

Triplets On SM 921

Chapter 921-Lynn was watching at the side and chuckled. She sized Cody up and down and teased, "Looks this is one of Molly's fans. He's quite handsome."

Cody immediately blushed at those words.

He had never heard someone say such words. The words caused his ears to turn red as well. He just wanted to bury himself in a hole.

When Lynn saw how smart Cody looked and was even blushing, she quickly felt that he was really cute.

This caused her to want to tease him even more.

However, before she could say anything, Molly interrupted her with a smile. "Alright Lynn, stop teasing him.

Cody's a good student and can't stand your teasing."

With that, she took the notebook in Laila's hand and signed on one of the pages before handing it to Cody.

"Here you go."

Cody's eyes lit up and immediately took the signature with both hands. He then said in a trembling voice, "Thank you, Dr. Joye!"

"You're welcome." Molly smiled and placed the lid back on the pen. She then handed the pen to Laila and said, "However, since you've got my signature, you need to answer my question in class."

"Dr. Joye, are you going back to school to teach lessons?"

Laila, who was standing beside Molly, raised her voice when she heard what Molly said.

Molly nodded and said honestly, "Yes, I've already promised Prof. Harrison to stay in Xesxia University for half a semester as a professor. You will be able to see me every week in your lectures."

Laila and Mario both became excited and said, "Dr. Joye, everyone will be overjoyed if you're willing to come back to teach US."

"Looks like the school is very capable. They know to keep Miss Joye. We have something to look forward to now."

Cody felt very happy deep down as well, but he wasn't as excited as Laila and Mario.

He looked at Molly and said seriously, "Dr. Joye, I will definitely put a lot of effort in my studies."

"Okay." Molly smiled.

Soon the development of Reagent Two and Reagent Three of the research laboratory was sped up.

Besides the work of the research laboratory, Molly would hold lectures at the university every Wednesday and Friday.

She was absolutely occupied every single day.

From the looks of it, it was obviously unlikely for her to go back to Northfolk anytime soon.

Due to not being able to see Molly for a long period of time, the three children in Northfolk began to miss her quite a lot.

They would count the days on the calendar every day and were frustrated.

They had no idea when would they be able to see their mommy again.

They really missed their mommy.

“Alex, look! It’s almost Christmas, can we go find Mommy?” shouted Claudia when she suddenly realized something when all three of them were staring at the calendar in a daze.

Alex and Ben looked at the calendar. Their eyes immediately lit up.

They soon realized that it would be Christmas in a few days.

They had always been by Molly’s side during Christmas for the past few years.

Alex quickly packed up the tablet and walked outside. “Let’s go find Daddy. Let’s get Daddy to take US to Mommy so that we can be with Mommy for Christmas.”

“Wait!”

When Brycen saw the three children headed outside, he quickly stopped them and pleaded with a soft voice, “Kids, if you’re going to find your mommy, can you take me with you? I want to be with you for Christmas as well.”

“Well...”

When the children heard those words, they became a little hesitant and looked at each other.

The next second, the three children said in unison, “No way!”

“Haha!” Caitlyn immediately laughed and gave the three children a thumbs up

Chapter 922-The three little ones quickly ran to the adjoining villa and found Sean in the study.

“Daddy, it will be Christmas in two days. Could you take US to find Mommy? We used to spend every Christmas with Mommy.” Ben held the corner of Sean’s clothes and requested.

Claudia shook her two beautiful little pigtails and spoke with a serious expression, “Daddy, we can go to find Mommy secretly at that time and prepare a surprise for her...”

Alex opened the tablet and was ready to book the flight, “Daddy, shall we fly the day after tomorrow or three days from now?”

The three little ones had already made up their minds.

They must go to find Mommy!

If Daddy had not agreed, they would have gone by themselves.

But how could Sean not understand their minds?

These little guys were children of action. If he had not agreed, they would probably sneak off to Xesxia.

Besides, they had indeed not seen Molly for a long time, so it was inevitable that they would miss their mom.

Thinking of this, Sean reached out and touched their heads, smiling gently,”

Okay, Daddy will take you to find Mommy the day after tomorrow and give her a surprise.”

‘Yeah!’

Hearing this, the kids immediately jumped up and circled with excitement.

“We can go to find Mommy!” They shouted happily.

Sean looked at the three active kids with a gentle gaze, feeling that the whole world was lit up by their smiles.

The second time Molly went to Xesxia University for the class was the day before Christmas, which was Christmas Eve.

Just like last time, she taught in the largest classroom in the department.

But this time, there were obviously more students than the last time!

Originally there were a little over 300 seats, but now nearly 400 people were here!

Everyone was crowded together like ants, and from time to time there was someone exclaimed, ‘You stood on my toe!’ “Move over! I’m going to fall on the ground!”

Molly shook her head, only to feel amused.

She teased into the microphone, “Although I’m very happy to be welcomed, are you sure it’s okay to be crowded like this?

‘The one at the back, if I’m not mistaken, is Professor Harrison? Why are you sitting on the desk?’

“Hah hah!”

Everyone burst into laughter and looked at Wayne in unison.

Wayne pushed his glasses, felt a little embarrassed but still forced a smile, 'That's okay. I have a good view while sitting here. Don't worry about me, Dr. Joye.'

Molly shrugged, pretending to be disgruntled, 'I'm not worried about you. I'm just worried about the students behind you. You will block their views so they cannot see the blackboard.'

"Hah hah hah hah!" The laughter was even louder than just now.

"Okay, you're right." Wayne also laughed and became even more embarrassed. He hurriedly moved down from the desk, then stood there awkwardly, not knowing where to go.

Molly definitely would not let him just stand there. She said with a smile, "If you don't mind, Professor Harrison, you can come here and sit next to me. There is still a place on the podium."

"Okay!"

Wayne immediately dragged his chair to the podium without any hesitation.

The laughter was overwhelming, and then gradually began to calm down.

Seeing the atmosphere was almost active, Molly turned on the projector and laptop and started the class.

Chapter 923-Practice made perfect. With the previous experience, this time, she was in better control of her lessons.

It was easy for her to motivate the entire class.

The odd jokes would make everyone laugh.

There were times where Molly would talk about her own experience. The students would then listen to her carefully and remain silent.

Wayne was gobsmacked.

Such an atmosphere in class meant that Molly was acting like a senior lecturer. This was something he had never seen before.

He quickly used a notepad to record the techniques Molly used in class. Such techniques would come in handy in the future.

As for Cody, Mario and Laila, they were all very cooperating with Molly.

Whenever Molly asked a question, the three of them would raise their hands to answer.

Amongst the three of them, Cody would be able to say all the correct answers to a multi-answer question.

He wasn't giving other students a chance at all.

He was acting like a real smart ass.

Molly could only smile and complimented, "Cody is performing very well today; everyone should look up to him. You can all improve together."

Cody's heart was beating wildly. It was as if his heart would burst out of his chest at any moment.

Normally, Cody would get good grades in class, but he wouldn't take the initiative to answer questions in class. He would just be a smart ass quietly.

The reason that Cody would stand up and answer questions because he liked the feeling of being complimented by his goddess.

The lecture ended an hour later.

Molly had been talking throughout the lecture and she was feeling very thirsty.

She opened a bottle of water and took a sip.

What she didn't expect at that moment was that a group of students rushed on stage and gave her a bunch of Christmas presents and snacks.

"Miss, happy Christmas Eve! Merry Christmas!" all the students shouted in unison. They all had big smiles on their faces.

Molly was taken aback. She felt confused and asked, "Is it Christmas Eve today?"

The students giggled. "That's right. These are Christmas presents."

After saying that, all the students rushed out of the room.

"Hey, wait! I can accept the cupcakes and snacks, but you have to take the presents back!" Molly shouted desperately.

However, the students didn't look back at all. All of them left the room in a matter of seconds.

Molly looked at the giant pile of snacks, some of them even fell off the table due to the fact that there were too many...

Molly didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

She had been too busy lately and had forgotten about Christmas Eve, but the students remembered which day it was and had specially prepared presents for her.

To Molly, the students acted like people their age and were really cute.

However, at the moment, it was unlikely to give the presents back to the students.

All Molly could do was to call Cody, Laila and the others to help her move the things to her office and share the things evenly with other teachers.

Within the office, the teachers saw Molly and the others arriving back in the office. They all couldn't help but say, "Dr. Joye, the students love you so much!"

The other teachers only received three or four presents, but Molly's alone was a lot more times more than the presents they received.

A lot of the teachers in the office were envious of Molly, but they didn't show it. After all, Molly had a strong attractive aura. It was normal she was favored by the students.

Not only the students liked Molly, the teachers liked Molly as well.

She had become a famous doctor at a very young age; she was very capable and had a good temper. Not to mention, she wasn't arrogant at all and treated everyone nicely.

Who wouldn't like Molly?

Chapter 924-Molly didn't think much. She enthusiastically distributed the snacks to the teachers, Cody, and the others.

As for the gifts from the students, she accepted some cheap flowers and so on.

But some students gave expensive gifts, so Molly asked Wayne to return the gifts to them.

After all, they were still students spending their parents' money, and they were not rich, so how could she take these valuable things from them?

In the end, she just took a cupcake and planned to leave.

“Wait a minute, Dr. May. There are quite a few letters here that the students wrote to you. Why not take them back with you?”

Wayne pulled Molly before she left and said that.

Only then did Molly realize that the students were so thoughtful that they had written her a lot of letters.

She had to accept these sincere gifts, so she put them in her bag and took them back.

When she arrived home, Molly opened the door with her key, hung her bag on the coat rack by the door, and then stretched.

She didn't find anything wrong.

Then she turned back into the living room and flicked the lights on. She was shocked by what had suddenly appeared in front of her.

On the dining table, there were a few lit white candles and a sumptuous meal.

Turkey, chocolates, flowers, red wine, steaming hot steaks...

Molly was stunned.

What was going on?

Was there a burglar who loved cooking in the house?

Just as she was thinking, the three little ones suddenly jumped up from behind the sofa and called out in childish voices, "Mommy, happy Christmas Eve!"

Molly's eyes widened in surprise. "Alex, Ben, Claudia, what are you doing here?"

"We came to spend Christmas with you!"

The three chubby little ones said happily, immediately ran towards Molly, and hugged Molly with their plump small hands.

Mommy smelt so good. They loved it.

"Mommy, we missed you so much. We finally see you."

For a long time, they had not hugged their mommy like this. The three little ones all pouted at Molly.

Molly held the three kids in her arms tightly, rubbed their little heads, and smiled, "I missed you too. It's great to see you. Did your uncle bring you here?"

The three little guys shook their heads in unison and said with sweet smiles, "Mommy, Daddy brought US here! Look over there."

As soon as the words came out, Tony pushed Sean out of a dark corner.

At this time, the candlelight swayed, shining on Sean's handsome face, making him even more elegant.

Molly glanced at Sean. Her heart thumped and missed a beat...

Molly and Sean smiled affectionately at each other for a while.

It was as if they had already been together for many years.

Grrrr...

Suddenly, the children's stomachs growled.

Alex rubbed his belly, leaned close to Molly, and said, "Mommy, I'm hungry." Ben muttered, "I'm hungry too. We boarded the plane in the morning and didn't even eat at noon."

"Mommy, I want to eat a drumstick..."

Claudia looked greedily at the turkey on the table, almost drooling.

Molly smiled and quickly took their chubby little hands. "Come on. I will take you to wash your hands before dinner."

"Okay!"

The three little ones were so happy that they were bouncing up and down as they walked.

They were excited to be with their mommy.

Chapter 925-After washing her hands, Molly took her three children to sit at the table.

Sean sat opposite Molly, smiling and staring at each other through the candlelight.

“Mommy, I want a drumstick!” Claudia said, pointing at the turkey on the table.

Molly immediately cut it for Claudia with the fork and knife and put it on her plate.

As Molly was unsure whether Claudia could eat the drumstick up, she asked, “Can you finish it up?”

“Certainly!”

Claudia patted her belly confidently and grinned, showing her small teeth.” Mommy, haven’t you noticed that my brothers and I have eaten a lot recently and that we have grown taller? The old clothes are small for US.

So, Grandpa and Grandma have taken US to buy new clothes.”

Claudia explained happily and wasn’t aware that she had accidentally mentioned her grandparents.

Molly felt confused. “Grandpa and Grandma?”

‘Who is Claudia referring to?

‘Does she mean Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson?’ Molly suddenly recalled when that news spread, someone had taken a photo of Mrs. Anderson shopping with Alex, Ben and Claudia.

Before that, at the party hosted by the Herring family, Mrs. Anderson praised the three children for being well-behaved and considerate in front of Molly.

At that time, Molly felt strange, wondering why Mrs. Anderson treated her better.

She originally intended to ask Sean, but she forgot it, as she was too busy.

It seemed that there must happen something that she didn't know.

Thinking of this, Molly put down her knife and asked, "Alex, Ben, Claudia, have you met Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson? Be honest!"

The three children fell silent.

In fact, not only did they meet Mr. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson, but also played with them.

But they didn't dare to tell it to Molly.

So, they turned to look at Sean with imploring eyes, asking him for help.

No sooner had Sean scooped up a spoonful of soup than his hand froze.

He looked at Molly with guilt, feeling nervous.

'Er..."

Molly shot a grim glance at him, waiting for his answer.

Since Sean knew clearly that he couldn't hide it from Molly anymore, he planned to tell her the truth.

He put down the spoon, smiled slowly, and explained truthfully, "Molly, in fact, ever since my parents knew that Alex, Ben and Claudia were their grandchildren, they have come to see them and bring food and toys to them from time to time.

‘However, my parents only come occasionally. Really.’

As Sean was worried that Claudia would be blamed, he downplayed the fact.

‘If Molly knew that our three children had good relationships with my parents, she would be likely to get angry.’ When Molly heard his explanation, she slapped her fork down on the table.

The three children trembled in fright and lowered their heads, not daring to look up.

‘Oops, Mommy gets cross with US,’ Claudia thought.

After the children secretly took a glance at Molly, they quickly withdrew their glances and continued eating the turkey and bread.

‘So, all of you have been hiding it from me?’ Molly asked with a frown.

Molly didn’t mind her children playing with their grandparents, but she disliked being deceived.

Chapter 926-“Molly...” Sean realized something, and quickly reached out, wanting to hold Molly’s hand.

Molly looked like she didn’t want to talk to him.

The three children quickly winked at Sean. ‘Daddy, good luck!’ Sean was amused by the children’s expressions. He said to Molly with a laugh, “I’m sorry, Molly, I didn’t tell you. I was wrong...”

“Stop laughing!” Molly was angry and amused.

He was apologizing, but he was not sincere at all!

The three children laughed so hard that they narrowed their big black eyes.

Their eyelashes were long and beautiful.

Molly felt that she had been furious just now. But when she was disturbed by the children, she immediately became less angry!

She pretended to be still angry and continued to sound serious, "Don't laugh.

Explain to me clearly what's going on. If you don't explain clearly today, then I won't have dinner."
"Mommy..." Hearing this, the children quickly climbed down from their seats, leaned over to Molly, hugged her arms, and said softly, "Mommy, we're sorry.

We shouldn't hide it from you. In fact, during this time, our grandparents have been in touch with US, and they have been very kind to us. Many of our things...were given by them!"

"But we and our grandparents were afraid that you would be angry, so we didn't tell you."

"Mommy, we know we were wrong. Sorry..."

"If you don't like Grandpa and Grandma, then we will not get in touch with them, okay?"

Although their grandparents were very kind to them, their mother came first in their hearts. If their mother didn't want them to get in touch with their grandparents, then they wouldn't get in touch with them!

Seeing the children so sweet, Molly couldn't help but feel touched!

How could she prevent her children from getting in touch with their grandparents? They were the children's grandparents after all, and they were related by blood.

The only thing Molly worried about was whether Mrs. Anderson got in touch with the children simply because she wanted to take the children back. If so, she would be the first to say no!

Thinking of this, Molly hesitated and asked, "Children, let me ask you, after they contacted you, didn't they mention that they want you to return to the Anderson family?"

"They mentioned it." Alex didn't lie at all, and said truthfully, "Mommy, they only have US three grandchildren.

Of course, they hope that we can return to the family, but they didn't force US.

"We told our grandparents that we will not return to the Anderson family unless Mommy and Daddy reconcile!

They agreed, saying that they would respect Mommy's ideas. So they would not force it."

"Really?" Molly was still in disbelief.

After all, as far as she could remember, Mrs. Anderson was not so easy to talk to.

The children were still explaining seriously, "Mommy, you don't have to worry. Grandpa and Grandma are very good to US. Grandma was prejudiced against you before because she didn't know you well. But after we told Grandma about your difficulty, Grandma changed her mind about you."

'Mommy, Grandma said that as long as you are willing to forgive them, they are ready to take you in at any time. They also said that they will make up for all the hardships you've suffered in those years!"

Chapter 927-'Of course... Mommy, if you don't want to, we will listen to you, and we won't get in touch with them again in the future."

After Alex finished it, he lowered his little head and looked particularly cute. He would listen to mom anyway!

Whatever mom said was right.

Ben and Claudia were the same. They looked at Molly seriously, waiting to hear what she had to say.

When Molly saw the three children looking at her so eagerly, she suddenly couldn't bear it.

Hearing the children say this, she thought that maybe Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Anderson were good to them.

Otherwise, the children wouldn't have defended their grandparents like this.

Forget it! Molly suddenly thought that there was nothing wrong with more people loving the children.

Although her relationship with Mrs. Anderson was still a bit awkward, the children were descendants of the Anderson family and they deserved to be treated kindly by the Anderson family.

Thinking of this, Molly breathed a sigh of relief, picked up her fork, and said while eating, "I don't have to be angry, but you are not allowed to hide it from me again in the future. You know, what I hate the most is being kept in the dark. If it happens again..."

'Don't worry. It won't happen again.' Before Molly could finish her sentence, Sean gently took her hand.

He looked at her affectionately and firmly and said with a warm smile, "I promise, I will tell you everything in the future. I won't keep anything from you and make you worry."

Hearing Sean's emotional promise, Molly felt tempted. She didn't know how to react for a moment. But what was certain was that she didn't pull her hand out of his warm palm again.

Just like that, being comforted by him silently, she found herself gradually calming down.

Sean smiled lightly! For him, it would be enough as long as Molly didn't resist him.

Then, Sean served Molly and the children dishes and helped them cut the cake... The picture was very warm!

After dinner, Molly suddenly remembered something. She raised her voice and said, "By the way, children, I have three gifts for you!"

With that, she got up and walked into the room.

When she came back, she was holding three red sweaters in her hands. She had recently knitted these sweaters herself with the wool she bought when she was free after she got home.

The skin of the children was relatively delicate. Every winter, they were always prone to red marks on their bodies due to some poorly-made sweaters.

But the sweaters she knitted herself were different. The fabric was soft and very skin-friendly!

"Come on, children, take off your coats and try," Molly said while arranging the sweaters to make them easier to put on.

The children were so excited to see the sweaters their mother had knitted for them herself!

Then they obediently took off their coats and asked their mother to put the sweaters on them one by one.

'Oh, the size is just right!' After putting the sweaters on them, Molly looked at her three lovely children and found them more and more adorable. She couldn't help but kiss them one by one.

The children were excited, grinning from ear to ear, and praised, "Mommy, the sweaters you knit are so beautiful."

"Mommy, you knit sweaters for US every year. Thank you. I will give you a massage later."

“Mommy, we’ve prepared Christmas gifts for you too!” Alex said seriously.

Chapter 928-After hearing this, Molly smiled pleasantly and gently, “Really? Let me see what you have prepared.”

‘Hold on!’ The children got excited immediately and hurried to the sofa. They opened their cute little backpacks and took out the prepared gifts one by one.

First up was Alex’s gift. Alex took out a tablet, swiped it a few times with his chubby little finger, and a pause sign popped up on the screen.

“Mommy, you can click to see what it is.” After Alex said that, he stuffed the tablet into Molly’s hand, and then looked at her expectantly.

Molly took the tablet with a confused look on her face and clicked play.

A few words first appeared on the computer screen, “Alex’s VLOG for Mommy.”

In the next second, Alex was wearing a summer T-shirt, standing in the backyard of the May family with his back to a green plant, bathed in the sun, and waving his small hand at the camera.

“Hi, Mommy! I finally see you! It’s 1:30 pm Northfolk time. Today is the weekend, and it’s also the first day I prepare this VLOG for Mommy. Let’s take a look at what is in this VLOG!” After Alex said it in a cute voice, he cut the scene.

It could be seen that this VLOG should have been prepared since summer.

Molly couldn’t help but glance at Alex dotingly, reached out, and pulled him into her arms before continuing to watch it.

As the VLOG played, Molly saw Grandpa, Brycen, Sawyer, Catherine, and herself in the video.

The family gathered together and ate together from time to time, occasionally enjoying barbecues or teasing the pets at home...

The family atmosphere was exceptionally harmonious and warm! Molly couldn't help chuckling.

At this time, Sean also appeared in the camera.

Sean was sitting in a wheelchair with an elegant temperament and the sun was shining on his perfect and angular face. He looked particularly handsome and charming.

Sean smiled at the camera, and said lightly, "Molly, the kids suddenly said that they want to record a VLOG. I don't know what to say, but what I want to tell you is...I love you."

"I love you." Sean's tone was low when he said this, but there was a gentle and warm smile on his face.

The breeze gently blew through his refreshing hair. His whole body seemed to be bathed in the sun, but it seemed to be in the mist. This scene was beautiful...

Molly couldn't help glancing at Sean, and he had been watching her silently.

Their eyes met unexpectedly, and the tenderness in Sean's eyes became more intense, and her shadow was reflected in his dark pupils as if he only had eyes for her.

Molly's heart skipped a beat. She even blushed! She quickly turned her head away as if nothing had happened and continued watching the video.

The VLOG ended with some pictures of Molly.

Molly turned off the tablet, kissed Alex on the head, and praised softly, 'Alex, you did a great job. I like the VLOG very much.'

'I'm glad you like it!' Alex smiled with a blushing face, extremely happy.

Mom loved this video, and his hard work paid off.

Then it was Ben's gift. Molly looked at Ben expectantly, waiting for him to take out the gift.

But Ben seemed to be a little nervous, with his hands behind his back all the time, unwilling to take out the gift for a long time

Chapter 929-Seeing Ben hesitant and not daring to take out the gift, Molly couldn't help but frown, feeling a little worried.

"Ben, what's wrong with you?" She asked with concern.

"Mommy..." Ben glanced at Molly timidly and thought about it before he said softly, "Mommy, my gift is not as special as Alex's, but I prepared it carefully. Can you not dislike it?"

He hesitated mainly because the gift Alex was giving to mom was very special and thoughtful! Ben inevitably compared his gift with Alex's. He felt that his gift was a little dwarfed. Therefore, he was afraid that Molly would not like it.

But for Molly, as long as it was a gift from the children, it was extremely precious?

She immediately took Ben's soft little hand, and comforted him patiently, 'Ben, why do you think so? You are willing to prepare a gift for me, and I'm very happy. Why would I dislike it?

"Show me what you have prepared. I will like it!" Molly encouraged.

"Okay then." Ben bit his lips, finally mustered up the courage, and handed over the card he was clutching in his right hand.

It was a green bank card!

Ben muttered in a low voice, “Mommy, here is a card for you! I invested myself and made a lot of money, and I’ve saved all of it! Here is 50 million and it’s pocket money for you. In the future, just buy whatever you want. If it’s not enough, you can ask me...”

When Ben said this, he still had no confidence. He didn’t know if 50 million would be enough for mom.

After all, Molly needed to buy clothes, bags, skin care products, and styling...Everything costs money!

Alex and Claudia cried in amazement! Sean smiled.

Tony covered his face in disbelief! God... Ben was so young, and he could earn fifty million? And it was only pocket money for Ms. May? He was a genius boy!

Molly wasn’t surprised by that!

She knew that Ben always had a good eye for investment, and it was no surprise that he made a lot of money! The most important thing to her was not the money, but the thought.

Molly took the green card, leaned over slightly, kissed the boy on the forehead tenderly, and said with a smile, “Ben, thank you for the bank card. I’m very touched, and I like your gift very much! This is the money you earn with your brains. I will keep it well!

“But compared to the fifty million, you are my priceless treasure. You must not say anything as I might dislike you, you know? I will always love you.” “Oh, Mommy.” Ben threw himself into Molly’s arms with an innocent smile, feeling extra warm and reassured.

Seeing that the boy was finally happy, Molly felt relieved!

Then she turned to look at Claudia’s gift. Claudia prepared a painting.

The painting showed Molly sitting at the desk and working. The sun was shining on her, making her look soft and peaceful.

Molly's eyes lit up when she saw this painting! It looked simple, but it was a very difficult oil painting.

The glossy feel of the painting and the texture of details were all vividly depicted by Claudia, which was comparable to those award-winning pieces in art museums.

Chapter 930-Most importantly, there was an air of "love" in the painting and it was the highlight of this painting!

Molly liked it very much. She smiled and praised, "Claudia, you have made great progress in painting. I like this painting so much! I decide to hang it in the room so that I can see it when I wake up every day."

When Claudia was praised, she was overjoyed immediately, and said softly, ' Well, Mommy, since I draw it well, can you give me a reward?"

"OK!" Molly was amused by her cleverness and asked, "Well, Claudia, what reward do you want?' 'I...I want Mommy to hug me to sleep tonight. Can you?" After Claudia said it, her bright eyes were full of anticipation.

She hadn't cuddled with mom for a long time, and she wanted mom to hug her to sleep so that she could sleep soundly!

Molly hadn't expected Claudia's request to turn out to be this.

She immediately reached out to hug Claudia, kissed her on the cheek, and nodded gently, "Of course, Claudia. Even if you didn't ask, I will hug the three of you to sleep tonight because I miss you all!" "We miss you too, Mommy." The children said in unison and quickly put their cute little heads into Molly's warm embrace.

The four of them hugged each other tightly, and they felt so happy.

While they were hugging, Sean was distracted by some pink letters on the desk.

Sean slowly pushed the wheelchair and came to the coffee table.

He picked up a letter with his slender fingers, glanced back and forth, and asked lightly, "What is this? Can I have a look?"

Molly glanced over and nodded, "Go ahead. They're letters from my students.

Isn't it Christmas Eve today? They prepared a lot of snacks and gifts for me.

They are very considerate!"

Thinking of those students in the class, Molly was quite happy.

But when Sean opened those pink letters, his face suddenly darkened a little.

It was written in the first line of the letter, "Ms. May, you may not believe it, but I fell in love with you at first sight...' 'I don't know why I fell in love with you, but my love for you has gone deeper and deeper. Fate is such a wonderful thing. Ms. May, I like you..."

One after another, they were all love letters! Sean was shocked.

"What's wrong?" Seeing that there was something wrong with Sean's complexion, Molly immediately stepped forward and asked.

Unexpectedly, the children moved faster than her. They ran to the coffee table first, picked up the letters, and read them. They gasped in unison!

They were shocked!

Sean and the three children all looked at Molly meaningfully. Molly felt weird and confused. What was going on with them?

She hurriedly took the letters and read them. She instantly became embarrassed!

She was flustered and guilty, and hurriedly explained to them, "Well, don't get me wrong. I...I didn't expect that the students would write me this kind of letter. I thought they just admired me. I didn't expect it to be like this."

With that, she hurried to look at Sean's expression!

She was afraid he would be angry... But Sean didn't respond at all. He just nodded lightly and said ambiguously, "Oh."
