

MY MATE HAS TWO WOLVES BY JESSICA

Chapter 111

Plakr's POV

When I returned to my office, I found two uninvited guests sitting there. They were Howard and

Benjamin,

“Why are you here”

Howard and Benjamin looked at each other, and Benjamin said, “We read about Catherine and Leo’s affair early in the morning, and we came to show our concern.”

When Howard saw that I was silent, he asked in a low voice “Blake, maybe you should talk to Leo and let him clear things out.”

“He’s right. No one will ask any questions as long as Leo sets things straight. He can also go public with your relationship with Catherine,” Benjamin said.

“Thanks for looking out for me. I still need to talk to her about this.” I had thought the same as them already. When I invited Catherine over, I wanted to talk to her about this.

Unfortunately, she was scared away by my enthusiasm.

“Blake, I’ve never seen you care so much about a woman.” Howard smiled meaningfully.

Benjamin glared at Howard and said, “His kids are old enough to recognize you by now. Of course, he should care about her.”

Howard turned his head to look at Benjamin and joked, "What would you feel if you suddenly had two children calling you their daddy?"

"Me?" Benjamin was a little surprised. Then he shook his head and said, "That won't happen to me. On the contrary, I strongly suspect that you'll be the one."

Howard said with certainty, "That's impossible. You know that I only dated a woman."

"What if she's the one? she got pregnant and left, and now she's overseas alone with your baby?"

Benjamin did not mind carrying his joke further.

When Howard heard Benjamin's words, he said loudly, "That is impossible. I only slept with her a few times."

"A few times?" Benjamin seemed to have heard something juicy.

Howard was frustrated. He glared at Benjamin. "Good for you! You trapped me into telling my secret.

Benjamin, you are so cunning."

Benjamin smirked. "If I didn't do that, I would never know that you and my cousin had made it this far."

"Watch out from now on. Don't let me get the goods on you. Otherwise, I will laugh at you forever!"

Howard said firmly and viciously.

I held some files in my hand and wanted to focus, but I was interrupted by their voices.

“Are you two planning on making me pay for lunch?” I looked up at the two of them and asked lightly.

They were arguing with each other, and they even blushed. Hearing my words, they said in unison,

“Sure!”

I glared at them speechlessly. “Find somewhere and wait for me there. I’ll go over to pay the bill after I’m done here.”

The two stood up. “Fine. We’ll wait for you.”

“Are you two planning on making me pay for lunch?” I looked up at the two of them and asked lightly.

They were arguing with each other, and they even blushed. Hearing my words, they said in unison.

“Sure!”

I glared at them speechlessly. “Find somewhere and wait for me there. I’ll go over to pay the bill after I’m done here.”

The two stood up. “Fine. We’ll wait for you.”

“Google the most expensive restaurant around!” Howard raised his voice and said deliberately.

When I rushed over, I saw them sitting in front of the table with sad faces. It seemed that they had been hit hard.

I looked at them and asked, “What happened? Why haven’t you ordered yet?”

“I don’t want to eat anymore!” Howard suddenly stood up and walked out the door in a daze.

I looked at him in surprise and asked Benjamin, "What's wrong with him?"

Benjamin shrugged and said, "He was dumped."

"What? He doesn't even have a girlfriend. How could he be dumped?"

"He was dating my cousin, Rowena." Benjamin said.

I was even more surprised. "Seriously? He has been dating Rowena? But didn't he say that they broke up long ago?"

"I thought so at first, but from what happened just now, he lied," Benjamin said.

I sat down on the chair, asked the waiter to bring the menu over, and take the order. Then I looked at Benjamin and said, "Tell me. What happened?"

Benjamin told me all the details.

Follow on

It turned out that Benjamin and Howard ran into Benjamin's cousin, Rowena Lawrence, after they came here. Rowena wasn't here alone. There was a man by her side. Not only that, Rowena even had a daughter.

I was extremely shocked.

Benjamin looked inexplicably sad. He lowered his head, took a sip of alcohol, and asked, "Blake, do you know how painful it is, not being able to be with the love of your life? Anyway, I can understand how he feels."

“Not being able to be with the love of my life?” My eyes darkened. I felt that it was a precise description of me.

After lunch, I returned to the company and saw a person sitting in my office.

“Blake.” Leo was like a kid who had made a mistake. He didn’t dare to look me in the eye.

I didn’t go to him after his affair with Catherine went viral. Seeing him in my office right now didn’t surprise me at all.

“Hey.” I looked as calm as usual.

“You saw the news this morning, didn’t you?” asked Leo.

I glanced at his face. “Why did she come to you?”

“She asked me to do some digging for her,” Leo answered guiltily.

“Was it about someone stealing her design?”

Chapter 112

MIKR’s NOV

I hung up the phone and looked up, I saw Leo looking at me with surprise

“What?” I asked.

“You just told Grandma that Catherine is your mate. Why did you lie to her?”

I said seriously, “I did not lie to her, I wanted Catherine to be with me.”

“What?” Leo could not believe what he heard. He was all dazed. Then he said, “Has Catherine agreed to be with you?”

“She will, for the sake of the kids.” I was confident.

Before, when I took the kids away from her, I saw how desperate she was. I knew at that moment that she would absolutely sacrifice anything for them.

Leo frowned. “Then aren’t you using the kids to force her into the corner? What’s the point?”

“I just need to be with her. Do you understand?”

I wanted to say that I had fallen in love with her, but I found it hard to say these words in front of Leo, “Blake, aren’t you always picky about women?” asked Leo.

“I was. But not anymore after I met her,” I replied calmly.

Follow on

Leo was still in disbelief. He did not say another word. Instead, he picked up his coat and left my office.

After Leo left, I dealt with work briefly and left the company to return home.

I stopped the car and rushed into the parlor.

I pictured the scene that would occur every day. A little pink figure would run towards me and let me hug her. At the thought of this, I was genuinely happy.

Strangely enough, today, Hedwig did not run toward me. Instead, she lay on Catherine’s lap and blinked her big eyes

at me.

I was stunned.

What happened to my Princess?

I had to go to Hedwig, squat down, and stroke her head. “Hedwig, Daddy is back. Why didn’t you greet me?”

Hedwig immediately turned her head away and snorted.

I was stunned and looked at Noah. Then I narrowed my eyes and stared at Catherine, Catherine immediately patted Hedwig on the back. “Hedwig, go and hug your daddy. Haven’t you been waiting for him to come back? He is back now.”

“No! Daddy doesn’t love me anymore!” Hedwig pouted.

When I heard Hedwig’s words, I immediately asked her gently, “When did I say that? Hedwig, you are my one and only. I will always love you. Come here and let me hug you.”

“Daddy is going to have babies with another woman. Daddy doesn’t love me anymore.” Hedwig snorted again and

Lu.

“Daddy, you are so stupid. I’m making it so obvious! How could you still not understand? I want you to see if mommy needs your help when she is taking a shower,” Noah immediately said loudly.

I was stunned. What was Noah talking about?

Why would I peep at her when she was showering? What kind of person did Noah think I was?

I coughed. "I do have something to say to your mommy, but it's not what you have in mind. Just go ahead and play with your sister." I quickly stood up. Since Noah was here to accompany Hedwig, I could leave.

I quickly walked upstairs, and I somehow pictured Catherine in the bathroom.

Or

Follow on

Damn it. Why would I picture such a scene in my head?

I did need to talk to Catherine about something.

Thinking back to what I had done to her in the company today, I couldn't help but fantasize.

Her taste was way much better than I imagined. She was sweet, warm, tender, and inexperienced.

I walked to Catherine's bedroom and was about to push the door when I suddenly heard her talking to someone on the phone. Her voice came from the direction of the balcony.

Almost instinctively, I went closer to the balcony.

"Harley, you have to believe me. I have nothing to do with Leo. I went to him to talk about something, and that was it. I didn't know that there would be paparazzi taking photos of us.

"It wasn't like that. An actress in his company asked me to be her private designer. It was Jessica Hall.

You've heard of her, right?

"I'm telling the truth. Leo and I are not what you think we are.

"No. I don't have a boyfriend. If I did, I would tell you.

"OK. Deal. If you get yourself a girlfriend, be sure to let us meet. I want to know which girl is so lucky to have you as her boyfriend.

"Yes. See you the day after tomorrow!" Catherine hung up the phone. It sounded like she was about to meet someone.

Chapter 113

Catherine's POV

After I hung up the phone, I felt someone behind me. I turned around and saw a tall figure leaning against the wall behind me.

I quickly put my phone behind me, and asked unhappily, "How long have you been standing there?"

"Who were you talking to?" asked Blake.

I paused. "A friend."

After saying that, I walked around him and quickly walked towards the bedroom.

He followed me into the bedroom. "I have something to tell you."

"What?" I turned to him.

“Leo will hold a press conference tomorrow to clarify your relationship with him,” said Blake in a low voice. He paused and continued, “And he’s going to make another announcement.”

I stared at him in surprise. “What else?”

“He will state to others that you are my girlfriend.”

“How could you let him say that?” I was a little angry.

Blake raised his eyebrows slightly and smiled. “Don’t forget that we have signed an agreement. Even if things go public, it will be perfectly reasonable.”

Follow on

“Yes, I did agree with that, but didn’t we agree to wait till a suitable time?”

“Right now is perfect, isn’t it? One more thing, I’m going to hold a charity party tomorrow. I need a female companion. Even if Leo doesn’t announce our relationship in the morning, I will do it tomorrow night. What’s the difference?” Blake said confidently.

“Well, if you have decided, go ahead.” I lowered my head and thought for a while. I felt that if Blake had decided on this matter, it would be meaningless for me to object.

Moreover, I was threatened by Guy at the company today, and if my relationship with Blake went public, Guy wouldn’t dare to make things difficult for me at work

“You don’t seem happy.” Blake sounded a little upset.

“What’s there to be happy about? It’s just a deal.” I had mixed feelings. I couldn’t tell how I was feeling right now.

“A deal?” A hint of self-mockery flashed across Blake’s face. “You’re right. It’s a deal. It’s just that I’m trading with you earnestly, and you’re not.”

I heard the subtle affection in his words, and my face burned slightly. I lowered my head and twisted the clothes in my hands. “Get out. I’m going to take a shower.”

“There is another reason. My grandma also saw the rumors online. She called me today and asked about it. I have told her that you are my mate,” Blake suddenly thought of something and added.

I said with a bit of sarcasm, “You seem to have a tendency of taking action first and explaining it later.”

“I never needed to ask for anyone’s opinion before, but now that I have you, there are some things I will ask you.” Blake’s tone was low, revealing a penetrating charm.

Finally, Blake, the proud and arrogant man, learned to respect others.

All the nerves in my body seemed to have been electrocuted, and I trembled slightly.

“When did you become so kind? When you brought the kids here, you didn’t ask for my opinion.” I brought up the past, unwilling to be convinced by him.

Blake chuckled and said, “If i had fallen in love with you then, I might have asked your opinion.”

I choked at his words and felt even more uncomfortable.

“Why are you still here? I told you. I’m going to take a shower,”

Blake stepped back step by step, but his burning eyes focused on me. Then he said in a low voice, "Your blushing face is cute and charming."

"You... What are you talking about? Who is blushing? I am not." I was surprised that Blake was so good at flirting. He suddenly praised me, making me unable to throw a tantrum.

His smile became even more unbridled. "Your words against mine. Why don't we call the kids up and take a look?"

"Bastard. Just get out!" I was so embarrassed by his teasing that I wanted to kick him out.

Seeing the angry look on my face, Blake turned around and closed the door.

I sat in the bathtub, twisting the handkerchief with my hands.

My heart was beating wildly, and my face was burning hot.

Follow on

I dropped the handkerchief, and water splashed my face.

I regained my senses and cursed, "Bastard!"

I quickly finished bathing and walked to the stairs. Before I went downstairs, I heard Noah and Hedwig arguing.

"Hedwig, you are so stupid!" Noah liked teasing Hedwig like this.

Hedwig said angrily, "I wasn't stupid. I became stupid because you scolded me too much."

Noah said righteously, "You are stupid. You can't even handle such a simple puzzle! And you refuse to admit it."

I covered my mouth and chuckled silently. The two little things were so interesting.

After taking a few steps, I saw that in the parlor, Hedwig suddenly kicked Noah. Noah immediately jumped down from the chair to catch Hedwig.

“You can’t catch me! You can’t catch me! You can’t outrun me.” Hedwig was immediately overjoyed, feeling that she had finally won once.

“Hedwig, wait and see! If you fall into my hands, you’re doomed!” Noah shouted angrily.

“Daddy! Daddy! Help! Help! SOS!” Hedwig immediately ran toward Blake, shouting. Her face was red with anxiety.

Blake quickly hugged her and put her on his shoulder.

I saw Hedwig riding on Blake’s shoulder, as happy as an angel. Her two hands were wide open, and she let Blake run around the parlor twice. She looked like she wanted to fly up to the sky.

Chapter 114

Catherine’s POV

I sat with the kids at the dining table, and the atmosphere seemed warm.

“Daddy, is there an amusement park around here? I want to go there,” Noah suddenly asked.

Blake glanced at my face and casually replied, “Ask your mommy. She makes the decisions now.”

I stopped eating and looked at him strangely.

He seemed easy to talk to today.

“Really? Mommy, you now have the right to speak. Daddy has delegated the power to you!” Noah grinned.

After I took a bite of the macaroni, I said lightly, “That’s right. So, regarding the matter you mentioned just now, I reject it.”

“What?” Noah’s happiness only lasted for two seconds. His face fell. “Why? Hedwig and I have never been there. I heard others say that there are all kinds of delicious food and fun things in the amusement park. I want to go there!”

As soon as Hedwig heard his words, her gem-like eyes immediately lit up.

“Really? Noah, what kind of food do they have? Is there ice cream?”

Noah immediately snorted, “You care about nothing but ice cream. No wonder you are so short and skinny.”

Follow on

“Just tell me! Is there ice cream?” Hedwig mumbled.

“Yes. They have all kinds of flavors, including chocolate, your favorite.” Noah blinked slyly.

“Really? Then I want to go there, too. Daddy, mommy, I want to go to the amusement park!” Hedwig shouted immediately.

I speechlessly held my forehead. Noah and Hedwig formed a united front, and I had no choice but to compromise.

“Mommy also wants to take you there, but I’ve been very busy recently. Can we wait until I am on leave?” I asked tentatively “Let’s go this Saturday. We’ll go to Florida,” said Blake suddenly.

“There are amusement parks in New Jersey. Why do we have to go that far?” I was stunned.

“If we’re going to an amusement park, we’re going to Disneyland,” explained Blake.

“Really? Great!” Noah was overjoyed.

Hedwig licked her spoon, blinked her big eyes, and asked, “Do they have delicious ice cream in Disneyland?”

Noah looked at her disapprovingly. “I’m not talking to you anymore!

“There are still four days until Saturday. It’s so annoying. I can’t wait that long!” Noah lost his appetite at the thought of waiting.

I patted him on the head. “Don’t waste your food. Eat it all.”

Noah didn’t say a word, picked up the spoon, and quickly began to gulp.

I slept with Hedwig. Hedwig kept asking. Fortunately, I was experienced in dealing with her. I sang a lullaby for her, and she fell asleep immediately.

Get Blous

She fell asleep easily, but I couldn't.

Blake told me his feelings verbally. What was more, he had become bold in actions right now.

I smiled bitterly. I seemed to be a very self-controlled person. Yet it was just my disguise.

Blake's tenderness had long crushed me.

I had never been wooed so passionately by a man before. And Blake hadn't come up too strong till now. But he always stimulated my nerves with his words.

But it was still a experience for me, along with his kiss.

For the first time, I felt what it was like to be kissed by a man. It would be a lie to say that I didn't have feelings for him.

Though he kissed me forcibly every time, somehow, I did not resent his repeated approaches. On the contrary, I even felt a familiar sense of security.

I was afraid that I might fall in love with him.

I was a bit unwilling, because he was King Blake.

He was the Lycan King of New Jersey.

Also, he was the father of my kids. When I was in the same room with him, I was on edge all the time.

I didn't dare to fall into his tenderness easily. I had to be responsible for my feelings, and I also had to be responsible for my children.

Follow on

The next morning arrived.

When I went downstairs, Blake was having breakfast with Noah leisurely. The sun shone in from the window, making the whole parlor warm.

In the past, I wasn't in the mood to notice any of this. I didn't even notice the huge crystal lamp hanging from the ceiling. And I didn't notice that all the furnishings in the dining room were so exquisite and high-end. Even the tableware was extravagant.

I had been all tensed up and gone against Blake, but right now, I somehow felt that my world had changed.

What I noticed wasn't limited to the things that I saw. I also sensed something deep down.

"Mommy, you're awake! Daddy and I are about to finish eating," Noah smiled at me and greeted me.

I nodded slightly and carried Hedwig to her child chair to sit down.

Hedwig immediately said sweetly, "Daddy!"

Blake looked at Hedwig gently and then turned to me. He said in a low voice, "Don't go to work just yet.

I want you to go somewhere with me."

"Where to?" I asked instinctively.

"You'll know when we get there!" Blake didn't tell me for the time being and kept me guessing.

Noah smiled and asked, "Daddy, are you going to date mommy?"

Chapter 115

Catherine's POV

"I like holding your hand." Blake grinned shamelessly.

Did he have to say such sappy words?

"I don't like it. It's awkward." I had never been held by a man like this, and I felt utterly uneasy, as if I were bitten by countless bugs. It was numb and itchy, making me very uncomfortable.

"You'll get used to it sooner or later." Blake even held my hand tighter.

I felt his strength. He was so insatiable. I quickly shook his hand. "Let go of me!"

Blake was helpless and had to loosen his grip. I hurried forward.

I heard his low laughter coming from behind, and it sounded very annoying.

I was even more overwhelmed, and I cursed.

Blake opened the door and made a gentlemanly gesture to me.

I bent down and sat in the car. Then a strong tall figure sat beside me.

The inside of the car was already very cramped, and as soon as Blake sat in, there was even less space.

"Let's go." With a command from Blake, the driver started the car and slowly drove out.

There was a partition in the car, and the back seat was completely separated from the front seat.

Blake turned his head and looked at me. I deliberately turned to look out of the window, trying to ignore

Follow on his dominant presence.

“We are going to Leo’s press conference,” said Blake.

“Why? Do you want to see another rumor about us two online?” I asked nervously, feeling tense at the thought of this.

Blake smiled. “Don’t worry. I never show up in front of the media.”

“Then why are we going there?” I wondered.

“I haven’t been to Leo’s company for a long time. I could take the chance to visit him,” replied Blake.

I frowned. “Then why are you dragging me along with you? I have to go to work.”

“You might be his pack’s Luna in the future. Shouldn’t you go over and show concerns about him?”

“Luna?” My heart trembled slightly. Then I sneered, “I will not be his Luna.”

“Why not? As long as you marry me, you will be!” Blake said directly.

I panicked, and my mind went blank “You seem very casual about marriage.”

“I’m never casual, and I treat marriage with nothing but seriousness,” Blake answered solemnly.

“So are you proposing to me now? You only have feelings for me, and our wolves haven’t found out that you and I are mates yet. Proposing to me now means that you are not responsible for yourself,” I said disapprovingly.

Blake chuckled. "Fine. But you can't stop me from being nice to you."

"Now..." He suddenly leaned over. He caught me off guard by lifting my chin and kissing me passionately,

I widened my eyes in shock and pressed my hands against his chest in anger. But very quickly, I started to grab his shirt.

Feeling satisfied, Blake then let go of me. I suppressed my voice in embarrassment and said, "Blake, I'm warning you. You cannot force me like this again."

Blake spread his hands innocently. "I thought you liked it."

"I don't!" I said angrily.

"Don't women like men's gentle and affectionate kisses?" Blake asked with a chuckle.

"Who told you that?" He was such a narcissist. I got furious just by looking at him.

Blake shrugged and said lightly, "It's stated in books and on tv, if memory serves me correctly."

"That's not true!" I said bluntly.

"Fine. Next time, you can make the first move. I will cooperate with you no matter how you want to do it," he said.

I was shy and said angrily, "Forget it! I won't."

"I'm not so sure about that," Blake smirked.

I clenched my hands into fists. I wanted to hit him badly. I had never taken the initiative to do anything since I was a child. So, he might be hung out to dry.

The car drove into the parking lot of the building. I followed Blake and took the exclusive elevator to Leo's office.

Follow on

When I stepped into Leo's office, I realized that Leo was so good at enjoying his life. He had practically turned his office into a paradise. The room was eight meters tall, and there was a balcony downstairs.

There was a small gym next to it. Meanwhile, there was a blue swimming pool on the balcony.

Blake walked up the stairs towards Leo's office, which was in the attic.

L exclaimed as I quickly followed Blake up the stairs.

After we went upstairs, Blake did not knock on the door. He directly pushed the door open and walked in.

I followed him. However, in the next second, Blake turned around and blocked my eyes.

Then he shouted to the inside of the office, "Put your clothes on!"

I heard Leo's panicked voice. He said, "Five minutes!"

I reached out and put Blake's large hand away from my eyes.

"Get down and wait for me there! I'll talk to Leo now," said Blake in a low voice.

I nodded, turned around, and walked down. I picked a very soft sofa and sat on it. The manicured flowers next to the sofa were fresh, beautiful, fragrant, and charming,

After a while, Blake gracefully stepped on the steps and walked down step by step.

I was at ease at first. But when I saw him, I couldn't help but tense up.

I tried my best to ignore Blake, who was tall and strong, but I could still see him out of the corner of my eyes.

Chapter 116

Catherine's POV

Leo immediately smiled. "Come and take a sit."

I turned around and sat back down on the sofa. Blake lazily sat beside me.

I smelt his cool mint scent. It first spread to my nose, and then I felt that it also wrapped around my heart. My face was faintly burning, and I blushed.

"It's about time. Turn on the TV and watch me live. I'll go down now." After saying that, Leo tidied up his clothes and walked out the door.

Leo left just like that. Immediately, I felt that no matter how empty the space was, it was still hard for me to breathe, since only Blake and I were left alone in the room.

On the other hand, Blake was calm and composed.

Blake turned on the TV, and we watched the live stream in the hall downstairs.

The hall was already filled with media reporters. As soon as the elevator doors opened, they immediately aimed their cameras at the two people who came out holding each other.

It was Leo and Jessica.

Leo's thin lips curved into a charming smile.

"Mr. Chavez, are you really dating Jessica? When did you get together?"

"Not long ago... Just a few months ago." Leo answered immediately.

Follow on

"Jessica, what do you like about Mr. Chavez? Is it his tall and handsome appearance, his attitude towards work, or something else that attracts you?"

Jessica just let out a smile and said, "I just feel that ... he is a nice man."

"Anything besides that?"

Hearing this, Leo hugged Jessica even tighter and said a little wickedly, "Can you stop with all the questions? There are some details that we can't share with you."

"Then may I ask, Mr. Chavez, about the online rumors yesterday, what is your relationship with that woman?"

Leo instantly froze a bit.

"She is King Blake's girlfriend." after a few seconds, Leo replied in a low voice.

The reporters were in an uproar again.

The big news that Leo announced was explosive, and the media reporters had a keen sense of smell.

“Mr. Chavez, can you tell us more about the relationship between Blake and his girlfriend? I believe everyone wants to know.”

“Yes! Tell us more.”

Leo became more indifferent. “Sorry, I’m not at liberty to tell you anything about that. You may leave.

That’s all for today.”

The reporters wanted to go forward and interview Leo, but they were stopped by his bodyguards.

Get Bonus

Jessica followed Leo into the elevator.

1 pointed to the girl who had been held tightly by Leo and asked, “Isn’t she Jessica? Is she really dating Leo? They look like a perfect match.”

Blake smiled. “It’s just for the hype. They aren’t a couple.”

“Is that so? Are they doing this just to clarify Leo’s relationship with me? Isn’t that too big a price to pay?” I saw Jessica’s stunned expression.

However, Blake curled his lips and said, “It’s just acting. It is what Leo is best at. No need to make a fuss about it.”

I recalled what had happened carefully and then nodded in agreement.

“You’re right. Leo was very good at acting. He almost got me.”

“Let’s go. I’ll take you to the office.” Blake stood up.

I stood up as well. Beside him, I looked even more delicate.

When I reached the door, the door was pushed open from the outside. Leo came in.

“You’re leaving?” Leo’s thin lips curled up as he asked casually.

Blake followed me and said in a low voice, “She has to go to work. I will give her a ride.”

“Blake, I’m sure reporters will be cramming in front of Catherine’s company in a while. You guys should watch out,” Leo reminded kindly.

Blake just smiled faintly and said, “I wanted them to have something. Otherwise, why do you think I would send her myself?”

I, who was standing outside the door, was slightly stunned when I heard Blake’s words. I felt that my heart was trembling slightly, and I couldn’t help but be moved.

I didn’t know why my heart was beating so fast, but I simply couldn’t control my feelings anymore.

Leo was stunned, and then he smiled self-mockingly. “Blake, you seem to have a plan for everything.”

Blake walked to my side and said in a low voice, “Let’s go.”

I silently followed behind him and headed for the elevator.

“Is that the reason why you insisted I take your car?” I finally knew the reason why Blake did that.

Somehow, I felt a little out of breath

Blake’s deep gaze swept over my face, and he chuckled. “Kind of. Leo has already publicized our relationship, so we should at least give the reporters something to write about.”

“Can you stop them from making things up? I’m afraid that ... things might get tricky.” I had always been very low-key. I didn’t think I could adapt well to the sudden change brought by Blake.

Blake raised his eyebrows. “What do you want me to do?”

“Just give them a heads-up. Tell them to stop all the massive coverage,” I said in a low voice.

“OK. Anything you say,” Blake said in a deep and magnetic voice, which made my heart tremble again.

My heart was in a mess, and I was in a trance as I walked forward.

Chapter 117

Gina’s POV

I had a lot fewer events, so, my schedule had become flexible lately. But I had already been thinking of ways to rise to fame again.

I was planning on working with a male star to have a pop-up scandal to hype up my popularity.

The person I had my eyes on was Leo. He was looking for a supporting actress in his latest action movie, and I wanted an audition. If I made it, I could regain some popularity.

Unexpectedly, I saw the rumors about Catherine and Leo.

The media assumed that Catherine was the mysterious girlfriend that Leo had been keeping from the public for many

Follow on
years.

What the hell!

So, I decided to take Catherine's necklace to make a deal with her. However, I saw something even juicier.

I was so pissed off because of the news. My face turned livid, and my body trembled.

Leo announced his relationship with that female star named Jessica, and he also clarified the rumors he had with Catherine.

He also said that instead of his rumored girlfriend, Catherine was King Blake's girlfriend. I almost flipped out.

I stared at Leo's live stream, and was about to snap. How I wished I could smash the phone in my hand to Catherine's

head.

Catherine hooked up with Blake? How was that possible?

I spent five years, but I still failed to attract Blake's attention. Catherine was just a rogue. How did she manage to win Blake over the moment she went back to New Jersey?

I thought Catherine must have used some shameless means to waltz her way onto Blake's bed.

I knew that Blake was a cold and restrained man. Maybe he was just addicted to Catherine's body. Maybe he wasn't thinking straight.

more despicable means to force Blake into announcing her identity.

I was certain that I was right.

I picked up my phone and dialed a number.

The call went through, and I said sarcastically, "Harley, weren't you so sure that Catherine wasn't a vain woman? What about now? You saw Leo's live stream today, didn't you? I don't think I need to remind you of that, right?"

"Gina, what's your point?" Harley's tone was extremely cold.

"Nothing. I just feel sorry for you. Catherine seems noble, but she is not stupid. She also has feelings, and I'm sure she knows about your feelings for her. But she just won't give you a response. What do you think she means? She doesn't think you're good enough for her," I sneered.

"Gina, you shouldn't be laughing at me now. At least we worked together once." Harley was angry.

"Harley, I offered to be with you back then, but you turned me down. Do you have any idea how hard it was for me? Do you know what pain feels like now? Catherine is such a bitch,” I said resentfully.

Catherine's POV

I didn't expect Gina to find my mother's obsidian necklace, and I also didn't expect her to make such a harsh offer.

I thought for a moment and said, “I can give you money. Of I can talk to Blake to let you get back to showbiz and be famous again.”

“No. I don't want any of that. I just want to see you break up with him,” Gina hesitated for a moment, but then she refused.

I was surprised that Gina didn't want money or fame. She was so determined to see me break up with Blake.

“I won't break up with him. As you said, as long as I am with him, I can have as much money and fame as I want. The necklace you have is very important to me, but it is only something for me to remember my mother. I am kind of a snob, so, of course, money means more to me.” I put on a disguise and pretended that I didn't care about the necklace. I smiled coldly.

Sure enough, Gina's expression changed greatly as she stared fixedly at my face.

"You are nothing but a snobbish bitch who covets wealth. Why on earth does King Blake be with you?

Catherine, you are so shameless."

Gina didn't see through my plan and felt that I was just a superficial woman who only wanted money.

She immediately began to despise me.

I snorted slowly, "Whatever. He is willing to announce that I am his girlfriend. That is enough, isn't it?"

"Don't count your chickens before they hatch. What he has for you is just a fling. When he gets bored, he will dump you without hesitation. I look forward to that day." Gina gnashed her teeth in anger.

I said lightly, "Since you put it that way, I will try my best to keep him by my side. I won't let you see that day. I'm afraid I'll let you down."

Seeing that no matter what she said or did, she couldn't get under my skin anyway, Gina immediately became furious. Her face went livid since she couldn't vent her anger.

Gina couldn't affect me at all. Therefore, she could only angrily open her car door and get in. In the next second, she drove away as fast as she could.

I heaved a sigh of relief when I finally got rid of her.

Gina said that she had found the necklace my mother left, and I wanted to take it back badly.

Whatever the value of the necklace, I just wanted to find out about who I was.

I looked through the things my mother left me with, but there was no clue. I was hoping that the necklace could lead me to something that was related to my biological parents.

Gina now knew the importance of the necklace to me, and she used it to threaten me.

I was so annoyed. It was mine. How could she grab it and use it to threaten me? She was so cheeky.

I pissed Gina off back then, and she must have been furious. I didn't think it was possible to talk to her about the necklace for now.

But I was confident that Gina wouldn't smash the necklace because it was her leverage.

I drove back home.

I was somehow relaxed, feeling that all the fatigue i had endured today was dispelled by my daughter's adorable laughter

I stepped into the parlor and saw iny kids sitting on the sofa, looking at something interesting.

"Mommy is back!" Hedwig turned her head and saw me standing at the door. She immediately grinned and rushed to me. "Mommy! Mommy! Are you in a relationship with daddy? Is it true?"

I froze, and my body tensed up.

How did the kids know?

Noah held his iPad as he walked up to me. He waved the iPad in his hand at me and said, “Mommy, congratulations. You score daddy.”

I snatched the iPad from his hand and saw that they were watching the video of Leo’s press conference.

“Well... Don’t think too much. What Leo said wasn’t true. Your daddy and I are actually...” I looked at their big, innocent eyes and was suddenly at a loss. I couldn’t come up with an excuse to lie to them.

“Leo is not a liar!” Hedwig immediately blinked her big eyes and said with a face full of trust.

Noah also nodded. “Although Leo is not good at doing crafts, he will not dare to lie.”

I looked at their innocent faces, feeling a bit helpless. And then I sighed softly.

“Well, your daddy and I are indeed...”

“Mommy, since when do you like daddy?” Hedwig blinked her big eyes and was curious.

“Mommy, are you starting to see daddy’s advantages?” Hedwig asked the second question.

I sighed helplessly. “Yes, I admit that he is handsome, rich, and attractive.”

Being questioned by my kids ceaselessly, though I had always been stubborn, I had no choice but to begin to give in.

“Mommy, I will tell daddy everything you said just now. Daddy will be so happy to hear it. Maybe he will love you more.” Hedwig was immediately very happy.

After hearing Hedwig’s words, I immediately said sternly, “No! Don’t tell him! You’re not allowed to say a word to him. Do you hear me?”

“Mommy, you are so scary. Don’t be like that. You will scare daddy away.” Hedwig immediately looked frightened and hid behind Noah. She pouted her mouth.

I was also surprised that I was so loud. I scared Hedwig, and I saw that her face turned pale.

I coughed. “Well... Hedwig, if you still want me to tell you the bedtime story about the baby goat before you go to bed, don’t tell daddy about what I just said. OK?” I immediately changed my attitude and said to Hedwig gently.

Hedwig pouted and said, “I can ask daddy to tell me the story. Daddy is a much better storyteller than you.”

“If you want your daddy to tell you the story, go and sleep with Noah.” I immediately rolled my eyes at her.

Hedwig immediately panicked. “I don’t want to sleep with Noah! Noah always kicks me. I want daddy to sleep with me tonight. Mommy, you won’t say no, right?”

I immediately said, "You can't sleep with your daddy, because he sleeps with Noah. Noah is used to sleeping with him.

Chapter 119

Blake's POV

When I stepped into the parlor, I saw Hedwig sitting on the sofa, looking listless.

I hurriedly walked over and asked gently, "Hedwig, what happened? Did Noah bullied you again?"

"Daddy, you're home!" Hedwig immediately stretched out her hands and asked me to hold her.

I gently held Hedwig in my arms and sat on the sofa. "Tell me, why are you unhappy?"

"Noah doesn't like me. He said I would pee on his bed, and he refused to sleep with me." Hedwig pouted, looking very hurt.

I froze. I kissed her angry face and asked with a smile, "You always sleep with mommy. Why do you want to sleep with Noah?"

"I want mommy to sleep with you tonight, so I want to sleep with Noah, but he doesn't want me around," Hedwig said innocently.

I asked Hedwig with a smile, "Hedwig, do you really want daddy to sleep with Mommy?"

Noah was so naughty. I had to talk to Noah when I got him later.

“Yes. Noah said so. But mommy seemed unhappy. Daddy, Noah and I saw Leo say that you and mommy were a couple now. Is that real? Leo wasn’t lying, right?” Hedwig asked anxiously.

Hearing that Catherine was unwilling, I was a bit upset.

But I was already very glad that Hedwig wanted me and Catherine to be together.

It meant that Hedwig had accepted me.

“Hedwig, be good and stay here for a while. I’ll go upstairs to talk to your mommy.”

“OK, Daddy. Talk to mommy nicely. Don’t make her angry again,” Hedwig advised me kindly.

I stroked her head. “Don’t worry. Daddy is nothing but good to your mommy.”

After comforting Hedwig, I went upstairs to find Catherine at once.

I walked up the stairs and stared at the door of the master bedroom near the balcony.

The door was closed. What was Catherine doing inside?

Maybe pushing the door open would give me an answer.

I walked to the door steadily.

I stood in front of the door and hesitated for a few seconds before pushing the door open.

Catherine was inside. It seemed that she had just taken a shower. Her long hair was half-dry, and she was about to blow her hair with a hairdryer. The bathroom door was half open, and the bathroom was hazy with a trace of mist.

When Catherine heard the sound of the door being pushed open, she turned her head back at once.

After Catherine saw me standing at the door, she blushed slightly, and then she quickly turned her head.

She turned on the hairdryer and dried her long hair.

“Let me help you.” I stopped in and stood behind her.

Catherine’s breathing paused. The next moment, I grabbed the hairdryer in her hand.

“Can you do it?” Catherine asked suspiciously.

“You’ll know.” The corners of my mouth curled up slightly. My slender fingers gently lifted her long hair, and the hot wind coming from the hairdryer gently blew her hair.

Catherine tightened her body.

With the advantage of height, I looked down at her straight and tight body. She was nervous.

Was she blushing again?

I tilted my head slightly, my deep gaze sweeping across her face. After the shower, she didn’t apply any makeup. Her face was naturally fair.

Sure enough, she was blushing!

The scent of Catherine’s hair wafted into my nose with the hot wind. It would be a lie if I said I didn’t want to make a move.

But I didn't dare to do anything further. Though she looked gentle and obedient now, I wouldn't end up well once I provoked her.

"I think the kids know," I said, changing the subject.

"Yes." Catherine's face tensed up, and she closed her eyes. "How did they know?"

"Maybe it was Downen..." I didn't want to tell her the truth. I was the one who asked Downen to tell the kids.

Catherine sighed. "They shouldn't have known about this so soon. I don't want them to have any unrealistic thoughts."

"So what if they know about us? They are our kids. Isn't it good to let them know and be happy?" I thought differently.

Catherine suddenly turned around, and her hair flew past my fingers.

I only felt an electric current running from my fingertips to my heart, and then it went straight to my lower abdomen.

"You had Downen show them the iPad, didn't you?" Catherine narrowed her beautiful eyes and asked me suspiciously.

I didn't expect her to have guessed correctly, but I didn't think I had done anything wrong.

“Yes. I don’t want to hide it from the children. Although they are young, they can accept anything.

Besides, they have asked me more than once whether I will fall in love with you. I have made a promise to them.”

Catherine could not believe it. Her eyes widened, and she mocked, “You made a promise to them?

What were you thinking? What makes you think I’m going to fall in love with you?”

“I am very confident in my charm. Of course, I will not force you. I will give you time. But I mean it. I have feelings for you already.” I could be romantic if I wanted to be.

She was a little upset. “You claimed that you wouldn’t force me. Aren’t you forcing me by saying these things to me now?”

“You really don’t have any feelings for me? I won’t buy it.” My fingers wandered around her delicate chin. I wanted to lift her face and kiss her mouth. She was so stubborn.

Chapter 120

Blake’s POV

After taking a shower, I stood at the door with a bit of hesitation.

Noah was also wearing a pair of pajamas, standing beside me with his hands behind his back.

“Daddy, go push the door.”

“Wait.” I said lightly.

“What for? Are you afraid?” Noah immediately looked down upon me and rushed forward with his short legs.

“Noah! What are you doing?” I froze, and then I saw Noah directly open the door of Catherine’s room.

“Mommy, are you asleep?” Noah opened the door and said as he entered.

I could only follow behind him.

Catherine sat up and looked at Noah strangely. “What do you want? It’s so late. What are you doing?”

Noah looked at Catherine and grinned. “It’s not about me. Daddy has something to say to you.”

I immediately said, “Nothing important. I just want to say good night.”

Hedwig was sleepy, and she was about to fall asleep. When she heard my voice, she immediately crawled up and sat up.

She rubbed her sleepy eyes and asked, “Daddy, can you sleep with me?”

Catherine looked at the two kids with her clear eyes and finally fixed her eyes on my face. “What do you want?”

“I want to sleep with Hedwig,” I said.

Catherine seemed to know what I was up to. She lifted the quilt and said, “OK. You can sleep here. I’ll sleep with Noah tonight.”

As soon as Hedwig heard that Catherine was not going to sleep with her, she immediately became anxious. She reached out and grabbed Catherine's fingers. "Mommy, don't leave me alone. I'm so scared."

"Hedwig, don't be scared. Daddy will be here for you, right?"

"No! I want both of you to be with me together." Hedwig immediately looked at Catherine and me with those puppy dog eyes.

"Mommy, please. Let daddy sleep with me, OK? I want to sleep with daddy so bad," Hedwig pleaded with tears in her eyes.

Seeing that Hedwig was about to cry, I came over and stroked her delicate face. "Be good, Hedwig.

Daddy will still sleep. with Noah tonight. You have mommy. Don't be scared!"

"I want daddy..." Hedwig grabbed my hand.

At the same time, I heard Catherine's clear and pleasant voice. She said, "Since Hedwig wants you here, you can stay."

I thought I heard her wrong. I raised my head and looked at Catherine in shock When I met her eyes that were as pure as water, my heart trembled.

I had always felt that Catherine's eyes were very beautiful. Right now, I could see a trace of tiredness in them. Being looked at by her, I felt that my heart beat quickly. I felt the urge to kiss her charming eyes.

“Daddy, mommy says yes!” Noah had a smug expression on his face and kept smitking.

Hedwig lay down on the bed and patted it repeatedly. “Daddy, mommy, come here.”

I didn’t expect Catherine to agree to let me sleep with them in the end.

The corners of my mouth curled up slightly, and I lay down on the other side of Hedwig. Seeing that

Noah was still standing by the door in a daze, I said in a low voice, “Noah, are you joining us?”

“I’m not as childish as stupid Hedwig. I don’t want to sleep with you. It’s so crowded. I’m going back to sleep.” Noah turned around and opened the door. He strode out.

After that, he gently closed the door.

“Daddy, mommy, I’m so happy!” Hedwig suddenly could not sleep anymore. She was very excited.

“Hedwig, it’s late. Close your eyes and go to sleep,” Catherine whispered to Hedwig.

Hedwig rolled around between me and Catherine, not feeling sleepy at all.

I hugged Hedwig and played with her for a while. My pair of deep eyes subconsciously drifted to the woman opposite

1. me.

“Mommy, daddy’s chest is so firm. It hit my head. Feel it! I’m not lying!” Hedwig suddenly grabbed one of Catherine’s hands and put it on my chest.

“Hedwig, stop messing around. Go to sleep. I’m going to be angry if you don’t sleep.” Catherine retracted her hand as if she had been shocked by electricity. Then she turned sideways, facing the other way.

I knew she must be shy again. She always played tough, but it was just a disguise.

Seeing that Catherine had turned around, Hedwig thought Catherine was mad. Therefore, Hedwig did not dare to be naughty again. She obediently shrank her small body and hugged one of my arms. Then she pressed her face against my arm and closed her eyes.

Hedwig was so cute. I looked at her and wanted to smile and kiss her face.

The moment Hedwig became quiet, she blinked, feeling that her eyelids were so heavy.

“Daddy, I’m falling asleep.” Hedwig said in a daze.

I gently kissed her forehead. “OK. Daddy will be here and watch you sleep.”

“Yay! Daddy, I love you so much.”

Finally, Hedwig fell asleep. She slept soundly.

Catherine straightened up, waited for a long time, and turned back “Hedwig is asleep now. You can go back to be with Noah.” Catherine pretended to be cold.

I said shamelessly, “I’m going to sleep in this bed tonight.”

“What do you want? I’m warning you. Behave yourself!” Catherine tensed up even more when she heard my words, and a trace of panic flashed across her face.

I flipped my slender body over Hedwig and landed on Catherine easily.

Catherine was completely stunned.

She shouted angrily in a low voice, "You... You are crazy. What are you doing?"

Catherine wanted to dodge, but it was too late. I kissed her on the corner of her lips.

"Cathy," I called her name.

"Relax. I won't do anything recklessly. At least not today." Though I said so, the next second, I kissed her lips.

I was just going to kiss her, and then I would go to sleep. However, my wolf, Leroy, woke up suddenly.

I could tell. Leroy was also very excited right now.

"Mark her, Blake," Leroy said to me in my heart.

"Not now, Leroy," I was a bit distracted, and I said to Leroy.

However, I underestimated Catherine's influence on Leroy. It started trying to take over my body. Under Leroy's intervention, my arms gradually tightened, and I deepened my kiss.

My reason was gradually fading away under Leroy's influence.

Catherine let out a sound. It sounded like she was about to suffocate. She struggled with her hands, and her eyes were filled with tears.

I saw Catherine's eyes and couldn't help but tremble. Under my suppression, Leroy finally went back to sleep.
