

Triplets On SM 971

Chapter 971-Molly finally couldn't help laughing, "Mr. Anderson, at your current age, you are even more childish than your children.' Seeing that she finally smiled happily, Sean also smiled. She was finally back to normal!

The two were talking and laughing when the three children far away in Northfolk happened to make a video call.

The children were still worried about mom. Unexpectedly, they saw Molly's happy smile in the video.

"Mommy, why are you so happy? Is it because the rumors on the Internet have been cleared up? We have seen it too. Great! No one scolds Mommy anymore!"

"We were worried about Mommy. But seeing Mommy so happy, we're relieved."

"Daddy's contribution is the greatest this time. Daddy, you're so amazing. I admire you the most..."

The three children fully expressed their concern for Molly and praised Sean by the way.

Molly's heart softened. In the past several days, her family and the three children must have been worried sick.

She quickly nodded to comfort them, "I'm sorry for worrying you. I'm fine. Don't worry."

"Okay, we won't worry. With Daddy here, he will solve Mommy's problems!"

Sean heard it from the side and looked satisfied. It seemed that he hadn't cared about the children in vain and they were speaking well of him.

Grandpa Dave listened to the children chatting with Molly for a while before he took the phone over and said, "Poor girl, it must have been very hard for you in the past several days. It's good that Sean resolved the matter so quickly. I'm glad you're fine."

Seeing Grandpa Dave's relieved expression, Molly was very moved, "I'm sorry, Grandpa, for making you worry."

"Well, don't say sorry. We are a family. Shouldn't I care about you?" Grandpa Dave waved his hand and said.

Brycen took the opportunity to lean over and said, "Grandpa was worried sick about you. Sawyer and I were also worried. Fortunately, Mr. Anderson has helped you resolve this matter so quickly. If not, we would have gone to Xesxia."

Such a big thing had happened to their sister Molly. As brothers, they could only wait for the result at home, and they had been very anxious.

After hearing this, Molly felt warm in her heart, "Thank you, Brycen, Sawyer.

Everything is fine now. Don't worry."

After chatting with her family for half an hour, it was getting late. They told each other to take a good rest before hanging up.

Tony didn't come back that night.

After Sean and Molly showered, they went to bed and fell asleep.

The next day, shortly after the two of them had breakfast, they received a call from Tony, "The student involved has been found and is currently in the principal's office for interrogation!"

Sean nodded after hearing this, "Got it. I'll go to school with Molly right now. IV The two got ready and went to Xesxia University quickly.

When the principal saw Sean, he immediately got up from the office chair to greet him, "Oh, Mr. Anderson, Dr.

May, you're here."

Molly nodded, looking around.

Several important leaders of the school were there. In addition, there was a boy in a plaid shirt and black-rimmed glasses.

The boy lowered his head, and his whole body was tense. His face was pale in fright, and he wished he could curl up into a ball.

Molly guessed that he was probably the person who had posted articles online to slander her.

Sean narrowed his eyes and asked directly, "How did it turn out?"

The principal quickly replied, "It's confirmed that this student did all this! He posted those articles because someone gave him a sum of money and an email, which listed some of Dr. May's so-called 'dirt'. He didn't investigate it and posted it directly on the forum, which triggered a series of incidents. At present, the school authorities are planning to punish him with expulsion."

Chapter 972-Were you paid?' Sean's voice sank a bit, sounding sullen, 'Who paid you?' 'I didn't ask...' The principal was a little ashamed, "He wouldn't say anything."

Sean sneered coldly, "He wouldn't say it? It's okay. You can go to the police station and talk to the police.

Since you are a college student, you should understand that you need to bear the consequences if you publish false statements on the Internet, deliberately smear and attack others, and cause huge influence and harm to others! Later, I will tell the Anderson Corporation's lawyers to sue you. You will be locked up in prison for a long time. After you go to jail... you can take your time and spend the money!"

Speaking of which, he ordered, "Tony, call the police."

"OK." Tony nodded and immediately took out his phone.

The student, who had lowered his head, finally raised his head when he heard this with a flustered face.

He wrung his hands anxiously, trying to speak.

But Sean didn't give him this opportunity, and continued to ask the principal, "He's a student of your school and I wonder how the school will deal with such malicious slander against the teacher? This incident is serious. It not only caused important reputation damage to my fiancée but also caused a very bad influence on the school. It should not be as simple as a demerit or a disciplinary action, right?"

The principal understood Sean's meaning as soon as he heard it and immediately replied, "When the students make mistakes, the school will identify the seriousness of the matter and punish them accordingly. Ethan Bond made such a big mistake this time. Our school will punish him with expulsion."

"That's good." Sean looked satisfied, and glanced at Ethan coldly, "You don't want a promising future, and have done such a shady thing. I'll give you what you're asking for."

Ethan panicked.

He got up from his chair in fear and said emotionally, "No, don't expel me... Mr.

Principal, I was wrong. I can apologize to Ms. May for my behavior.

Please don't expel me from school! My studies are very important to me. If I get expelled, I will have nothing..."

Ethan was pleading desperately.

Sean's eyes turned cold and he said, "Your studies are important? My fiancé's career is not important? Stepping on others' bodies' to get money? What qualifications do you have to ask the school not to expel you? Do you think an apology can solve this serious incident?"

The principal was also very disappointed with Ethan.

"Ethan, I know that your family is not rich, and it was not easy for you to be admitted to the school. That's why I gave you the opportunity again and again just now and I hoped you could tell the whole truth. But you chose not to say anything...Since you have done something wrong, you have to take full responsibility. The school is a place to educate people. Your behavior is a serious violation of the school rules and motto...

"Also, the students of the school have collectively demanded that the school expel you. I have to explain to the other students and Ms. May."

"No..." Ethan was utterly terrified.

The conditions of his family were very poor, and he had only relied on the stipend subsidized by the school every month as living expenses.

His parents had taken out a loan to pay for his education. His family had long been in debt...

This time, he had posted to slander Molly online because he wasn't thinking straight.

"I didn't know it would be so serious! I thought it was only spread in a small area of the school. I didn't know it would go viral online! Mr. Principal, Ms. May, please forgive me. Don't expel me. As long as you agree, I'll tell you everything..."

Sean said coldly, "You took the money without even the most basic judgment, which shows that you are overly ambitious and cannot distinguish right from wrong. The school allowed you to confess, but you didn't take it and decided to take a chance instead. It means that you didn't think the matter was serious enough and you thought you could get away with it. You're repenting now just because you've realized the seriousness of the matter, and it may ruin your studies..."

"From the beginning to the end, you have not shown sincere remorse. So, who do you think you are to ask for forgiveness?"

When Sean said these words, he sounded cold and intimidatingly powerful.

How could a student like Ethan stand up to it?

At that moment, his heart trembled with fright. He didn't know what to do.

Sean didn't bother to waste time and he said, "Well, go to the police station and talk to the police if you have anything to say."

Chapter 973-Twenty minutes later, the police arrived and took Ethan away. No matter how hard Ethan begged, it was useless.

Several teachers couldn't help shaking their heads and sighing. Such a good student had fallen to this and he deserved it.

Seeing that the matter was resolved, the principal said to Sean, "Mr. Anderson, next, we will inform the whole school about this matter and clear Dr. May's name. You can rest assured."

Sean nodded. It was indeed reassuring!

"Mr. Principal, teachers, thank you for this time." Molly thanked them politely.

The principal shook his head and said, "Dr. May, you're welcome. Speaking of which, the school wronged you this time and we're very sorry. After the incident broke out, you were asked to suspend classes as soon as possible. I hope you don't take it personally."

"Of course not..." Molly didn't mind.

After all, the school had just taken normal coping measures and it shouldn't be blamed. Fortunately, now that the truth was out, she could come back to teach again.

After chatting with the principal for a while, Molly and Sean went home.

Probably a lot of things had happened in the past two days, and Molly had been extremely tense. At this moment, there was nothing to worry about. She instantly relaxed and felt a little tired.

Seeing this, Sean asked softly, "Are you tired?"

"Yes." Molly nodded, leaned her head on his shoulder, and said lazily, "I used to be busy every day, but didn't feel tired. In the past two days, I have seen so much, and I feel tired."

After Sean heard this, he couldn't help feeling sorry for her, "If you don't want to go to class, then don't. I'll talk to the school, and they will let you go. You just need to concentrate on your research and development."

Molly was a little moved.

But she still shook her head and said, "It's okay. I promised them to teach this semester, and I have to keep my word."

Sean had no choice but to let her go.

Later, Molly seemed tired. Leaning on Sean's shoulder, she fell asleep directly.

Sean was worried that she would feel uncomfortable in this posture, so he gently supported her and put her on his lap. Molly didn't realize it, and she was sleeping soundly.

Looking at her, Sean couldn't help but smile. He bent over gently and kissed her on the forehead.

At around 11:30 in the morning, Tony came back from the police station. When he entered the door and saw Sean and Molly like this, he subconsciously wanted to leave.

Sean glanced at him lightly, motioning for him to speak.

Tony had no choice but to lower his voice, "The police have found out that Ethan's money was wired from Trevor's bank account. Also, from the initial posting, media reports, and slander of Ms. May online, it was all planned by Trevor."

Sean's eyes darkened and he said, "It's Trevor again? In other words, the man behind the scenes is the same as last time?"

"Obviously." Tony nodded.

Hearing this, Sean lost his patience and said angrily, "Has Trevor been found yet?"

"We're...trying our best to search him." Tony broke out in a cold sweat.

Sean was quite dissatisfied with this answer, "Trying your best to search for him? Is it how efficient you are?"

"I'm spending so much money on them. What the hell are they doing?"

Knowing that Sean was angry, Tony was so frightened that he fell silent.

Sean suppressed his anger, took a deep breath, and said, "I'll give you three more days. If they still can't find him, they will be fired."

"OK." Tony nodded immediately, turned around, and went to do it right away.

Chapter 974-At lunch, Molly finally woke up. When she opened her eyes, she keenly noticed Sean's unhappy face beside her.

She couldn't help being confused, and asked softly, "What's the matter? You look very unhappy."

After asking, she raised her hand to caress his brows and said, "Don't frown. I like your smile. When you smile, you look very handsome and charming."

Hearing her words, Sean raised his eyebrows. After she woke up from sleep, she was much sweeter.

He raised his hand, pulled her closer to him, and said in a low voice, "Really? Are you fascinated?"

Molly blinked and nodded, "Of course. Otherwise, why would I be with you? When I first saw you, I thought you looked so handsome! After getting to know you later, I felt that you were so attractive. Even if you're in a wheelchair, you can attract many girls."

Sean couldn't help laughing, "You can't blame me. I'm never close to women, except you..."

Speaking of this, he lightly lifted her chin, kissed her, and said in a hoarse voice, "I let you not only get close but also keep pawing at me."

Molly was taken aback. When did she do this to him?

But when she thought about the massage method during the treatment, she found that he was right...

Molly blushed slightly and said, "I was trying to save lives, okay? There is no distinction between men and women in the eyes of doctors."

"Really? Well, is there a distinction between men and women now?" Sean kissed her again and tightened his grip on her waist slightly.

Molly was almost leaning on him. There was no gap between them, and she could feel his warm breath.

Molly's heart skipped a beat, and she said with a smile, "Now? You'll know if you try it."

As she spoke, she actively wrapped her arms around his neck and kissed him.

Sean's eyes darkened. He wrapped one of his arms around her waist, and supported the back of her head with the other, deepening the kiss passionately and forcefully.

After a short while, Molly's legs felt weak, and she could hardly sit still as if her strength had been drained. If Sean weren't supporting her, she might have fallen to the ground.

After a long time, when Molly could barely breathe, Sean finally let her go. Molly leaned against his chest, panting heavily. It took her a long time to calm down.

She blushed and looked at Sean with bright eyes. Sean's eyes darkened and his body became a little tense.

"What's wrong with you?" Molly noticed his strangeness and couldn't help asking in confusion.

Sean took a deep breath and his voice was very hoarse, "I was just thinking about when my legs would get better."

Hearing his sexy tone, Molly found her ear a little numb.

She raised her hand, rubbed her ear, and said with a smile, "Why are you suddenly in a hurry? Don't worry."

Given your situation, you should take your time... Now you are doing well. You exercise every day, and you can move. After a period of recovery, I believe you can walk soon."

Sean gritted his teeth and said, "That means I have to be a vegetarian for a while?"

Molly didn't react at first.

"What vegetarian? I'm not restricting you from eating meat, am I?" After saying this, she met Sean's deep eyes.

After a moment, she seemed to realize something and subconsciously glanced down...

She instantly blushed, "How...how can you..."

"You wonder why am I getting an erection?" Sean laughed, "Of course. I just can't walk, but I'm perfectly healthy in other respects. Besides, you're the woman I love, and it's normal for me to be like this."

Chapter 975-e gave such a clear response, and she was at a loss for a moment.

After being silent for a long time, she finally said, "You didn't seem to be like this before... I gave you a massage or something, but you didn't respond."

Sean smiled, "In that case, if I reacted a little bit, you would probably run away in fright, right? Maybe you would drug me and make me impotent. For the sake of my future happiness, I could only try my best to restrain myself... But it's different now. You are mine now. Don't you allow me to be turned on?"

Seeing his expression, Molly wanted to laugh. If he had tried to do something to her back then, she might have drugged him.

Now, she was blushing, but she felt sweet.

She calmed down, and said seriously, "I allow it! But about your legs, you still have to take your time and don't be too hasty. Otherwise, the previous long treatment would be in vain. As for US...when you recover, we'll just let nature take its course, okay? Anyway, I have already chosen you. Well...it will work out sooner or later."

Seeing her serious face, Sean couldn't help but chuckle, "I know what you're saying and I understand it all. It was just a momentary feeling. I'm not in a hurry at all. As long as you stay by my side, that's enough. As for the rest, we'll talk about it later."

"Ok." Molly nodded and laughed too.

They chatted with each other for a while, and it was lunchtime soon. Sean couldn't bear to let Molly be so tired, so he ordered lunch.

After lunch, they continued to stay at home. At night, Tony hurried in from the outside.

As soon as Tony saw Sean, he reported, ' Mr. Anderson, there is news about Trevor."

Sean's eyes darkened, and he asked, "Where is he?"

Tony sounded a little anxious, "He's in Aestland City! According to reports from my subordinates, Trevor has been hanging out at an airport ferry terminal in Aestland recently. That port has been abandoned, but some smuggling ships secretly transport goods to foreign countries. Trevor has been hiding from our investigation recently, and there is a high probability that he is trying to sneak out of the country."

Sean's face was cold, "He's trying to run away? No way!" He glanced at Tony and said, "Have you sent some men over?"

"Yes. A lot of men have been sent over to ensure that nothing will go wrong. ■ Tony nodded in response.

Sean was satisfied, "Book a flight to Aestland tonight."

Molly had been listening quietly on the side. When she heard that he was leaving tonight, she couldn't help but grab him, "It's so late, and you're going to Aestland? Why don't you take a rest and leave tomorrow morning? If they catch him, they can just hand him over to the police. Why bother to make a special trip?"

Seeing that she was a little worried, Sean realized that he hadn't told her what happened this time, so he took the opportunity to tell her.

Finally, he said solemnly, "Molly, I have to go there in person. This time you were scolded by the whole network, and Trevor did it. I have to find out who is behind him! Otherwise, they might continue to do something to hurt you. Now that you are in Xesxia, I can't be by your side all the time, so I'm really worried."

When Molly heard this, she knew that he had made up his mind.

In addition to being moved, she was also a little bit reluctant to part with him.

Every time he came and left in a hurry.

She hadn't felt much before. Now they had reconciled, and she realized that she wished to stay with him all the time.

Chapter 976-How about I go with you?"

Molly hesitated before suddenly making a decision.

For the state that Sean was in at the moment, she didn't feel comfortable letting him go like this. What if something bad happened?

Sean cocked his brows. "Are you sure? What about the work that you have to do?"

'Everything at the research laboratory is on track. There won't be any problems if I leave for a couple of days.

As for the school, it's the weekend, so there's no rush." After Molly finished speaking, she felt even more determined. She turned to Tony and said, "Book a plane ticket for me as well."

Tony looked at Sean and saw that he didn't disagree, so he did what he was told.

At about 11 o'clock in the evening, Molly packed her luggage and set off towards the airport with Sean and Tony.

After they boarded the plane, Sean said to Molly in a gentle voice, "Get some sleep if you're tired. I'll wake you up when we land."

"Okay." Molly nodded and then said to Sean, "You should get some rest as well. We don't know how late we're going to stay up until. I'm worried that your body might not be able to stand all the stress."

"Okay." Sean nodded with a smile.

After the plane had taken off, both Sean and Molly took a short nap.

Two hours later, the plane landed. Tony had arranged for a car to pick them up.

They then set off straight for their destination.

At about two o'clock in the morning, it was very dark at the abandoned port.

There was a fishing boat that suddenly shone a light into the dark night and was drifting towards the abandoned port.

The yellow lamp at the front of the fishing boat made it look out of place.

A while later, the fishing boat pulled in to shore. A muscular man with dark skin walked off the fishing boat.

The muscular man was on the phone. "Where are you? Are you here yet? We'll only be waiting for five minutes."

"Coming. We'll be right there to get on the boat."

A desperate voice sounded on the other end of the line.

Then there was the sound of rushing footsteps.

Trevor climbed out of an old and broken cabin in the dark.

He rushed towards the fishing boat as fast as he could. It was as if he was worried that if he had been any slower, something bad might happen.

Recently, he had been hiding wherever he could. He couldn't use his IDs nor could he live in hotels. He was like a mouse in the wild and didn't dare come out during the day.

Now, he finally had a chance to get a new life. He couldn't help but feel overjoyed.

Everything would be fine once he reached abroad.

That person had promised Trevor to give him a load of money and to deliver his wife and child to him.

By then, his family could be whole again and he could live a happy life abroad.

With that thought in mind, Trevor couldn't suppress the joy deep down anymore.

He ran even faster.

The fishing boat was getting closer and closer to him. Trevor would be able to get on after about another dozen yards.

That was when something unexpected happened.

The once silent port was suddenly filled with the sound of police sirens.

Then, a dozen spotlights shone from different directions and completely lit Trevor's heart sank and he was so shocked that his mind went blank. Before he could react, a few men in black came from the side and pinned him to the ground.

'Let go of me. Who are you? What do you want?'

Trevor struggled out of instinct.

However, he was no match for so many bodyguards alone. He was pinned to the ground and couldn't move.

The muscular man on the boat realized that something was wrong. He cursed and turned the boat around in an attempt to escape.

However, it was too late.

The police, which had been set up around the port took this chance and charged onto the fishing boat. They then took everyone on the boat into custody

Chapter 977-"

Sean didn't deny what Molly asked. "With help from the police, this will get done with the best efficiency and speed. We're doing a good thing for society, so why not?"

Molly was stunned. "Then what about Trevor, did you get him?"

Sean didn't answer Molly's question. Instead, he looked at Tony.

Tony had just finished a phone call and replied, "They've caught him. I'll go talk to the police so that we can take Trevor away for now and give him back tomorrow."

Sean nodded in agreement. ' Be quick."

"Okay."

Tony quickly got off the car and left.

A while later, he came back and said to Sean, "Sir, Trevor's in one of the abandoned Cabins. Right now, our guys are questioning him, but he's keeping his mouth shut."

Sean's face turned a little cold. "He's keeping his mouth shut, is he? Alright then, push me over. I want to see how he's going to keep his mouth shut."

With that, Sean looked at Molly, who was by his side, and said in a soft voice, "Wait for me here, alright?"

Molly looked Sean in the eyes for a few seconds and asked, "What... are you going to do?"

Sean hesitated and replied, "Trevor's not going to talk so easily, so I will need to take some drastic measures. However, I'm afraid that it might scare you."

Molly blinked her eyes. "I'm a doctor. I've seen all kinds of situations. I won't be scared." With that, Molly held Sean's hand and said, "I'm coming with you. After all, you did all this for me. Besides, I want to know who is it that's so determined to hurt me as well."

Seeing that Molly was insisting, Sean agreed to her suggestion. "Then let's go."

Soon, Tony brought Sean and Molly to the abandoned cabin.

As soon as they went inside, they saw Trevor tied up and thrown into a corner.

There were a few bodyguards in black keeping an eye on him.

Trevor's hair was a mess and his beard was growing. His clothes were ripped.

He was in a total mess.

"Has he talked?" Tony asked one of the subordinates after he pushed Sean to the center of the cabin.

"He's still keeping his mouth shut," the subordinate replied respectfully.

When Tony heard this, he furrowed his brows and asked Sean, "Sir, what should we do?"

Sean's voice was as cold as ice as if he was a demon from hell. "I don't have any patience for this. Since he's not talking, then make him talk with whatever method we have. After all, the police won't say anything anyway."

When Trevor heard those words, he raised his head and looked in Sean's direction.

This was the first time that he saw Sean.

The man was in a wheelchair, but the domineering aura that he was emitting was really shocking.

The way he talked and the way he looked at people made one fear him.

‘No wonder... No wonder Joelle was so determined to target Molly,’ thought Trevor.

This was the first time that Trevor regretted his decision. He had offended such a person for so little amount of money.

However, he was already caught. What difference would it make even if he talked?

He would still be sent behind bars.

Therefore, he might as well keep his mouth shut. This would allow him to gain some benefits for his wife and child.

As long as he didn’t give Joelle away, then Joelle would trick his wife and child well.

Trevor’s plan seemed to be the best option, but Sean didn’t give him a chance at all.

Sean turned to Tony and said, “Do it!”

Tony nodded and said to the subordinates, “Stuff something in his mouth.”

Chapter 978-The subordinates took obeyed the orders they were given and took a few steps forward.

Trevor was stunned. Then he felt fear. “What are you doing? Mr. Anderson, I know the Anderson Corporation is very powerful, but the police are still outside. Aren’t you afraid of getting into trouble if you torture me?”

Sean looked at Trevor as if he was an ant. "Don't you know why you're being questioned here instead of at the police station?"

Trevor's eyes widened in horror. He was terrified.

"No, you..."

Before Trevor finished speaking, a cloth was stuffed into his mouth so that he couldn't speak anymore.

When Tony saw this, he squatted down and sneered. "Trevor, I've given you a chance last time, but you chose to lie. You lied to me that you got your orders from Sharon. How's the blood bun? What benefits were you given by the person you took orders from that made you continuously slander Miss May?"

Trevor's eyes widened. Sounds were coming out of his mouth as if he wanted to say something.

Tony smiled. "I'm sorry, Mr. Anderson is running out of patience. His time is very precious and he never listens to any crap. Therefore, I'll stop when you decide to tell the truth, alright?"

As soon as Tony finished speaking before Trevor could react, Tony had already grabbed his shoulders and pressed down.

There was a crack.

Trevor's face immediately became twisted.

When Molly saw this, she subconsciously turned her head away.

She could tell that the cracking sound was the breaking of the bones in Trevor's arm.

Sean noticed Molly's actions. He immediately reached out and held her hand.

Then he said softly, "This isn't going to end anytime soon. How about you come with me for some fresh air outside? The air's a little stiff in the cabin."

Molly knew that Sean didn't want her to see such a scene, so she nodded."

Okay."

Soon, Molly pushed Sean onto the deck.

The wind of the port at night was quite strong. Molly was worried that Sean would feel cold, so she wrapped his scarf tighter around his neck. She also squatted down to make sure the blanket on Sean's legs was properly placed.

Sean looked at how gentle Molly was and couldn't help but pat her head gently.

"Scared?" he asked.

Molly raised her head and locked gazes with Sean. After that, she shook her head and replied, "No."

"Really?" Sean didn't seem to believe Molly. "Don't you think we're being a little too ruthless?"

"Not at all." Molly shook her head again. She was no saint.

Trevor had tried to harm her many times before he ended up like this. He deserved what he was getting.

Molly also knew why Sean was doing this.

He wanted to know who was behind Trevor in order to prevent that person from harming her again.

Molly smiled at Sean. "I know you're trying to protect me. What happened on the internet this time didn't cause too much trouble for me because of your interference to clear my name for me. It was a good thing that I was strong and wasn't affected much. If it had been someone else, it might cause one to suffer from depression. One might even commit suicide.

Therefore, Trevor deserves whatever punishment is waiting for him."

With that said, Molly was worried about one thing. "However, is it really okay for US to do this? The police are still around. Would there be any trouble when they saw the state that Trevor is in?"

"No." Sean smiled and stroked Molly's face. "We've helped the police solve such a big case this time and I've already given them a heads up, so there won't be any trouble."

"That's good to hear." Molly breathed a sigh of relief and finally felt relaxed.

When Sean saw the expression on Molly's face, he couldn't help but lower his head and gave her a kiss.

Molly felt a little embarrassed. "Stop that, think about where we're at right now."

Chapter 979-e moon's just right. It's the perfect time to give my wife a kiss."

Molly blushed. "I'm not your wife yet, don't talk nonsense.' 'You're going to be my wife sooner or later. When the matter is solved this time, how about you come back with me to Northfolk? We can let Grandpa Dave meet my parents to discuss our engagement." With that said, Sean curved his lips. "Since you're my girlfriend and also fiancée, it's time to arrange our wedding, right?"

When Molly heard those words, she couldn't help but smile and felt very sweet deep down. A while later, she nodded. 'Okay."

When Sean saw that Molly agreed, he felt very happy and kissed her again.

This time, it was just a little peck on the lips and wasn't a deep kiss.

The two of them talked for a while longer. About 10 minutes later, Tony walked out of the cabin and said in a low voice, "Sir, Trevor's willing to tell everything."

When Sean heard this, he nodded and asked Molly, "Are you coming, or do you want to wait for me outside?"

"I'll go with you," Molly replied confidently.

"Okay." Sean didn't refuse. He held Molly's hand and the two of them came inside together.

In the cabin, Trevor was already lying on the ground in a pretty bad state. His face was pale and his clothes were soaked in sweat. He looked terrible.

Trevor's eyes were wide and his face was filled with pain and horror.

It was obvious that he was tortured.

Sean looked down at Trevor and asked indifferently, 'Talk. Who are you taking orders from?' With trembling lips, Trevor said after a while, "It... it's Jo... Joelle... Herring.' When the name was mentioned, everyone in the room was stunned.

Tony squinted his eyes and said coldly, "Trevor, you should know that lying will do you no good, right?"

'I... I know. I'm... not lying. It's... really Joelle... Herring. She's the one giving me orders! She gave me money and told me to slander Miss May and put the blame on Sharon. It was all her idea. She... she's using my family to threaten me.

She's also the one who arranged for me to go abroad as well. It's her, I swear!"

Trevor quickly tried to explain. Afraid that Sean didn't believe him, he added, "You can check the bank transfers under my wife's name. The reference used Joelle's name, you can get someone to look into it,

Mr. Anderson. Right now, I have nothing to hide anymore. I admit everything that I've done and I deserve everything I'm about to face. I just hope that... that you can let my wife and child go. They're not involved in this matter and are innocent.' With that said, tears trickled down Trevor's face. He regretted his past decisions.

Sean looked at Trevor coldly one last time and then turned to Tony. "Hand him over to the police."

Tony nodded and signaled the subordinates to take Trevor away.

Trevor was still pleading. "Mr. Anderson, please leave my wife and child alone, I beg of you..."

Soon, Trevor was dragged away by the bodyguards.

Inside the cabin, Sean had a dark face when Tony looked at him.

"Sir, it's getting late. I'll drive you and Miss May to the hotel to rest. As for what Trevor had just said, I'll start an investigation on that right away. If what he said is true..."

There was a short pause.

The Herring family and the Anderson family had always gotten along. Things were getting a little complicated right now.

None of them expected that Joelle might look pure and innocent, but deep down she was actually a scheming bitch.

One really shouldn't judge a book by its cover.

"If what Trevor said was real, then I will never forgive Joelle," Sean said without any hesitation.

To Sean, Joelle and the Herring family were nowhere near as important as Molly.

On top of that, Sean had never liked Joelle in the past.

The matters that had happened recently made Sean feel that she had stepped over the line.

Sean was determined to teach Joelle a lesson that she would never forget.

Chapter 980-Soon, Tony arrived at the hotel with Sean and Molly.

It was late into the night. After having a shower, Molly asked the receptionist to deliver a portion of hot soup to her room.

She scooped some soup into a small bowl and placed it in front of Sean.' The night's cold, have some soup to warm yourself up before you go to bed.

'Okay."

Sean nodded, took the bowl and said, "You should drink some as well."

Molly nodded.

The two of them drank some soup, washed up and were about to go to bed.

It was past four o'clock in the morning. The two of them were very exhausted.

Molly helped Sean to get into bed before turning around to head to the guestroom.

However, before she could leave, Sean grabbed her wrist.

'What's wrong?' Molly stopped walking and asked as she looked at Sean.

'Don't go anywhere tonight. Sleep here,' said Sean with dark eyes.

Molly was taken aback and her cheeks blushed. "It's... it's alright. The guestroom isn't far."

I know." Sean tightened his grip around Molly's wrist. His lips curved into a smile. "But you've agreed that we'd talk about our wedding when we get back.

Therefore, we can be seen as husband and wife, right? Besides, I just want to have you in my arms when I sleep. I wouldn't do anything."

After hearing those words, Molly blushed even more.

'What does he mean by he wouldn't do anything?' wondered Molly.

Those words were really ambiguous.

However, Molly wasn't an unreasonable person.

Their relationship at the moment was very intimate. Therefore, there was nothing for her to feel awkward about.

Molly gritted her teeth and nodded in agreement.

She turned off the lights and went to lie on the other side of the bed.

However, she kept a little distance between Sean and herself.

Sean looked at the gap between the two of them and wanted to laugh. He decided to just reach out and pull Molly over.

Molly wasn't expecting this and was pulled directly into Sean's arms.

This made her panic a little and she placed her hands on Sean's chest. It was obvious that she was a little stunned. "Why... why did you just do that?"

Molly sounded very shy when she asked that question.

Sean kissed her on the lips and said, "If I don't pull you over, do you expect me to look at you from a distance? I don't bite. I said that I wasn't going to do anything to you and that's a promise. Do you have no faith in me at all?" "No... it's just that I feel that there should be a process before we get to that point," Molly replied shyly.

Sean smiled and his voice was deep and sexy. 'We've already had three children and we're only at the point of hugging. I feel that we're going very slow already.'

Molly swallowed and instantly felt speechless.

However, she slowly calmed down. This was because Sean kept his word and was only hugging her gently.

Sean also had a very high body temperature, so when Molly rested her head on his chest, she could still hear his heartbeat.

Somehow, she felt at ease.

Therefore, Molly decided not to argue anymore and allowed Sean to wrap his arms around her.

Slowly, Molly felt that her body was warmed up and she was overwhelmed by exhaustion and sleepiness.

Soon, Molly was fast asleep.

Sean fell asleep quite a while later. He felt really happy when he looked at the woman asleep in his arms.

He kissed her on the forehead and said softly, "Goodnight."

On the morning of the next day, as soon as the two of them got out of bed and finished breakfast, Tony arrived.

Tony went to report to Sean. "When Trevor was taken to the police station last night, the police immediately contacted his wife. She sent a few screenshots over, confirming the transactions. The transactions were made using Joelle's personal account. I've already sent the evidence to your phone."

Sean took out his phone and took a look. His eyes turned cold and said, "Go and book the flight tickets. We're going back to Northfolk ASAP." "Okay." Tony quickly left the room.