A Man Like None Other Chapter 2401-Meanwhile, Yashur was filled with anxiety. I must act immediately if Mr. Chance gets in trouble! “Jared, I didn’t expect you to be so strong. Nevertheless, you’re still going to die today!” Wrey thundered.

The countless flying swords started to combine to form a giant golden sword. As the giant sword swung toward Jared, the light it emitted instantly filled the entire valley. “Mr. Chance!” Yashur knew Jared was in danger and wanted to help out.

“Don’t move!” Jared demanded. I need to face Wrey on my own and kill him in front of all the people from the hidden realm. That’s the only way to make them frightened of me!

Yashur didn’t dare to disobey Jared, but he couldn’t stop his heart from thumping violently when he saw the golden sword getting closer and closer to Jared.

However, Jared remained rooted to the spot. and used his Ultimate Force to shield his body. Let’s see how strong my Ultimate Force is! “Why isn’t Mr. Chance dodging the attack?” Skyler asked in puzzlement. At that moment, no one knew why Jared wasn’t dodging Wrey’s attack.

Boom! The giant sword struck the ground, stirring up gusts of sand and gravel. Jared seemed to have vanished into thin air under the sword. When the dust settled, Jared was still nowhere to be seen.

“Where is Mr. Chance?” Archer was baffled. The others were also stupefied when they saw that Jared was missing. There should be a corpse even if he had died, no?

“Haha! My attack is strong enough to reduce everything to dust! Jared’s corpse had turned to dust!” Wrey laughed like a maniac because he thought his move had turned Jared into dust. / can’t believe Jared actually stood there and waited for me to strike him! He was eager to die!

While everyone was puzzled, a figure appeared somewhere over a hundred meters away. “Mr. Chance!” Skyler shouted when she saw Jared. There and then, everyone at the scene immediately turned to look at Jared, who was completely unharmed, standing a distance away.

Yashur felt relieved when he saw that Jared was fine. Wrey, on the other hand, was dumbfounded and in utter disbelief. What? Is Jared unharmed? This is impossible! It's impossible!

Wrey couldn't believe his eyes. Jared glanced at Wrey with a smirk on his face. All of a sudden, a bow appeared in Jared's grip. Afterward, Jared gradually drew the bow with his right hand. As the bowstring was slowly stretched taut, everyone at the scene could sense the surrounding aura converging toward the bow.

Soon, a golden arrow gradually appeared, The arrow was pointed at Wrey. Although Wrey was standing more than a hundred meters away, he could feel the terrifying aura coming from Jared's Divine Bow.

"What bow is Mr. Chance carrying in his hand? Why does it have such a horrifying aura?" Matthew was in shock. Yashur could merely shake his head in response because even he, an Eight Level Martial Arts Sovereign, had never seen such a weapon. As a matter of fact, he even felt intimidated when he felt the oppressive energy the Divine Bow carried.

Whoosh! Jared unleashed the golden arrow, and it flew toward Wrey like a bullet. Seeing that, Wrey quickly formed a shield to protect himself by unleashing an incredible amount of martial energy.

Unfortunately for Wrey, the golden arrow pierced through the shield with ease and penetrated his body. After that, the golden arrow disappeared.

Wrey jumped in alarm, but when he lowered his gaze, he noticed that there wasn't even a wound on his body. Feeling no pain whatsoever, he laughed boisterously and exclaimed, "It seems like that was merely a bluff! It didn't even hurt me!"

The rest were also bewildered. Jared's arrow looked terrifying! How did it not cause Wrey any harm?

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2402-Jared let out a cold chuckle and slowly walked toward Wrey. Right after Jared had taken a few steps forward, Wrey suddenly stopped laughing. Following a loud bang, Wrey was blown up into pieces. Everyone was stunned when they saw blood splattered everywhere.

It was important to note that Wrey was one of the strongest individuals in the hidden realm. As a Sixth Level Martial Arts Sovereign, everyone knew how strong he was. Otherwise, no one would be willing to obey him.

Yet, they had just witnessed Wrey getting killed by a single arrow from Jared. Jared glanced at the Divine Bow in his hand as excitement filled his heart. It seems like Divine Bow is much stronger than I thought it was.. Apart from Divine Bow, I also have Dragon Bell. I won't have to be afraid of anyone if I can utilize Dragon Bell, too!

"Your bow is amazing, Mr. Chance!" Envy was written all over Archer's face. "This is Divine Bow. With this bow, I can kill everyone in the hidden realm, let alone Wrey," Jared replied flatly.

The faces of those from the hidden realm were drained of all color. Having witnessed how Jared single-handedly killed Wrey, no one dared to utter a single word. We can't afford to offend Jared! Besides, he has Yashur on his side. If they join forces, they can slaughter all of us within seconds!

"Mr. Chance, you're only a Sixth Level Martial Arts God, but you managed to kill Wrey. That's incredible..." Even Yashur was caught by surprise because he didn't expect Jared to be so strong.

"Sixth Level Martial Arts God?" Jared flashed a smile before unleashing all of his Ultimate Force. Instantly, the entire valley was enveloped by an invisible force of oppressive energy. At the same time, everyone noticed that Jared's cultivation level and aura were increasing rapidly.

"Seventh Level Martial Arts God?"

"Eighth Level Martial Arts God?"

"Top Level Martial Arts God?"

The cultivation level continued to rise. While Jared's cultivation level increased, so did the intensity of the energy enveloping the entire valley.

In the end, everyone at the scene was pinned to the ground by the energy. Even Yashur, an Eighth Level Martial Arts Sovereign, was forced to lie flat on the ground. He looked at Jared in horror.

After an indefinite amount of time, that petrifying wave of energy slowly dissipated. Only then could the crowd breathe a sigh of relief and rise to their feet.

The oppressive energy Jared unleashed killed the weaker disciples of the hidden realm on the spot, crushing their organs in the process. Even Hugh, Isaac, and the other sect leaders were injured and gasping for air. At that moment, Jared seemed to have undergone a complete transformation, and his skin had become smooth and crystal clear.

With his new cultivation level, Jared was so strong that not even a strong fighter like Yashur could hurt him. He didn't even need to activate his Golem Body to protect himself.

"Mr. Chance, a-are you a Manifestor?" Yashur was in disbelief. Jared kept mum and clenched his fist before: throwing out a powerful punch. His punch sent out an enormous amount of energy that transformed into a ray of light toward the sky.

Within seconds, a few more rays of blinding light shot out, and a series of rumbling noises echoed throughout the area. Evidently, Jared's punch had pierced through the valley and formed a passage that led directly from the bottom of the abyss to the secret realm.

The sight shocked everyone present, and they were all looking at Jared as if they were looking at a monster.

"I'm on the verge of getting there. Nonetheless, I won't be scared to fight a Manifestor now." Jared shook his head slightly. Instead of a Manifestor, I'm still only a Top Level Martial Arts Sovereign. Be that as it may, I can defeat a Manifestor rather easily because I have Divine Bow and Dragon Bell.

"Ultimate Force is indeed useful. It seems like Hadad didn't lie to me." Jared felt grateful toward Hadad.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2403-"Please spare me, Mr. Chance! Please have mercy!" Hugh dropped to his knees and begged Jared for mercy. Since Jared was currently stronger than Yashur, those people knew they were at Jared's mercy. It was safe to assume that Jared wouldn't be letting them off the hook that easily when they had been relentlessly hunting Jared down.

“Please have mercy, Mr. Chance! It was all Wrey’s idea!” Everyone dropped to their knees at once. Even Yona and Isaac had their heads lowered as they implored Jared for forgiveness.

Upon hearing their pleas, Jared cast a glance at the people from the hidden realm. Well, I never planned to kill them, but I can’t let Isaac and Yona go free. These two men are evil. Yona and his men almost wiped out Luminous Sect. Mr. Campbell is eager to skin him alive, so I can’t let Yona live. Meanwhile, Isaac had been in cahoots with Yona. He even tried to sexually assault Skyler. If Yashur didn’t get there in time, Isaac would’ve taken advantage of Skyler!

“Stand up, everyone. I won’t kill you. I’m letting all of you live,” Jared uttered casually. Everyone was thrilled when they heard those words, and they thanked Jared profusely. With an ingratiating look on his face, Hugh uttered, “Thank you, Mr. Chance! We’re willing to obey you and be at your beck and call!”

“I won’t kill you, but I need you to do something for me,” Jared said. “Go ahead, Mr. Chance! As long as it’s within our capability, we’re willing to do whatever you want us to do,” Hugh quickly replied.

“I want you guys to wipe out Alchemical Sect and Scorching Heaven Sect. Kill Isaac and Yona. Once you’ve done that, you’ll have my forgiveness,” Jared revealed his condition. Hearing that, Hugh nodded fervently and promised, “Don’t worry, Mr. Chance! Those two men are despicable. We’ll get rid of them now.”

Isaac and Yona trembled in fear when they heard that. Both of them began to grovel at Jared’s feet and beg, “Please let us live, Mr. Chance! Please have mercy!”

In response, Jared remained expressionless. Hugh noticed the look on Jared’s face and said to the other members of the hidden realm, “Let’s team up to kill these two fellows! Let’s do it to earn Mr. Chance’s forgiveness!”

With that, Hugh took the lead and dashed toward Isaac and Yona, The others followed suit upon seeing that. They were all determined to give their all to kill Isaac and Yona.

Isaac and Yona had no choice but to defend themselves along with their disciples. In the meantime, Jared, Matthew, and Yashur watched the fight in silence.

It didn't take them long to wipe out Alchemical Sect and Scorching Heaven Sect. Needless to say, Isaac and Yona were also smashed into two bloody pulps..

"Mr. Campbell, you'll be in charge of the entire hidden realm and this secret realm. I'll leave Yashur here to help you. I hope you can restore Luminous Sect to its former glory," Jared said to Matthew. With Isaac and Yona dead, it's fair to say Luminous Sect has gotten its revenge. Yashur will stay here, so I doubt the members of the hidden realm will have the balls to mess around.

"Where are you going, Mr. Chance? We have an abundance of resources here. Why don't you stay for a while longer and cultivate here?" asked Matthew upon realizing Jared was about to leave.

"I have other matters to deal with, so I need to leave. We'll meet again!" Jared flashed a faint smile. "All right, then. Mr. Chance, if you need our help with anything, feel free to let us know!"

Matthew said. Jared nodded in response and gave Yashur some instructions. After that, he leaped into the air, transformed into a streak of light, and dashed out of the valley. Upon leaving the secret realm, Jared went to Jadeborough to check on Josephine and the rest, who were trapped in Divine Quest Sect.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2404-This was why Masato, despite his advanced age and lack of involvement in Watanabe family affairs, remained the soul of the family. It was Kawano's presence that allowed Masato to enjoy his old age in peace.

As soon as Ryosuke had sat down, the door was knocked on, and then it opened again. Soon, Asuka walked in. Upon seeing the situation, Asuka was also taken aback, especially when he saw Ryosuke there, and conflicting emotions began to swell within him.

"You both arrived just in time. Please have a seat," Masato said, waving his hand.

Everyone sat down and waited for Masato to speak. No one dared to show any signs of disrespect, knowing that even the slightest movement would be met with Kawano's sharp katana.

"I've received news from the Thousand Crane Shrine that we, the Watanabe family, need to deliver our resources and funds earlier this year," Masato spoke slowly.

“Grandpa, I’ve already prepared the resources and funds, and they can be delivered at any time,” Ryosuke replied immediately. With the election approaching, Ryosuke needed to show off his capabilities.

“Good!” Masato nodded and continued, “I heard that our samurais had clashed with the Chanaean government some time ago and killed many of their officials. Is that true?”

This was why Masato, despite his advanced age and lack of involvement in Watanaba family affairs, remained the soul of the family. It was Kawano’s presence that allowed Masato to enjoy his old age in peace.

As soon as Ryosuke had sat down, the door was knocked on, and then it opened again. Soon, Asuka walked in. Upon seeing the situation, Asuka was also taken aback, especially when he saw Ryosuke there, and conflicting emotions began to swirl within him.

“You both arrived just in time. Please have a seat,” Masato said, waving his hand.

Evaryona sat down and waited for Masato to speak. No one dared to show any signs of disrespect, knowing that even the slightest movement would be met with Kawano’s sharp katana.

“I’ve received news from the Thousand Crane Shrine that we, the Watanaba family, need to deliver our resources and funds earlier this year,” Masato spoke slowly.

“Grandpa, I’ve already prepared the resources and funds, and they can be delivered at any time,” Ryosuke replied immediately. With the election approaching, Ryosuke needed to show off his capabilities.

“Good!” Masato nodded and continued, “I heard that our samurais had clashed with the Chanaean government some time ago and killed many of their officials. Is that true?”

“Yes, I investigated this matter too. It was Asuka who ordered people to hunt down some enemies in Chanaea, which led to a conflict with the Chanaea authorities and resulted in a negative impact on our family. I have sent someone to Chanaea to explain this matter.”

Ryosuke immediately recounted everything he knew to Masato when the latter mentioned the incident.

He wanted to use this matter to prevent Asuka from competing with him for the position of head of the family.

At this moment, there was no brotherly relationship between them.

Asuka glared at his older brother and began to explain, “Grandpa, I—”

However, Masato interrupted with a wave of his hand.

“Asuka, you did well. The Watanabe family will not be bullied by anyone. We will seek revenge, especially when facing the people of Chanaea,” Masato said, leaving Asuka stunned.

The latter quickly nodded and said, “I will follow your advice, Grandpa.” Ryosuke was also taken aback because he had wanted to suppress Asuka with this matter, but his plan backfired. Masato then looked at Ryosuke coldly and said, “As the head of the Watanabe family, you even took the initiative to apologize, which has damaged our family’s reputation. I also heard that you sent your daughter to study in Chanaea. You seem to have forgotten what blood flows in your veins.”

Subsequently, the old man added, “Now that your daughter has been contaminated, she must be sent to the shrine to be purified...”

What Masato said shocked Ryosuke to the core. It felt as if he had been struck by lightning.

He could endure anything, including losing his position as head of the family, but he would never agree to send his only daughter to the shrine for purification. After all, he knew what would happen to her there.

“Grandpa, I—”

Ryosuke wanted to argue and stop them from sending his daughter to the shrine, but Masato ignored his pleas and waved his hand, saying, “That’s it. Everyone, please leave.”

Everyone got up and left, and Ryosuke had no choice but to do the same. As soon as he stepped out, he saw Asuka looking at him with a mocking smile on his face.

“My dear brother Ryosuke, I warned you not to send Yuri to Chanaea, but you didn’t listen. Now, Yuri will be sent to the shrine, and you may never see her again in this lifetime. My poor niece is still so young, lively, and beautiful...” Asuka said, grinning from ear to ear.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2405-Ryosuke glared at Asuka angrily but couldn’t do anything to the latter. He could only leave in frustration. After all, he was still the head of the family and Asuka’s brother, so he dared not hit Asuka in public.

He returned home fuming, and when Keika saw him, she hurriedly came up and helped him change his clothes. “What happened? What made you so angry, Ryosuke?” Keika asked.

Ryosuke explained everything that had happened today, leaving Keika stunned.

After a while, Keika became emotional and exclaimed, “N-No... That’s impossible. I will never send our daughter to the shrine. If you dare to do so, I’ll die before your eyes...”

Hearing that, Ryosuke held his wife tightly, feeling sorry for her. “I don’t want to either, but what can we do?” he replied.

Ryosuke was reluctant to do so, but he had to follow Masato’s orders. Besides, it might be an order from the shrine itself. What could he do to resist?

“We can leave. Let’s go as far away as possible, and you should step down from the position as the head of the family...” Keika suggested.

“Go? Go where? Even if we flee to the ends of the earth, they will find us.” Ryosuke shook his head, finding his wife’s suggestion unfeasible.

“I don’t care! I don’t care! I won’t let you send our daughter to the shrine!” Keika shouted like a mad woman.

Ryosuke looked helpless, but fortunately, there was no time limit set. They could still stall for time and come up with a plan.

Three days had passed since then.

Jared and Flaxseed spent their days drinking and snoring with Fandor, and it had been such a drink-sleep routine for the past three days.

“Jared, it’s been three days already. Your scheme hasn’t succeeded yet? Ryosuke hasn’t come to see you at all,” Flaxseed complained listlessly.

Although they drank and slept every day, the environment here was terrible, and more importantly, there were no women. If Jessica were here, Flaxseed might not be so anxious.

Jared furrowed his brow slightly. “It’s strange. I saved his daughter’s life. He should at least come and thank me, right?”

Jared also found it odd that Ryosuke hadn’t shown up since sending people to investigate him last time. There was no news from the Watanabe family, nor had Ryosuke sent anyone to see him, and Jared found this extremely puzzling.

“What are you two mumbling about? Come and drink!” Fandor beckoned to Jared and Flaxseed.

But neither of them moved this time.

Seeing this, Fandor picked up the bottle and walked over. “Don’t worry, he’s coming. He’ll be here within ten minutes,” he said confidently, then started drinking by himself.

Jared and Flaxseed were surprised as they weren’t quite sure whether Fandor was drunk or not.

Sure enough, a few minutes later, Ryosuke arrived outside Fandor’s dilapidated house, carrying a gift and accompanied by Yuri.

“Excuse me, I’m Ryosuke Watanabe. I’ve brought my daughter here to pay respects to Mr. Loufury,” Ryosuke politely called out.

“Come in,” Fandor said flatly, with his eyes half-closed.

Jared and Flaxseed were both confused as to how Fandor knew Ryosuke would come.

Ryosuke entered the run-down house with Yuri and placed a bottle of wine in front of Fandor, saying politely, “Mr. Loufury, this is for you.”

But Fandor didn’t even look at it. He slowly said, “I don’t take gifts for no reason. If you want me to kill someone, just deposit the money into my account.”

Ryosuke looked embarrassed all of a sudden; he didn’t have billions of Anglanduran currency to hire Fandor to kill.

“Jared, thank you so much for saving me from being kidnapped two days ago,” Yuri said to Jared happily.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2406-“It was nothing,” the man replied with a faint smile.

“Mr. Chance, thank you for helping my daughter. I was busy these past few days, so forgive me for coming late to thank you,” Ryosuke said politely as he came up to Jared.

“I already said it was no big deal,” Jared uttered calmly with a serene expression on his face.

This puzzled Ryosuke, who wondered why Jared was so calm toward him and not showing any sign of resentment or anger if he came to seek revenge.

“Aren’t you all tired? Let’s get to the point,” Fandor impatiently interjected. “Ryosuke, I don’t believe you came here just to thank Jared.”

Ryosuke was caught offguard and hesitated for a moment before explaining, “Mr. Chance, I know your purpose for coming to Jetroina, but I want to explain that although the people who have been hunting you are from the Watanabe family, it was my younger brother Asuka who orchestrated it all.”

He continued, “I had no idea about this, including the attack on Chanaean officials. He never told me about it. Once I found out, I immediately sent people to apologize and explain the situation. I have no intention of going against Chanaea or you, Mr. Chance. I hope you can understand...”

Ryosuke spoke with an earnest face, afraid that Jared wouldn’t believe him.

However, Jared replied with a faint smile, “Mr. Watanabe, I already know all of this. You’re not responsible for your brother’s actions, so I won’t hold it against you.”

“Mr. Chance, you already knew about it?” Ryosuke was surprised. He wondered how Jared knew because only the higher-ups of the Watanabe family were aware of the ordeal.

“Kazuo told me. I brought him back alive from Chanaea for a reason,” Jared said nonchalantly.

Ryosuke breathed a sigh of relief on hearing that; since Jared knew, he didn’t have to worry anymore.

“I also know that the Watanabe family’s election is coming up, and you are competing for the head of the family position with your brother. If I kill Asuka, wouldn’t you be the biggest beneficiary?” Jared added.

Since Ryosuke chose to tell the truth, Jared also didn’t intend to hide anything. He wanted to see if he could get some resources from the Watanabe family.

After all, now that Ryosuke also wanted Asuka dead, their goals were aligned.

But unexpectedly, Ryosuke let out a mournful sigh after hearing Jared’s words. “Actually, the position of head of the family is no longer important to me. I only want my daughter to live happily...”

Ryosuke then told Jared about Yuri’s situation and how she was about to be sent to the shrine. Yuri listened in shock beside them.

“So, Mr. Watanabe, are you saying that you want me to take Yuri away?” Jared asked, still confused.

Ryosuke nodded. “Yes, because only then can Yuri have a stable life. I know about your powerful influence in Chanaea, and as for killing Asuka, I will help you to complete the task.”

“But if you do this, you won’t be able to become head of the family, and your life will be in danger. After all, nobody would dare to disobey the shrine’s orders, right?” Jared questioned.

“For Yuri’s sake, this is the only way. As long as she can live happily, that’s all that matters,” Ryosuke replied with a determined and loving expression of a father.

Indeed, the love of a parent for their child knew no bounds.

This decision was made after Ryosuke and Keika had discussed it, as it was the only way for Yuri to escape harm.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2407-“No... No...” Yuri cried and threw herself into Ryosuke’s arms. “Dad, I don’t want to go anywhere. I want to be with you and Mom...”

“Yuri, listen to me. We don’t know what will happen to you if you are sent to the shrine. You’re still young, but you’ll understand later. Follow Mr. Chance, and with his character, I trust that he will protect you.”

After speaking, Ryosuke turned to Jared and added, “Of course, I won’t ask you to help us for nothing. The Watanabe family will offer a batch of resources to the shrine soon, which I intend to give to you as a reward, Mr. Chance.”

This left Jared at a loss. He had originally come to destroy the Watanabe family, but now he found himself in this situation.

Am I really going to take Yuri and the botch of resources back with me? Bringing back a beauty from Jetroina alt of a sudden like this would be hard to explain, wouldn’t it?

But just as Jared was unsure of how to respond to Ryosuke, Fandor spoke up. “Ryosuke, stop playing the emotional card of fatherly love. Tell us about your other plans...”

When he heard this, Ryosuke’s face turned red with embarrassment.

“Mr. Loufury, I do have another plan...” Ryosuke could only flash them an awkward smile.

“Let’s hear it, Mr. Watanabe,” Jared urged.

“My other plan is for you to take action and kill both Asuka and Masato, Mr. Chance. Once these people are dead, the entire Watanabe family will be under my control,” Ryosuke said.

He added, ““Of course, you will be rewarded handsomely.”

“But if so, you still have to follow the shrine’s orders, and Yuri will still be sent away,” Jared said, puzzled.

Ryosuke shook his head. “Once the Watanabe family is under my complete control, the shrine won’t abandon the entire family for just my daughter. Moreover, sending my daughter to the shrine may have been Masato’s idea. Once he’s dead, no one will pursue this matter.”

Hearing this, Jared continued to ask, “You could do it yourself. After all, you are still the head of the Watanabe family. Why spend money to hire me?”

“Because he doesn’t have the ability to. Even with all the high-level experts that Ryosuke can gather, they may not be a match for Kawano, the samurai by Masato’s side,” Fandor explained before Ryosuke could respond.

“Mr. Loufury is right. Kawano is a famous sword master, and nobody knows his true strength, so…” Ryosuke laughed awkwardly, his voice trailing off at the end of his sentence.

“But are you sure that I can beat Kawano?” Jared asked in confusion.

After all, Ryosuke didn’t know Jared’s true strength, so how could he be sure that Jared could defeat Kawano?

If Jared failed, wouldn’t Ryosuke also suffer?

Ryosuke didn’t say anything but looked at Fandor.

The meaning was clear. If Jared wasn’t a match for Kawano, then Fandor should take action. After all, Fandor was Jared’s friend!

Jared instantly understood Ryosuke’s intentions. Ryosuke was trying to get Fandor to take action through him.

“For ten billion in Anglanduran currency, I’ll kill whoever you want,” Fandor said slowly as Ryosuke looked at him.

A troubled look then flitted across Ryosuke’s visage. “Mr. Loufury, I really can’t come up with ten billion, but I’ll do my best to offer everything I can. You and Mr. Chance are friends, so I hope—”

“Stop. Friends are friends, and business is business. They can’t be mixed together. If you can’t produce the money, then there’s no point discussing it.” Fandor spoke candidly, which put Ryosuke in a difficult spot.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2408-After Fandor finished speaking, he quickly added, “But if you don’t have money, there is another way…”

“What way?” Ryosuke asked, his voice laced with eagerness. He believed that Fandor was the only one who could defeat Kawano, and he was willing to do whatever it took to get Fandor on board with his plan.

“I heard that you have an ancient snow lotus from Fujio Mountain. If you hand it over, I can consider your request,” Fandor said mildly.

Ryosuke was stunned when he heard that because no one knew about his possession of the snow lotus, not even the top brass of the Watanabe family or the shrine. Otherwise, the shrine would have requested it.

How did Fandor find out about such a secret?

Ryosuke was puzzled, but Fandor must have known for certain to mention it.

“Mr. Loufury, in fact, the snow lotus has already withered. It’s just a specimen and has no value,” Ryosuke explained.

“I don’t care if it has value or not. I’m only asking if you’re willing to give it up,” Fandor asked firmly, staring at Ryosuke as he uttered each word.

“Um...” Ryosuke hesitated, but after a moment, he glanced at Yuri. Gritting his teeth, he finally made up his mind. “Okay, I’m willing to give it up as long as you can kill Kawano, Mr. Loufury.”

Fandor laughed heartily when he heard that and uttered with utmost confidence, “Hahaha, don’t worry, Kawano is as good as dead.”

Jared and the others then followed Ryosuke to the Watanabe family’s mansion. It was the residence of the head of the Watanabe family, so it was in a central location.

Yet, Jared was brought here. If Asuka found out, he would be livid.

“Ryosuke, show us what you promised. If you’re sincere, not only can we kill Masato, but we can also destroy the Thousand Crane Shrine,” Fandor said in a serious manner.

Hearing this, Ryosuke nodded and had his men bring out many resources. He then went to the bedroom and after a long time, he came out with a transparent glass box.

Inside the box was a snow lotus, but it was already withered and devoid of spiritual energy.

Fandor took the snow lotus over, and his eyes widened. Then, he smiled mildly and said, “This is very precious...”

He carefully put the snow lotus away and said to Ryosuke, "All right, arrange a place for us to stay. You don't have to worry about the Watanabe family's affairs anymore."

Ryosuke quickly nodded and offered the largest mansion he owned for Fandor and Jared to stay in.

"Fandor, why do you want a withered snow lotus?" Flaxseed asked, puzzled by the old man's intentions.

"You don't understand. I have a way to revive it," Fandor said.

He then opened the glass box and poured some wine from a flask at his waist into it.

Flaxseed and Jared were both befuddled, wondering if Fandor was planning to make liquor with the ancient snow lotus.

But something magical then happened. As the snow lotus was soaked in the liquor, it slowly came back to life and became more vibrant in color.

Then, a large amount of spiritual energy began to spread throughout the room, and inhaling it made them feel refreshed and happy.

Seeing this, Flaxseed and Jared couldn't help but feel envious. If they could refine this ancient snow lotus into a pill, it could greatly enhance their strength.

If it were Jared, he could probably break through to the level of Martial Arts Saint. However, since the snow lotus belonged to Fandor, they couldn't just take it without permission.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2409-Jared stood before the mouth of the cave, not daring to push open the door and step in. He missed his mother every second of every day, but when it was time to meet her for real, he did not know how to face her.

Just when he was about to push open the door at the mouth of the cave, it swung open from inside. On the heels of that, a woman in white walked out. Their eyes met and held.

Although they had never met each other, the sense of familial bond that came from the same blood flowing through their veins promptly sparked to life within them at that very moment. “Jared, my son?” Beatrice ventured softly, her eyes pinned on Jared..

“Mom!” Jared cried out loudly. Tears streamed down his face, and he dropped to his knees before her. In a flash, Beatrice’s face was also stained with tears. She hugged her son tightly, both crying their hearts out.

Witnessing such a scene, Cecilia and the others also shed tears. Roanna was similarly moved, understanding the depth of a mother’s pining for her child. Shifting her gaze to Santiago in front of her, she gave him a hard kick.

“Look what you’ve done!” In her way of thinking, Jared might have been able to meet his mother long ago if Santiago had not kept Beatrice in Gate of Thunder’s secret realm.

Hailey also glared at her father furiously, never having expected him to be such a person. Santiago wanted to explain things, but he had no way of defending himself then.

When Jared and Beatrice had wept for a while, the latter quickly ushered everyone into the cave. The inside of the cave was as warm as it was during spring, and the décor was exceedingly luxurious. Therefore, it would seem that Beatrice’s life there had been pretty good.

In spite of that, Jared had no plans of letting Santiago off the hook. Ultimately, his mother had been confined there for a long time. If it were not for the man, he would have long since been able to meet his mother.

“It must have been difficult for you, Mom. I’ve killed Ryker and Edgar. I’ll never spare anyone who picked on you!” While saying that, he swung his eyes at Santiago, the look in them glacial.

“Don’t get things wrong, Jared! I didn’t do anything to your mother. I only kept her here out of consideration of her safety,” Santiago hastily clarified upon sensing the man’s murderous gaze.

“Indeed, Mr. Hargreaves didn’t do anything to me, Jared. Besides, things have been pretty good for me here all this time,” Beatrice seconded.

At her words, the murderous intent in Jared's eyes slowly faded. "I came to take you away from here to return to Jadeborough, Mom. When we arrive in the city, you can enjoy life," he declared. "Okay, I'll leave with you!" Beatrice nodded. Then, she turned her gaze to Cecilia and the others before asking, "Who are these girls?"

"They... They are..."

For a moment, Jared did not know how to introduce Cecilia and the others. "We're Jared's girlfriends, Mdm. Deragon. After you return to Jadeborough, you can enjoy life with peace of mind, and we'll take care of you," Cecilia chimed in graciously, slowly stepping forward.

"All of you?" Shock inundated Beatrice. But in the next heartbeat, it transformed into delight. With a smile adorning her face, she remarked, "Good, good. Great, in fact! Since you have so many girlfriends, do I have lots of grandchildren now?"

Jared lowered his head, not quite sure how to answer his mother. If I were to say she hasn't a single grandchild, would she be utterly disappointed?

Seeing that, Cecilia hurriedly spoke up for him, divulging, "Jared has never forgotten about you all this time, Mdm. Deragon. He vowed that he wouldn't bed us before saving you. Hence, we're still virgins right now."

When Beatrice heard that, she eyed Jared and chastised, "Don't you know how to weigh the situation, silly? Were you planning to remain childless for ten years if you couldn't save me for that long? Let's leave quickly. When we arrive back in Jadeborough, go all the way with them. With so many of them, I'll likely have many grandchildren at once."

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2410-At Beatrice's words, Cecilia and the others flushed bright red. Meanwhile, Beatrice was beyond eager to leave and return to Jadeborough. Just as Jared was going to leave with his mother, Santiago blocked his path.

Initially, he wanted to entrust Hailey to Jared since the latter seemed to be a decent man. Regretfully, there was a bevy of women by his side then.

However, if Hailey did not leave with Jared, their entire family would end up dead when Brad and Claus came tomorrow. In the end, he had no other choice but to implore, "I hope you can take Hailey with you, Jared. If she were to stay, she'd definitely lose her life."

He was familiar with his daughter's temperament and knew that she would never agree to marry Claus. Brad and Claus would surely slaughter them all for that. "I'm not leaving, Dad, I want to stay and keep you both company."

Hailey shook her head in demurrals. She liked Jared, but she had never imagined her would have so many women around him. For a moment, she could not accept it.

No matter what, she was the heiress of Violet Cloud Palace. Thus, she was somewhat averse to sharing a man with multiple women. Unbeknownst to her, all the women by his side were once heiresses as well. "Let Jared take you away, Hailey. It's meaningless for you to stay," Roanna coaxed.

Sobbing bitterly, Hailey hugged her mother tightly. Upon seeing that, Beatrice inquired, "What's going on here, Jared?" Jared proceeded to tell her the matter about Gate of Thunder's secret realm. A slight frown marred Beatrice's countenance.

"If you have a solution, Jared, do consider lending Mr. Hargreaves a hand," she appealed. In truth, Jared had not planned on saving Violet Cloud Palace, for as far as he knew, his mother was imprisoned by Santiago.

But right then, he had ascertained she had been living a pretty good life. On top of that, she proposed helping the man. For that reason, he gave a bob of his head.

"You should just leave, Jared. I'd be grateful if you could bring my daughter along and treat her well. Brad's capabilities are above mine.

That aside, he has appropriated the whole of Gate of Thunder's secret realm and has thousands of disciples under him. Even if you were to stay and help me, Violet Cloud Palace is no match for Waxing Crescent Castle."

Santiago dissuaded Jared from staying to help because he knew the latter's capabilities. Besides, even if Jared and his party were to do so, it would merely be a drop in the ocean.

“Mr. Hargreaves, I naturally have a way to deal with Brad. As for Waxing Crescent Castle’s thousands of disciples, I’ll figure out another solution.”

Jared had Divine Bow in hand, so it went without saying that he did not fear Brad. As for Waxing Crescent Castle’s thousands of disciples, he racked his brain for ideas.

“What solution could there be? Brad and Claus are coming tomorrow. There’s no time left.” Santiago shook his head in resignation. He no longer had the will to fight, merely hoping that his daughter would be able to survive.

“There must be a solution.” Determination was written all over Jared’s face. He then said to Cecilia, “Cecilia, Evangeline, you all stay and take care of my mother here. I’ll go and work something out.”

Cecilia and the others nodded while Beatrice urged, “Don’t put up a tough front if there’s nothing you can do, Jared. Your safety takes precedence.” “Don’t worry, Mom. I’ll accomplish any request from you, even if it means taking extreme measures!”

Having said that, Jared strode out. At that moment, he had to figure out where to get the sheer amount of backup needed. While he had a number of people in the mundane world, their capabilities were too low. If they were to come to the secret realm to battle, they would be nothing more than cannon fodder. That would be pointless.

In the hidden realm, Matthew and Yashur were relatively strong. Alas, their numbers were too few. It would be of little use for them to come over.

“Feenix? I can go to the demon beasts’ secret realm to look for her, then lead the demon beast army here to help.” All of a sudden, Jared thought of Feenix.

Ever since he fell into a coma after sustaining an injury and bedded her in his dreams, he had been worried about her. I wonder how she is right now after saving me.
