Chapter 1661 Cherry Boy

When Jared saw that, he panicked and did not know what to do. The truth was that Jared's EQ was so low that it was practically non-existent. He did not know how to coax girls, not to mention sweet-talking!

He did not understand why so many women had taken the initiative to pursue him! "Please don't cry. It's not what you think... Really..."

Jared was at a loss as Astrid continued to cry. He wanted to wipe her tears off, but he didn't dare to do it!

"It is exactly what I think. Do you think I don't know about your relationship with Lizbeth? I've heard all about it. Why was it OK for you to sleep with Lizbeth while your girlfriend was detained at Warriors Alliance? Besides, she's your girlfriend's best friend..." Astrid questioned Jared.

It seemed like the woman had already looked into the people who were close to Jared and investigated their relationships with him.

"That's nonsense. I didn't sleep with Lizbeth. Who did you hear it from? I have not even slept with Josephine yet. I'm still a virgin!" Jared explained anxiously.

When Astrid heard that, she froze for a moment and stopped crying before staring at Jared in disbelief.

My god! He's a cherry boy!

"Are you for real?" Astrid asked, finding it incredulous.

"I swear that I haven't done anything with them. I wanted to save it until I got married..." Jared replied earnestly.

Astrid could not help but chuckle when she saw the serious expression on Jared's face.

"I would have never expected that a formidable man like you would still be a virgin! Since that is the case, I won't have to worry anymore. At least I'm not at a disadvantage. There's nothing for me to be scared of. I'm sure that you will fall in love with me!"

Astrid was brimming with confidence.

There was nothing she had to worry about since Jared had not been intimate with those other women.

Jared let out a helpless sigh when he saw Astrid smiling again. She had really scared him earlier!

The man was thankful for the calming incantation. If not for it, it would be impossible for a healthy young man like him to resist the temptation!

Jared could not wait to leave the room!

“Don’t go. You can sleep here tonight...” Astrid offered.

“No, no, no. I’m scared—”

Before Jared could complete his sentence, he was interrupted by Astrid. “You can stay here. I’ll leave. There are other rooms for me to sleep in.”

After saying that, Astrid turned to leave. When she reached the door, she turned around suddenly and smiled at Jared. “Good night...”

After the woman left, Jared shut the door at once and sat on the bed while panting heavily.

As he wiped off the cold sweat from his forehead, then he let out a bitter chuckle.

He could not believe that, as a Greater Martial Arts Marquis, he would be that terrified of a woman!

“Alas! What’s with modern society? Are all women so bold these days...”

Jared let out another sigh before sitting cross-legged and starting to cultivate. He was sure that he would not be able to fall asleep that night.

The next day, Jared got out of bed early.

As he breathed in the fresh air, he could not help but marvel at the impressive design of the Gunderson residence’s courtyard.

“Mr. Chance, did you sleep well last night?”

Just then, Fernando walked over to Jared and asked with a teasing look in his eyes.

“Good morning, Mr. Gunderson. It was all right...” Jared answered awkwardly, nodding his head.

When Fernando noticed Jared’s expression, the grin on his face got wider. After giving a pat on Jared’s shoulder, Fernando said in a tone an elder would speak to someone of the younger generation, “I’m glad that you slept well. I will be taking you to the Gunderson family estate later. For your information, the Gunderson family estate has always been out of bounds to outsiders.”

Chapter 1662 Different From What I Imagine

After Fernando said that, Jared seemed to understand his intentions. No wonder Astrid entered my room in the middle of the night. It was planned.

Jared would need to be a member of the Gunderson family if he wanted to enter the Gunderson family estate.

If he got together with Astrid, naturally, he would become a member of their family. After becoming their family, his entry to the Gunderson family estate would be justified.

However, Fernando did not know Jared did not do anything with Astrid last night.

She did not coerce him to do what she wanted with the prize of going to her family estate. It seemed to Jared that she really intended to make an effort to win him over.

“Mr. Gunderson, we should go now. I can’t wait to get there!” Jared urged Fernando.

Jared was afraid Fernando would not take him to their family estate if the latter knew he did not sleep with Astrid.

After he said that, he lightly waved his hands, and a ray of light enveloped them suddenly.

Jared knew that was teleportation magecraft. It seemed that Fernando was already a master of that spell.

When the lights flashed, Jared quickly closed his eyes. When he opened them, he realized they were now out in the wilderness.

“Is... Is this the secret realm? It doesn’t look any different from the mundane world to me,” Jared exclaimed as he looked around curiously.

Looking at Jared, Fernando chuckled. “We’re not at the secret realm yet. Teleportation magecraft could only be used in the same dimension. Since the secret realm is not in the same dimension as the mundane world, it’s impossible to teleport directly into the secret realm, let alone bring someone in.”

Upon hearing his explanation, Jared went red in embarrassment.

Nevertheless, they continued on their journey. Jared followed Fernando for some time before reaching the foot of a mountain.

Then, he saw Fernando take out an octagram-shaped item and started chanting.

In no time, numerous lights started to form in the air, and a door slowly opened where the lights congregated.

It was like a gateway to heaven. However, when Jared tried to look into it, he couldn’t see anything.

“This is the Gate of Fire. When the eight secret realms were formed, they were based on the eight trigram pattern. Our family’s secret realm is in the south and it symbolizes fire. Hence ours is called the Gate of Fire. There are other gates, too, like the Gate of Heaven, Gate of Earth, Gate of Thunder, Gate of Wind, Gate of Water, Gate of Mountain, and finally, Gate of Lake. Violet Cloud Palace’s secret realm is in the east, so theirs are called the Gate of Thunder,” Fernando explained, and Jared learned something new.

“Mr. Gunderson, how many sects and prestigious families are living in each secret realm? Are there any limitations?”

Jared wanted to know how big the secret realm was and how many sects and prestigious families were inside.

Surprisingly, Fernando shook his head. “Honestly, I don’t know. It’s beyond my knowledge. I never did a count, so I don’t know how many sects and prestigious families survived that year.”

After that, Jared followed Fernando into the shining door. Once they had passed through it, it immediately vanished.

What entered Jared’s eyes was a whole different view. All he could see was a vast desert devoid of life. Other than the massive sand dunes, he saw nothing else.

Jared could barely believe his eyes and stared doubtfully at Fernando’s face.

“Mr. Gunderson, is this... the secret realm?”

In Jared’s knowledge, secret realms were supposed to be filled with lush greenery, and beasts roamed aplenty. In short, it should be a good environment.

Why is this place so desolate?

At Jared’s confusion, Fernando smiled. “Hm? It doesn’t look like what you’ve imagined, right?”

“Yeah, it’s different.” Jared nodded.

Fernando guffawed. “Hahaha! Of course, it’s different! Every secret realm has its own environment. For example, Violet Cloud Palace’s Gate of Thunder is a place with constant snowfall all year long...”

Chapter 1663 Sealing His Cultivation

Jared felt embarrassed after hearing that. Even though he was a spiritual energy cultivator, he was ignorant of the matters relating to the heavenly realm.

Gosh, I sound like a beginner. This is so embarrassing! “Don’t worry. You’ll learn about this sooner or later. After all, I can take you to this place often after you’ve become one of us.”

As Fernando looked at Jared, the former had a knowing smile on his face. Then, he waved his hands, and light enveloped them yet again.

In the next instant, they appeared in a bustling street. Rows and rows of hawkers were selling food and other products, stretching as far as the eye could see. To Jared, this town was no different from those in the mundane world. “Come on, this way...”

Fernando led Jared through a street and stopped in front of a courtyard. Glancing at the courtyard, Jared exclaimed incredulously, “Mr. Gunderson, don’t tell me this is the Gunderson family estate?”

Fernando nodded in affirmation. “Yes, this is the place.”

For one moment, Jared was at a loss for words. The courtyard was not impressive and did not look like a place that belonged to a prestigious family to him.

In fact, it could not even compare to Fernando’s courtyard in Jadeborough.

Although Fernando could guess what was going through Jared’s mind, he said nothing and smiled faintly. Then, he brought Jared in.

When Jared stepped through the gate, he was greeted with a gust of spiritual energy, and the next thing he saw was a lofty and majestic manor.

Two guards stood straight at the manor’s entrance, emitting energy at the Marquis level. Are they Martial Arts Marquises?

Jared was so shocked he almost dropped his jaw.

Again, Jared turned to look at Fernando in disbelief. Knowing that Fernando was also a Martial Arts Marquis, Jared felt that it was strange that the guards were on the same level as he was.

“This is the Gunderson family estate...” Fernando said with a smile.

“Mr. Gunderson, if I may ask, what... what position do you hold in the Gunderson family?” Jared was curious.

Smiling faintly, he answered, “I’m just an errand boy for the Gunderson family. Actually, no one from the direct line wants to go to the mundane world.”

When he was explaining, he had a slightly helpless look on his face. In general, spiritual energy cultivators only have a primary purpose in mind—to practice spiritual energy cultivation.

To them, going to the mundane world was akin to putting a constraint on their cultivation progress.

“Then, do the other prestigious families living in the secret realms have representatives in the mundane world? I don’t think I have seen them anywhere.”

In truth, Jared was a little mystified. After all this time, he had only met Fernando, a representative of the Gunderson family in the mundane world.

“I think there are, but their identities are usually confidential, so I’m not sure. Anyway, let’s go in. I reckon the Great Elder must be anxious from waiting.”

Without wasting more time, Fernando led Jared deeper into the estate.

As they passed by the guards, Fernando showed them his pass, and they let them in.

Oh. It seems like Fernando is not that important to their family.

They passed through multiple courtyards before stopping at a three-story building.

Standing at the entrance, Fernando shouted, “Your humble disciple, Fernando Gunderson, requests a meeting with the Great Elder...”

Immediately, a middle-aged man walked out of the building. He had a full beard and a fierce aura around him.

Sending a cursory glance at Jared and Fernando, the man then lightly waved his hand.

A gust of spiritual energy appeared and wrapped around the two.

Unlike the expressionless Fernando, Jared was alarmed. Instantly, a golden light flashed and blocked the foreign spiritual energy from entering his body.

That was because Jared realized the spiritual energy was trying to seal off his cultivation.

How could Jared let someone seal his cultivation for no reason?

On Jared's body, golden sparks flew while he fought hard, using the Power of Dragons to stop the foreign spiritual energy from entering his body.

The bearded man frowned at the sight.

"Mr. Chance, do not resist. This is a mandatory procedure to meet the Great Elder. Everyone has to seal their cultivation," Fernando said before he entered the door.

Chapter 1664 Meeting Great Elder

Seeing that, Jared had to retract the Power of Dragons. In an instant, his elixir field was sealed, and he looked no different from an ordinary person.

"Go on in," the man with full facial hair invited. "Thank you, Third Elder," Fernando said with a polite bow.

He then led Jared into the building. Inside, Jared detected a faint fragrance. He took a deep sniff and immediately furrowed his brows.

As an alchemist, Jared was familiar with this fragrance. It originated from a tree that would emit this scent when it was burned.

However, the fragrance wasn't used to refresh the air. In fact, it was used just like formaldehyde to reduce decay. Thus, dead bodies wouldn't rot for a long time after getting fumigated in the smoke.

Jared couldn't understand why this spice was used in the Gunderson family estate where Great Elder lived.

Before Jared could figure out what was going on, Fernando went on his knees.

"Greetings, Great Elder. I have brought him here," he declared after giving a polite bow.

He looked really old as his skin was all wrinkly. It seemed that he was about to die any time.

The elderly man didn't move an inch, but his eyes were sharp and bright. One would assume he was dead if it weren't for his eyes.

Jared was so engrossed in staring at Great Elder that he didn't offer a bow.

"Mr. Chance, hurry up and bow!" Fernando glanced at Jared anxiously. "You're part of the Gunderson family now, so it's a sin to not bow to Great Elder!"

However, Jared didn't get on his knees. He wasn't a Gunderson and had never knelt before anyone previously.

"Greetings, Great Elder!" Jared said cordially.

Cold sweat formed on Fernando's head, as he was afraid Great Elder would be upset at Jared's rude action.

Instead of flying into a fit of rage, Great Elder said calmly, "Have a seat."

Fernando was stunned. I've never sat before Great Elder. Every time I come here, I'll have to get on my knees. Why is Great Elder so gracious today when Jared is here? He is asking us to sit down!

Without hesitation, Jared strode toward a chair and sat down.

However, Fernando dared not get to his feet and remained in a kneeling position.

"Serve us coffee, please," Great Elder ordered.

Right then, a gorgeous lady clad in a white dress stepped out of a room. She could be a fairy with her stunning looks.

However, her face was pale, and Jared couldn't detect any aura on her. It looked like she was a walking corpse.

The woman came to Jared slowly. Lowering her head slightly, she placed a cup of coffee in front of Jared.

Jared stared at the woman's face, utterly baffled.

I cannot sense any aura on her. Is she a zombie puppet?

Jared felt a chill go down his spine at that thought.

If my guess is right, then the Gunderson family estate isn't a safe place for me to stay in.

When the woman turned around, Jared pretended to brush against her hand accidentally.

The woman's hand was icy cold, so Jared was certain she was a corpse!

Instantly, Jared's breathing turned rapid.

His strength had been sealed, so he couldn't defend himself and was at their mercy.

Gently, Jared took the cup of coffee with trembling hands.

He had never been this nervous in his life.

Chapter 1665 Another Regiment

Jared stared at the coffee wordlessly for a long time. He didn't have the guts to drink it. Who knows what they put inside?

"Please have some coffee," Great Elder said. There was a hint of reverence in his voice that shocked Fernando, who was still kneeling on the ground.

I've never heard Great Elder being this polite to someone else. Jared had no choice but to take a sip of the coffee.

My power has been sealed, so there's no point in resisting. At this point, I can only go with the flow.

Having made up his mind, Jared downed the coffee in one gulp. At once, he sensed a warm sensation coursing across his body.

To his surprise, his sealed elixir field was freed, and he could feel his spiritual energy boiling within his body.

Jared checked himself out and realized his strength was all back. The seal had been lifted!

Caught by surprise, Jared couldn't help but wonder why the coffee could be this effective.

He raised his head to ask what happened.

When he looked up, he discovered a huge relief sculpture appearing on the wall behind Great Elder.

It was a relief sculpture depicting a huge dragon that was the exact replica of the dragon on Jared's Dragon Ring!

Shock flitted across Jared's face as curiosity filled his heart.

Great Elder had already leaped up from his chair and landed before Jared.

He then got on his knees.

"My Lord, Chester Gunderson, at your service," he said respectfully.

Great Elder of the Gunderson family, Chester Gunderson, had knelt before Jared to greet him courteously!

Fernando could barely believe his eyes. He gaped, slack-jawed.

I've never seen Great Elder leave his seat or kneel before anyone! In the Gunderson family, Great Elder is respected by everyone. He has never knelt to anyone. Why is he on his knees before Jared, a young man in his twenties? He even addressed Jared as "My Lord!"

The sight was a bolt from the blue to Fernando.

Seeing Chester kneeling before him, Jared glanced at the relief sculpture and belatedly realized what was going on.

“Are you part of the Dragon Sect, too?” he asked.

“My Lord, the Gunderson family is one of the thirteen regiments of the Dragon Sect. I’ve waited twenty years for you to show up,” came Chester’s answer. There was a hint of delight in his trembling voice.

Comprehension dawned on Jared. He couldn’t help but look forward to getting to know more about his father.

He had no idea how powerful his father was to be able to make the Gunderson family, a family specializing in spiritual energy cultivation, one of the Dragon Sect’s regiments.

Jared wondered if the remaining regiments who had yet to reveal themselves would shock him senseless.

However, he discovered that the regiments would reveal themselves according to their strengths. The later they showed up, the stronger they were. Besides, they would always appear in his life accordingly as though his life was part of someone’s plan.

“Get up. We need to talk,” Jared ordered with a wave.

Chester nodded and got to his feet to stand beside Jared.

“Mr. Gunderson, you can get up, too,” Jared told Fernando.

Fernando shook his head profusely. “I wouldn’t dare!”

Chester was standing beside Jared, so he dared not get to his feet.

“The overlord told you to get up, so do as he says,” Chester spoke.

Hearing that, Fernando slowly stood up but remained in a stooped position.

Fernando had never heard of the Dragon Sect or regiment, but he knew Jared was now the boss of the Gunderson family as Chester obeyed Jared’s orders.

Chapter 1666 Another Way

“I have a question. What’s with that young lady?” Jared asked. He didn’t want a regiment under the Dragon Sect to create zombie puppets.

Hearing his question, Chester hurriedly explained, “My Lord, this young lady is my daughter.” “Your daughter?” An incredulous expression took over Jared’s face. “Why is she lifeless? Is she dead?”

Chester’s expression changed as he replied, “My Lord, someone set my daughter up and killed her years ago. I did my very best to gather one soul and one spirit belonging to her. To be exact, she isn’t a corpse. To prevent her body from rotting, I have to burn incense every day in the hall.”

Tears glistened in Chester’s eyes. He couldn’t do anything to help his daughter and had to spend all his time with her. Anyone would have the same reaction if they were in his shoes.

Jared took a close look at the young lady, who seemed to be in her twenties. Chester was obviously over a hundred years old, so Jared would never guess she was his daughter if he hadn’t revealed the fact.

“How long has your daughter been like this?” Jared asked. “Twenty years.”

Jared was startled by his answer.

“She seems to be in her twenties. How is that possible?” He gazed at Chester’s daughter incredulously. She doesn’t look like a middle-aged woman in her forties.

“My Lord, my daughter was harmed when she was twenty-four years old, so her body remained at that age. Besides, those who cultivate spiritual energy like us will get to increase our lifespan according to our strength. Some can live till hundreds and even thousands of years, so this is nothing special,” Chester explained.

Jared gave a curt nod. “Have you never thought of reviving your daughter all these years?”

“Well,” Chester sighed, “I’ve used every means to no avail. When my daughter ended up in this state, I had a dream. A golden dragon told me that the next overlord of the Dragon Sect will be able to revive my daughter! Hence, I waited for the overlord patiently for twenty years, and today, you’re finally here.”

Suddenly, Chester went on his knees again. “My Lord, please revive my daughter. I’ll pledge loyalty to you and risk my life to protect you.”

Jared panicked instantly. I can’t revive Chester’s daughter. My ability is no match for an elder in the Gunderson family.

“Great Elder, I’m afraid I can’t revive your daughter with my current ability. Why don’t you think of another way?” Jared suggested awkwardly.

“My Lord, I believe you can do it as the golden dragon appeared in my dream and told me so. Even if you cannot do it now, you will be able to do so one day. Please take her with you and find a chance to revive her! My daughter is in the Spirit Divider level, which translates to the Martial Arts Saint level in the martial arts world. There might only be one soul and one spirit within her, but her body is indestructible. She’ll be able to help you out, My Lord,” Chester pleaded.

He wanted Jared to take his daughter along on his journey.

Jared was stumped. If Chester’s daughter was an ordinary person, he might consider taking her along with him. Besides, he could head to Warriors Alliance and save Josephine with a Martial Arts Saint’s help.

However, Chester’s daughter was no different from a zombie puppet. It would be hard to explain if Jared brought her along.

Chapter 1667 Lies

Most importantly, Jared knew he wasn’t capable of reviving Chester’s daughter.

However, he had no choice but to say yes under Chester’s insistence.

Delighted, Chester ordered his men to prepare a spread. He also invited Jared to stay in his house.

Jared spent three days in the Gunderson family estate. During his time there, he got to know more about the heavenly realm and the secret realms.

It turned out that the secret realm was just like the mundane world, where the prestigious families and sects fought against each other to get the resources they wanted.

Jared asked Chester if the Gunderson family was confident of defeating Violet Cloud Palace.

However, Chester had no answer to that. They were in different secret realms, so Chester didn't know how capable Violet Cloud Palace was and wasn't sure if the Gundersons were their match.

It was hard to go to another secret realm and fought there as there was a possibility one might lose and die in someone else's territory.

That was precisely why people rarely used Teleportation Arrays to teleport themselves to other secret realms even though the secret realms were equipped with Teleportation Arrays.

Chester also told Jared everything he knew about Warriors Alliance.

To Jared's surprise, he learned that Warriors Alliance had already left the martial arts world.

Some demon spirits who survived the Celestial Battle were now controlling Warriors Alliance.

They might've lost their lives in the battle, but their spirits managed to survive.

The spirits borrowed bodies to come back to life to control the mundane world and regain their strength!

That was why the spirits were able to increase their strength without any limits.

However, the spiritual energy cultivators in the secret realm couldn't stay in the mundane world for too long.

They could only appear again when the whole world changed, resulting in the revival of spiritual energy and the disappearance of the secret realms.

That was the only way for them to free themselves from the man-made secret realm that imprisoned them.

Seated on the most prestigious seat of the Gunderson family, Jared couldn't help but let out a heavy sigh.

The more he learned, the more helpless he felt.

That was because he realized he was just a nobody who could only go along with the flow in the heavenly realm.

After spending three days in the Gunderson family estate, Jared wanted to leave. The Gunderson family estate had an abundance of spiritual energy and resources compared to the mundane world, but he couldn't stay there as he had something else to do.

"My Lord, please take good care of my daughter." Despite his reluctance, Chester handed his daughter to Jared.

Spiritual energy was scarce in the mundane world, so he wasn't afraid that his daughter's body would rot there.

"Don't worry, Great Elder. I'll find a way to revive her," Jared assured him even though he wasn't sure if he could do that.

"My Lord, her name is Evangeline Gunderson. She only has one soul and one spirit, but after spending some time with me, she can understand some simple words," Chester told Jared.

"All right. Don't worry, Great Elder!"

Jared led Evangeline and Fernando out of the Gunderson family estate to return to the mundane world.

Astrid was filled with jealousy when she spotted Jared coming back to the Gunderson residence with Evangeline in tow.

I don't understand. Why did Jared come back from the family estate with a girl?

"Jared, why are you so fickle-hearted? How could you bring a girl back home? Everything you said that night was a lie, huh?" she snapped unhappily.

"Ms. Gunderson, this is a misunderstanding," Jared said and flashed an embarrassed smile.

Before Jared could explain, Fernando's expression changed. He turned to Astrid and yelled, "Shut up! How could you speak to Mr. Chance this way? What he does is none of your business! Go back to your room and stop talking nonsense!"

Franklin was freaking out. Does Astrid know how powerful Jared is now? He's someone the Great Elder pays his respect to. How can she talk to him in such a tone? Is she courting death? Moreover, Evangeline is the Great Elder's daughter. She is really asking for it to be jealous of her! "Dad, what's wrong? He—"

Before Astrid could say anything, Fernando threw her back into her room. "Mr. Chance, please ignore her. She's like this..."

Fernando apologized hastily to Jared. Jared smiled indifferently. "I think you have to explain to Ms. Gunderson properly. Contrary to what she believed, I'm not a promiscuous person."

"Of course, I will explain to her!" Fernando nodded vigorously. Jared left with Evangeline. Meanwhile, Fernando went to find Astrid to give her a stern warning.

"Listen to me. The next time you see Mr. Chance, you need to be respectful to him. Don't you dare show any amount of disrespect to him! You can't talk to him like how you did just now. Do you understand?" Fernando scolded Astrid.

Astrid was astounded. "Dad, what's wrong? You took a trip back to the Gunderson residence, and you're acting so odd now. Jared has some skills, but there's no need for you to be so afraid of him. Also, who's the other woman? Is she dating Jared?"

Hearing that, Fernando reprimanded, "Shut your mouth! If Mr. Chance asks you to do anything, you will do it. You have no right to question or talk back."

"Dad, why? Tell me what happened," Astrid asked, perplexed.

"You will know in the future. All you have to do is listen to me now!" Fernando did not dare to reveal Jared's and Evangeline's identities.

After Fernando left, Astrid flung her pillow onto the ground in a fit of rage. She was perplexed by how drastically her father had changed in just a few days.

At the Deragon residence, Godrick was summoning experts to gather as the patriarch of the Deragon family. Leviathan and The Villainous Four were also present.

As a result, the residence was currently packed like sardines in a can with experts.

However, all of them wore grim expressions.

“Everyone, today is the last day, as stated in the invitation! If Jared is still nowhere to be found, we will have to fight to the death against Warriors Alliance,” Godrick said as he furrowed his brows.

“F*ck! Let’s go all out against Warriors Alliance! What is there to be afraid of?” Brody bellowed.

“Brody, shut your trap!” Oakley shot a glare at Brody before continuing, “What should we do if we go and fight against Warriors Alliance and injure Ms. Sullivan accidentally during the process?”

Upon hearing Oakley’s statement, everyone fell silent.

At that moment, Godrick looked at Rayleigh and asked, “Mr. Deragon, how about you make the decision?”

Rayleigh had the most authority among everyone present. Therefore, he became the one who had to make the decision.

Rayleigh glanced at Lizbeth. “Lizbeth, what do you think?”

Lizbeth did not answer. Her hands gripped the invitation from Warriors Alliance tightly, and her eyes were full of fury.

After Jared left, Skylar from Warriors Alliance came by with an invitation for Jared. They threatened to cut off one of Josephine’s arms if they did not see Jared at Warriors Alliance within three days.

Three days had passed since then. However, Jared was still unreachable, so everyone gathered to discuss a plan.

Since they were frightened of hurting Josephine, none of them dared to engage in combat with Warriors Alliance.

No one wished to take on such responsibility.

Just as everyone was at a loss, Jared came back with Evangeline.

“Mr. Chance is back!” someone shouted from outside.

Chapter 1669 Do Not Panic

When everyone heard that, they were filled with excitement and immediately rushed out of the residence. Jared saw that everyone was present and frowned. “Did something happen?”

“Jared, look at this.” Lizbeth stepped forward and passed the invitation from Warriors Alliance to him.

Then, her gaze fell onto Evangeline, who was standing behind Jared. However, she did not say anything.

Jared took the invitation and immediately flew into a rage.

“This Skylar deserves death!” He gritted his teeth, as the invitation in his hands turned into ashes.

“Wait for me here. I’m heading to Warriors Alliance now.” With that, Jared turned and left.

“Jared, Skylar is a cunning and shrewd man. It’s too dangerous if you go there alone!” Rayleigh called out.

“Mr. Deragon, don’t worry. I’ll be careful!” After he said that, he left toward the direction of Warriors Alliance.

The invitation had said for Jared to go alone. Hence, he would not bring anyone for Josephine’s safety.

Evangeline, however, immediately followed Jared as he walked away.

“Jared, this girl is—”

Lizbeth wanted to tell Jared that Evangeline was following him.

Jared turned back and saw Evangeline. He uttered, “Stay here.”

Evangeline’s eyes were glazed and unfocused. However, she shook her head expressionlessly.

Lizbeth looked at Jared strangely.

“I’ll explain to you when I come back. Skylar will probably not mind her following me,” Jared said to Lizbeth before taking Evangeline and speeding off to Warriors Alliance.

Evangeline was no different from a puppet now. Moreover, there was no aura coming from her.

Therefore, Skylar would not say anything if Jared brought her along.

Meanwhile, ten Black Copper Robe warriors were stationed at Warriors Alliance. Skylar brought Josephine out of the dungeon, holding a scepter.

When the sunlight shone on Josephine’s body, she could not help but close her eyes.

It had been a long time since she last saw sunlight.

Her face was pale, and she looked rather weak.

Although Warriors Alliance provided Josephine with many pills and health supplements, she still looked frail.

“Is it finally happening?” Josephine asked calmly, as she maintained an indifferent expression.

“Ms. Sullivan, don’t worry. We are not going to kill you. You are our bait.”

Skylar scoffed coldly.

After Josephine was brought out of the dungeon, she entered a gigantic cage.

The cage was made of black platinum, so it was hard and sturdy. With an arcane array enveloping it, it was extremely difficult to open it with force.

After Josephine entered the cage, it was hung up high. She was like a caged animal for everyone to view.

“Have you thought through this? Do you know of the consequences? If Jared managed to save this woman, we are both going to die...”

The spirit’s voice spoke in Skylar’s mind.

“Don’t worry. I even have a sacred martial arts relic. Moreover, we have a strong defense here. Jared is not going to be able to save her. I want him to see his girlfriend’s pathetic state! I want to make him panic! If he panics, he won’t be able to think straight. Once Jared loses his composure, he is dead meat!”

Skylar had a sinister smile.

In this aspect, he was much more scheming and cunning than Zion.

Skylar looked at the time and waited for Jared patiently.

“Jared, I have prepared such a huge present for you. I hope you won’t disappoint me.”

Jared sped to Warriors Alliance with Evangeline. Right as he was a distance away from Warriors Alliance, he froze.

It was because he sensed Josephine, and her aura felt intense. “How can this be? Could it be that they’ve released Josephine?”

A look of shock crossed Jared’s face, and he quickened his pace. When he arrived at the entrance of Warriors Alliance, one of the members went to report it to Skylar.

“President Norton, Jared has arrived,” said the member. Skylar’s confidence was palpable as he uttered, “Good, he has finally come. Let him in.”

“Are you sure you can take Jared down?” the spirit asked Skylar again.

“Be at ease. I’m ninety percent sure of this. As long as Jared is ready to give up everything to save his girlfriend, he won’t be able to escape this,” Skylar said with a sneer.

He had already set up a trap for Jared. All he needed to do now was infuriate Jared and make him lose his rationality.

The doors to Warriors Alliance slowly opened, and Jared entered with Evangeline. The Black Copper Robe warriors instantly surrounded the two of them.

When Skylar realized that Jared had brought someone else with him, he frowned. “Jared, you’ve broken our promise. Aren’t you afraid that we’ll make your girlfriend suffer?”

Jared glanced at Evangeline and replied, “She’s just a corpse right now, so she can’t do anything but follow me around. I can’t make her leave anyway.”

At that, Skylar narrowed his eyes. A ray of light shot out from them and veiled Evangeline. Indeed, Evangeline had no life in her at all as she was like a puppet.

Only then did Skylar finally let out a sigh of relief. Averting his eyes from her, he then uttered, “Jared, I never thought you’d fall from grace and start creating zombie puppets. However, this zombie puppet is so pretty. Yet, she has no life in her at all—no power at all. You can’t have created a zombie puppet like this so that you can sleep with it, right?”

You’re the rising star of the martial arts world and the lord of the Medicine God Sect. Yet, you’ve made a female zombie puppet to fulfill your desires. I never thought you were one to like such a thing. I wonder what those girls who have a crush on you would think if I were to spread the news about this,” Skylar mocked, his grin growing wider and wider.

However, Jared looked unfazed as he flashed the other man a smile. “What you want to do is none of my business. You haven’t summoned me here to say such nonsense, have you? If this is all you have to say to me, I'll have to say I don't have the time for you."

Skylar burst out laughing. "Hahaha! Of course not! Can't you sense your girlfriend's aura yet?"

"I know you've been wanting to rescue your girlfriend, but Warriors Alliance's dungeon is protected by an arcane array. That array is something you cannot break.

However, I'll give you a chance today. I've brought your girlfriend out. As long as you can rescue her from us, Warriors Alliance will never stand in your way again."

With that said, Skylar waved. A flash of light appeared behind him, and Josephine, who had been caged, materialized.

When Jared saw that Josephine had been locked up in a steel cage and was pale and weak, rage churned inside of him.

Skylar began laughing at the growing anger and murderous intent in Jared.

"Fuck! You! Skylar!" Jared roared.

Dragonslayer Sword manifested in his hand, and he swung the sword at Skylar.

While a burst of sword energy slashed in Skylar's direction, Jared swung his sword again to unleash another flash of sword energy.

The second burst of sword energy was directed at Josephine's cage.

Skylar scoffed. With a swing of his hand, he released airwaves.
