

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2678 - 2680

Chapter 2678

Apparently, he was cutting ties with her.

Roxy's pupils constricted, and she asked, "You're breaking up with me?"

Zephir looked at her indifferently and said, "Yes. I don't see a future in our relationship. Besides, I'm tired."

His mind had been telling him that the woman in front of him was not the real Daisie whenever he saw her.

However, he lied to himself and treated her as Daisie.

It was just that Roxy would never be Daisie. They were two different people, and there was no way anyone could replace Daisie.

"Zeph, why? Did I do something wrong?" Roxy grabbed his hand. "Why are you breaking up with me? Is it because of Leah?"

Zephir's face sank. "This has nothing to do with her."

She chuckled. "Are you sure? Zephir, you started to waver from the moment you found out that Leah had a crush on you, right?"

Zephir's gaze was freezing as he said, "Roxy, don't think too highly of yourself. You don't know anything about me."

Roxy clenched her fists and took a deep breath, "Zephir, I know you've been taking me as someone else, but I've never said anything about it. Do you know how sad I was when I learned that you've been treating me as someone else throughout the months I've been dating you? Did I ever tell you anything about it? No."

Zephir did not say anything in return.

She laughed and said, "But you're now breaking up with me? And you just gave me $250,000?"

He was the one who had approached her, and now he was going to cut ties with her after using her? Zephir frowned. "What? Is it too little? I've been paying for your food, clothes, and luxuries for the past few months. I even bought you a new car. If you add these up, it should be enough for you to pay for a villa. You're still not satisfied?"

Roxy chuckled and said, "But all of these are nothing when compared to being the daughter-in-law of the Goslings."

Since Roxy had shed away her disguise, Zephir felt that he did not have to pretend anymore. The disgust in his eyes was apparent as he said, "I've told you before. Don't think too highly of yourself."

"What if I refuse to leave your side? What are you gonna do about me?" Roxy said as she rubbed his leg with her foot, but Zephir remained indifferent.

Roxy's face sank after Zephir left. She had been under the impression she could take Zephir down after spending the last few months with him. Even if she couldn't get his heart, at least she could get his body. However, it now seemed like she had underestimated Zephir.

Apparently, he was being serious when he said he wanted to cut ties with her.

Zephir might be a j*rk, but he would never turn his head back when he had decided to break up with his girlfriend.

'Hah, no matter how heartless you're, I'll find a way to force you to accept me as your wife.'

In the car park, an intimate activity was happening inside a car.

After everything was over, Roxy lit up a cigarette, and the middle-aged man beside her put his arm around her, "What happened? Who made you upset?"

She lifted her eyelids and exhaled. "I want to become an artist."

The middle-aged man frowned. "What? Why do you suddenly want to become an artist?"

Roxy nestled herself comfortably in his arms and said, "Don't worry. I won't let your wife know about our relationship. I have my own reason for becoming an artist. Isn't the chairman of Tenet Media a relative of yours? You just have to ask, and I'm sure it won't be a problem for me to sign under Tenet Media."

The middle-aged man's face sank. "You want to join Tenet Media?"

"Isn't Daisy temporarily retired from the entertainment industry because she's pregnant? I'm sure she won't be able to return to the entertainment industry so soon. Since I look so much like her, I'm sure I'll stand a chance to become famous."

Roxy touched her face and continued. "When I become famous, you'll earn money as well. It's a win-win situation, isn't it?"

Chapter 2679

Roxy had gotten plastic surgery to look like Daisy. Although she did not look exactly like her, one could see some similarities between them when they observed closely.

Since Daisy could become popular, Roxy could become famous as well.

The middle-aged man put on his jacket and said, "I can help you with that, but make sure you keep your lips tight."

Roxy chuckled. "Don't worry. I will."

After a few days, Roxy became an artist under Tenet Media with the middle-aged man's help. When the manager at Tenet Media saw Roxy, he was stunned.

This was the first time he saw someone who looked so much like Daisy.

Soon, the rumors about someone who looked a lot like Daisy began to spread in the company.

When Charlie heard the rumors from his assistant, he harrumphed and said, "So what if she looks like her? Do you think anyone can replace Daisy? Those people must be out of their minds."

His assistant knew Charlie very well. Apparently, the company was planning to take advantage of Daisy's fame. Otherwise, they wouldn't have signed a contract with a new artist who looked like her and put her in a girls' group.

But there was one thing he couldn't understand. How could their chairman make such a stupid decision?

Just when Charlie's assistant was trapped in his own thoughts, Charlie asked, "Who signed her?"

"I heard that she's introduced by Mr. Goldwin."

Charlie frowned. "Roland?"

His assistant nodded. "Our chairman is his brother-in-law. He has a lot of connections in the entertainment industry, so I think that's why our chairman couldn't say no to him."

At Taylorton...

Nollace was peeling and feeding Daisy oranges while she nestled comfortably in his arms and watched The Fog.

She was wearing a one-piece evening dress in the series, which accentuated her slim figure greatly. She couldn't help but frown when she compared it to her current body figure.

"Nolly, people always say that women may suffer from appearance anxiety after having a baby. If I get fat in the future, will you still love me?"

Nollace chuckled and popped a piece of orange into her mouth. "You're rather plumpy right now. Did I ever say anything?"

"It's a different thing!"

He kissed her forehead and said, "You become fat because you're having a baby for me. So, of course, I'll still love you as always."

Daisie looked at him and smiled.

Suddenly, she received a call from Hannah. She answered the call. "What's the matter, Hannah?"

"Daisie, what is wrong with Tenet Media? How could they sign a new artist who looks like you? Are they going to replace you?"

Daisie was stunned for a few moments before replying, "An artist who looks like me?"

"Yeah, my friends at Tenet just told me about it. Not only does that woman look like you, but she dresses like you as well. She looks just like your copy."

Daisie did not know what to say.

Hannah continued. "Oh yeah, her name is Roxy Van Damme."

Daisie was stunned. "Roxy?"

"I heard that someone helped her to join Tenet. I think she's trying to ride on your coattails. Everyone is calling her 'Daisie Jr.' right now. I really want to ask where she had her plastic surgery. Maybe I should go to the same place and make myself look like you as well. This way, I won't have to work so hard anymore," said Hannah.

Daisie said, "Are those plastic surgery hospitals using me as their template? Can I say that I'm getting popular, but in a different way now?"

"Anyway, I don't think you should worry too much about it. There's no way a fake like her can replace you. You're the one and only Daisie in the entertainment industry. After your return, I'm sure you can still prove to everyone that you're the best, right?"

Daisie chuckled. She knew Hannah was just worried about her, so she said, "Yeah, no one can imitate me. Don't worry about that."

After she hung up the call, she fell into contemplation.

Chapter 2680

Nollace had heard their conversation and sent a message to Charlie.

Other than becoming the leader of a girls' group, Roxy also made her debut on a show with the title 'Daisie Jr.' and received a lot of attention on the internet.

Not only did she look like Daisie, but she also dressed like her. Some of Daisie's fans were disgusted by her, but some of them were amused.

#Stop imitating Daisie.#

#We won't be so disgusted if she just looks like her, but she obviously is imitating her on purpose. #

#There's no need to feel so offended guys. If she imitates Daisie, it just means that Daisie is still very popular. #

At Tenet...

Charlie had been pulling his face ever since the meeting started. When their partner wanted Roxy to continue using the title 'Daisie Jr.' and demanded Charlie to become Roxy's manager, Charlie flipped out and said, "What do you mean by that? Just because Daisie is temporarily retiring from the entertainment industry, you guys want to find another woman who looks like her and take advantage of her fame so that she can perform well in this industry? Not only that, but you want me to become her manager as well?" The rest of the people looked at each other awkwardly.

Their partner said, "Mr. Johnson, I know that you're Daisie's manager, but Daisie's contract will soon expire, right? She might leave Tenet, and you must also take over a new artist.

"Besides, we're doing this for the company's sake, and there's nothing wrong with a company supporting its artist. We should consider how much profit she can generate for us."

The chairman crossed his fingers together and did not say anything.

Charlie sneered. "So? Are you saying that we should let her earn money just because she looks like Daisie? She doesn't have any acting experience and is incapable. How is she going to do that, then? Just because she has a pretty face?"

Their partner frowned. "A pretty face is what everyone in the entertainment industry cares about. There is barely an artist who has any acting skills now. They all can become famous because they have a huge fan base."

After that, he continued. "Besides, Daisie is the best actress right now. Even though she's one of the top actresses in the entertainment industry and started out her career as a child star, she doesn't have a huge fan base. She is just an A-list actress, and a celebrity with a huge fan base is what Tenet needs right now. I don't see anything wrong with us supporting Roxy at all."

Charlie sprung up from his chair and said, "Sure, you can go ahead and do what you want. I'll never become her manager."

After that, Charlie left the meeting room without any hesitation.

They knew Charlie very well, so they could only try to convince the chairman.

The chairman said helplessly, "I'm sure you all know Charlie very well. He nearly rejected Daisie back then, so there's no way he'll become Roxy's manager this time. Let's just take a step back and assign another manager for her."

Charlie stood in the corridor and took a drag from his cigarette. He was still fuming with anger.

Even though he had been in the entertainment industry for a long time and had seen a sort of people, this was the first time he had come across someone who dared to threaten him like this. He was disgusted by

He did not have any problem if Tenet wanted to support Roxy, but he would never become her manager.

There was something he would never do in his life. He did not require his artists to be the best, but at least he wanted them to be all-around artists and could produce some works.

Unfortunately, in this industry where fame and wealth were the mainstream, no one cared whether an artist had excellent acting skills.

Suddenly, he received a call from Nollace.
