

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2740

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2740-In Imperial Beast City, Tigerus was released from the water dungeon.

He organized a banquet in his residence and invited Yuven and Ivasha for dinner.

“You punished Tigerus, so why is he inviting us for dinner, Dad? Doesn’t he hold a grudge against you?” Ivasha asked in puzzlement.

“Perhaps he realized he was wrong and wanted to apologize by inviting us to a meal,” Yuven answered.

Ivasha frowned. “I think Tigerus has changed. Also, Xandros left without so much as greeting us!”

“All right, don’t be so paranoid. Tigerus has been my subordinate for years. I know what kind of person he is. He’s just a brute devoid of any schemes. Otherwise, I wouldn’t have allowed him to keep his position as general for years. That’s a very important position, you know. I doubt anything will happen during our meal.” Yuven smiled.

“I hope so. I can’t help but think it’s a trap.”

Yuven laughed. “What trap? This is Imperial Beast City! Do you think anyone will dare to harm me here?”

He was confident that no one would dare to lay a finger on him in his own territory.

Ivasha kept quiet. Perhaps I was overthinking it and that Tigerus isn’t harboring any ill intentions.

Yuven brought Ivasha to Tigerus’ residence.

Tigerus had been waiting at the entrance. When he spotted Yuven and Ivasha, he welcomed them excitedly.

“I’m happy that you accepted my invitation, Your Majesty. I was afraid you weren’t coming because you were upset with me,” said Tigerus humbly.

“That’s not the case at all! You’ve been my subordinate for years. I’m familiar with your personality. I know you’re rash, but you should consider the consequences when you do something in the future.” Yuven patted Tigerus’ shoulder.

“I will keep this in mind, Your Majesty. Please, come in.” Tigerus gestured for his guests to enter.

Ivasha and Yuven arrived in the dining room and spotted a table full of dishes. Tigerus enthusiastically entertained his guests. Yuven was so delighted that he drank some alcohol with Tigerus.

Ivasha was wary about the whole situation at first, but she soon lowered her guard when she saw that nothing was going on.

After the meal, Yuven and Ivasha left Tigerus' residence.

It wasn't until Ivasha arrived back in the palace that her heart was completely put at ease.

"See? I told you nothing would happen. Tigerus is a loyal man. He won't harm me. You should head to sleep now. Goodnight!" said Yuven before he staggered back to his room.

Clearly, he was a little drunk.

Ivasha returned to her room.

At that moment, Tigerus was staring at the palace coldly.

A figure slowly appeared and said to Tigerus, "How did it go, Mighty Tigerus? Did you do it?"

"Don't worry, Xandros. Princess Ivasha and His Majesty have consumed the drugged dishes. Tomorrow, the effect will kick in!"

"Good. The soldiers I brought here with me are already in place. Once the drug acts up, I'll attack Imperial Beast City while you aid us from within. When that time comes, Imperial Beast City will be ours!" Excitement was scribbled all over Xandros' countenance.

"Yes. Tomorrow, I'll ask my men to be ready. We'll kill whoever dares to oppose me!" A cold glint flashed past Tigerus' eyes.

He had truly turned evil, as he had even started treating his own people cruelly.

Xandros laughed, then his figure vanished into the darkness.

In Imperial Beast City, Tigerus was released from the water dungeon.

He organized a banquet in his residence and invited Yuven and Ivasha for dinner.

"You punished Tigerus, so why is he inviting us for dinner, Dad? Doesn't he hold a grudge against you?" Ivasha asked in puzzlement.

"Perhaps he realized he was wrong and wanted to apologize by inviting us to a meal," Yuven answered.

Ivasha frowned. "I think Tigerus has changed. Also, Xandros left without so much as greeting us!"

"All right, don't be so paranoid. Tigerus has been my subordinate for years. I know what kind of person he is. He's just a brute devoid of any schemes. Otherwise, I wouldn't have allowed him to keep his position as general for years. That's a very important position, you know. I doubt anything will happen during our meal." Yuven smiled.

"I hope so. I can't help but think it's a trap."

Yuven laughed. "What trap? This is Imperial Beast City! Do you think anyone will dare to harm me here?"

He was confident that no one would dare to lay a finger on him in his own territory.

Ivasha kept quiet. Perhaps I was overthinking it and that Tigerus isn't harboring any ill intentions.

Yuven brought Ivasha to Tigerus' residence.

Tigerus had been waiting at the entrance. When he spotted Yuven and Ivasha, he welcomed them excitedly.

"I'm happy that you accepted my invitation, Your Majesty. I was afraid you weren't coming because you were upset with me," said Tigerus humbly.

"That's not the case at all! You've been my subordinate for years. I'm familiar with your personality. I know you're rash, but you should consider the consequences when you do something in the future." Yuven patted Tigerus' shoulder.

"I will keep this in mind, Your Majesty. Please, come in." Tigerus gestured for his guests to enter.

Ivasha and Yuven arrived in the dining room and spotted a table full of dishes.

Tigerus enthusiastically entertained his guests. Yuven was so delighted that he drank some alcohol with Tigerus.

Ivasha was wary about the whole situation at first, but she soon lowered her guard when she saw that nothing was going on.

After the meal, Yuven and Ivasha left Tigerus' residence.

It wasn't until Ivasha arrived back in the palace that her heart was completely put at ease.

"See? I told you nothing would happen. Tigerus is a loyal man. He won't harm me. You should head to sleep now. Goodnight!" said Yuven before he staggered back to his room.

Clearly, he was a little drunk.

Ivasha returned to her room.

At that moment, Tigerus was staring at the palace coldly.

A figure slowly appeared and said to Tigerus, "How did it go, Mighty Tigerus? Did you do it?"

"Don't worry, Xandros. Princess Ivasha and His Majesty have consumed the drugged dishes. Tomorrow, the effect will kick in!"

"Good. The soldiers I brought here with me are already in place. Once the drug acts up, I'll attack Imperial Beast City while you aid us from within. When that time comes, Imperial Beast City will be ours!" Excitement was scribbled all over Xandros' countenance.

“Yes. Tomorrow, I’ll ask my men to be ready. We’ll kill whoever dares to oppose me!” A cold glint flashed past Tigerus’ eyes. He had truly turned evil, as he had even started treating his own people cruelly. Xandros laughed, then his figure vanished into the darkness.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2741

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2741-The next morning, Yuven was woken up by a loud commotion. and he was displeased.

“Who’s making all the noise outside? I can’t sleep for—”

“Bad news, Your Majesty!” Julius rushed into Yuven’s chamber in a panic. Typically, without Yuven’s permission, no one was allowed to enter his chamber. However, Julius had just barged in without hesitation.

“What’s going on, Mr. Poulsen? What happened?” Yuven knew something had happened when he spotted the look on Julius’ face.

“I bring terrible news, Your Majesty! Xandros is leading an army from Norwal City to attack Imperial Beast City!”

“What?” Yuven sprang up from the bed when he heard that. “Is Xandros the only one leading the army? Is King Lucian with him?”

“I didn’t see King Lucian. Tigerus is holding off the attackers with the royal guards!”

Yuven sighed in relief. “It’s been over two years since a conflict of this scale took place. What is Xandros trying to do? There’s no way he can defeat us without his father’s aid.” I don’t believe he can take down Imperial Beast City on his own with an army! If he can, then it’s time for someone else to take my place!

“What’s happening, Father?” asked Ivasha after she was woken up by the noise outside too.

“Xandros is attacking Imperial Beast City with his army,” Yuven answered.

“What? Is he crazy? Is it because I refused to marry him?” Ivasha was shocked because she didn’t expect Xandros to be that bold.

“Let’s save the speculation for later and check out the situation for now. If Xandros is attacking rashly because of a grudge, then I’ll punish him a little and forget about it. However, if this is something he has been planning for a long while, and his father is aware of it, then it’s an official declaration of war between our two cities!”

Yuven hurriedly headed toward the gate with Ivasha.

At that moment, outside the humongous gate, Xandros was leading an army of soldiers and generals from above an elephant more than ten meters tall.

Tigerus was leading the royal guards, standing by and staring at the army before them.

When he spotted Yuven, he warned, "This place is too dangerous, Your Majesty. You should return to the palace!"

"I'm not in danger if Xandros is the only one leading the army here. He can do nothing to me!" Yuven said arrogantly.

Standing on top of the city wall, Yuven stared at Xandros, who was below him, coldly. "Are you attacking Imperial Beast City at the behest of your father, Xandros?"

"Of course! You broke your promise and toyed with Norwal City! There's no way my father will forgive you, you old fart!" Xandros growled.

"You have some nerve to speak to my father like that, Xandros! Do you think I can't kill you?" Ivasha was enraged when she heard Xandros calling her father an old fart.

Xandros cackled and mocked, "Do you really think you can me? Can't you see I've surrounded Imperial Beast City with my army?"

"No matter how many people you bring with you, it'll still be easy for me to eliminate you! In fact, I can do it within a single breath! However, I'm giving you and your army a chance to return to where you came from. Once I lose my temper, none of you will be able to escape my wrath! To think you believe you can succeed in conquering Imperial Beast City with that few people! How absurd!" Disdain was written all over Yuven's face.

He didn't take Xandros seriously as a threat at all. If he wanted to end Xandros' life right there and then, he could. Xandros' army didn't intimidate him because they were no different from ants in his perspective.