#Chapter 6 – 10

Chapter 6 - gifted children

"Mother, what do you mean by disaster?" The little fellow was puzzled.

Tang Siyu stared at her and warned her, "You are not allowed to teach my son ill."

"Ugh!" "The meaning of disaster is that if you are handsome and good-looking, there will definitely be a large group of girls who will like you in the future."

"I don't want it! I only want the Mummy. "

Su Xi snorted, laughed, and asked, "Then what about me? You don't want me anymore? "

The little guy quickly wrapped his arms around her neck. "I want to fuck you too."

Su Xi was satisfied, "That's more like it."

Tang Siyu was cooking something in her kitchen. Su Xi wrapped her arms around himself as she prepared to talk to her quietly.

The little guy was looking for his favorite channel, but suddenly he hit the Little Children Channel and heard the host's pure voice saying, "Our stage, you who are waiting for your special ability, as long as you are four years old and have a skill, you can sign up for the competition. We will be waiting here for your talented child to shine, and we are also looking for the most unique child in the world, come! "Child, we welcome your arrival. Pull out our phone!"

Tang Yixi stared at the phone number below the screen, and immediately memorized it. Then, he found the pen and paper at the side and memorized it.

He picked up his godmother's landline and dialed the number.

"Hello, how may I help you?" It was a laughing voice at the other end.

"Hello auntie, I want to join your show."

"Oh!" Hello, little friend. May I ask how old you are this year?

"I'm 4 years old this year, my piano is already level 6! Can I attend? "

"Ha ... " You are only four years old and already have the ability to play the piano at the sixth rank? That's great! Do you want to join our show? "

"Yes, I want to participate, okay?"

"Of course. Can your parents please pick up the phone?"

The little guy raised his head, and saw Su Xi looking at him with her arms folded. She had heard the competition just now, but she did not expect Su Xi to be interested.

Tang Yixi raised his head, seeing that Su Xi was there, he immediately laughed, "Mommy, come and pick up the phone!"

Su Xi was stunned for a few seconds, but thinking that there was still someone on the other end of the phone, she quickly sat down and answered: "Hello."

"Hello, may I ask if you are the mother of the child from before?"

"Ugh ... " "I am ... "

"Your family's little friend is four years old this year. Does she have the ability to play a level six piano?"

"Yes, he is talented and has learned well."

"Then can you bring him to us to register? We very much welcome him. "

"Alright! "When?"

"Better this afternoon, because our registration deadline is 12 o'clock tonight."

"Alright! I'll take him in the afternoon. " After Su Xi finished speaking, she hung up and looked at the little fellow seriously, "Are you sure you want to participate?"

"Hm!" I want to participate! " The little fellow nodded its head firmly.

"You're sure that the piano has reached the sixth level?" She's only learned a little fur!

"En!"

"Your Mummy is also only at the eighth level." Su Xi was in disbelief.

Just then, Tang Siyu walked over from the side with a dumpling in her hands, "Don't underestimate him, Xiao Xi is indeed level 6."

"Oh my god!" She was indeed a talented child! "Alright, mother will bring you to register this afternoon."

"Forget it. With your identity, if you want to go to the television station, you will definitely cause chaos. I'll bring her there!"

"Mummy, do you really have to agree to my participation?" The little fellow never thought that Mummy would actually not object.

Chapter 7 - The Little Kid Contest

Tang Siyu smiled and rubbed his little head, "Of course I agree! This is a time for you to be emboldened by satin. Besides, I believe my son will definitely be able to do it. "

"Hm!" I won't let you down, Mummy. I will definitely take the crown, to let you have some face. " The little guy happily laughed. A pair of large watery black eyes flickered with shrewd thoughts!

He hadn't thought that this match would be decided so happily.

Tang Siyu thought that since his son was willing to participate in the competition, it would not be a good thing for him to show off his abilities, so that he could become more confident and energetic, and train his courage even more.

After dinner, Tang Siyu borrowed a car from Su Xi and brought her son to register at the Children's Channel. Since Su Xi wanted to go, due to her star status, she decided to stay at home and wait for news.

Tang Siyu registered. The little guy had gone through a few more tests, he was a pianist, so naturally she was playing the piano, although his little hands still revealed flesh, and was jumping up and down on the piano, strings of perfect notes forming a perfect and beautiful melody, had completely stunned the staff at the side.

"This kid is great, he'll definitely become the most dazzling celebrity on our show. Alright, we passed the test, and our program will be divided into four rounds: preliminaries, semifinals, finals, and the finals. As long as your son wins the final prize, we still have two hundred thousand gold."

Tang Siyu stroked his son's little head, "Xiao Xi, do your best!"

"Hm!" I'll do my best. " The little guy nodded. He had to get the crown, and he had to be famous.

Tang Siyu was even more nervous than her son. She was confident in her son's abilities, but she didn't want her son to lose the moment they signed up for the competition. This way, she wouldn't be confident in his growth.

Su Xi, armed from head to toe, only had her eyes left. She sat in a corner of the spectator stands and watched her foster son play on the stage.

The spectators on the stage looked at the four year old child who had just appeared and were stunned by his appearance. Very quickly, they were conquered by the sound of his piano, so this competition received a lot of attention.

The internet was abuzz with the appearance of a beauty. Many strange aunties had been reading his news every day. The super high level piano performance was even more admirable and unbelievable.

The little guy was so young, yet he had already exploded on the web with an unstoppable magical power. Moreover, some of the star scouts had already noticed it, and when Tang Siyu brought the little fellow out, he sent over ten different types of star scouts, hoping to sign on the little guy to become a celebrity.

Tang Siyu rejected them one by one. Her son would never take part in a movie, she was not lacking in money right now.

After the preliminaries, the second round of the competition was about to begin. All of the small contestants had taken out their unique skills to compete on stage.

Tang Siyu was also busy preparing his son for the preliminaries, and during the semifinals, he would only play the third level, while during the semifinals, he would choose a fourth level piano piece. When the entire stage quieted down, the light of the lamp revealed a little guy wearing a small white suit with a very handsome young master's head. His straight little back was sitting in front of the piano, beating along with his fingers, as if it would make one's heart and soul tremble.

Chapter 8 - Champion Baby

Little friend Tang Yixi, you naturally advanced to the finals, and there were only eight eliminated young participants, after that, there were only four, the lyrics that the little fellow chose, which always made people's eyes light up, and then sigh in amazement, and in the end, stood on the finals' stage.

That day, Tang Siyu was also very nervous, but in front of her son, she only calmly told him to display her strength, not asking for the champion position, only hoping that she would be able to handle it calmly. After these few rounds, the little guy's reputation was not low, and the call for first place was also very loud.

Su Xi did not want to continue filming the play, she would just follow the little guy around everyday, for every competition, she would definitely not miss it, and in the last round, Tang Siyu had invited her father to come watch the competition, Tang Xiong had also seen how outstanding her grandson was. Back then, his daughter had possessed the talent for the piano, so after he sent her for nurturing, she had become extremely artistic.

All these years, Tang Siyu's income was all from her salary for participating in the piano performance.

Now, his son was about to emerge from the ashes.

When Tang Xiong arrived, Qiu Lin and her daughter also curiously bought tickets to watch her show. However, they were not happy at all in their hearts, on the contrary, they were annoyed, feeling that Tang Siyu wanted his son's excellence to make up for her mistake back then, and wanted to regain Tang Xiong's love.

Therefore, the mother and daughter pair actually hoped that this performance would be ruined. This little fellow would be the best in the entire show.

Su Xi followed Tang Siyu to the backstage area this time, consoling the little fellow. Looking at the little fellow again, today, he was dressed in a fitting tailcoat, and her hair was slanted and combed to the side, revealing her sharp and clear, 3D handsome features.

"My godson, he's so handsome! "A godmother's kiss." Su Xi couldn't help but hug the little guy and kiss his little face.

Tang Siyu was also very happy. His son was so outstanding, but as a mother, she was proud of him.

"Son, tell me, can you get first place tonight?" Su Xi gave him confidence.

"Yes." The little guy was very confident, because he had to take first place. Only by being first would he be able to realize his dream. Only by being first would he be able to become famous enough to attract the attention of that unknown man.

"That's great." Su Xi gave her another kiss and looked at Tang Siyu, "I really want one!"

"Then find a man to give birth to!" Tang Siyu smiled as she looked at her.

"Do you think it's that easy!?" It must be someone with outstanding genetic ability! Look at your son, this gene is simply amazing. "

"Mom, you're going to send me flowers later!"

"Sure, mother will be the first to send you flowers after your performance." Su Xi came here to do this tonight.

Right now, the little guy's fame on the internet had already surpassed hers. She was here to steal his fame.

Tang Siyu pursed her lips into a smile, bent down, and looked into the eyes of his little son, "Son, Mummy doesn't expect you to be number one, but Mummy hopes to go on stage as usual, don't be nervous, and don't be thwarted either."

"En!" Feeling Mummy's love and tolerance, the little guy's little face hooked up into a smile.

There were only ten or so minutes left before the competition.

In a living room in a luxurious villa, a fifteen-year-old girl was tightly holding onto a fifteen-year-old boy, "Brother, hurry up, it's about to start. We can't miss the time for the finals."

Chapter 9 - Interesting Siblings

"Can you be a bit more stubborn? Why are you trying to get involved with a little guy?" A very handsome youth stared at a young girl in pajamas.

"I love him so much, he's my little idol. The main thing is, he looks just like you! Look at you, no no no, you're not as good-looking as that! " The girl attacked her brother's appearance.

"How is this possible?" The youth was somewhat unconvinced. He was extremely confident in his appearance.

"Sigh, it's about to start. Quickly sit down and watch the finals with me." The girl pushed her brother onto the sofa, and then she pushed him down with a bag of snacks in her arms.

"You always eat these snacks, no wonder you got fat."

"You're the fat one! "I have a perfect figure." The young girl retorted unhappily. She was the standard for the unrivalled and adorable young lady in the entire universe.

"You are fifteen years old, and you are less than 1.6 meters. Don't you feel ashamed? I'm 1.8 meters. " The boy took hold of her sore spot and spoke.

"I'm still developing, who's developing so fast like you, hmph! "The genes in my family dictate that I will definitely reach 1.7 meters in the future." The young girl was very confident in her future figure.

While they were arguing, the host's magnetic and charming voice could be heard. The young girl clapped excitedly, "My idol must be number one. It's not running away."

The youth had always disliked watching this kind of tournament, but unfortunately, his little sister Dragon and Phoenix Birth kept pulling him over to watch. As such, he couldn't help but be attracted to it.

Of course, he was still a bit unconvinced. He obviously did not miss any piano lessons, so how could that four year old kid play so well?

"We're almost there. How exciting!"

"Have you done your homework?" The youth reminded her.

"What are you talking about at this time!" "Shaoxing!" The girl immediately glared at him.

"I obviously didn't do it, hmph!" Aren't you afraid of standing tomorrow? " The youth was slightly complacent.

"Don't think that you will be so proud of yourself every time you get first place in the school, hmph!" The young girl pouted her red lips in anger, feeling extremely unreconciled.

The youth stared at her with a slightly complacent expression. "So be it."

"Great!" "Tomorrow, I will tell everyone, you don't have a girlfriend, and I will destroy your cold and aloof appearance at school. I will tell everyone, you are just a bastard that bullies his sister at home." The young girl's threat was very ruthless.

This time, the young man's face sank. "If you dare to do this, give it a try."

"I won't tell you unless you give me a few questions for today's homework." The young girl was very pleased with herself this time.

"If you want to be beautiful, do it yourself." The youth ignored him.

At this time, the first child went up on stage to perform. The young boy and girl stopped fighting and seriously watched their performance while watching the TV screen.

After the first round ended, the second one would go up on stage, and Tang Yixi's performance would be at the end, which was also what everyone looked forward to the most.

At the finals, the reporters were holding onto their short guns, deciding not to let go of any of the exciting parts of the night. Originally, this kind of finals would not have much of an impact rate, but they never would have thought that a little kid called Tang Yixi would be like a dark horse.

He continued to create extremely high burst of light, click rate, and his information. It seemed that the number of views on the web page was rapidly increasing.

This was a business opportunity, something that could smell money.

Therefore, tonight, in addition to the local television station, there were also quite a few media personnel who were preparing to immediately report the status of being the champion.

Chapter 10 - Finals

Finally, little friend Tang Yixi appeared on stage. He walked to the center of the stage calmly and bent down politely towards the thousands of audience members. On the huge screen, his face was enlarged into the entire screen, a 360 degree face without any blind spots.

The audience took in a deep breath. She was so beautiful, such a handsome child!

What kind of person could give birth to such a child?

Tang Xiong watched his grandson's performance with tears in his eyes. He felt really proud and proud, he had not felt this way for a long time.

Qiu Lin and her daughter looked at each other, a kind of resentment surging within them. This was obviously a child born out of thin air, how could he be so powerful? Even if Tang Siyu was from the piano industry, she could not teach such a young child to play such a good piano!

Moreover! Looking at this child's face, he didn't look like Tang Siyu at all. Could it be that the man that bore children with Tang Siyu back then was also very handsome?

This caused her to be jealous, but at the same time, she was also laughing coldly. How was this possible?

Maybe it was the genes of this child! Once he grew up, he might become a cripple. This sort of thing was not uncommon!

"He really is my good grandson. He's too calm." Tang Xiong felt that she must have inherited her own genes.

And on the backstage, behind a set that the spectators couldn't see, Tang Siyu was nervously wringing her hands, watching his son perform on the stage. She was worried for him, afraid that something might happen to him.

Su Xi embraced her, her exquisite face resting on her shoulder. Looking at her godson, she had a pampered smile on her face.

The little guy's performance this time was at level six. A piano piece with a bit of difficulty was more complicated, but the host had also emphasized this point. This really attracted the audience's attention.

Could a four year old child play a piano piece that was at least level 6? Isn't this too challenging?

The more impossible it seemed, the more it piqued the curiosity of others and kept them in suspense.

Not only was it the audience, but the channel's viewership rating had steadily risen to first place. The entire country's audience was watching this scene in anticipation of this child's astonishing performance. They believed that this world truly did have talented children.

Little friend Tang Yixi did not have a sense of achievement. On this stage, if he wanted to win something, it would not be due to his sense of achievement, it would not be because of the title of Champion.

Therefore, there was not a single trace of his playing. Due to the deviation brought about by his nervousness, his small face, under the high-definition video camera, was calm and composed, with a serious and handsome appearance. It was unknown just how much popularity and affection he would gain from playing this song.

Behind the set, both Tang Siyu's and Su Xi's eyes were moist.

Below the stage, Tang Xiong also tensed up as he listened to his grandson's performance. He heard countless of soft praises by his side, he really wanted to say that this was his grandson.

The little guy's extremely handsome series of long talismans concluded, and a deafening burst of applause instantly sounded out from below the stage. It was like a clap of thunder that never stopped for a long time.

And this time, the evaluators were beginning to pick their candidates for the championship. Without question, they chose the name of Tang Yixi's little friend as they had no other choice but to choose him.
