

Triumph 621

Chapter 621 No Mercy

Again, the unexpected turn of events left everyone in attendance speechless.

Does this man want to draw sharks using dolphins? Is this a dream?

Despite how difficult it was for them to believe, they dared not make fun of Skylar at this point.

Shortly, four dolphins began swimming toward the shore. There seemed to be a dark figure swimming in the middle of them. A hard dorsal fin was revealed on the water's surface. Indeed, it was a massive shark!

Dolphins have smaller bodies compared to sharks in the sea, but sharks would not provoke dolphins because they are social animals. Like wolves, they pursue their prey in groups; even a shark with a bloodily big mouth was not a match for them.

This was the reason Skylar had them chase after the shark.

Skylar grabbed the man in a floral shirt with one hand and strode toward the water as soon as he noticed the dolphins and a shark were getting closer to the shore.

The man finally realized what Skylar wanted to do to him. He wet his pants because he was so terrified. He pleaded, "You...let me go! Let me go now! I'm Mr. Coleman's..."

Before he could finish, Skylar swung his right hand and threw him into the area where the shark was. The shark bit into the man's legs with its gaping mouth.

"Arghhh! Help!" Before the shark dragged him away, he only managed to yell for assistance once.

The shark grabbed its prey and swam off into the deep water.

The shark grabbed its prey and swam off into the deep water.

The only thing that remained on the shore was a small area of blood-stained seawater. When a wave arrived, it vanished.

"This..."

Those gangsters' complexions instantly turned white as a sheet. They were nervously gulping down their saliva. They dared not look at Skylar at this point, fearing that he would throw them into the water and feed them to sharks if he was upset.

After Skylar dealt with the man in the floral shirt, he turned around and focused on the other thugs. The steel pipes they were holding in their hands fell hastily to the ground as their legs began to shake.

The thugs were terrified. Their bodies appeared to be out of control and prevented them from running, even though they wanted to.

Of course, no one dared be the first to flee, even if they were able to move. The bird that pops up its head gets shot; the first that attempted to escape would not be able to escape Skylar's grasp.

Skylar did not bother to deal with these worthless men. He told them directly, "Go back and tell your boss to show up at Lucas Manor to meet his demise in three days. Otherwise, I'll get rid of his entire family!"

"Yes!"

How dare these gangsters express their disapproval? They were thrilled to learn that Skylar was ready to release them. They believed they had been given a second chance at life. They were certain that Skylar could kill them all if he was upset.

The group agreed and scurried toward the shore.

The group agreed and scurried toward the shore.

When those men vanished from his view, Skylar began to pant heavily, and sweat began to appear on his forehead.

The tourists who were enjoying themselves on the beach dared not stay and watch the chaos. Those who wanted to return home left for their homes, while the others walked as far as they could.

Ronan and the others wanted to bury their heads in their pants because they were gloating and wanted to see Skylar make a fool of himself earlier on. A shiver ran down his spine when Ronan thought about how they foolishly provoked Skylar. He felt a pang of fear.

On the contrary, the young girl named Jillian seemed happy. She ran up to Valerie and asked, concerned, "Valerie, are you okay?"

"I'm fine," Valerie answered with a smile.

"I'm sorry, Valerie," Skylar said, gazing at the slap mark on Valerie's face.

"I was having so much fun with Lola that, for a brief time, I forgot about Mr. Coleman's problem. Don't worry, I will see this through. I won't let anyone who dares to harm my wife and friends off the hook!"

Chapter 622 Ferocious

Skylar gave Yulia's swollen cheek a massage after they got back to the car.

Lola sat on the side. She said angrily, "Daddy, those people are terrible. They even hit Mommy and Aunt Valerie. I had decided not to live stream anymore. I want to learn from you how to fight effectively so that I can grow up and be as powerful as you. When you are not around, I can protect Mommy and Aunt Valerie."

Although the little girl had not stopped with her combat training, she had been focused more on live streaming recently. She finally realized the significance of combat abilities when she witnessed bad guys harassing her mother and Valerie.

When Yulia and Valerie heard her words, their hearts instantly felt warm. They could not help but smile.

"Okay, we'll rely on Lola for protection in the future."

"Hmm!"

The child gave a firm nod while maintaining a serious expression.

Skylar stroked her hair affectionately. He complimented, "Sweetheart, you're such a lovely girl. I'll help you train when we get home."

Skylar started the car and left the coast.

the Emperor's private room of the Raven Club.

Terry was furious. He roared, "Mr. Coleman, don't blame me for looking down on you! You couldn't even deal with such a trivial matter. There's nothing left for us to discuss!"

Terry sneered. He smashed the cup in his hand on the table and was ready to leave.

Terry sneered. He smashed the cup in his hand on the table and was ready to leave.

In his anxiety, Ruan reached out to grab him. He said, "Uncle Terry..."

"Hmph!"

Terry snorted coldly and shook off his hand. At this time, he had lost all patience.

On the other side, Belinda and Peach were secretly pleased about this.

Since Ryan had truly annoyed Terry, he would vent all his rage on Valerie and Skylar. That is to say, those two would experience more terrible outcomes. This was exactly what the two wanted to see.

The sound of hasty footsteps emerged from the corridor at this precise moment.

Ryan was overjoyed. He said, "Uncle Terry, my men have returned!"

Terry stopped his track, and the furious look on Terry's face slightly softened.

Immediately afterward, a group of thugs pushed the door open and entered the room.

Ryan scolded sternly, "Where's Ethan? Get here and apologize to Mr. Pearson! You took so many brothers with you to catch two people. All of us have been waiting for you. Besides that, where are Valerie and that piece of crap? Hurry up, make them kneel on the floor, and apologize to Mr. Pearson!"

When those thugs heard this, they seemed to have fallen into a difficult position. They exchanged glances before kneeling on the ground with a thud.

When those thugs heard this, they seemed to have fallen into a difficult position. They exchanged glances before kneeling on the ground with a thud.

"Mr. Coleman, Ethan...Ethan was killed by Skylar! That guy is so terrifying! We couldn't capture him and Valerie."

Ryan was astounded. He questioned, "What? Skylar had killed Ethan?"

One of the more brazen thugs gave a brief account of what took place on the beach.

The complexions of Ryan and the others turned pale when he mentioned one of his peers' heads had been severed by Skylar's slap and Ethan had been thrown into the sea to feed the sharks.

If they had been telling the truth, Skylar's fighting prowess would have been far more terrifying. He was ferocious.

The same thug mustered the courage to say, "Mr. Coleman...he also asked us to relay a message to you. He threatened to destroy your family if you didn't go to Lucas Manor and meet your demise within three days."

"Wha...what? That guy is with the Lucases?"

Ryan's expression darkened when he heard this.

Chapter 623 A Distant Relative Of the Lucases

In Sconvia City, the Lucases were considered a first-rate family. Together with the Jenkinses, Kents, and Fitzes, they were regarded as the major families of the A-class social circle.

On the other hand, the Colemans were far below them. At best, they can be regarded as a second-rate family.

Skylar has the backing of a distinguished family. It makes sense why he is so haughty.

After a brief pause, Ryan turned his attention to Terry. He spoke in a pleading tone, "Uncle Terry..."

Actually, Terry was the one who started it all.

Valerie had never consented to attend dinner parties. Terry mentioned Valerie's name and insisted that she must attend his event to show off his capabilities. Ryan had to do as he was instructed to please him. Following that, a series of things happened that intensified his conflict with Skylar.

Now, Ryan's last hope lies with Terry. His family would not be able to stand up to the Lucases if they took action against the Colemans.

The two women who were watching were astounded too. Belinda and Peach had no idea a man from Cloudtopia would become a family member of the Lucases in Sconvia City.

Only Terry was able to maintain his composure. He asked nonchalantly, "What's there to panic about? Are you afraid of him because of the Lucases? Moreover, that guy's last name is Stone, not Lucas. In my opinion, he could be the son-in-law of the Lucases. Do you think his family would offend me for the sake of a distant relative?"

As soon as Ryan heard this, his eyes lit up.

As soon as Ryan heard this, his eyes lit up.

Terry's words had enlightened him. This man had a prominent background in addition to serving as a director of Nacrene Commerce.

In the province of Nirth lived the prestigious Pearson family. Terry's family was a branch of the Pearsons. The Pearsons had protected the land for centuries. Similar to feudal lords, their power was passed down through the generations.

Even though they were a branch, Terry's family possessed a level of power that was unmatched by other families.

Terry said with a sinister glint in his eyes, "Alright, don't worry about it. I'm to blame for this problem. I'll personally visit the Lucases and meet that guy."

Skylar had the nerve to repeatedly ruin my plans. I wouldn't spare him.

Terry instructed, "However, you need to deal with the little starlet that I had my eyes on."

Ryan's face immediately lit up. He promised him confidently, "Uncle Terry, I assure you. That starlet would be without support once you dealt with Skylar. If I told her to go east, she wouldn't dare go west. Would she not be at your mercy at the time?"

Terry nodded in agreement. His eyes briefly exhibited a hint of a lewd smile.

Terry nodded in agreement. His eyes briefly exhibited a hint of a lewd smile.

Skylar and Valerie's misfortune made Belinda and Peach happy.

Finally, someone would avenge their deep grudge against Cloudtopia. Terry was so powerful that even Mr. Coleman needed to flatter him. This time, whether it was Valerie or Skylar, they had better brace themselves to be devoured.

Skylar purchased several kinds of herbs on his way to deliver Valerie home. He went to the farmers' markets to grind them and make an ointment.

He split it into two and gave one to Valerie. He instructed her to apply it to her injured cheek when she got home. He assured her that she would recover after a good night's sleep.

He then returned with his family to the Floccesy Tower at Lucas Manor.

After he applied the ointment to Yulia, the little one asked Skylar to train her to fight. As expected, Skylar was happy to oblige. While Yulia watched quietly from the side.

Clara's voice rang out from outside the door as the father and daughter were immersed in their training.

"Yulia and Skylar!"

Chapter 624 Wasted Talent On Petty Competition

The maid, who was cooking in the kitchen, quickly ran over to open the door for Clara.

When Clara walked inside, she noticed Skylar and Lola practicing a weird posture in the living room. She asked in surprise, "Yulia, what are they doing?"

Yulia said with a chuckle, "Sky is accompanying the little one to practice combat techniques."

Clara was intrigued. She asked, "Combat techniques? Skylar knows how to fight?"

Yulia nodded with a smile.

Lola bragged, "Aunt Clara, Daddy not only knows combat skills, but he's also very good at them. My dad is capable of defeating hundreds and thousands of bad guys at once. When I'm older, I want to follow in his footsteps and protect my mom.v

Clara laughed and played along with her, "Hmm, Lola is very ambitious!"

Certainly, she was skeptical that Skylar could take down a hundred or a thousand bad guys.

It must be Lola's way to go above and beyond to show her admiration for her father. If Skylar could fight, it would be basic boxing, given his gentle demeanor. His movements must be inferior to those of true masters.

She remembered something and said, "I heard there will be an MMA competition in Sconvia City soon. Skylar could enroll if he's interested in it. I think it would be a good opportunity to meet those combat masters."

Before Skylar could say anything, Lola got excited. She asked, "Wow, an MMA competition? Daddy, will you sign up? I want to see you fight."

Before Skylar could say anything, Lola got excited. She asked, "Wow, an MMA competition? Daddy, will you sign up? I want to see you fight."

The little one looked at Skylar with eager anticipation.

Skylar waved his hand and refused, saying, "Wouldn't it be like using a sledgehammer to crack a nut if I signed up for this level of competition?"

Clara was attempting to strike up a friendly conversation. Skylar's patronizing attitude toward the MMA match in Sconvia City irritated her.

Use a sledgehammer to crack a nut? Is he going to die if he doesn't boast?

Clara glanced at Skylar and spoke in a tone that belittled him, "Skylar, are you really that good? The MMA competitions in Sconvia City are not just limited to local participants. Many national-level fighters will take part too, including mercenaries who have fought in war-torn Middle Eastern countries and boxers who regularly participate in underground fights.

"With your gentle look, I'm afraid you won't be able to withstand a single punch when you go on stage."

Hearing her ridicule Skylar, Lola was the first to voice out her disagreement. She said, "Aunt Clara, you're wrong! Daddy is awesome. He had defeated those who had received good training."

Lola was referring to the time when Skylar taught a lesson to two foreigners from Utopia.

Lola was referring to the time when Skylar taught a lesson to two foreigners from Utopia.

The little girl took it seriously at this point. She held Skylar's hand and pleaded, "Daddy, please sign up for the competition. I really want to see you fight."

Skylar was unable to resist her daughter. He quickly nodded in agreement. He was a little speechless toward Clara. This girl was good at making things difficult for him.

That did not concern Lola at all. She leaped with excitement when her father agreed with this.

On the other hand, Clara raised her eyebrows. She thought to herself.

He might benefit from a little pain, so he would stop being so arrogant.

Yulia was standing on the side. With a helpless grin, she inquired, "Clara, are you here to hang out, or is there something you want to say?"

"Oh, you've reminded me!"

Clara slapped her forehead and said, "Uncle Charles wants Skylar to join them in the parlor. There's a man named Pearson looking for him. I heard he came from Nacrene Commerce."

Chapter 625 Kneel And Admit Your Mistake

"Nacrene Commerce?" Skylar inquired with a grave expression.

If I remember correctly, the only two individuals who could link me to Nacrene Commerce are Max's grandfather, a director of that organization, and the investor who specifically requested that Valerie attend a party. I wouldn't have high regard for them, no matter who they are.

Skylar said as he calmly nodded, "Alright, I'll go. Yulia, stay at home with Lola. I'll be back soon."

Skylar and Clara left for the parlor after saying that.

There were several people gathered in the parlor. Younger members like Jordan were present in addition to Logan and Geoffrey.

All of them gave Skylar ridiculing looks as soon as he entered the room, as if they were pleased by his misfortune.

Skylar did not even give them a passing glance. He simply gave Geoffrey a nod and randomly found a place to sit down.

Logan cast him a disapproving glance. He then turned to face the chubby and bald man who occupied the center seat.

"Mr. Pearson, this is Skylar. He's the one you were looking for," he said with a comforting smile.

"I was unaware that he had offended you and that you had traveled so far to visit our manor personally. You are free to express all of your complaints. I will make him apologize to you in person."

Terry glared haughtily at Skylar while widening his small eyes. He said, "The grandson-in-law of your family is quite arrogant! How dare you meddle in my affairs? I had Ryan from Star Entertainment ask a small-time starlet to liven things up today, but the guy blatantly threatened to kill me.

Terry glared haughtily at Skylar while widening his small eyes. He said, "The grandson-in-law of your family is quite arrogant! How dare you meddle in my affairs? I had Ryan from Star Entertainment ask a small-time starlet to liven things up today, but the guy blatantly threatened to kill me.

"In addition, he had murdered two of Ryan's men who had been sent to catch that starlet. Even more audaciously, he dared to demand Ryan come to your house to meet his end. Otherwise, he vowed to exterminate the Colemans."

Terry's expression changed to one of coldness after saying these. He asked in a stern voice, "Logan, is a grandson-in-law of your family allowed to behave this arrogantly?"

The Lucases were astounded. Their hearts thumped ferociously. They had guessed that Skylar had offended Terry, but they were shocked that Skylar had spoken in such a haughty manner.

Although the Colemans were not to be feared, it was a different story when Terry, the director of Nacrene Commerce, was involved in the matter. Skylar was just a grandson-in-law, even Shane would not have dared to act in such a reckless manner.

Skylar actually dared to make trouble outside under the name of the Lucases, and he got into this trouble due to a small-time starlet. This was ridiculous!

Skylar actually dared to make trouble outside under the name of the Lucases, and he got into this trouble due to a small-time starlet. This was ridiculous!

Logan became enraged upon considering this and yelled, "Skylar, do you think you can offend someone like Mr. Pearson? Get over here and apologize to him!"

Terry snorted coldly, "Apologies? I'm not the type to be quickly appeased by a few nice words. You were audacious enough to meddle in my affairs. At the very least, you need to get down on your knees if you want to apologize, right?"

Hearing this, Logan nodded and yelled again, "Skylar, don't you understand human language? Kneel down and apologize to Mr. Pearson right now!"

The rest of the family members who watched the show were beaming with joy.

Skyler, aren't you incredibly haughty? I want to see how you can maintain your arrogance now that you've encountered a tough nut to crack!

At this moment, Geoffrey, who was sitting on Logan's right, pondered for a moment. Then he spoke in a deep voice, "Mr. Pearson, isn't it a little much to ask Sky to kneel down?"

Chapter 626 The Lecher

Terry said with a gloomy expression, "Over the top? So you want to do it the hard way? If anyone dares to plead for him again, you can ask Old Mr. Lucas to come talk to me! I want to ask him personally whether he can bear the wrath of Nacrene Commerce or the oppression of Pearsons from Kley City!"

Terry made direct reference to the power of Nacrene Commerce and the influence of the Pearsons' main branch. It was an indication of his rage.

Geoffrey nervously swallowed his saliva after hearing this.

Our family couldn't afford to anger Nacrene Commerce or the Pearson family's main branch.

Geoffrey was reprimanded angrily by Logan from the side, "Geoffrey! Shut up! Skylar's arrogance and ignorance are to blame for this. It's reasonable for Mr. Pearson to ask him to kneel and apologize."

Logan turned to glare at Skylar and said, "Skylar, do you still dare to sit down? Kneel and apologize to Mr. Pearson immediately. The interests of our family are at stake. Don't expect my father to protect you!"

The rest of the family members grew even more excited as they expected Skylar to embarrass himself in front of everyone.

Under the watchful eyes of everyone, Skylar glanced at Terry and said with a smirk, "When Clara informed me earlier on, I thought the person looking for me would be an old man from Kents. I didn't anticipate it to be lecherous. I can't believe you actually knocked on my door because you want to take advantage of my friend."

"Old man from Kents?"

"Old man from Kents?"

The Lucases did not understand what he meant. Why would Old Kent want to look for Skylar?

Terry erupted in rage when he overheard Skylar calling him a lecher. He growled, "Skylar!"

Skylar sneered coldly, "You forced a talented singer that just wants to do a good job to party with you. It's fairly obvious what you intend to do with her, right? Is it wrong to call you a lecher? I'm going to blame this on Ryan, but I wasn't expecting you to come over and attempt to suppress me through the Lucases. Don't blame me for being rude to you!"

With that being said, Skylar abruptly stood up and walked toward Terry, who occupied the center seat.

In response to his action, the Lucases cried out in terror, "Skylar, what are you going to do?"

Skylar pretended he had not heard them. He took a few more steps to arrive before Terry. Skylar sneered, "You want me to kneel for you? Dream on!"

He stretched out his right hand to grab Terry's shirt collar and directly lifted him up from the throne chair. Terry's short and fat body looked like a toad when he was held in Skylar's hand. The scene looked particularly funny.

The Lucases were stunned by the scene.

The Lucases were stunned by the scene.

Despite his frail appearance, Skylar was able to raise Terry with just one hand. What incredible strength!

Then, Skylar pushed his right hand downward before they had a chance to respond.

Boom!

Terry's short and chubby body slammed to the ground in an instant. It was a coincidence that he landed in a kneeling position on both knees.

Logan leaped out of his chair out of fear. He exclaimed, "Skylar! He is the Director of Nacrene Commerce, the heir to the Pearson branch! Are you trying to kill us all?"

The rest of the family members were dumbfounded. They never expected Skylar to make a move on Terry.

Of all of them, Terry was undoubtedly the most taken aback. He was compelled to kneel on both knees, and the sharp pain brought him to his senses.

"Skylar, how dare you do this to me? I'll kill you!"

Terry shot out a blazing rage from his eyes. The veins on his forehead were bulging.

No one in Nirth Province's business industry would dare disdain him given his status as the Director of Nacrene Commerce and the heir to the Pearson branch.

A lowly, distant relative of the Lucases like him dared to touch me and forced me to kneel! This man was courting death!

Chapter 627 No One Can Save You

Skylar raised his brows and asked, "Kill me? I'll take the initiative to start the attack since you said to do so. I'm going to kill you!"

Hearing this, Terry felt a chill in his heart. He shouted indignantly, "How dare you?"

"Why wouldn't I?" Skylar sneered.

He moved forward two steps before grabbing Terry's neck.

He then quickly and forcefully raised Terry's short, chubby body above his head with one hand. Terry was having breathing problems when he slightly tightened the hand that was squeezing his throat. In just a few seconds, his face had become red.

Terry finally felt some fear at this point. He sensed that death was near. He never imagined Skylar would be so bold as to murder him in the Lucas family parlor.

This man is so cocky. I'm someone from the Nacrene Commerce and a descendant of the Pearsons. How could he ignore all of these? Is this man crazy?

Of course, Terry was not the only one who did not anticipate this; the Lucases seated nearby were all frightened by Skylar's behavior. The family would face difficulties if Skylar really did kill Terry in the parlor.

Regardless, Yulia held sixteen percent of the family shares. It made her a bona fide member of the family. Skylar was Yulia's husband. If Skylar committed a crime in Sconvia, the family would suffer the consequences with him.

If Terry dies, Nacrene Commerce and Pearsons will unquestionably conduct a thorough investigation. Even if they surrender Skylar at that point, the family will sustain an enormous loss. It is a universal truth that innocent bystanders are always caught in the crossfire.

If Terry dies, Nacrene Commerce and Pearsons will unquestionably conduct a thorough investigation. Even if they surrender Skylar at that point, the family will sustain an enormous loss. It is a universal truth that innocent bystanders are always caught in the crossfire.

"Skylar, let go of him!" Logan shouted from the side in fear and trepidation.

Geoffrey also exclaimed, "Skylar, let go of Mr. Pearson. You're angry now, but don't do something you'll regret later. Even if you don't give a damn about it, please think for the sake of our family.

"Grandpa loves Yulia dearly. He transferred sixteen percent of his shares to Yulia. We would all be destroyed if you killed Mr. Pearson here. Grandpa is eighty years old now; he can't handle such a big blow!"

At this time, Clara also jumped up in fright. She persuaded him, "Skylar, please listen to Uncle Geoffrey; don't act impulsively!"

At first, Skylar was not bothered to respond when Logan spoke. He finally began to lose some of the murderous intent in his eyes after hearing Geoffrey and Clara's sincere advice.

He glared at Terry and warned coldly, "Today, I'll spare your life for the sake of Geoffrey and Clara. You are welcome to seek retaliation from me at any time if you are unwilling to accept this, but nobody will be able to save you if you do that."

He glared at Terry and warned coldly, "Today, I'll spare your life for the sake of Geoffrey and Clara. You are welcome to seek retaliation from me at any time if you are unwilling to accept this, but nobody will be able to save you if you do that."

As soon as his voice fell, Skylar loosened his grip. Terry's fat body fell to the ground right away.

The severe pain in his body did not bother Terry. He struggled to get some air. He breathed so anxiously that he started coughing violently. His face and neck were now both red.

Skylar's clenched fingers felt like iron pliers as they encircled his throat. His hand almost crushed his throat. Terry was certain that if Skylar had gone on for two more seconds, he would have died.

He now had a burning hatred for Skylar and wished he could rip him to pieces. On the surface, he did not dare to say anything. If Geoffrey and Clara had not pleaded for him just now, Skylar would have taken his life.

Skylar was a madman. He was afraid to further incite a lunatic.

Chapter 628 Who Do You Think You Are

Skylar, just you wait! If I don't have you chopped up! I'll spell my name backward!

Although Terry did not say it out loud, he was secretly swearing in his heart.

In disgrace, he rose from the floor, strode out of the parlor, and made his way to Lucas Manor's front door.

The Lucases were finally able to let go of the worry once Terry was out of sight. When they looked at Skylar, they were immediately burned with rage.

Especially Logan, he questioned Skylar, "Are you tired of living? Do you know who he is? Do you think that man is someone you can afford to offend? If you killed him just now, the entire family would be ruined in your hands! You're ignorant about your own abilities!"

"You say I'm ignorant of my own abilities?"

Skylar abruptly glared at Logan.

Logan's heart pounded furiously as his icy, sword-sharp gaze swept toward him. In fear, he choked back all the words he was going to say.

What sort of gaze is that? Not only is it razor sharp, but it is also unfathomable and filled with murderous intent that made me shudder.

Skylar finally withdrew his gaze from Logan, when he obediently shut his mouth.

He said to everyone in the parlor, "That man is just someone from the insignificant Nacrene Commerce. I never think highly of that organization. As for the Kley City's Pearsons...I don't think much of them either. This situation will be resolved if Terry lets it go. I'll destroy the Pearsons along with him if he overestimates his power and refuses to repent!"

Skylar immediately walked out of the parlor after finishing his speech. Everyone thought it had fallen into chaos.

Skylar immediately walked out of the parlor after finishing his speech. Everyone thought it had fallen into chaos.

Skylar is such a big talker. Why doesn't he take a look at his own self in the mirror? He did not think much of Nacrene Commerce and Kley City, Pearsons? Who does he think he is?

Clara's face had turned red from her rage.

Even though Terry is a bully, Skylar shouldn't impulsively kill him on the spot, right? He should be thinking about Yulia's circumstances!

As for the rest, they were gloating. They had clearly seen the look on Terry's face before he left, that man was fuming with rage. Terry would undoubtedly pursue it further. They would just wait for Terry to make his move and how Skylar would respond.

The following two days were peaceful.

The family of three chose to stay at home. They simply remained in the Floccesy Tower where they played games, practiced combat techniques, and enjoyed some rare leisure time.

As per Skylar's warning, Ryan should have visited Lucas Manor within these days, but no one had seen him. Clearly, he did not take Skylar's words seriously.

The third day was Lola's final competition, so Skylar decided not to worry about it for the time being.

The third day was Lola's final competition, so Skylar decided not to worry about it for the time being.

On that day, the family of three got up early. After breakfast, Skylar brought his family to the competition venue, the Sconvia Grand Theatre.

After he parked the car, they walked a few steps and ran into Valerie.

Valerie had arrived earlier. She had been waiting for them at the entrance.

Lola happily threw herself into her arms and praised, "Aunt Valerie, your dress is so beautiful today!"

Valerie was the only person she was most eager to approach besides Skylar and Yulia.

Valerie playfully asked the little one, "The only thing that looks beautiful is my dress?"

The little one immediately grinned and answered, "Aunt Valerie is more beautiful."

Valerie immediately covered her mouth and chuckled, "Our sweetheart is also very beautiful today, like a little fairy."

An impatient voice suddenly came from the side as the four of them were laughing and conversing.

"Why did I run into you guys again? You haunt me everywhere I go."

Chapter 629 None of Your Business

Skylar and his companions turned to face the person who was speaking. They saw Belinda.

When she noticed the group, she appeared surprised.

She walked toward them wearing a black evening gown with a train. Peach and numerous bodyguards had gathered around Belinda.

Three days ago, didn't Terry say he was going to visit the Lucases personally? How was it possible for Skylar to arrive here unharmed? Could it be that Terry postponed his visit because he had more pressing matters to attend to? Had he not yet had the opportunity to confront Skylar?

Yes, this must be it. Otherwise, how could a distant relative of the Lucases like Skylar possibly go against a top gun like Terry?

Belinda immediately regained her composure after thinking about this. She gave the group a chilly look. When she saw Lola, who had dressed adorably, her eyes flashed with disdain. She said, "Don't you tell me that girl is the contestant for today?"

Skylar furrowed her brow and chided, "What's it to you? Get lost!"

"Skylar!" Belinda yelled angrily.

She quickly retracted her neck in fear when she met Skylar's menacing gaze and dared not utter another word.

The commotion Belinda caused made people in the area take notice. A few dozen people soon gathered and moved in their direction.

The commotion Belinda caused made people in the area take notice. A few dozen people soon gathered and moved in their direction.

When Belinda noticed this, she immediately assumed an arrogant stance and remarked, "Never mind, I don't have time to argue with you. My admirers are trying to find me. I'm going to be busy signing autographs and taking photos with them!"

Peach also acted high and mighty.

She commanded the bodyguards standing behind her, "It's time for you guys to carry out your duty. Bell needs to be kept safe. Photos are fine, but don't let those fans get close. Bell is the hottest celebrity, if any of them are haters and harm her, none of you could afford to pay for company losses."

The bodyguards replied, "Roger that, Ms. Peach!"

They immediately joined hands to form a human wall, keeping Belinda in the center for protection. They were prepared to use all of their might to fend off the madness of the fans.

Belinda said, "You all are so observant that you manage to recognize me from my back."

When the fans approached, she immediately put on a graceful and friendly demeanor and began to chat with them. Her smile vanished as she waved her hand and prepared to pose for a photo because she saw the frenzied fans run past her and directly toward Lola.

"It's Mini Diva!"

"Lola, we are your fans!"

"Lola, can I take a picture with you? My child adores your singing."

Skylar and Yulia were immediately surrounded by dozens of people.

Meanwhile, Belinda and Peach, who were ready to pose, had their mouths twitching. Even the bodyguards that formed the human wall felt utterly humiliated.

Are they the brat's fans?

Belinda was outraged. She felt the mocking looks from those around her and wished she could hide in a hole.

It's so goddamn embarrassing! I thought those people were coming for me, but I'm clueless that a little girl would steal my limelight. I had been painstakingly striving in the entertainment industry to achieve a certain status and popularity, yet I was unable to compete with a greenhorn little girl? Why?

Chapter 630 No Longer Dare

Belinda stomped her foot out of rage. She immediately put the blame for everything on Skylar. She even gnashed her teeth in anger.

She thought to herself.

Just wait and see; I'll let you guys be arrogant for a while longer. When Mr. Pearson has time to deal with you, it will be my time to hold my head high!

Belinda suppressed her resentment after having that thought. She swayed her hips and headed toward the theater.

Meanwhile, Lola had taken pictures with many people.

When Skylar noticed that more and more people were assembling, he abruptly ended the photo shoot. He said to everyone, "I'm sorry, Lola is here to participate in the finals today. We must make final preparations backstage as the competition is about to begin. We'll have opportunities for pictures another time."

The fans who were lined up for photos all agreed understandingly.

"That's fine; there will be chances for photos later. Let Lola prepare for the competition first."

"Go Lola, we're rooting for you!"

"The championship is yours to take!"

A group of fans were cheering for Lola.

Lola nodded vigorously and said, "Hmm, I'll do my best."

Skylar led the group to the theater after saying goodbye to the fans.

On their way, Valerie exclaimed in surprise, "Skylar, when did Lola become so popular?"

Valerie was unaware that Lola was live streaming because she had recently been preoccupied with filming with a production team.

Skylar was about to answer when Lola chimed in, "Aunt Valerie, I sing in front of the computer at home. There are lots of grandpas, grandmas, uncles, and aunties that like me. They even gave me gifts! Next time when I sing, Aunt Valerie can watch too."

"Lola, are you talking about live streaming online?" Valerie asked.

"Hmm!" Lola nodded proudly.

"That's awesome, Lola! When you live stream next time, I'll definitely come and watch. I'll send you gifts too!"

The reason Lola suddenly had so many fans became clear to Valerie.

Amid their laughter and chatter, the four of them entered the theater lobby.

Employees were registering the contestants at the lobby's entrance.

When Skylar was lining up with Lola, he noticed the familiar figures that stood in front. It was Louis and his daughter, Tyne.

Tyne immediately assumed a superior demeanor upon seeing Lola, displaying contempt even at such a young age. Her father also noticed Skylar. His heart jerked ferociously. He quickly completed the registration and took Tyne backstage.

As a young girl, Tyne did not understand the complexities of adult interactions, nor did she know how to hide her emotions. However, Louis had witnessed Skylar's power firsthand.

The terrifying scene at Veilstone Hills still haunts him. From that day on, he would be awakened by nightmares every night. It appeared as though the one who had been beheaded that day was him instead of Max. How would he dare say another word when he saw Skylar now?

As expected, Skylar was not concerned about him. He also followed procedure and made his way backstage after signing in for Lola.

In the backstage dressing room, there was a teacher who guided the contestants. The parents were all directed to the audience seats to watch the competition.

Skylar, Yulia, and Valerie took their seats in the audience. The stage curtain rose after they waited for a short while. This signaled the start of the competition.

The host went up on stage carrying a microphone while wearing an eye-catching red evening gown.
