

Triplets On SM 931

Chapter 931-Oh?

Molly was shocked by his tone.

Her fingers clasped involuntarily, and her breath hitched in her throat.

Presumably, Sean was mad.

She nervously squeezed the corner of her clothes and explained in a trembling voice, "Sean, it's not like what you think. I didn't expect the students to write this kind of letter to me. I..."

"Mommy!"

The three kids cut her off seriously.

They had been longing to reconcile their parents but hadn't gotten a chance.

Now the opportunity had finally come. They immediately straightened their faces and said righteously.

"Mommy, you slighted Daddy for so long. He has realized his mistake. Can you stop treating him like this?"

"You know, all Daddy cares about is you."

"Mommy, can you please stop annoying him in this way? He will be jealous, and we will be upset."

The three drama queens started to sob in their milky voices.

Ben's nose was red. He sniffed, wiped the corners of his eyes, and croaked, "Mommy, our uncle has been in poor health lately. If Daddy were not by our side, we might not have been able to come and see you. Don't break his heart, okay?"

"Mommy..."

They commented one after another. Their eyes were brimming with tears.

They looked so pitiful.

Molly hadn't expected the kids to cry because of these letters.

A pang of guilt shot through her.

Molly hurriedly grabbed their hands and took them into her arms. She gently patted and soothed them, "Don't cry, my babies. It was not my intention to annoy your dad. I didn't read these letters or expect such content. I'm sorry."

"Mommy, don't accept their letters again, okay?"

The eyes of the three children were red and moist. She was really distressed.

In a hurry, Molly wiped their tears and anxiously furrowed her brows.

These kids were such opportunists.

Seeing her sad look, they stopped blaming her.

Instead, they sniffed and said innocently, “Mommy, it’s Christmas tomorrow. Could you go out to have fun with Daddy and US? We won’t take much of your time. One day will be enough.”

Molly thought for a moment and nodded. “Okay.”

Although there was a lot of work for her to do in the lab, she was eager to spend some quality time with the kids. After all, she hadn’t seen them for a long time, and it was Christmas tomorrow.

She decided to ask for leave.

The three kids were thrilled that she agreed.

After helping their mother clean up the dishes and the table, they had a shower and lay down on her soft bed.

Since Sean and Tony had nowhere to go, Molly let Sean stay in the guest room next door and settled Tony down in another guest room which was farther away.

The three kids fell asleep.

Feeling thirsty, Molly got up and went to the living room to get some water.

She opened the door, only to find that the light in the living room was on.

She went over and saw Sean. In a velvet robe, he was sitting on the sofa tapping on the keyboard of his laptop

Chapter 932-’He’s still up?

’He’s so busy!’ Molly wrinkled her brows, came closer, and whispered, “Still working?”

Sean came to his senses. He glanced at Molly and hummed.

“Working at such late hours will affect your sleep.”

Her tone was reproachful.

She turned around, pouring a glass of warm water for herself and a glass of milk for Sean.

It was soon heated up in the microwave and placed in front of him.

“Have a glass of hot milk. It will help you sleep,” she said softly.

Sean glanced at the steaming milk. His heart started to melt.

It looked like she cared about him.

He gave a hearty laugh. “Okay, sleep tight. I’ll be done in a moment.”

“Mm.”

Molly nodded without another word.

When she turned around, she found Sean tapping his leg rhythmically.

It made her frown once again.

She stopped in her tracks and asked with concern, ‘Are your legs uncomfortable? You haven’t exercised lately?’

“Well, I’ve been busy and only did some simple rehab,” Sean replied blandly.

Molly’s eyebrows were knitted together. She got antsy and pressed, “How are you feeling?”

Sean’s eyes were locked on her worried face. He suddenly felt better.

He beamed and said, “I’m fine. My legs are just a little numb.”

“You...”

Molly realized her overcaution. Sean was fine.

She glared at him and sulked, “I was really scared. I thought you were not feeling well.”

She was afraid that his legs were uncomfortable or his illness recurred.

It was her responsibility to take care of him.

Fortunately, he was fine.

‘How is your rehab? Can you walk?’ Molly asked again.

Sean looked down at his legs and said with uncertainty, “I may move a little.”

Molly was a bit skeptical. “Really? Stand up and show me your progress. I’ll get hold of you.”

With that, she reached out her hand to support him.

Although her wrist was thin, her strength was not small.

Sean slowly got up with her help.

“Don’t push yourself. Let me know if you’re feeling uncomfortable or if you can’t hold up. Rehab can’t be done in one day. You can take your time.”

Molly reminded him before he moved.

Sean smiled, “Okay.”

He then started moving.

One step... Two steps...

His movement was slow.

It was no longer so strenuous.

He was in good condition.

He took more steps than she imagined.

Molly beamed. She was really happy for him.

Sean felt his progress and also smiled.

With Molly’s help, he walked back and forth in the living room.

The rehabilitation training lasted about ten minutes

Chapter 933-Seeing a layer of sweat on Sean's forehead, Molly felt that it was time to ask him to stop.

"That's all for today's rehabilitation training. Sit down and have a rest. Excessive exercise will only harm your legs!"

Sean responded, "Okay."

The next second, he meant to sit in the wheelchair again.

But he didn't expect the ten minutes' rehabilitation training would wear him out.

He was about to sit down when his legs suddenly became weak. He couldn't stand stably and fell toward Molly.

He subconsciously reached out to protect the back of Molly's head to prevent it from being hit!

Molly exclaimed in shock. Before she could react, she was pressed to the ground by Sean.

Fortunately, a thick carpet was on the ground, and neither of them was injured!

However, Sean was heavy, and he was on her body.

Seeing the painful expression on her little face, Sean immediately asked with concern, "Are you hurt?"

Molly shook her head. "No, I'm not hurt. It's just that..."

It was just that she could hardly breathe.

After all, Sean was a strong male adult, and he was heavy.

Now he was on her. It was no wonder she felt uncomfortable.

Moreover, they looked very romantic in this posture.

Molly quickly cleared her throat to ease the embarrassing atmosphere.

Then she asked, "Can you stand up now?"

Sean tried to move his legs but failed.

He answered truthfully, "No, I can't." "Then what should we do? We can't lie on the ground all the time, right?" Molly frowned and uttered.

Staring at Sean, who was so close to her, she blushed.

They gazed at each other. She could feel his warm breath blowing onto her face and neck, which itched her.

Besides, his body temperature was hot, and a pleasant fragrance was emanating from his body.

His eyes were as dark as the sea. He was looking at her tenderly and affectionately.

When Molly met his eyes, she held her breath.

Her heart began beating faster and faster.

She got an ecstatic shock and gripped the carpet tighter and tighter.

The atmosphere between them became more and more romantic and affectionate.

One could easily guess what would happen based on movies or TV series.

When Molly thought of it, her face turned pinker.

She was shy to face Sean.

Sean was beholding her pink face.

Sensing her shyness, he felt deeply attracted by the sexy and lovely Molly.

His eyes darkened, and he turned over while hugging her!

Now Molly was on his body.

She exclaimed in surprise. The moment she wanted to raise her head, Sean embraced her tighter and pressed her head in his arms.

“Don’t move. Let me hold you for a while...”

His voice was low and magnetic, which had some kind of magic power and was so pleasant to the ear.

Molly was stunned for a while, but didn’t struggle anymore.

She allowed him to hug her and enjoyed his warm embrace.

She leaned her ear against his strong chest, and his pounding heartbeat brought her a unique sense of security

Chapter 934-At that moment, Sean's low voice came from above Molly's ears.

"You know what?"

Sean hugged Molly a little tighter. As if he were dreaming, he murmured softly, 'Originally, I wanted to wait until you came around and made up with me, but gradually, I found that I couldn't wait...

"I always know you are very brilliant, but I hadn't thought that you would be so outstanding in the crowd.

When I was not watching you, you got so many admirers. To be honest, I was a little panicked.

"I was so afraid that you wouldn't forgive me. And I was worried that you would accept someone else and would never come back to me.

"Molly, you are the first person in this world who has made me feel afraid. I don't know if you understand how I feel."

At this point, Sean let out an imperceptible sigh.

Molly froze, feeling very surprised.

She really didn't expect that Sean would have such a lack of confidence when it came to a relationship.

In everyone's eyes, Sean was always confident, calm, and intelligent. He was as distant and proud as the gods.

Molly thought, 'So he would also be afraid.

'But he ignores one thing. If I had blamed him and refused to forgive him, I would have long left him.'
She contacted him again and again, allowing her heart to be softened by his tenderness. This proved she had been giving him chances, wasn't it?

Molly suddenly wanted to laugh when she thought about these things.

At this moment, even she, who was always insensitive to romance, had realized that she could not hate Sean because she loved him. How come he didn't figure it out this time?

Molly didn't want to see Sean in such a disturbed state. The next second, she leaned down and kissed his cold, soft lips.

As he felt her active kiss, Sean's deep eyes flashed with amazement and then ecstasy.

This kiss meant that she had let go of the past.

Like a thirsty man in the rain, Sean tightly wrapped his arms around Molly's waist, kissing her passionately and tenderly.

Molly no longer resisted him or restrained herself. She indulged in this affectionate kiss.

Their hearts overflowed with love for each other...

Finally, they almost couldn't breathe. Only then did they let go of each other.

Molly's face was red, and her heart was racing.

However, what made her flush was not just the kiss.

It was also because she felt something strange between her legs.

As an adult, she certainly understood what it was.

She hurriedly stood up from the ground and helped Sean get up and sit back in the wheelchair.

The atmosphere returned to normal.

At this time, Sean looked at Molly and saw her wet lips and rosy cheeks. The corners of his lips curled up charmingly.

Then he took her hand and asked, "Molly, so now, are we completely reconciled?"

Molly had not yet recovered from that kiss. She nodded blushing, "Yes."

Sean instantly became even happier.

He hastily grabbed her slender wrist, swept her into his arms, and kissed her soft red lips in an overbearing manner.

Chapter 935-The next day, Molly got up early and cooked a hearty breakfast herself.

As soon as they came out of the room, the three little ones smelled something fresh and fragrant.

They immediately scuttled to the dining table. Looking at the abundance of food on the table, they exclaimed excitedly, "Wow, Mommy, the breakfast you prepared smells so good!"

'There are chicken and sandwiches I like most. You're the best, mommy!"

Claudia clapped her small hands in delight.

Three little foodies!

Molly smiled lovingly. As she put three small bowls of oatmeal on the table, she said to the children, "Go wash your hands, then eat breakfast. Also, ask your daddy to come over!"

"Okay, mommy."

The three kids immediately began to move.

Soon Tony wheeled Sean out of the guestroom.

Molly had now put the breakfast in place. She looked up at Sean, her crystal eyes unknowingly soft.

"You're awake? Come and eat breakfast!"

She spoke warmly and made room for Sean.

Sean smiled a bit and said, "I'm coming!"

Then he came over and sat down as he was asked.

Seeing that, the three little ones were all stunned!

They did feel that the atmosphere between their mommy and daddy had subtly changed.

Had they made it up with each other?

The three little ones had suspicions, but did not ask. Instead, they came to the table quietly.

As soon as all of them sat still, Molly brought hot milk to the children and said, "Kids, you're growing. You should drink a little more milk to get calcium, then you can grow tall!"

"Thank you, mommy. We'll drink it up."

The three little ones shouted sweetly in unison.

Molly instantly gave a satisfied smile.

Then she brought Sean a bowl of oatmeal.

When she saw Sean's handsome features, the look in her eyes softened somewhat. She said softly, "Eat this. This is more nutritious. I prepared this for you this morning. Now your leg is getting much better. Getting more nutrition is more helpful for your leg to heal."

Sean was stunned to hear that.

The girl took care of him so carefully!

Seeming to feel his heart getting warm, he said with a small smile, "Thank you for what you did."

But Molly didn't think that was something important. She smiled, "No problem. If you can sooner recover, I'll be sooner relieved." After that, she also poured a glass of hot milk for herself.

Seeing that, the three little ones were all so surprised!

What was wrong with Mommy?

Why did she suddenly become so soft and considerate to Daddy?

“Mommy, you’ve made it up with Daddy, right?”

Finally, the three little ones couldn’t help but ask.

Molly froze and looked at Sean, her face a little red. Yes, she was somewhat embarrassed.

Knowing she was probably shy, Sean smiled involuntarily and explained for her, “Yes, your mommy and daddy have made perfect peace with each other.”

“Really? That’s great!”

The three kids’ big eyes glistened with happy surprise. They shouted with great joy, “Mommy and Daddy should have made peace a long time ago. You’re the perfect match God ever made!” “Mommy, Daddy, we finally don’t have to worry about you!”

“Alex, Ben and I have been so worried these days! Since Mommy and Daddy have made peace, we’re relieved!”

Claudia patted her chest with emotions and heaved a sigh of relief like an adult.

Chapter 936-When she saw the little girl behave like an adult, Molly smiled.

But she was also a little guilty.

The three kids were so young, but they had to worry about their parents. This was a tough task for them.

She had thought about a lot of things, but didn’t know how to tell the children.

So she could only urge them with a smile, “Well, let’s go eat breakfast. Well go out in a while! It takes a long time to line up to buy tickets to Disneyland. We can’t waste time!”

Hearing that, the three kids immediately became nervous. “Right, eat breakfast now. Well go out in a while!”

After saying that, the three kids began eating.

When she saw the kids wolfing down their food, she was worried they would choke themselves. She reminded them hurriedly, “Kids, slow down! Don’t eat so fast! Well go out, but we still have time!”

Then the kids slowed down a bit.

Molly smiled lightly and began eating calmly.

After breakfast, Molly dressed the children in new clothes and then herself carefully. After that, they went out with Sean.

Today was Christmas. Christmas trees were lined up at the shop entrances on the streets, lively and imposing!

And today was the weekend. So many citizens didn’t have to work, and they had come out to walk and relax.

Molly took the three kids and Sean straight to Disneyland.

Disneyland was usually crowded, and when it came to such a holiday, even more people would swarm into the park.

As soon as they entered the park, Molly held the three kids’ hands more tightly and said emphatically, “Kids, you must follow Mommy closely, and you should never fall behind! There are so many people here. If you wander off, it’s hard to find you. Got it?”

“Yes, we got it!” Bearing their mother’s words in mind, the three kids grabbed her windbreaker, following her closely.

Tony was wheeling Sean behind the mother and her three children, protecting them.

To celebrate Christmas, Disneyland had set up a huge opportune Christmas tree. Under it, a Father Christmas was handing out candies to the children passing by.

Seeing that, the three kids went up happily. Then they each got a candy, so delighted!

“Mommy, look, someone seems to be selling StellaLou dolls over there! There are also cute Mickey Ears!” Claudia suddenly pointed to a nearby shop and said.

Molly looked over and saw the shop not far away.

There were all kinds of Disney dolls in it.

Claudia was after all a little girl. As soon as she saw these cute, pink, and soft small items, she refused to move, but grabbed Molly’s clothes, trying to take her there.

“Mommy, let’s go take a look, shall we? I want a StellaLou.”

Of course, Molly wouldn’t refuse the little girl’s request.

So they walked into the shop together. Molly asked the shopkeeper about the prices of StellaLou and Mickey Ears politely.

The salesgirl was very young. When she looked up, she was stunned by the amazing looks of Molly, Sean, and the children for a second!

The family were so beautiful!

Only after a surprise did she come back to her senses. She began telling Molly the prices with a smile, "Ms., the three kids of yours are so cute! I think I can give you a 12% discount."

Chapter 937-Molly nodded and said, "Okay, I'll buy one. I also want the Mickey Ears beside it. Three pairs."

"Wait, Mommy!"

The three kids suddenly cut in, "Today is Christmas. What a lively day! You and Daddy might as well join US to wear Mickey Ears, okay?"

"Ah?"

Molly froze for a moment. She looked at Sean and said with an embarrassed smile, "Um... I'm afraid this is unsuitable?"

"Oh, Mommy, just wear them for a moment! Just a moment!"

"Only when you and Daddy wear Mickey Ears will our family be uniform!"

The three kids tried their best to persuade Molly, showing they wouldn't give up until she agreed.

Seeing that the children were so insistent, Molly had no choice but to compromise.

She turned her head and said to the shopkeeper, "Okay then. Please give me six pairs of Mickey Ears. Thank you!"

"Okay, Ms."

After the bill was paid, Claudia got the StellaLou.

As for Mickey Ears...

Molly put three pairs of Mickey Ears on the children's heads, then handed a pair to Tony, and finally put a pair on her head. But there was still one pair left...

She looked at Sean, somehow feeling this was a little funny. But she asked, "Do you want to wear this?"

Sean was speechless.

But before he could say no, Molly simply put the pair of Mickey Ears on his head.

"Mm, this looks nice!"

Molly rubbed her chin and nodded with satisfaction.

Sean was usually cold and indifferent, but at this moment, he, who was now wearing the cute Mickey Ears, didn't look that cold, but a little cute.

The three kids looked over and giggled, "Mommy, Daddy looks cool and cute!"

"It's amazing!"

Molly couldn't help but laugh. "That's right! Sean, you are so cute today! Come on, go stand with Daddy. Mommy will take a photo of you."

"Okay!" The three kids immediately went to Sean.

Molly adjusted the camera lens and pressed the shutter with a click.

The three kids instantly scampered over to check the photo. When they saw it, they laughed more happily.

Sean felt a little helpless... but he also thought this was so interesting.

The main reason was that doing such things with his beloved woman and their children was very meaningful.

Then Molly took the children to eat and drink and tour around the park.

On the way, they met a cosplay photographer. With a whim, Molly dressed the kids up as three Disney little princesses!

Wearing the little skirts of Snow White, Sleeping Beauty, and Cinderella, the three kids looked so cute!

Both Alex and Ben were helpless. "Mommy, we're boys!"

Molly immediately coaxed them with a smile, "Please endure it. Be Disney little princesses for a day, okay?"

"Be good, just once!"

"All right."

To satisfy their mother's bad taste, Alex and Ben had no choice but to agree.

Then they cooperated with the photographer to take all kinds of photos and pose in different ways. Their lively expressions were almost the same as those of professional models!

Seeing that, the tourists passing by covered their mouths and exclaimed.

'Look, the three kids are so cute and so beautiful!'

"Are they triplets? They look the same as one another! I really want to steal one home!"

"Shh! The children's mother is standing next to them! Lower your voice, or you'll be treated as a human trafficker."

Chapter 938-A popular variety show happened to be broadcast live in this Disneyland.

When the camera inadvertently turned to the three kids, numerous realtime comments burst out, and audiences were drowning in cuteness.

'God, the three kids look so cute!' 'I've never seen such beautiful kids!'

"Don't stop me. I'm now going to this Disneyland to steal the kids. Anyone who stops me is my enemy!"

"Hi, dude, you say you're going to steal the kids, steal one for me!"

Because of the three children, the program instantly became so hot.

The viewers didn't even want to watch the program anymore. Instead, they just wanted to watch the kids, even if they could only watch them for one more moment.

But after focusing on the three little ones for a while, the camera was turned away.

After all, the show didn't pay them for their appearance and the producer was not that shameless to market its show with these unknown children.

But Molly and the children had no idea about all this, mainly because there were so many people in Disneyland.

There were so many people who had mobile phones or cameras.

Molly had no idea that the three children had been filmed, and their video had been uploaded to the internet, where they had attracted some attention!

Now the three children had gone through the photo-taking torture. Immediately after that, they took off their little skirts.

Alex and Ben finally heaved a long sigh of relief!

It was really tiring to be a girl!

But Molly comforted the little guys with a broad smile, "Okay, okay, Mommy promises Mommy won't let you wear girls' clothing anymore in the future. I did this today, mainly because you're now still young, and Mommy wants to record your life! This won't happen again, okay?"

"Okay!" Alex and Ben nodded.

Sean and Tony had been standing close at hand. They watched the mother and her three children's antics, so amused.

Sean looked at Molly lovingly, thinking, "This little woman is sometimes mischievously cute.

"But this is good!" He also hoped his woman could keep some of a girl's romance. By doing so, she could live a happier life.

Later today, Molly and the children were all exhausted after a day's tour around the park.

They immediately entered a high-end restaurant, sat down, and ate some dinner to replenish their energy. After that, they returned to the crowd, waiting for the evening firework show to begin.

The firework show was a sight every Disney visitor must not miss.

In order to find the best viewing spot, Molly walked here and there with the children. Finally, they found a good spot.

When it was time, a whiz suddenly appeared over the pink castle in the park.

Then brilliant sparks came with an explosion!

The multi-colored sparks filled the sky, aesthetic and romantic!

They were so splendid and beautiful!

The tourists watching the show began to take photos or record videos with their phones, hoping to record the beautiful moment.

Molly also wanted to take photos with her phone, but Sean suddenly called her, "Molly."

'Yes?'

Molly realized it, looking at the man sitting next to her.

The sparks all over the sky lit up the man's handsome features. Sean smiled at her and suddenly pointed to the edge of the sky, "Look there."

Confused, Molly watched in the direction he pointed, "What?"

The moment she turned her head, Sean raised her left hand and slid something cold on her white, long finger.

The woman was startled by the coldness on her finger.

She raised her hand to find that it... was a ring!

Chapter 939-Molly was instantly stunned.

The three kids had been watching the fireworks, but now they didn't have the mood to watch them. Instead, they turned to look at Daddy and Mommy.

Daddy gave Mommy a ring! Was Daddy going to ask Mommy to marry him?

The three kids immediately widened their eyes with very strong anticipation, hoping to see the holy scene happen under the fireworks!

But Sean was not going to propose.

Seeing the ring on the woman's finger shine under the fireworks, he asked with a small smile, "Do you like the Christmas gift I gave you?"

Molly blinked for a second.

So this ring was a Christmas gift?

She was instantly relieved. It turned out she thought too much!

She had thought that Sean gave her the gift because he wanted to propose to her or something like that, and she became so nervous!

As a result, this was just a Christmas gift he prepared for her.

Molly curled up her lips, feeling a bit disappointed, inexplicably.

But she tried her best to look relaxed. She said with a smile, "You really startled me. Who will give someone a ring on Christmas?"

Not denying what she said, Sean explained lightly, "It's really unsuitable to give you a ring on Christmas! But when I went to attend the auction last time, I saw this ring, thinking it was very suitable for you, so I bought it, hoping to give it to you as a gift. Then I didn't think about holidays or things like that.

"Of course, this is just a gift! If we have an engagement or are to get married, and I need to buy a ring, I won't be so rash. Then I'll do very careful preparation.

"I'll give you the best and most unique ring in the world," Sean added, as if he was worried he was not sincere enough.

Molly instantly blushed. She bit her lips and explained shyly, "I... I didn't mean that."

"I know you didn't."

Sean interrupted her softly and added affectionately and gently, "But you can mean that."

He held Molly's hand tenderly, warming her cold fingers with his palm. He promised, "Molly, I've never changed my mind about marrying you, be it in the past, present or future! I just want to live with you for the rest of my life.

I want to make you my wife. Do you understand?"

“I...”

Molly didn't know how to answer.

The fireworks were still brilliantly going on, filling the sky with their sounds, and the people around them were noisy, but the two of them couldn't hear anything, as if someone had pressed the mute button that controlled everything.

They could only hear each other's voices and feel each other's heartbeats!

Molly clearly felt that her heart was beating so fast, and that her breathing was getting much faster!

But she also felt something so sweet.

She saw a skyful of fireworks and a unique figure in Sean's eyes.

The person was her.

Sean also saw his reflection and some tears in her eyes.

God, she was crying?

Because she was moved?

Sean was more distressed, the will to marry Molly growing stronger.

Please wait for him for a while!

When his leg fully recovered and he could stand on one knee, it would be the time to propose.

If that day truly came, he would make Molly the happiest bride in the world.

Chapter 940-When the family got home, it was already ten at night.

After touring around Disneyland for a day, the three kids were exhausted. They washed and hit the hay, falling asleep in a second.

Molly was also worn out, but she couldn't go to bed now.

Before going to bed, she had to go to Sean's room and assist him with the rehabilitation exercise for a while.

Today's exercise was the same as that of yesterday.

She supported him with her body, helping him walk step by step.

They walked from one end of the room to the other and then went back. They repeated this time after time.

She didn't feel bored at all, but was happy.

Now Sean could walk more and more smoothly. She believed that he would regain his walking ability soon.

Thinking of this, Molly couldn't help but feel happy for Sean, praying he could quickly recover!

The rehabilitation exercise ended ten minutes later.

Molly helped him sit down in the wheelchair again. After that, she took out the prepared medical box and began conducting acupuncture on him.

After the acupuncture, she massaged Sean's leg muscles for a while, trying to better his leg blood circulation and speed up his recovery!

When all this was done, her forehead was covered with small sweat drops.

Thinking she was tired, Sean immediately frowned and said with concern, 'If you're tired, go back and rest. Don't care about me.'

"I'm fine."

Molly shook her head. As she put things back to her medical box, she denied, "No, I'm not tired. I'm just a little sleepy after today's walking. And it's just a little hard for me to manage this! I'll be fine tomorrow.

"But you, on the other hand, should take care of yourself more. Your body couldn't bear the high-intensity training previously. But now you've recovered a lot. I think you can gradually extend the time for the daily rehabilitation exercise.

For example, we can do the exercise twice a day from once a day. Maybe that'll be better for you," Molly said with a caring heart.

Seeing she was so tired, Sean felt his heart hurt. He responded hurriedly," Okay. I'll listen to you. I'll do the rehabilitation exercise on time. You're usually busy. You should have a good rest!"

"Got it."

Molly nodded, but didn't have anything else to say.

Strangely, she didn't want to leave. It seemed that as long as she stood here, staying with Sean for a little more while, she would be happier.

Anyway, the two of them had finally made peace, so she wanted to spend more time with him.

That was it.

What she didn't know was that Sean was already trying his best to restrain himself!

He didn't really want Molly to leave, but he knew she was very tired today, so he wanted her to return to her room earlier to rest.

But seeing that she was unwilling to leave, Sean suddenly learned something.

The man immediately pulled Molly into his arms without warning.

As soon as she fell into his arms, Molly felt she turned soft from head to toe.

She closed her eyes, feeling the man's strong, warm embrace.

At this moment, she just wanted to stay in his arms for a while, for a little more while.

As long as she could be with him, it was enough!

Sean held her tightly as if he were holding something so precious, unwilling to let go!

He kissed her glossy forehead and whispered, "I've been waiting for this day. Now I can finally hold you in my arms again. For me, nothing is better than this in the world."
