

Triplets On SM 831

Chapter 831-After that, Molly opened the door. She glanced at the living room.

There was no one there. Sean probably went to the guest room to rest.

Molly suddenly felt more at ease. She thought to herself, 'Should I forgive Sean?

'No... At least I can't do it for now!' If it was not because of Sean back then, her life would not be such a mess. And, she would not need to live the life of a vagrant overseas with her children.

'Can I just forget all the injustice that I suffered in the past just because he apologized?

'Obviously not!' Molly would not forgive Sean so easily. Although she did not know what she should do now, she decided to give herself some time to think about it!

Sean and Molly did not have a good sleep that night.

Sean was not able to sleep the whole night. He was constantly thinking about Molly. 'What's that girl thinking right now?' On the other hand, Molly was thinking about how she should face Sean when she woke up the next morning.

'Should I ask him to leave the house immediately, or...?'

Molly was contemplating that the entire time. The more she thought about that, the more annoyed she got. So, she simply just covered her head with the blanket to sleep.

The next morning, someone knocked on her door.

Molly dreamily opened her eyes. She heard Sean's gentle voice from outside the door. "Molly, come out and have breakfast."

Molly instantly furrowed her fine eyebrows. His voice could indeed make her feel very happy. But, at that moment, she felt an inexpressible dilemma! She felt indescribably upset at the mere thought of Sean being the father of her children.

So, when she walked out of her room, she gave Sean a puzzled look.

Sean noticed Molly's cold stare. He knew she had not forgiven him, and he did not want to force her to make peace with him either.

He gave a shallow smile as he gently said, "Molly, I had been thinking about it a lot last night. It must be very hard for you to accept it when I suddenly told you about the kids.

"But, don't worry. I won't force you to accept me even though I didn't mean to hurt you back then. But, the damage is done, and I'm the one to blame. So, I'm willing to give you time to think about it."

Sean pushed his wheelchair to sit at the dining table after he said that. He prepared the tableware for Molly as he said, "Sit down and eat. The milk has been heated up. The weather is cold. So, drink it to warm yourself.

"And, I'll leave Xesxia this afternoon and go back to Northfolk. You can tell me your decision whenever you figure it out and have an answer.

"Of course, I'll keep waiting for you to forgive me. No matter how long it takes..."

Sean smiled faintly after saying that. He then started to eat.

Molly somehow felt even more upset when she saw Sean acting as if nothing had happened.

She opened her mouth, trying to say something. But, she did not say a word.

She could only sigh quietly. She walked toward the dining table and sat down to have breakfast with Sean.

Sean silently took a piece of fried egg for Molly. He then poured a glass of milk for her too.

Molly softly thanked him. She became quiet again after that.

Sean did not bother her anymore.

After they finished their breakfast, Tony came to pick up Sean. Then, Sean went toward Molly and gently grabbed her hand. He softly said, "I'll leave now, okay?"

Molly did not speak. She merely nodded her head.

Sean smiled brightly. He suddenly pulled her hand and kissed the back of her hand lightly. "Anyway, I'll be waiting for you in Northfolk."

Chapter 832-After Sean left, Molly sat on the couch. She inexplicably felt that her apartment was suddenly very empty.

'I was staying here alone before he came. But, why do I feel lost after he left?'

Molly sighed lightly. She then turned around, picked up the tableware that was on the table, and washed them in the kitchen.

Just when she turned on the faucet, she noticed a bottle of fresh green color juice on the kitchen worktop.

There was a sticky note next to the bottle. "You don't look so well recently. Drink some fresh vegetable juice to replenish some vitamins. It's good for your health."

The handwriting was vigorous. She could tell whose handwriting it was when she saw it.

Molly was suddenly sad for no reason. Her nose twitched, and she almost began to weep. But, she forced herself not to cry.

‘Why am I crying?’

I’ve already cried so much when I was raising my children overseas in the past years.

‘Sean never did the things that a husband and a father were supposed to do in those years. Yet, I’m so touched by just a bottle of juice today?’ Molly wiped her nose. She privately scolded herself, ‘You’re such a disappointment.’ She then changed her clothes and left her apartment as she headed to the research laboratory.

What she did not know was that Sean had not left.

He ordered Tony to park the car at a discreet position by the roadside.

After that, he watched Molly get a taxi along the side of the road. He felt a lot more at ease after the taxi gradually drove away.

‘She could get it together and go to work. This shows that her mental state isn’t that bad!’ He was relieved.

“Boss, are we going back to Northfolk now?” Tony asked at an appropriate time in the driver’s seat.

At the same time, he opened his phone and was ready to book the plane tickets.

But, Sean replied in a deep voice, “No.”

“But, you told Ms. May...”

Before he finished his sentence, Tony glanced at his boss through the rearview mirror. He did not speak further.

He understood Sean. 'It was just a lie when the boss said that he was going back to Northfolk. I guess he said that intentionally because he knew Ms.

May didn't want to see him.' So, he played it by ear as he asked a rhetorical question. "I'll get a hotel reservation for you, then? So that you can get some rest for the upcoming days."

Sean agreed with a faint grunt without another word.

He certainly did not want to leave. After all, he was worried about Molly's mental state.

When a person was angry, it would not be the scariest thing if they shouted or scolded. It would only be truly terrifying when the person remained silent. Because sometimes, silence meant that the person was absolutely disappointed and hopeless.

Especially for Molly. She was always a soft woman. She was also very kind- hearted and friendly.

So, it was very worrying when she became so quiet!

Sean must stay with her the whole time to not feel worried.

For the next few days, Molly was much quieter.

Not only did she not talk when she was working, but she was also alone when she was having her meals. She basically did not make contact with anyone.

Her assistant, Lynn, was extremely worried when she saw that Molly had become so withdrawn. She kept asking her, "Ms. Molly, what's wrong? Did anyone upset you? Tell me who it was. I'll stand up for you!

“Ms. Molly, please talk to me. I don’t have any friends in the research laboratory. You’re the person I admire and like the most. I’ll be very bored if you don’t bother me.”

Lynn said in a cutesy voice. Her look and her voice gave the others goosebumps.

But, Molly still acted indifferently. She smiled at Lynn and said, “I’m fine. Don’t worry.”

After that, she turned around and continued her work. She was in a mood where she did not want to talk to anyone.

Chapter 833-ly. She turned around and went for a walk in the research laboratory. She said to a few of her relatively close colleagues, “You guys, let’s have a party tomorrow night. Let’s treat Ms. Molly to dinner. What do you guys think?”

‘Sure!’

The few colleagues nodded happily.

Molly was young and pretty. Her temperament was outstanding, and she was quite accomplished in the research industry. So, she was their Goddess!

Everyone was looking forward to having dinner with their Goddess.

So, Lynn was planning to ask Molly to have dinner together after work tomorrow night.

Molly was distracted in the past few days. She did not know and care about what was happening with the others. She was in a state where she felt empty. She basically ditched everyone.

But, Sean was still worried about her, so he would send her a few messages at mealtimes. He asked her to eat well, have a balanced diet, rest well, not to overwork, and so on.

He would even say goodnight to her before going to sleep.

Molly saw all his messages, but she did not reply at all.

She did not want to reply to him, and she did not know what to say. She just wanted to be alone.

Mr. May Sr. heard that Sean had told Molly the truth. He figured that his granddaughter would be very down these days. So, whenever he videocalled Molly, he would avoid topics related to Sean. He genuinely wanted to care for his granddaughter.

The triplets did not dare to disturb their mother too. Instead of videocalling, they just sent their mother a few voice messages every day to express their emotions about missing her.

All of them cared for Molly.

And, Molly knew that everyone was worried about her. But, it made her feel very uncomfortable and empty!

She did not even know how she could face her children!

After all, the kids finally found their father. They must be hoping that they could have a father to love them.

‘But, what about all those years when I was suffering? Should I just move on?

‘If don’t, what else can I do?’ It would be a lie if Molly said that she did not blame Sean. But, she was not capable of hating him.

She would even dream of him smiling at her and scenes where he was being nice to her at night. And, when she woke up, she felt sweet but also heartache.

The more it happened, the more Molly was confused. She felt as if she almost did not understand herself.

‘Oh, my god... What should I do?’ “Ms. Molly!”

Just when Molly spaced out, Lynn ran to her happily. She smiled lively as she suggested, “Ms. Molly, are you free tonight? Can I treat you to a meal?”

“Huh?”

Molly came out of her trance. She gave a faint smile as she shook her head. “It’s fine.

You’re already very tired from working every day. You should go home earlier after work and rest.”

“No!” Lynn quickly contradicted her. She warmly invited her, “Ms. Molly, you’ve been working hard every day ever since you came to manage our research laboratory. You led US so well that we’ve made such good progress in our project! The colleagues wanted to have a dinner party with you. Could you humor US tonight? Give US a chance to ask you for your research insights, okay?”

“I don’t have any insights or tips.” Molly was shy.

Her working tip was nothing but to work seriously and earnestly.

“Anyway, don’t worry about it. Ms. Molly, I’m not the only one who’s treating you to this meal. All our colleagues wanted you to join US. You must go. Otherwise, everybody will be unhappy.”

Lynn kept persuading Molly. She insisted on Molly joining the party.

Chapter 834-Molly knew that it would be difficult to reject their kindness!

'But, this will be good too. I won't overthink at home if I join the party.' So, she smiled faintly as she said yes.

After work, Lynn brought a few male and female colleagues to a restaurant. They had their lively party in a private room.

Maybe because everyone was so stressed from working that Lynn asked the waiter to bring them some alcohol as they were chatting.

"We finally get to have a party together tonight. Let's clink glasses!"

Lynn smiled passionately as she said that. The other colleagues picked up their glasses too. After they clanked their drinks, some of them gulped the glass of alcohol, while some of them just took a sip.

The atmosphere was extremely lively. Molly was suddenly less upset because of it.

Her colleagues were from all over the world. All of them had their own unique background and story. So, there were many topics to chat about between them.

Molly smiled when she saw her colleagues talking and laughing. But, she did not speak much.

Later that night, she had an upset stomach. So, she got up and went to the washroom.

After she came out, she saw a chubby male colleague, who was wearing glasses, just standing outside the washroom.

"Why are you standing here? Go in and talk to the other colleagues," Molly stepped forward as she said with a smile.

The male colleagues still did not move. He stared at Molly as the look on his face changed.

“Ms. Molly...”

He said softly as he gobbled. He looked like he wanted to have a heart-to-heart talk with her.

Molly frowned. She did not think too much about it. She thought he had some sort of problem. So, she worriedly said, “Are you not feeling well? If you can’t drink, you can go home earlier. Just tell them that I allow you to do so.”

The man shook his head hastily, “It’s not that, Ms. Molly. I have something that I’d like to talk to you about alone.”

“Actually, I’ve been deeply attracted to you since I first saw you. And, Ms. Molly, you’re so young, but you’ve already accomplished so much in virology. I admire you a lot. In my eyes, you’re my Goddess. So, I really like you a lot. I was wondering if you could give me a chance for US to get to know more about each other?”

The man anxiously said. He raised his hand to wipe the sweat on his forehead, and he looked extremely nervous.

It was very awkward for Molly. This was the first time that someone confessed to her so directly.

And, she remembered that she was not close to that male colleague!

Moreover, she already had someone she liked. And, she had kids too. So, she could not agree to his request.

Hence, she determinedly shook her head and said, “I’m sorry. We can’t be together.”

She then turned around and wanted to walk away after she said that.

But, her male colleague did not give up. He shouted, “Ms. Molly.” He then went forward and grabbed her wrist.

“Ms. Molly, listen to me. I really like you very much. From the minute I met you, I...”

“Let go of me!”

Molly furrowed her eyebrows. She instinctively disliked it when she saw him take hold of her wrist.

Unexpectedly, her male colleague looked like he had found his courage. He did not want to let her go. He continued, “Ms. Molly, can you give me a chance, please? I really admire you very much! And, I’m quite good at research. To be honest, my family is fairly rich. I’ll make you very happy if you’re willing to be together with me!”

Molly furrowed her dark eyebrows even tighter. The resistance in her became stronger, and she finally had enough of him. She then immediately shook off his hand!

Chapter 835-“That’s enough!”

Molly bent her wrists. She stopped holding back and determinedly said, ‘ There’s something I need to tell you. First off, I don’t know you very well, and I don’t even remember what’s your name. Secondly, I already have three kids and a fiance. We are very happy together, so why would I ruin my own life to be with you?’

“What? Y-You have a fiance and kids?”

The male colleague was shocked. Molly was so young and beautiful, so he did not expect her to be a mother.

Molly was not bothered by how surprised he was at all as she directly said, “Yes. I’m going to get married soon too. You’re still young, and you have a lot to offer. You should stop wasting your time on me and look for a person that suits you better.”

Molly turned around and left after saying that.

The male colleague stood there, feeling confused.

He was not expecting to be rejected by Molly at all...

His co-workers used to call him mini Brad Pitt, and he came from a pretty rich family too. He could honestly be an attractive option to many.

However, Molly was going to get married, and she already had three kids. It left him no choice.

So, the male colleague sighed deeply and decided to give up on her.

Molly had no idea that every word she said to the male colleague was heard clearly by Sean, who was not far away from her.

Sean felt very happy after hearing how Molly rejected the guy by telling him that she was already engaged. He could not help but lift the edges of his thin lips.

Even though Molly ignored him and his text messages, she did not deny his existence.

'I still have an important place in her heart!

'She's just too angry to forgive me for now.' "Boss, are you just going to watch over Ms. May like this?"

Tony asked him while standing at the side.

Sean had been spending the last few days doing the same thing.

He would watch Molly from afar and observe her no matter when she was working, leaving work, or having lunch.

Tony could not understand it. 'I have no idea why Mr. Anderson wouldn't take the initiative to make Ms. May feel better and ask for her forgiveness if he's so worried about her.

'When is he ever going to stop wasting his time doing this?' "Why do you ask? Do you have a better idea?" Sean turned his head slightly, and the light made his side profile look very elegant.

Tony smiled faintly and said, "Boss, I've never been in a relationship, and I don't really know how to chase after girls. However, I do know a thing or two about how to cheer them up. I can give you some tips if you don't mind!

I*

Sean lifted his brows as he felt interested. "Go on."

Tony chuckled and continued, "Boss, have you ever heard people say that every woman is a little girl in their heart? All of them love flowers, romance, and every wonderful thing.

Why don't you consider giving Ms. May some flowers? You can, at least, make her feel better even if she still wouldn't forgive you."

Sean hesitated after hearing what Tony said. "What if she threw the flowers into the trash?"

Tony was embarrassed as he quickly explained, 'Boss, this is something you don't understand. Giving Ms. May flowers is one thing, and her accepting it or not is another.

You're not trying to change her mind by doing that but just to show her your sincerity.

"Of course, Ms. May has all the right to reject you, but it doesn't mean that you should just sit here and do nothing!"

Chapter 836-Tony patted his chest and reassured Sean, “Boss, just trust me. I’m sure that Ms. May is going to accept the flowers if you’d just give them to her.”

•Really?”

Sean did not really believe Tony’s words. Instead, he thought that Tony sounded more like a hustler after looking at how confident he was.

Unexpectedly, Tony threw him a question without holding back. “Boss, when did you become so insecure?

“Don’t you see? Ms. May loves you very much. Even though she found out that you were the man who got her pregnant back then, she still admitted that you’re her fiance just now. What does that mean? It means that you have a special place in her heart.

‘She’s not going to reject your flowers since you have a special place in her heart. Even if she really did reject it, I’m sure she’ll eventually give in if you keep giving her more and more flowers!’ Tony stroked his chin and smirked as he said that. He thought that his plan was flawless.

Sean had no idea if Tony’s plan would actually work, but he agreed with one thing that Tony said.

‘Showing my sincerity is one thing, and Molly accepting it or not is another. She has all the right to reject me, but it doesn’t mean I can just do nothing.’ ‘Let’s just do as you said, then!’

In the end, Sean was convinced by Tony. “I want you to find me the best florist in Xesxia tomorrow. Then, customize a bouquet of roses and send it to Molly every day. And, give a call to Xesxia University and tell them to contact Molly as soon as possible to work on a new product.

‘Other than that, hire a driver to take Ms. May to work and back. Just tell her that it’s not safe to take a cab. Just tell the driver to follow the cab if she wouldn’t get in.’

“Yes, boss!”

Tony said briskly as he thought to himself. 'No wonder he's the CEO. He's such a fast learner, and that's just impressive!

'I'm sure Ms. May will change her mind sooner or later after seeing how sincere Mr. Anderson is.' On the next day, Molly received a bouquet of nine hundred and ninety-nine roses.

Her colleagues surrounded her after they knew about it.

"Wow! Ms. May, these flowers are so beautiful! Did your boyfriend send them?"

"Hm. I guess..." Molly did not know what to say.

The delivery man would not reveal the sender's name, so Molly had no choice but to accept them.

Her co-workers were so envious of her. The female colleagues smacked their lips unanimously, "Ms. May, we're so jealous of you. I guess it's true that a beautiful and capable person would be spoiled by someone else. I would be delighted to receive ninety-nine roses, let alone nine hundred."

"Ah! Jealousy is drowning me. God, when will you give me a romantic boyfriend like this?"

"Ms. May, is this from your fiancé? It's so beautiful!"

Lynn gasped after seeing the huge bouquet.

Molly smiled, but she had no idea what was happening.

She thought to herself, 'Could this be Sean? I guess not. He already went back to Northfolk.

'Could it be the guy who confessed to me at the dinner party last night?' When she thought of that, Molly started to feel disgusted as she looked at the flowers.

She put the flowers down in her office before walking out. Then, she went to the male colleague's desk and told him to go to her office.

"Is this from you?" Molly got straight to the point.

Her stare was like a sharp knife pointing at him as his hair stood on end. Then, he quickly explained, "Ms. May, this isn't from me. Didn't you reject me last night? Why would I give you flowers now?"

Chapter 837-"Are you sure?" Molly was suspicious.

The male colleague quickly nodded, "Of course. Ms. May, you're already engaged, and you have three kids. I'm not going to bother you anymore, no matter how much I like you.

I'm a man of principles!"

Molly gave in. "I guess I misunderstood you. I'm sorry."

She looked at the bouquet of roses, and her mind went blank after the guy left.

Even though she did not know who sent her the flowers, she just could not stop thinking about Sean. Her instinct told her that it had something to do with Sean, but she just could not prove it.

However, Molly had to admit that this bouquet of tender and dewy flowers brightened up her mood very much. Her mood was like a cloudy sky before this, and she felt as though a ray of sunshine had shone into her heart and all the dark clouds had disappeared.

In the evening, Molly wanted to take a cab to go back after she was done with work.

She thought the sunset looked very beautiful while she was waiting for the cab. The slanting rays of the setting sun gave a warm orange tinge to the sky, and it looked just like a painting. Then, she took her phone out and took a picture.

Then, she opened her chat with Sean, and she was about to send the picture to him. However, she realized what was going on between them when her finger was on top of the send button. She froze!

Molly closed the conversation between her and Sean and deleted the picture after exhaling deeply.

Then, she stopped a cab.

“Hey. Ms. May, Ms. May! Wait for me!”

The driver that Tony sent rushed over from the intersection behind after Molly left, but it was already too late.

Sean glared at Tony as he sat in the backseat. He was obviously mad at Tony.

“I’m sorry, boss. I did as you told me by getting a driver to send Ms. May to and back from work, but there was an unexpected jam. That was the only reason why he was late. However, there’s nothing to worry about. I’m sure that everything will go as planned tomorrow!”

Sean did not know what to say anymore, so he ordered Tony instead, “Follow her.”

“Yes, boss.” Tony stepped on the pedal and drove behind the cab.

Molly looked outside the window and started daydreaming after she told the cab driver where she was going. However, the cab driver just would not stop talking.

“Miss, you look like you’re in a bad mood. Did you just break up?”

“Why aren’t you talking? Go ahead and cry if you want. I have tissues in my car!”

“Miss, you’re so beautiful. I’ve never seen a girl as pretty as you.

“Can I get your number?”

Molly furrowed her brows. She found this cab driver very annoying, so she ignored him completely.

However, the cab driver just would not cut it. ‘ Miss, do you have a boyfriend? I have three apartments in Xesxia. You should consider dating me if you don’t mind. I know my hair looks like a mess right now, but I can look pretty handsome after dressing up!”

Then, the cab driver flashed Molly a smile through the rear-view mirror, showing the yellowish teeth that he got from smoking.

Molly was so disgusted that she frowned and yelled, “Stop the car!”

She wanted to take another cab.

The cab driver panicked. “Miss, we haven’t arrived at your destination yet.” Molly scoffed.

“You should be more aware of your service attitude if you’re trying to make some money.

I only got into this car because I wanted to get to my destination peacefully. I’m going to file a police report and revoke your driving license if you dare to talk nonsense again!”

“I’m so sorry.”

The cab driver did not dare to speak again, but he glared at Molly instead.

‘Why is she so rude? I wouldn’t bother talking to her if she wasn’t so pretty.’

Chapter 838-We're here. That'll be one hundred."

The cab driver's attitude took a big turn as if Molly owed her money after he stopped the car.

Molly arched her brows and refuted unhappily, "It'd usually only cost me less than forty bucks. Did you really just ask for a hundred?"

The cab driver looked around and found out that it was a newly built neighborhood.

There were not many people there, so he became bolder and shouted, "This is a metered cab! You have to pay the exact amount shown here. I'm not asking for any extra."

"I'm sure that you took the longer route, then."

Molly exposed him and straightforwardly said, "I don't care which route you prefer to take, but I'm only going to pay you what I'm supposed to! Here's fifty. Consider the extra as my tips." Then, Molly took out a green-colored bill and gave it to him.

Unexpectedly, the cab driver grabbed her hand suddenly and molested her hand.

'Her hand is so soft. I can't remember the last time I touched a woman.' The sensation stimulated a part of his body, and his gaze toward Molly turned ferocious.

"Ah! Let go of me!"

Molly screamed. She was not expecting him to be a pervert.

The cab driver put on a crooked smile. "Miss, shout all you want. There's nobody around here. No one is going to help you no matter how loud you scream!"

He tried to open the car door while grabbing Molly's hand tightly.

Molly was terrified. She took her handbag and used to it smack the driver's head. The driver was dazed, and he scolded Molly with every curse word he could possibly come up with.

Boss, this is bad! Ms. May is in trouble!"

Tony got to the neighborhood and felt very anxious after he saw what was happening.

Fury roared through Sean's mind as he sat in the backseat. "Where are the bodyguards? Do something!" he said impatiently.

"Yes, boss!"

Tony contacted the other car via intercom. A few muscular men ran straight out of the car and threw the perverted cab driver on the ground after receiving Tony's order.

"Ouch!"

The cab driver sprawled out on the asphalt, and the bodyguards stepped on his chest before he could even stand up. It hurt so much that he shouted, "H-Help! I didn't do anything to you. What's going on?"

The bodyguards picked him up from the ground without saying anything and threw a big punch to his face. One of his teeth was knocked out, and he spat out blood.

Molly was shocked as she took a few steps back.

After seeing the big burly men beating the cab driver up, she could almost guess that Sean sent them.

As expected, the bodyguard turned around and said to Molly after taking care of the cab driver, "We're sorry for being late, Ms. May."

Molly was relieved as she softly asked, "Did Sean send you?"

"Yes, Ms. May. It was an order from the CEO to Mr. Tony. He wanted US to stay around you and keep you safe at all times."

The bodyguard dressed in black spoke politely before he continued, "Also, we'll be responsible for taking you to and back from work from today onwards. If you're not okay with this arrangement, we'll just escort you to your destination to keep you safe."

Molly's heart was suddenly filled with warmth.

She was still mad at Sean, but he still cared so much about her personal safety.

She would be in big trouble if the bodyguards were not around!

It was just difficult for her not to change her mind after knowing how considerate and thoughtful Sean was to her.

However, the more she felt this way, the more contradicted she got!

Chapter 839-re was a note on the table.

Molly took a few steps forward before picking it up. Then, she saw the beautiful writings of the man. i'll be waiting for you."

The mellow moonlight shone through the curtains and landed on her face. For some reason, she felt a lump in her throat, and she suddenly had the urge to cry.

Even though she did not talk to Sean in those few days, Sean had not stopped being with her in her life.

He was with her all the time.

She could see signs of him everywhere she went.

She would think of Sean's attractive face and the things he said to her whenever she had nothing to do, even though she was at work.

Molly suddenly realized that Sean already had a very, very important place in her heart.

Could she really take it if they were to break up?

On the next day, Molly went out to work, and she saw the bodyguards waiting outside.

The bodyguards bowed their heads politely as soon as they saw her coming out. "Ms. May, please allow US to send you to work."

Molly paused. Then, she shook her head. "It's okay."

Even though the bodyguards saved her yesterday, they were still working for Sean. She did not want to feel like she owed Sean a favor because accepting the bodyguards' help would be the same as telling Sean that she had forgiven him.

However, she had not made up her mind about that yet, so she chose to reject them.

The bodyguards had no choice but to follow her behind while protecting her.

In the afternoon, someone delivered a huge bouquet of roses to her again. The sender's name was still kept secret, and Molly's co-workers just could not stop guessing who gave Molly those flowers.

"Ms. May, who exactly gave you these flowers? Your fiance wouldn't send it anonymously if it was him, right? Do you think somebody has a secret crush on you?"

Lynn was extremely curious about the real identity of the sender, and she would try to probe Molly when she was free.

Molly was very busy with her work. She shook her head and said in a resigned tone, "I have no idea who sent it either. But, I think the flowers look kind of beautiful, so I just accepted it."

"Tsk, tsk. It's such a huge bouquet, and every stalk of rose is so pretty. It's got to cost a lot! Ms. May, to be honest, if someone ever treats me like this, I'd just marry him without any hesitation!" Lynn said confidently.

"Are you sure?" Molly laughed after hearing what she said. Then, she joked, "You should take this bouquet home with you then if that makes you so happy."

"Wow, really?" Lynn was thrilled.

"Of course."

"That's great!"

So, Lynn took the bouquet of roses and left happily after work.

After seeing what happened from afar, Tony was shocked. 'Boss, look. Isn't that the bouquet we sent to Ms. May this afternoon? Why is that woman holding it?'

Sean glanced over and saw Lynn carrying the flowers he sent to Molly with a big smile on her face.

His gaze turned cold suddenly. 'Did Molly really give the flowers to someone else?'

'I guess... she's still mad at me!' Sean felt disappointed. The fire in his eyes died out, and it turned into an abyss.

“Boss, should we still keep sending Ms. May the flowers?”

Tony asked nervously after feeling how tense the atmosphere in the backseat became

Chapter 840-Yes.”

Sean said without hesitating.

Even though he felt a little devastated, he sounded very determined as he had no plans to change his mind.

After he thought about it, he knew that it was perfectly normal for Molly to reject the things he did for her since she was still mad at him. It was entirely up to her what she wanted to do with the flowers, but it was still necessary for him to do his part.

Sean felt a lot better after that. So, he continued doing the same thing for the next few days, regardless of the weather.

Molly could already guess who had been sending her the flowers after receiving them every day.

Even though she was still not texting Sean, she did not refuse to take the flowers.

‘Let’s just wait a bit longer,’ she told herself.

On the other side, the triplets had been paying full attention to Sean and Molly’s relationship.

They were very worried after knowing that Molly had stopped talking to Sean, and they could not even eat properly.

‘Great-grandpa, uncle, mommy isn’t talking to daddy now. What should we do?’

Are we never going to see daddy again if mommy leaves him?"

The triplets' noses turned red, and tears welled up in their eyes as soon as they thought of Sean and Molly breaking up.

They did not want that to happen at all. Sean and Molly had been through so much those years before they could get back together. It would be a shame for them to break up!

Besides, they wanted Sean and Molly to be together, and they wanted to live their lives happily as a family!

They had no idea if that would ever come true.

Grandpa Dave felt very upset after seeing the triplets' teary eyes. Then, he spoke gently and tried to mend the tiny ones' broken hearts.

"Alex, Ben, Claudia, calm down. There are some conflicts going on between mommy and daddy, but I believe they're going to solve it in just a matter of time."

"But, mommy has been ignoring daddy for days. Great-grandpa, should we give mommy a call and try to convince her? Will mommy forgive daddy if we tell her that we don't want daddy to leave?" Ben asked impatiently. He just could not wait another second for Sean and Molly to reconcile.

Grandpa Dave shook his head after hearing that. He lifted his hand and patted Ben's tiny head as he tried to comfort him. "Ben, I know you want your daddy and mommy to get back on good terms, but none of us is in the right place to interfere. That's because they're going to spend the rest of their lives with each other, and they'll only be happy if they're willing to keep this relationship going.

Things will only get worse if they continue to be with each other reluctantly!

"I'm the same as you. I'm very worried about what will happen to your parents, but we have to learn to respect their decisions, okay?"

“We understand it, great-grandpa.”

The triplets nodded obediently, but they felt a little defeated.

‘What would happen if mommy decided not to forgive daddy?’

‘Are we never going to have a daddy?’ They just could not imagine what would happen...

Sean had been treating the triplets very well. And, Alice and Ricky took very good care of them too!

The triplets would definitely cry if Sean and Molly broke up and stopped talking to each other because of the mistake Sean made years ago.

They prayed to themselves, ‘Mommy, you’ve got to make the right decision.

Just forgive daddy and give him another chance!’ Molly had no idea what they were thinking at all.

She had not talked to Sean for a week now. Her messy thoughts started to go away day after day, and she began to become more rational.
