11 Daddy, wait for you!

The moment the host announced the choice of the champion, the four children on stage were already very excited. They hugged each other and then the host made little Tang Yixi stay behind.

At this time, Su Xi immediately ran over to send her the flowers. Although she walked over quickly, the media had still caught sight of her.

The little guy quickly kissed his godmother's face before holding the host's hand and walking to the center of the stage.

The host crouched down and looked at Tang Yixi with respect, then smiled and asked, "Little friend Tang Yixi, how do you feel right now, do you want to share with everyone?"

"Uncle, can I borrow your microphone?" Tang Yixi asked politely.

"Of course, but uncle will still have someone give you a microphone. You can say whatever you want on stage."

"Hm!" "Alright."

On the stage to the side, Tang Siyu and Su Xi looked at each other. They had never known that the little guy would be so bold, and actually wanted to say something.

Was it a acceptance speech or something? Tang Siyu started to worry, she did not manage to organize her son's speech properly, so when he comes to the scene, there shouldn't be any problems, right?

She was very curious, but at the same time, she was also a bit nervous about what her son would say.

After the little guy picked up a microphone, he first tried out his voice calmly, "Hello ..."
"Hey!"

The little voice was very cute.

The people on and off the stage all called him cute, even the host couldn't help but laugh, "Our little friend Tang Yixi is so cute!"

Tang Yixi's little friend laughed and looked down the stage. Then, he spoke out, and spoke out towards the direction of the cameras: "Uncle, Auntie, look over here, capture me clearly, so that I can be more handsome!" After saying that, the little fellow tilted its head and turned it around, afraid that it would miss a beat.

The audience couldn't help but burst out laughing. This child sure had a lot of spirit energy!

Tang Siyu, who was at the side, nervously held her hand, and asked Su Xi: "What is this little fellow trying to do?"

"I don't know. Listen to what he has to say." Su Xi was also very curious.

Tang Siyu could only hold her breath and listen to what her son was about to say.

As if sensing that all the cameras were watching him, Tang Yixi started his plan.

"Hello everyone, let me introduce myself. I am Tang Yixi, my Mummy is Tang Siyu, I am extremely beautiful! I'm four years, three months, and seven days old. I want to use the television platform to find my dad's land. There are men who look like me, and they might be my dad's men. Please contact me! I believe that you, from my father's land, will definitely be able to find me. "

The little fellow's young and clear voice resounded throughout the entire auditorium. At the same time, it spread to every household.

After saying that, the little guy did not forget to point at the camera and blinked his beautiful big eyes, "Daddy, I'll wait for you!"

A woman was standing beside him, fuming.

Su Xi immediately grabbed onto Tang Yushi and advised, "Siyu, Siyu, don't go over. Don't be angry! This little guy is really fun! "

"What do you mean fun? He's actually looking for that bastard man?" "No, I must pull him down." Tang Yushi was furious. She suddenly understood. Could it be that this was the biggest reason for her son to participate in the competition?

Chapter 12 - Like someone

He didn't want to win the crown, nor did he want to win the prize money. He just wanted to become famous and then find his real father in front of the television?

On the stage, after the host was stunned for a few seconds, he hurriedly tried to regain his composure, "Such a cute little friend, and to think that he even made a sound from a single parent family, it's too heartbreaking. I also hope that little friend Tang Yixi can find his biological father and return his entire family.

Beside him, the ceremonial ladies had already prepared themselves to go up on stage. Below the stage, one could even hear the soft sobs and a group of tearful aunts. Oh my god! How could such a cute child be a single parent family? This was too sad.

Tang Xiong also cried. All these years he was too ruthless, he couldn't give his grandson an environment full of love, which was why he wanted to use the television to find his father.

However, what he did not know was that on the stage behind him, Tang Siyu was extremely angry.

This wasn't something she and her son had agreed on. Who said she wanted to find that bastard man?

In a living room in a luxurious villa, the girl in front of the TV was crying loudly. She wiped her nose with a tissue and said while sobbing, "How could such a cute little guy be a single parent? Who was his father? Who would not have such a cute little fellow? "

The young man standing at the side had an unfathomable look on his face. He wrapped his arms around his face and carefully looked at the little guy under the big lens. Then, he looked at his crying sister and suddenly said, "You said he looks like me?"

"Is he your illegitimate child outside?" The girl's brain immediately opened wide, and even her tears stopped.

The youth angrily knocked on her head, "What are you thinking? How is that possible?"

"Then what do you mean!"

"Is your head full of water, and I'm the only man in the house? "Think about who else is home?"

The girl's face was suddenly filled with joy and excitement. "Big Brother? God! He is my big brother's child. He must be my big brother's child. He really resembles big brother. "

The youth pondered for a few seconds. "Do you think Big Brother will have an illegitimate child outside?"

"Whatever, it belongs to big brother. This child belongs to big brother." The young girl huffed and puffed, as if she was sure of something.

The young girl shot her a glance. "Can you think about it carefully? What if it isn't Big Bro's?"

"Must be." The girl then pouted and said, "Big Brother has already been on a business trip for a month, why hasn't he come back yet? If he was at home now, he would definitely go and get engaged."

"If you say it's your big brother, then it's your big brother's! Big Bro is not the type of person to mess around. Furthermore, this child is already four years old. Big Bro was still young back then! "

"Young people make mistakes! Forget it, I have to prove if this child is big brother's. If he is, hehe, don't I have an extremely smart, handsome and cute Young Nephew? He's going to call me aunt and you uncle, don't you want to? " The young girl clenched his fist excitedly.

The youth didn't have any objections. He narrowed his eyes and said, "Don't do anything rash on this matter!"

"He won't be reckless. I will carefully check their DNA. After confirming it, I then told my brother. Otherwise, he won't beat me up!"

"It's good that you know this."

The girl immediately revealed a confident expression, "Let's wait and see!" My Young Nephew, your little aunt is here. "

Chapter 13 - Not Wishing Your Son to Find Your Father

The youth cast a sidelong glance at her, "Now he's the champion. If you're happy, why aren't you doing your homework?"

"Mom and Dad don't care about me, so why are you doing it so wide?"

"Because I don't wish for me to always have a sister that can be ranked down in the top dozens, so as to not lose face."

"You ... You... "What's so great about you? Do you believe that I'll receive your love letters tomorrow?" The young girl pointed at his back angrily and hooted.

The youth turned his head and stared at her, "If you dare, then try."

"Let me tell you, I know those girls who have a crush on you. They're begging me to give you a love letter! It was written in a way that was called entangling, deep in love, aiyā! "The mush is killing me."

"Xing Yinuo." The youth was angry.

"Xing Yifan." The girl called out to him with a smile.

The young man ignored her and the girl ignored him. She narrowed her eyes and continued with her previous thought. She clasped her hands together and pleaded, "Big brother, this child must be yours. It must be you. God bless you!"

was very angry, very angry. Sitting in the carts, he stared at his son with his eyes asking, "Speak, why did you do that?"

"Mummy, I want to find a place to protect you!" The little fellow looked at her pitifully.

"Siyu, don't be angry. It's understandable that this little guy misses his father!" Su Xi advised from the side.

"Little Xi, don't try to persuade me. I must have a good talk with him about this matter today." Tang Siyu said with a calm face.

The little guy puffed up his eyes as he looked at the angry Mummy. He did not expect that Mummy would be this angry.

"Mummy, where is my father?" The little guy pursed his lips and asked with a hint of a sobbing tone.

The calmness and calmness he got on the stage earlier was now gone in front of Mummy. He was still Mummy's baby.

Tang Siyu originally wanted to teach her son a lesson. But now, seeing her son's tiny expression, her heart softened as she sighed, "Mummy doesn't know who your father is, nor where he is. But, don't worry, Mummy loves you the most, Mummy ... Mummy will take care of you for the rest of his life, by your side. "

With that, Tang Siyu hugged the little fellow tightly. The little fellow sniffed, "Mummy, do you really not wish for me to find father's place?"

"Xiao Xi, let my godmother tell you, when your Mummy gave birth to your father back then, it was in a rather special situation. She and your father could be said to have no emotional basis, so you finding your father's place would bring trouble to your Mummy." Su Xi advised lightly from the side.

"But I want Daddy." The little guy still missed his father.

"Alright, Mummy will not blame you, I will not blame you, but, can we not look for Father?" Tang Siyu hugged her son tightly.

The little guy sniffed with his nose and obediently listened. He could only do some of the things that he could do.

That night, Tang Siyu was unable to sleep. She tried her best to think back to that bastard's face, but she really couldn't think of anything. That night, this man's curtains were tightly shut, and not even a bit of the moonlight could shine through.

This man was simply a devil. Even after bullying her, he still despised her. He was simply a bastard to the extreme.

Therefore, even if it was her son's father, she didn't need him to show up. She hoped that people would forget about her son as soon as possible, and that no man who claimed to be their father would appear in the future.

Chapter 14 - Want to Test DNA

Even if there was, even if she did show up, the first thing she would do was give him two big slaps.

In the blink of an eye, a month had passed since the competition, and at this time, the little guy was also facing the problem of going to school. Since Tang Siyu had returned, she decided to stay here because her father had forgiven her for what happened that year.

And she didn't want to leave her family, so she planned to settle down. The little guy was already at kindergarten, so she had to send him to school.

Tang Siyu did not want such a thing to happen, but she was helpless because her son's name was famous. Furthermore, he was looking for his father, so the media kept bringing him up as a recommendation.

Tang Siyu could only choose one of the aristocratic kindergarten for his son, and the annual fees would be around 300,000. The education environment was pretty good, and for his son, it was also very safe. Tang Siyu had invested all of her savings into it, and now that they were living together in Su Xi's home, Su Xi was also responsible for raising his mother and son.

had used hundreds of methods to obtain the DNA of Tang Yixi's little friend, but he was worried to death about this. Therefore, she decided to use the power of money to check it out, and in the end, found that the little guy could go to kindergarten.

Xing Yinuo had even dragged his big brother Xing Yifan on a journey, planning to get her hands on his little friend's DNA today, because her brother had already been away on a business trip for a week already. Before this is confirmed, she would not even dare to mention this to her brother.

She was afraid that her brother wouldn't even give her a chance to do a DNA test.

Xing YINUO, who was sitting in the backseat, supported himself with her chin as he racked her brains for a long time, thinking of a way to find Tang Yixi. She turned her head to the side to look for her brother, who was playing games.

"Student Xing Yifan, can you think of a way for me?"

"I have a way, I remember my classmate's brother studying in this kindergarten, and I even heard that he was in the same class as Tang Yixi."

"Oh my god!" If you didn't say it earlier, hurry up and call him over so that he can go in and get a strand of Tang Yixi's hair for me. " Xing YINUO's eyes lit up.

"Are you sure you want to do this? What if it's not Big Bro's seed? "

"What if it is? Look at how much this kid looks like our family! Like you! "He's even more like a big brother, he's practically carved out of the same mold. Hurry up, I must get the results out today."

"It's not like you have Big Brother's DNA."

"Humph!" The last time he came home, I pulled a strand of his hair. " Xing YINUO laughed and carefully took out a bag from his bag, which contained a strand of black hair.

He could only take out his cell phone and call his classmate, asking him to come over and help. He had a good relationship with this classmate, so he immediately brought over his mother's card because this kind of kindergarten was very strict on security.

After the school confirmed his identity, they let him in. This student of his had an honorable mission, he wanted to enter the class and receive Tang Yixi as his friend. At the same time, he wanted to pull a strand of hair from this child's head.

Chapter 15 - The Results

This mission sounded really stupid, he really did not want to do this kind of thing. There was no other way, that Xing YINUO was simply too insistent.

This student triumphantly found little Tang Yixi in his little brother's class. He pulled his little brother along to play with the bricks, and this student took advantage of the teacher's inattentiveness to lightly stroke little Tang Yixi's head, then found a strand of hair to pull.

Tang Yixi's little friend stared at him coldly with his pair of sharp eyes, causing his heart to tremble. Oh my god! Such a young child, yet his killing intent was already so heavy.

"Sorry, sorry, little friend. I accidentally pulled your hair, I apologize." The student quickly apologized.

After Tang Yixi finished listening, he continued to play with his building blocks. This classmate of his hurriedly grabbed his hair and walked out, and finally, exited the school gate. After sitting in the Bentley sedan, he handed it over to Xing Yinuo with a cold sweat, "Here, I got it with great difficulty."

"Thank you!" Xing Yinuo was extremely happy. She took out the small bag she prepared beforehand and placed the light and tender hair inside, then became excited. "Let's go to the hospital now."

"You can go now! I still have things to do. " The student alighted.

Xing Yinuo told the driver to hurry to the nearest hospital. She didn't dare to go to her own hospital, because she didn't know how to explain it if her parents and brother were to be told by the doctor.

In the hospital, Miss Xing Yinuo once again acted out a scene of painful love, requesting a doctor to test her DNA. She must be too young, the doctor would not believe her, but her tears and snot moved the doctors in the office.

The handsome youth at the side had a stiff expression as he looked at his younger sister. He really wanted to pretend that he didn't know her at this moment.

Sitting in the waiting room, Xing Yifan stared at the happy girl, "Are you sure you didn't perform just now?"

"It's not exaggerated at all!" You have to believe in my acting. I'll be the brightest star in the entertainment industry in the future. " Xing Yinuo snorted, she was extremely confident in her acting skills.

"If you don't study properly and just want to enter the entertainment circle, can't you have some potential!?"

"Do you blame me? I don't have the genes to study at home! I get a headache from just looking at math problems. " Xing Yinuo pulled her hair, "Don't talk about school with me, it's annoying!"

"What do you think all day?"

"I'm thinking of a beautiful thing. I just don't want to study." Xing Yinuo pouted.

"Mom and Dad are already too embarrassed to go to school and hold a parents' meeting. Next time, it might be Big Bro who will go!"

Xing YINUO immediately laughed and nodded, "Okay, okay! "Big Bro is going to be the best. He's so captivated by my homeroom teacher that I don't know if she might be more tolerant towards me!"

"You wish." The teenager was speechless about his sister's brain circuits.

Xing YINUO knew that it was impossible, so if her big brother were to go, her treatment would also be bad. But she was very smart!

"Xing YINUO, the result that you guys wanted is out." At this moment, the middle-aged woman doctor walked in.

"How is it? What was the result? "Tell me quickly." Xing YINUO's heartbeat quickened, as though her throat was about to burst from excitement.

The youth by the side also narrowed his eyes, as though he was also anticipating the results.

"Your brother and your father have indeed been separated for many years." The doctor told her with absolute certainty.
