

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1731

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1731—Peering at Jared, Ono finally realized he was as weak as a helpless ant when compared to his enemy. “Where’s the girl you captured?” Jared questioned again.

“Follow me if you dare, punk!” A frigid look flashed past Ono’s eyes as he gritted his teeth, looking as though he was planning to do something.

Following behind Ono, Jared ventured deeper into the cave. At the same time, the bloody, terrifying aura was getting thicker. Not long after, he noticed the drywall was getting damper, and the floor was also getting wetter.

When Ono arrived in front of a stone door, he halted his steps and stared at it as though he was hesitating about something. Sensing Jared’s approaching from behind, he steeled himself and pushed the door open before entering the room. Without hesitation, Jared followed suit.

Soon, he saw a very spacious hall inside. In the middle of the hall was a round altar. A giant spider, which kept spitting out silk threads, was sitting in the center of the altar, trapped in a cage made of light. Attached to the rocky walls of the hall were chrysalis-like objects wrapped in silk threads.

Jared didn’t expect his enemies to keep a demon beast in their hideout. Based on the spider’s size and the aura it’s emitting, it’s very clearly a high-level demon beast! I think it’s probably as powerful as a Martial Arts Marquis or even a Greater Martial Arts Marquis. Nevertheless, a demon beast will always be stronger than a human even though they are on the same power level.

“I can’t believe you have the guts to follow me here, brat. There’s no doubt you’ll bite the dust once I release this spider beast!” Ono threatened.

Jared sneered, “Stop your yapping and just let it out! If my guess is right, this spider beast doesn’t take your orders. If you let it out, the first thing it’ll eat is you!”

In response to hearing that, Ono scowled. Clearly, Jared was right about the money with his assumption.

“You’d better get out of here now. If you leave me no choice, I’ll make sure you perish with me!” Ono placed his hand on a spot on the stone wall, which seemed to be the core of the arcane array.

As Jared gazed at the giant spider with a burning desire, Dragonslayer Sword slowly showed itself. Even if he refuses to release this demon beast, I’m still going to kill this thing! Beast cores are valuable resources, after all!

“Quit wasting my time! I dare you to let the demon beast out now!” He was ready to kill the demon beast. “T-Then I’ll do it I really will!” Ono’s body was slightly trembling.

“You talk too much.” Jared lifted Dragonslayer Sword and slashed it in Ono’s direction. Frightening martial energy soared toward Ono like a beam of light. In response, Ono pressed his hand on the stone wall.

Seconds later, an ear-piercing sound was heard in the room as the cage of light that imprisoned the spider beast disappeared. The spider beast screeched and pounced toward him as he was the closest living being to it in the room.

Clang! Instead of Ono, Jared’s sword landed on the spider beast. A crunching sound was heard as the spider beast shrieked in agony. However, it was unhurt.

Jared grimaced slightly when he saw that. Sure, I didn’t use my full power in that attack, but I can’t believe it didn’t even break through the spider beast’s defense!

The spider beast glanced at him but didn’t attack him. Instead, it opened its mouth and tried to bite Ono. The instant Ono noticed the creature’s course of action, he jumped and kicked the chrysalis-like object on the stone wall.

When that object almost hit the spider beast, the creature used two of its legs to catch it before tearing the exterior silk thread apart with two sharp claws.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1732

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1732—When the silk thread was ripped away, a thick stench of blood filled the air. Then, a corpse fell out of the chrysalis-like object. The spider beast proceeded to swallow the corpse and the threads into its stomach before attacking Ono again.

Ono glowered at the spider beast. You piece of sh't! Why do you always chase after me? With no other choice, he had to keep kicking down the chrysalis-like objects on the wall to block the spider beast's path. Each of them had a corpse inside. There were dead men, women, and even children within.

Jared was slightly stunned by the sight of those corpses. At that moment, Flaxseed had arrived at the scene. His expression darkened rapidly when he witnessed the situation inside the room.

"What's the matter, Mr. Flaxseed?" Jared asked. With gritted teeth, Flaxseed spat with unbound fury, "I can't believe these animals are making human chrysalis!"

"What's a human chrysalis, Mr. Flaxseed?" Jared was confused. I have no idea what he's saying!

"Human chrysalis is made when a living human is wrapped in silk threads. The humans inside are left to die of thirst and hunger before they are fed to the demon beast! This is done to remove any waste inside the human bodies so the beast will like them more," Flaxseed answered.

Flaxseed's explanation instantly enraged Jared. The corpses inside these chrysalises were essentially trapped alive! Concurrently, Ono was still using the human chrysalises to dodge the spider beast's attacks.

Jared unleashed a palm strike in Ono's direction, sending an overwhelming aura straight toward him.

Ono had been wholly focused on the spider beast, so when he noticed Jared's aura flying toward him, it was already too late for him to dodge.

Boom! Following the deafening explosion, Ono's body was blasted into pieces by Jared. After losing its target, the spider beast turned its sight toward Jared.

As though the creature knew its next target was mightier than the last, instead of charging forward, it spat out silk threads to bind Jared and Flaxseed.

In response, Jared swung Dragonslayer Sword to sever the threads instantly. Then he bolted toward the creature to slash it.

Sensing the oncoming danger, the spider beast scuttled backward and sent waves of martial energy toward Jared with its two sharp hind legs.

Clang! Clang! Clang! Jared handily blocked the attacks with Dragonslayer Sword and stabbed the spider beast.

Psh! Dark green blood spurted out of the beast's body. While Dragonslayer Sword did prick the creature, it only went deep enough to puncture its defense.

Jared was flabbergasted. I used my full power in this attack, yet it was only strong enough to pierce through its defense!

The injured spider beast roared and opened its mouth to bite him. At the same time, its claws were clasped onto Dragonslayer Sword.

Jared attempted to pull Dragonslayer Sword out before swiftly realizing the sword had fallen into the spider beast's grasp. Thus, with no options left, he hopped backward, dodging the creature's assault, but losing Dragonslayer Sword in the process.

"You shouldn't keep fighting it here, Jared! It's too cramped here. We need to get out!" Flaxseed suggested. Speed is his advantage in fighting against a demon beast like the spider!

It's unlikely that the creature can move quickly with its gigantic body. However, as fast as Jared can be, he doesn't have enough space in this enclosed hall to utilize to his advantage.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1733

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1733—Jared briefly contemplated his next move before rushing outside with Flaxseed. As the spider beast followed behind them, it kept bumping into the rocky walls because the cave was too small. In the process, it caused the mountain to shake and bits of rocks to drop in all directions.

Upon witnessing the situation, Jared requested, "Find Evangeline and rescue her, Mr. Flaxseed." If the spider beast collapses the entire mountain, Evangeline will get crushed and die! Flaxseed nodded and disappeared into a junction right after.

As for Jared, he continued to sprint outside, with the spider beast following behind. Jetroinian samurais who unknowingly crossed the beast's path were promptly devoured by it.

He dove out of the cave when he spotted the entrance. On the other hand, the spider beast smashed into the entrance, expanding the size of the entryway as a result.

The instant the beast was outside, it shot numerous silk threads in his direction, restraining him. Then it opened its mouth and lunged toward him.

Jared's body glowed with golden light as he ripped the threads apart. Gazing at Dragonslayer Sword stuck to the beast's body, Jared remotely summoned his weapon back into his hand.

The moment the spider beast was about to chomp on him, he threw Dragonslayer Sword inside the beast's mouth, propping it open.

The creature's vigorous attempt to fling Dragonslayer Sword away ended in failure because the weapon was too firmly lodged in the roof of its mouth.

Additionally, Dragonslayer Sword was exceedingly sturdy. Hence, regardless of the spider beast's best efforts, it couldn't snap the blade.

As it could no longer use its mouth to bite, it started swinging its sharp claws, resulting in the destruction of large swaths of the forest.

The rampage wasn't a concern for Jared because his relatively smaller body and speed enabled him to dodge the spider beast's attacks continuously.

Just as the beast hurled its two claws in his direction, he leaped and landed on its head. Then, his fist began to glow with golden light. He continuously poured the Power of Dragons into his fist and punched the spider beast's head.

That punch carried five thousand kilograms of force.

Bang!

Even after Jared had unleashed his attack, the spider beast remained uninjured. Meanwhile, his entire arm had turned numb. In response to the assault, the beast wriggled its body in pain as though it was trying to toss Jared off its body.

However, he held on to the creature's body and punched it again. Bam! Bam! Bam! As usual, while the spider beast experienced:

pain, it remained unscathed despite having received more than a dozen of Jared's punches. On the other hand, his arm had lost all sensations.

Jared started to panic when he felt the Power of Dragons getting weaker. I didn't expect the spider beast to be this durable!

In the meantime, after multiple failed attempts to shake the human off its body, it began smashing into the mountain like crazy.

Boom! Every time the beast crashed into the mountain, the earth shook, and bits of rocks dropped into the surrounding.

Jared was getting dizzy from all the violent movements, but still, he refused to let the beast go. Boom! The spider beast's latest collision into the mountain was so powerful that half of it crumbled.

Jared reacted by unleashing Golem Body to its fullest potential. While he wasn't afraid of the falling rocks, he was having a challenging time ensuring he wouldn't drop off the beast's body. If I fall, it'll be difficult for me to mount it again. However, if I stay, I can't attack it!

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1734

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1734—Right as Jared was wondering what to do, Evangeline landed in front of the spider beast in white clothing like an angel. The spider beast, already in a state of berserk, instantly tried to assault Evangeline with its sharp claws.

Instead of dodging or running away, she stared at the beast calmly and started chanting. Her voice sounded angelic and soothing, capable of calming even the most manic in a very short amount of time.

mind The creature's claws froze as it gazed at her. After Evangeline finished her chanting, she patted the beast's head.

Even though she was standing so close to the spider beast, it didn't attack her and even allowed her to pat it.

She turned to Jared, who was still lying on the beast's body, and suggested, "You should retrieve your sword from its mouth, Mr. Chance."

He stared at her, astounded. "If I remove the sword, it may swallow you."

It was then Flaxseed raised his head and yelled excitedly, "It won't because this is an ancient beast-taming technique! How marvelous!"

Jared was puzzled because he had no idea what beast-taming technique was, but he chose to trust Evangeline and removed Dragonslayer Sword from the spider beast's mouth.

As she continued to pat the spider beast's head, a light enveloped the creature, causing it to shrink until it was only the size of a thumb.

Naturally, Jared was stunned when he saw that. She grabbed a bottle, put the spider beast inside, and stuffed it into her pocket.

Meanwhile, Flaxseed approached her while gazing at her with excitement and respect. "Can you teach me this ancient beast-taming technique?"

Upon glancing at him, Evangeline shook her head. "I can't." He was slightly displeased to receive that answer. "Hey, I was the one who saved you."

"It's not that I don't want to teach you. It's simply because you can't learn it. Only those with pure hearts can learn the beast-taming technique. I'm the holy maiden of Lunarius Palace, which is why I can learn it. On the contrary, your mind is filled with lust, so you cannot."

Her words elicited an embarrassed blush on Flaxseed's countenance.

"Haha, it's fine if I can't learn it. The beast-trapping charm I have isn't any worse than the beast-taming technique." He was saying that to ease the awkwardness he was experiencing.

"Since you have that beast-trapping charm, why didn't you use that earlier, Mr. Flaxseed? almost died!" Jared shot a glare at him.

“Are you kidding me? You’re the son of a dragon and Golden Dragon’s True Form. There’s no way you’ll die, even if you are swallowed by that demon beast” “All right, that’s enough. Stop flattering me.”

Jared then turned to Evangeline. “Can you teach me the beast-taming technique, Evangeline? If I can subdue a heavenly demon beast one day, I’ll be invincible!”

Rolling her eyes at him, she spoke candidly. “Keep on dreaming. The beast-taming technique may be powerful, but it is only effective if the demon beast’s strength is less than or equal to the user’s power level. So, it’s impossible for you to tame a heavenly demon beast.”

He was first taken aback before he asked with confusion, “But this spider beast is more powerful than a Greater Martial Arts Marquis. How did you tame it?”

I know her strength is restricted right now, so she’s only as powerful as a Greater Martial Arts Marquis. How did she subdue a demon beast mightier than a Greater Martial Arts Marquis? “Because this spider beast is only about as powerful as a beginner-phase Greater Martial Arts Marquis.”

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1735

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1735—“No, that’s absolutely impossible. I was almost eaten by the spider beast. Are you saying I can’t even defeat a demon beast as powerful as a beginner-phase Greater Martial Arts Marquis?” Jared couldn’t believe he failed to defeat a demon beast of that caliber when his strength was equal to Third Level Greater Martial Arts Marquis.

Evangeline smiled. “Every demon beast has their own strengths and weaknesses. This spider beast has an exceptionally tough defense, yet you chose to fight against it head- on. If you had attacked its tail when it was spitting threads instead, you could’ve killed it easily

That revelation rendered Jared speechless. Indeed, I didn’t bother to learn the demon beasts’ features. I guess I’ll need to hit the books in the future. Staring at the collapsed cave, he suddenly recalled the people that were turned into human chrysalises.

Fury and murderous intent blazed in his heart as he uttered with gritted teeth, "I'll make sure those sons of a b*tch pay the price! I won't forget you, Elysium Sect."

An icy look swirled in his eyes. "Let's go!" Flaxseed called out to Jared. In response, Jared nodded before all three of them prepared to leave. Meanwhile, a car was speeding on a path in the jungle.

Kazuo and a middle-aged man with a mustache were sitting inside the vehicle. "I'll be counting on you, Mr. Sakata," said Kazuo politely.

The middle-aged man was the Soul Searching Master Kazuo invited from Jetroina, Masamura Sakata. While Masamura wasn't particularly powerful, his Soul Searching Technique was adroit, to say the least.

"No need to speak so highly of me, Mr. Kawaguchi. I also want to see what a soul from thousands of years ago looks like," Masamura replied with a grin.

After Kazuo parked the car, they began trekking into the forest. However, the moment Kazuo stepped into the jungle, his expression changed.

"This is bad! Someone had been here!" Frowning, he hastily bolted toward his camp. Masamura followed closely behind him.

Meanwhile, just as Jared and the other two were about to leave, they sensed an extremely dangerous presence heading their way. In a blink of an eye, Jared captured Kazuo's familiar aura "Kazuo's here. We need to leave quickly." As he spoke, he changed the direction of their course. Instead of heading outside of the forest, he opted to journey deeper into the woods.

When Kazuo arrived at the secret base with Masamura, he was dumbfounded as he stared at the corpses strewn across the ground, the collapsed mountain, and the destroyed base.

"Motherf*cker!" Kazuo howled lividly. Then he briefly closed his eyes and tried to sense any aura nearby. Upon opening his eyes, he informed, "They're ahead of us! Let's chase after them!"

Furiously, Kazuo pursued Jared and the others. No matter how far Jared and the others ran, Kazuo wouldn't halt his pursuit.

“Take Evangeline and run in another direction, Mr. Flaxseed. I’ll lure Kazuo away,” Jared instructed. Worried, Flaxseed asked, “Are you going to be okay by yourself, Jared? Kazuo doesn’t seem weak at all.”

“He’s right. Kazuo is immensely powerful. He’s about as strong as an advanced-phase Greater Martial Arts Marquis. Even I’m not his opponent,” Evangeline chimed in.

“It’s fine. I can run faster. As long as he can’t catch up to me, I’ll be okay. If we don’t do this, he’ll get us all eventually,” assured Jared. If the three of us stick together, he’ll reach us sooner or later. None of us will be able to escape when he does. As long as Flaxseed and Evangeline are safe, I’ll be able to escape with my speed.

“Okay. Be careful, then. We’ll meet up in the city outside the forest.” Upon ending his sentence, Flaxseed fled in another direction with Evangeline.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1736

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1736—“Wait a minute.” Evangeline pulled out the bottle from her pocket and handed it to Jared. “If you run into danger, the spider beast can help you ward off your enemy.”

She then told Jared the spell to activate it before leaving with Flaxseed. After pocketing the bottle, Jared released his aura deliberately and ran in the opposite direction. Kazuo and Masamura were chasing after Jared and finally caught up to him on a hill. “I knew it!”

Kazuo glared at Jared as a murderous intent burned in his gaze. He had sensed the aura belonging to Jared a while ago. Jared had killed Jun and destroyed their base, so Kazuo wouldn’t let him off easily.

“Kazuo, how dare you Jetroinians set up a secret base in our country and harm our people by feeding them to demon beast? I shall take your life today to avenge those who you killed!” Jared roared angrily.

Kazuo burst out laughing arrogantly. “Don’t you find yourself funny? Do you seriously think you can kill me?”

He obviously thought Jared wasn’t his match. “Why don’t we give it a try and find out?”

Jared activated his Golem Body just in time to defend himself against the aggressive attack. His entire being emitted a golden light as scales covered his body.

At the same time, Jared held the bottle, prepared to release the spider beast. The spider beast would be able to hold Kazuo back, allowing him to flee the scene.

Jared wasn't foolish enough to fight against Kazuo for real. After all, he wasn't capable enough and was also outnumbered in this situation.

"Ha! Insolent fool!" Kazuo scoffed in disdain. Right after he said that, his aura increased as he reached out to attack Jared.

Before he could launch his attack, Masamura stopped him. "Mr. Kawaguchi, don't kill him. His spirit is too strong. We'll gain another expert if we can extract his spirit and control it." Hearing that, Kazuo nodded and retracted his aura. "Go ahead, Mr. Sakata," he said.

"Mr. Kawaguchi, just you wait." Masamura nodded. He strode toward Jared and sneered, "Brat, if you play along, you won't have to suffer from excruciating pain. Do you understand?"

Jared scoffed at Masamura, who appeared to be weaker than him. "What makes you think you can capture me? You must really be delusional to believe you can do it in your current state," he said mockingly "Brat, stop being stubborn. You shall find out how capable I am shortly after," Masamura declared proudly.

Suddenly, clouds of black mist rose from Masamura's body. They formed a black shadow and enveloped Jared's body. Once the black shadow came into contact with Jared's skin, it entered his body instantly.

Jared stiffened, and his gaze instantly became blank. A smile nudged Masamura's lips when he spotted Jared's reaction. Kazuo was pleasantly surprised as he praised, "Mr. Sakata, your Soul Searching Technique is getting stronger by the day!"

Masamura burst out laughing. "Mr. Kawaguchi, you flatter me. It isn't that special."

Soon, clouds of black mist rose from Jared's body. The black shadow slowly left his body, bringing out a figure around half a meter tall with it.

That figure was none other than Jared's spirit. Masamura and Kazuo's laughter turned louder when they saw Jared's soul leaving his body. They could barely contain their delight.

Right after Jared's spirit left his body, it suddenly glowed brightly and turned into a little golden statue. Both Masamura and Kazuo were stunned by the sight.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1737

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1737—Before they realized what was going on, Jared's spirit delivered a punch that landed on Masamura's black shadow. "Fool, do you think you can control me with your measly skills?" Jared's soul grabbed Masamura's shadowy figure and punched it repeatedly.

The glow emanating from Jared's spirit was so intense that Masamura and Kazuo had to shield their eyes. One could tell how powerful it is just from that glow alone.

"H-He's too strong," Masamura gasped in shock and coughed out a mouthful of black blood. It felt like his spirit was being ripped into shreds, but he couldn't do anything about it.

Boom! Jared's spirit delivered another powerful blow, launching the menacing black shadow away. Masamura tamped down the pain as he opened his mouth wide, consuming the shadow to reclaim it into his being. Fear penetrated his gaze as he locked eyes with Jared.

Kazuo's brows furrowed in concentration. Despite knowing that Jared's physical form was practically indestructible, he was taken aback by the sheer force of Jared's spirit. I cannot believe why the Soul Searching Technique of a Soul Searching Master failed to control him!

Jared's spirit re-entered his body. With a mischievous smirk, he quipped, "I think it's time for you to go home and grow up. Maybe you should drink some more milk!"

Masamura got so furious that he spewed out another mouthful of blood. Meanwhile, Kazuo felt his blood boiling as his aura intensified..

“Brat, I shall kill you today!” Kazuo’s hand suddenly clenched around a katana that seemed ancient as its dark aura emanated a sense of dread.

He flicked his wrist, and the katana promptly came at Jared swiftly! The sharp blade charged toward Jared and appeared before him in the blink of an eye. Seeing that, Jared quickly retreated and fled.

Kazuo snorted and gave chase to Jared as his words echoed in the air, “You won’t be able to escape!”

Seeing that, Jared promptly threw the bottle in his hands out and chanted the spell.

Boom! The bottle shattered with a deafening sound. The spider beast burst out and grew larger with every passing second.

Kazuo halted in his tracks at the sight of the spider beast. “Eat him!” Jared ordered.

The spider beast lunged at Kazuo without a second thought. Jared promptly spun on his heels and took off. He seized the opportunity to get away from Kazuo.

“Ha! This demon beast was brought up by us. I can’t believe you think it can stop us,” Kazuo scoffed. With that, he leaped into the air.

With a wave of his katana, he chopped the spider beast’s tail off. It was clear Kazuo knew the spider beast’s weakness:

Boom! The tail of the spider beast was severed, and its body burst upon impact. Kazuo had killed the huge spider beast with just one swing of his blade!

The sight shocked Jared senseless. After the explosion, an emerald green bead started glowing among the spider beast’s remains:

“It’s a beast core!” Jared spotted the spider beast’s beast core at once. At the same time, Kazuo spotted the beast core and strode forward, about to pick it up.

Jared had originally intended to flee, but he found himself unable to abandon the beast core and stayed put despite his better judgment.

The beast core belonged to a demon beast of the Greater Martial Arts Marquis level! Perhaps it can help me advance to another cultivation level.

With that thought in mind, Jared summoned his Dragonslayer Sword and swung it at Kazuo with all his might.

Kazuo had no idea Jared was bold enough to come back and attack him. Caught off guard, he retreated backward and failed to pick up the beast core. “How dare you return?” he growled as an ugly scowl crept up his face.

Kazuo watched as Jared ignored his threat and sprinted toward the beast core. The latter had put his own life on the line in order to retrieve the beast core.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1738

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1738—There was no way Kazuo would let Jared get the beast core. His katana glowed brilliantly as he flicked his right arm to attack Jared with his destructive power.

Jared was just about to grab the beast core when a barrage of powerful, murderous attacks came flying toward him. Not wanting to risk a fight, he quickly backed away.

Boom, boom! The attacks caused a barrage of explosions around Jared, sending rocks cascading down the mountains and creating fissures in the ground.

Jared’s heart filled with fear when he saw the destruction caused by Kazuo’s attack. Thankfully, he didn’t try to block it in order to get the beast core, or else he would have been dead by now.

“I must get the beast core today!” Jared stared at the beast core resolutely and swung his Dragonslayer Sword. A golden glow soared into the air and bolted toward Kazuo menacingly.

At the same time, Jared sprinted toward the beast core. “Ha! You’ve overestimated yourself,” Kazuo mocked in disdain.

He swiftly swished his katana. Jared’s attack was swiftly nullified. Following that, a swarm of crescent-shaped blades materialized before him.

They were sharp and zipped toward him menacingly. Seeing that, Jared dared not go any further and backed away almost immediately.

However, the blades were too swift for Jared to dodge. He had no choice but to clench his jaw and activate the power of Golem Body to the maximum in order to survive.

He didn't forget to avoid the blades deftly. Swoosh, swoosh, swoosh! The blades slashed across Jared's body, cutting his clothes into shreds.

Gold scales fell off his body and disappeared into thin air. Despite having Golem Body as a shield, he was still seriously hurt by the strikes. As a result, his Golem Body was severely damaged.

Jared gazed at the cuts on his body, his expression solemn. "He's too fast," he muttered. "His technique is really peculiar."

Kazuo's lips formed a cruel smirk as he looked over Jared's damaged clothing and injuries. "I have warned you, haven't I? You can't compete with my katana skill. I'm much better than Jun, who is a complete fool. If you sacrifice your soul willingly, I will save you from further suffering. Otherwise, you'll have to experience unbearable agony."

"F*ck you! If I were to sacrifice you, will you willingly agree?" Jared hissed. Deep within, he was devising a plan to get away with the precious beast core. Therefore, he was stubborn and refused to give up.

Kazuo's eyes twitched as his fury kicked in. "I gave you a chance, but you didn't appreciate it!" "Stop talking nonsense! You might be skilled in katana, but I'm a skilled swordsman, too!" Jared declared.

As he spoke, the initially damaged Golem Body recovered completely, its body glowing with restored power. His aura reached its maximum as well.

Jared knew he had to give it his all to defeat Kazuo. When the Power of Dragons imbued Dragonslayer Sword, it gave off a perpetual glow and let out an awe-inspiring roar that could be heard as far away as the sky. As Jared looked up, he saw a magnificent golden dragon circling above his head.

The golden dragon was strong and powerful. This time, Jared had put in all his effort, determined to get the legendary beast core. If he succeeded, it would surely be worth it!

Kazuo narrowed his eyes. “Do you really believe you can alter your fate by transforming into a golden dragon?”

With a powerful slash of his katana, he sent multiple strikes flying toward Jared. This time, Jared didn’t dodge his attacks. Instead, he held his sword and brandished it forcefully. “Nine Shadows Godly Strike!”

The golden dragon roared and surged forward. Jared quickly activated his Golem Body to its fullest capacity and went after it.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1739

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1739–The golden dragon advanced with immense speed toward the oncoming attack. It swooped in and obliterated the attacks, yet a few still managed to reach Jared. Despite the pain brought by the impact, he clenched his jaw and endured it.

The next second, Jared appeared before the beast core and picked it up. Before him, the golden dragon vanished suddenly into thin air. Kazuo’s expression changed. “How do you know the Watanabe family’s Nine Shadows Godly Strike?”

“Pfft! The Watanabe family’s Nine Shadows Godly Strike is not complete, but mine is the original!” Jared declared smugly.

He didn’t bother holding back now that he was in possession of the beast core. Jared moved quickly as his shadow clones multiplied rapidly.

Kazuo was unable to tell the difference between the shadow clones and Jared, as each of them wielded Dragonslayer Sword and emitted an identical aura.

“Nine Shadows Godly Strike, ten thousand heart-piercing arrows!” Jared roared angrily. His shadow clones simultaneously waved their swords.

Kazuo was met with a barrage of light from the swords of the shadow clones as they all came together to form a brilliant golden glow. The glow descended upon him and slashed at his chest with a powerful force.

Kazuo glanced at his wound as fury blazed across his eyes. “You’re the first person who has ever dared to hurt me!”

He leaped into the air and muttered something under his breath as he threw his katana upward. In an instant, Jared and his shadow clones were surrounded by a sea of tens of thousands of identical katanas that hovered in the air.

The katanas descended on Jared like a torrential downpour. Jared was rendered captive by the katanas that surrounded him.

The blinding lights emitted by each of them caused the shadow clones made by the Nine Shadows Godly Strike to fade away instantly.

The sight of the shadow clones disappearing caused Kazuo's lips to curl. He knew no one would be able to survive his attack. The lights congregated and shone intensely.

Boom! A dazzling light rose up as though thunder had erupted. Kazuo surveyed the messy scene before him, yet he couldn't see anyone.

"Ha! Insolent fool," Kazuo remarked, his face devoid of expression. He had mixed feelings about finally taking Jared down. He had thought it would be a swift victory, but it took more effort than he expected.

Kazuo was ready to leave as he was under the impression that Jared had been annihilated. Suddenly, he spotted a figure rushing ahead at full speed.

The individual whose clothes were in rags was none other than Jared. "How is this possible?" Kazuo gasped in shock and hurriedly gathered his energy to give chase.

Never in his wildest dreams did he expect Jared to escape! Kazuo was perplexed as to how Jared managed to escape the harrowing assault as it seemed impossible to do so.

In no time, he had closed the distance to Jared and swung his katana in his direction.

He wanted to chop Jared into half with this attack! Hearing the howling wind behind him, Jared didn't turn around and thrust Dragonslayer Sword backward.

Under Jared's control, the sword blocked Kazuo's attack. Clang! Sparks flew everywhere, and Dragonslayer Sword was sent flying. Jared leaped into the sky to catch it.

Katana felt the spot between his thumb and index finger going numb from the impact. He nearly lost his grip on his katana. Without looking, Jared caught Dragonslayer Sword and continued sprinting ahead.

Kazuo's eyes widened in disbelief as he stared at Jared's Dragonslayer Sword. A deep frown creased his face as he muttered in amazement, "A sword spirit? This is actually a weapon with a sword spirit."

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1740

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1740—Kazuo was blinded by greed. "Young man, you have a lot of treasures, huh?" He leaped into the sky, wielding his katana to paint a lotus in the air. The lotus increased in size and covered Jared completely.

Kazuo dared not go against Jared as he was afraid of destroying Jared's Dragonslayer Sword. A sword with spirit was truly priceless. Jared sensed something coming at him and stuck his hand back instinctively to retaliate. A light emerged from his sword..

However, the light merely penetrated the lotus and didn't cause any damage. Soon, Jared was engulfed completely by the lotus.

"Ha! Run if you can," Kazuo mocked when he realized Jared was unable to escape, Jared ignored his mocking comment and held his Dragonslayer Sword silently. A grey light emerged from the sword.

He swung his sword at the lotus with all his might. Despite successfully penetrating the lotus, it remained unscathed.

Jared furrowed his brows. He was perplexed by the mysterious lotus that held him captive and why his sword seemed to have no effect on it.

Kazuo guffawed out loud. "Ha! Stop wasting your efforts. The lotus is not real, so no matter how strong you are, you can't break free of it."

He strode to Jared and glared at him icily. "If you give me the beast core and the magic sword, I might consider sparing your life." Jared stared at Kazuo intently. "Are you serious?"

"Of course. I am a man of my word. If you give me those things as requested, I promise to spare your life," Kazuo promised.

"All right, then. Here you go," Jared responded. He then threw Dragonslayer Sword to Kazuo. Kazuo was overjoyed and eagerly seized the sword.

As soon as his fingers gripped the hilt of the sword, he felt a surge of bloodlust roar through his body. Visions of gruesome battles and unthinkable atrocities played out in his mind.

Shocked, Kazuo dropped Dragonslayer Sword instantly "What about the beast core? Give it to me now," he demanded. "Will you release me once I give you the beast core?" Jared asked.

Kazuo nodded. "Yes. I promise I'll let you go!"

After a brief hesitation, he reached into his pocket and dug out the beast core. Jared added, "You must keep your promise."

"Don't worry, I will. Hurry up and give me the beast core!" Kazuo urged impatiently. Jared held the beast core and stretched his hand out slowly.

Seeing that, Kazuo reached out eagerly to take it. Right when he was about to get the beast core, Jared suddenly retracted his hand and parted his lips to swallow the beast core.

Jared gave a cold, mocking laugh. "Do you really think I'm going to give it to you?"

Kazuo roared angrily, "How dare you take me for a fool?"

Kazuo was just about to launch an attack on Jared when Dragonslayer Sword, lying on the ground, suddenly flew up on its own and impaled him forcefully.

When Kazuo felt something cooling stab into his back, he quickly turned and blocked Dragonslayer Sword's attack. At the same time, Jared clenched his fist and delivered a punch in the lotus' direction.

“Sacred Light Fist!” This time, Jared didn’t bother using his spiritual energy and used his power to punch the lotus, Boom! The lotus shattered into pieces and vanished. under the Sacred Light Fist.