

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2171

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2171-Finding Out His True Identity

Meanwhile, at Stormwind Sect, Emiliano's mother was sobbing while looking after him.

"Are you feeling any better, Emiliano?" she asked softly with a pained look on her face.

"I'm feeling much better, but I can't accept this outcome. I can't believe a nobody injured me in front of so many people!" Emiliano replied with anger written all over his face.

"Don't worry, Emiliano. Once you're all better, I'll make sure that guy pays the price!"

Emiliano's mother then turned toward Tucker, who was standing behind her, as she continued, "I told you to go with Emiliano, didn't I? How could you let him get hurt so badly? Do you not feel bad at all?"

Tucker lowered his head and said apologetically, "I'm terribly sorry, Mrs. Fairchild. It's all my fault..."

"Don't blame Mr. Westwood, Mom. This has nothing to do with him. I want to have my genes modified as soon as possible so I can personally kill Jared!" Emiliano said.

"Sure thing. Once you have recovered from your injury, I'll have Tucker modify your genes. Seeing as your father didn't even show up after you got hurt so badly, I'd say we can forget about counting on him. He only cares about that worthless brother of yours!" Emiliano's mother replied angrily.

Emiliano couldn't help but feel confused as to why his father treated Garthor better than him.

Not only did Hugh modify Garthor's genes, but he also brought Garthor with him while attending all sorts of important meetings.

Emiliano, on the other hand, could only continue his cultivation all by himself. As if that wasn't bad enough, Hugh didn't even pay him a visit after he got injured.

Emiliano clenched his teeth and muttered with a determined look in his eyes, "Don't worry, Mom. Once I have my genes modified, I'll show Father who the real talented genius is! I'll crush that worthless brother of mine beneath my heel!"

"All right; I have faith in you. For now, just focus on your recovery. Mr. Westwood and I need to discuss some matters next door," Emiliano's mother said as she and Tucker made their way into the next room.

After entering the room, Tucker hugged her from behind and pinned her down on the bed.

It wasn't long before Emiliano heard moans and panting noises coming from the next room.

With a slight frown on his face, Emiliano got off the bed and crept toward the door next to his.

The door had been left ajar, so he was able to peek through the crack.

Emiliano's eyes went wide the moment he realized what was going on in there, and he was completely frozen in shock.

He had never imagined that his mother would do such a thing.

Emiliano was still recovering from the shock when the action in that room came to a halt.

"You're so useless..." Emiliano's mother complained in dissatisfaction.

Tucker let out a sigh. "I'm old now. It can't be helped."

"Once my son has recovered from his injuries, you must modify his genes and transfer your power over to him! He's your son, so you two have compatible genes anyway. We'll never achieve success unless we pick up the pace, and things are going to get really problematic if Hugh finds out about our relationship," Emiliano's mother said softly.

Tucker hugged Emiliano's mother as he reassured her, "Don't worry! Once I modify Emiliano's genes, he will be at least a Level Five Martial Arts God!"

That sudden discovery hit Emiliano like a truck and left him stunned yet again.

So, I was never the son of Hugh Fairchild, nor was I an heir to Stormwind Sect...

With that in mind, Emiliano made his way back to his bed and slowly lay down with a dazed look in his eyes.

It was hard for him to accept this sudden change of identity. All

Emiliano could do was try his best not to think about it and forget what he had just heard.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2172

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2172-Look Down On You

At the Alchemical Sect, the fragrance was wafting out of Jared's Divine Cauldron. An explosion soon followed, revealing a completed Spirit Protection Pill.

Matthew glanced at the time and exclaimed in shock, "Jared managed to cultivate the Spirit Protection Pill within twenty-seven minutes!"

Meanwhile, Isaac had just finished adjusting the temperature of the cauldron. The herbs inside the cauldron still looked the same as before.

"Haha! Isaac, your skills are lacking. Jared has already finished making the pill, but you aren't even halfway through!" Matthew mocked Isaac.

With his eyes filled with disbelief, Isaac rose and walked forward. "That's impossible. How can he create the Spirit Protection Pill within half an hour? Could it be a fake? Did you prepare the pill beforehand?"

Just when Isaac wanted to look at the Spirit Protection Pill in Jared's hand, Jared tossed it to him without any hesitation.

"I used your herbs to make this pill, so I'm giving it to you," said Jared generously.

Since it was only a Level Three pill, it was not precious at all. Jared could make it anytime as long as he had the right herbs.

Isaac inspected the Spirit Protection Pill over and over again before tossing it into his mouth.

Till then, his face was still filled with disbelief.

“How is it? Is it fake? Your alchemy skills are inferior to Jared’s...” said Matthew.

Isaac did not say anything. The shock that engulfed him prevented him from reacting in time.

He stared at Jared with a dead stare, his eyes glancing toward the Divine Cauldron occasionally.

“It looks like the Divine Cauldron is very impressive. Otherwise, you wouldn’t have created the Spirit Protection Pill within half an hour.”

Isaac did not believe that Jared’s alchemy skills were superior. It was probably all thanks to the Divine Cauldron.

Hence, his liking toward the Divine Cauldron grew.

“You lost, Isaac. Stop looking for excuses. Don’t forget what you promised Jared. You need to lend him the Spring of Regeneration!” Matthew reminded Isaac.

“Hmph! He’s just opportunistic! You didn’t dare to admit that the Divine Cauldron was real earlier. Is it because you’re afraid that you can’t create the pill without the Divine Cauldron?” sneered Isaac with a cold snort.

Looking at his reaction, Jared smiled faintly. “Okay, then. This round doesn’t count. While you continue creating the pill, I’ll create something else from scratch. If I’m still slower than you, I’ll leave instantly.”

A look of fury crossed Isaac’s face when he heard what Jared said. “What do you mean? Do you doubt my alchemy skills?”

Jared shook his head. “I’m not doubting you. I’m merely looking down on you.”

“You...” Isaac’s face flushed in anger. “You brat! I’ll make you regret this.”

With that, he twitched his fingers, causing the fire beneath the cauldron to blaze even more ferociously.

“What are you doing, Jared? You obviously won!” asked Matthew, unable to understand it.

“I’ll win him over completely.”

With that, Jared grabbed a bronze pot and threw it onto the ground. Then, he disappeared in a flash.

Within moments, he found the herbs again and threw them into the bronze pot to create the pill.

Upon seeing how Jared was using an old bronze pot instead of a cauldron, Matthew was astonished.

Meanwhile, Isaac burst out laughing when he saw that. “Your arrogance knows no limit, brat. Are you planning to compete in alchemy with me using this lousy pot?”

Jared merely ignored Isaac. Flipping his hand, he conjured some spiritual fire and directed it to the herbs. Soon, they started burning.

Even though he was using a bronze pot, a similar medicinal fragrance wafted out of it after around ten minutes. Matthew felt a sense of comfort when he breathed in the hearty aroma.

Isaac started sweating when he saw that. This time, he truly panicked.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2173

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2173-Borrow The Divine Cauldron

Soon, Jared finished creating the Spirit Protection Pill. On the other hand, Isaac was only barely halfway through making it.

Furthermore, Jared used a bronze pot instead of a cauldron, leaving Isaac with no more excuses.

When Matthew saw Jared successfully creating the Spirit Protection Pill again, he could not conceal his excitement.

He was well aware that Jared's background was definitely not simple. Not only did the Generation Stone fail to reveal his life, but it also exploded. Evidently, Jared was no ordinary man.

Matthew knew that he must grab this opportunity and forge a good relationship with Jared.

Although his abilities were not extremely powerful, he would definitely be strong enough to raise hell in the near future.

"Isaac, is there anything else that you can say? Do you admit defeat?" Matthew demanded Isaac.

The look on Isaac's face was indescribably unpleasant. Since he humiliated himself in front of so many disciples from Alchemical Sect, all he could feel was his cheeks flushing.

However, since he had already made a promise, he could not go back on his word. He nodded and said, "Don't worry. A loss is a loss. He can use the Spring of Regeneration! However, I have a condition..."

"Aren't you being too shameless, Isaac? You didn't mention anything about having a condition during the bet!" protested Matthew as he wagged a finger at Isaac.

"He can refuse to agree to the condition. It has nothing to do with the Spring of Regeneration. I just want to borrow his Divine Cauldron. I won't use it for free, though. He can use the herbs in the Alchemical Sect and the Spring of Regeneration however he wants!" offered Isaac.

Matthew peeked at Jared. Although he did not know Divine Cauldron well, he knew that it was definitely not just an ordinary item.

Nodding, Jared said, "Sure. I can lend Divine Cauldron to you. However, you can't use it for long. I'll take Divine Cauldron away after my two friends have recovered."

"Okay!" Isaac nodded.

With that, the two of them reached an amicable agreement. After leaving Divine Cauldron behind, Jared left with Matthew.

Jared needed to bring Flaxseed and Godrick there as quickly as possible.

Soon after Jared and Matthew left, Isaac walked forward with gleaming eyes and stroked the Divine Cauldron lovingly. He could barely part with it, as if he was stroking his own children.

“The sect leader of the Alchemical Sect lost to a young brat! If news about this spreads, you’ll be humiliated to no end.” At that moment, a mocking laugh sounded.

Isaac did not seem surprised to hear that. Without even turning around, he replied, “Yona, you came here for nothing. Matthew isn’t giving any resources, nor did he ask for an amp pill.”

“I know. He will never ask for an amp pill or give the Alchemical Sect any resources in the future,” said Yona Green.

“Why?” When Isaac heard that, he twisted his head around and looked at Yona.

Yona was wearing a black robe that covered the entire body, which was enveloped in a faint black mist. It was obvious that he was a Demonic Cultivator.

However, Isaac was not afraid at all.

“The soul remnant that I’ve left in Matthew’s body has been discovered. Since he no longer needs the amp pill, he won’t give you any more resources,” explained Yona.

“What? It hasn’t been discovered for so many years! How did it suddenly get found out?” Isaac was astonished.

“The guy that created the pill with you just now discovered it. It looks like his medical and alchemy skills are on par with you. We must find an opportunity and keep that guy. I realized that his body was extraordinary. If I can absorb his powers, it’ll be a huge help to me,” said Yona, whose eyes twinkled in greed.

“He’ll bring his friends to the Spring of Regeneration a few days later, so he probably won’t leave in a short period of time. Find an opportunity yourself! If he’s dead, this Divine Cauldron will be mine too.”

Isaac wanted Jared dead too.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2174

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2174-Adding Insult To Injury

“Hahaha! I think you want to kill him a long time ago, right? This cauldron is enough to spark the killing intent in you.”

Yona laughed out loud.

“Shut up! If it wasn’t for me, Scorching Heaven Sect would have been annihilated. Since Matthew won’t be sending any more resources, then there will be no need for you to come to Alchemical Sect to look for me in case others find out! When you make a move on that fellow, make sure you do so discreetly. If others find out that Scorching Heaven Sect is still in existence, they will never let you off,” said Isaac coldly.

“Isaac, there’s no difference between these righteous sects and mine. What you are doing is adding insult to injury. However, let me tell you something. If I ask to work with any of the sects right now, they won’t turn me down. Where benefits are concerned, no one will stand by their principles, and that includes all your so-called righteous sects.”

With that, Yona spat on the ground before disappearing into a mist of dark clouds!

Once Yona left, Isaac ordered his men to carry the Divine Cauldron into the palace!

Afterward, he began to find out more about the Divine Cauldron.

The moment Jared and Matthew returned to Luminous Sect, Jared planned to bid farewell to Matthew.

He wanted to rush back to Jadeborough and bring Flaxseed and Godrick back there.

“Jared, you have offended Stormwind Sect. I’m worried that they may attack you while you are on your way there. I’ll send Archer and Skyler with you! If you really bump into anyone from Stormwind Sect, the two of them will be able to fight them off for a while. Besides, the people from Stormwind Sect won't dare to kill them. Although we have lots of fights among the sects, no one dared to kill anyone from the other sects so easily," said Matthew.

Initially, Jared wanted to turn his offer down. However, when Skyler heard that she would be able to go out and take a look at the outside world, she was thrilled!

"Mr. Chance, my master is being very kind. Not many of us get to go out of here!" said Skyler excitedly.

Jared found it hard to say no when he saw how excited Skyler was.

Archer was equally excited even though he did not show it on the outside!

Given his aloof character, Archer would not have shown much excitement.

Very soon, Jared, Skyler, and Archer set off on their journey back to Jadeborough.

After walking out of the mountain ranges, they took a car to the nearest city, Quadfield. They were going to take a flight back to Jadeborough!

Skyler was extremely excited during the entire trip. She kept asking Jared about everything like a child.

Archer was equally curious, but he was trying his best to control himself.

Once they got to Quadfield, Jared told Skyler and Archer to wait for him while he went to get the flight tickets.

"Jared, why do we have to go through such trouble? Why can't we just fly there on our own?" Archer could not help but ask.

"There are common people everywhere. If we do that, it will cause panic among the people."

With that, Jared left to purchase the tickets.

When Jared returned, he found Skyler and Archer looking at the man who was selling candied hawthorns.

It was obvious they were very curious and wanted to have a taste of the candied hawthorns!

Jared bought the candies for them. He laughed bitterly when he saw how much the two of them enjoyed the sweets.

“Don’t any of you from Luminous Sect come out to the common world?” questioned Jared in confusion.

Even the secluded sects would need to mingle with the outside world once in a while. As long as they did not reveal their powers and cause trouble, it should be fine.

“That isn’t true. Lots of our seniors have come to the big city except for the two of us. Master never allowed us to come out!” said Skyler.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2175

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2175-Jared understood Matthew’s intention. Perhaps, he was worried that Skyler’s and Archer’s cultivation might be affected by the outside world.

Since there was still a bit of time left before the flight departed, Jared took the two of them on a tour around Quadfield.

Unfortunately, Quadfield was a small city and nothing compared to Jadeborough.

However, as far as Skyler and Archer were concerned, everything appeared very interesting to them.

Jared felt sorry for them when he saw the way they looked at everything around them.

Just as they were walking around, Jared sensed an aura, and he stopped in his tracks.

“Mr. Chance, what’s wrong?” asked Skyler curiously when she saw his expression.

“People from the Evil Heart Sect...” mumbled Jared before he leaped into the air and disappeared.

Both Archer and Skyler followed suit when they saw that.

Very soon, the three of them came to a mass grave in the suburb. The graves were all erected out of rocks.

Three figures could be seen fighting amidst the tombstones!

Two of them were dressed in black robes, and there was a golden logo on each of their chests. The two of them were Black Gold Robes from Evil Heart Sect!

As for the opponent of the Black Gold Robes, he was covered with rocks and more than two meters in height. He looked like a giant!

“Mr. Chance, what’s going on?” whispered Skyler.

Jared shook his head. He had no idea why they bumped into the Black Gold Robes of Evil Heart Sect there. Jared certainly did not know who that tall man was.

The two Black Gold Robes were Martial Arts Saints. Together, they managed to deal with the giant and caused him to retreat.

Boom!

Suddenly, there was a loud explosion. One of the Black Gold Robes punched the giant, and the giant went flying. Even the rocks on his body were smashed to bits.

Once the rocks were gone, the body of the fighter was revealed. It was a woman!

She was bleeding at the corner of her mouth, and there was a hint of fear in her eyes.

“Don’t fight against us anymore. Come with us, and you won’t have to suffer!” said one of the Black Gold Robes to the woman.

“I don’t know both of you. Why should I go with you?”

The woman refused and shook her head.

“Since that’s the case, don’t blame us...”

The two Black Gold Robes charged at the woman!

She planted her fists on the ground. The very next moment, her body began to sparkle, and a layer of rocks formed around her body again!

“Earth shield!” yelled the woman. Rays of light spread all around. The rocks around them floated into the air all of a sudden.

Next, those rocks flew to the front of the woman and formed a protective shield!

The two Black Gold Robes flew like bullets and smashed through the wall of rocks as if it was not there.

The shield appeared to be very weak in front of the two Black Gold Robes!

Boom!

Once again, the woman was hit. This time around, she flew more than ten meters away, and the rocks covering her smashed to bits.

She landed heavily on the ground and began to vomit blood.

Although she sustained serious injuries, she was not in mortal danger. Obviously, the two Black Gold Robes wanted to capture her alive. They had no intention of killing the woman.

“Two men bullying one woman. Shameless b*stards!” berated Skyler angrily.

No matter how furious Skyler was, she dared not interfere because Matthew had reminded them not to cause trouble when they were out there.

“This woman has a special physique?”

Jared saw the magecraft that the woman had used and could not help but frown.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2176

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2176-“Indeed, this is the earthly constituent. Although there are quite a few people of this constitution, not many can reach her cultivation level! Why do these two Black Gold Robes want to capture her? Is it because of her unique constitution?” Archer said.

Just then, Jared was reminded of the time when Renee and Melanie were taken captive by Evil Heart Sect to the secret realm due to their unique constitutions.

But as he was pondering, the two Black Gold Robes were fast approaching the woman. She no longer had the strength to defend herself.

One of them reached out and seized the woman. They then swiftly turned around to depart.

Jared immediately sprang into action, blocking their path.

Archer and Skyler quickly followed suit.

The two Black Gold Robes were surprised to learn people were hiding nearby.

Despite their training as Martial Arts Saints, the Black Gold Robes had not detected their opponent's presence until Jared leaped out. As they recognized him, their eyes flickered with a hint of nervousness.

"Two Black Gold Robes against one woman? Are you guys cowards? When did Evil Heart Sect become so shameless?" Jared sneered.

"This has nothing to do with you. Get out of our way or suffer the consequences," one of the Black Gold Robes warned him.

"Malphas is no match for me, let alone you two," Jared said confidently. "I can easily defeat both of you. Let the woman go, and I'll spare your lives."

"Why are you going against Evil Heart Sect, Jared Chance? Have you forgotten about your female companions who are still in our custody?"

The Black Gold Robes were not easily swayed and even brought up Josephine and the others to threaten Jared.

Enraged, a burst of murderous aura emerged within Jared's body. Turning his icy gaze toward the Black Gold Robes, he spoke in a low, threatening tone. "Release the woman immediately, and either take your own lives or suffer the consequences."

The Black Gold Robes could sense the dangerous aura emanating from him. After exchanging a quick glance, they immediately launched a surprise attack on Jared together.

They knew that facing a formidable opponent alone would be a daunting task, so they had no choice but to team up and defeat Jared.

However, the Black Gold Robes did not pay any attention to Skyler and Archer, who were standing behind Jared. They failed to detect any aura from the two, leading them to believe that Skyler and Archer were powerless.

However, unbeknownst to them, Archer and Skyler were Martial Arts Gods. Given their skills, they could easily kill the Black Gold Robes with just one move.

The difference in cultivation levels made it impossible for the Black Gold Robes to sense the powerful aura on Skyler and Archer.

As the two Black Gold Robes launched their attack on Jared, Skyler couldn't hold back anymore and decided to intervene.

"Mr. Chance, let me handle this. How dare two mere Martial Arts Saints dare to challenge us?"

As the tension rose, Skyler stepped forward with fierce determination in her eyes.

With a sudden surge of power, she unleashed the full force of the Martial Arts God at her opponents.

The two Black Gold Robes were caught off guard, their faces twisted in disbelief as they struggled to withstand the incredible force of Skyler's attack. They had never expected such a petite, delicate girl to possess such awe-inspiring power.

Gasping for breath, the two men clung to their lives by a thread. "Martial... Arts God..." But it was no use. The Martial Arts God's power was too overwhelming, and with a final groan, the men fell to the ground, blood trickling from their mouths.

As the two men breathed their last, dark mists began to rise from their bodies, twisting and writhing before escaping in different directions.

Skyler watched in astonishment, her mind reeling about the possibility of the soul remnant escaping. She had never encountered anything like this in the hidden realm.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2177

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2177-Jared was quick to react. He created a suction force with both palms that instantly drew the two black veils of mist toward him. Next, he opened his mouth and swallowed them whole.

Upon witnessing this scene, Skyler's and Archer's expressions turned complex.

The woman slowly stood up, looking at Jared and his companions with a fearful expression. She was shocked by the power of the Martial Arts God displayed earlier.

Jared hurriedly walked over and assured her, "Don't be afraid; we mean no harm. What is your name? Why did the Black Gold Robes want to capture you?"

The woman shook her head, still with a wary expression.

"Do you have a unique constituent? The earthly constitution, perhaps?" Jared asked again.

Unfortunately, the woman remained silent and continued shaking her head. She looked at them with a wary expression.

Jared didn't know what to do as the woman refused to talk.

However, he was afraid that others from Evil Heart Sect might show up and harm her. "Come with us, or someone might come and capture you again."

He cautiously reached out to the woman, hoping to take her away with them.

But upon seeing Jared's hand approaching, the woman got scared and ran away quickly, disappearing without a trace.

As a result, Jared's hand was left hanging in the air. With a perplexed expression, he asked, "Am I that scary?"

"You are not scary, Mr. Chance. Maybe the woman was just frightened." Skyler quickly tried to ease the man's worries.

Jared checked the time and realized that their flight was about to depart. He said, "Let's go, or we won't make it to the plane."

Just as they left, Malphas and several Black Gold Robes hurriedly arrived at the scene.

After Malphas glanced at the corpses of the two men on the ground, his expression turned solemn.

"I think I just felt the power of a Martial Arts God. Could it be that there is a Martial Arts God in this remote town?" Malphas furrowed his brows.

"Mr. Malphas, could it be the woman with the special constitution we were supposed to capture? Has her strength already reached the Martial Arts God? If that's the case, we need to inform Lord Tanner. This is beyond our capabilities," one of the men in black robes said worriedly.

If they were really dealing with a Martial Arts God, Martial Arts Saints like them wouldn't stand a chance.

"That's impossible. I have seen the woman's strength, and the two Black Gold Robes should be more than capable of dealing with her.

There must be other people involved," Malphas waved his hand and continued, "Forget it. Let's catch that woman and leave this place as soon as possible."

Soon, Malphas and the Black Gold Robes headed in the direction where the woman had disappeared.

Finally, Jared, along with Skyler and Archer, arrived in Jadeborough.

Looking at the bustling city, Skyler and Archer were like ignorant children gawking at everything they saw.

When Jared brought the two to Deragon Sect, they found that the place was much larger and more luxurious than Luminous Sect!

However, the disciples in Deragon Sect were too weak. In their eyes, the disciples could not even be considered entry-level!

When everyone saw Jared returning, they all came out to greet him. Fernando asked, "Mr. Chance, did you find the Spring of Regeneration?"

Jared nodded and replied, "Yes, I came back this time to take Mr. Flaxseed and Godrick to Spring of Regeneration for treatment."

Upon hearing this, Jessica said excitedly, "That's great! We have hope of saving them now!"

Just then, Cecilia looked at Skyler and Archer and asked, "Who are they, Jared?"

During this period, it was Cecilia who had been helping Jared manage Deragon Sect.

After all, among these people, only Cecilia had experience in managing a sect.

"These are my friends. Thanks to them, we were able to find Spring of Regeneration!" Jared said.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2178

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2178-Jared did not want to talk too much about the hidden sects.

Cecilia greeted Archer and Skyler with a smile, and they reciprocated.

Knowing that Archer and Skyler were curious about everything, Jared gave them time to explore. "Go and take a walk around Deragon Sect now. We'll depart once I've made the necessary arrangements!" he said.

The duo nodded and left while Jared checked on Flaxseed and Godrick.

"Archer, Jadeborough is huge. The land occupied by Deragon Sect alone has got to be way bigger than our Luminous Sect!" Skyler commented, in awe of the grand architecture of Deragon Sect.

"These are all worldly possessions. As martial artists, we should focus on cultivation. Deragon Sect might seem majestic, but did you not notice the people here are good for nothing? They're all so weak that any of us from Luminous Sect can easily take them down," Archer replied in disdain.

Though he was just as impressed by the magnificent environment and buildings in Deragon Sect, he was too arrogant to admit it.

That was why he intentionally diverted Skyler's attention to focus on their capabilities.

With that, Skyler said nothing more. The two continued to walk, enjoying the scenery within Deragon Sect.

As for Jared, he chartered a plane and flew to Quadfield after examining Flaxseed's and Godrick's wounds.

At first, he wanted to give Archer and Skyler a day to explore Jadeborough properly, but Flaxseed's and Godrick's condition made him realize that time was of the essence. There was no room for delay.

That was why he still needed to look for Chester and attend the Secret Realm Conference once he was sure that the two men were in good hands.

Jared had limited knowledge about the families in the secret realm, especially the capabilities of the sects and the prestigious families.

He also knew he would need to enter the secret realm sooner or later. Hence, getting himself familiar with those families in advance would provide him with greater benefits in the future.

More importantly, Jared wanted to meet with the people from Violet Cloud Palace. At that point, he had no idea if his mother was still there.

After all, Violet Cloud Palace was located in the secret realm. The fact that Jared could not get in because he did not know where its entrance was made it impossible for him to obtain information about his mother.

All he could do was try his luck at gathering valuable insights about his mother's whereabouts during the Secret Realm Conference.

The plane arrived at Quadfield without delay. As soon as Matthew received news of Jared's arrival, he swiftly dispatched his men to the airport to pick the latter and his group up.

Flaxseed and Godrick suffered severe injuries, with their bones and ligaments broken. While they managed to survive, they were left immobile, completely reliant on others for support and movement.

“Jared, where are we?” Godrick was unable to move his body, but he retained his ability to see and speak.

“We’re at Luminous Sect. I’ll take you two to soak in the Spring of Regeneration later, which will heal your bones and ligaments,” Jared explained to Godrick.

“The Spring of Regeneration? What’s that?” Flaxseed asked.

“It’s an extremely magical spring. You only need to soak yourself in it for forty-nine days for your injuries to heal completely. It took me a lot of effort to locate the spring. I want both of you to relax and not worry about a thing. As long as I’m here, I swear that you’ll regain your ability to walk!” Jared assured Flaxseed.

After getting in touch with Isaac, he brought Flaxseed and Godrick straight to the Spring of Regeneration.

Matthew, too, instructed his disciples to follow Jared and his group so as to protect them.

Since Flaxseed and Godrick would need to remain in the Spring of Regeneration for forty-nine days, Isaac had long recalled his men from there. Consequently, the responsibility of safeguarding the spring rested on the shoulders of Luminous Sect.

Jared helped Flaxseed and Godrick soak in the spring before jumping into it himself and taking deep breaths to activate his elixir field. Feeling the flow of the spring water, he began cultivating in silence.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2179

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2179- Turned Green

Meanwhile, at Stormwind Sect, Emiliano was intubated all over, with a green liquid coursing through the tubes.

In front of him was a glass vessel filled with the same green liquid, which continuously churned and boiled.

Emiliano knitted his brows, seemingly enduring immense pain.

His mother wore an anxious expression as she quietly observed from the side.

“Tucker, are you sure this is going to work? Mind you; he’s your son. If this fails and Emiliano’s life is in danger, I’ll not let you off!” she threatened while staring at Tucker.

“This technology is already well-developed, so don’t worry,” Tucker reassured her and stood before the glass vessel, where he gently bit his finger, allowing a few drops of his blood to drip into the green liquid.

Shockingly, he appeared visibly fatigued after the mere act of dripping a few drops of blood into the vessel.

As the green liquid continued to be infused into Emiliano’s body, he began to emanate a faint green glow while his aura started expanding.

Observing the scene unfolding before him, Tucker laughed. “Don’t worry; our son will undergo a complete transformation in less than ten hours!”

Emiliano’s mother nodded in delight and embraced him.

While they were enjoying an intimate moment, Garthor, who stood at Reflection Cliff, continued to be assailed by the cliff’s formidable aura.

Hugh slowly walked toward Garthor and stood behind him. His expression seemed to show how bad he felt from seeing the pain his son was in.

“Garthor, how are you holding up?” Hugh asked.

Upon noticing his father, Garthor rose to his feet and inclined his head in response. “I’m all right...”

“Don’t blame me for being ruthless. I made you come to Reflection Cliff because I want to train and protect you!” Hugh explained.

Garthor had his brows furrowed as he asked in confusion, “What do you mean, Dad? To protect me from what? Are you suggesting that I’m not safe in Stormwind Sect?”

“Enough with the questions. Remain at Reflection Cliff for now, and I’ll release you once you advance to the next level of cultivation,” Hugh replied dismissively, waving his hand.

“Dad, are Emiliano and his mother trying to harm me? I’m aware that his mother has held a low opinion of me for years and that she wants Emiliano to take over my position. Honestly, if Emiliano is a capable leader, I wouldn’t mind handing over the reins of Stormwind Sect to him.” Garthor voiced his opinion.

“That’s b*llshit!” When Hugh heard his utterances, his countenance turned cold at once. “You are my son, the rightful successor to Stormwind Sect. Besides you, no one else is deserving of the leadership position! You’re forbidden from making that kind of remark again. From now on, you need to learn to manage Stormwind Sect!”

Garthor was taken aback by the wrath his father displayed. He had only spoken in that manner to showcase his generosity and open- mindedness but never expected Hugh to react explosively.

“All right, Dad. I’ll heed your advice and work hard!” Garthor said while nodding resolutely.

Hugh gazed at Garthor with an affectionate expression and sighed softly. “Your mother passed away when you were young, and you’ve endured a lot over the years. Having you as my only son still brings me great satisfaction.”

Garthor eyed his father, his face filled with astonishment. While he was puzzled by Hugh’s unexpected display of melancholy, he dared not inquire further.

After leaving Reflection Cliff, Hugh cast a glance toward the southwestern direction of Stormwind Sect. In that instant, a vivid green beam shot up into the sky.

The reflection of the green beam fell upon Hugh’s head, giving off the impression of him wearing a green hat.

An icy glint flashed across his narrowed eyes. “You’re just playing with fire if you continue to treat me like a fool,” he muttered.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2180

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2180-Jared had been soaking himself in the Spring of Regeneration for three whole days. He could feel the spring water changing every day.

He let his spiritual sense flow along the water, intending to penetrate the restricted area and determine where the water was flowing.

After three days of investigating, Jared had a feeling that the water wasn't continuously flowing out but instead circulating within the area.

Under the moonlight, Jared slowly stood up from the spring and followed the current to the forbidden ground.

Soon after, he was overcome by a terrifying pressure, followed by an intense pain that spread all over his head.

"What a strong restriction. It looks like the restriction arcane arrays set up by the secluded sects are indeed powerful," Jared exclaimed.

He quickly abandoned the idea of intruding into the forbidden ground. With his current capabilities, he was not powerful enough to resist the arcane array created by a few secluded sects working together.

Feeling helpless, Jared returned to the Spring of Regeneration. His curiosity was piqued as he stared at the water flowing down the mountain.

The spring water seems ordinary enough. Why does it have that effect?

As he watched the flowing water, he suddenly had a wild idea.

Can I explore the origin of the water if I can't trace its destination?

Jared punched the boulder where the water was flowing out, causing it to shatter into pieces. He decided to dig his way into the mountain in an attempt to find the source of the water.

After a short while, Jared had already tunneled forward for dozens of meters. The rocks gradually became harder, and their hue turned a bloody red.

Jared furrowed his brows as he discovered the red stones were emanating an intense lethal intent as he advanced.

Ordinary rocks wouldn't contain any lethal intent.

He couldn't help but wonder if there was something hidden underneath the mountain range.

Despite his surprise, Jared forged ahead without stopping.

Several meters later, he encountered a massive boulder blocking his path. Undeterred, he delivered a powerful punch, but to his surprise, the rock remained unscathed.

Jared was confused. With his current strength, he could crush any metal easily, let alone a rock.

He gently caressed the boulder with his hand, and as he did so,

Wordless Tome in his brain began to glow, and a new insight flooded his mind.

“Guardian Rock!”

The term “Guardian Rock” surfaced in his mind, followed by an explanation.

This rock, aptly named Guardian Rock, served as a protector of the nearby mountain range.

Many sects preferred to construct their headquarters within thickly wooded forests, while others chose to build within the valleys of mountains. In order to prevent the mountain range from collapsing and causing harm, they would install a Guardian Rock to fortify the area.

The presence of a Guardian Rock here indicates that a sect previously resided in this location. However, its absence prompts the question of what happened to the sect. Could the Spring of Regeneration have any connection to the former occupants of this place?

Jared observed the Guardian Rock, his brows knitted together.

With the Guardian Rock in place, it seemed impossible for him to dig any further.

“A rock can’t stop me. There must be a way to destroy it.”

Jared channeled the Power of Dragons to his fist. A chorus of dragon roars filled the skies as his fist emitted a golden glow.

“Sacred Light Fist!”

Jared gave it his all this time when he swung his fist.

Boom!

When his fist landed on the Guardian Rock, the rock itself remained intact, yet the entire mountain range shook vigorously multiple times.

Staring at the undamaged Guardian Rock, Jared felt a wave of fury crashing through him. He raised his arm, about to deliver another punch.

At that moment, stones began to fall down the tunnel that Jared had excavated earlier. The tunnel was on the verge of collapsing.

Seeing that, he quickly spun on his heels to flee the tunnel.