

Triplets On SM 891

Chapter 891-Molly turned around to look at Sean and Tony. She confusingly glanced at the crowd when she noticed that Tony was not with them. 'Where's Tony?' "He went to the washroom. He'll be back soon," Sean looked gentle as he said.

"Alright."

Molly then stared at Sean. It seemed like she hesitated for two seconds. She walked two steps forward to push Sean's wheelchair as she said, "Let me push your wheelchair so that you won't be left behind."

Sean's eyes turned tender when he saw that Molly was concerned about him. He smiled, "Okay."

After that, Molly personally pushed Sean to move forward as they chatted with their children. They were laughing and talking. The atmosphere was extremely harmonious.

Later that day, they finished visiting the Science and Technology Museum. It was around noon.

They then went to a Michelin restaurant to have a hearty lunch.

After lunch, the triplets still did not want to go home. They wanted to continue visiting the museum.

So, Molly and Sean brought them to the remaining exhibition halls.

The kids were exhausted around late afternoon. They then finally went back to their home.

"Phew, I'm so tired and hungry!"

Alex went to the couch right after he walked in the door. He slumped on the couch sluggishly.

Ben and Claudia lay down on the couch too. They did not have any strength to lift their tiny hands and legs.

Molly could not help but smile when she saw that the triplets were so tired.

She immediately asked the butler, "Dale, is dinner ready?"

"It'll be ready soon, Ms. May."

Molly nodded satisfyingly. She then poured a few glasses of water for her children and Sean as they were waiting for their dinner.

Sean nodded slightly at Tony before he looked at the three little ones as he said, "Alex, Ben, and Claudia, daddy bought you all some presents."

"Presents!"

Even though the triplets were extremely tired before this, they immediately got up and sat upright when they heard what Sean said.

Molly was a little surprised too. 'Why did he suddenly buy them presents?' After that, Tony came through the door from outside with a big, exquisite wooden box. He then put it on the floor in the living room.

The wooden box was inscribed with complex, delicate patterns. The brown wooden box looked especially fancy. It made the things inside the box seem more mysterious.

"Daddy, what's inside?"

Alex pointed at the box as he asked. The other two kids looked curious too.

Sean did not answer him. Tony immediately opened the box when Sean winked at him.

“Wow!”

The triplets had a look inside the box. They covered their small mouths as they exclaimed with joy.

Inside the box were the valuable toys that the triplets liked very much from the Space Museum they visited today!

Space Battleships, space planes, satellite models, and various toy planets...

At that time, the triplets were leaning on the transparent showcase looking at those toys. They stared at them for quite a long time.

But, they knew that most of the stuff inside the Museum could only be looked at and not be bought. So, they did not think of buying them.

Unexpectedly, after Sean saw that, he asked Tony to buy all those toys and wrap them up as gifts for the kids.

Even Molly was shocked.

“These look like the toys from the Museum. You can’t bring them back, isn’t it? How did you get them?”

“I had Tony ask the workers from the museum. And, we got to know that these toys could be bought.

Moreover, they had duplicate toys. So, we bought all of them.”

Sean knew that Molly wanted to say something. So, he immediately gave her a detailed explanation.

Chapter 892-Molly finally knew what actually happened!

'Tony probably went to buy all these toys when I noticed that he suddenly disappeared during the visit to the museum.' She was suddenly surprised.

'I must admit that Sean is indeed very thoughtful toward the kids!' "Daddy, we love you so much!"

Ben was extremely excited. He immediately jumped into Sean's arms. He said in his baby voice sweetly to Sean, "Daddy, are we allowed to take whichever toys we like?"

"Of course. These belong to the three of you."

Sean rubbed his head. His deep eyes were filled with affection.

Ben kissed Sean on his face as he said, "Hooray! Daddy is the best!"

"Thank you, daddy."

Alex said excitedly. He then took the toys out from the box and put them on the coffee table one by one.

All the toys were very cool. The kids liked them very much!

Claudia was a girl. Although she liked astronomy too, she was not very interested in toys like space Battleships. So, she just took an astronaut figurine that was holding a national flag.

The triplets were suddenly over the moon. Their laughter was as crisp as silver bells.

Molly smiled even brighter when she saw her children laughing innocently and naively.

I'm happy as long as my kids are happy!' Unfortunately, time flew when one was having fun.

The next day, Molly woke up at seven in the morning. After she packed her bags, she planned to go to the airport by cab alone to continue working at Xesxia.

Unexpectedly, she saw a Rolls-Royce nicely parked in front of the door just when she left her home.

Tony and Sean waited for her in front of her house early on.

Sean's cold eyes instantly turned warm when he saw Molly walking out. He said to her, "Are you leaving? I'll take you there."

Tony played it by ear. He approached Molly enthusiastically, wanting to help her put her luggage in the car.

"Ms. May, I'll help you with your luggage. You can just get in the car!"

But, Molly frowned. She calmly moved her luggage behind her.

"Wait."

She stared at Sean confusingly. 'Why do I feel like he wants to go to Xesxia with me?' She did not beat around the bush. She straightforwardly asked Sean, "Why are you here waiting for me so early? Are you planning to go to Xesxia with me?"

Sean did not answer her. He thought to himself, 'I can only relax if I can personally escort her to Xesxia.' Molly understood exactly what he wanted to do right away. She immediately stopped him from doing that as she determinedly said, "It's fine. You're in poor health. It'd be very tiring for you to travel back and forth! You don't need to do that. You'd be doing me a favor by resting at home."

Sean did not expect her to reject him so decisively.

But, the reason she rejected him was very heart-warming!

He suddenly lifted his lips as he said, "Alright. I'll just take you to the airport. I'll not accompany you to Xesxia.

But, can you talk to me every day after you're there?"

He asked tentatively. Deep in his heart, he still hoped that he could stay in touch with Molly all the time.

After all, he would have a difficult time if he did not hear from her every day.

Sean would be content as long as she was willing to reply to his messages. Even if it were just simple words like "okay" or "yes".

Luckily, Molly did not reject him this time.

She thought about it seriously. She nodded slightly as she said, "I'll be very busy at work. So, I might not be able to talk to you all the time. But, we can chat when I'm free.

Chapter 893-"Sure."

Molly did not reject him again. She allowed Tony to help her to put the luggage into the trunk. She then got into the car and sat beside Sean.

Sean and Molly did not talk along the way.

After they arrived at the airport, Molly casually waved to say goodbye to Sean. After that, she went through airport security before she got onto the plane.

But, after the plane took off, she felt inexplicably empty.

In fact, during this period, Molly could feel that the resentment she had toward the incident that happened in the past had greatly faded. And, she had become more soft-hearted gradually.

After all, she could not let go of Sean!

She would practically care about Sean out of instinct. She would worry about him, miss him, and constantly worried about his health.

She knew that the feelings she had for him were greater than the resentment she had!

Meanwhile, Tony was pushing Sean as they left the airport.

While he was driving back to the office, he sadly lamented, "Boss, don't you think it's a pity? I thought you two would talk things out when she came back this time. But, that didn't happen in the end..."

'I really don't know what my boss and Ms. May are thinking. It's been so awkward for so long. And yet, they still haven't reconciled.

'Even as an outsider, I feel heart-wrenching!

'They clearly love each other. What's the problem? Why can't they just talk things out?' Sean did not agree with what his assistant said. He even thought, 'That was actually kind of nice.

'Since she needs a breather, I'll wait for her. No rush!

'Besides, my heart and I belong to Molly. I'll never give up as long as I live.

'And since waiting is inevitable, why should I bother how long it'll take?' Half an hour later, Sean arrived at the Anderson Corporation. He then started working.

He looked noble and ascetic when he worked. His temperament was unconventional as though he was a saint from heaven. It made the others respect him!

While he was working, Tony knocked on his door. He then respectfully said, "Boss."

"Come on in." Sean did not even raise his eyebrows.

Tony then came through the door after hearing that. He immediately reported as he bowed his head, "Boss, I found out the group of people who spread the rumor when your kids' identities were exposed.

"At first, someone exposed Ms. May's identity to the media through an anonymous email defaming Ms. May for giving birth before marriage. After that, someone hired trolls to secretly promote public opinions on that matter. Only then, the identities of the triplets were exposed!"

After hearing that, Sean suddenly stopped signing the document.

His handsome face looked cold.

"So, what you meant is that other than the two media that went bankrupt, someone else pulled strings?"

Tony shuddered at Sean's cold temperament. He quickly nodded, "Yes.

'That's right. I also found out who is the person that secretly manipulated public opinion. His name is Trevor Cooke. He hired the trolls... But, I only know about his name. I still haven't finished checking his background."

Sean furrowed his eyebrows tightly. He coldly urged, "Look into it immediately!

"Report back to me after you check his background. I'll deal with it personally."

There was a certain chilly enmity in his last sentence.

Tony did not dare to waste time. He instantly nodded, "Okay, boss!"

Chapter 894-After telling Tony what to do, Sean summoned all the senior executives for a meeting.

During the meeting, Sean sat in the CEO's seat. He gently rubbed his temple with his long fingers as he listened closely to his workers expressing their opinions on the company's latest investment project. He then commented on their opinions one by one.

Sean was always calm and objective when he was giving comments. But, he was extremely sharp and incisive when he questioned their opinions!

It made those arrogant long-term employees blush with shame!

And, in the end, Sean could always find the best quality solution in the shortest possible time. Everyone was impressed.

After the meeting ended, Tony pushed Sean back to his office.

When he returned to his desk, he thought of Molly when he suddenly glanced at the potted plant on the table.

'That girl once seriously told me that sitting in front of the computer for a long time would affect a person's health negatively due to the computer radiation.

'Therefore, she specifically bought me a potted plant. So that I could look at it when I was tired from working to relieve the vision fatigue.' As he thought about that, a gentle smile appeared on Sean's cold but handsome face.

He immediately took out his phone to send Molly a message. [My meeting just ended. Have you arrived in Xesxia?] [Yes.] Molly just got back to her little apartment and unpacked. She was ready to go to the research laboratory.

She then opened her phone camera to take a video of her surroundings. She wanted to send it to Sean to show him that she was on her way to the research laboratory.

But, just when she wanted to send it, she hesitated. She decided not to send it.

'My day-to-day routine is too trivial for him.

'He's very busy. He doesn't need to waste his time to watch this...' Sean gave a broader grin when he saw her reply to his message almost instantly. He then immediately sent her a voice message.

"Take good care of yourself when you're there. Remember to rest, and don't knock yourself out! Otherwise, I'll be so worried about you that I'll go find you."

Molly tried hard not to smile after she heard that. Happiness glowed inside her as she lifted the corners of her mouth.

She then obediently replied to him right away, "Alright. Got it."

"Okay. Remember to have your meal."

Their conversation ended.

Although their conversation was short, Sean could imagine her current state by looking at their chat. He could not help but feel warm.

"Knock! Knock! Knock!"

Suddenly, someone knocked on the door a few times.

Sean then subconsciously locked his phone screen. His face instantly became cold again, and he said, "Come in."

Tony opened the door as he gently reported, "Boss! Ms. Herring is here."

"Mr. Anderson."

A sweet, tender voice could then be heard. Joelle walked forward from behind Tony.

She was wearing a blue dress. Her temperament was graceful and gentle. Her make-up was light and exquisite. She looked elegant and gorgeous in her pale pink lipstick.

Although her eyes were smiling, they looked canny.

Joelle's eyes were almost instantly filled with love the moment she saw Sean. And, the love in her eyes grew stronger every second.

She had not seen Sean for quite some time, so she missed him very much...

But, of course, she was secretly tracking Molly and Sean's move.

After she knew that there seemed to be a problem between them and that Molly left Northfolk to go to Xesxia, she thought that she might still have a chance!

So, after the cooperation project between the Herring family and the Anderson family officially proceeded, she immediately came to find Sean with the planning scheme personally.

And, before coming, she deliberately looked for a famous makeup artist to help her do an innocent but sexy makeup look.

'I heard that men like that...

Chapter 895-Unexpectedly, Sean only swept his glance across Joelle coldly when he saw her.

'Ms. Herring, how can I help you?' Sean could not sound any more indifferent than that!

Joelle's face froze as she felt a little defeated inside.

However, she recollected herself very quickly. She took a few steps forward while holding the proposal with a big smile on her face.

'Mr. Anderson, I've drafted a proposal for the project we're working on. I came here to pass it to you so you can have a look.'

Joelle handed the proposal over with both hands to Sean as she said that.

'Thanks!' Sean said politely as he took the proposal from her. Then, he told Tony, 'Get Ms. Herring a cup of tea.'

'Yes, boss.'

Tony immediately offered Joelle to sit on the couch before serving her a cup of tea.

Joelle thanked him, but she did not sip the tea right away. Instead, she threw an expectant look right at Sean.

The man looked very elegant, classy, and charming while studying the proposal...

She just could not get her eyes off him!

Joelle could not help but clench the corner of her skirt when she thought of how she was going to talk and communicate with Sean face to face. She felt a little excited and nervous that she got to close the gap between them.

However, Sean's face darkened after looking at the proposal. It was completely out of her expectation!

The Anderson family had never been interested in small businesses. The project that they were working on with the Herring family was worth at least more than one billion.

But, the proposal Joelle just gave him was written as though a kid was playing house. The cost development, budget estimation, and publicity channels were simply terrible!

And, Sean had always been very strict with his work, so he did not hold back.

He directly criticized every weakness that the proposal had to Joelle.

"Ms. Herring, I know the Herring Group isn't the best enterprise out there, but it doesn't mean that you should come up with a proposal of such standard."

'What...'

Joelle was confused. Then, she asked diffidently, 'Is there anything wrong with the proposal?' 'I gathered all the elites in the office to work on this proposal together. How could it be rejected just like that? That's impossible!' However, what Sean said next shocked her.

'Not only is something wrong with this proposal, but it's also completely unacceptable!'

Sean looked emotionless as he criticized every flaw of the proposal harshly. "First, the development pipeline and budget estimation of this proposal are totally irrelevant. Second, the profit projection does not justify the budget at all. Also...

“In short, this project will fail if we were to adopt this proposal. There’s no profit at all, and the Anderson Corporation would never agree to a deal like this.”

Sean gave her a simple yet straightforward conclusion after criticizing the proposal.

Joelle was shocked. She did not expect that the effort of all the elites in her company would be so worthless to Sean.

She looked a little embarrassed, but she was still smart enough not to question Sean’s business knowledge.

So, she stood up, bowed her head down, and apologetically said, “I’m sorry, Mr. Anderson. I didn’t notice that there were so many mistakes in this proposal. I’ll go back and conduct a meeting right away to rectify them before I come back here again!”

Then, she left hurriedly.

Chapter 896-Joelle felt extremely devastated as soon as she left the Anderson Corporation.

Her visit to the Anderson Corporation was a bust.

She imagined that Sean would have a nice talk with her while sitting across from her, but none of that happened!

She even felt like she was a clown!

‘Damn it.

‘The staff can’t draft a proposal correctly. What am I even paying these failures for?!

I'm going to cut all of their pay when I get back!' Her phone suddenly rang when she was still getting mad over what happened!

Joelle took her phone out and saw the name "Trevor Cooke". She was shocked. Then, she went to a dark corner and answered the call after looking around to make sure that there was no one around.

"Hello? Didn't I tell you not to call me when there's nothing important?"

She asked angrily.

She thought that the deal between them had ended, and she was almost certain that something bad had happened now that he called her.

As expected, Trevor responded anxiously on the other side of the phone." Ms.

Herring, someone's coming after me!

"The company that I paid to hire the paid posters from just told me that they gave my name away. What should I do?"

Trevor said while his voice slightly trembled in fear.

The expression on Joelle's face immediately changed after hearing that!

This was because there were some people passing by around her. She tried her best to suppress her anger and asked, "How did that happen?"

Didn't I tell you to be more careful?"

"I did, but I have no idea what went wrong. 1-1..."

Trevor was so anxious that he started to stutter.

“Whatever!”

Joelle gritted her teeth angrily as fury vibrated through her being. She dressed very elegantly, but it could not stop her rage from overwhelming her.

She did not want to dwell on the cause of the issue now that Trevor was already exposed.

Her gaze turned ruthless as she coldly asked, “I remember I told you what to do if you were exposed, didn’t I?”

Trevor shook fearfully after hearing the sudden change in Joelle’s tone. He felt like she was not talking to a human being, but rather, the devil.

He immediately stopped defending himself and replied, “Ms. Herring, I know what I should do now!”

Joelle scoffed approvingly and she hung up the phone.

However, she could not help but clench her fingers.

Obviously, Sean was the one who tried to find out who Trevor was. After all, he was the only one who would go this far to protect Molly.

However, she just could not understand what was so good about Molly.

‘What did she do to make Sean so obsessed with her?’

‘She even managed to be the mother of his children!’

'No... I cant just sit back and do nothing!

'It looks like I should come up with a better plan if I want to take her down.' Molly started making herself busy as soon as she got back to the laboratory.

Lynn had made some progress in their research with the team under Molly's guidance even though she was not there.

A satisfied smile appeared on Molly's pretty face after she reviewed their progress. "Not bad."

"Thank you, Ms. May!"

Lynn answered sweetly.

Molly smiled and calmly said, ' Don't celebrate too soon. The project we're working on with Xesxia University is very important. This is just the first prototype we developed, and there are still many experiments to come!

We mustn't rest on our oars."

"Yes, Ms. May."

Lynn nodded but still looked very happy.

She admired Molly so much as she thought to herself, 'Ms. May is just so polite, gentle, and coquettish, yet she feels just like a big lady boss to me.

'She's smart, sharp, and very decisive!

'She's literally my idol!'

Chapter 897-Northfolk, in the Anderson Residence.

"Are you sure? Ms. May has left Northfolk?" Alice asked on the phone while wearing a luxury fox fur coat over her as she sat on the grand mink velvet elegantly.

"Yes, ma'am," The person on the phone quickly answered.

A joyous smile immediately appeared on Alice's fair and spotless face.

Alice had been secretly observing her future daughter-in-law's whereabouts these days.

Alice and Ricky would go to the triplets' school almost every day when Molly left for Xesxia.

She would be flabbergasted with joy whenever she had the time to spend with the triplets.

The triplets were her precious babies!

However, Alice would not show up in front of the triplets when Molly was back in town.

After all, Sean and Molly were going through an awkward phase!

She did not dare to bother the triplets and upset her future daughter-in-law if she found out about it!

So, she was tempted to go see the triplets again now that Molly had left.

Alice smiled gleefully as she walked to the study room after hanging up before she said to her husband, who was reading a book, "Ricky, Molly has left Northfolk. Should we visit our grandchildren in the afternoon?"

Ricky heard what Alice said and swept his glance across his wife, who was standing at the door. Then, he said dotingly with a helpless smile, "Sigh! You don't even bother to see your friends and do facials now. The triplets are the only thing you care about."

"In my opinion, there's no need for you to be so hasty. The triplets will officially be our grandchildren in just a matter of time, isn't it? It would be the same for you to love them later."

Ricky loved the triplets very much too.

However, he was very confident that the triplets would return to the Anderson family sooner or later because they were Sean's biological children.

They had all the time in the world to love the triplets and he thought that there was no need to rush things at all.

"Sigh! What do you know?!"

Alice put her hand over her chest and explained after seeing how passionless her husband was, "I'd feel uneasy whenever I don't get to see the triplets."

However, my heart would be at ease and a lot more relieved after I see them!' Alice felt like she was talking to a wall after looking at how unresponsive Ricky was.

She did not bother talking to Ricky anymore as she waved her hand and said, "Whatever. I don't expect much from men anyway. That's all I want to say. Come with me to visit the triplets later."

Alice went downstairs happily after that.

Ricky shook his head and sighed. He had no idea what to do with his wife's attitude.

In the afternoon, Ricky and Alice went to the triplets' school with a lot of snacks.

“Grandpa, Grandma! You’re here!”

The triplets’ shouted very sweetly as though they had just swallowed a jar of honey when they saw Alice and Ricky.

‘My babies!’ Alice’s heart melted as soon as she saw the triplets. She wished that she could bring the triplets home and spoil them with everything possible. She just wanted them to have the best things!

Some time later, Sean came to the school to pick up the triplets, and he bumped right into his parents.

“Mom, dad, you’re here too,” he greeted them politely.

Alice and Ricky held the triplets’ tiny hands and happily said, “I heard that Molly left, so we came to visit the triplets. Let’s go home, babies!”

“Sure!” The triplets skipped along and went up the car.

Alice, Ricky, and Sean followed behind them.

In the car, Alice held the triplets in her arms and chatted with them. She felt like her feet could barely touch the ground.

Then, she turned to his son and concernedly asked, “Sean, have things gotten better between you and Molly?”

Chapter 898-Alice and Ricky would be able to take the triplets home without having to hide anything if Sean reconciled with Molly.

So, Alice was very concerned about Sean’s relationship with Molly.

However, Sean shook his head indifferently and explained, "Mom, dad, I'm still working on it. I guess I need more time." "Okay, then."

Alice felt a little devastated, but she did not blame Sean for anything.

She knew very well that Molly had gone through too many hurtful and unpleasant things in her life. The things that people said about her and how her family abandoned her were just terrible.

It was just difficult for her to let things go.

'However, that needed to be fixed,' Alice thought to herself.

'We're family, and we've got to live like one.' "Sean, how about this?"

Alice could not help but give Sean a suggestion after thinking it through. ' Why don't you bring Molly to see US the next time she returns? Your father and I can express ourselves to show that we welcome her into the Anderson family and that we're going to treat her and the triplets really well. Also, we can pick a date for your marriage with her too! Perhaps she'll feel more secure this way."

Even though that was what Alice said, she had a different intention.

She wanted to officially make Molly a part of the Anderson family with the marriage.

So, she would have the right to take the triplets away from her.

Sean was a smart man. There was just no way he could not know what his parents were trying to do.

However, he did not want to force Molly into anything, so he calmly replied, "Dad, mom, let me worry about that.

'I want Molly to come back to me willingly. This is the only way she can ditch all her psychological burden and genuinely accept the things I do for her.'

Alice and Ricky went silent after hearing that.

'Sean's right. Love can't be forced. They won't be happy anyway if Molly doesn't love him wholeheartedly.'

'Molly has got to get over what happened that night if she wants to spend the rest of her life with Sean happily.' Alice could only nod and helplessly say even though she was very reluctant, "Okay, then. Just do whatever you need to since you already have a plan."

"After all, your dad and I will support whatever decision you make! We can do anything to compensate her if she would just forgive you and US."

Alice and Ricky figured it out thoroughly. An independent and uncompromising woman who could not be manipulated by money was a rare gem.

Not only that she was a woman of principles, but she also gave birth to three sensible and adorable kids for the Anderson family!

Alice just could not let a perfect daughter-in-law like her slip away!

Alex, who was lying in his grandparents' arms, looked at Sean. Then, he clenched his fist and encouraged Sean, "Daddy, just try harder. I'm sure that you can change mommy's mind soon!"

Ben nodded like a wise old man. "He's right. It's obvious that mommy is starting to treat you a lot better when we went out that day!"

Claudia buried her head into Sean's arms and cheekily said, "Daddy, you've got to be more confident! Even I can tell that you have a special place in mommy's heart. She only didn't reconcile with you because she was too busy. You've got to wait for her! Don't give up now. I'm sure that things will work out soon!"

The triplets were very supportive of Sean winning their mommy back

Chapter 899-Indeed, Molly started to treat Sean a lot better compared to before.

The triplets believed that victory would be right up ahead if Sean persisted!

Sean looked down at the triplets' chubby cheeks and chuckled. Then, he lazily said, "Okay. I'll listen to you guys. I will do my best and not give up."

Molly had already been in Xesxia for two days before she realized it.

She concentrated fully on her work, and she was not in the mood to think of anything else.

The research project, Reagent One, that she was working on with Xesxia University had gone into the experimental stage, and the experiment result turned out decent!

Xesxia University intentionally sent a virology professor over to check on the result.

The professor's name was Wayne Harrison. He was a very experienced virologist, and he had also published several outstanding theses. Wayne was highly recognized in the field.

He was also the role model for many virology students!

Besides, he was the representative of Xesxia to be responsible for this project, so Molly very humbly welcomed him.

His impression of Molly changed completely after looking at the experiment's result.

Wayne initially thought that Molly would not be able to do anything impressive since she was just a young lady in her twenties.

However, he did not expect that Reagent One to perform so well at all!

Wayne was overwhelmed as he praised Molly. "Ms. May, you really do live up to your reputation. How did you come up with such a perfect solution? To be honest, we tried to develop something like this too, but its efficacy was nothing compared to yours! Ms. May, I'm really impressed."

"You're too kind!"

Molly did not see that coming as she felt a little shy. Then, she smiled humbly and said, "Actually, I couldn't have done this without the help of my team."

Reagent One is the result of all my team members' effort, so all of them deserve the credit too." "You're right!"

Molly was even more humble than Wayne had expected her to be, so Wayne liked her even more.

Then, he politely suggested, "Since Reagent One did so well, Ms. May, Xesxia University will probably plan to start working on Reagent Two with you soon."

"Sure." Molly smiled faintly and spoke.

"Also, Ms. May, I wonder if you'd be interested to be a guest lecturer for a class at Xesxia University?"

Wayne asked Molly out of the blue.

Molly was shocked.

Then, Wayne smiled and tried to convince her, “Ms. May, I think that you’re very capable, so I would like you to be our students’ lecturer for a day. That way, those insolent brats would open their eyes and see what a great virologist looks like!”

“But, my words are probably not very convincing to your students, right?” Molly asked awkwardly.

She thought that she was still very young and that she did not have many credibilities. Even though she achieved something in the field, she did not think that she was qualified enough to be a teacher.

However, Wayne shook his head and perversely said, “Ms. May, you don’t have to worry about that at all! The lecturers at Xesxia University are too old for the students, and they even think that our mindsets are outdated!

They need someone younger to be their role model and their motivation. Otherwise, those kids are going to be done for.”

Wayne looked very earnest as he said that.

Molly could tell that Wayne genuinely wanted the best for his students, and that was why he invited her to be a guest lecturer.

Chapter 900-‘What’s the harm in helping him if that’s what he wants?’ Molly thought to herself.

A faint smile flashed across Molly’s beautiful face as she nodded, “Sure. I’ll be a guest lecturer for a class at Xesxia University, then.

“However, we’re understaffed here at the laboratory, and they’ll be a lot more experiments to come. So, I would need more talents to join my team.

I hope that Xesxia University would be generous and provide me with some excellent students to help me.” “Of course!”

Wayne laughed before he continued excitedly, “I’ve got to attend your class when that day comes to expand my knowledge!”

“You’re too kind with your words.”

In the evening, Molly received Sean’s text message as usual.

[Have you eaten? It’s going to be cold tonight. Remember to wear more clothes.] The man’s text felt as warm as the sun in winter.

Molly did not realize that a smile had appeared on her face when she read the text.

Then, she replied: [I just got off work, and I’ll cook something to eat when I get back. I’m wearing a down coat. I feel pretty warm. Don’t worry.] [That’s great! Don’t overwork yourself. I’ll be worried about you.] Sean replied almost instantly.

Molly’s contentment warmed her from within after reading Sean’s text.

Then, she replied: [Okay. I got it.] She hesitated for a few seconds after that. She did not know if she should tell Sean about Wayne asking her to be a guest lecturer at Xesxia University. Molly was a little worried that she would not do well in the class...

However, Sean was a well-known entrepreneur, and he had given big talks that gained a lot of traction!

‘Would it help me if I asked him for some tips?’ Molly had made up her mind as she thought about that. She switched on the voice message function and told everything about accepting Wayne’s offer to be a guest lecturer at Xesxia University before she nervously asked, “Sean, I’ve never given a lecture before. What do you think it’s like? Are they going to make fun of me if I did badly?”

Sean smiled gently after looking at the voice messages that Molly had sent him.

Then, he played them one after another.

A very attractive smile appeared on his face as soon as he heard Molly asking for his advice prudently.

Then, Sean patiently consoled her, “Don’t worry. Your level of expertise is way higher than a university lecturer. There’s nothing for a capable person like you to be afraid of.

“The only thing that I’m concerned about is your health. You’re probably feeling very tired after working so hard every day, right?”

Undeniably, Sean’s words of encouragement gave Molly a lot of confidence.

Molly thought to herself, ‘I started from having zero knowledge in virology to where I am today.

‘Even though I don’t have any superpowers, I’m pretty experienced and good at conducting experiments!

‘I guess I should just share my insights with the students.’ Molly felt a lot better after that.

Then, she picked up her phone subconsciously and sent Sean another voice message while speaking softly, “I don’t feel very tired, but I think I feel very contented and happy living like this! So you don’t have to worry about me. You should focus on yourself instead. Remember to train yourself adequately and not hurt yourself!

Be safe.”

Sean felt a little puzzled after listening to that.

‘Why does Molly sound like she’s getting a little softer on me?’
