

Triplets secret 21

Chapter 21

Zhong Zhen came back home while Wen He and Zhong Tianyou were immersed in a movie called 'Big Headed Son and Small Headed Father' on the computer.

"I'm back!" she yelled happily. "Wen He, why did you keep allowing him to stay in front of the computer? Did they not give him any homework?" asked Zhong Zhen.

It wasn't her intention to be fussy. As a mother, she had all the best intentions for her son. She was actually concerned about his health as there were rumors about too much exposure to electronics that could adversely affect the user's health. Hence, it wasn't strange for her not wanting her son to be spending too much time in front of the computer.

"Your highness, you have finally arrived. I will be sending him to sleep after watching this bit. Did you mean his homework from the kindergarten? We have already done it long ago." said Wen He sarcastically while staring at Zhong Zhen. "You said he'd be precocious if I let him learn too much, so I'm now allowing him to watch the cartoons. And now you're telling me he's not allowed to? What is your problem?" grumbled Wen He.

Wen He had a point. As Zhong Zhen did not have the time and energy to raise her own child, she should not be too nit-picky.

"Zhong Zhen, Aunt He has treated me well. That being said, I am already a grownup and I know what I'm doing. You just have to worry about yourself," muttered Zhong Tianyou as he glanced at her.

Zhong Zhen's gaze met with Wen He's for a moment. What a remarkable kid. He is even more eloquent than an adult!

"Oh, did you two not realize there is something different about me?" said Zhong Zhen as she twirled around her feet, slightly annoyed at how her beautiful clothes went unnoticed.

"Who gave you that? How generous! Is it your sugar daddy?" said Wen He as her eyes sparkled.

"Is this some kind of branded clothes? How shallow you girls are, getting all excited with a piece of clothing!" said Zhong Tianyou sneakily.

Zhong Zhen stared at her son in shock. Don't be fooled by his youth and inexperience. He knows how the world works and he is able to utilize it so naturally. This puts even me as an adult to shame!

Zhong Zhen signaled to Wen He to stop the topic of the conversation. "Honey, did you miss me?" said Zhong Zhen as she hugged and kissed Zhong Tianyou on the cheek. "How about I make you your favorite rice b***s for breakfast tomorrow?"

"Don't you have anything that you want to discuss with me?" sighed Zhong Tianyou.

This kid is loo sensible!

"You are being too cautious," said Wen He sadly. "Don't worry, we will take good care of you."

She spoke of the truth. Putting aside her feelings for Zhong Zhen, she really cared for Zhong Tianyou. Not only was he adorable, but he was also a sensible kid. While she enjoyed spending time with him, there was also a faint sense of pity.

The matter at hand was urgent and required an early preparation. As Zhong Zhen did not have any time to waste, she tried to steer the conversation back to the main topic. "I must reach my workplace at 7 tomorrow. It will take around 30 minutes if I drive and at least an hour if I were to take the public transport. So..." said Zhong Zhen as she glanced at both of them.

"I will fetch him to and from the kindergarten. You can count on me!" interrupted Wen He. "Work is pretty lax lately as my superior has given me a week or two to get used to the surroundings."

If it wasn't for her superior I wouldn't be able to imagine how I'm going to get out of this situation, Zhong Zhen thought to herself.

"Don't worry, as long as Aunt He will be fetching me there shouldn't be any problem," said Zhong Tianyou.

Zhong Zhen could do nothing but feel guilty. For the sake of a better future, the current hardships were nothing. Soon, it would be over.

"You have my thanks!" cheered Zhong Zhen as she went to kiss them both.

"Hold up, I don't swing that way!" said Wen He as she tried to stop her kiss.

"What is this?" cried Zhong Tianyou with a face of disgust. "Unbelievable!"

He climbed off the couch as the episode for the cartoon had just ended. "I'll be going to bed. Sleep well ladies!"

"Good night sweetheart!" said Zhong Zhen apologetically as she watched her son tucking himself to bed.

Kids of his age would crave for hugs and cuddles. We both have gone through a lot. But it's because of him that my life is full of wonders!

Zhong Tianyou had always been her pillar of strength.

"What are you waiting for? Go and help him! We can talk later!" Not only Wen He felt bad for Zhong Tianyou, but for Zhong Zhen as well. How could she fathom the feeling of raising a child on one's own?

Zhong Zhen put her bag aside and went into her son's room. She attempted to help him change his clothes. "I'm already a grown up. You don't really have to worry about me. We should both give it our best, is that a deal?" said Zhong Tianyou as he stubbornly refused her mom's assistance.

Watching him falling asleep, there was a sense of guilt in Zhong Zhen's heart. She walked out the room with a faint feeling of sadness.

“It’s fine. Your child is really outstanding. You should also strive to be as excellent as he is, or else there won’t be anyone believing that you are his mother!” mocked Wen He.

There might be some truth to it. However, a lot of things in this world cannot be achieved with mere effort.

“Stop goofing around. You should avoid teaching him things that are not of his age. Anyway, I have something important to discuss!” Despite all of that, Zhong Zhen’s mood was still happy in general.

Based on the current situation, they had both come to a consensus that the boy should be sent to a boarding kindergarten. He would only return home once every week.

Wen He’s job was relatively lax for these two weeks. She was only required to report back to her superiors and get used to the surroundings. Hence, Wen He was only a temporary solution. Zhong Zhen would still need to take matters into her own hands.

“Why do you look so gleeful? Did you come across someone handsome?” asked Wen He as she raised her eyebrows.

Wen He regarded Zhong Zhen as someone relatively transparent. She was able to read Zhong Zhen’s emotions like a book. Even though Zhong Zhen denied her claim, she couldn’t hide her happiness at all. It was apparent from her face!

The next morning, Zhong Zhen climbed out of her bed, made breakfast as she had promised and left the house hurriedly.

It wasn’t until she had left the house that she realized the majority of the public transport only began operating at 6 a.m. She couldn’t afford to be late on her first day of work. She had to rent a car as there was no other way.

However, she arrived too early. It was only half past six when she arrived. There was a park nearby with a pleasant environment. She thought to spend her time exercising in the park.
