A Man Like None Other Chapter 2411-Jared went to a Teleportation Array and was transported to the demon beasts' secret realm right away. When the demon beasts in that secret realm sensed the arrival of a human being, they started stirring.

The auras of demon beasts drew increasingly nearer to him. But when the demon beasts had gotten close to him, they froze. With mighty roars, they then parted and welcomed him.

Amidst their roars, a gigantic bird on Demon Beast Mountain took to the sky before landing in front of the man. It flapped its wings, prompting him to hop on.

Jared leaped onto the bird. Subsequently, the bird soared up to the sky and flew toward Demon Beast Mountain. At the sight of the familiar hut, Jared jumped off the bird's back and rushed into the structure.

"Master!" Feenix was still in the hut without a stitch on her. She regarded the man with a smile on her face. Seeing that she was safe and sound, Jared inwardly breathed a sigh of relief.

"Was it you who saved me back when I sustained an injury and fell unconscious, Feenix?" he queried. He was in a coma at that time and knew nothing at all, merely postulating the chain of events later.

Feenix dipped her head in admission. "Left with no recourse back when you were injured, I could only force my soul and sense out before coupling with you to form the Power of Dragons and Phoenixes. It was only then that you could be healed, Master. I hope you don't hold it against me, for I had no choice!" Sure enough, I was intimate with her while unconscious. But then, I can't blame her either since she only did it to save me!

"I don't hold it against you. After all, you did it to save me," Jared reassured. A smile curved Feenix's lips when she saw that the man did not condemn her. She asked, "Is something the matter that you came here to the demon beasts' secret realm, Master?"

Jared swiftly explained the purpose of his visit. Unexpectedly, Feenix's expression turned somber after hearing it all. "What's wrong?" Jared questioned upon glimpsing the look on her face. "Master, I'm willing to do anything for you. But at present, I can no longer leave Demon Beast Mountain,” Feenix revealed.

“Why?” Jared asked in puzzlement. “In a bid to save you back then, Master, I gave my soul and sense up to be imprinted in you. As such, I’m defective now and am bound to this place,” Feenix explained.

Hearing that, Jared frowned slightly. “What should we do, then? I’ll return your soul and sense to you. I’ve got far more power now.” “You can return my soul and sense to me, Master. But... But we’ll have to again...”

Feenix flushed bright red as the words were stuck in her throat. Nonetheless, Jared understood her meaning at once, knowing that she meant that he would have to bed her again if he wanted to return her soul and sense.

“I got it.” Right after saying that, he pounced on her without an ounce of hesitation. It was not their first time anyway, and he gave free rein to his desires. Since he had saved his mother, he was determined to bed all the women around him. In a flash, the entire hut was enveloped in a golden light.

A dragon and phoenix soared into the sky. before flying circles above the hut. Countless demon beasts from Demon Beast Mountain flocked over from all directions, worshipping the dragon and phoenix in the sky with their eyes fixed on the two creatures.

Throughout it all, cries of pleasure drifted out of the hut. The dragon and phoenix hovered in the sky for a long time. It was only when the sounds from the hut ceased and the golden light slowly faded that they also gradually dissipated.

In the hut, Feenix nestled in Jared’s embrace with gratification etched across her features like a docile kitten. “Wait for my news. At that time, charge to Gate of Thunder’s secret realm with your demon: beast subordinates,” Jared instructed.

“Don’t worry, Master. Your wish is my command.” Feenix bobbed her head. Later, Jared got dressed and went back to Gate of Thunder’s secret realm.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2412-“How did it go, Jared? Have you come up with a plan yet?” Hailey anxiously asked when she saw that Jared had returned. If he can't do anything about it, Violet Cloud Palace will likely be doomed!

Santiago and Roanna likewise stared at Jared nervously. After all, no one wanted to die. If the man had a solution, they would not have to resign themselves to death anymore.

Holding Hailey's hopeful gaze, Jared nodded and replied, "Don't worry. If Brad and Claus dare to come tomorrow, I'll ensure they never leave here alive."

"Are you really confident of victory, Jared?" Santiago queried, not quite daring to believe it. "Of course. Since I've said as much, I certainly have the confidence to back it up!" Jared asserted confidently. At his confidence, relief suffused Santiago..

All that was left then was to await tomorrow's arrival. When night fell, Santiago asked Jared to spend the night at Violet Cloud Palace. Meanwhile, Beatrice and the others stayed at the cave as there would be a battle tomorrow. Despite being confident of victory, Jared would never be able to forgive himself if his mother were to be accidentally injured.

For that reason, he had Cecilia and the others protect her while he went to Violet Cloud Palace to deal with Brad and Claus, who would be coming tomorrow.

"Hailey, you're not young anymore. There are some things you need to understand. Although there are many women around Jared, he's a rare talent. You've got to seize this opportunity. If he can really help Violet Cloud Palace to overcome this crisis, we should also repay him. Do you get what your mother and I are trying to say?"

Both Santiago and Roanna were trying to counsel Hailey. Familiar with their daughter's temperament, they were worried that she would develop a sense of aversion toward Jared after seeing that he had many women. In response, Hailey nodded slowly. "Mom, Dad, I know what you both meant. Actually, I like him as well."

"Since you like him, you've got to be more proactive, silly. Tonight is a good time. If there were other women around him, when do you think it'd be your turn? You've got no experience at all, and that will put you at a great disadvantage at that time," Roanna quickly suggested. Hailey's face turned crimson. Biting her lower lip hard, she abruptly shot to her feet and mumbled, "I know what to do now."

After saying that, she left the room. Santiago and Roanna looked at each other and smiled. Right then, Jared was lying in bed, devising a plan to deal with Brad and Claus tomorrow.

Out of the blue, his room door was lightly pushed open. On the heels of that, a feminine fragrance wafted into the air. Without having to look, he could tell who it was. Feigning sleep, he closed his eyes.

Hailey walked up to Jared in her birthday suit. As she gazed down at the man, who was already asleep, hesitation played on her face. But in the end, she gritted her teeth and lay down beside him before slipping under his covers. She rested her head against his chest. Only then did a sense of security engulf her.

Jared, on the other hand, enjoyed the scent of her feminine fragrance and the smoothness of her tender skin. Having had a taste of pleasure, he could no longer suppress the desire blazing within him. Flipping over, he pinned her under him. Panic swamped Hailey. Just when she was about to speak, Jared captured her lips.

"Ahh!" A cry of pleasure rang out from Jared's room and reverberated around the entire Violet Cloud Palace. The instant Santiago and Roanna heard that, they could tell that it was their daughter's voice.

They both breathed a sigh of relief and swung their gazes in the direction of Jared's room. The room glowed with a golden light so strong that it blanketed almost the whole Violet Cloud Palace.

As Santiago gaped at the blinding golden light, amazement showed on his face. "Jared is really something else. It seems that we made the right choice," he murmured.

"Exactly! I could already tell at first glance that he was far from being a simple man!" Roanna was all smiles, looking like a mother-in-law who was increasingly pleased with her son-in-law.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2413-The following day, Brad and his son arrived at Violet Cloud Palace once more as Hailey didn't show up despite a long wait. "Santiago, how dare you fool me? It's too late even if you agree to hand us your daughter now. I'm going to destroy the entire Violet Cloud Palace!" Brad exclaimed angrily, feeling deceived.

On the other hand, Santiago was no longer afraid of Brad, as Jared had promised to protect them. Snorting, he responded, "Brad, do you think you have the ability to destroy Violet Cloud Palace? Dream on!"

Brad was taken aback, and his expression turned into a frown. "Seems like you've found someone to support you. Otherwise, you wouldn't have dared speak to me like this. But let me make one thing clear: no matter who comes to your aid, you won't leave here alive unless you submit to the Evil Heart Sect. No one can save you!" "Really? Can I save him, then?"

Right then, Jared strode out, holding Hailey's hand. Hailey's cheeks were flushed red, and she looked feminine. It was apparent what change she underwent last night.

"Hailey, you..."

Claus was livid to see Jared and Hailey holding hands. "Jared?" Brad's surprise was evident as he laid eyes on Jared. After all, Jared had showcased his impressive abilities during the Secret Realm Conference in front of everyone's eyes.

"Santiago, don't tell me you've grown arrogant just because this young man is here to assist you. With his current abilities, I can easily crush him with one hand," Brad remarked dismissively.

Jared's performance at the Secret Realm Conference may have been commendable, showcasing his capabilities, but it was merely at contest among young individuals. Brad assumed that Jared wouldn't be able to match his own strength.

Alas, Brad had no idea Jared wasn't the same person as he was a few months ago. Jared had reached the level of a Top Level Compounder and possessed the powerful Divine Bow, so he had the upper hand and could easily defeat Brad.

Instead of replying to him, Santiago turned to look at Jared. He didn't know the extent of Jared's strength and whether or not Jared was capable of defeating Brad. Besides, Brad had brought along hundreds of disciples, while Jared was alone.

"You can try to crush me to my death with one hand then. See what happens," Jared declared with a cold smirk. "If you have a death wish, I'll take your life first before destroying Violet Cloud Palace." Brad's narrowed eyes emitted an icy glint as he prepared to take Jared down.

"Dad!" Yet, his son Claus intervened, stopping Brad in his tracks. Claus then turned his furious gaze toward Hailey. "Hailey, we've been childhood sweethearts. You know how deeply I love you. If you agree to marry me, I'll do everything in my power to convince my father to spare Violet Cloud Palace. I don't get it. How is Jared better than me?" he hollered, on the verge of losing his sanity.

"Claus, just give up. I belong to Jared now," Hailey responded as she gave Jared a shy look. It was clear that Jared had won her heart last night. Claus was struck with disbelief.

"No, that's impossible. You must be lying to me. You're not a loose woman. For years, you didn't even let me hold your hand. You're an innocent girl, aren't you?" he demanded incredulously. refusing to believe that Hailey had slept with Jared.

"Wake up, Claus. I didn't let you hold my hand because I never liked you. I'm willing to sacrifice everything for the man I love!" Hailey's answer successfully provoked Claus.

"Ah!" Claus roared like a madman. "Jared, I will kill you and tear you to pieces!"

With that, Claus unleashed his aura completely and charged toward Jared. "Ha!" Jared's icy snort filled the air. Without glancing at Claus, he swiftly raised his leg and unleashed a powerful flying kick aimed directly at Claus.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2414-Claus' body was sent flying backward before crashing heavily onto the ground. "My son!" Shocked, Brad quickly went after him.

Santiago stared at Jared in astonishment, his eyes widening in disbelief. He had no inkling that Jared had attained such extraordinary strength. Though Claus was not the most formidable young martial artist, he still possessed considerable skill. Yet, Jared effortlessly sent him hurtling through the air without even bothering to direct his gaze toward him. It was a clear testament to Jared's exceptional prowess.

Hailey gazed at Jared, clearly besotted with him. Oh, Jared is so hot! "My son! Oh, my son! I will kill everyone here!" Brad's anguished cry reverberated throughout the area. The sheer intensity of his aura was so overwhelming that it caused the nearby houses to tremble and shake.

Santiago and the others rushed outside, only to be greeted by a harrowing sight. Claus lay motionless on the ground, his lifeless body covered in blood as his eyes stared blankly into the distance. Santiago could barely hide his shock. Did Jared kill Claus with a mere kick?

"Jared, I'll rip you into pieces! I swear I will!" Brad hollered as a terrifying aura emanated from his body. Slowly, a black mark appeared in the middle of Brad's forehead. The entire sky turned dark as black mist filled the sky.

Brad's clothes were ripped apart as a purple robe emerged on his body. His face became blurry as a black mist descended on his head. "A purple-robed emissary?" Jared's lips curved when he noticed Brad's outfit. "Perfect. Today, I shall settle the long-standing grudge between me and the Evil Heart Sect once and for all."

"Jared, don't be arrogant. You're only alive at the moment because the Spiritual Energy Restoration Formation needs you. Once the formation is activated, and your divine soul is used as sacrifice, you'll suffer a fate worse than death."

Brad glared at Jared coldly, his entire being shrouded in the black mist, looking like a devil. "Spiritual Energy Restoration Formation?" Jared was confused, not knowing what he meant by that formation.

Right then, Santiago explained, "The Spiritual Energy Restoration Formation has been in existence for a considerable period. It was initially established by the leader of the Divine Quest Sect. However, before its activation, the entire Divine Quest Sect was mysteriously annihilated. The activation of this formation requires the participation of eight individuals with unique constitutions, combined with a unique incantation. I am unsure why the Evil Heart Sect possesses the capability to activate this formation.”

As Santiago’s words sank in, Jared’s mind quickly connected the dots and recalled the events that unfolded in the Divine Quest Sect’s secret realm. Josephine and the others were trapped there with a few individuals possessing unique constitutions. It suddenly dawned on Jared why the Evil Heart Sect was so desperate to capture them all.

Furthermore, Jared himself possessed a unique constitution, making him a valuable target. The memories of the stone statues within the cave of the secret realm resurfaced, and Jared instinctively knew that those statues must be related to the activation of the formation.

“It turns out that the Evil Heart Sect has been behind this elaborate scheme all along. They want to conquer the entire mundane world,” Jared said slowly.

“Ha! That isn’t it. Our goal isn’t just to conquer the mundane world,” Brad revealed with an icy snort. “No matter what goal you have in mind, it won’t succeed. Today will be the day you meet your doom,” Jared declared.

He slowly began to unleash his aura. However, Jared’s aura wasn’t as strong as Brad’s. “I can’t believe you have the audacity to challenge me,” Brad sneered.

He reached into the air, and the black mist turned into a hammer in his hand! The hammer gave off a chilly vibe, seemingly able to freeze the air surrounding it.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2415-Brad leaped into the air and thrust his hammer at Jared. The surrounding air turned white, pinning Jared to his spot.

“Jared!” Hailey screamed, intending to help him. She had not expected that Jared would be at a disadvantage the minute the fight began.

As Jared’s beloved, she refused to remain a passive observer while Jared faced the threat of death. If fate dictated that Jared would meet his demise, she would willingly die alongside him. Santiago grabbed Hailey as he knew she would die if she were to join the fight.

“Don’t go, Hailey. I’ll do it,” he said. Santiago decided to save Jared. He might not be as capable as Brad, but he was determined to save Jared at all costs.

Right when Santiago was about to take action, he discovered red bursts of flames appearing around Jared. The initially frozen space immediately cracked. Jared swung his Dragonslayer Sword upward, and a horrifying light charged toward Brad.

Boom! With a deafening blast, the hammer composed of swirling black mist shattered into countless fragments, and the sheer force of the impact propelled Brad forcefully backward, his body hurtling through the air. Jared snorted icily and declared, “How dare you threaten to kill me with your mere ability?”

Sent hurtling through the air, Brad crashed onto the ground, staggering a few steps backward before finally coming to a halt. “How can you possess such unimaginable power?” he demanded in disbelief.

Santiago grew excited when he saw Jared backing Brad into a corner with just one move. I made the right decision by allowing Hailey to be with Jared. The young man has a bright future ahead of him!

“You’re the one who is too weak,” Jared declared, raising his Dragonslayer Sword. As the golden light soared into the air, Jared brandished his sword and directed its tip downward, unleashing a mighty force.

The surging light surged forth like an unstoppable tsunami, catapulting toward Brad with unparalleled intensity, ready to engulf him completely. Veins popped out of Brad’s face as he sensed the surmounting pressure. He began to howl, “I’m not weak! I’m the strongest!”

With a swift and forceful motion, his palm struck the air with a resounding slap, causing a shockwave to ripple through the sky. In response, a chilling howl pierced the air, and the dark mist coalesced into the form of a menacing and ferocious dog that was descending from above.

The creature’s piercing howl resonated with destructive power, easily shattering Jared’s golden light. Brad leaped into the air to stand on the dog’s body, towering above Jared.

“Jared, this is a hellhound. No one can escape from its jaws,” Brad declared frostily. “Ha! This entity made of negative energy hardly deserves to be called a hellhound. It's quite amusing that you would even attempt to claim such a title," Jared retorted, his confidence unshaken.

"You have a death wish!" Brad immediately commanded the hellhound to attack Jared. The hellhound let out a roar, and frosty energy emanated from its body to freeze the surrounding air. A thick layer of frost emerged around Jared, trapping him within.

This time, the frost was stronger than the one Brad created earlier. As Santiago and Hailey observed the unfolding situation, their concern for Jared intensified. They had underestimated Brad's abilities and were caught off guard by his unexpected maneuver.

As Brad rode on the back of the hellhound, closing in on the immobile Jared, a sharp cry echoed through the sky, piercing the tense atmosphere.

A blazing phoenix appeared above Jared's head, its huge body shielding Jared from danger. As the phoenix flapped its wings, the frosty energy, along with the frost covering Jared's body, disappeared in an instant.

"That is a phoenix!" Hailey exclaimed excitedly. Santiago was taken aback, unable to comprehend why a phoenix would unexpectedly appear to aid Jared in his dire situation.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2416-A look of disbelief crossed Brad's face when he saw the phoenix flapping its wings. Jared's phoenix was a real creature, embodying the essence of a majestic phoenix, while Brad's hellhound was nothing more than a manifestation of negative energy.

"Jared, I can't believe you received help from a phoenix, which is a mythical beast." Brad couldn't figure out why Jared was able to obtain help from a mythical beast with his current cultivation level.

After all, phoenixes only existed in the Ethereal Realm or the Immortal Realm. After successfully resolving Jared's predicament, the phoenix gracefully circled in the air, taking a human form as it touched the ground next to Jared.

Everyone could barely hide their shock at seeing the phoenix turning into a young woman. After all, any beasts, including both demon beasts and mythical beasts, would need to possess incredible power to be able to transform into human form.

“Master, how dare this hellhound bully you? Let me destroy it!” Feenix declared. With a graceful wave of her arms, Feenix summoned balls of blazing fire from the heavens above. These fiery orbs descended swiftly, their intense heat and power aimed directly at the colossal hellhound.

Before the hellhound could even let out a single howl, the balls of fire struck their mark. Within moments, the hellhound transformed into a dissipating cloud of black mist, vanishing completely from sight.

“Brad, if you have other tricks, feel free to try them!” Jared announced, staring at a completely dumbfounded Brad. Brad was sporting a grim look. “Jared, you made me do this!” he hollered. Without warning, he spat a mouthful of blood onto the ground.

As the blood seeped into the ground, a profound tremor reverberated through the earth. A deep crack emerged beneath Brad’s feet, rapidly expanding in all directions. From the depths of the crack, a swirling mass of black mist emerged, followed by five towering figures.

The five demon beasts possessed an ominous. aura, their entire bodies shrouded in darkness. Negative energy emanated from their snarling mouths:

“Jared, these aren’t demon beasts formed by negative energy. They are real demon beasts from hell. Even if you have a phoenix’s help, you won’t be able to escape!” Brad declared vehemently as the five demon beasts surrounded Jared and Feenix. Seeing that, Santiago tried to step forward to offer help, but Jared stopped him from doing so.

“Mr. Hargreaves, just you wait and see. You don’t have to take action against Waxing Crescent Castle as I am perfectly capable of doing so, Jared announced confidently. He showed no fear even when five demon beasts from hell were standing right before him.

“Jared, you’ve already slept with Hailey. Why are you still addressing Santiago as Mr. Hargreaves? That’s too formal. I’m already waiting for the arrival of my grandchildren,” Roanna told Jared. Hailey’s cheeks turned pink. “Mom, what are you talking about?” Feenix turned her gaze toward Jared, who bore a slightly embarrassed expression.

“I want to give birth to a baby dragon for you too,” she told him in a low voice. Jared hung his head, not knowing what else to say. When Brad realized that Jared wasn’t nervous or worried at all despite being surrounded by so many demon beasts from hell, he flew into a fit of rage.

“Jared, I can’t believe you’re still flirting around when you’re about to meet your doom. I’ll send you to hell to keep my son company!” he uttered menacingly.

With that, he directed the five demon beasts from hell to attack Jared and Feenix. Feenix cast Brad a contemptuous look. “How dare mere demon beasts show my master disrespect?”

Her screech pierced through the air, casting a dark shroud upon the sky while the air trembled in response. From within the depths of the darkness, more than a dozen eerie shadows emerged. Eagles, leopards, tigers....

They were demon beasts with exceptionally strong auras! The demon beasts, which appeared out of nowhere, created an instant protective circle around Jared and Feenix.

Roar! Brad stood in stunned silence as the deafening roars of the newly arrived demon beasts echoed through the air, instilling fear in his own five demon beasts from hell. He was left utterly bewildered by the unexpected turn of events.

“A-Aren’t these demon beasts from the demon beasts’ secret realm? Why are they here?” Brad couldn’t understand why the demon beasts from the demon beasts’ secret realm would leave their secret realm.

Most of these demon beasts had become sentient and could understand human language. However, they couldn’t travel using the Teleportation Array. He was baffled to see them at Gate of Thunder’s secret realm.

“These demon beasts are my lackeys and listen to my orders. They are stronger than your unsightly foolish creatures, no?” Jared sneered.

“How is this possible? These demon beasts are from the demon beasts’ secret realm. Why would they listen to you?” Brad refused to believe that the demon beasts would listen to Jared obediently.

“If you don’t believe me, I’ll show you!”

With that, Jared turned to the huge demon beasts and ordered, “Attack and annihilate those black creatures!”

Hearing his order, the demon beasts roared out loud and sprang into action.

The five demon beasts from hell, realizing their inferiority, scattered in all directions, desperately attempting to escape through the crack in the ground.

However, the newly arrived demon beasts were relentless in their pursuit. Within a matter of minutes, the once formidable demon beasts summoned by Brad were reduced to nothing more than a pile of bones.

A complicated look took over Brad’s face as he stared at the pile of bones.

In the end, he sighed out loud and uttered, “Jared, your abilities have indeed surpassed my expectations. However, your attempts to save Violet Cloud Palace are futile. The Evil Heart Sect will be the sole sect that reigns over the mundane world and the Eight Major Secret Realms. With over a thousand disciples under my command, even if I were to destroy the Gate of Thunder’s secret realm, I won’t allow you to leave this place. Disciples of Waxing Crescent Castle, heed my command!”

Over a thousand disciples from Waxing Crescent Castle swarmed toward them and responded loudly, “Yes!”

The unified shout from over a thousand individuals sent a shiver down the spines of those from Violet Cloud Palace, causing their legs to quiver with fear.

Santiago’s face turned pale as he listened to the resounding cry. Jared might be capable and had the assistance of Feenix and the demon beasts, but the sheer number of over a thousand opponents was enough to make him realize that Jared would be overwhelmed and exhausted if he had to face them all.

A cold smile curled upon Jared’s lips as he cast a contemptuous glance at the disciples of Waxing Crescent Castle.

His eyes then met Feenix's, and a subtle nod passed between them. They shared a telepathic connection, understanding each other's thoughts without uttering a single word.

Feenix let out a low growl.

The demon beasts surrounding her raised their heads and roared in unison. Following their roars, the ground of Gate of Thunder's secret realm began to tremble violently.

A swirling sandstorm emerged, bearing a horrifying aura that transformed into powerful gusts of wind. The force was so intense that it became a struggle for everyone to maintain their footing.

"What is this? What terrifying aura!" Santiago hugged Hailey tightly to protect her.

Brad bore a grim expression as he watched the sandstorm approaching them.

Soon, the sandstorm faded away, revealing a vast sea of demon beasts.

Brad froze in shock as he had never seen this many demon beasts in his life!

Did they summon all the demon beasts from the demon beasts' secret realm?

The disciples of Waxing Crescent Castle stared at the endless sea of demon beasts, their legs trembling in fear.

Some cowardly disciples even peed their pants!

"Brad, you might outnumber us, but my demon beast lackeys can put up a fight," Jared said smugly.

Brad's expression turned as dark as thunder.

He retreated instinctively, knowing he was no match for the sea of demon beasts even with his over one thousand disciples present.

Realizing Brad was about to make his escape, Jared gave Feenix a look.

Feenix nodded and waved her hand. "Attack!"

Countless demon beasts roared out loud before charging toward Waxing Crescent Castle's disciples.

At once, the atmosphere within the Gate of Thunder's secret realm turned into a nightmarish hell, filled with agonizing screams that echoed through the air.

Chaos ensued as disciples from Waxing Crescent Castle scrambled to escape, only to be relentlessly pursued by hordes of ferocious demon beasts.

Brad's face paled with fright when he saw that, and he spun around and started running.

"You can't escape!"

Jared leaped into the air and landed a hard kick on Brad's back, causing him to fall.

Boom!

The latter landed with a resounding crash, creating a deep crater on the ground as a cloud of smoke billowed into the air.

Santiago and the others were dumbfounded by the scene before them, not knowing what to do.

Thousands of people were being chased and torn apart by demon beasts. Howls of agony filled the air, and the ground was littered with disembodied limbs. Hailey could not help but close her eyes when she saw the gruesome scene.

Santiago was initially unconvinced that Jared could hold back Waxing Crescent Castle. Yet, not only did the latter achieve that, but he practically even wiped them out.

He even took down Brad with ease!

The strength Jared had displayed completely defied Santiago's expectations. The latter had no idea what Jared had gone through in the past few months to enhance his ability so swiftly.

Brad stood up from the deep crater, covered in blood and looking disheveled.

"Jared, I am a purple-robed emissary of the Evil Heart Sect. Should you dare to kill me, Lord Tanner will make sure your girlfriend in the secret realm suffers a horrible death!"

Brad brought up Josephine to threaten Jared.

After all, she was trapped in Divine Quest Sect's secret realm, and the members of the Evil Heart Sect could attack her and the others at any time.

"Have you forgotten what you just said, Brad? They will not be in danger before the Spiritual Energy Restoration Formation is activated. Lord Tanner would never destroy his life's work for you, either!"

Jared was well aware that Josephine and the others with unique constitutions were critical to the Spiritual Energy Restoration Formation, so the Evil Heart Sect would be reluctant to kill them.

Brad's expression contorted when he realized he could not deceive Jared.

With my current state of injury, I'm not Jared's match!

"Looks like I'll just have to ask for help..."

After saying that, Brad took out a black token from his pocket, which was so dark that the writing on it was impossible to read.

He drew a drop of blood essence from his forehead, which was then absorbed by the token.

The token emitted bursts of burning flames, and a figure slowly emerged from the flames.

The figure was dressed in black robes and seemed to be in a void as it was impossible to make out their features.

However, as soon as the figure appeared, a terrifyingly malicious aura enveloped the entire Gate of Thunder's secret realm.

Even the demon beasts stopped fighting and turned to stare in horror at the figure.

“Master, this person’s aura is far too strong!” Feenix said to Jared with a grim expression after noticing the newcomer.

Jared, too, felt the aura, and at that moment, the Ultimate Force began surging within him.

He furrowed his brows slightly, wondering why his Ultimate Force was reacting to the figure’s appearance with such intensity.

“Greetings, Lord Tanner!”

Brad quickly dropped to his knees upon seeing the figure.

When Jared heard that, the muscles on his face began to twitch, and he clenched his fists tightly.

Never before had he been this close to the supreme being of the Evil Heart Sect.

Santiago was also sporting a grim expression. He did not expect the strength of Evil Heart Sect’s Tanner to be so terrifying. I’m afraid there’s not a single person in the Eight Major Secret Realms who could go up against him!

“You worthless piece of trash! You can’t even handle such trivial matters. The other secret realms have already finished, yet, you’re still dillydallying and had to summon me over...” Tanner admonished Brad in a deep voice as the latter knelt on the ground, trembling all over.

“I’ll take care of this. You can leave now...”

Tanner waved his hand, gesturing for Brad to leave.

The latter hurriedly stood up, spun on his heel, and left.

“Did I say you could leave?”

When Jared noticed Brad leaving, he leaped into the air to pursue him.

Seeing that, Tanner gently waved his hand, and a massive force instantly flung Jared away.

“If it weren’t for the Spiritual Energy Restoration Formation needing you, do you think you would have survived until now, brat?” Tanner said contemptuously as he stared at Jared.

The latter returned Tanner’s stare, his right fist clenched tightly as the Power of Dragons within him surged to the extreme.

“Sacred Light Fist!” Jared roared.

There was a flash of dazzling golden light, and a massive golden dragon appeared.

The dragon’s aura gushed out with a mighty roar, heading straight for Tanner.

“You still wish to resist?”

Surprisingly, Tanner was unfazed by the golden dragon.

He merely waved his hand lightly again, and his aura surged forth to collide with the dragon’s aura.

Boom!

Following a thunderous explosion, the golden dragon vanished, and Jared was sent flying back by the immense rebound force.

Even if Jared threw a punch with all his strength, he could not fight back against Tanner.

However, when his body was sent flying high into the air, a magical bow suddenly appeared in his hand.

Gathering the Ultimate Force to the center of his palm, Jared drew the Divine Bow.

Countless spiritual energies converged upon the Divine Bow, forming a golden arrow.

Santiago and the others were stunned when they saw the Divine Bow appearing in Jared's hand, disbelief written all over their faces.

This was because the aura emanating from the bow was enough to crush all of them!

Tanner, too, was slightly taken aback when Jared pulled out the Divine Bow.

Whoosh!

Before anyone could react, Jared shot an arrow.

The golden arrow shot out at breakneck speed like a shooting star, trailed by a raging flame.

However, it was not aimed at Tanner but at Brad, who had already run more than ten miles.

At that moment, the latter was still rejoicing over his escape.

Even so, he knew that he had used up his last life-saving token, and his status in the Evil Heart Sect would be inferior to the other purple-robed emissaries in the future.

Brad had no idea there were purple-robed emissaries in every secret realm. To this day, he still did not know the true identities of the other purple-robed emissaries.

All of a sudden, he sensed a dangerous aura approaching, the overwhelming sense of oppression causing him to turn around.

The very instant he did that, he saw a dazzling golden light heading toward him.

Before he could react, the light penetrated his body.

Brad's eyes widened as he looked down at his body in disbelief.

He was not physically injured, nor did he feel any pain.

Brad froze, and before he understood what was going on, his body suddenly began to swell.

Boom!

Following a resounding explosion, Brad's body was blown to bits. Even his soul did not remain, and he could never recreate his body.

Jared stared at the smoke from the explosion at a distance with a hint of a smile on his lips as his body slowly fell.

Even though Jared had made a move on Tanner earlier, he did not think he could defeat the latter. All he wanted was to make Tanner lower his guard so that he could attack Brad without him expecting it.

Meanwhile, Tanner instantly understood what was going on upon hearing the explosion in the distance, but there were no signs of anger on his face.

"The Divine Bow. I didn't think you would obtain the Divine Bow... Looks like those old geezers like you. They even passed on the Ultimate Force to you!"

Tanner sounded somewhat surprised.

"Cut the crap and come at me!"

Jared drew the bow, and another arrow appeared.

Tanner burst out laughing. "Hahaha! I already said I wouldn't kill you, so why would I do anything? Once the Spiritual Energy Restoration Formation activates, you will come to realize that you are nothing but a clown!"

He then slowly faded away after saying that.

Jared slumped to the ground after Tanner was gone. He had sustained internal injuries after that clash with Tanner earlier.

"Master!"

"Jared!"

Feenix, Hailey, and Santiago rushed toward him.

“Don’t worry, you guys! I’m fine!” Jared reassured them with a smile and a wave.

Santiago shuddered in fear as he exclaimed, “Tanner is way too powerful! I felt as though I couldn’t even move a muscle when facing him earlier!”

“That was just one of his shadow clones. The real Tanner is probably a lot more powerful!” Jared said.

Everyone fell silent upon hearing that. If Tanner really is that powerful, then Jared is no match for him at all!

Having witnessed Tanner’s power, Jared realized that he probably wouldn’t stand a chance even with his Divine Bow.

Tanner is just as powerful as those demons! Judging by what he said earlier, I bet he knows them as well!

“Just who is Tanner of Evil Heart Sect?” Jared mumbled to himself and fell into deep thought.

Beatrice, Cecilia, and the others showed up by then. Fearing for Jared’s safety, they came running over immediately after hearing the commotion.

“Jared! Are you okay?” Beatrice asked worriedly when she saw the weary look on his face.

“I’m fine, Mom!” Jared replied with a smile.

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief when they saw that Jared was fine.

Santiago had wanted to have Jared rest at Violet Cloud Palace for a few more days before leaving, but Jared was in such a hurry to return to Jadeborough that he didn’t even stay over.

Jared then had Feenix lead the demon beasts back into their secret realm. He knew that he would still require Feenix’s help in the future, as he had only dealt with one out of the Eight Major Secret Realms.

“You’re one of Jared’s women now, Hailey. Remember to serve him well and curb that temper of yours,” Roanna reminded Hailey.

Hailey nodded. “I will, Mom!”

After saying goodbye to Santiago and Roanna, Jared and the others teleported back to Jadeborough.

When Beatrice returned to the Deragon residence, she saw that it had been given a complete makeover. As for Deragon Sect, it had become the largest sect in all of Jadeborough.

Beatrice was incredibly happy when she saw Jared's accomplishments.

Cecilia knew that Jared and Beatrice would have a lot to talk about since they were finally reunited, so she led the girls away to give them some space.

Jared and Beatrice spent the entire night catching up.

"Mom, what kind of person was my father like? I'm really curious because a lot of people have been calling me 'the son of a dragon.' What does that mean? Also, Mr. Draco said my father left us. Is that true?" Jared asked.

He was genuinely curious about the kind of person his father was.

Jared wanted to know why his father had abandoned them and got Beatrice confined in the Deragon residence for over twenty years.

Beatrice went into deep thought after hearing that.

Jared figured he had triggered some sad memories when he saw how quiet Beatrice had gotten. "It's okay if you don't feel like talking about it, Mom. I'm just glad that we're finally reunited."

Granddad might still be alive today if it weren't for this as well!

"It's nothing I can't talk about..." Beatrice glanced out the window as she continued, "Your father was a great hero, so please don't hate him. He must have had his reasons for abandoning us. That Dragon Ring and your cultivation technique belonged to your father. I know he must be someone of great importance, but I never asked who he truly was. Regardless, nothing he did will change the fact that he is your father."
