

Triplets On SM 991

Chapter 991-It was 10 a.m., the appointed time.

Ricky, Alice, and Mr. Anderson Sr. came to Molly's home as promised.

To show their sincerity, Alice was so well-prepared this time.

As soon as she got out of the car, she ordered her butler Alfred, "Carry all the presents inside. Be careful.

Don't get them scraped."

"Yes, madam." Alfred took the order, leading people to carry the presents.

All these exquisite gift boxes were full of expensive and precious items.

Molly was waiting with her family in the house. When she suddenly saw such a scene, she was startled.

Sean came in with his parents and grandfather at the moment.

He still wore a handsome suit today, but his dressing looked more formal than usual. He also had a tie at his collar, and his suit was fully and neatly buttoned, so he looked exceptionally handsome as if he were emitting light.

Standing beside him, Alice and Ricky wore a fishtail gown and a suit respectively, looking so formal.

Mr. Anderson Sr. was strong and energetic, looking imposing.

But now, his eyes were fixed on the three kids sitting beside Molly. The slight excitement in the depths of his eyes was obvious.

Noticing that, the three kids looked at one another.

What happened? Why did this gentleman's eyes light up so suddenly?

Grandpa Dave rose and greeted the guests, asking them to sit down.

He also told Molly, "Molly, pour some tea for Mr. Anderson Sr. and Sean's parents."

Molly nodded, got up naturally, and poured a cup of tea for each of the three elders.

"Grandpa Anderson, Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson, here is your tea."

She was not shy at all.

But Alice felt a little uneasy.

After all, she had made things difficult for Molly many times before. Thus, she had been through some uneasy moments earlier.

Unexpectedly, the May family were naturally friendly.

She took a deep breath, looked at Molly in the eye, and said kindly, "Thank you, Molly."

Molly was dazed for a moment, feeling something new.

It turned out Alice could also talk in this tone.

She smiled and asked the three kids beside her, "Alex, Ben, Claudia, come over and greet your grandpa, grandma, and the one beside them.... urn, your daddy's grandpa. You call him great grandpa. Say hello, kids."

The two boys wore small cute suits, and the girl wore a little skirt, all looking even more delicate.

After hearing their mother's words, the three kids went up obediently and greeted orderly, "Great-grandpa, grandpa, grandma!"

Alice and Ricky had already established a relationship with the three kids. Overjoyed, they responded, "Okay, okay, good kids, great."

This was the first time Mr. Anderson Sr. had met the three children. No doubt, he was excited, his hand even trembling. "Hi, hi...good kids, all of you are looking so pretty! Just like your daddy when he was young. At first glance, I know you're the children of our family. Can you tell me how old you are?"

The three kids blinked and Alex answered clearly, "Yes, of course. We're about to be six! I'm the eldest, named Alex. He is my younger brother, named Ben. The one beside US is the youngest. Her name is Claudia."

"Oh, yeah? Alex, Ben, and Claudia! Mm, good names..."

Mr. Anderson Sr. was so happy that he didn't want to part with them.

He had never thought there were such cute kids in the world.

If possible, he really wanted to keep chatting with them or take them home and build a relationship with them!

Seeing his grandfather's expression, Sean coughed gently and reminded him in a low voice, "Grandpa, let's get down to business first. If you want to communicate with the children, you'll have a lot of opportunities in the future."

Chapter 993-Mr. Anderson Sr. said, 'Yes, Mr. May, anything you want to ask, ask away.'

Ricky and his wife also nodded to agree.

Mr. May Sr. pondered for a moment and said without beating around the bush, "Okay, I'll say it directly! I know Sean and Molly are finally together only after they have gone through suffering and misunderstanding, and their love is so precious. But I know that you people accept our Molly because of the three children.

'To be honest, I don't really like this reason.

'My granddaughter was lost when she was a little baby, and she suffered a lot then. When she grew up, she also suffered a lot of grievances. The Grant family owes her a lot. I even wish to compensate and love her with everything, and his brothers also care about her sincerely. In the eyes of our family, she is a priceless treasure.

"But since Sean is the man she chose, I respect her and hope the two of them can live a happy life. As for you people... I don't think you're reliable!"

Hearing that, Mr. Anderson Sr. was slightly stunned.

Alice and Ricky's expressions also became heavy and serious.

Grandpa Dave continued calmly, "I know you people have been in high status, and you have your own views about things and people. So many people in the outside world are eager to build ties with your family, but money and properties are nothing so valuable for my family. Today I just want to hear your views about the marriage of the two young people.

"If you just accept her on the surface, I'm sorry I won't agree to this marriage or allow the three kids to return to your family."

"My grandpa is right. Previously your family was so picky about my sister. We do need to get this straight. Otherwise, what if she suffers grievances after marrying into your family?"

Having held it so long, Brycen couldn't hold it anymore now.

Now there was a chance, so he spoke immediately.

And his words were direct!

"We're not afraid to offend the Anderson family. We just hope my sister can be happy."

Sawyer followed suit.

After Molly heard all this, her nose twitched somewhat inexplicably.

The people of the Anderson family in front of her had great power and high status.

Ordinary people would be afraid if they met them.

But her grandfather and brothers didn't care about it at all. Instead, they just thought about her happiness.

She subconsciously clenched her hands, wishing to suppress her emotions.

Seeming to have sensed it, Sean couldn't help but reach out his hand and hold hers.

Molly looked sideways and saw that the man was looking at her firmly and affectionately.

The look in his eyes seemed to say, "I'll stand in line with you forever."

Molly's heart instantly became so warm. She thought that even if his parents didn't accept her, everything was worth it!

After a short silence, Mr. Anderson Sr. finally said, "Mr. May, we should indeed pay attention to the problem you mentioned... we accepted Molly truly because of the children. It's natural for you people to have concerns!"

Ricky and Alice also nodded to admit it.

But Alice then said, "Mr. May, no matter what, I should take the blame. In fact, my father-in-law and my husband don't view family status as something so important as you think. Instead, they respect Sean's personal thoughts and opinions.

"Especially my father-in-law. He always loves this grandson so much, and Sean has had independent thinking since his childhood, so my father-in-law always supports his decisions. But I am different. Back then, when I heard a few rumors, I subconsciously denied Molly. I view family status as something so important, and I've done lots of improper things..

Chapter 994-At this point, Alice paused and said with some guilt, "Back then, my husband persuaded me in private, asking me not to interfere, but I was stubborn. I understand your worry, and I also know what's on you people's minds. I can't do anything about the past, but I can seriously say that I accepted Molly not only because of the three grandchildren.

"Ricky and I have been learning about Molly's life lately. We know she is outstanding. Of course, we also know that the rumors at that time were just made-up stories... A few days ago, when she was terribly scandalized, Ricky and I were very worried!

"Of course, saying all this is not to defend me for my previous deeds. Instead, I just want to tell you that we accept Molly sincerely. If she marries into our family, I'll treat her like my own daughter," Alice said to the Anderson family so earnestly.

Ricky also said earnestly, "Yes, we'll be nice to Molly, not only because of the children."

Seeing that the couple swallowed their pride and responded so sincerely, Grandpa Dave was generally satisfied.

"I don't know if the two of you said this because of the current situation, but I've at least seen your sincerity. I'll bear in mind every word you said today."

"Don't worry, Mr. May. I promise Molly won't get the tiniest bit hurt in our family. If you don't believe in me, I can promise that the three kids will keep your family name. If the Anderson family does anything wrong to Molly, we'll return the children to the May family because our family doesn't deserve them. What do you think?"

Mr. Anderson Sr. finally gave his word. No doubt, he hit the nail on the head.

He promised the May family, and he also took off Grandpa Dave's guard!

Naturally, Grandpa Dave knew his intention.

Of course, what he asked for was the Anderson family's attitude!

Since Mr. Anderson Sr. had said that, the May family had no reason to continue to badger.

"Okay, I have your word, and I can put my mind at ease! In this case, I don't object to the marriage of the two young people."

When Grandpa Dave finished speaking, the whole Anderson family heaved a sigh of relief.

Standing by, the three kids had not had a chance to say anything. Seeing that the matter was finally settled, they couldn't help but raise their arms to hooray, "Great! From today on, we can live with Daddy and Mommy justifiably!"

"Daddy, Mommy, congratulations! You're finally to form a marriage bond!"

'Thank Grandpa and Grandma. Thank the two great-grandpas for your help. I love you most.' After that, Claudia went over and kissed their faces one by one.

Mr. Anderson Sr. had never expected the little girl to come and kiss him, so his heart almost melted. "Oh, my little sweetie, how loveable you are!"

The others laughed when seeing his amusing appearance.

Since the problem had been solved, the discussion on the marriage went quite smoothly.

Alice was fully prepared this time. She had asked someone to pick dates for the engagement and wedding.

Then she told the May family about that. "The engagement will be held in three months. After I go back, I'll ask people to prepare the engagement party. As for the wedding, it'll be held next June! Sean is now the one who runs the whole Anderson Corporation. So there are lots of things to prepare for the wedding. It'll take some time. Of course, if you, the May family, think this is too late, then we'll pick earlier dates."

Grandpa Dave didn't comment after hearing that. Instead, he asked his granddaughter, "What do you think?"

Chapter 995-her, "Grandma, it should be a triple blessing. Daddy and Mommy's marriage has been settled.

That's a blessing. We became a family. That's one. Daddy's leg is recovering. That's another."

"Right, you're right," Alice immediately agreed.

The others all laughed when hearing that.

At noon, the two families had lunch together with great joy. After that, Ricky and Alice were going to take Mr.

Anderson Sr. home.

But the old man was unwilling to leave. "It's been so long since I chatted with Sean last time. I'll stay in his place tonight."

Sean arched his eyebrows slightly, seeing through his intention at first glance. 'Do you want to chat with me or see your great-grandchildren?'

"Of course, chat with you. What? You don't welcome me?"

Mr. Anderson Sr. wore a straight face, not wishing to admit it.

"Yes, I do. Then let's chat. It happens that so many things happened at the company. I'll report them to you. A night is enough," Sean said.

'Who wants to chat with you for a night? Get lost!'

Mr. Anderson Sr. pushed his grandson away with a disgusted face and said to the three kids, "Sweeties, can you tell me what you usually like to do and play with?"

The three kids blinked and answered cutely, "Of course, we can."

Overjoyed, Mr. Anderson Sr. took the three kids into the car, showing he was not going back.

Seeing that, Brycen couldn't help but remind Grandpa Dave, "Grandpa, my nephews and niece now have one more great-grandpa. Will you lose their love?"

Grandpa Dave was stunned.

When they talked about the marriage, he had not thought of this. Now, reminded by his grandson, he finally realized it. Someone wanted to take his beloved great-grandchildren from him!

He regretted it somewhat. "Is it so late to object to the marriage now?" "It's too late, Grandpa Dave! Molly is mine!" Sean held Molly's hand and answered.

And he reminded him, "But if you get in the car now, you can save the situation.

My grandpa won't be able to take away your great-grandchildren.' Hearing that, Grandpa Dave couldn't care so much. He immediately left and caught up with Mr. Anderson Sr.'s car.

Seeing this, Molly didn't know whether to laugh or cry. "How come you set a trap for your grandpa?"

'For our happiness, I have to use my grandpa for a while," Sean said righteously.

Molly chuckled.

Alice and Ricky also thought it funny. "Since your grandpa wants to stay, let him stay for a few days. We're going home now."

Not objecting, Sean bade goodbye to his parents, 'Okay. Take care on the way."

Brycen and the others got in their cars and left.

In the end, only Molly, Sean, and Tony were left behind.

"Let's also go back, shall we?" Molly said to the man beside her in a good mood.

But Sean shook his head. "We're not going back. I'll take you somewhere."

"Hum?"

Molly looked at him in surprise. 'Where to?"

Sean smiled and said, "If I tell you, it will not be a surprise. You'll know later today."

Chapter 996-Soon, Sean asked Tony to drive over.

After they got in the car, the car went all the way to the outside of the city and even got on the highway.

Molly became more and more puzzled. Where were they going? It seemed too far. But she didn't ask out of trust in Sean.

About two hours later, the car finally stopped. Molly was drowsy and looked out the window.

What caught the eye was a luxurious manor villa standing on the top of the mountain in a retro style, and the surrounding private gardens were carefully built.

Pavilions and corridors surrounded the center with rockeries and an artificial lake, and the scenery was extremely spectacular.

"Where is...?" After Molly got out of the car, she looked around and couldn't help but marvel.

It was far more luxurious than Terahis Grove!

After Sean got out of the car, he responded, "It's a vacation manor that Grandpa built for Grandma, and it was transferred to my name later. When I was little, I lived here for a while. When things didn't go my way, I would come here and stay for a while. I want to show you."

"Really?" Molly was quite interested, "Then can I see some traces of your childhood?"

Sean thought for a while, and then said with a smile, "Yes!"

"Well, what are we waiting for? Let's go." Molly was in high spirits and soon pushed Sean in.

Seeing this, Tony disappeared with great insight.

The two traveled along the bluestone path. Many precious flowers were planted on both sides of the path.

Sean introduced them one by one, "Grandma planted these by herself. She liked flowers very much. There is also a garden behind the villa, and she built it by herself."

After Molly looked at it, she couldn't help but praise, "Grandma must be a very patient and gentle person."

Sean said with a smile, "Yes, I liked living with Grandma very much. When I was a child in the Anderson residence, I was learning management knowledge and various social etiquette every day. It was like a cage. But with Grandma, I could do whatever I wanted..."

As they spoke, they stepped onto a bridge.

Under the bridge was the artificial lake where the water was crystal clear and fish were swimming around.

Sean pointed to the water, and said with a smile, "The koi fish here were also raised by Grandma."

Hearing his words, Molly poked her head to look and indeed saw koi fish of various colors. Some were surprisingly fat.

However, after watching for a while, Molly suddenly discovered that there were not only koi fish in the lake, but also other types of fish, and even pet turtles.

Sean cleared his throat lightly and said, "I put them here because I thought raising koi fish was too simple. At that time, I thought about raising something else, so I put two crocodiles in. Within a few days, there were no koi fish left inside. Later, Grandma said I am not allowed to put crocodiles and asked me to keep other species, so there were more varieties."

Molly couldn't help laughing, "Well, Mr. Anderson, I'm surprised you did such a stupid thing when you were a child."

Sean also laughed...

Then, the two went to other places and finally entered the house.

The decorations and furniture in the house were very simple, and it seemed some had been used, but it could be seen that they were very expensive.

However, in the front hall, Molly saw something incompatible with these decorations. It was a height measuring stick taped to the wall! There were even some scales on it.

Molly suppressed a smile and asked, "Mr. Anderson, did you use it to measure your height when you were little?"

Sean did not deny it and smiled, "Grandma made it. I was measured once a year."

Molly couldn't help imagining the scene of him standing here to measure his height and found it very cute.

Chapter 997-“I thought you didn’t have a childhood. But now it seems it’s not true.” Speaking of this, she couldn’t help but want to tease him, so she raised her hand and pinched Sean’s cheek, “Baby Sean, do you want to measure it to see if you have grown taller?”

Sean looked at her with a faint smile, “Baby Molly, I advise you not to play with fire.”

Molly still didn’t hold back, and teased, “Just measure it. I will help you.”

With that, she stretched out her hand and was about to help him. But she was pulled over before she touched him.

“No need to measure. I’m 6 foot 2. Not lying. Compared with measuring height, I prefer to measure your sizes...” He whispered in her ear.

Then, he leaned over and kissed her lips, wrapping his hands around her waist tightly.

Molly’s ears went numb, not only because he was talking in her ear, but also because his voice was so seductive.

She blushed and scolded herself for making a mistake. She had failed to tease him and ended up being teased by him instead.

She could feel that Sean’s kiss was menacing with a hint of predation. Molly’s mind went blank, and she could only let him do it.

After a while, just when she felt that the air in her lungs was about to be sucked dry, she suddenly felt that Sean’s hands were moving on her back... inch by inch.

Molly froze and opened her eyes. Sean happened to be looking at her too.

In his cold eyes, there was intense lust and sparks of love.

Molly suddenly seemed to be on fire, and her legs felt weak.

“Sean...” Her heart was beating wildly, and her voice trembled a little.

Sean swallowed, and he replied hoarsely, “Yes.”

“You...” Molly trembled, and she wanted to say something, but her mind seemed to be a mess, and she couldn’t say anything.

Seeing her like that, Sean almost lost control. She was charming and fatally seductive!

But in the end, reason prevailed.

He stopped in time, pulled her into his arms, bit her ear as if punishing her, and said, “Do you dare to tease me again in the future?”

Molly almost buried her head in his chest and said, “No...”

Looking at her ostrich-like posture, Sean couldn’t help laughing dotingly.

Later, both of them calmed down and continued their visit.

Outside, the sky gradually darkened, and the lights in the manor were turned on.

At this time, Tony finally appeared, “Mr. Anderson, dinner is ready.”

Sean nodded and took Molly’s hand, “Let’s go. I’ll take you to dinner.”

“Okay.” Molly took his hand sweetly and was ready to go to the dining room with him.

Unexpectedly, Sean took her to the back garden.

When they arrived, Molly saw the flowers in the garden, all decorated with lights, and the wooden table in the pavilion was filled with delicious dinner and candlelight.

Under the sky full of stars, the picture in front of her was extremely shocking, like a dream.

Molly was stunned, unable to recover for a moment.

Seeing this, Sean squeezed her hand very gently, and said, "When Grandma was still alive, she told me that if I met someone I wanted to spend the rest of my life with, I should bring her to this place to have a look. Today, I want to bring you here."

Molly was deeply touched. She had always thought that Sean was indifferent and stable and that he would not do anything romantic. But in fact, he would do anything for her every time.

The lights around were dazzling, but Molly couldn't see anything else but the man in front of her.

Chapter 998-ted with flower petals and candles, and the atmosphere was excellent.

There are two glasses of red wine on the table. And the bright red looked a little bewitching under the light.

During the meal, Sean suddenly said, "Try this wine. It's one of my grandma's collections. She made laborious efforts to find it."

Molly nodded, picked the glass up, and took a sip. It was slightly sweet. When the taste spread in her mouth, she wanted to savor it more. But suddenly, she heard a clang. She was stunned and showed a confused look, thinking she had heard it wrong.

Sean looked at her with a smile but did not give her any hint.

When Molly tentatively joggled the glass again, the crisp sound became clearer.

She looked at him in surprise and asked, "What is it?"

Then, he showed a handsome smile and replied, "You won't know until you finish the wine."

"Are you trying to give me another surprise?" Molly smiled. He had successfully aroused her curiosity, so she raised her head and drank up the wine without hesitation.

Sean didn't expect her to be so reckless, but he didn't stop her after raising his eyebrows. After all, she would not get drunk after merely drinking a glass of wine.

Now, Molly finally saw the thing at the bottom of the glass. It was a red diamond ring! It looked quaint, but she could see it was a piece of top-notch jewelry.

When she froze in shock, Sean raised his hand to take the ring over, carefully wiped it, and said, "My grandma left a set of priceless jewelry for her granddaughter-in-law. Although our marriage is settled, I must give you a formal proposal. Molly, will you marry me?"

Under the bright light, he was holding the ring in front of her. And his eyes were full of sincerity and affection.

Molly covered her mouth, unable to speak. Sean had given her too many surprises today. Therefore, she was so happy that she felt everything unreal!

When she came back to her senses after a while, she said with tears in her eyes, "Yes, I will."

Although he had long known her answer, he still felt touched.

So, his expression became gentler when he took her hand and put the ring on her finger, saying, "After you put on the ring, you will become mine. You won't be able to run away no matter what in the future."

"OK!" Molly smiled brightly, "I won't run away because I don't want to do so at all!"

She felt satisfied to stay by his side, so she would never want to escape...

After dinner, they spent a sweet time in the back garden. And Sean did not urge Molly to go to bed until ten o'clock. She would return to Xesxia tomorrow morning, so she felt a little bit unwilling to part with him. However, she must go back to work, so she obediently went back to her room.

At night, Molly had a nightmare in which She saw herself dying and breaking off the engagement with Sean cruelly. And she remained indifferent no matter how he tried to beg her to stay.

Suddenly, she woke up with a start, not knowing why she had had such a dream. Maybe it was because her life had been too smooth and sweet recently that she had had a nightmare. She didn't think much but quickly lay down to continue sleeping.

Chapter 999-plain, "Daddy, you are bad! You monopolized Mommy and even stayed out all night with her."

Sean coaxed them, saying, "We had something big to do last night, so it was inconvenient to take you with us."

The triplets pouted and asked, "What's the big thing? Can't you tell us?"

Brycen interrupted, "They tried to make a baby last night, so they could not let you kids watch! Sean, you are much too eager!

Although your marriage is settled, you two have not married yet! Can't you restrain yourself?"

Before Sean could reply, Molly said furiously, "Brycen, shut up! Stop talking nonsense in front of children!"

Brycen shrank his neck and said, "Fine! I won't say it anymore."

Molly, you should guard against him. You're a girl, so you must protect yourself outside!"

Molly was both angry and amused. She was afraid Brycen would continue talking nonsense, so she told him the truth, saying, "The big thing Sean mentioned is that he proposed to me last night."

You're thinking nonsense. Stop creating rumors! Do you hear me?"

"Really? Did he propose to you? What a pity! We should have participated!"

Daddy, you are stingy."

"Yes..."

Hearing the triplets happily complaining, Sean had no choice but to comfort them, saying, "Tony recorded a video. I'll show it to you when I get back."

Hearing this, the kids finally stopped complaining.

After the call, it was time for Molly to board the plane. She said goodbye to Sean and then went through the security check. After arriving in Xesxia, she headed back to the research laboratory nonstop.

Although she had been absent during the past few days, the research and development progress had not been delayed.

Lynn soon reported to her the work progress and some problems they had encountered. Then, Molly started to deal with them one by one.

Seeing her during lunch break, Cody got excited and said, "Dr.

Joye, long time no see. I thought you wouldn't come back!"

Mario and Laila also came over, and the latter said with concern, "Cody had been preoccupied for days because he was worried about you. Of course, we were also worried. Dr. Joye, are you okay? All the previous affairs have been clarified, so no one dares to slander you now."

Molly felt warm in her heart, so she said with a smile, "I'm fine. I had been absent for a few days because I went back to Northfolk. Don't worry."

Seeing her usual bright smile, the three students also beamed with joy. Cody said, "That's good! Dr. Joye, will you go back to teach us? 11 Molly was in a good mood, so she bantered with them, saying, "Yes. Don't miss my class on Wednesday. Otherwise, you can't blame me for deducting your credits."

The three students felt relieved and said happily, "Don't worry, we will never miss your class."

On Wednesday, Molly went back to school to give a lecture as scheduled.

Before entering the classroom, she was mentally prepared to see a lot of students absent. Unexpectedly, the classroom was full as usual. She was a little surprised but maintained a calm face while slowly walking up to the podium.

When she was about to speak, all the students stood up all of a sudden.

Molly was stunned for a moment and then smiled, "What are you...? 11 Before she could finish her question, the students suddenly bowed and said, "Dr. Joye, I'm sorry!"

The unanimous apology resounded throughout the classroom.

Chapter 1000-Before Molly could react, the students had already stood together, bowed to her, and said one after another, "I'm sorry, Ms. May. I heard the rumors and misunderstood you, and criticized you on the forum. I'm sorry."

"I scolded you. I've regretted it so much these days. I wanted to apologize to you in person! I'm sorry!"

"Thank you for still being willing to come back to teach. You are my role model.

In the future, I will try to be a doctor like you."

"Ms. May, I've always believed that you were not that kind of person. Later I found that I was right. Thank you for being willing to come back to teach under such circumstances. You are my idol..."

More and more voices resounded in the classroom. There was guilt, remorse, and support...They kept apologizing.

Molly was deeply shocked, and she couldn't speak for a long time on the podium.

After a while, these voices gradually subsided, and suddenly a student came to the podium holding flowers.

Following the first student, more and more students followed suit. Before long, more than a dozen bundles were piled up on the podium.

Molly took a deep breath, suppressed her emotions, and joked, "Thanks, but don't send me flowers anymore. If you send more, I will have nowhere to stand.

I'm afraid I'll have to stand on the table and give a lecture to you! But ...thank you for being so considerate. Well, let's get over it. Also, I'm telling you, I've been delayed for ten minutes, and I have to delay the class..."

The students roared with laughter when they heard this. Their lively and interesting teacher Dr. Joye was back.

“No problem. It can be postponed until the next class.” One of the students shouted.

Molly said with a smile, “That’s not possible. Other teachers may chase me down.”

The students were amused again.

After invigorating the atmosphere, Molly finally got to the point and started lecturing.

At the end of the class, the students were still unsatisfied and felt that Dr. Joye’s lecture was indeed different.

Every time a most difficult question came to her, it became much easier to understand.

After class, Molly went back to the office and received flowers one after another.

Many teachers came to express their apologies. They all felt sorry for having listened to the rumors and misunderstood her.

Wayne also came.

Seeing Molly surrounded by flowers, he smiled and said, “ Congratulations, Dr.

May. You have been cleared of all charges.”

Molly was very helpless, “Mr. Harrison, please don’t tell me that you are also here to send flowers.”

“I won’t send you flowers.” Wayne let out a laugh, “I only send flowers after doing something wrong. I have always believed in you from the beginning to the end.”

Molly heaved a sigh of relief, and also laughed, “Thank you, Mr. Harrison.”

Wayne waved his hand, and continued, “But I came here because I have something for you.”

“What is it?” Molly asked.

Wayne handed over an envelope and said, “Your mail arrived yesterday and I’ve kept it for you.”

Molly reached out to take it, and thanked him, “Thank you, Mr. Harrison.”

She wondered who sent this.

Looking at the wax seal on it, she found it quite formal!

Molly opened it directly and quickly took out an invitation letter from the envelope.

The invitation letter was very retro in design, with a light purple background and golden dragon patterns.

There was a row of black fonts on the cover “To Dr. Joye Private”.

When Wayne saw it, he was obviously taken aback, and then he said in shock, “This is an invitation letter for the Shepard family’s free clinic!!!”
