantic candlelit dinner was ready.

'Try my sweet and sour pork tenderloin!' Molly said with a smile and placed a piece of tenderloin into Sean's bowl.

Sean nodded but did not rush to taste it. He gave Molly a deep gaze.

Sean's gaze was intense, and there was an indescribable sense of contradiction. It seemed that words were trying to come out of his mouth, yet he did not speak.

Molly looked up with misty eyes and met Sean's deep and tender gaze just in time.

At that moment, Molly suddenly seemed to realize something...

After hesitating for a few seconds, Molly took the initiative and said, "Sean, do you have something to say to me?"

Sean was stunned for a moment. He did not expect that Molly's intuition was accurate. But, Sean neither confirmed nor denied it. He took a sip of red wine and vaguely said, "Let's eat. You are so tired every day, so you should replenish yourself."

'Okay...' Molly nodded in confusion, but her heart suddenly lifted.

Molly felt that Sean had something to say to her, but she did not know what he wanted to say. The only sure thing was that the matter was definitely not trivial.

Otherwise, he would not have to delay like that.

Although Molly felt that way in her head, she did not show it on the surface.

Molly knew that if Sean was willing to tell her something, he would've definitely taken the initiative to speak up.

However, Molly had no idea that Sean was thinking about how he should confess to her about the identities of the three children...

Sean did not want to upset Molly, but he also did not want to hide from her simultaneously. So, he was thinking about whether there was a compromise that would make Molly less uncomfortable after learning the truth...

But, after thinking about it for a long time, Sean could not develop an idea for the best of both worlds.

Sean drank a few more glasses of red wine subconsciously. Although he did not get drunk, his mind gradually became slack as the alcohol evaporated...

It was not until after dinner that Sean took Molly's hand under the influence of alcohol, intending to confess to her. He said, "Molly, listen. I have something to tell you."

"Tell me," said Molly. She waited for his following sentence.

However, Sean shook his head. Before he confessed to Molly about the children's identity, he wished to express something else.

Sean took a deep breath and said quietly in a low and deep voice, "Molly, it is fate and a blessing to meet you in my lifetime."

Chapter 829-et you stay away from me for even a second..."

Molly furrowed her blackened eyebrows as she heard that.

She had never seen Sean acting so lowly. She found it very strange, and she had a bad feeling about it.

'Don't tell me that...' "The truth is, Alex, Ben, and Claudia are my children."

Sean finally stopped talking in riddles. He frankly said the secret he had kept in his heart for a long time.

Molly was thunderstruck. She was confused and did not know what was happening. She instinctively smiled as she said, "Sean, you're kidding. I know a lot of people attacked my children and me online in the past two days. I also know that you want to protect US. But, it's fine. You don't have to take them as your own children just for me. That is very unfair to you..."

"Molly, I'm not joking. Everything I said is true."

That was the reaction Sean thought he would get from Molly. Clearly, he was determined to tell Molly about it. So, he very seriously emphasized again, "I brought the triplets to have our DNA tested in the hospital. This medical report confirmed that they're indeed my children. So..."

Molly could not speak a word.

She could see that Sean was not lying. 'How is this possible?

'How could he be the father of the kids?

'What are the odds of that?

'The person who got me pregnant before marriage five years ago is the person who I'm in love with five years later!

'This is so unbelievable!' "Molly, I'm sorry. I caused you a great deal of pain back then. I'm very sorry about that. I've been thinking about how I can tell you this to avoid hurting you. I was also worried that you would leave me after you knew the truth. That was why I've been afraid to tell you the truth. I've been looking for the right opportunity.

"Now, there's such a big scandal online. It made me more certain that I must tell you the truth. That was the reason I came.

"But, don't worry. I'll respect whatever your decision is after you know the truth.

Whether you decide to hate me or dislike me, I'll not leave you. In the future, I'll make it up to you for all that I've wronged you in the past. Can you give me a chance, please?"

Sean wished that Molly could see how genuine he was as he said that.

'Or, maybe she could hit me or scold me!

'So that I could cheer her up and stay with her. Maybe we could fix this after she let out all her resentment.' But, Molly was exceptionally calm.

She did not cry or smile, and she was not surprised or shocked either. She just stood still quietly as though she was paralyzed. She did not give any response.

“Molly?”

Sean carefully grabbed her hand.

Molly immediately withdrew her hand. She refused to allow him to touch her as she took a step back.

This gesture of withdrawal was as if a needle had pierced Sean’s heart!

Chapter 830-His eyes were filled with guilt as he stared at Molly. He felt terrible as he said, ‘Molly, can you talk to me, please? Even if you blame me, hate me, or scold me. It’s fine...’

But, no matter how Sean persuaded her, Molly did not give him any response.

Molly just felt like her brain was shut down. Her mind was empty, and she was stunned.

After a short pause, Sean stretched his hands again to try to hug her and comfort her when he saw that she remained silent.

But, Molly suddenly bounced like a frightened little puppy. She took a step back, and her face was pale. She stiffly declined, “G-Give me some time to think about this!

“It’s late. I should go back to my room and rest. The guest room is ready. You can stay there tonight.”

She then hurriedly turned around and went into her room. She locked the door as if she was hiding from something.

Sean's heart ached when he saw her close the door decisively. But of course, he felt guilty, ashamed, and bad for Molly.

He also knew that the matter regarding the kids was the wedge that Molly and him must overcome.

Since he decided to tell the truth today, he would not give up easily.

No matter how Molly would treat him from today onwards, whether she would resent him or hate him, he was already prepared for it. He would continue to stay by her side, patiently make her happy, take care of her, accompany her, and make it up to her.

He would spend the rest of his life pampering her until she forgave him.

Molly stood with her back against the door after she went into her room. She firmly put her hands on her chest as if she could not breathe.

'Why? Why is this happening to me?

'How could Sean be the man who got me pregnant before marriage back then?' She once hated that man so much!

It was that man who caused her to be pregnant before marriage. And because of him, her reputation was so bad that she was kicked out of the May family.

She suffered terribly for the years she lived overseas!

In her memory, there was a dark period of time when she felt like she was living in hell almost every day. Her mental state was so bad that she even suffered from depression. She did not dare to make contact or get in touch with anyone.

Whenever she closed her eyes during the day or at night, she would hear those overwhelming abusive voices.

The various insulting words, the condemnation, and the opprobrium she had on herself caused her to be in a great deal of pain!

Her condition slowly and gradually went back to normal when the babies progressively formed in her womb.

Luckily her grandfather was there to encourage, support, and be with her. Otherwise, she would have most probably decided to take her own life when she was in her worst state of mind...

Fortunately, after the triplets were born, she slowly got herself together.

The friends around her looked after her, and that made her gradually feel better and warm.

Although Molly had undergone such humiliation in the past, she did not live negatively ever again. Because today she was not only an independent lady, but she was also a mother of three!

Molly took the triplets as her emotional support. And because of that, she was able to live happily.

But now, the man who she deeply loved told her that the root cause of all her nightmares in the past few years was him! 1 Molly could not take this devastating blow in such a short time!

She could only constantly comfort herself. She forced herself to calm down and slowly be reasonable again.
