Jayla blinked, asking Jaden with her eyes that Daddy had refused to be responsible for Mommy. Why did he suddenly hug her?

Jaden tried to keep calm and shook his head. He was pretty intelligent, but this daddy's thoughts and behaviors were way too weird. He couldn't understand.

Freya was taken aback after being hugged by a man. When she saw the face that looked seventy to eighty percent similar to Jaden, she gaped.

In the morning, she saw Kieran, so she thought he was the man five years ago. Now, she saw Seth, and she felt doubted, wondering who her children's father was.

Before she returned to her senses, Seth said dearly, "I've found you finally, Boss."

Boss?

Freya looked at Seth in disbelief. "Are you... Sethy?"

Seth nodded hard. "Yes, Boss. It's me, Sethy. Your Sethy. Oh... I'm not only Sethy but also the man in Brass Park Hotel five years ago. Boss... we have children!"

With a bang, the shopping bags in Freya's hand dropped to the ground.

It turned out Seth was the man five years ago.

Jaden and Jayla exchanged a glance at each other. The two intelligent kids immediately understood. It turned out Daddy's dream lover was Mommy. What a coincidence.

How interesting!

The car window was opened. Kieran could hear Seth's words clearly.

He knew Seth had always been loving a woman deeply. Seth called her Boss. Much to his surprise, that woman turned out to be Freya.

Kieran pressed his chest hard. He felt more emptiness in there.

Seth hadn't planned to take the responsibility to that woman five years ago because she meant nothing to him. He had intended to compensate her. However, if his children's mother was Freya, it was indeed a gift from Heaven.

At this moment, Seth had an unreal feeling as if he had won a big lottery. He hugged Freya more tightly.

In excitement, he said incoherently, "Where have you been these years, Boss? Why didn't you contact me? You look more beautiful. I've lost weight successfully, Boss. Am I more handsome? Haven't I told you before I love you? Boss, I feel so happy. I'm so god damned happy! Boss, you even gave birth to my children. Boss... Boss..."

Seth kept calling her Boss, and Freya felt dizzy. She thought it was unreal, too. The chubby boy with a runny nose had become tall, sturdy, and handsome. He had even become the father of her children.

Freya broke free from Seth's hug. She rubbed her temples. "I felt quite chaotic now. Please leave me in peace."

"OK, Boss. Please go ahead." Seth stood next to her with a flattering smile. Freya looked so perfect. No wonder he loved her so much.

Under Seth's gaze, Freya felt uneasy and shook off the goosebumps. She slowly sorted out what had happened and said, "Did you mean five years ago, in the evening of June 8th, you were in Bras Park Hotel? Don't you need to do the paternity test with Jaden and Jayla?"

"Not necessary, Boss. The kids look like me so much. They must be my children." Seth held Freya's hand excitedly. Those were Boss's babies. They must be his children. Even if not, he would admit to being their father.

"Boss, a single-parent family isn't good for the children. Shall we get married ASAP and give them a complete home?"

Get married?

Freya's heart trembled. It happened too fast. She hadn't found Mr. Fitzgerald yet.

Before Freya spoke, Jaden said, “Mr. Levin, don’t you have a woman you love? My mommy has a lot of admirers. You don’t have to aggrieve yourself.”

“Exactly. Mommy is so kind-hearted. She won’t force you,” Jayla stood protectively in front of Freya and muffled.

If another man was scolded like this, he would be ashamed.

However, Seth was quite cheeky.

He stared at Freya intensely. His delicate, handsome face looked highly solemn. “Boss, I swear to Heaven. You are the only one I love. My heart, soul, and body only belong to you.”

Jayla curled her lips in disbelief. Seth hurriedly hugged her and said, “Honey, I truly love your mommy. I’ve missed you for so many years. In the future, I’ll take good care of you guys and your mommy.”

After a pause, he added, “I’ll buy you millions of tasty food, a great many of...”

“Tasty food...” Jayla, the foodie, swallowed hard. She seemed to have seen tons of chocolate waving at her. “Will you buy me chocolate?” she asked.

“Of course! I Will.” Seth nodded hard. “As long as you like, I can buy the chocolate from the whole world to you.”

“Daddy! I love you so much! Remember our agreement. I want chocolate.” As she spoke, Jayla pecked on Seth’s face.

Jaden almost went nuts. ‘Jayla, you foodie! How can you be bribed by the chocolate?’ his inner voice yelled.

However, he could tell Daddy truly loved their mommy. If Seth could delight their mommy and make her happy, Jaden would admit him to be their daddy.

Seth didn’t expect that Jayla would kiss him. He almost fainted in happiness. He wondered if Jayla had accepted him.

Seth looked at Jayla and then at Jaden, who looked softened. Then he looked at his beloved woman and could not help but pinch himself.

It hurt. He almost shed tears. He confirmed that he wasn’t dreaming.

Kieran gazed at the happy scene outside the car. He wondered if he had been sick as he felt bitter in his heart.

Seth looked around and saw Kieran's ink-black eyes. Right then, he realized that he was too overjoyed to forget Kieran, who had helped him reunite with his wife and children.

Seth rushed to the car. "Uncle Kieran, thank you for helping me find Boss and our children. Let's go to my house tonight for hotpot."

Uncle Kieran?

Freya was surprised, wondering if Seth had brought his elder here.

She also followed Seth to the car and looked into the window. When seeing Kieran's face, Freya was shocked as if her brain had exploded.

Seth's uncle turned out to be that impotent gigolo.□□□□□□□□□□□□□□
