A Man Like None Other Chapter 1881-Hence, Jared aimed to calm Austin down by restating the purpose of his being in Norham. "What a pity. I was hoping you could stay a few more days in Norham. Nonetheless, please feel free to drop by Norham whenever you're free."

This place is far and isolated, but the sceneries here are not bad. However, we are lacking in terms of resources." Despite what he said, Austin was actually grinning from ear to ear.

Regardless of the reason behind Jared's arrival, his advent had indeed caused Austin considerable mental stress. "Mr. Zagorski, there is something I wish to know, but I'm not sure if it is an appropriate question to ask," Jared said.

"There's no need to behave so courteously around me, Mr. Chance. Please ask away. I'll tell you everything I know," Austin answered with utmost sincerity.

Jared asked curiously, "Mr. Zagorski, since the Zagorski family is established in Norham, a place with scarce resources, may I know how you cultivate? I heard you cultivate by absorbing this entire city's natural energy."

Austin burst out laughing after listening to Jared's inquiry. "Hahaha! Do you believe in that hearsay too, Mr. Chance? Who am I to have the capacity to absorb the city's natural energy? Those are just some fake rumors circulating in public.

All I'm doing is utilizing my status to soak up some citizens' faith energy. As Norham's mayor, it is still within my power to have every household install a statue of me in their residence. Moreover, my ancestors passed down a set of techniques that enabled me to cultivate using faith energy from the crowd.

That said, the little amount of energy is far from helpful. If one truly wishes to strengthen one's abilities, one will still need to rely on a large number of resources. If I'm really able to take in Norham's natural energy, I won't still be cooped up in this small border city," Austin explained to Jared. "Faith energy..."

Clarity washed over Jared. This technique that's passed down in the Zagorski family seems similar to the skill used by the blood demon on Encanta Island previously. That blood demon also relied on the mass to worship his statue to absorb their spiritual energy.

However, he didn't share Austin's belief about faith energy being inefficacious in boosting one's cultivation.

Austin found faith energy to be impotent because Norham was too small and had too few citizens. In addition, those citizens might not revere him to a great extent, so the effect of faith energy felt negligible to Austin, but what if the faith energy was amassed from people living in a large city with a dense population, a country, or even the whole world?

With such a large number of contributors, the intensity of the faith energy would undoubtedly be substantial..

Nevertheless, convincing many people to worship one person would be arduous. Still, Jared was beginning to harbor an interest in a technique like that.

While Jared was chatting with Austin, Jessica had returned to Demon Sect. "Mr. Sullivan, bad news." She sought Patrick out upon reaching Demon Sect. "What's wrong, Jessica?" Patrick furrowed his brows slightly.

"Mr. Chance was taken away by the Zagorski family's scion, Kayson. Hurry up and think of a way to rescue him!" she said. "He was taken away by someone from the Zagorski family? Why do they want to lay hold of him?" he asked in bafflement.

Jessica could only recount the conflict with Kayson to Patrick, but she didn't mention the matter regarding how Flaxseed had taken advantage of her. "This scion from the Zagorski family is such a fool. I can't believe he has the audacity to capture Jared," Patrick chirped.

Noticing his nonchalance and amusement, Jessica asked in puzzlement, "Mr. Sullivan, hurry up and send someone to rescue Mr. Chance. Aren't we planning to collaborate with him?"

"Don't worry, Jared will be fine. If he can't even handle a little clan like the Zagorski family, what's the point of us working together with him? I'm sure he'll be all right, but the same couldn't be said for the Zagorski family. You should go back to where you came from. Otherwise, Jared won't be able to open the door to the secret realm on his own," Patrick elaborated calmly.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1882-Jessica cast a confounded look at Patrick. She didn't know if he was being truthful. Noticing her doubtful manner, Patrick caressed Jessica's cheeks with his finger and said, "When have I ever lied to you? Don't worry and go look for Jared. He's definitely all right."

Jessica's face flushed crimson at Patrick's touch. She nodded and said, "Okay, I'm going to find him..."

She exited the secret realm and arrived at the Zagorski residence. As expected, she was greeted by the sight of Jared chatting with Austin over coffee. Meanwhile, Kayson was meekly standing.

beside the two, keeping his head low. Austin spotted Jessica and cast a meaningful glance at Jared. "Mr. Chance, is this the friend you've been talking about?"

Jared nodded. "Yes. She's Jessica Zimmerman."

"Hello, Mr. Zagorski," Jessica greeted him. "Haha! No wonder you've come all the way to this desolate place. It seems that even heroes can't resist the charms of a beautiful woman."

Austin assumed that Jared and Jessica were: an item. Jared did not correct the man and merely smiled in response. Meanwhile, Jessica said, "We should go..."

After Jared bade goodbye to Austin, he went back to the secret realm with Jessica.

Jared didn't even bother to go look for Flaxseed, as he knew that the latter would disappear for at least three days if he had gone fooling around with women.

After returning to the secret realm, Jared wanted to check out the chaos dimension again. However, as Flaxseed was not around, he decided against the idea. He was afraid that others might compromise his physical body after his spirit left his body without anyone guarding it.

However, whenever he closed his eyes, the image of the ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower would appear in his mind. It was something so rare that not even the prestigious families had ever seen the likes of it.

In the late evening, Jessica suddenly approached Jared. "Mr. Chance, Mr. Sullivan is looking for you." Jared was befuddled. Why is Patrick looking for me at this hour?

Jared met Patrick, who wasted no time beating around the bush. "Mr. Chance, the map shows there will be herbs appearing on a mountain west of Norham. We have no idea what kind of herb it will be as well.

However, we can be certain of one thing-the volume will be big. As a token of sincerity, we're going to hand over this batch of herbs to you. Demon Sect will not take a single ounce out of this discovery."

"Could you let me have a look at the map?" Jared asked. "Of course."

Patrick led Jared into the secret room. Jared saw a golden light flashing continuously at a location marked on the map, which was west of Norham, blipping brighter and faster with every passing second.

"Hmm? Why is the marking for the location different this time?" Patrick mumbled in confusion. "Why? What's different?" Jared asked.

"The marking was usually red, not gold. Besides, it never used to flash this rapidly and brightly. Why did the light become golden? It was still red when I discovered it just now..."

Patrick frowned in befuddlement as he took a closer look at the map. "Mr. Sullivan, can the map tell us when the herbs will appear?" Jared continued to ask. "About three days later, but we won't be able to tell the specific time," Patrick replied.

"Okay. I'm going to look for it three days later." For reasons unbeknownst to him, anticipation filled Jared's heart as he watched the blipping golden light on the map.

"Mr. Chance, I hope you can make your preparations earlier. If you head there three days later, I'm afraid nothing would be left..." Patrick reminded.

After all, the whole Norham was under the Zagorski family's control. Hence, the Zagorskis would be the first to know if any herbs were appearing.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1883-“Okay. I'll depart tomorrow.” He headed out of the secret room after that. “Mr. Chance, we've shown how sincere we are. So, what are we going to do about the blood demon's physical body?” Patrick asked.

“Don't worry. Since you're sincere, I'll gift you the blood demon's physical body. It's basically useless to me anyway.” Jared left upon finishing his sentence.

He couldn't sleep a wink throughout the night, thinking about the ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower. In the end, Jared could no longer contain his curiosity and slowly got out of bed. He headed to the borders of the secret realm while it was still dark out.

After examining his surroundings, Jared conjured a charm. After the previous experiment, he had gotten the hang of drawing charms. Hence, he succeeded in just one try. He pasted the charm on his body, and his soul immediately detached from his body.

Jared glanced at his physical body before passing the barrier and entering the chaos dimension. He could feel immeasurable killing energy attacking his soul. However, he persevered and powered through the barrier.

After a long time, he could see the light in front of him. Jared was once again in the resource area. He only had eyes for the ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower and ran straight for it.

The ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower glinted with a faint golden light. When Jared got closer to it, it swayed gently as if it could feel his presence.

He reached out to touch it. However, since he was in his soul form, he couldn't actually touch the tuber fleecflower. Despite so, the tuber fleecflower released a swarm of spiritual energy, invigorating Jared.

How nice would it be if I could take this ten-thousand-year-old tuber fleecflower away. Jared stared at the tuber fleecflower in a daze, disappointed that he couldn't take it with him.

At that moment, however, the ten-thousand- year-old tuber fleeceflower emitted a bright. golden light. Subsequently, the light gradually grew fainter by the minute.

Jared was dumbfounded as he watched the tuber fleeceflower slowly turn transparent and dematerialize right in front of him..

What's happening? He leaned forward to grab the tuber fleeceflower, trying to stop it from disappearing. However, he could not seem to hold onto it. The tuber fleeceflower soon vanished right before his eyes. It was as if it never existed in the first place.

Jared was startled and took a look at the other medicinal herbs growing in the vicinity of the tuber fleeceflower. However, everything was as normal as it could be. How can this be? –

He furrowed his brows in contemplation. I was still thinking of taking the tuber fleeceflower with me after passing through the barrier. And yet, it disappeared right before my eyes!

Jared couldn't figure out what had happened even after much ponderation. Seeing as his time was almost up, he had no choice but to exit the chaos dimension.

After returning to his bedroom, Jared stayed awake for the whole night, thinking about the tuber fleeceflower that had disappeared. In the morning, Jessica went to look for Jared, preparing to leave the secret realm with him and head to where the herbs would appear.

Jared figured it would be best to bring Flaxseed along on their trip. Even though Flaxseed was a lecherous man, he was pretty knowledgeable in various aspects. They finally found Flaxseed in a hotel after searching for a bit.

Jared knocked on his door, and Flaxseed answered the door in annoyance. The latter only had his underwear on, and there were two beautiful women dressed in sexy lingerie on his bed.

Jessica glared at Flaxseed upon seeing the unbecoming sight before turning to walk away with her face flushed. Meanwhile, Jared said, "Mr. Flaxseed, there will be a manifestation of herbs three days later. I hope that you'll come along with me to take a look at it."

Flaxseed looked at Jessica, who had walked away, and reprimanded Jared, “Why did you bring her? You’re ruining my impeccable image!”

“Your image was never impeccable to begin with. Hurry up.” Jared paid no heed to the man’s complaints and dragged him along. “Hey, you have to let me get dressed...”

Flaxseed hastily got dressed as Jared dragged him along. The three of them then headed to the west of Norham.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1884-Meanwhile, Austin was sitting in front of an old man in a secret room in the Zagorski residence. Austin treated the old man with respect, so it was safe to assume the old man was a man of importance.

“Master Williams, how is the deduction going?” Austin asked the old man cautiously. The old man furrowed his brows and uttered with a grim expression, “Keep your mouth shut when I’m deducing...”

With that, the old man rose to his feet and left the secret room. He then scattered the black stones in his hand around the courtyard. Under the sun, the black stones suddenly glowed a faint light.

“Axinomancy Technique is the way of nature. I’m Hank Williams, and I want to deduce the Heavenly Law...”

As soon as the old man finished that sentence, he started prostrating himself before the black stones. He did that to every stone, so he bowed dozens of times. Austin merely watched from the side, and he didn’t dare to utter a word..

Right then, Kayson suddenly rushed into the courtyard and said, “Dad, you said- The moment Kayson entered the courtyard, he saw the black stones scattered on the ground and was astonished. Why is that old man bowing nonstop?”

Austin jumped in alarm and waved dismissively when he saw Kayson storming into the courtyard. However, it was too late because Hank’s gaze had already turned icy when he lifted his head.

Kayson couldn't help but shudder when he saw the look in Hank's eyes. Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh! Suddenly, the stones on the ground shot toward Kayson as though they were weapons.

Kayson was a Martial Arts Marquis, so he wasn't going to stand still and let himself get killed. He then released a white cloud of mist and protected his body from the stones.

Thud! Thud! Thud! The stones hit Kayson's body, and he was sent flying backward with blood spurting out of his mouth. "Please have mercy, Master Williams!" Seeing that, Austin immediately leaped forward and shielded Kayson.

"The Art of Deduction is against the Heavenly Law because I'm peeking into the future. Why would you come rushing in at this time? Do you want me to die?" Hank thundered with a scowl on his face.

"Master Williams, please forgive my son's foolishness. Also, I didn't tell him beforehand. Please forgive us, Master Williams!" Austin apologized.

"Dad, who is this old man? How dare he hurt me in our territory?" Kayson clutched his chest and looked at Austin in bafflement. I don't get it! Dad is the mayor of Norham. Why is he such a coward? I know why he's scared of Jared, but why is he scared of an old man?

"B*stard! Shut up!" Austin glared at Kayson and ordered, "This is Master Williams. Apologize to Master Williams now!"

Austin asked Kayson to apologize, but the latter refused to do so. Seeing that, Hank waved dismissively and said, "Forget about it. This is fate. Perhaps I'm not destined to do this. Please look for somebody else."

With that, Hank waved his arm, and all the stones immediately returned to his hand. Seeing that Hank was actually leaving, Austin instantly went up to him and pleaded, "Master Williams, what happened was our fault. Please perform the deduction once again. I'm willing to double the price."

Despite the other man's pleas, Hank showed no intention of staying. "Mr. Zagorski, Axinomancy Technique isn't to be taken lightly, and I shouldn't be deducing as I wish. However, I can confirm that your opportunity will arise in three days' time, and it will appear a hundred miles west of the city.

I don't know what is it exactly, but I know this is something huge. If you can get it, your strength will grow exponentially. If you fail, you might die." With that, Hank ignored Austin and left.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1885

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1885-Kayson heard what Hank was rambling about, and he grumbled disdainfully, "Dad, when did you start respecting quacks so much? It's so obvious that the guy is a scammer."

"Scammer?" Austin was livid, and he delivered Kayson a tight slap across the face. Kayson zipped his mouth when he realized how angry his father was.

After regaining his composure, Austin said to Kayson, "Summon all the executives. This could be a huge opportunity for the Zagorski family..."

Kayson didn't know what was that about, but he obediently gathered all the executives of the Zagorski family.

Hank didn't leave Norham upon departing from the Zagorski residence. Instead, he went straight to the west side of Norham city. "Who would've known that I would come across a ten-thousand-year herb? This is a rare chance!"

Hank was over the moon, and he quickened his pace. In fact, Hank had figured out what was happening through his deduction. However, the appearance of the herb was so appealing that he decided to hide the truth from Austin.

At the same time, Hank was worried that other people would also find out about it. Hence, he told Austin about the general location of the herb, knowing that Austin would definitely send people over to watch the area. That way, with the intervention of the Zagorskis, others would have to proceed warily.

On the other hand, Hank could use Axinomancy Technique to find out the exact location of the herb and take it away. While Hank was on his way to the west, he kept throwing his black stones outward and following in the direction the stones led.

Soon, Hank arrived in front of a forest. When he threw his stone, he noticed that the stone didn't travel as far as he expected it to. Instead, it merely dropped onto the ground three meters ahead. Even a three-year-old child can throw a stone that far. I was throwing it with force, yet it didn't fly into the distance!

A smile appeared on Hank's face when he saw that. "This is the place..."

After that, Hank took out more black stones. While he was chanting something, he hurled the stones in his hand into the surrounding grove one by one.

Black stones soon scattered around the area. Just then, Jared and the others arrived at the same place. Jared was confused when he noticed someone else was around.

"Did someone find out about this place?" With a frown, Jared approached cautiously. There, Jared saw an old man chanting and throwing black stones around. He looks like a maniac! "Is that a dimwit?" Jessica couldn't help but ask when she saw what Hank was doing.

"I don't know, but it seems like he's setting up an arcane array..." Jared didn't think Hank was a dimwit. That old man seems to be setting up an arcane array, but I've never seen anyone do it like that before!

When Flaxseed saw Hank, however, the former was shocked.

"Hank?" Hearing that, Jared turned toward Flaxseed and asked, "Mr. Flaxseed, do you know that man?"

Flaxseed nodded. "That fellow is known as Hank Williams. He's a member of Destiny Sect. The members of Destiny Sect are always rambling about how they can comprehend Heavenly Law and deduce the future.

The truth is that they're all a bunch of fortune-telling b*stards. They learned some sort of weird techniques, and they're out there scamming the public. A lot of prestigious families believe these guys...

Jared stared intently at Flaxseed and asked, "What's with your tone? Mr. Flaxseed, do you hold a grudge against Hank?" Jared noticed the annoyance in Flaxseed's tone when Flaxseed talked about Hank. Therefore, Jared thought those two had a conflict in the past.

"Hmph! I lost the woman I loved the most because of this foolish b*stard. Back then, I was almost getting married to my then-girlfriend. Right before the wedding, however, my then-girlfriend went to see this guy to have her fortune told.

In the end, she left me for him..." Flaxseed's eyes were filled with rage when he glared at Hank. Jared nearly laughed out loud when he heard those words. I can't believe something like that happened to Flaxseed decades ago!

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1886

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1886-Jessica was filled with shock. "You had a girlfriend? And you were getting married? Coming across you is probably the worst thing that can happen to any woman!"

"I wasn't like this back then. In fact, I was very loyal to my then-girlfriend. I only became who I am today after she left me. She made me realize I can't trust women. Instead, I should just treat them as toys," Flaxseed explained. Jessica wasn't happy when she heard Flaxseed refer to women as toys.

"Mr. Flaxseed, although you're speaking ill of that fellow, he managed to find his way here, didn't he? It seems like this Art of Deduction of his is rather useful," Jared uttered. After all, I had to use the map from Demon Sect to find this place. Yet, Hank found it by solely relying on his deduction.

"Pfft! What's so useful about it? This has to be a manifestation of a ten-thousand-year herb. A manifestation of such a herb will surely trigger all sorts of strange happenings. As long as I'm nearby, I can also tell what's going on.

There's nothing impressive about it. Heck, even if I'm a hundred miles away, I can still locate ancient ruins underground. It's the same thing! If he really could comprehend Heavenly Law and deduce the future, he would've become an immortal being." Flaxseed's face was filled with disdain.

Jared realized Flaxseed had a point. Sometimes, I can't help but admire Mr. Flaxseed's capability.

"Mr. Flaxseed, what's the deduction of the future about? Also, how could you tell the location of ancient ruins? How do you feel the manifestation of such magical herbs?" Jared was intrigued.

"What's the matter? Are you interested in learning it?" Flaxseed asked with a smug expression on his face.

“Yes. We can always learn the good qualities of others, can’t we? If you teach me the Art of Deduction, I’ll teach you about spells...” Jared was afraid that Flaxseed wouldn’t teach him, so he offered the knowledge of spells.

“Let me ask you something. If someone nearby is getting ready to kill you, will you be able to sense it?” Flaxseed asked Jared. “Of course. I can immediately sense danger.” Jared nodded. “How do you do that, then?” Flaxseed continued, querying.

This time around, Jared had trouble coming up with the answer. With a frown, he replied, “I’m not sure. It’s just that over time, my body will instinctively react to dangerous auras. I don’t know how to explain it!”

“Well, let me explain it to you. When someone wants to kill you, a murderous aura will appear in that person’s body. When that aura creeps into the air, you’ll know danger is around the corner. Hence, your body will respond to it. If an ordinary person without a hint of hostility were to walk past you, you wouldn’t feel the presence of danger.

This sort of murderous aura isn’t concealable. If you intend to kill someone, your body will exude murderous intent, right? No matter how hard you try to hide it, a good fighter can still detect your murderous intent. In terms of Heavenly Law, it works similarly to how a person is exuding their aura.

Heavenly Law is the law of nature. If you see Heavenly Law as a person, you can sense the aura it exudes! You can tell if it’s happy, sad, or about to kill. That’s how Heavenly Law works. You need to understand the existence of Heavenly Law.

Once you’ve done that, you’ll be able to sense all the tiny changes all around the world. In fact, you’ll even be able to tell when an ant has died. In other words, you’ll be the ruler of the world!

So, when a ten-thousand-year herb manifests, you don’t need to fully comprehend Heavenly Law to notice it. All you need to do is sense the changes in the environment,” Flaxseed explained in detail, but he didn’t know if Jared could fully understand what he just said. In truth, Flaxseed himself also hadn’t fully understood the principles of Heavenly Law.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1887

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1887-Upon hearing that lengthy explanation, Jared slightly shut his eyes and sensed his surroundings intently. I can feel Flaxseed, Jessica, and Hank! I can feel their auras, but that seems to be all that I can feel.

With that in mind, Jared tried his best to eliminate those auras and placed his hand on the ground. Right then, he could feel the aura of nature. Now, I can feel the plants!

Slowly, Jared entered a magical world where all the plants in the world were capable of communicating. In fact, he could even clearly feel the ants walking the earth.

At the same time, those living things could also sense Jared's presence. They were all exuding different auras. It seems like all of them have their own things to say to me! The moment I placed my hand on the ground, their presence became illusionary and realistic at the same time!

Moreover, Jared could feel a wave of violent and horrifying aura somewhere nearby. The source of that aura is desperately trying to break through the soil! That is most probably where the ten-thousand-year herb is.

At present, however, the range Jared could sense was limited. Anywhere beyond a hundred meters became blurry and undetectable. "So this is the so-called Heavenly Law?" Jared murmured.

"What Heavenly Law? Please don't tell me you've mastered Heavenly Law." Flaxseed stared at Jared in disbelief. Even I don't understand Heavenly Law entirely, and I was merely explaining what I know about it. Don't tell me Jared already has Heavenly Law figured out! That's ridiculous!

"No. I'm just curious!" Jared flashed a faint smile. As of now, I'm unsure, too. I don't even know what I felt was actually Heavenly Law or not.

Just then, Hank was already done setting up his arcane array. The ground was filled with black stones, and they were all well hidden within the bushes. One would have to look closely to spot the stones.

"With this arcane array, no one will be able to grab the herb when it manifests. Therefore, it's going to be mine!" Hank smiled and scanned his surroundings before fleeing the scene.

Right before Hank left, Flaxseed wanted to go after Hank. After all, there was bad blood between those two.

Jared stopped Flaxseed just in time and advised, "Mr. Flaxseed, we haven't gotten our hands on the herb yet. If you act now, everyone's going to know about it. You can take your revenge after we get the herb because that fellow is surely going to be around when the herb manifests." Hearing that, Flaxseed glared at Hank's retreating figure, his gaze filled with murderous intent.

Obviously, having his fiancée stolen from him. was an unforgivable offense. Although all Hank did was take Flaxseed's girlfriend away from him, it was still considered a severe humiliation of a lifetime.

Jared couldn't help but think of his own past when he saw the state Flaxseed was in. If I didn't learn spiritual energy cultivation from Draco, I would still be living my life burdened by endless humiliation!

After Hank left, Jared and the others wanted to come out of hiding. All of a sudden, the ground shook a little, and they heard footsteps.

Judging by the sounds they heard, it sounded. like a lot of people were running toward them. Jared and the others quickly went back into hiding. Right then, hundreds of people came. swarming over.

Austin was the leader, and those hundreds of people were all his subordinates. "Seal the area! Don't let anyone come near this place!" Austin ordered loudly.

"Understood!" Soon, those hundreds of people surrounded the area up to several miles in radius, and everyone was standing at a distance from each other.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1888

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1888-"Dad, why are you making such a commotion? Is something going to happen here?" Kayson asked. "A ten-thousand-year herb will be appearing. here soon!" Austin exclaimed. "A ten-thousand-year herb?" Kayson froze. "Here?"

"If Master Williams' deduction is right, then this is the spot. I'm going to seal off this place so that no one will be able to get to it before I do," Austin continued.

“T-This will be the Zagorski family’s golden opportunity! A ten-thousand-year herb? Our family is beyond lucky!” Kayson was thrilled, too.

Not far from them was Jared, who was looking at the Zagorski father-and-son duo. It was then he realized why Austin had been asking him. why he was at Norham.

As it turned out, Austin knew that the ten- thousand-year herb was going to appear soon, so Austin was afraid that he was there to steal the herb from him.

“Keep a close eye on this place. The day after tomorrow will be when the ten-thousand-year herb will appear. As long as we get it, we’ll all ascend to great heights,” Austin told the executives.

“Don’t worry, Mr. Zagorski. Not even a bird will be able to get in here,” one of the executives swore.

Austin nodded. He then called Kayson over, preparing to leave. After all, the herb would only appear the day after the next, so there was no need for them to stick around.

However, right as Austin was about to leave with Kayson, he suddenly stood still before flicking his eyes to look in the direction where Jared and Flaxseed were hiding.

“They’ve noticed us,” said Flaxseed when he noticed Austin’s gaze. However, Jared gestured for him to keep quiet. “Come out now. It’s embarrassing for you to hide in the shadows,” Austin said, facing the direction where Jared and company was at.

Flaxseed glanced at Jared, and when he noticed that Jared remained still, he did the same. Meanwhile, when Austin realized no one was coming out, he furrowed his brows and uttered, “If you’re not going to come out, I’ll be showing you no mercy.”

Right as he said that, the Zagorski family’s executives took out their respective weapons. A ball of light began glowing on Austin’s right hand when he still received no response. Then, he flung his arm and hurled the energy toward Jared and Flaxseed.

Boom! A loud explosion sounded, and dirt flew everywhere. Two figures leaped into the air from a spot not far from Jared and Flaxseed. Flaxseed was stunned by the abrupt appearance of the two figures. He did not know that there were other people hiding around them.

Once those two figures stilled themselves, Jared took in their faces and inhaled sharply. As it turned out, the two figures were Marcelo of the Southwest Region's Garcia family. Jared had only seen Marcelo once when Deragon Sect was established, and never after. This time, Marcelo even had a man who was in his fifties with him.

Upon seeing the two figures, Austin narrowed his eyes and said, "Why is the prestigious son of the Garcia family doing such a shady thing?"

"Mr. Zagorski, what shady things have I done?"

Am I not allowed to experience basic human needs and relieve myself in the woods? Even though you're Norham's mayor, you can't stop me from taking a dump, right?" Marcelo retorted in a teasing tone.

Jared could not stifle a laugh when he heard that. For a moment, Austin did not know how to respond to Marcelo's words.

"Cut it out, Marcelo. Your home is hundreds of miles away from this place. How could you have come all the way here to take a dump? I'd say you're here for the ten-thousand-year herb!" Austin snarled.

They were both young people as well as sons of prestigious families. Even though Kayson was not as powerful as Marcelo, they were at Norham, which was the Zagorski family's territory. Hence, Kayson did not fear Marcelo.

Nevertheless, Austin nearly died from a heart attack when he heard his son telling Marcelo about the ten-thousand-year herb. Is he a f*cking idiot?

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 1889

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1889-"A ten-thousand-year herb? What ten-thousand-year herb? Could it be that a ten-thousand-year herb will be appearing here soon?" Marcelo uttered with a confused look. "I'm here to sightsee, but my stomach was aching just now," so I went to take a dump.

Who knew that Mr. Zagorski would have blasted me away from my spot not long after I crouched down? I never expected Mr. Zagorski to be this short-tempered. I can't believe I was targeted just because I'm taking a dump in your territory."

"Mr. Garcia, let's get straight to the point. Why are you here? Be honest," Austin icily uttered. "I'm just here on vacation. Is that not allowed? If not, we'll leave now."

With that, Marcelo said to the man beside him, "Let's go." The two turned around to leave. Austin was glowering at them, but he did not make a move.

On the other hand, Kayson took a step forward, about to stop Marcelo from leaving. Alas, his father stopped him.

"Dad, why are you stopping me? We can't let them leave! They're clearly here for the ten- thousand-year herb!" Kayson anxiously cried out.

Smack! Austin gave Kayson a slap. "When the f*ck will you grow up? You're such an idiot! Even though there hasn't been much news about the Garcia family of the Southwest Region, they've been steadily growing in power. Do you think we can afford to offend them? Even if we stop Marcelo, will no one else learn about this?"

As Kayson held onto his reddened cheek, he asked miserably, "Then what do we do?"

"What can we do? We can only take one step at a time. Regardless of everything, we're at Norham-the Zagorski family's territory. We won't let anyone take that ten-thousand-year herb from us!" Austin gritted out as a cold look flashed across his eyes.

Once the Zagorski father-and-son duo was gone, Jared and Flaxseed left as well. There was no need for them to stay there after pinpointing the location of the herb. Furthermore, there were many people guarding the place. It would be impossible for Jared and Flaxseed to get any closer.

Once they returned to Norham, they went to stay at a hotel. "It seems like the manifestation of this ten- thousand-year herb isn't exactly a secret," Jared remarked with a frown..

The more people knew about the matter, the harder it would be for Jared to get his hands on the ten-thousand-year herb. After all, everyone would risk their lives to get a resource as tempting as that herb. “There certainly will be strange phenomenal when the herb manifests. It’s impossible to keep this a secret. I just wonder how many sects and prestigious families know about this,” Flaxseed solemnly responded. The manifestation of a top-grade resource like this would definitely bring about a bloodbath. War would be inevitable.

“Come on, let’s walk around the streets. If this ten-thousand-year herb is attracting all sorts of sects and prestigious families to it, I’m sure we’ll notice the difference out there,” Jared told Flaxseed, planning to head outside to see if they could discover anything new..

However, Jessica came forward. She said, “Mr. Chance, our vice president is looking for us, so I’ll need to head back.” “Of course. Stay safe on your way back, Ms. Zimmerman,” Jared nodded.

After a few days of interacting with Jessica, Jared found himself having a good impression of her. In fact, of all the members in Demon Sect, he had the most trust in her.

Although Patrick was polite to him as well, there was something strange about Patrick that Jared could not put a finger on. Furthermore, he had never seen the lord of the Demon Sect after exchanging a few words with him the other time.

Staring at Jessica’s retreating figure, Flaxseed sighed and said, “This girl is too naive. She’ll end up getting tricked into sleeping with Patrick one day. What a good woman she is. What a pity.”

Flaxseed nearly drooled. Jared chuckled and said, “You don’t need to worry about that. She already slept with him.” Flaxseed stiffened before turning to look at Jared in disbelief. “What? She slept with him already? Are you serious?”

A Man Like None Other Chapter 1890-“Why would I lie to you?” Jared asked. “Oh, what a pity, what a pity.” Flaxseed kept smacking his thigh and lamenting. Alas, there was nothing he could do. Their consummation was consensual, after all.

“Why are you saying that? It’s not like you need more women.” Jared then dragged Flaxseed out of the hotel.

While the two were strolling the streets, Jared unleashed his spiritual sense and realized that there were plenty of combat masters around.

However, they were not hostile toward Jared; they were all doing their own things. With a knit in his brows, Jared continued. ambling down the street.

Meanwhile, in the Zagorski residence’s hall, Austin was grimly sitting on the main seat as numerous executives of the Zagorski family sat further down the table.

“Mr. Zagorski, there are many unfamiliar faces who have appeared in Norham today. Moreover, they are all combat masters. Even the weakest of them all are Martial Arts Marquis. There are also many Greater Martial Arts Marquis within the crowd,” one of the executives reported to Austin. “Do you know where they came from?” Austin asked.

“No, but some of them are from various sects and prestigious families around Norham. I’m not sure about the others,” the executive replied.

“A top-grade resource material like the ten- thousand-year herb can never be a secret, huh?” Austin sighed. It felt as if he had aged ten years in a second.

“Dad, Norham is our family’s territory. We have seven Greater Martial Arts Marquis working for our family, and we even have dozens of Martial Arts Marquis. Why should we be scared of them? So what if the ones who are here are from the big families in Jadeborough? The strongest party has the final say here,” Kayson confidently uttered.

“Mr. Zagorski, you don’t need to worry too much about this. With our capability, those visitors will not necessarily be able to defeat us,” one of the executives reassured Austin.

“I wouldn’t be worried if the Garcia family of the Southwest Region was the only one who came, but who knows how many sects and prestigious families have sent their Martial Arts Marquis here?”

If they were to form an alliance to go up against our family, what do you think. our chances of winning are? Even if we do emerge as victor and get that ten-thousand- year herb, we’d still have suffered a great loss.

How are we going to guard the herb by then? The ten-thousand-year herb won’t be anything. beneficial to us when that happens. Instead, it’ll be our family’s ticking time bomb. Everyone will be eyeing us, and they’ll be ready to destroy us for the herb.”

Since news about the ten-thousand-year herb had spread like wildfire, Austin was well-aware that disaster would befall the Zagorski family even if they did get their hands on the herb.

“What do we do then? We can’t just watch as other sects and prestigious families take the herb, right?” Kayson pointed out in confusion.

“Of course not. If our family can’t get it, we might as well do someone an easy favor instead...” Austin narrowed his eyes before saying to Austin, “Find a way to invite Jared here. Remember to be nice and polite. If you enrage Jared again, I’ll break your legs.”

“Dad, what are you talking about? Are you going to give Jared the ten-thousand-year herb?” Kayson gasped. “What’s wrong with giving it to him if we can’t get it?”

Moreover, we’re not going to get our hands on the ten-thousand-year herb, so we’re not actually giving it to him. If Jared has the capability of getting it, however, we’ll be doing him a favor in helping him. We’ll get into his good books. Doesn’t that sound like a good idea?” Austin explained. “But, Dad...”

Kayson was about to say something else, but he clamped his mouth shut when he saw Austin’s glare. “Shut up. When will you grow a brain in that head of yours? You’re such a short- sighted fool...”

Having been chided, Kayson no longer dared to utter anything else in protest. Thus, he turned and left to seek Jared.

On the other hand, Austin said to the executives, "Instruct all your men to look into the background and details of all the newcomers in Norham. I want to know how many are here for the ten-thousand-year herb."

"Yes, sir!"
