

Triplets On SM 881

Chapter 881-ume his studies.

Molly and Caden went to the teacher's office. Molly explained Caden's situation at home to his teacher and thanked the teacher.

"Sorry for making you worry about Caden, teacher! I appreciate the school for being tolerant of my brother's actions and didn't agree to let him drop out of school. Otherwise, it would be troublesome."

The teacher smiled very friendly and modestly said, "It's okay. We understand how hard it is for Caden. We can overlook it if Caden is willing to return to school."

"However, you can't be irresponsible anymore, Caden. Even if there is an incident at home, you should discuss it with your sister before making a decision, otherwise, it will cost you your future! If you miss out on a few lessons from school, you will fall behind the other students by a large margin. This will definitely affect your future, so you must be careful!"

"Yes, teacher. I'm sorry. I will work harder on my studies in the future," Caden said sincerely.

The teacher nodded with satisfaction and felt very relieved. The teacher told Molly, "Ms. May, Caden is brilliant. Since the last incident, he has been studying hard, and his grades have been perfect! Last month's monthly assessment ranked him in the top ten of the grade. If he continues to study harder, it is not impossible for him to progress forward. If that happens, he might even land a place in a prestigious university, which is something he can't miss." "Really?" Molly's eyes lit up.

The teacher smiled and said, "Yes."

Molly looked at Caden with her gentle and beautiful eyes. She said, "Caden, did you hear what the teacher said? Make sure you must study hard this time and seize the opportunity. Everything will be fine if you get into a good university. I will pay for all your expenses."

"Okay, Molly." Caden nodded like an obedient child.

Molly's smile became brighter, and she said politely to the teacher, "We'll make a move and leave you to your work. Please let me know if something comes up with Caden. I will come and deal with it."

"Okay." The teacher nodded gently.

Molly was about to leave after meeting with the teacher.

Caden walked with Molly to the school gate.

Before Molly left, she stuffed Caden with a card.

"And this, take it," said Molly.

Caden reacted immediately and shook his head. He said, "Molly, I can't have this! You have already bought me so many things and taken good care of me.

You really don't have to give me money for my living expenses anymore."

Molly said with a deep tone, "I want you to have it, so take it!

"I will be on a business trip in a few days. I'm afraid that I won't be able to take care of you. You have to take care of yourself. Or, do you want to work and study simultaneously and make me worry about you? Or, do you want to go hungry in school? Do you think I will allow that?"

"I..." Caden stammered and was speechless. His eyes could not help but turn a little red.

'Molly is so kind to me! I really don't know how I can repay her,' Caden thought.

Seeing that Caden's nose reddened, Molly could not help but smile warmly. She put the card into Caden's hand and said, "That settles it. You are my brother, and I should take care of you. If you feel bad about it, repay me with your good grades. I will be very happy to see that you have become successful."

"Deal!" said Caden. Many words were fused into his complete response.

That belief planted the seeds in Caden's heart, and he vowed to live up to Molly's expectations and be successful in the future. When that time came, Caden would let Molly live a good life at home!

Chapter 882-mood. She was smiling the whole time,' Sean thought and looked at Molly intently.

Seeing that Molly had finally let go of her worries and relaxed her tightly frowned eyebrows, Sean could not help but feel much more at ease.

After the preparations were made, the few began to return to Northfolk.

On the way back, Nathan volunteered and said, "About your adoptive mother's transfer to Northfolk, you can leave it to me if you want to handle her."

Molly was stunned for a moment. She did not expect that Nathan would lend a helping hand.

However, Nathan was right about one thing.

Molly did not want to have direct contact with her adoptive mother.

After all, there was nothing good to say every time they met.

"Alright," said Molly.

Molly hesitated for a short while, then she nodded in agreement.

However, Molly would not let Nathan bear the burden alone, so she added, ' I will trouble you for the transfer to another hospital, but I will pay for the cost of arranging the chemotherapy medicine.' After all, Molly still did not want to owe Nathan too much.

Plus, what Nathan had done to Molly could not be forgiven entirely by showing her kindness once or twice.

Nathan, on the other hand, did not force it.

Nathan knew that Molly was more independent and did not like to depend on others.

In addition to the past events, it was inevitable that Molly had not completely let go, and she refused to bother Nathan much.

Nathan calmly replied, "Okay, I'll respect your decision."

"Thanks," Molly said lightly.

Nathan smiled happily and said, "You're welcome!"

In Nathan's heart, he happily thought, 'This trip is not in vain. At least Molly isn't cold-faced toward me the whole way like before.' At three o'clock in the afternoon, the group returned to Northfolk.

As soon as they entered the house, the three little ones rushed over with their short legs and said, "Daddy, Mommy, you're back!"

Molly squatted down and stroked the children's cheek with a soft smile. She said, "Yes, I'm home now."

"Hooray! By the way, how's Uncle Caden?"

The three little ones remembered to ask about Caden.

Molly replied, "Uncle Caden is fine. He has already gone back to school. You don't need to worry about him."

The three little ones were relieved when they heard that.

"Luckily, Uncle Caden is fine."

Sean's eyes were looking at Molly and her three children gently. He smiled lightly and said nothing.

Sean simply greeted Grandpa Dave, Brycen, and Sawyer.

Brycen and Sawyer saw Nathan silently following behind Molly as though he appeared naturally. They could not help but laugh.

'Looks like Nathan knows how good Molly is now!' Brycen thought.

Brycen was the first to speak. Nathan, thanks for taking care of Molly this time!" Sawyer gently said, "Nathan, thank you for your effort."

Nathan shook his head lightly and said, "It's nothing. I didn't help much.

Besides, I would like to thank Molly for giving me this opportunity."

Nathan's words were spoken with skills. Brycen and Sawyer gave Nathan a thumbs up in their hearts.

'Nathan has finally come to his senses!' Brycen thought.

However, Molly raised her eyebrows and did not react when she heard that.

'Who wouldn't know how to say nice words?' Molly thought.

Molly never looked at what others said but at what others did.

If Nathan wants to make up to Molly, he is still far from success.

Grandpa Dave knew what Molly was thinking, but he did not say anything.

Grandpa Dave kindly asked, "Molly, have you handled everything regarding Caden?"

"Yes, Grandpa. Everything is properly handled." Molly nodded.

"I'm glad to hear that!" said Grandpa Dave, and he nodded relievedly. With a bright smile, Grandpa Dave said to Molly, "Silly girl. You finally came home to rest, but you have been running around for two days. How can your body bear it? In the next few days, just stay home and don't go anywhere."

"But, Grandpa, I'm going back to Xesxia in two days," Molly smiled bitterly.

Molly took the absence leave this time to come back and see her children. She would not stay for too long.

"You are leaving again?" Grandpa Dave asked.

Brycen was not happy, and he persuaded, "Look at you. Why are you in such a hurry to go back to work? Are you worried that your work will run away? You should think more about your health."

Chapter 883-'Yeah, Molly. Don't tire yourself out.'" Sawyer also advised.

The three little ones tugged at the corner of Molly's clothes and softly said, "Mommy, please stay with US more!"

Molly heard the three little ones' voices and suddenly felt reluctant to leave them!

'Fine. It's not a problem to stay for two more days anyway. I'll just stay at home with my family, then,' Molly thought.

Molly smiled gently and said, "Okay, then. I will tell my colleague over there that I won't be back for another few days."

"Yay! You're the best, Mommy!"

The three little ones cheered happily and were about to dance.

Sean's thin lips moved slightly as he felt a little more cheerful.

Then, Molly walked to the window and spoke to her assistant, Lynn, on the phone to inform her that she would stay at home for the next two days and won't be back so soon.

Lynn understood Molly very well and smiled. She said, "Just spend more time with your family, Molly. Leave the research institute to me!"

Molly smiled gracefully and was no longer worried.

"Molly."

At that moment, a slightly cool and manly voice came from behind.

Molly did not know when did Sean come behind her. His thin lips curled into a smile, and his body exuded an elegant and noble aura. He softly asked, "The last time I was not feeling well, you told me that I should not rehabilitate for a period. I wonder if I can resume my rehabilitation now?"

Molly glanced at Sean's handsome face. She felt that her heartbeat seemed to have missed a beat...

'No matter when Sean is always good-looking and attractive,' Molly thought.

Molly hurriedly cleared her throat and reluctantly replied, "I'm not sure. I'll take you to the research institute later and examine you. Only then can I tell you the answer!"

"Okay." Sean had no objection.

"Mommy, we're going too! We want to be with Mommy and Daddy!"

The three little ones were next to Molly, and they overheard her conversation with Sean. They immediately shouted.

Molly could not refuse the three little ones, so she responded with a gentle smile, "Okay, I'll bring the three of you along."

In the afternoon, Molly went to the research institute with Sean and the three little ones.

Tony was driving the car, and the three little ones were sitting in the back seat, chatting and laughing with Sean.

"The puppy in this video is so smart. I want to have one."

"Daddy, this intelligent robot is called Ami. It's a new model designed by a famous designer from Fomanesia."

IV IV Molly heard the three little ones calling Sean “Daddy” sweetly and could not help but remember that the night they just came back, the little ones called Sean “uncle”!

‘It’s only been two days, yet they have become so intimate?’ Molly was amused and did not correct them.

Half an hour later, several people arrived at the research institute halfway up the mountain.

After they entered the institute, Molly examined Sean.

It was almost noon when the results came out. Sean’s leg recovery was much better than before.

Molly could not help but evoke a bright smile. At that moment, she was happy for Sean from the bottom of her heart!

But, that smile was fleeting.

Molly noticed that she got a little carried away, so she coughed slightly, kept calm, and said to Sean, “You’re recovering well, so you can resume your rehabilitation. However, you should pay attention to it. Don’t over-exercise. If you are tired, you can reduce some projects moderately, and don’t be too hard on yourself.

Chapter 884-“Okay.” Sean nodded lightly and took Molly’s words to heart.

“Have a seat. I’ll give you another needle treatment and a massage.” Molly thought for a while and then said softly.

Molly did that because she had not given Sean needle treatment for several days. Sean had a relapse only a few days ago. Molly wished to prevent that from happening again since she would leave soon.

Sean naturally had no objection, so he sat in his wheelchair and watched Molly treat and massage him.

“If you feel any pain, let me know.”

Before Molly began the treatment, she warned Sean carefully with a gentle tone.

Sean still nodded silently.

Although Sean did not talk much, his eyes were full of love when he looked at Molly.

Molly did not realize how affectionate Sean’s eyes were.

Molly skillfully gave Sean the needle treatment and treated his leg injuries like back then.

Each needle fell accurately on Sean’s meridians, and he felt some slight tingling sensations.

Sean just watched Molly treat him. His eyes seemed to be coated with a layer of light. He only looked at her and only wanted to look at her...

The three little ones and Tony were at a side, watching this sweet and beautiful scene.

When Molly placed the needles on Sean, her hair fell slightly, blocking her vision.

When Sean saw it, he gently stretched out his slender fingers and tucked Molly’s long hair behind her ears.

Molly’s delicate face and smooth jawline looked good. It was beautiful and picturesque!

Click!

No one realized that Claudia had taken out her cell phone and taken a picture of that beautiful scene.

The other two little ones looked over their heads one after another, and then their eyes instantly lit up with glittering light.

Alex and Ben felt touched unanimously and said, "Daddy and Mommy are such a perfect match!"

Finally, the treatment was over.

After Molly packed her medical box, she took off her white coat and smiled at the rest. She said, "Done. The examination is over. We can head back now."

"Mommy..." said the three little ones. They were obviously unwilling.

The three little ones recalled that they had not been out shopping for a long time as a family!

'Daddy and Mommy haven't taken US with them for a long time to have a meal or something.

'Since we're out today, why are we rushing back?' The three little ones thought.

Claudia was the cheeky one. She was the first to grab Molly's clothes and softly said, "Mommy, let's not go back, okay? Christmas is around the corner. There are so many beautiful and fun things on the street. Take US around for a walk."

"Yeah, Mommy. There's a new movie in cinema recently. It's a Hollywood sci-fi blockbuster! Let's watch it together! You, Daddy, and US, okay?" Alex and Ben were also looking forward to it.

The three little ones' eyes were like big clear crystals as if he had been holding a bud of tears and was being pitiful.

Molly frowned slightly and could not bear to refuse the children's request.

After all, it had been a long time since Molly took the children out for a walk.

Thinking of that, Molly raised her eyes and looked at Sean. It was as though she wanted to see what was Sean's reaction.

Sean did not refuse or agree. He just looked at Molly with a bit of doubt in his eyes as though he was asking for her opinion.

'To go, or not to go? I will respect her decision!' Sean thought.

"Mommy..."

The three little ones saw Sean and Molly did not respond to them, so they were immediately anxious.

Grabbing the hem of Molly's clothes, they coquettishly said, "Please, Mommy! Please!"

Molly could not resist the children's requests. The sweet and soft voices calling out "Mommy" made Molly's heart soften, and she did not have the heart to refuse them.

Chapter 885-"Alright, I'll take you all out, okay?" said Molly. She was so entangled that she had no choice but to say yes.

"Really? You will bring US to the movies?"

The three little ones looked at Molly with clear, glass-like eyes and were surprised.

Molly caressed the three little ones' heads and smiled happily. "Of course! As long as you want to watch it!"

'Yay, hooray!'

“Mommy is the best in the world!”

“Mommy, we love you so much.”

The three little ones cheered and jumped up and down, hugging Molly’s thigh.

‘These three little babies...’

Molly smiled dotingly, and her mood became much happier as the children cheered.

Then, the three little ones jumped to Tony’s side, clamoring for him to help them buy the movie tickets.

“Uncle Tony, we want to watch the latest Star Trek. Help US buy the tickets, but we will decide on the seats.” The three little ones glanced at Sean and Molly secretly.

The three little ones were going to arrange for Sean and Molly to sit together!

That way, Sean and Molly could have more opportunities to get along. It would also help them reconcile.

Tony was brilliant and was able to read the careful tricks of the three little ones.

It just so happened that Tony also hoped that Sean and Molly could reconcile as soon as possible. That would make the family harmonious.

So, Tony and the three little ones agreed and secretly arranged the seats for Molly and Sean.

Both Molly and Sean were unaware of their plan.

After dinner, they went to the cinema to collect their movie tickets. Then, they bought snacks such as popcorn, chips, and coke. After that, they flashed their tickets to check in one after another.

After entering the movie hall, they began to look for their seats.

At that time, the three little ones took out their movie tickets and said with a smile, "Mommy, you and Daddy are sitting in the fourth row. We and Uncle Tony are sitting two rows behind you."

When Molly heard that, she immediately realized that something was off with the seating.

'Sean and I are sitting in the fourth row, while the three little ones and Tony are sitting in the sixth row?

'The seat distribution is too intentional...' Molly thought.

Molly could not help but glance at the three little ones, but the three little ones hurriedly waved their soft hands and explained innocently before Molly could ask.

The three little ones said, "Mommy, there are no more seats in this hall. The other seats were all sold out. That's all."

"Mommy, you and Daddy, will sit in the front, and we will sit in the back. It's very close anyway..."

"Ms. May, don't worry. I will definitely take care of the young miss and masters!"

Tony made a solemn promise.

Molly was a little dumbfounded.

'Do they really think that I can't see through them? They obviously wanted to bring Sean and me together!

'But, the tickets have been bought, and I couldn't refuse them. Moreover, I didn't want to reject Sean, so I have to agree,' Molly thought.

Soon, Molly pushed Sean to their seats and sat side by side.

Seeing that Molly finally chose to sit beside him, Sean could not help but smile.

Sean's mood was uncontrollably joyful.

At that time, the lights in the movie hall went out, leaving only a huge screen playing various advertisements.

Sean turned slightly and looked at Molly, sitting next to him.

The light from the big screen reflected the woman's moist and bright eyes. Her little nose and thin lips looked extraordinarily delicate and lovely

Chapter 886-Sean could not help but stare at Molly for a while and only turned back slowly after the movie started.

Molly noticed that the man beside her shifted his gaze and felt a little relieved in her heart.

But, Molly pondered in her mind in confusion, 'That's odd. Whenever Sean looked at me, my whole body couldn't help but feel tense.' Molly and Sean restrained their emotions and concentrated on watching the movie.

It was a Hollywood sci-fi film. The scenes and special effects were very realistic. And, the amazing fighting scenes would come to life when the audience put on their 3D glasses!

However, Molly was interested in something other than sci-fi films. She personally preferred to watch suspenseful and logical genres. Thus, she focused on the movie sparingly.

Halfway through, Molly got up and went to the washroom.

When Molly returned, she was worried about blocking other people's sight and affecting others' watching the movie. So, she hunched over and walked toward her seat.

But, the aisle of the hall was too narrow. When Molly was about to reach her seat, she accidentally fell, unaware of whose leg was under her feet!

Sean had paid attention to Molly's actions. Seeing her fall, he immediately stretched out his hands to support her arms.

Molly was caught offguard and fell forward, thinking she would fall badly.

As a result, Molly fell directly on Sean's legs...

"Mommy!"

The three little ones in the backseat saw that and shouted softly.

Tony hurriedly covered the mouths of the three little ones, "Shh! Don't worry.

Your father is there!"

When the three little ones saw that Sean was supporting Molly, they immediately breathed a sigh of relief and felt relieved.

After Molly returned to her senses, she subconsciously wanted to stand up.

Sean immediately supported her waist and tried to help her.

But, when Sean wrapped his arms around Molly's slender waist, the touchy feeling on his hands made him feel a little stunned...

Molly's faint scent from her body came to Sean's nose. It was as if it had a seductive charm that took away his sense of reasoning.

Molly felt a warm force coming from her waist, and when Sean's hand rubbed her waist, Molly's face turned red!

Fortunately, the surrounding was dark, and no one noticed her embarrassment.

But, there was still an audience who were close to being able to see Molly...

The action that Sean was holding Molly's waist was unobstructed!

Molly was shy immediately and hurriedly urged in a low voice, "Sean, y-you can let go of me now!"

Sean did not let go of Molly. His low and manly voice reached her ear and whispered, "What's the hurry? Let me hold you for a while..."

Ever since Sean confessed to being the children's father to Molly, she had kept a distance from him, whether intentionally or not.

Sean had always restrained himself and did not approach Molly because he respected her wishes. He did not want to arouse her disgust.

However, this period was more tormenting than anything for Sean!

There were many times Sean wanted to get closer and closer to Molly, but he could only hold back the thoughts in his heart and told himself to wait.

After Molly accepted him, Sean thought it was not too late to embrace her and kiss her...

But, at that moment, Sean hugged Molly in his arms. That kind of forbearance day and night had turned into an uncontrollable impulse at that moment!

Sean suddenly did not want to let go!

'I'm just holding her for a while. Just for a while...' Sean thought.

Molly also noticed that Sean's strength was very domineering when he held her, and she could not help but struggle.

Molly was like an obedient baby, lying in his arms and motionless.

Molly's heart could not help but tremble!

During the period, although Molly kept a distance from Sean, deep in her heart, she had a lot of nostalgia for this embrace...

Even at the moment when Sean hugged Molly, she was even a little unbearably excited!

Chapter 887-about two minutes later, Sean let go of Molly's waist. She sat back in her seat and took a deep breath...

Both Molly and Sean's hearts were filled with a kind of satisfaction!

The three little ones and Tony were in the back seat. They witnessed the intimate scene between the two and were delighted.

The three little ones would have been happy and applauded on the spot if it was not for the loud noises in the movie hall.

'Daddy is so good! Who can resist that?' 'Plus, Mommy's attitude toward Daddy is getting better and better, and she is no longer resisting Daddy's closeness, The three little ones thought.

That was what the three little ones wanted to see the most! Which was a really good thing!

After a while, the movie was over, and it was getting late. Tony drove everyone back to the villa.

After arriving home, Molly immediately urged the three children warmly, "Go to your room and get your pajamas. It's time to take a shower!" "Okay, Mommy," the three little ones nodded. They turned to look at Sean and waved with a cute smile, "Good night, Daddy!"

A faint warm light appeared in Sean's eyes, and he said, "Good night."

The three little ones ran with their short legs and went upstairs.

After watching the three little ones leave, Sean did not rush to go but sat in the living room and chatted with Grandpa Dave for a while.

Molly had no objection to this. She sat aside with her laptop in her arms and began to check the files sent to her from Xesxia to work on them.

Molly focused on processing the documents, but she did not notice that Sean and Grandpa were all looking at her after chatting for a while.

Grandpa Dave smiled and said, "Sean, Molly is always serious in her relationship. So, your past affairs were a concern to her. For a while, she has had a lot of tempers. Luckily, you were accommodating to her and taking care of her! I sincerely hope that both of you will be well again, and I hope you can continue to take care of her."

“I will, grandpa. Molly is the person I want to take care of for the rest of my life. I will wait for her no matter what.” Sean said without hesitation.

Grandpa Dave was very relieved to see Sean’s firm attitude.

At that moment, a shrill scream came from the guest room on the first floor!

“Ah! Caitlyn, are you trying to kill me?!” Brycen was lying on the bed in his room, screaming repeatedly.

Recently, Caitlyn was in charge of massage and treatment for Brycen at night.

As a result, Caitlyn’s method was too painful for Brycen, and he protested vehemently. He could not help but howl, “Caitlyn, are you a woman? Why are you so rude! I am such a handsome man. If my legs are injured again because of you, you must take the responsibility!”

When Caitlyn heard that, she snorted disdainfully and asked, “Are you even a man? You can’t even bear this pain? Look at Mr. Anderson. His injury was much more serious than yours. Yet, he did not scream in agony.

Why didn’t you learn anything from him?!”

Brycen shouted angrily, “Why are you comparing me to him? Sean is inhuman!”

■pfft... Inhuman?’ Molly thought.

Molly came back to her senses at Brycen’s scream. She could not help but laugh out loud.

Molly looked at Sean beside her.

And, Sean’s eyes just turned around and collided with Molly’s.

Seeing Molly laughing happily, Sean could not help but raise his eyebrows. Then, he raised his voice and lightly said to the room, "Caitlyn, I think you're not using enough force. Use more strength so that he can get well soon."

"Roger that, Mr. Anderson," Caitlyn responded quickly

Chapter 888-Brycen got angry and loudly shouted, "Sean, have I done anything wrong to you? Why do you oppress me?"

Ah-

An even louder scream came from inside the room, causing Grandpa Dave outside to laugh too.

Molly was so amused that she thought, 'Brycen deserves it! No one asked him to have a foul mouth!' Grandpa Dave stroked his beard and said with a peaceful face, "That Brycen is always so inconsiderate. It would be good if someone could treat that boy! Caitlyn is such a good girl."

Molly's eyes were full of smiles, and she agreed, "I know, right? Brycen's temperament has to be suppressed by someone!"

Sean did not comment on anything. He just laughed.

As long as Molly was happy, Sean's mood would be much more relaxed.

After a while, the three little ones all took a shower and returned to their room to sleep.

When it was time for Grandpa Dave to rest, Molly got up and reminded Sean since she had almost finished her work.

"Sean, it's time for you to go back and rest! And Grandpa, it's very late for you to stay up. Go and sleep now."

Sean and Grandpa Dave both nodded in agreement.

Then, Grandpa Dave leaned on his crutch, and Dale helped him up the stairs.

At that moment, Sean said to Molly softly, 'TH head back now.'

Molly met Sean's deep eyes, and she nodded lightly. "Yes."

Then, Molly watched Sean push the wheelchair himself and slowly turn around.

Only then did Molly realize that something was not right!

'Where's Tony? Usually, he would push the wheelchair,' Molly thought.

Molly could not help but frown, and she caught up with Sean and asked, "Where did Tony go?"

Sean looked back at Molly and said, without concealment, "I don't know. Maybe, he's back home? Or, he went back next door."

"Isn't he inseparable from you?" Molly asked.

Molly muttered helplessly and immediately grabbed the handle behind Sean's wheelchair with both hands and said, "Forget it. It's inconvenient for you to go back by yourself. I'll walk you home."

Sean could feel that Molly was worried about him. His heart felt warm, and he nodded, "Okay."

So, Molly personally pushed Sean and walked out of the villa.

Outside the house, the lonely moon hung in the sky.

The moonlight shined on Molly and Sean. The surroundings were tranquil.

The sound of Molly's footsteps and the sliding sound of the wheelchair intersected each other, and the shadows of the two overlapped under the illumination of the lights.

Sean looked at the overlapping shadows on the ground, and a faint smile appeared on the corner of his mouth.

Sean felt good.

Molly did not think much. After she carefully pushed Sean into the villa, she planned to ask the housekeeper to help Sean upstairs.

But, Molly looked around and found that the housekeeper was not there either!

There was not even a single soul in the vast villa!

'Where did everyone go?' Molly thought.

While Molly was thinking about what to do, Sean turned his face slightly and softly said, "Can you help me? I can walk a little now. You can just hold me."

Other than that, there was no other way.

Molly nodded, then she reached out to support Sean so that he could slowly get up from his wheelchair.

The next second, Sean's weight was almost all on her slender body!

Molly's body sank slightly, and then, with some difficulty, she regained her footing. She hugged Sean's waist tightly with both hands and then supported him to return to his room step by step...

Chapter 889-During their interaction, they could feel their body temperatures close to each other's...

At the same time, Sean sensed that Molly did not repel him anymore.

She did not intentionally avoid touching him like before.

His eyes were a lot more gentle suddenly. He was extremely happy!

'At least our relationship is gradually becoming better now. As long as I work harder, maybe the day when we finally make up won't be too far away from now.' But, Molly did not think too much. She was relieved after she helped Sean get on the bed and tucked him in.

She wanted to leave after that.

"Rest well. I should leave now."

She wanted to turn around after saying that.

'Molly.' Suddenly, her wrist was tightly grabbed by a strong force.

Sean was holding Molly's white, soft wrist. He suddenly felt nostalgic and was reluctant to let her leave.

He wanted to spend more time together. Even if it was just a little longer...

But, he did not want to force her to stay. So, after pondering for two seconds, he softly suggested, "You're leaving the day after tomorrow. Why not bring the kids out and play tomorrow? Previously, the triplets said that they wanted to go to the museum with you."

Molly was instantly soft-hearted when she thought about her three little ones.

She completely could not reject it.

She then agreed with a soft grunt. "Alright. I'll bring them there tomorrow." "Can I join you guys?"

Sean asked tentatively.

He mainly wanted to spend more time with Molly and the kids. After all, he could not frequently accompany her after she went to Xesxia.

Molly knew his intention.

She stared at his handsome face, as she considered for two seconds, 'Should I bring him along?' Sean quietly looked at her waiting for her answer.

Molly thought to herself, 'Maybe it'll be more fun if there are more people?

'Moreover, the kids like Sean so much. They'll probably be happier if he could come with US.

'I finally can spend time with my children. Of course, I hope that they can have a good time!' She raised her eyebrows as she thought that. She faintly said, "The kids like you a lot. They'd be happier if you could go."

Although she did not agree directly, reading between the lines, she clearly accepted his request.

Sean suddenly smiled. 'At least she didn't reject me!' "Okay. See you tomorrow," he said gently as he finally let go of her hand.

“See you tomorrow.”

Molly lifted the corners of her lips slightly.

The next morning, Molly told her kids about going to the museum. She also told them that Sean would be joining them.

The triplets were very excited!

They then ran to the mansion next door excitedly. They brought their father over to have breakfast together.

After that, they were ready to go to the museum.

After Brycen knew that they were going out, he was frustrated. He murmured unsatisfyingly, “Molly, I think you don’t see me as your brother anymore. You never ask me to join you whenever you guys go out. You don’t love me anymore!”

Molly grinned. She quickly comforted him, “Next time. We’ll all hang out together next time.”

Brycen frowned. He was still unhappy. “It’s always next time. I want to join you all this time. My sweet sister, can you bring me along? I promise I’ll not bring inconvenience to you!”

“You should stop!”

Caitlyn happened to be coming in the door. She mocked Brycen coldly, ‘ They’re a family of five, and you’re just a single man. Why do you want to join them? You should learn from your younger brother. Focus on your career. You’re always thinking of becoming a third wheel. Don’t you feel ashamed?’

Chapter 890-“Why should I feel ashamed? I’m a good brother who loves his sister!” Brycen refuted unsatisfyingly.

'I've never seen a good brother who'd delay his sister's date," Caitlyn fought back unkindly.

"Caitlyn!" Brycen did not know how to reply to her suddenly.

Everyone else was laughing.

'Sometimes, it's fun to watch them argue!' Molly then helped her kids put on their Pokonyan bag, Donald Duck bag, and Mickey Mouse bag. She then put the water bottles and cameras into their bags. They were ready to leave.

She then waved at her grandfather and her brother. "Brycen, Grandfather, Caitlyn, we're heading out now."

She then got on to Sean's car with her triplets.

They arrived at the museum half an hour later.

Maybe because it was a weekend, there were many people in the museum. It was overcrowded.

Sean was worried that Molly and the kids would feel uncomfortable being crowded. So, he asked them to sit at a shaded place. He then ordered Tony to buy the tickets.

But, Molly did not idly sit by. She went to buy a drink. She then handed the drink to Tony after he came back. "Drink some water!"

"Thank you, Ms. May," Tony quickly thanked her.

After that, they went in the museum.

There were a few large buildings next to the museum, including the Archaeological Museum, History Museum, Art Museum, space Museum, and so on...

The triplets were very interested in all of them. They wanted to visit all the museums.

The first museum they visited was the Art Museum.

There were many artists' swansongs inside the Art Museum. All of them were worth a fortune!

"This painting is so artistic!" The three little ones praised while looking.

They also did not forget to take out their cameras to take pictures. They photographed the paintings that they thought were nice.

Molly also took photos of a few paintings and sent them to Sawyer for him to appreciate them.

Tony pushed Sean to follow Molly and the kids throughout the tour. They were all chatting while walking. It was very enjoyable.

After visiting the Art Museum, they then went to the History Museum. There were many rare antiquities, including jewelry and ancient vases from various dynasties. They were unforgettable.

"Mommy, look. There's a space Museum!"

Suddenly, the kids pointed in a direction not far away while gasping as if they found something amazing.

Molly then looked in the direction where her children pointed. Sure enough, she saw the big words "Space Museum" a short distance away.

"Let's go. I'll bring you guys in!"

Molly then brought her kids into the Space Museum to view the exhibition.

The two boys, Alex and Ben, were especially interested in the Space Museum. They constantly pulled Molly as they passionately said, "Mommy, look. This planet is Pluto. It was one of the nine planets. It was the smallest among them. But, it was excluded from the nine planets subsequently. And this, this is Charon.

Charon is the natural satellite of Pluto..."

The two tirelessly shared their astronomical knowledge with Molly.

Molly was not good at astronomy. So, she could only smile as she complimented, "You two are so knowledgeable. Brilliant!"

"Thank you, mommy."

Alex and Ben grinned from ear to ear.

The corners of Sean's lips lifted unknowingly when he saw that the three of them were having a nice chat. He immediately waved his hand.

Tony went to him instantly. He respectfully asked, "Boss, what's wrong?"

Sean's face was slightly cold as he gave a brief order.

"Alright, boss!" Tony nodded. He then turned around and went outside.
