

Triumph 541

Chapter 541 Indecent Thoughts

Yulia pushed Skylar away as soon as he said that. She was so embarrassed by it that she covered her blushing face with her hands. It was only then did Skylar snap back to his senses. Empty... He thought to himself. If he remembered correctly, the first time he heard that was when he met Dudley and Judy. He did not expect Yulia to have indecent thoughts. So, he burst out laughing.

When he was just about to tease Yulia even more, Lola asked, "Daddy, what does emptying mean? Is that a really funny thing?" Lola's excitement only made Yulia feel worse.

"Hmph, it's all your fault, Skylar! Why must you use that word!" Yulia exclaimed.

Skylar nodded with a laugh and said, "Alright, my bad. I shouldn't have tempted you to think indecently, honey."

"Stop it!" Yulia stomped her feet furiously.

Suddenly, a staff member walked by her office, which prompted Skylar to focus as he said, "Say honey, a talent scout came to our house earlier today. He wanted Lola to stream for them and I've signed the contract since Lola was interested in it. I mean, money isn't an issue. I just want Lola to have fun."

Yulia was no longer as mad when Lola was mentioned. So, she nodded and said, "Yeah, I have no problem with it if you think it's alright."

However, Lola complained that she was hungry after more small talk, so Skylar brought both Yulia and Lola for lunch.

Yulia spent the next few days pouring all of her hard work into the production of the new product while Skylar was tasked with taking care of Lola. Those were simple yet fulfilling days for him.

James' staff members had delivered and set up the live streaming equipment after two days had gone by. While that was going on, Southville Entertainment agency had started promoting Lola streaming for them in every single social media platform. This resulted in an uptick of attention on social media. Millions of fans were excited to watch her stream and were discussing what kind of outfits she would wear during her livestream.

Meanwhile, Harry was scrolling through his phone in a mansion in the capital. A middle-aged man could be seen entering the living room. He asked, "Did you call for me, sir?"

Harry replied without looking at him, "Have you taken care of the task I told you to?"

The man opened up a folder and said, "The anti-blemish cream that we've produced has taken over all of the major markets aside from the ones under the Fitz family's control. According to how things are going now, I believe that we can match Kareem Fashion's market share in a week."

Harry felt smug after hearing that, so he said, "Hmph! I'm not afraid of you, Skylar. So, you want to collect a hundred-billion dollars from me, right? Well, I can bankrupt your wife's company with a single word!"

"There is something that I'm not sure if I should inform you or not..." The man hesitated.

Chapter 542 That's Not All

"Speak! Why are you hesitating?" Harry yelled.

The man dared not hide anything from Harry, so he replied, "Sir, most of the cities have chosen to obey the merchant guild's order. But, there are three cities that chose to ignore our orders."

"Which three?" Harry asked in a serious tone. He did not expect there were three cities bold enough to disrespect the merchants guild. One should know that the merchants guild controlled eighty percent of the state's economy, it would be more than capable of completely disrupting any industries in the state.

"Cloudtopia, Troiz and Maersk County, sir." The man shot a quick glance at Harry and continued, "I'm uncertain why the market in those three cities would only accept the anti-blemish cream produced by Kareem Fashions. They wouldn't allow any of our products into their cities despite our low offers."

"What? They wouldn't even allow our products to enter their market?" Harry seemed confused to hear that. He was wondering if the wealthiest families in those three cities had some sort of working relationship with Kareem Fashions.

No, I don't think that's it. That isn't enough reason for them to defy the merchants guild.

Suddenly, Harry's train of thought was interrupted by someone saying, "Sir, sir... We received word from Cloudtopia..." A young bodyguard rushed in and said, "Kareem Fashions has announced to stop production on their anti-blemish cream. However, they also announced a new product. They called it the skin glistening cream. They will be livestreaming their new product launch in half an hour. Yulia is in control of everything in Cloudtopia, but Amanda is appointed as the ambassador here in the capital."

"What? A new product? They're going to launch it in the capital and Cloudtopia at the same time?" Harry looked bitter as soon as he heard that.

Apparently, the only reason why he was confident in winning against Kareem Fashions was because he got their formula and also replicated the same product. If that was not the case, the Fitz family would ignore the merchants guild's orders. However, he did not expect Kareem Fashions to launch a different product. This had completely disrupted his plans. He was not sure if the new product would have the same effects as the anti-blemish cream as before.

"Take me to the product launch right now!" Harry exclaimed while picking up his jacket.

Meanwhile in the Fitz family Corporation's product launch. Amanda could be seen answering questions on stage. Due to their reputation, there were more than a hundred journalists who attended the product launch. There were also a lot of people gathered to watch the launch. It was a true spectacle to behold. However, there were also more than a few thousand people watching the launch live online. This product launch had overtaken the popularity of the anti-blemish cream in a few short minutes. This product was important to people who had obvious scars. This was exactly why the anti-blemish cream would definitely sell well in the future. However, the skin glistening cream would be a completely different story.

Chapter 543 It's Too Late

Apparently, Amanda had promised everyone that the skin glistening cream would make everyone's face glisten after only using it for a short while. She also said that continuous use could slow down aging and reversing aging would no longer be a dream to everyone. This product sounded like a miracle to people who absolutely cared about their appearance, especially Yulia who applied skin care products on her face everyday. Those people were terrified of aging. If the product truly did what Amanda claimed it could do, this product would be incredibly popular to every single woman in the entire world. Some men might even use it in secret. That was because anyone would want to look their best. This was exactly why there were so many people who attended the product launch.

Harry was immediately greeted by the crowd and this made him bitter. He could hear the crowd cheer before he could even get close to the podium. Apparently, Amanda had given everyone a demonstration by applying the cream on a few staff members before the Q&A session. Everyone immediately noticed the area that had the cream applied looked more radiant than the areas that was not applied. The demonstration captivated the hearts of everyone and they wanted to buy piles of it immediately. This scene infuriated Harry.

"Dammit!" He yelled before telling his secretary, "I want you to call the quality control company that works with us. I don't want that product sold!"

"Yes sir!" The secretary replied and was ready to make the phone call. However, Amanda picked up the microphone again and said, "I believe everyone has witnessed a small part of the cream's effect. I can assure you that you will be even more surprised if you continue using it. But, there is a bigger question to be answered and that is the most important question to everyone. I believe everyone is concerned about the side effects, so in order to put your mind at ease, I have already contacted some quality control personnel to test our product in front of everyone. Please feel free to film the whole process."

A group of people appeared as soon as Amanda said that. They were all holding a lot of testing equipment. After setting up the equipment, they began analyzing the cream's components.

Seeing this infuriated Harry further as he never expected Amanda to be this thorough. He understood that it was too late for him to call anyone at the moment.

Chapter 544 Selling Out

"Sir... Sir, do you still want me to make that phone call?" The secretary asked awkwardly.

"What do you f*cking think! Scram!" Harry yelled and strode right back to the parking lot. He yelled, "Skylar, Yulia! How dare you pull this stunt against me! I will never let you go!"

Meanwhile in Skylar's mansion an hour later. Yulia could be seen jumping up in the air excitedly as she cheered. "This is awesome, Skylar! Amanda just told me that the product launch at the capital was a success. The crowd had all pre-ordered our product and based on initial projections, I'm pretty sure that we have to give her our first batch of product. What's more important is that Amanda's company has only increased their orders. This product is selling a lot better than the anti-blemish cream."

"Shouldn't you reward me with something then, honey?" Skylar teased. Apparently, he expected this outcome, so it was not surprising to him. What he hoped for was for Yulia to show him a little more appreciation.

"You... What do you want?" Yulia was stunned for a moment before sinking fully in her thoughts. She knew that everything she had was all thanks to Skylar. She knew that Skylar could get pretty much anything he wanted, so she had no idea what she could possibly give him.

Skylar hugged Yulia when he noticed how serious she looked, so he grinned and said, "You can give your entire self to me!"

Yulia blushed as soon as she heard that. This immediately made her wonder if she should just give him what he wanted that night, but she was interrupted by Skylar as he said, "Oh honey, you don't have to do that. I was just joking. All you have to do is kiss me." He pointed at his lips after that.

Yulia glared at him when he said that. She felt like Skylar was a completely different person when he was at home. Hmph! I needed to show him how I feel.

It seemed that she had completely forgotten that she had promised Skylar to do whatever that she was thinking about earlier after marriage.

"What are you thinking about, honey? Are you unhappy about kissing me?" Skylar asked.

After a good long while, Yulia was startled by her thoughts as she could not believe that she was complaining about Skylar. She felt like a married person and this was not her usual behavior, so she thought to herself, I need to hold back! I need to keep myself together!

Suddenly, while Yulia was distracted, Skylar ambushed her by pressing his lips against hers.

Lola finally made her streaming debut two days later. When she finally arrived home from school, Skylar had cooked her a wonderful dinner. After that, she got into an adorable pink princess outfit as she got ready for her stream. Skylar was tasked with setting up her equipment while Yulia was manning the camera. She wanted to record Lola's stream as a precious memory. Soon, Lola's debut finally began.

Chapter 545 Beta Male

"Greetings everyone! My name is Lola and I'm four and a half years old this year!" Lola greeted everyone as soon as the stream went live.

"Whoa, Lola is so polite!"

"She looks even more adorable here than she did in the video!"

"Gosh, my heart melted just by listening to her speak."

"I am traumatized by marriage, but man, after seeing her, I really do want to get married and have a daughter just like her!"

Soon, comments flooded the stream. If it was not for Skylar's impeccable vision, no one would be able to catch up with what the commenters were saying. It seemed that James was right as Lola really did have countless amazing fans. The marketing campaign his agency did in the last two days really worked.

It seemed that the fans were already starting to send Lola gifts after commenting on her stream. Some had sent her 100 bits, someone gifted her 10 subs, someone else also gifted her 50 subs.

...

As soon as the gifts started coming, everyone in the comments started fighting over it.

Lola's stream had gained the first spot on the entire platform before she was even done singing her first song. However, she was stunned as soon as she was done because she was shocked by the amount of gifts she received from the viewers. When she noticed the amount of people watching her stream, she decided to introduce her parents to the viewers. So, Skylar pulled Yulia into frame and greeted the viewers while Lola said, "This is my daddy and my mommy."

Somehow their introduction had started another wave of uproar.

"Whoa, is that the same Skylar that slapped the lady? He's so cool!"

"You have a really pretty mother, Lola!"

"Gosh, the entire family is perfect! I love them!"

Yulia blushed when she read the comments. Although she had been praised ever since she was little, this was the first time she was praised by so many at the same time. All of that was all thanks to Lola.

Apparently, even Skylar was overwhelmed by the amount of praise

At that moment, he felt like a beta male. So, he said, "Hey Lola, I noticed that someone wanted to watch you play the leaf. Let me grab some real quick." Skylar left the scene immediately after that.

This stunned Yulia for a moment before bursting out laughing as she tried to cover it with her hands. This was the first time she saw Skylar that awkward. So, the entire two hour stream was filled with laughter. There were also some very old people around Lola's age watching her stream. They were all charmed by her adorable nature. Since most people were stressed, Lola's singing was able to captivate their souls. This only made them love her more. Her stream felt very therapeutic to them.

Chapter 546 Uninvited Guest

When the stream was nearing its end, everyone agreed to wait for Lola again the next day at the same time before sending her another wave of gifts. Apparently, she had completely overtaken all of the other streamers on the platform. Especially the previous top streamer who went by the same, Darlinglisa. She was livid when she noticed that all of her fans had flocked over to Lola's stream. She yelled, "What is wrong with them! What's so good about a completely new streamer!" All she could do was complain as there was nothing that she could do at the moment. Lola's stream had completely broken new records on the platform as her view count peaked at nearly a hundred million viewers. Those were actual viewers and no bots were paid to manipulate the data. Apparently, the agency had originally planned to send five or six people over to Lola's stream to cheer her up with some gifts, but they realized that they were not even needed because there were literally waves of gifts that were gifted by the viewers. She had made them more profit in two hours than any other streamers they signed on with.

This prompted the agency's owner to invest all of that stream's earnings back to Lola's next stream, but Skylar and his family paid no mind to all of that. That was because what mattered most to them was Lola's happiness.

Skylar had also read some of the comments to her as a bedtime story which made her laugh. So, she went to bed far later than usual.

After dropping Lola off at her kindergarten the next day, Skylar headed straight to Kareem Fashions with Yulia. However, not long after they were in their office, the new assistant entered and said, "Ms. Sue, a Mr. Lucas is here to see you."

"Mr. Lucas?" Yulia was stunned to hear that.

"Yeah, a man in his fifties. He was wearing a suit too." Her assistant answered politely.

An image flashed across Yulia's mind, but she felt uncertain, so she nodded and said, "Send him in."

"Will do, Ms. Sue," replied the assistant.

The assistant returned with a middle-aged man after two minutes.

Yulia was stunned as soon as she saw the man. That was because she was right. That man was none other than the man she met in front of her mother's grave, Geoffrey Lucas. She remembered him telling her to call him uncle if she was willing too, but he left after some small talk. So, his sudden appearance then was not as overwhelming to her. She did not expect him to show up unannounced that day. She noticed that he was smiling at her while she was stunned, but she still spoke first. "Is there anything I can help you with, Mr. Lucas?"

Geoffrey smiled and said, "So it seems that you're still unwilling to call me uncle."

This made Yulia uncomfortable. She knew that she had no reason to call him uncle despite him being her mother's biological brother. Besides, he had always been absent in her life anyway. She had no memory of her mother's family. Moreover, she had Skylar's support then, so life was amazing to her already.

Chapter 547 Mr. Lucas' Wish

It no longer mattered to her if she had no ties with her extended family ever since her mother's passing. Which was why she refused to call him uncle. After noticing Yulia's displeasure, Geoffrey said, "It seems that I've gone too far since I understand why you're unwilling to. I mean, it's our family who has wronged your mother and has been absent in your life. You know, I've told your grandpa about meeting you at your mother's grave. This made him miss her, you know. The thing is, I'm here today to help your grandpa fulfill his wishes. He wanted to know if you'd be willing to come to the capital and visit him. Oh, I was also told that you have a daughter, he wanted to meet her too."

When he noticed her silence, Geoffrey walked closer and said, "You might not know much about the past, Yulia. I'm not sure what spell your mom was under all those years ago to be so adamant in marrying Lincoln. Your mother left and never came back after that. You know, your grandpa regretted everything when he learned of your mother's passing. He has carried that guilt ever since. When I returned home, I told him how much you resemble your mother which made him so keen on meeting you. Can you spare some time and help fulfill his wishes, Yulia?" Geoffrey sounded very sincere when he said that.

This made Yulia hesitate. Although she had never met her grandfather, she also understood that he was not asking too much. So, she was unable to come to a decision in an instant. She turned her focus to Skylar after that.

So, Skylar said, "I will support you if you want to go. I mean, Lola has a competition in the capital in a few days, so we can head over a couple of days earlier. We can get her to get used to the environment. Oh, I believe it's about time we collect the debt Harry owed!"

Skylar looked menacing when he mentioned Harry. He had spared Harry's life in exchange for a hundred billion dollars. However, he never expected Harry to be such a backstabbing coward. So, he had decided to return the favor.

Yulia nodded after hearing what he said, so she replied, "Fine, I'll do just that. I still have some work to do, so you can leave now. I will head over to the capital with Skylar and Lola when I'm done."

Geoffery was delighted when he heard that, so he handed her a business card and said, "My number is on there. You can call me when you're in the capital."

"Sure, thanks." Yulia thanked him after looking at the business card.

Since Geoffery had finished his purpose in Cloudtopia, he decided to leave, so he left after that. A Rolls Royce pulled up as soon as he arrived at the entrance. A man sitting on the co-driver's seat asked, "Is it done, sir?"

Chapter 548 Sightseeing In The Capital

"What's next then?"

Geoffery sighed and said, "We'll see when they arrive. How's Ben? Is he alright?"

"He's doing well," replied the man.

Geoffery nodded and remained silent after that. The man looked back and stared intently at Kareem Fashions.

Yulia resumed work after Geoffery left. When it was about time to pick Lola up from school, Skylar suggested to apply for a two week break from school so he could bring them to the capital the next day. Yulia agreed with his suggestion without hesitation. Apparently, Lola's kindergarten worked more like a fun preschool and not much academic knowledge would be imparted to the children. They mainly focused on games and handicrafts with the children. He knew that bringing her along to the capital earlier would allow her to have a much broader perspective about the world, so she would learn much more in that trip than she did in the kindergarten. Lola was ecstatic when Yulia told her that she would be taking a two week break from school to have fun in the capital. She was so excited that she swirled around with her dog.

"You'd get the dog bald if you don't let go, honey." Skylar teased.

"Huh? That can happen?" Lola let go immediately as she did not want a hairless dog. Since she could no longer pet the dog, she leapt into Skylar's arms and asked, "Are there any fun places in the capital, daddy?"

After pondering for a brief moment, he replied, "There is a theme park there. If I remember correctly, there is also an aquarium there."

"Huh? What is an aquarium?" Lola was curious about what that place was.

"It's a place that houses a lot of different fish. There are whales, clownfish and all kinds of other fish." Skylar explained while patting her head.

"Whoa! I'd love to see that! I want to see a whale, daddy!" Lola's eyes glimmered excitedly.

"Sure! I'll do just that." Skylar gave her a kiss as he said that.

"Should I go stream now, daddy?" It seemed that Lola had made streaming a higher priority than Skylar.

Since Skylar noticed how much fun she was having, he carried her into the streaming room and informed the viewers that Lola would not be able to stream for a few days.

Skylar drove Yulia and Lola to the capital the following day.

After a four hour drive, they finally arrived at the Lucas family mansion. So, Skylar carried Lola in his arms while holding Yulia's hand as they walked toward the entrance. However, a bodyguard appeared when they approached the entrance. The bodyguard said, "What are you doing? How dare you intrude in the Lucas family mansion?"

Chapter 548 Sightseeing In The Capital

"It's done." Geoffery nodded but seemed somewhat confused at the moment.

"What's next then?"

Geoffery sighed and said, "We'll see when they arrive. How's Ben? Is he alright?"

"He's doing well," replied the man.

Geoffery nodded and remained silent after that. The man looked back and stared intently at Kareem Fashions.

Yulia resumed work after Geoffery left. When it was about time to pick Lola up from school, Skylar suggested to apply for a two week break from school so he could bring them to the capital the next day. Yulia agreed with his suggestion without hesitation. Apparently, Lola's kindergarten worked more like a fun preschool and not much academic knowledge would be imparted to the children. They mainly focused on games and handicrafts with the children. He knew that bringing her along to the capital earlier would allow her to have a much broader perspective about the world, so she would learn much more in that trip than she did in the kindergarten. Lola was ecstatic when Yulia told her that she would be taking a two week break from school to have fun in the capital. She was so excited that she swirled around with her dog.

"You'd get the dog bald if you don't let go, honey." Skylar teased.

"Huh? That can happen?" Lola let go immediately as she did not want a hairless dog. Since she could no longer pet the dog, she leapt into Skylar's arms and asked, "Are there any fun places in the capital, daddy?"

After pondering for a brief moment, he replied, "There is a theme park there. If I remember correctly, there is also an aquarium there."

"Huh? What is an aquarium?" Lola was curious about what that place was.

"It's a place that houses a lot of different fish. There are whales, clownfish and all kinds of other fish." Skylar explained while patting her head.

"Whoa! I'd love to see that! I want to see a whale, daddy!" Lola's eyes glimmered excitedly.

"Sure! I'll do just that." Skylar gave her a kiss as he said that.

"Should I go stream now, daddy?" It seemed that Lola had made streaming a higher priority than Skylar.

Since Skylar noticed how much fun she was having, he carried her into the streaming room and informed the viewers that Lola would not be able to stream for a few days.

Skylar drove Yulia and Lola to the capital the following day.

After a four hour drive, they finally arrived at the Lucas family mansion. So, Skylar carried Lola in his arms while holding Yulia's hand as they walked toward the entrance. However, a bodyguard appeared when they approached the entrance. The bodyguard said, "What are you doing? How dare you intrude in the Lucas family mansion?"

Chapter 550 Master

"Oh, you're a deadman now!" The bodyguard yelled and said, "How dare you insult the Lucas family here! I will kill you!" The bodyguard unbuttoned his shirt and wanted to assault Skylar.

The lady turned around and stared at Skylar after hearing what he said. She looked very displeased. However, Skylar did not care about what they thought as he took out his phone and called Geoffrey. "Are you sure that your patriarch wanted to meet Yulia and Lola, Geoffrey?"

Geoffrey was a little taken aback by what Skylar said, so he replied, "Of course. It's his wish and I have no reason to lie to you, right?"

"Then why is your bodyguard so rude to us?" If they were not Yulia's family and Geoffrey being so courteous to Yulia, Skylar would never be so patient. The bodyguard would be dead by then.

Geoffrey was very apologetic when he heard that. He said, "I'm really sorry for your trouble. Please let me speak to him."

"Geoffrey wants to speak to you," said Skylar.

So, the bodyguard accepted the call hesitantly, but his entire demeanor changed as soon as he heard who was on the other end of that call. He never expected Skylar to be that close with Geoffrey. He was also shocked at how casual he seemed to be with Geoffrey when they spoke earlier. So, this made him incredibly nervous.

"Sir... I..." He was interrupted by Geoffrey's abuse the moment he spoke. "I ordered you to guard the house, not judge people, you good for nothing trash! Do you know that the owner of this phone is part of our family!"

"Part.. of the family?" The bodyguard stared at Skylar in shock.

"Exactly! His wife is part of our family! The patriarch of our family has been missing her and I've asked them to come back two days ago! How dare you disrespect them, you piece of trash! Apologize to them right now! If they leave because of you, I will feed you to the fishes!" Geoffrey yelled at the bodyguard.

The bodyguard was terrified after hearing that, so he nervously said, "I'm really sorry sir, I'll apologize to them right now." He returned the phone to Skylar and said, "I'm really sorry for judging you sir. Please forgive my insolence. Mr. Lucas is drinking tea right now and I'll bring you to him right now."

The lady who had been watching looked shocked when she heard what the bodyguard said, but she recovered immediately as she said, "There's no need for that. I'll bring them along because I need to meet the patriarch too."

"Yes ma'am." replied the bodyguard. He was so terrified by what happened that his entire back was soaked in sweat. He wanted nothing more than for the both of them to enter the mansion, or else he would be dead.

Since the lady said that, Skylar decided to let the bodyguard live as he grabbed Yulia's hand and followed the lady in the mansion.