

Triumph 81

Chapter 81

"That's what he said... What's wrong, Old Mr. Wexler?"

Shane asked in shock.

"It's out of my hands! You take care of yourself!"

Theo on the other end of the line hung up the phone, not even waiting for Shane to respond.

Shane froze on the spot.

"Is the signal bad and broken?"

Valda asked.

Shane hurriedly redialed Theo's number.

However, Theo hung up on Shane directly.

When Shane called again, Theo had already turned off his phone.

The crowd, who initially thought Skylar was going to be out of luck, suddenly came to a realization.

Surprisingly, Theo was afraid of Skylar.

So, Skylar was telling the truth.

What he said was all true!

Who was Skylar?

How could he be so powerful?

Shane and Valda, slowly came to their senses, looked at Skylar with horror.

"M-Mr. Stone... "

At this time, Shane was scared to the core.

And Valda even started trembling.

At this moment, she regretted what she did so much.

She had caused a scene.

"You and your wife, kneel here for one night, and I will let things slide."

Skylar glanced at them and said slowly, "If you play dirty tricks with me again, I can guarantee you that even the Wexler family will not be able to withstand my wrath!"

Without waiting for their reaction, Skylar took Yulia and Lola away and headed for the men's boutique.

Shane and Valda, feeling the gaze of the crowd, closed their eyes and kneeled on the spot.

After all, life was more important than reputation.

A man who even the Wexler family feared did not take Shane and Valda seriously at all.

Their lives were at stake, so they could not afford to take the risk.

After buying the clothes, Skylar took Yulia and Lola home.

"Daddy, you defeated a dozen bad guys by yourself at the mall just now. You are so awesome!"

Lola spoke to Skylar with admiration.

Skylar gently rubbed her nose and smiled. "Daddy actually has more better tricks. I will cripple whoever dares to bully you in the future."

"Daddy, do you know martial arts like the great warriors on TV who can fly on the roof?"

Lola asked.

Skylar smiled. "I may."

"Daddy, can you teach me martial arts to fight those bad guys. After I master it, I can practice flying on the roof with you."

Lola held Skylar's arm and pouted.

Lola felt that Skylar looked really cool at the mall just now.

Lola was mesmerized.

Even Yulia, at the moment, looked at Skylar with confusion.

Skylar had been in battle and had done a lot of military service. But it was still amazing that he did not even take any actions to defeat a dozen people. It was completely beyond Yulia's imagination.

Even the storyline of the movie could not reach his level.

Skylar understood why Lola admired him.

Then, he put away his smile and said, "Lola, if you really want to learn, I can teach you. However, practice needs persistence, and the boring repetition every day is much harder than studying in the kindergarten. So, do you want to reconsider?"

Chapter 82

Had Lola been a boy, Skylar would have taught and even forced Lola to have daily practices without her mentioning it.

But Skylar would just like to spoil and give Lola a lifetime of peace.

Hearing what Skylar said, Lola began to think seriously about it.

Not long after, she suddenly nodded forcefully and said with certainty, "Daddy, you can teach me. With your company, it won't be hard for me. Once I master it, I can fight the bad guys with Daddy! And, when Daddy is not around, I can protect Mommy too!"

Skylar was relieved to hear that Lola wanted to protect Yulia at such a young age. With that, he nodded. "Good, since you want to protect Mommy, I will teach you martial arts from this weekend."

"Yay! Daddy is so nice. Lola loves you!"

Lola jumped into Skylar's arms and gave him a peck.

Yulia looked at the harmonious scene in front of her and couldn't help but laugh.

"Well, Lola, it's getting late. I'm going to take you to take a bath."

With that, Yulia took Lola's hand and headed for the bathroom.

After Skylar showered, Yulia and Lola had waited for him. Like last time, they were half lying on the bed while waiting for him.

It didn't take long for Lola to fall asleep contentedly in his and Yulia's arms.

Skylar subconsciously glanced at Yulia, who instantly blushed, then closed her eyes and forced herself to fall asleep.

But from her fluttering eyelashes, Skylar knew she was still awake.

Perhaps Yulia was still somehow wary of him.

Skylar could not blame Yulia for being wary of him. After all, they had only known each other for such a short time.

Their progress was considered fast enough with the previous hug.

Skylar covetously glanced at Yulia's stunningly beautiful side profile, turned off the bedside lamp with his hand, and lay down.

Right now, he did not dare to hope for more.

Yulia's feelings had been hurt before, so no man could win over her easily.

However, the hug Yulia offered on her birthday must have been more than her feeling touched.

So Skylar believed that one day, Yulia would fully accept him.

The next day.

Yulia was in a hurry to go to work, so she didn't send Lola to kindergarten.

Skylar was naturally happy to take on the task.

After dropping Lola off, Skylar planned a trip back to her adoptive parents' house.

After decades, the Fuller family still lived in that old, crowded tiny house.

When he was in school, he swore that when he made money later, he would make a good living for his adoptive parents.

Now that he had become wealthy, he naturally thought about fulfilling the promise he made back then.

Just as Skylar was riding in the jeep, heading home, the cell phone in his pocket rang.

He took it out, and it just happened to be his adoptive father, Nathaniel Fuller, who called.

Skylar rushed to pick it up.

"Dad, what's wrong? Is the Stephenson family causing trouble again?"

Nathaniel on the other end of the line shook his head. "No, I just wanted to ask if you were busy today."

"I'm not busy! I'm on my way home to see you and Mom."

Nathaniel immediately said happily, "That's great! Rufus' daughter, Sally Gutierrez, asked me to ask you to meet her! Since Naomi's wedding day, Sally always comes to our house. Your mother thinks that she is fond of you! She is a nice girl. You are lucky!"

Chapter 83

When Skylar heard that, he had a headache.

His parents were really optimistic about the girl named Sally. They kept matching her with Skylar.

Skylar had only been back for a short while, and this was the third time his parents tried to match him with Sally.

As Nathaniel said, Sally was really good.

Not only had she studied abroad, but she was also good-looking. She was the best candidate for a daughter-in-law to most parents.

Unfortunately, Skylar already had Yulia and Lola, and there was no room for anyone else in his heart.

Skylar was hesitating how to politely refuse when Nathaniel added, "Since you're not busy, I'll have Sally contact you. Both of you can discuss where to meet."

After saying that without waiting for Skylar's response, Nathaniel hung up the phone.

Skylar held his phone, feeling depressed.

But soon, he thought at the bright side.

Nathaniel cared about Skylar, so Skylar should not refuse him.

Anyway, Skylar was not busy today, and he could take this opportunity to clarify.

Just as Skylar was thinking, Sally's phone call came.

"Skylar, I'm at Crown Club. Come along when you're free!"

Skylar was puzzled. It was early in the morning. Why did Sally go to Crown Club?

Still, Skylar calmly said, "Okay, I'll be right over."

Twenty minutes later.

The jeep pulled up at the entrance of Crown Club, and Skylar walked into the private lounge where Sally was.

In addition to Sally in the private lounge, there were surprisingly three other people.

A young man and woman. They seemed to be a couple.

There was also a middle-aged woman, who somehow looked alike with Sally. She should be Sally's mother.

"Skylar, you sit next to me!"

Seeing Skylar, Sally hurriedly got up to greet him joyfully.

On the day of Naomi's wedding, Skylar's accidental revealing of his wealth, and his connections completely conquered her.

The moment she saw Skylar personally wearing the expensive necklace for Naomi, she already recognized in her heart that Skylar was the one who was qualified to be her boyfriend.

Skylar simply fitted all her fantasies of her future husband.

When Skylar approached, Sally pointed at the couple and introduced them. "They are my cousin Ivory Barlow and her boyfriend Kingsley Woolridge."

"This is my mother, surnamed Curry."

"Hello, Ms. Curry!"

Skylar politely greeted.

Phyllis Curry didn't say anything.

On the contrary, Ivory frowned and said, "My cousin keeps praising you. But I didn't expect you to make us wait so long for the first meeting! Before every date, my boyfriend will be waiting for more than an hour downstairs even before I wake up. But he has no complaints. You are all men. Why are you so different than him?"

After Ivory said so, Phyllis, who was already a little upset, became angrier.

Skylar was mocked and naturally, he was not happy.

What was all this?

It was Sally who suddenly called him to come here, and he was already cooperative enough.

But Skylar didn't bother to explain to them and sat down on the couch without saying a word.

However, Ivory asked arrogantly again, "Hey, since you're here for a blind date. Tell us your conditions! Do you have a house? Is the house near the school district? Got a car? What is the brand of the car?"

Chapter 84

Skylar was speechless but replied politely, "I have a house, and it's in Ocean Hill. But I don't know if it is near a school district. I have a car also, and it was given by my company."

Hearing what Skylar said, Ivory immediately smiled contemptuously and said, "Ocean Hill? It sounds like a rundown neighborhood in the city and countryside. My boyfriend's family is living in a villa in Overseas Town, which is priced at nearly ten million dollars. And last month, his father just bought him a two-million-dollar Jaguar sports car. Sally is an Ivy League graduate. If you want to date her, you must have at least a house and a car that are more expensive than what my boyfriend owns."

At this moment, Phyllis became more and more dissatisfied with Skylar.

Before coming here, she and Ivory heard Sally say that Skylar had influence, was young and wealthy.

But after hearing Skylar's answer just now, they began to wonder if Sally had been fooled by Skylar's adoptive father, Nathaniel.

In fact, Skylar was not deliberately being low profile. What he said was the truth. He just did not expect that Ivory and Phyllis did not know Ocean Hill.

Not only that, but Ivory also described Ocean Hill as a rundown community, which was simply foolish and ignorant!

However, there was still an understanding person in the entire private lounge.

This person was Sally.

Her heart skipped a beat when she heard Ocean Hill.

Ocean Hill was the top villa area in Cloudtopia! The people living there were all prestigious.

It was the dream of many women to live in Ocean Hill.

Seeing that Skylar did not say anything, Ivory was even more pleased with herself and asked with more and more contempt, "So what do you do now?"

"Being a soldier."

Skylar replied.

This time, Phyllis' face darkened.

How dare a poor soldier deceive Sally?

Fortunately, Phyllis did not feel at ease and insisted on coming to the blind date. Otherwise, Sally would have been fooled.

Ivory's boyfriend, Kingsley, actually knew about Ocean Hill.

Kingsley initially thought Skylar might be rich when he said that he lived in Ocean Hill. But when Skylar said he was a soldier, Kingsley could not help but snicker in his heart.

Kingsley did not believe that a poor soldier could afford to live in Ocean Hill. Kingsley felt that Skylar was just bragging.

And Ivory immediately coldly snorted, "A soldier doesn't earn much. Who gave you the guts to date Sally? Sally has many rich admirers. Even my boyfriend owns an engineering team. Have you heard of the boss here, Homer? He treats my boyfriend as his good buddy!"

Ivory finished speaking and winked at Kingsley.

Kingsley glanced at Skylar and said, "I just drink with Homer a lot."

Seeing the arrogant couple in front of him, Skylar only felt amused.

The Homer they were talking about was the Homer who was scared by Skylar that day.

Just then, the door of the private lounge was suddenly pushed open, and several black figures walked in.

The one at the head happened to be Homer.

"Homer!"

Kingsley was stunned and then stood up to greet him.

Chapter 85

"Homer, why bother to come up personally? Today is my girlfriend's cousin's blind date. I just came over to be a sidekick. The service of private lounge is very good. You don't need to be worried. I'll invite you to dinner at Sunset Harbor some day!"

Ivory was so proud to see this scene.

There were not many guests that came to Crown Clubs could make Homer personally come to entertain them.

When Kingsley was taken so seriously, Ivory naturally felt proud.

Phyllis looked at Kingsley in front of Homer, and then looked at Skylar, who was not moving at all, and rolled her eyes in anger.

Why was Skylar so arrogant?

Just as the crowd was having their own thoughts, Homer just cast a glance at Kingsley before walking past him without saying a word.

Kingsley turned around awkwardly, only to see Homer walk up to Skylar and bowed.

"Mr. Stone, you are here. I am sorry that I didn't welcome you. I hope you will forgive me!"

Everyone gasped.

Kingsley and Ivory, suddenly dumbfounded, froze on the spot.

Phyllis' eyes widened.

What was going on?

Wasn't Homer a big shot?

Not only was Homer the owner of Crown Club, but he also has the support of powerful family. Homer could be considered as one of the big shots in Clouddtopia.

Just now, Ivory kept praising Kingsley. But Kingsley was nothing to Homer.

But how could such a tough guy bow and salute Skylar, a poor soldier?

And Homer even greeted Skylar as "Mr. Stone".

"Homer, are you mistaken for someone else... "

Kingsley asked tentatively.

Homer immediately showed his displeasure and asked, "Who are you?"

"Mr. Stone, is he a friend of yours?"

Kingsley instantly felt awkward.

Just now, Kingsley bragged that he often drank with Homer. But it turned out that Homer did not know him at all.

The humiliation came so quickly.

Skylar shook his head at Homer and said, "No, I don't know him."

Hearing that, Homer's face immediately darkened, and he scolded Kingsley, "Since Mr. Stone doesn't know you, why don't you get lost? Can you afford to spoil Mr. Stone's mood?"

Homer was a night owl, and he was still sleeping when Skylar came.

But then, his subordinates rushed into his room and told him Skylar had come, scaring Homer so much that he immediately jumped out of bed.

Although he was not sure what kind of terrifying identity Skylar had, he knew that he definitely could not afford to offend this man.

Seeing Kingsley still did not move, Homer's subordinates immediately rolled up their sleeves to take action.

Kingsley shuddered in fear and explained, "Homer, I'm Kingsley! We even had a drink together last month."

"Who are you? I've never heard of your name! There are a lot of people who have drunk with me. Does that mean they are all my friends? Hurry up and get out of here, or else don't blame me for treating you badly!"

Kingsley's face turned pale, and he shut up completely.

At this time, Ivory came to her senses. She jumped up from the sofa, pointing at Homer's nose and scolded, "Homer, why are you so arrogant? My boyfriend is also a person of status. He respects you by calling your name. He is your customer and spends money at your club. Don't be so arrogant to him!"

Chapter 86

Hearing what Ivory said, Kingsley was frightened.

Ivory was so arrogant that she even disrespected Homer.

How dare she said that Homer should respect Kingsley? Damn it!

Homer stared at the finger that Ivory poked at him, and his eyes narrowed.

After a few seconds, he sneered, "You want me to respect him?"

As soon Homer said that, he took two steps forward and slapped Ivory.

"Pak!"

A slapping sound could be heard.

A clear palm mark instantly appeared on Ivory's face, and blood seeped out of the corner of her mouth.

"Do you know who you're talking to? You simply do not have manners!"

If they were Skylar's friends, Homer would bear with them no matter what.

But since Skylar said he didn't know this group of people, there was no need for Homer to hold back.

Did Ivory really think Homer was easy to mess with?

"H-How dare you hit a woman... I'll fight with you!"

Ivory covered her swollen cheek and rushed up to scratch Homer's face with her long nails.

However, before she could get close, Homer kicked her to the ground.

"Let me tell you. Not only do I dare to beat you, but I also dare to destroy you!"

Homer sneered to his men behind him, "Drag her to the lounge and let other men enjoy."

"Yes, Boss!"

Several youths instantly showed excitement and scrambled over, ready to drag Ivory away.

This time, Ivory was really scared. Screaming, she waved her arms. She desperately shook off the hands that wanted to grab her.

"Kingsley, are you dead? Help me!"

Ivory shouted.

Kingsley hid on the side, timidly glancing at the fury Homer. Kingsley froze and did not dare to say anything.

"Stop it!"

Phyllis couldn't stand it.

"Hello, Mr. Homer. Skylar is my daughter's boyfriend, and Ivory is her cousin. Today, they just met for the first time. It is inevitable that there is a little misunderstanding. Ivory is wrong, but I hope you will let her off the hook for Skylar's sake."

Homer was suddenly confused.

Just now, Skylar clearly told him that he did not know this group of people.

At this time, Phyllis hurriedly said to Skylar, "I approve of you dating Sally!"

"You have approved?"

Skylar was stunned.

Phyllis immediately nodded. "Yes, I approved! But I have requirements. Before marriage, you must give her 50,000 dollars of pocket money every month. After marriage, all your money must be given to her. You are not allowed to ask how she spends it."

Phyllis saw that even Homer had to respect Skylar. So now, she believed that Skylar was a big shot too.

She felt that Skylar was pretending to be low-key just now.

Phyllis believed that she would live a decent life if Skylar were to marry Sally. After all, Skylar could even make Homer respect him.

Thinking about it, Phyllis couldn't help but long for it.

But she overlooked the most important point, which was whether Skylar was willing.

As expected, Skylar said speechlessly, "Ms. Curry, you have overthought. The only reason I came here today was because I was afraid of breaking my father's heart. I don't like your daughter at all."

Chapter 87

Sally's expression changed.

"You... What did you say?"

Phyllis jumped up violently.

She had agreed to it, but then Skylar refused?

Homer glanced at Phyllis with mockery in his eyes, thinking that this mother really took her daughter too seriously.

Admittedly, Sally was pretty, but if compared to the military beauty that Skylar had met, Sally was just nothing. Not to mention the woman Skylar held in his arms last time.

Homer really did not know who gave Phyllis the self-confidence. She even thought of asking money from Skylar. She was simply too greedy.

Just then, one of Homer's men ventured in and shouted at Homer, "Homer, Old Mr. Wexler is barging in with a large group of people."

"Theo Wexler?"

Homer's pupils constricted.

Was it because of the murder of Nicholas that Theo came here personally?

No, in this matter, Homer was at best a messenger. Theo had no reason to seek revenge on him.

But, the next moment, his heart moved.

The person who killed Nicholas was in Crown Club right now.

And he was sitting right in front of Homer.

It seemed that the person Theo was looking for was not Homer but Skylar.

Just after Homer understood why Theo came, the private lounge door was again pushed open from the outside.

Immediately after that, a group of people came in, and the leader was none other than Theo.

Theo was sixty years old. He was thin, but he looked healthy.

Standing next to Theo was his oldest son, Christopher.

"What is the reason for Old Mr. Wexler's sudden visit?"

As the host, Homer was the first to speak.

He was trying to test Theo's attitude.

After all, it had been several days since Nicholas was killed.

Theo had not taken any action, but today, he suddenly came. Could it be that he already knew Skylar's identity and was sure that he could suppress Skylar?

"It has nothing to do with you!"

Theo cast a glance at Homer and then looked at Skylar.

"Skylar, the Wexler family is also considered a prestigious family. You not only killed my son, but you also had his head sent to me. Are you provoking the power of the Wexler family?"

"Provocation?"

Skylar frowned slightly and said, "Do you know why I want to kill him?"

If Nicholas pursued Yulia in the usual way, Skylar didn't mind playing fair with him.

But Nicholas not only did not let go of his infatuation after using all the dirty tricks, but also kidnapped Yulia.

Based on this alone, Nicholas deserved to die.

Skylar was considered being merciful that the Wexler family was not harmed.

And that was for Lola's sake.

After all, Skylar was already a father. He did not want to get too much blood on his hands.

Hearing Skylar's question, Christopher said indignantly, "Even if my brother raped your wife, it was your wife who was flirting with him and didn't know how to behave! The Wexler family member has made a mistake and it is up to my father to decide what punishment he should receive! Who are you to dare to sentence him to death?"

Skylar said coldly, "Believe it or not. I not only dare to sentence him to death but also dare to make you another big gift!"

"Bastard!"

Theo roared, "Skylar, do you really think the Wexler family is afraid of you? No matter how powerful you are, the Wexler family's hidden strength is not something you can imagine!"

"Oh?"

Skylar was directly amused. "I'd like to see how much hidden strength the Wexler family has, compared to the Shepard family, the top of the Four Great Families."

Chapter 88

Skylar was just curious.

In fact, he was not afraid of the Shepard family as well.

Even if Cloudtopia and the entire South Province's powerful families were united, they were not Skylar opponents.

God of War of the Nine Continents, who could change the pattern of the world with a casual word or a signature could not be defeated by these powerful families who only played with money and clung to power and nobility.

However, before Theo could speak, a voice came from outside.

"Is the Shepard family the only one you will fear? Wouldn't the Wexler family plus the Chase family be strong enough to defeat you?"

The next moment, a middle-aged man walked in.

Surprisingly, he was Mortimer, the head of the Chase family!

Skylar did not know what method Harry used to convince his dad to come along for the ride.

Homer was stunned. It looked like the Chase family was going to join forces with the Wexler family to go against Skylar.

These two families were not ranked among the Four Great Families, but they were also in the first tier of Cloudtopia.

The joint strength of the two families should not be underestimated.

No wonder Theo dared to bring people to take revenge on Skylar.

Homer, Phyllis, Kingsley and others seemed to understand the situation.

Phyllis sneered at Skylar, "You are arrogant just after you gain some strength! You don't like my daughter. Well done. You have offended two big families. Let's see how you are going to deal with it."

Kingsley, who was initially shrinking in the corner, came out at this time, with a gloating expression.

And Ivory looked at Skylar resentfully, waiting for him to be killed by the Chase and Wexler families.

Ivory thought all the humiliation she had just suffered were all caused by Skylar.

Skylar didn't care about what these people thought. He looked at Mortimer and said indifferently, "What's wrong? Your son has just suffered a small grievance. Is it worthy of you to come here to take revenge on me? How about you guys go get some more help?"

Skylar blew the dust off his fingers and smiled indifferently.

Homer, who was standing next to him, suddenly had his heart sink.

Wasn't Skylar afraid of the two great families when they joined forces?

And Skylar even asked the other parties to get more help.

Could it be that Skylar was one of the Four Great Families?

The Four Great Families had been working in Cloudtopia for many years, with a network of connections all over the city, occupying eighty percent of the city's industry.

According to the strict hierarchy of the past, only these Four Great Families could be so arrogant.

Everyone said that Homer was influential. However, only he knew that he wouldn't have such fame without the Currey family.

If Skylar was really one of the Four Great Families, he really had the rights to be so arrogant.

It was just that the Stone family was not included in the Four Great Families.

Could it be that Skylar was a powerful individual from other country?

But even so, how could he dare to be so arrogant once he came to this country?

Homer was puzzled again.

"Skylar, the Chase and Wexler families have brought so many people to take revenge, and you still dare to provoke them. You're simply courting death!"

Phyllis sneered.

"Mom, will you stop talking?"

Sally was shocked and spoke in a hurry.

Chapter 89

Sally knew many things.

At Naomi's wedding, she had seen with her own eyes how the big shots of Cloudtopia bowed to Skylar.

But Phyllis was still angry. She wanted to take this opportunity to satirize Skylar.

She waved her hand at Sally. "Sally, have you been bewitched by this trash? Why do you defend him? This kind of arrogant person who doesn't appreciate his life is not worthy of your trust! Just see how the Chase and Wexler families will get him!"

Just as she finished speaking, Mortimer said coldly to Skylar, "Don't be dismissive either. I naturally know that the Wexler family and the Chase family alone can't defeat you."

Phyllis, who had wanted to continue to satirize Skylar, suddenly felt embarrassed.

The head of the Chase family had admitted personally that even the two families joined forces, they could not resist Skylar.

Phyllis felt extremely awkward.

Mortimer continued, "Of course, since we dare to come, we have come prepared."

As they spoke, the private lounge door was once again pushed open, and Homer's men who had previously reported the news rushed in once again.

This time, his men were even more panicked than just now.

"Boss, it's not good. Old Mr. Shepard is here!"

"Old Mr. Shepard?"

Homer did not react at first, but halfway through the sentence, he was shocked.

At that moment, Theo and Mortimer walked quickly to the door and bowed. "Old Mr. Shepard, you're finally here!"

Old Mr. Shepard was the head of the Shepard family, one of the Four Great Families. He was Dudley Shepard!

Homer did not expect that Theo and Mortimer could invite Dudley. Homer felt that Skylar would definitely end up terribly.

However, he didn't think too much about it. After all, he was not familiar with Skylar.

And Skylar smiled.

Just now, Mortimer said he had come prepared. Skylar was curious which one of the Four Great Families Mortimer had invited.

It turned out that they had invited Dudley.

"Old Mr. Shepard? Is he the head of the Shepard family, one of the Four Great Families?"

Phyllis and Kingsley couldn't help but marvel in their hearts. They were excited at the same time.

Not only did the Chase family and the Wexler family join forces, but they also asked Dudley to back them up. So no matter how powerful Skylar was, he must be dead this time.

In Cloudtopia, the Shepard family was very influential.

Even if Skylar's power was enough to fight the Chase and Wexler families, it was definitely far from the Shepard family, not to mention the three families joined forces now.

Skylar would end up terribly for sure this time!

Just as they were gloating at Skylar, a beautiful young girl walked in.

She was the eldest daughter of the Shepard family, Judy.

She walked in when Dudley was greeting Chase and Wexler.

"Hello, Ms. Judy!"

When Kingsley saw Judy, he was immediately moved in his heart. He warmly welcomed her.

"Ms. Judy, I'm Kingsley, the eldest son of the Woolridge family, and I'm honored to meet you!"

Kingsley spoke solicitously.

His intention to curry favor could not be more obvious.

Unfortunately, Judy not only met people like him from time to time, but also despise him very much.

Therefore, Judy did not even look at him. She directly passed by him and walked quickly toward the sofa.

When Judy saw Skylar, her eyes lit up, and she asked in surprise, "Sky, why are you there?"

Chapter 90

Without waiting for Skylar's answer, Judy sat next to him and intimately shook his arm.

Sky?

Kingsley was dumbfounded.

Judy knew Skylar too?

And Judy even called Skylar Sky affectionately.

Theo and Mortimer, who went out to greet Dudley, came in and saw the scene. He was stunned but did not take it seriously.

It was normal that Judy, who was generally more sociable, knew Skylar.

Moreover, the people of the gentry family seldom have true friends.

There were no friendships when profit was at stake.

Even if there was, it was because the temptation wasn't great enough.

With Dudley to back them up, Skylar would be crippled even if he was not dead today!

"Old Mr. Shepard, it's the kid sitting next to your granddaughter who not only bullied Mortimer's son, but also... "

Before Theo could finish speaking, he saw Dudley suddenly pushed him and Mortimer away with two hands and approached Skylar quickly. Dudley clasped his hands, bowed and greeted respectfully, "Hello, Mr. Stone!"

Everyone gasped.

The entire private lounge was suddenly silent, as if the sound of each person's heartbeat could be heard.

After a short while, someone finally broke the silence.

"Old Mr. Shepard, how do you know him? You even... "

"Old Mr. Shepard, did you recognize the wrong person?"

"Is it my eyesight problem? Or am I hallucinating?"

Theo, Mortimer, Homer, Phyllis, Kingsley, Sally and Ivory were all shocked.

What exactly was Skylar's origin that he could make the dignified Dudley call him so respectfully?

At this moment, Phyllis wished she could travel back in time.

After all, she knew that it was easier for women to make the first move.

If Phyllis hadn't had to come along and stir things up, perhaps Ivory could have used the opportunity of this meeting to pursue Skylar.

The Barlow family would soar to heights if such a big shot like Skylar could become their son-in-law.

However, all this had been ruined by Phyllis.

Phyllis regretted it so much.

Skylar nodded at Dudley in return.

Dudley did not feel neglected at all. He even said happily, "Mr. Stone, I regretted that I disappointed you last time. I've been to your house several times, but no one is there. I didn't expect to meet you here today. I'm so lucky."

Dudley's humble reaction once again shocked everyone.

He was one of the four major figures of Cloudtopia and the great patriarch of the Shepard family.

When he was young, he went to war and held a high position, so he was a powerful man.

But at this time, he had to please a young man in his twenties.

"Old Mr. Shepard... You... "

Theo spoke with mixed feelings.

Only then did Dudley react to why Theo and Mortimer had invited him today.

At that moment, his eyes were cold, and he said to Theo and Mortimer, "Is the murderer you are talking about Mr. Stone?"

Theo and Mortimer immediately said in unison, "Yes, it's him! Please do justice for us!"

Dudley's face darkened when he heard that, and he coldly snorted, "Mr. Stone is noble. He will never kill innocent people indiscriminately. It must be your two unworthy sons who have offended Mr. Stone."
