THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 51 RILEY “The agreement is between me and Darvin. That’s why I didn’t want any emotional attachment.” A smug smirk was plastered on his face before he pointed a finger at me. “And you will never know anything about that.” “Fk you.

” He laughed before shaking his head.

“I’m f*d up already.

So how was it with your mate?

And do you still think of Andrea?

” My forehead creased at the mention of Andrea.

“Let’s not mention the other female.

I don’t want any trouble with Nadia.

She’s totally out of the picture and my focus right now is my Luna.

” “You’re smitten.

” “Do you have a problem with that?

” “No.

Of course not.

So tell me, is s*x more explosive with her than with Andrea?

” “Shut the f*k up!

I didn’t have sx with her or all the other females.

I’m not a walking hormone, like you and Jacob.

” “I still don’t believe you.

But do you like her?

” “I do.

She’s perfect.

” “Do you think it will come to a point where you will just lose interest or un-like her?

” “No.

I don’t think so.

” “Like if she’s too bratty or defies you all the time, will your feelings for her change?

” “No.

I think I would like it more if she kept defying me.

It’s fg s*y.

Nobody defies an Alpha except his Luna.

” “Yeah, I know.

Irritating but...” “You know?

Are you not telling me something?

” “I’m not telling you anything.

” He chuckled and walked in front of my desk, grabbing the documents we went over earlier.

“I’ll take this draft and send you the signed one in a couple of days, so we can get this rolling.

” “I will find out whatever you’re hiding.

” “Be my guest.

” “Absolutely.

Anyway, I have a phone meeting with Jacob later.

Any word for him?

” “Nothing.

But tell him I said Hí to Clair.

” He chuckled before he slipped the document into a folder and placed it under his arm.

“Fk you.

” “I was just kidding.

I’m sure one day he will allow me to speak with him.

But for now, it’s better this way.

” “You know, Jacob.

He would never bow down to anyone.

And I don’t think he will.

We’re talking about Clair.

” I told him as we walked side by side towards the door.

“I know.

That’s why I’m not trying anymore.

I just don’t try to cross or block his way.

” We remained in silence as we walked down the corridor on our way to the front of the pack house when a faint chattering started to erupt in the air.

“It must be your Luna.

” “It is.

She talks a lot.

” I couldn’t help the smile from tugging on my lips.

“The exact opposite of you.

” I didn’t have time to reply as we came face-to-face with Nadia and Jenny.

Both of them stopped in their tracks as we did.

Their faces showed two different emotions.

Nadia's face curved into a friendly smile, while Jenny's face became stoic, void of my emotions, and it was her who broke the silence.

"Alpha, Luna, I will go ahead.

I will see you later.

" She then tilted her head and looked at my Luna.

"It was a fun morning, Luna.

See you at lunch.

" She smiled warmly at her before turning around, not giving me or Aeon a second glance.

I cleared my throat, and it caught both Nadia and Aeon's attention, whose gazes were following Jenny as she stepped out of the front door.

"Nadia, come here.

" I motioned for her to come toward me.

She smiled and beamed at me before she walked beside me.

I coiled an arm around her waist and pulled her into my side.

My eyes focused on her lovely face as I spoke.

"Nadia, this is Alpha Aeon.

Young Alpha of the Blood Moon Pack.

" I then shifted my gaze to Aeon.

"And this is my lovely mate, Nadia.

Future Luna of my pack.

" "It's a pleasure to meet you, Luna Nadia.

" Aeon extended a hand.

"Same here, Alpha Aeon.

” My Luna smiled at him, giving him her hand, and Aeon took it, placing a soft kiss on her knuckles, which had me rolling my eyes at him.

“Relax.

It’s a gentleman’s way.

” He chuckled as he let go of Nadia’s hand.

“And that female.

” He pointed in the direction Jenny took.

“She looked familiar and I felt like she didn’t like me?

” “Who?

Jenny.

You must be mistaken.

The Gamma female is a very lovely person.

” Nadia said but she was biting her bottom lip.

“And happens to be a former Black Shadow pack warrior,” I added.

“I see.

So she knows me.

” “Very well.

She’s a close friend of Luna Clair.

” “No wonder her stare was burning me.

Like it was pushing me to hell.

” “I’m sure she has her reason and I’m not going to question that.

” She smiled sweetly before changing the subject.

“So, Alpha Aeon, will you be staying for lunch?

” “No.

Your mate didn't invite me at all.

And besides, I have other business to attend to.

So even if he did, I would not be able to stay.

"Does that business have anything to do with Katarina?"

"Aeon was taken aback by her question, and I couldn't help the smile gracing my lips.

Nadia has come a long way.

I didn't feel any nervousness in her while she threw the question.

Or maybe she knew that I would always have her back.

"Umh..." Aeon swallowed, and I internally chuckled.

Nadia had rendered the f*r speechless.

"No.

unfortunately.

Some other day, perhaps.

"Oh, such a shame!

Katarina was looking forward to the day she would actually meet you.

She already has an impression that you're scared to meet her because you looked scary.

"Whoa.

Her mouth has no filter now.

Aeon's ears started to turn a shade of red, and I couldn't help the chuckle escaping my throat.

"Does Aeon look scary to you, my love?"

"Nadia beamed up at me, her eyes twinkling.

"No.

But I won't tell Katarina that.

She needs to find it out for herself.

"I will probably pay her a visit soon.

"Aeon cut the trance between me and Nadia as we both snapped our heads to look back at him.

"Sounds good.

I'm sure she would appreciate that visit rather than meet you for the first time at your engagement party.

"Engagement party?

"I asked Aeon, He raised his hand to his neck and rubbed it.

He was trying to mask his own emotions so that if he was annoyed with Nadia's interference, I would never know.

"The Claiming was canceled this month, but we will push through with the engagement party six weeks from now.

And you're both invited.

The invitation would probably be sent out a week or two before that.

"The invitation should be sent out only after you meet her.

Right, my love?

"Nadia leaned her head on my shoulder, and I had no choice but to agree with her.

"Yes.

"Aeon chuckled before he slipped his hand into his pocket.

"I should get going now.

It was nice to meet you and be under your scrutiny, Luna Nadia.

I hope I passed your assessment.

"Not quite yet, not until you show yourself to Katarina.

My friend deserves to know who she will be bonded to for life.

” “We will see that then.

But I will leave you both for now.

” He answered politely.

He bowed down to Nadia and tapped my shoulder with his hand before turning around and making his way out of the pack house, while we remained on our spot, just holding each other.

“So, did you like him?

” I asked Nadia when Aeon was no longer around.

“I don’t know.

He seemed to be a well-mannered man.

But Jenny didn’t like him, obviously.

” “The whole Black Shadow Pack doesn’t like him.

” “Well, they have a reason.

Anyway, how was your meeting with him?

Care to share?

” “Of course.

” I turned our bodies around and guided us back to my office.

“He’ll be sending the final draft for the agreement, and the alliance will be official again in a couple of days.

” “Maybe it’s the reason Alpha Jacob wasn’t signing a formal alliance with you because you’re still in contact with Alpha Aeon.

” “No.

Jacob is not like that.

His enemies are his, unless we have common ground to loathe someone.

And we've all been brothers since we were young.

We've just grown apart over the years because of responsibilities, but we still check on one another once in a while.

"So if Alpha Aeon is to Alpha Jacob, yours is Alpha Caspian?"

"I pulled her head to my lips and kissed the crown of her head gently.

"Maybe.

But hopefully, time will heal all wounds.

"I love you, Riley.

"She turned around and faced me, her hands holding my forearms as she beamed at me, a loving smile curling on her lips.

"All the other Alphas I met through you are utterly handsome, but they can never compare to you.

I don't know why, but even when you're frowning or pissed off, I still find you attractive, panty-wet attractive.

"I rested my forehead against her, a smug smirk tugging at my mouth.

"Because I am really panty-wet attractive" I let out a deep breath and closed my eyes.

"And I love you too, Nadia.

You make everything beautiful.

"SALVODOR.

I slipped into the booth of this diner and waited for my order to come.

I was hungry and this was the only place outside the territory that wasn't too crowded.

"Did you see Alpha Riley's soon-to-be Luna?"

"She's so beautiful..." My ears perked up at the mention of Alpha Riley and his Luna from the group of young females sitting just behind my booth.

I was informed by Alpha Darwin that it was the Alpha that marked Nadia, and had I known it, I would have used a different tactic.

But my stupid niece was too stupid to even identify that the one who marked her was the Alpha of the Silver Moon Pack.

“And why was it taking them too long to have a Luna Ceremony?”

We never had a Luna for the longest time.

” “I don’t know.

Maybe the Alpha doesn’t like her.

” “No way.

My brother said, he has never seen the Alpha getting mushy and handsy with any female before, just the Luna, so I think he likes her.

” “Maybe the Luna didn’t want him?”

” “You think so?”

But why?

I would love to be mated to the Alpha!

” “I don’t know.

We don’t even know where she came from, but maybe he has a boyfriend somewhere.

” “I don’t think so, I think they were just preparing something grandeur so it’s taking longer.

It should be a big celebration because we never had a Luna for more decades now.

” I didn’t hear the rest of the conversation as my mind immediately sprang into action.

It’s payback time.

I lost a month of my life being beaten to death in that horrid cell, and I lost my female.

I still had no idea where my mate was after she ran away when I was held.

I couldn’t blame her, they would probably have gone after her if she didn’t leave.

I would go and find her, but for now, Nadia needed to be punished.

I slipped out of my seat and met the server with my order, but I just ignored her even after she called after me.

I suddenly lost my appetite.

I have more important things to do.

THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 52

THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 52 NADIA. My heart was clenching as I watched Riley in combat with one of his Elite warriors in a makeshift arena at the training grounds. I have always seen him during training and when he did boxing on his own at the gym. If he was looking sexy during those times, they were nothing compared to how my mate looked right now.

He looked like a god with his sweat glistening over his naked torso.

His face was showing his animalistic side, and I wouldn't deny that the sight of his fierce side was making my core throb.

He was really hot and I couldn't believe he was mine.

join telegram for latest update I flinched and almost let out a gasp when he was hit on the jaw by his opponent, but it didn't make him falter or even lose his stance.

Instead, he countered the attack and in just a second, the warrior who was also showing mastery of the skill was already on the ground.

'I can feel your emotions here, my love.

Don't be terrified, I'm okay.

' He reached me through our mindlink, and I could see him winking at me from a distance.

'Did it hurt?

' I asked, my voice laced with worry.

I knew he could take the blow, but my heart couldn't take it.

'It hurts more when you refuse to speak with me when you're mad at me.

' He chuckled.

'Stop kidding around, and focus there.

I will put my wall up so I don't distract you.

' Don't do that.

I need to feel something to keep me going.

' But your walls are up.

I can't feel you.

' I don't want you to feel the blow, Nadia.

' He chuckled.

'So it means it hurts.

' Of course, it hurts.

Stupid question.

I chuckled at my own words.

'Yes it does, but nothing I couldn't take.

And it's something I don't want you to feel.

' I know.

I was just being a brat.

Focus!

And make me proud!

'Yes, my Luna.

' Another gasp left my throat, but this time, it wasn't for him.

It was for the warrior he was sparring with.

Riley jabbed him in the jaw, and his body spun around before falling to the ground with a loud thud.

He wasn't moving.

Everyone around us was clapping their hands and hooting, but the sight made my stomach churn.

Did he kill him?

'Riley?

Did you kill him?

' I asked, scared of what the outcome would be.

"Relax.

I didn't.

It's a hard blow, but he could take it.

' I saw Riley approach the warrior and crouched to his side.

He was fully covering him from my sight, so I had no idea what was going on.

"Luna..." Someone called my attention from behind me, and I tilted my head and found three young females, probably around fourteen or fifteen smiling at me.

"Hi..." I greeted them, a wide smile playing on my lips.

"We saw the Alpha wink at you earlier.

" They were giggling with giddiness, which I found adorable.

"He did?

" I feigned a surprise.

"I thought something was just caught in the Alpha's eyes.

" They giggled, and one of them shook her head.

"I think the Alpha likes you a lot.

My mom said he had never really talked to females before.

" "Of course, the Alpha loves her.

She wouldn't be our Luna if he doesn't.

" One of them added.

"But she's not our Luna yet.

Maybe she will leave too.

" I heard the smallest girl whisper, but I could hear it well and my heart clenched.

These girls knew about Andrea and that she had left him.

I didn't know what to feel at the moment if I should feel bad about myself or for my mate.

"But she will be.

" The tallest of them said before she turned her gaze back at me, a warm smile on her lips.

"You will be the Luna of this pack, right Luna Nadia?

" "Yes.

I will be your Luna, and that would be soon.

" I winked at her.

I made up my mind.

I would talk with Riley tonight.

Maybe I was still not a Luna material at this point, but I would learn and I would do my best.

Riley deserved a Luna, and so did his people.

And they would get one, the rightful Luna of this pack RILEY.

I went over the documents in my hand, but I couldn't concentrate.

Gamma Sebastian sent me a mindlink minutes ago that there was a manila envelope left at the border that was addressed to me, but it has Nadia's name on it as a subject.

He had already sniffed and believed nothing dangerous was inside.

He asked if he should go and check inside, but I didn't allow him.

Whatever was in there might be confidential and I didn't want to risk anything being seen by anyone, especially if it had something to do with Nadia.

And now I was finding it hard to do my work while I waited for my Gamma to arrive.

I wanted the envelope in my hand and I wanted to see them before telling Nadia whatever was inside.

'Where are you?

Are you still with Katya?

' I asked her through our mind link.

She told me after lunch that she would visit Beta Dominic's mom so she could learn more about the pack duties of a Luna.

'Yes.

Do you need me there?

' I need you every time.

' Stop flirting with me.

I'm asking a serious question.

She giggled.

Do you want me home?

' You can stay there.

I was just making sure I knew where you are.

' Okay.

Are you sure there's no Andrea there in your office?

That if I just suddenly appear there, I won't be surprised?

' No.

Nothing.

I learned my lessons the hard way.

No more secrets.

' Good.

You're learning fast, Alpha.

' I have a very good teacher.

' Hmmm... Is that me?

Because, as far as I recall, I was the one being instructed on what to do and what not to do, like this morning when you told me where you wanted my hands...' Nadia...' I grunted.

She always made it her hobby to tease me at the most appropriate times.

' I thought no flirting?

' I wasn't flirting.

I was seducing you...' Goddess, what will I do with you?

' I groaned, she was making my dick twitch inside my pants and she was nowhere near to help me with this.

' Many things... you can do many things with me.

No limits.

' I'm sure I will after all the teasing you are doing.

You need to be punished, my love.

' Sounds exciting!

So tonight?

My punishment?

Let's make it a date!

' She exclaimed, her tone laced with excitement, and I couldn't help but chuckle at her excitement.

Nadia.

She was overwhelming me at times.

But I wasn't complaining.

'Tonight then, let me get back to work so I can prepare for tonight.

' 'Okay... I love you, big Alpha.

' 'I love you too, my Luna.

' She cut off the mind link just in time as Gamma Sebastian's smell reached my nose.

"Come in," I told him without waiting for him to knock, and the door swung open.

Sebastian stepped in and bowed his head before walking toward my desk and placing the manila envelope in front of me.

"Do you want me to stay while you open that?

Or would you rather have privacy?

" He asked.

"You can leave, I'll be fine.

He just bowed down and I nodded my head in acknowledgment before he left and closed the door behind him.

I sliced the envelope open with my letter cutter and spread out everything on my desk.

The first one that caught my eye was a picture of Nadia.

And it cut right through my heart.

I closed my eyes and pressed my fingers to them, trying to calm myself and slow down my heartbeat.

I then rose from my seat and walked towards the door, locking it before hovering back at my desk Pictures of Nadia and Benedict.

I took one where Benedict was holding Nadia's jaw and they were looking straight at each other's eyes.

It was fucking too intimate.

The one that took the picture must have been ten to 12 twelve meters away from them.

No.

I knew of Nadia's past.

Nothing would change.

Someone was out there to destroy us.

I swiped my gaze over all the pictures on my desk.

Eight pieces.

This was fucking nothing.

Even the one where she was hugging Benedict meant nothing.

I gathered them all up and shoved them inside the envelope, planning to just throw them to the fire and burn them when a folded paper slipped out.

I picked it up and unfolded it.

The letter was for me.

My heart shattered into pieces as everything started to make sense, The three months that she was gone.

Her sudden appearance.

Her acceptance of my past, like it was nothing.

And the Luna ceremony.

I didn't know how I managed to finish reading the letter before I crumpled it and threw it in the waste bin as I wiped the tears that fall from my eyes with the back of my hand.

I didn't know such pain as this existed.

It was too much

THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 53

THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 53 NADIA. I didn't have a training scheduled for today, so I spent the whole afternoon with Katya. We talked about Zahra, Riley's mother, as well as other things I needed to learn as a Luna. Before I left today, I told her that I thought I was ready to have the Luna Ceremony even if I didn't think I was capable of being one. She hugged me tightly and told me that I didn't need to worry about being capable, because this was my fate and that I was meant to do this.

And that she would be there to help me as I transitioned as a Luna.

join telegram for latest update And I couldn't be more thankful for her.

I couldn't wait to tell Riley the news.

I was hoping he would get excited as I did.

I was almost at the packhouse when I tried to reach Riley.

His mind was closed, but I just shrugged it off.

He might be too busy with work and didn't want to be bothered.

I parked the car I was driving carefully to the big parking space Riley allotted just for me since I was still having a hard time parking in a tight space.

It's been days since I was able to drive on my own.

I was still not that confident, but I guess everyone knew the car I was driving and that no one was trying to drive near me.

And I was just driving within a ten-kilometer radius.

Hopefully, I could get the hang of it and drive further.

I slipped the key inside my jeans pocket and skipped my way up the stairs.

It was dinner time already and I was expecting Riley to be at the dinner table, but he wasn't there.

"Where's Riley?"

"I asked everyone after I acknowledged their greetings.

"In your room.

I think, he'd been there for hours now.

I asked him to come down for dinner, but he said he was not hungry.

He was probably tired and resting.

"Beta Dominic answered, and I just nodded my head before flashing him a smile.

"I see.

I'll go check on him then.

"Do you want me to ask someone to bring dinner for both of you?

Jenny asked, and I just shook my head.

"No need.

I can come down later, just leave something for us.

I winked at her before I turned on my heel and headed for the stairs.

I wondered why he retired early to our room today.

Riley never went to bed early unless we were fucking in the middle of the day.

But rest?

That man was a walking machine.

I hope he didn't tire himself out.

He had been working too much since I came here, and the only rest he would get would be at night or whenever we were together, but there were times he would still work with me just watching him or sitting on his lap.

I was panting by the time I reached the fourth floor from all the running I did to hurry up.

I was so worried that something was wrong with my Alpha and he wasn't saying anything.

I turned the knob and pushed the door open.

The receiving area of our room was fully lighted, and I walked past it and headed for the bed.

It was empty.

But I could smell him and I could sense him nearby.

I turned my body around to scan the whole room and found him at the side of the bookshelves, his shoulder leaning on it as he sipped a glass of bourbon.

Goddess, I missed him.

“Isn’t it too early for that?”

You didn’t have dinner yet.

” I smiled at him and walked toward him, wanting to wrap myself in his embrace.

But instead of welcoming me into his arms, he moved away and went by the big door, leading to the balcony, and drew the curtains closed.

I bit my lower lip and let my eyes follow his movement.

My brows furrowed in confusion.

What was happening?

He turned his attention back to me, but he wasn’t talking and was just watching me from the other side of the bedroom.

My heart thumped loudly as I stared at him, baffled by his actions.

“What’s going on?”

Are you mad at me?

” I asked.

“I was just with Katya, I didn’t go anywhere else.

You can ask her.

” “What other thing are you not telling me?”

” “Can you be more specific?”

I’m not understanding you.

” “Tell me, Nadia.

What was your real plan on the full moon that I met you?

" His eyes were swirling black and if I didn't know he loved me, I would have been terrified.

"Real plan?

I was running away... You know that.

"Really?

Were you not supposed to meet someone that night?

And I got in the way?

And the moment I fell asleep, you stuck off and left with him?

"What?

" My voice was slightly raised.

"Where are you getting those ideas?

You were the one who left me!

I left you a note, and I had no idea why you didn't see it.

"Maybe because there was no fucking note.

I went back to that cave the next day.

If there was a note there lying somewhere, I would have seen it because I scanned the whole area for anything you left behind, torn clothes, shoes, or anything!

And I found nothing!

"Because I picked up all my things!

Even my torn underwear!

I didn't want anyone to find out I was there!

Or sniffing my belongings!

I picked up the note too and threw it along the way out.

“Stop with your fucking lies!

” His ears were turning too red and his anger was slowly getting into me, terrifying me.

“Where are all these coming from?

I thought we were okay?

” “Do you love him?

” “What?

Riley... What are you asking me?

” “Do you love Benedict?

” “No!

You know that!

I despise that man!

” “Really?

” He moved away from where he was standing and I thought he would approach me, but instead he went to the bookshelves and took a manila envelope, and shook the content until it all fell on the floor.

Ile 1100r.

Pictures.

All of me.

With Benedict on it.

of anything, a shiver of fear ran down my spine.

“Pictures, Riley.

But they were old ones.

” My hand flew to my mouth when it sank in what I thought was happening.

“Do you think I’m cheating on you?

I don't even leave the territory at all or go anywhere far.

You can ask the people I've been with, I never went anywhere alone.

"Where were you for the last three months after the first full moon?

"New Orleans.

I worked there.

I told you about it.

"You told me you were alone.

"I am.

What are you trying to say?

"Was this part of your plan, Nadia?

Pretending you didn't know that the fucking idiot who marked you is an Alpha?

And then make him fall in love with you so you can do whatever the fuck you want?

"Riley!

"What exactly are you saying?

"He stepped forward and the anger in his eyes was so terrifying that I moved back, only for my back to hit the wall behind me.

His hand snaked at the nape of my neck, tilting my head up to look at him.

"What do you want from me?

My money, my properties, my pack?

"I coiled my hands into fists as anger surged through my senses and I started throwing jabs at his chest. Instead of letting me go, his hand on my nape tightened.

"Fuck you, Riley!

Fuck you!

I hate you!

” I kept hitting him hard until he loosened his hold on my nape and backed away.

“You could never hate me as much as I hated myself for believing all your lies!

For believing you actually loved me, Nadia!

” “How could you say that?

Look at me, Riley!

” I held his face, trying to catch his gaze, but he took my hands off his face and moved away.

I clutched my chest, trying to stop myself from falling to my knees.

I couldn't stop my tears anymore.

“I accepted you and your past even if a part of me kept saying that some people don't change, that somewhere inside you is still the same Riley that A'ndrea was scared off!

But I disregard my logic because I love you!

” “Stop using that fucking word!

You don't love me, Nadia!

You're fucking using me for your own good!

It's no surprise that you just seemed to accept that I was fucking messed up man because you never cared about my past.

You just need to do your fucking plan!

” Tears were just pouring into my eyes as my heart kept shattering into pieces.

I didn't know how I would get up from this.

“What plans?

What happened to hearing it out before we lay judgment?

” “I don't fucking need you!

I'm capable on my own!

” His hand slid into his back pocket, and he took out his wallet and tossed it on the bed before grabbing a piece of paper and a pen, scribbling something in there, and then throwing it on the bed too.

My eyes were just following his every move.

Riley...” My voice was breaking as soft sobs escaped my throat.

“I don’t know what’s happening.

And here I was thinking of telling you I was ready for the Luna Ceremony.

” And then he let out a forced laugh.

“Now you want the Luna Ceremony?

Was it your last option?

Bind yourself to me so I can’t get away from you anymore?

That’s the fucking reason you didn’t want the ceremony in the first place because you wanted to leave, right?

When you’re done with your plan?

Then just fucking go!

” My mouth dropped open at his last words.

Chapter 53 “Take whatever you want.

The code on my vault is there on the paper too.

Take every bit of money and jewelry you can find there and just fucking leave!

” “Riley...” My voice broke as I watched him leave the room and shut the door behind him.

My mind was still in a haze.

I couldn’t understand what was happening.

Was he kicking me out?

What did I do wrong?

My knees buckled as my shoulders shook, making me drop my body to the floor as tears continued to stream down my face.

My heart kept breaking and I didn't even have any idea what I did wrong.

AUTHOR'S NOTE: Hello, lovelies!

This was a hard chapter to write (and we're just starting) because, of course, I wanted a happily ever after for them too – but life doesn't come with butterflies and rainbows (and ladybugs) all the time.

Shit happens!

So you're all free to hate Alpha Riley at the moment (or still love him) but please... trust where the story is heading.

I promise you, the pain will be worth it in the end.

♡ P.

S.

If you're hating on me now, you can use your GEMS and throw them at me.

I will catch it even if it hurts!

Lol!

♡ Thank you for waiting and reading!

THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 54

THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 54 NADIA It was already past midnight and Riley hadn't returned to our room. I badly wanted to see and talk with him. I had no idea what happened, and I was hoping he had calmed down by now. I kept thinking about where I messed up or what I did wrong. Maybe he was tired of me already. Did he meet someone new?

I thought the mate bond was strong enough for someone to overcome temptation?

Or maybe I was just not good enough.

He has never abandoned me at night except for that one time I told him he couldn't sleep beside me.

All the time, he would be here by eight or nine in the evening.

And I also kept looking out at the forest ground, checking if Hunter went out for a run, but I didn't see him.

He must just be somewhere around the pack house or in his office.

I waited for a few more minutes, and when I couldn't take his absence anymore, I put on my robe and headed downstairs.

The pack house was already quiet, and the front door was locked.

Only the dimmed lights were on, and the light illuminated under the door of his office.

He was still there.

I knocked three times, but I didn't hear any response from the inside.

I tried again.

Nothing.

I turned the knob and pushed the door open.

I saw him sitting at his desk, his head tilted down, looking down at the document in his hand with his reading glass on.

I didn't even know he used glasses.

I guess there were still many things I didn't know about him.

"You should be sleeping.

It's late.

" His voice was cold and distant.

He didn't even glance up to look at me.

The coldness in his voice made me stop in my tracks.

I remained standing by the door, internally hoping he would call me to his side.

But he didn't.

"I was just checking on you.

It's midnight.

You should be resting.

" I answered him in a calm manner, trying my best to keep my voice steady.

"I'm sleeping here tonight.

" "Riley, can we talk?

" "I'm busy.

And we have nothing to discuss.

" "We don't need to talk if you don't want to.

But at least go to bed with me.

" "How many times do I need to tell you I'm sleeping here tonight?

Go now, don't disturb me.

" I bit my lower lip, my hands coiling into fists.

His words were hurtful.

I wanted to be angry, but I knew it wouldn't do any good at this point.

Instead, I walked toward him.

He must have felt my presence because he tilted his head and looked at me the moment I stopped beside his chair.

His eyes were showing no emotions.

It was as if I was looking at someone I'd never met before.

But it all boiled down to one thing.

He didn't want me here anymore.

I didn't say anything.

I just leaned my head down and pressed a gentle kiss on his forehead before turning on my heel and walking away quietly.

I knew what he wanted me to do.

And I would do it.

I just wanted to kiss him and feel the sparks one last time before I moved on.

"Are you sure you want to do this?"

"Jenny asked me for the nth time today.

Her eyes were welling with tears, and it made me tear up as well.

I nodded my head, my hand reaching for hers and squeezing it gently.

"It's for the best.

I don't want to stay in a place where I'm not wanted.

"I still don't understand what is happening.

And if you were not using your title over me, I would not be doing this.

"I know.

That's why I'm telling you as the rightful Luna of this pack that I want to do this and I'm absolving you of this.

This is not your fault, and you're not doing any wrong.

"Are you sure you don't want to wait another day?"

Until the Alpha calms down?

"It will just hurt more.

I've seen his eyes.

He never looked at me like that.

He didn't want me.

” “This is so wrong...” She wrapped her arms around me and pulled me into a tight hug.

“Please stay, just a few more days.

” Thugged her tightly, pressing a soft kiss on her cheek before pulling my body away.

“I should get going or I will miss my train,” “Where are you heading?

” “I told you not to ask me.

” “You can stay with my mom.

At least I know where you are and I won’t have to worry.

” “Your mom lives in Alpha Jacob’s territory.

It’s not a good place for me.

” “I will never forgive myself if something happened to you.

I don’t even know why I’m agreeing to this.

” I shook my head.

“I’m okay.

I can take care of myself.

I’ve been doing this my whole life.

Maybe this is for the best.

Perhaps we needed some space to think about whether this bond is right for us.

” “Nadia...” Her shoulders shook as soft sobs escaped her throat.

“I’m sorry, I couldn’t help you.

“You’ve done more than enough.

” I let the tears flow this time.

“And I’m happy that you were there for me.

You are the best Gamma Female any Luna will be lucky to have.

And I don't even know how to say thank you for everything.

"We were holding on to each other's hands, just letting our tears stream down our faces.

"I have to go now.

Take care of yourself, and tell Gamma Sebastian and Beta Dominic I said thank you.

And if you can all look after the Alpha.

"He did you wrong, and you were still looking after him.

"You have a mate, Jenny.

You will understand.

"I smiled weakly at her before pulling her for another hug as I fought the new tears from falling.

I didn't say anything more and just stepped out of her car, looking back at her one more time just to make sure she didn't follow me.

And when I made sure that she couldn't see me anymore, I made a different turn and headed for the taxi lane.

I would go to the next city's train station and choose another route.

It would be safer this way.

RILEY, The day went by draggingly slow.

I didn't know how I was able to finish everything I needed to do for today, but somehow I did.

I spent the whole day outside the pack house, holing instead in the office at the old building where all the cells were.

I was trying to avoid Nadia.

The pain was still too much.

And even if I missed her.

I didn't want to see her yet.

I needed time to think I hurried my steps toward the pack house, it was already dinner time.

I missed all the meals for the day, including last night's dinner, and my stomach was already complaining.

And even if I wasn't ready to talk with my mate, I couldn't deny that my walls were already crumbling down.

I missed her.

The smell of dinner wafted in the air, and my feet turned in the direction of the dining room.

The room fell silent the moment I stepped in, and I could see my Beta's eyes throwing daggers at me "Where's Nadia?"

" I asked, ignoring the hostility in his eyes.

Silence.

I reached for the main dish and started placing it on my plate before I asked again.

"Where's Nadia?"

Did someone tell her dinner is ready?"

" "She left.

" Jenny's soft voice reached my ears, and my wolf woke up from his slumber.

My brow hiked up as I rested my fork back on my plate and looked at her.

"What do you mean she left?"

" Jenny took out something from her side pocket and slid it on the table, almost in front of me.

" She wanted me to give this to you.

" My gaze dropped to the table and I saw the credit card I gave her for her personal use.

"She said to tell you that she just took the ten thousand that you agreed upon.

And that she left the car key in your room.

” My breathing hitched as Hunter growled in my head.

I was not sure if I was hearing her correctly.

“Can you fucking explain it again?”

” If I wasn’t seeing the seriousness on their faces, I would like to believe they were pulling a joke on me.

Jenny was about to answer when Dominic intercepted her.

“The Luna left because you asked her to leave.

We don’t know where she went.

” His voice was too cold.

I saw him open his mouth again, but I didn’t hear the rest of his words as I pushed my chair back and hurried out of the dining room.

I made my way to the stairs going to our room on the fourth floor.

I had never walked and run these stairs as fast as I was doing now.

My mind refused to accept that she left.

She wouldn’t.

She couldn’t.

I pushed the bedroom door open harshly and her smell hit me right away.

“Nadia!

” I called her name as my heart thumped loudly, The room was too tidy as if no one had walked here for the last hours.

I opened the bathroom door and checked.

Nothing.

My eyes found her car key and my wallet, including the vault code that I gave her, which was shredded into pieces neatly placed on the crystal bowl where she would usually drop her coins.

I went to the closet and found all her clothes still there.

Not an empty space.

She didn't leave.

She would tell me if she would.

I was trying to console myself, but my fucking heart wasn't calming down.

And Hunter was telling me that he couldn't sense Nadia or Arrow.

And that Nadia's scent around the bedroom was not a fresh one.

She's been gone for hours.

My biggest fear was just presented in front of me.

She left me.

"Fuck!

" I screamed out my frustration.

What the fuck did I do?

I punched the wall beside our closets repeatedly.

I didn't even feel the cut on my knuckles until I felt blood splattered on my face.

'Meet me at the office.

All of you.

' I sent the mindlink to everyone at the dining table as I made my way out of the bedroom.

Here's for today!

I only have one.

Thank you for reading!

Thank you for all your comments, reviews, and gems!

Please don't get tired of throwing them our way!

And don't let my chapter spoil your weekend!

Have a great weekend, lovelies!

THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 55

THROUGH THE EYES OF MY ALPHA by Cassandra M Chapter 55 BETA DOMINIC.
“Again, Jenny. Where did she go?” “Alpha, I don’t know. She didn’t tell me. I told you everything I knew and where I dropped her. “I appreciate your loyalty to your Luna, but you just put her in danger by letting her go. So don’t make me fucking roll off the Alpha command on you before you tell me everything else!” “Alpha!

My mate is not lying, and I will not allow you to roll off that command on her!

And please stop blaming Jenny or us for letting her go because we fucking all know she left because of you!” The Alpha’s eyes blazed with fire, and I knew it was only a matter of time before his wolf would take over.

I needed to butt in.

“Jenny, you may take your leave.

Sebastian and I will handle this.

” “No.

I didn’t get what I needed from her.

” I went to Jenny’s side and held her arm, nodding at her as I guided her towards the door.

Sebastian was watching, but I knew he was in agreement with me.

We needed to put Riley back on his feet and leave Jenny out of this.

“Fuck you, Dominic!

Who’s the fucking Alpha here?

” I closed the door after Jenny left before I turned around to meet his raging eyes.

“I don’t see an Alpha here.

And instead of you channeling your anger to Jenny, why don't you find a way to find Nadia before it's too late?

"I don't even fucking know where to start!

"He yelled before turning his gaze to Sebastian.

"Send someone to the neutral city and a nearby city to check if they can scent Nadia there.

"I will do that.

But can we get to the bottom of this?

The Luna told Jenny that you told her to fuck off and leave.

Now we want to know why?

"That's none of your business.

"It is.

She's our Luna.

If you were right about asking her to leave, why would we waste time looking for her then?

Maybe she's better somewhere away from here!

"What?

Fuck you!

I don't care if she did something wrong or not!

I want her back here!

She's fucking mine!

"Yours?

But you have the audacity to tell her off!

What's going on with you?

Have you lost your mind?

with all due respect, Alpha, that female was the best thing that ever happened to you, and you just told her to fuck off?

For what reason?

Did she refuse to fuck you?

” In seconds, the Alpha was already in front of me.

His hand coiled around my collar as he threatened to throw a punch at me.

“Didn’t I fucking warn you never to talk about her that way?

” “Then explain what happened!

” I snapped back at him.

I was losing my patience already.

“Can we calm down?

This is not helping anything.

” Sebastian’s voice cut the tension between us, Only then did the Alpha loosen his hold on me and brushed his hand over his hair in frustration before he walked to his desk.

He crouched down and reached his hand into the waste bin.

Sebastian threw me a confused gaze, and I just shrugged my shoulders because I was baffled by the Alpha’s actions as well, but none of us said a word.

Alpha Riley picked up a crumpled piece of paper and tossed it at me before he slumped his body into his chair.

My eyes followed his every move, and I could see the tiredness and the pain crossing his features.

But there was no one to blame for his misery but him.

I darted my eyes back to the paper in my hand and straightened it before reading everything written on it.

I kept shaking my head, and no matter how I kept reminding myself that the Alpha had a reason to be angry with his mate based on the letter, I have complete faith in my Luna.

She was nothing like the female depicted in this letter.

I let out a deep sigh before handing Gamma Sebastian the letter as I walked and stopped in front of the Alpha's desk, my hands slipping into my pockets.

"So I assumed that instead of believing the Luna, you believed whoever this fucker is, right?"

And you told her to leave because you think everything she showed you was just a lie?

"He didn't answer."

Our eyes were staring off at each other.

"You let your insecurity eat you up again."

"I leaned my palms on his desk, my eyes still fixed on his."

"Did you let her explain?"

"He shook his head."

"Fuck!"

"I blurted out as I threw a punch in the air as my body made a 360-degree turn."

"How could you?"

What made you think she planned all this?

To entice you and then abandon you once she has obtained what she wanted from you?

"She didn't want the Luna ceremony!"

She didn't want to bind herself to me!

"Did you even ask her why she didn't want to have the ceremony?"

"She's not ready."

"Then she's not ready!"

You can't just force it on someone who grew up not knowing what a Luna does!

Her pack didn't have a Luna either!

She probably just didn't want to dive in on a position she knew nothing about.

” “You should have used the Alpha command on her you were so willing to roll off on Jenny,” Sebastian added.

“I would never use it on her.

” “So it’s fucking better to accuse her of something rather than get to the bottom of the truth?

” “Can we stop this?

We need to find her.

” “But you need to understand where you’ve gone wrong?

Or this will be a vicious cycle.

She’ll come back and one misunderstanding, you will tell her to fuck off again!

” “I don’t think she will come home now.

She probably hates me after everything I told her.

But I want to make sure she’s okay.

” The Alpha was a fucking mess last night.

It was way past midnight when Sebastian and I called it a night, but he remained in his office.

We already formed a team that went looking for the Luna with the strict instruction to keep everything they knew top secret.

No one has to know that she’s not at the pack house at the moment.

He also sent out someone to trail Benedict Solange.

Benedict Solange is the son of the mayor of the western territory and the man to whom the sender of the letter was referring.

And although I didn’t believe a single thing in that letter, I just let the Alpha do what he wanted to do for his own peace of mind.

“So, are we betting on what kind of Alpha we will get today?

” I asked, a smirk forming on my face as I shifted my gaze between Sebastian and Jenny.

We were at the dining table eating breakfast, and Alpha Riley was nowhere in sight.

I went to his office earlier and he wasn't there, but his scent was still fresh.

He probably stayed the night at his office and just went somewhere when dawn broke.

"What do you mean?"

"Jenny asked.

"Just wondering if we're going to get a sulking Alpha, like what happened to him months ago.

"I chuckled a forced one.

"Or a ruthless one, like he was during the time Andrea was here.

"Gamma Sebastian added as he let out a deep sigh.

"We're going to find out soon," I told them since I had already heard big footsteps approaching.

In just a few seconds, the Alpha appeared by the dining room entryway.

He had already changed his clothes, and from the looks of it, he showered too.

"Alpha," we greeted almost simultaneously.

He nodded his head in acknowledgment before he spoke.

"I'm going to the neutral city.

I already contacted the manager of the train station.

He would show me the CCTV for yesterday.

Maybe I can see Nadia and what train she took.

"I was at home this morning.

Dad will meet a friend at Hartly City.

"It was the city next to the neutral city.

“He will drive around after his meet-up and see if he can spot the Luna there.

” “Thank you.

” “And Alpha,” I added, to which he just hummed a response.

“I spoke with Mom.

She told me the Luna was excited to come home to you yesterday, so she could tell you that she was ready to have the Luna ceremony anytime you would want to have it.

” I saw the Alpha swallow hard, and his eyes flitted with remorse.

“The Luna has been religiously studying the geography of the territory and the traditions,” Jenny added.

“She was spending time with Katya so she would get an idea of how a Luna should act during ceremonies and meetings.

She didn’t want to disappoint you.

” “I think I should go now.

” He said it the moment Jenny stopped talking.

“Alpha, eat something.

” It was still Jenny.

“You didn’t eat anything yesterday, and the Luna specifically told me to make sure you don’t miss a meal.

Please don’t make me disappoint her.

” He remained standing by the entryway, and silence was in the air except for the beating of four hearts.

It took a while, but the Alpha moved to his feet and sat on his chair.

A weak smile slowly tugged on my mouth as I picked up the coffee dispenser and poured coffee into his cup, It wasn’t easy to babysit a stubborn Alpha.

But someone has to do it.
