

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/ Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2921

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2921-Crack!

The spirits charging at Jared were overwhelmed by fear the moment Demon Flogger struck them.

The glow of Demon Flogger terrified the spirits so much that they curled up in a corner and shivered uncontrollably.

These Demonic Cultivators had all been struck by Demon Flogger in the past. After they died upon the completion of the treasure, their spirits were subsequently sealed away.

The sight of Demon Flogger now simply reminded them of their trauma from the past.

Upon seeing their reaction, Jared finally calmed down. The tremendous power Demon Flogger displayed had greatly exceeded his expectations.

As the number of Demonic Cultivator spirits grew, some of them finally charged at Jared with a roar, hoping to escape the palace.

Jared swung Demon Flogger in the air. The flashes of light in front of him disappeared one by one.

The spirits that had charged in Jared's direction earlier had been reduced to nothing but thin air.

The spirits began to realize the situation they were in. They had assumed that they had regained their freedom after breaking free from the seal.

Little did they expect to end up being under someone's control still.

In the presence of Demon Flogger, none of them dared to make any reckless moves.

"Submit to me. Anyone who dares to play tricks with me will be whipped to kingdom come!"

The moment he finished, Jared swung Demon Flogger twice, striking fear into the spirits, who then nodded in obedience.

“Come. We’re heading out now. Line up, all of you...” Jared instructed loudly.

Left without a choice, the Demonic Cultivator spirits formed neat lines and began marching out of the palace.

Everyone outside had grown anxious from waiting. They had no idea what was going on within the palace at all.

Viola in particular was worried sick about Jared’s safety.

“I’m not going to wait any longer. I’m going in to check on him.”

Viola couldn’t stand waiting another moment.

“Ms. Warwick, the place is full of demonic aura right now. If you rush in, it will only mean certain death. I believe Mr. Chance will be fine. Besides, he has Demon Flogger with him. He won’t be in any real danger.”

Vasily held Viola back, preventing her from rushing inside.

Right then, the palace doors gradually opened, and out walked hordes of spirits.

The sight before them caused everyone to back away nervously as they tightened their grip on their respective weapons.

Just as everyone was prepared for a battle to the death with the spirits, Jared emerged from behind them.

“Stay in your lines...” Jared barked.

The spirits were obedient.

Everyone was shocked. No one could figure out how Jared had managed to get the spirits to obey him.

At that moment, a few of the spirits who had noticed the cave exit leaped into the air and dashed for it.

As long as they could escape, they didn't have to fear Jared and Demon Flogger.

However, just as they attempted to fly through the exit, a powerful force threw them back.

It quickly dawned upon them that the exit had been blocked by a shield.

Unfortunately, before the escaping spirits could react, Jared had already lashed them with Demon Flogger.

Crack! Crack! Crack!

The consecutive strikes caused all of them to vanish into oblivion as if they had never existed before.

"D*mn it! What is that powerful weapon?"

"Oh my God! Can it be a celestial weapon?"

Many of them were amazed by the sight of Demon Flogger.

Even if the spirits were weaker without their physical bodies, they were still a force to be reckoned with. Even Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators like Konce weren't confident of killing more than a few spirits.

Yet, Jared had easily vanquished a number of them with the whip in his hand. It was clear that his weapon was something extraordinary.

However, not many people knew of Demon Flogger other than Vasily and Viola.

Jerison, too, had never heard Mason mention it.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2922-The annihilation of the spirits who had tried to flee caused all the others to freeze in fear.

"Destroy the shield at the exit at once! Once its broken, you will have your freedom," Jared commanded them as if he were herding sheep.

Invigorated by Jared's words, the spirits howled in unison.

They were desperate for their freedom after being sealed away for what seemed like an eternity.

They charged toward the shield like a swarm of hornets.

As the spirits crashed into the shield, they showed no fear despite some being thrown back by the backlash and others being annihilated.

Their thirst for freedom motivated them to attack the shield relentlessly.

When the others witnessed the spirits' maniacal behavior, they could only gape in shock.

They knew that they would have been drowned alive by the sheer number of spirits if not for Jared and his whip.

Boom... Boom...

The endless impacts on the shield resulted in a thundering rumble as if the entire mountain was shaking.

Meanwhile, the two Demonic Cultivators outside were watching nearby. The moment they heard the loud noise and saw the ice mountain shaking, they couldn't help but feel excited.

"Is the seal really broken? It sounds like the seal was opened and those spirits were released."

"It's possible. If that's the case, we will have succeeded!"

The two envisioned the scene of being rewarded.

After all, they were the ones who had tricked Jared and the others into the cave to absorb the ice crystal's energy.

At that moment, cracks were beginning to show on the supposedly impregnable shield within the cave.

Jared held Demon Flogger in his hand and stared at the cave entrance. The moment the shield disappeared, he had to be the first to get out so that he could prevent the spirits from escaping.

Untold chaos would descend upon the far north if that were to happen, for the massive number of spirits would need countless cultivators as their hosts.

Jared gave Cloud, Vasily, Sunny, and the others a look.

Knowing Jared's intention, all of them nodded in acknowledgment.

However, the spirits were oblivious to what was in store for them. They were giving their all in an attempt to regain their freedom.

Rumble... Rumble...

Finally, the shield was destroyed by the spirit's relentless attacks.

The moment it shattered, Jared dashed to the cave entrance like a flash of lightning.

Demon Flogger emitted a light, and he struck it at them.

A few spirits were turned to dust, causing the rest to stagger back in fear.

It was during that window of opportunity that Vasily and the others escaped from the cave.

"The stronger ones stay back with me to block the entrance. The rest of you, hurry up and get out!" Jared yelled with Demon Flogger in his hand.

Upon hearing Jared's words, Konce, Sunny, Lofton, and Cloud chose to stay back.

They were after all the most powerful within the group.

Everyone else ran out of the cave.

At that crucial moment, they knew that they had to work together to stop the spirits from escaping to the far north. Otherwise, a great calamity would befall Ethereal Realm.

On top of that, they feared the danger of the spirits getting out in the open. Even if Jared had Demon Flogger in his hand, it wouldn't be enough for them to control the spirits.

“How dare you lie to us!” one of the spirits roared upon realizing that something was amiss.

The rest of them howled in unison before charging at Jared and his companions.

They were desperate to flee the cave to regain their freedom in the outside world.

Jared kept waving Demon Flogger in his hand.

The others, on the other hand, fired out rays of spiritual energy that turned into hurricanes that swept the spirits back.

Even though the attacks couldn't hurt the spirits, they could stop the spirits from attacking.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2923-Jared waited for everyone to escape the cave, then bit his finger and pulled out a couple of talisman papers before drawing special diagrams on them with his blood.

“What are you doing, Mr. Chance?” Cloud asked.

“I'm going to blow up the entrance and seal those spirits inside!” As he spoke, he attached the completed charms to the wall.

Every time he affixed an explosive charm on a surface, he would retreat for a short distance with the group.

It wasn't until they saw the light coming from the outside that Jared gestured for them to sprint out.

He then performed a spell with his hands before shouting at the entrance, “Detonate!”

In an instant, the cave that stretched thousands of meters underground exploded and flames could be seen.

At the last moment, Jared rushed out of the cave. The cave collapsed and the spirits were once again trapped underground.

“Jared, are you all right?” Viola asked worriedly.

"I'm fine." Jared smiled while shaking his head.

Everyone was relieved that they had successfully escaped.

Many people thanked Jared. Even Konce's opinion of Jared had changed as he proactively thanked the young man.

At that moment, the two Demonic Cultivators sped toward the crowd's location likely because they had detected that something was off.

"The two Demonic Cultivators are coming. All of you, hide." Jared's spiritual sense was powerful enough to detect the incoming enemies.

"Those two lied to us, Mr. Chance. I'm going to tear them apart!" Cloud growled.

"That's right! There's no way we'll forgive them. We must torture them to death!" Konce was also full of anger.

Those people were furious at the two Demonic Cultivators. They wanted to capture those two and make them suffer.

"You guys leave for now. If those two notice we've all escaped, they'll definitely flee. There must still be a massive Demonic Cultivator organization in the far north. There's no way those two are the only ones here. I'll lure them here alone while you all wait for an ambush," Jared said.

Only then did the crowd understand that he was intending to find out the organization those two Demonic Cultivators belonged to.

Quickly, everyone left and hid far beyond the Demonic Cultivators' detection range.

If those two detected their presence, their efforts would be for naught.

When the two Demonic Cultivators arrived at the ice mountain and saw the collapsed entrance, they were dumbfounded.

"W-What's going on? Did the spirits fail to escape?" One of the Demonic Cultivators stared at the destroyed cave entrance in disbelief. And we thought we could receive credit for it! Now we're doomed!

"Who's there?" The other Demonic Cultivator noticed something right then.

“Did someone make it out alive?” The dumbfounded Demonic Cultivator snapped back to his senses and scanned his surroundings.

The Demonic Cultivators promptly activated their spiritual sense to initiate their search. Soon, they noticed the person hiding from them.

One of the Demonic Cultivators barked, “Come out! We know you’re there!”

“To think you two are still sticking around. Did you two plan to watch us vanish before leaving? I’m afraid you two are in for a disappointment, then.”

Jared slowly emerged from the side of the ice mountain.

The duo was visibly astounded to see Jared still alive.

“I can’t believe you’re still alive, but this is perfect. We’ll bring you to meet Lord Inferno Devil and find out why you know how to use our demonic fire!” one of the Demonic Cultivators said.

“Do you really think you two are enough to capture me? Let’s see if you can do that.” The moment Jared ended his sentence, he leaped into the air and vanished.

“How dare you try to run! Get him!” The Demonic Cultivator duo promptly pursued Jared.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2924-Neither of the Demonic Cultivators had expected the people trapped inside the ice mountain to escape or prepare an ambush for them ahead.

Since the cave had collapsed and none of the spirits could escape, the Demonic Cultivators must return to their base with Jared.

They kept using their spiritual senses to lock onto Jared’s location, preventing him from escaping.

When Jared landed back on the ground, he hastily drew a large diagram on the snow before sitting cross-legged in the middle.

It was an arcane array, and it would activate when the two Demonic Cultivators stepped inside.

Soon, the two Demonic Cultivators caught up to their target. When they saw Jared sitting on the ground calmly, they were puzzled.

At that moment, the giant arcane array was activated. White mist filled the air and illusory demon beasts appeared.

Although the demon beasts were made of the mist, their roars still carried a terrifying aura capable of intimidating anyone.

“Do you really think that puny arcane array is enough to stop us?” one of the Demonic Cultivators scoffed, and an ice spear appeared in his hand.

The ice spear was tipped with a raging inferno.

Ice and fire are not compatible, but the Demonic Cultivator managed to use both fire and ice simultaneously.

The Demonic Cultivator with the spear turned to his companion and said, “You check the surroundings for any ambushes. I’ll deal with this guy.”

It was evident that the Demonic Cultivator was quite cautious.

The other Demonic Cultivator nodded before leaping away. Meanwhile, the one with the spear launched an attack.

He stabbed the ground with his weapon and generated gales in his surroundings, shooting wind blades at Jared.

The mist demon beasts roared and charged forward. When the wind blades damaged them, they instantly turned back into mist again.

Jared retreated, avoiding the wind blades.

Seeing that, the Demonic Cultivator smirked and launched himself toward his target in the form of a storm.

At that moment, the Demonic Cultivator was wholly inside Jared’s arcane array. He wasn’t afraid of an arcane array that produced illusory demon beasts.

Upon entering the arcane array, the Demonic Cultivator saw that Jared was retreating rapidly, prompting him to launch his attack that struck Jared like arrows.

Having been stabbed, Jared vomited blood, and his body started to bleed.

The Demonic Cultivator smirked and grabbed Jared's collar. "There's no way you can escape me!"

At that moment, the other Demonic Cultivator concluded his search for ambushes and returned to his companion. He noticed his companion laughing at the air, holding a spear in one hand and nothing in the other.

"Hey!" he shouted, snapping his companion back to his senses.

The latter noticed Jared was gone from his grip. "Is this an illusion array?"

Immediately, he swung his spear, causing a storm of fire to rise. The arcane array that Jared had planted vanished in the fire.

"This guy's pretty good with arcane arrays. We shouldn't let our guard down. We should attack him at the same time!" The other Demonic Cultivator spoke and summoned a magic sword.

Both of them attacked Jared together.

Jared buried his fingers into the ground. Following that, the earth shook, and white chains of spiritual energy surged, binding the two Demonic Cultivators.

When the two Demonic Cultivators noticed they were bound, their expression darkened.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2925-The two Demonic Cultivators exchanged glances before their bodies burst into flames.

Their demonic fire began to scorch the spiritual energy chains.

After only a few moments, the spiritual energy chains were incinerated.

"Do you really think that can stop us? What a joke. You'd better give up now, brat!" One of the Demonic Cultivators smirked.

"You two aren't powerful enough to catch me," Jared sneered.

Following that, dozens of people arrived at his location.

The two Demonic Cultivators frowned when they realized that everyone trapped in the cave had successfully escaped.

Glaring at the two Demonic Cultivators, Cloud said through gritted teeth, "I bet you two b*stards didn't think we would escape, huh?"

"Impossible! How could you all have escaped? Weren't your spiritual senses absorbed by the ice crystal?"

"No way! Those spirits broke through the seal, which proves they absorbed enough spiritual senses!"

The two Demonic Cultivators were dumbfounded. They could not understand why the crowd was doing fine despite the fact that the spirits had broken through the seal.

"It's because Mr. Chance's consciousness field is so vast that his spiritual sense alone is enough! That's how he saved everyone," Vasily sneered.

"What?" The two Demonic Cultivators stared at Jared with even greater disbelief.

They had tricked plenty of cultivators in the past, but none of them had been that powerful. They had messed up by bringing Jared into the cave.

They did not expect a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator to possess such overwhelming power.

They regretted their actions. Instead of getting rewarded, they would both be punished.

At that moment, they wished they could eat Jared alive. However, facing so many people, they dared not attack Jared recklessly.

"Let's just cut the chit-chat and kill them!" Konce was getting impatient.

Never before did he experience such intense humiliation.

"Although there are many of you, it's not that easy to kill us!"

After one of the Demonic Cultivators finished speaking, he opened his mouth and breathed fire.

The other Demonic Cultivator promptly did the same.

The flames instantly met and formed a fireball.

Then, a red mist wrapped around them. Around this mist, there were flames burning.

“Kill them!” shouted Konce.

Just as the crowd was about to attack the Demonic Cultivators, the flames around the two began to explode.

Their bodies spun rapidly, forming a tornado that rose into the air.

“Those two are trying to escape!” Jared could tell the duo was attempting to flee with the explosion of the flame.

He pulled out Demon Flogger and swung it at the tornado.

A crisp slap was heard. There was a flash of white light, followed by the screams of the two Demonic Cultivators.

Their bodies were hit by Demon Flogger and torn apart.

However, their spirits used that opportunity to fly away.

“Dammit! Those two gave up their bodies and got away!” Cloud exclaimed and intended to chase after the Demonic Cultivators.

However, Jared stopped him. “Don’t go.”

“Why, Mr. Chance? Even if they are only spirits now, we still can’t let them go!”

“Other Demonic Cultivators are approaching us, and they’re strong. We need to leave as soon as possible.”

Upon hearing that, the crowd promptly gathered around Jared with a stern look on their faces.

Jared’s spiritual sense was extremely powerful. They had no reason to doubt his words.

Meanwhile, the two Demonic Cultivators only relaxed when they realized Jared's group didn't chase after them.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2926-Although only their spirits were left, the Demonic Cultivators could revive pretty easily. All they needed was to find a new body or pills that could regenerate their bodies.

They might have lost a portion of their power, but it was better than dying for real.

If they hadn't protected their spirits with demonic fire earlier, Jared's Demon Flogger would've ended their lives for good.

"We need to head back as soon as possible and tell Lord Inferno Devil about that brat's Demon Flogger," said one of the Demonic Cultivators before they continued flying away.

However, a few minutes after that, they encountered three people. All three of them possessed powerful auras and the aura of a demon.

"It's Ms. Baptiste!" The two instantly became excited and flew toward that side.

These three people were Lynette and two demon guardians. They had come to check out the place where the souls were sealed and planned to take Jared away.

When Lynette saw the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators floating toward her, she frowned.

"How did you two end up like this?" she asked coldly.

"You must avenge us, Ms. Baptiste! We didn't expect those people to escape from the cave! Not only that, the cave collapsed and trapped the spirits underground!" one of the two Demonic Cultivators said, then recounted the entire incident.

When Lynette heard about Demon Flogger, her expression became tense. "You're saying that that brat knows how to use demonic fire and has Demon Flogger in his possession? Is he really only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator?" How could someone like him know so many tricks? Also, how did Demon Flogger end up in his possession?

"It's true. Although the brat is only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, his spiritual sense is massive. It's thanks to him that the others could escape. I apologize for our incompetence. We will accept any form of punishment, Ms. Baptiste." The two Demonic Cultivators knew they had ruined the operation and would need to be punished for it.

However, they were optimistic that their punishment wouldn't be too severe since they had already lost their bodies.

"You two indeed should be punished for your incompetence." Lynette narrowed her eyes, and a flame in her palm instantly engulfed their spirits.

The two Demonic Cultivators screamed, "Have mercy on us, Ms. Baptiste! We've been loyal to the cause and done many things for so many years! Why do you want to exterminate us completely?"

They couldn't understand why Lynette was killing them both.

"It's precisely because you two have done many things that I need to kill you both. Otherwise, there's a risk of you two spilling our secrets to others." Lynette eliminated the two Demonic Cultivators calmly as though she were squashing two bugs.

The destruction of the spirit seal and the appearance of Demon Flogger was a huge blow to the demons.

Demonic Cultivators were already living a tough life, and Inferno Devil had finally recruited a new batch of subordinates after so many years.

If that news were to spread among the Demonic Cultivators, it would cause panic. Some might even escape.

To keep everyone calm, Lynette had to crush the two incompetent Demonic Cultivators.

Soon, the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators were incinerated by her demonic fire.

"What do we do now, Ms. Baptiste? Should we continue searching for the man or return to report on the situation?" one guardian asked.

“Don’t tell Master about this yet. We’ll capture those who escaped and that brat before we discuss this matter further. The only way to ensure Master doesn’t get enraged is to present Demon Flogger to him. Otherwise, if we return now, we’ll be admonished severely.”

Lynette knew that Inferno Devil would scold her if she did not handle the matter well even though it was the two dead Demonic Cultivators’ fault. Inferno Devil had entrusted the matter to her, so she was responsible for it.

She didn’t mind being scolded, but she absolutely didn’t want Josephine to become Inferno Devil’s new favorite. Otherwise, her losses would be significant.

She wanted to capture Jared first before reporting the issue to Inferno Devil.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2927-“Ms. Baptiste, the vast expanse of the far north is boundless. I’m afraid it’ll be quite challenging to locate someone,” one of the guardians said.

“Barken, the three of us can split up and search. Even if they run, they can’t get too far. Once we find them, make sure to restrain all of them. If that’s not possible, at least capture that brat who can use demonic fire!” Lynette ordered.

“Ms. Baptiste, that’s... not a good idea. It’s risky for you to act alone. If something were to happen to you, Lord Inferno Devil would blame us,” Barken said worriedly.

“Hmph! There’s no need to be afraid of a few insignificant cultivators like them. Even if they possess the Demon Flogger, what can they do?” Lynette snorted, her Top Level Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm strength bursting forth.

The only thing Lynette sought at that moment was an opportunity. Once she acquired it, she could break through Body Fusion Realm and advance to the realm of Tribulator.

Once she overcame all the trials of a Tribulator, she could ascend to being a Semi-Demon Immortal cultivator, and that opportunity might lie with Jared, who had mastered demonic fire.

Lynette’s eyes blazed with intense passion.

“You’re a prodigy, Ms. Baptiste. It’s a given that you’re not afraid of those insignificant human cultivators.” Barken hastily bootlicked Lynette.

“In that case, let’s split up and act separately. Otherwise, if they escape, none of us can bear the punishment from Master!”

With that, Lynette leaped up, disappearing into the vast snowy plains.

The two guardians exchanged glances, then left to search in different directions.

Meanwhile, Jared and his party were desperately fleeing for their lives.

Since Jared had mentioned the Demonic Cultivators pursuing them were highly formidable, that must indeed be the case.

After running a distance, Jared frowned and came to an abrupt halt.

“What’s the matter, Mr. Chance?” Vasily asked.

“We can’t escape like this. The enemy is too strong, and they’re chasing us from multiple directions, so someone has to stay behind to stave them off and buy time for the others,” Jared explained.

After he finished his sentence, everyone fell silent because they knew whoever stayed behind to delay the enemies would be doomed, and no one wanted to die.

Vasily glanced at Jared, then gritted his teeth and volunteered. “Mr. Chance, I’m willing to stay behind to hold off the pursuing Demonic Cultivators. You should hurry up and run.”

Jared shook his head at Vasily. “It can’t be you. With your capabilities, they could kill you with a single strike. You won’t keep them at bay for long. I’ll stay, but I’ll need several more powerful people to assist me. Jerison, Vasily, bring Viola with you and escape westward. Be quick!”

After saying that, Jared swept his gaze across Sunny, Konce, Lofton, and Cloud. After all, their cultivation levels were the highest among the group.

If weaker cultivators like Jerison, Vasily, Viola, and the others were to fight the Demonic Cultivators, Jared figured even the aftershocks of the battle could be fatal to them.

"I won't leave. I want to stay and keep you company, Jared!" Viola refused to go.

"Even if you stay, you won't be of any help and will only distract me. All of you with weaker abilities should flee at once! If anyone else wishes to stay and assist me, you're welcome. Still, I must inform you that if we don't join forces and work together now, all of us might end up being consumed by those Demonic Cultivators!" Jared uttered gravely.

"Jared, I'll stay. Putting aside the fact that you saved my life, it is my obligation as a human cultivator to eliminate these Demonic Cultivators." Sunny was the first to voice his commitment to remain behind.

Following Sunny's lead, Cloud also chose to stay.

Konce and Lofton exchanged glances and nodded, indicating their willingness to help as well.

After all, there was strength in numbers. Not to mention, they were the most powerful in the party.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2928-"Mr. Stone, you two should return to Stellaris Sect. If I don't come back in a month, it means I'm already dead. You can tell my dad I died slaying Demonic Cultivators to protect the people!" Cloud said firmly to Tyrone.

"Mr. Seizon, this..." Tyrone was at a loss for words.

"Go. There's no point in you two remaining here," Cloud urged Tyrone and the old woman to leave.

In the end, left with no other choice, Tyrone and the old woman departed.

Viola cast a reluctant glance at Jared but eventually took her leave as well because she knew she would only be a burden if she stayed.

Once those with lower cultivation levels left, Jared began to make arrangements.

At that moment, everyone willingly followed Jared's instructions since he was the one to save their lives.

After he finished giving the instructions, a figure rapidly approached from a distance and stopped right in front of Jared.

The newcomer was none other than Lynette.

Dressed in red with flames enveloping her, Lynette stared intently at Jared.

“Do Demonic Cultivators act so blatantly nowadays? You don’t even bother concealing your aura.” Jared spoke leisurely to Lynette.

Taken aback, Lynette fixed her gaze on Jared with a hint of surprise flitting across her eyes. “What sort of power do you, a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, possess to confront me so boldly? Did you kill my two subordinates? Are you the one who refined the demonic fire? Are you the wielder of the Demon Flogger?”

She bombarded Jared with a volley of questions, not taking him seriously at all due to their vast difference in capabilities.

In Lynette’s opinion, she could do away with Jared effortlessly.

“You asked me so many questions, so which do you expect me to answer first? But yes, I did all those things you mentioned,” Jared replied.

“You’re quite straightforward. Since you’re the culprit, why aren’t you running away? Were you waiting for me?”

Lynette’s interest in Jared was piqued. She couldn’t fathom why a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator like Jared dared to face a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm expert like her without showing any signs of fear.

“Why should I run? You Demonic Cultivators should be the ones to flee, isn’t it? After all, you’re the despicable ones. Indeed, I was waiting for you here. I wanted to see for myself who you really are. You’re a Demonic Cultivator, yet you so brazenly flaunt your aura,” Jared sneered.

Hearing Jared’s words, Lynette laughed instead of getting offended. “Now that you’ve seen me, what do you plan to do?” Lynette asked teasingly.

“If you were a man, I’d kill you. However, you’re a female Demonic Cultivator and fairly attractive at that. Therefore, I’m planning to have some fun with you before ending your life,” Jared uttered with all seriousness.

Lynette burst into laughter. “Hahaha! You’re so amusing! I’ve never seen someone as funny as you. You possess the Demon Flogger and even refined our race’s demonic fire. This shows your fate is intertwined with us demons. Why not join me? Become one of us. By then, I’ll let you have all the fun you want with me. We can even cultivate together so you can refine more demonic fire. What do you say? Bear this in mind. I’m not an easy woman. I only reveal my feelings to those I truly like.”

A seductive expression spread across Lynette’s countenance as she tried to entice Jared.

“Why should I comply with your request just like that? What if you go against your words later?” Jared was unconvinced.

“In that case, why don’t you tell me what I can do to make you believe me?” Lynette chirped.

“Take off your clothes and serve me well. If you satisfy me, I might just go with you,” Jared uttered solemnly.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2929-Meanwhile, Cloud and the others who were hiding not far away were confused as they listened to Jared and Lynette’s conversation.

They could not understand why Jared had started flirting with the Demonic Cultivator and had even suggested cultivating together.

Were they going to watch a grand show for free?

Lynette was still smiling even after hearing Jared’s words. “I’d like to have a good time with you now, but there are other people around, and I can’t possibly let them see my body. Once I kill them all, I’ll take off my clothes and let you admire my body.”

With that, flames burst out of her and surrounded Jared to stop him from escaping.

However, just as the flames wrapped around Jared, Jared’s body started turning transparent before disappearing entirely.

Lynette's smile froze, and she furrowed her brows. "You're just a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, but you're capable of creating a shadow clone with such ease. You even tricked me. You're really not a nobody."

Lynette had never thought that this was merely Jared's shadow clone. She had thought it was his real body and had not noticed anything amiss at all because the aura of his shadow clone was no different from his original body.

Even Cloud, Sunny, and the others were shocked. They had no idea when Jared had gained the skill to create a shadow clone. Like Lynette, they had thought he had been truly standing there.

It turned out that Jared had been buying time by chatting with Lynette.

"Aren't you guys going to make your move? She has already discovered the trick."

At some point, Jared had appeared behind them.

Four people—three Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators and one Seventh Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator—began moving when they heard Jared's voice.

As they moved in for the attack, they each released a spiritual energy chain to tie Lynette up.

Cloud spat out a mouthful of blood essence to make the ground shake, and ice walls rose up to trap Lynette within them.

"Radiant Ensnarement!" Konce roared. Numerous thin threads of light interwove and turned into a massive net above Lynette.

When the net came down, it trapped Lynette within.

Now that Lynette was bound by spiritual energy chains, surrounded by a wall of ice, and wrapped in a net, it looked like she had been completely controlled.

"Hmph! You're nothing but a group of foolish men!" Lynette scoffed. There was no trace of panic on her face. Instead, she seemed to be mocking them.

Fiery red flames erupted from her body and shot into the sky like a dazzling fireworks display. They altered the hue of the sky and sent tremors through the ground.

In the blink of an eye, the net and the ice walls turned into dust.

Cloud and the other three were forced to move back because of the intense flames. Despite their swift retreat, they still felt the backlash of that heat wave.

Nevertheless, without stopping, the four of them shared a look before launching attacks at Lynette again.

They knew that they would lose their lives if they did not go all out now.

The four individuals unleashed their abilities, conjuring a tempest imbued with formidable power from all four directions and directing them at Lynette.

At the same time, Jared summoned a fire dragon that roared and charged toward Lynette.

The next second, roars and hisses came from the arcane array Jared had set up as various beasts with frost energy started dashing toward Lynette as well.

Everyone gave their absolute best, leaving nothing in reserve.

Jared had quickly moved backward after summoning the fire dragon. He was not running away. Instead, he was hastily drawing a complicated pattern on the snowy ground.

He was setting up another arcane array. What he needed most was time.

In the face of so many terrifying attacks, Lynette actually laughed.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2930-“You insignificant creatures, do you think a cultivator who is about to enter the realm of Tribulator is someone you can easily defeat? How ridiculous. Don’t think you’re as powerful as me. We’re worlds apart! When you reach my cultivation level, you’ll understand what I mean. All I need is an opportunity to reach the realm of Tribulator! Maybe you’ll be my opportunity...”

Not only was Lynette not afraid to be up against so many people’s attacks, but she even seemed excited.

She had been stuck as a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator for a long time, and the opportunity she sought had never once appeared.

Perhaps this was her opportunity.

Lynette raised her hands, causing orbs of flames to materialize around her.

A total of seven orbs of demonic fire spun around Lynette.

The orbs spun faster and faster, gradually merging into a towering pillar of flame. Lynette vanished from their view as if she too had become part of the flames.

Everyone's eyes widened as they felt a faint tremor in their hearts.

Along with the continuous rotation of the flaming pillar, the colors of the sky shifted, and the snow in the vicinity evaporated, revealing a crystal-clear ice surface.

The flame pillar grew larger and larger until a searing, blinding ball of fire emerged at its core.

That was the purest form of demonic fire.

The ball slowly descended, and the others were surprised to find Lynette in the ball.

Cloud and the others' attacks, when came into contact with the fireball, were instantly crushed before turning into spiritual energy that dispersed in all directions.

Even the fire dragon that Jared had summoned was absorbed by the fireball when it approached the ball.

And before those beasts could reach Lynette, they were turned into nothingness by the hot flames.

Shock was written on the faces of Cloud and the others. They wanted to retreat immediately, but the scattered spiritual energy struck them and sent them flying backward.

Each and every one of them looked at Lynette resentfully. Despite working together, they were no match for Lynette.

Not even Jared's involvement did anything to change the situation.

Lynette, who was still in the fireball, looked at them in disdain. "Foolish creatures, have you finally realized the difference between us?"

Shen then lifted her arms. The fireball continued to rotate, and the surrounding spiritual energy began to condense.

Cloud, Sunny, and the rest could only turn to Jared, putting all their hopes on him.

By then, Jared had already completed his drawing of that complex arcane array and dropped a drop of crimson blood essence in the center of the arcane array.

Seeing Lynette charging toward Cloud and the others, he leaped out of the arcane array and shouted, "Quick, get inside the arcane array!"

They swiftly ran into the arcane array Jared had set up.

Although they had no idea what kind of arcane array Jared had set up, they placed unconditional trust in Jared at that moment. That arcane array would certainly save their lives.

"Still trying to run? Dream on!" Lynette sneered.

At that moment, Jared had taken out Demon Flogger and struck it at the gigantic fireball Lynette was in.

A sharp crack echoed as Demon Flogger shot out a beam of light.

It struck the fireball, and Lynette's body stiffened.

She could feel the immense pressure coming from Demon Flogger despite being inside the fireball.

While Lynette was momentarily stunned, Jared took the opportunity to get inside the arcane array as well.

The second the arcane array was activated, a white curtain of light slowly rose around it.

"Teleportation Array? So you're trying to escape with Teleportation Array! I will never let you get away with this!"

Lynette jumped into the arcane array as well.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2922

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2922-The annihilation of the spirits who had tried to flee caused all the others to freeze in fear.

“Destroy the shield at the exit at once! Once its broken, you will have your freedom,” Jared commanded them as if he were herding sheep.

Invigorated by Jared’s words, the spirits howled in unison.

They were desperate for their freedom after being sealed away for what seemed like an eternity.

They charged toward the shield like a swarm of hornets.

As the spirits crashed into the shield, they showed no fear despite some being thrown back by the backlash and others being annihilated.

Their thirst for freedom motivated them to attack the shield relentlessly.

When the others witnessed the spirits’ maniacal behavior, they could only gape in shock.

They knew that they would have been drowned alive by the sheer number of spirits if not for Jared and his whip.

Boom... Boom...

The endless impacts on the shield resulted in a thundering rumble as if the entire mountain was shaking.

Meanwhile, the two Demonic Cultivators outside were watching nearby. The moment they heard the loud noise and saw the ice mountain shaking, they couldn’t help but feel excited.

“Is the seal really broken? It sounds like the seal was opened and those spirits were released.”

“It’s possible. If that’s the case, we will have succeeded!”

The two envisioned the scene of being rewarded.

After all, they were the ones who had tricked Jared and the others into the cave to absorb the ice crystal's energy.

At that moment, cracks were beginning to show on the supposedly impregnable shield within the cave.

Jared held Demon Flogger in his hand and stared at the cave entrance. The moment the shield disappeared, he had to be the first to get out so that he could prevent the spirits from escaping.

Untold chaos would descend upon the far north if that were to happen, for the massive number of spirits would need countless cultivators as their hosts.

Jared gave Cloud, Vasily, Sunny, and the others a look.

Knowing Jared's intention, all of them nodded in acknowledgment.

However, the spirits were oblivious to what was in store for them. They were giving their all in an attempt to regain their freedom.

Rumble... Rumble...

Finally, the shield was destroyed by the spirit's relentless attacks.

The moment it shattered, Jared dashed to the cave entrance like a flash of lightning.

Demon Flogger emitted a light, and he struck it at them.

A few spirits were turned to dust, causing the rest to stagger back in fear.

It was during that window of opportunity that Vasily and the others escaped from the cave.

"The stronger ones stay back with me to block the entrance. The rest of you, hurry up and get out!" Jared yelled with Demon Flogger in his hand.

Upon hearing Jared's words, Konce, Sunny, Lofton, and Cloud chose to stay back.

They were after all the most powerful within the group.

Everyone else ran out of the cave.

At that crucial moment, they knew that they had to work together to stop the spirits from escaping to the far north. Otherwise, a great calamity would befall Ethereal Realm.

On top of that, they feared the danger of the spirits getting out in the open. Even if Jared had Demon Flogger in his hand, it wouldn't be enough for them to control the spirits.

"How dare you lie to us!" one of the spirits roared upon realizing that something was amiss.

The rest of them howled in unison before charging at Jared and his companions.

They were desperate to flee the cave to regain their freedom in the outside world.

Jared kept waving Demon Flogger in his hand.

The others, on the other hand, fired out rays of spiritual energy that turned into hurricanes that swept the spirits back.

Even though the attacks couldn't hurt the spirits, they could stop the spirits from attacking.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2923-Jared waited for everyone to escape the cave, then bit his finger and pulled out a couple of talisman papers before drawing special diagrams on them with his blood.

"What are you doing, Mr. Chance?" Cloud asked.

"I'm going to blow up the entrance and seal those spirits inside!" As he spoke, he attached the completed charms to the wall.

Every time he affixed an explosive charm on a surface, he would retreat for a short distance with the group.

It wasn't until they saw the light coming from the outside that Jared gestured for them to sprint out.

He then performed a spell with his hands before shouting at the entrance, "Detonate!"

In an instant, the cave that stretched thousands of meters underground exploded and flames could be seen.

At the last moment, Jared rushed out of the cave. The cave collapsed and the spirits were once again trapped underground.

“Jared, are you all right?” Viola asked worriedly.

“I’m fine.” Jared smiled while shaking his head.

Everyone was relieved that they had successfully escaped.

Many people thanked Jared. Even Konce’s opinion of Jared had changed as he proactively thanked the young man.

At that moment, the two Demonic Cultivators sped toward the crowd’s location likely because they had detected that something was off.

“The two Demonic Cultivators are coming. All of you, hide.” Jared’s spiritual sense was powerful enough to detect the incoming enemies.

“Those two lied to us, Mr. Chance. I’m going to tear them apart!” Cloud growled.

“That’s right! There’s no way we’ll forgive them. We must torture them to death!” Konce was also full of anger.

Those people were furious at the two Demonic Cultivators. They wanted to capture those two and make them suffer.

“You guys leave for now. If those two notice we’ve all escaped, they’ll definitely flee. There must still be a massive Demonic Cultivator organization in the far north. There’s no way those two are the only ones here. I’ll lure them here alone while you all wait for an ambush,” Jared said.

Only then did the crowd understand that he was intending to find out the organization those two Demonic Cultivators belonged to.

Quickly, everyone left and hid far beyond the Demonic Cultivators’ detection range.

If those two detected their presence, their efforts would be for naught.

When the two Demonic Cultivators arrived at the ice mountain and saw the collapsed entrance, they were dumbfounded.

“W-What’s going on? Did the spirits fail to escape?” One of the Demonic Cultivators stared at the destroyed cave entrance in disbelief. And we thought we could receive credit for it! Now we’re doomed!

“Who’s there?” The other Demonic Cultivator noticed something right then.

“Did someone make it out alive?” The dumbfounded Demonic Cultivator snapped back to his senses and scanned his surroundings.

The Demonic Cultivators promptly activated their spiritual sense to initiate their search. Soon, they noticed the person hiding from them.

One of the Demonic Cultivators barked, “Come out! We know you’re there!”

“To think you two are still sticking around. Did you two plan to watch us vanish before leaving? I’m afraid you two are in for a disappointment, then.”

Jared slowly emerged from the side of the ice mountain.

The duo was visibly astounded to see Jared still alive.

“I can’t believe you’re still alive, but this is perfect. We’ll bring you to meet Lord Inferno Devil and find out why you know how to use our demonic fire!” one of the Demonic Cultivators said.

“Do you really think you two are enough to capture me? Let’s see if you can do that.” The moment Jared ended his sentence, he leaped into the air and vanished.

“How dare you try to run! Get him!” The Demonic Cultivator duo promptly pursued Jared.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2924-Neither of the Demonic Cultivators had expected the people trapped inside the ice mountain to escape or prepare an ambush for them ahead.

Since the cave had collapsed and none of the spirits could escape, the Demonic Cultivators must return to their base with Jared.

They kept using their spiritual senses to lock onto Jared's location, preventing him from escaping.

When Jared landed back on the ground, he hastily drew a large diagram on the snow before sitting cross-legged in the middle.

It was an arcane array, and it would activate when the two Demonic Cultivators stepped inside.

Soon, the two Demonic Cultivators caught up to their target. When they saw Jared sitting on the ground calmly, they were puzzled.

At that moment, the giant arcane array was activated. White mist filled the air and illusory demon beasts appeared.

Although the demon beasts were made of the mist, their roars still carried a terrifying aura capable of intimidating anyone.

"Do you really think that puny arcane array is enough to stop us?" one of the Demonic Cultivators scoffed, and an ice spear appeared in his hand.

The ice spear was tipped with a raging inferno.

Ice and fire are not compatible, but the Demonic Cultivator managed to use both fire and ice simultaneously.

The Demonic Cultivator with the spear turned to his companion and said, "You check the surroundings for any ambushes. I'll deal with this guy."

It was evident that the Demonic Cultivator was quite cautious.

The other Demonic Cultivator nodded before leaping away. Meanwhile, the one with the spear launched an attack.

He stabbed the ground with his weapon and generated gales in his surroundings, shooting wind blades at Jared.

The mist demon beasts roared and charged forward. When the wind blades damaged them, they instantly turned back into mist again.

Jared retreated, avoiding the wind blades.

Seeing that, the Demonic Cultivator smirked and launched himself toward his target in the form of a storm.

At that moment, the Demonic Cultivator was wholly inside Jared's arcane array. He wasn't afraid of an arcane array that produced illusory demon beasts.

Upon entering the arcane array, the Demonic Cultivator saw that Jared was retreating rapidly, prompting him to launch his attack that struck Jared like arrows.

Having been stabbed, Jared vomited blood, and his body started to bleed.

The Demonic Cultivator smirked and grabbed Jared's collar. "There's no way you can escape me!"

At that moment, the other Demonic Cultivator concluded his search for ambushes and returned to his companion. He noticed his companion laughing at the air, holding a spear in one hand and nothing in the other.

"Hey!" he shouted, snapping his companion back to his senses.

The latter noticed Jared was gone from his grip. "Is this an illusion array?"

Immediately, he swung his spear, causing a storm of fire to rise. The arcane array that Jared had planted vanished in the fire.

"This guy's pretty good with arcane arrays. We shouldn't let our guard down. We should attack him at the same time!" The other Demonic Cultivator spoke and summoned a magic sword.

Both of them attacked Jared together.

Jared buried his fingers into the ground. Following that, the earth shook, and white chains of spiritual energy surged, binding the two Demonic Cultivators.

When the two Demonic Cultivators noticed they were bound, their expression darkened.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2925-The two Demonic Cultivators exchanged glances before their bodies burst into flames.

Their demonic fire began to scorch the spiritual energy chains.

After only a few moments, the spiritual energy chains were incinerated.

“Do you really think that can stop us? What a joke. You’d better give up now, brat!” One of the Demonic Cultivators smirked.

“You two aren’t powerful enough to catch me,” Jared sneered.

Following that, dozens of people arrived at his location.

The two Demonic Cultivators frowned when they realized that everyone trapped in the cave had successfully escaped.

Glaring at the two Demonic Cultivators, Cloud said through gritted teeth, “I bet you two b*stards didn’t think we would escape, huh?”

“Impossible! How could you all have escaped? Weren’t your spiritual senses absorbed by the ice crystal?”

“No way! Those spirits broke through the seal, which proves they absorbed enough spiritual senses!”

The two Demonic Cultivators were dumbfounded. They could not understand why the crowd was doing fine despite the fact that the spirits had broken through the seal.

“It’s because Mr. Chance’s consciousness field is so vast that his spiritual sense alone is enough! That’s how he saved everyone,” Vasily sneered.

“What?” The two Demonic Cultivators stared at Jared with even greater disbelief.

They had tricked plenty of cultivators in the past, but none of them had been that powerful. They had messed up by bringing Jared into the cave.

They did not expect a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator to possess such overwhelming power.

They regretted their actions. Instead of getting rewarded, they would both be punished.

At that moment, they wished they could eat Jared alive. However, facing so many people, they dared not attack Jared recklessly.

“Let’s just cut the chit-chat and kill them!” Konce was getting impatient.

Never before did he experience such intense humiliation.

“Although there are many of you, it’s not that easy to kill us!”

After one of the Demonic Cultivators finished speaking, he opened his mouth and breathed fire.

The other Demonic Cultivator promptly did the same.

The flames instantly met and formed a fireball.

Then, a red mist wrapped around them. Around this mist, there were flames burning.

“Kill them!” shouted Konce.

Just as the crowd was about to attack the Demonic Cultivators, the flames around the two began to explode.

Their bodies spun rapidly, forming a tornado that rose into the air.

“Those two are trying to escape!” Jared could tell the duo was attempting to flee with the explosion of the flame.

He pulled out Demon Flogger and swung it at the tornado.

A crisp slap was heard. There was a flash of white light, followed by the screams of the two Demonic Cultivators.

Their bodies were hit by Demon Flogger and torn apart.

However, their spirits used that opportunity to fly away.

“Dammit! Those two gave up their bodies and got away!” Cloud exclaimed and intended to chase after the Demonic Cultivators.

However, Jared stopped him. “Don’t go.”

“Why, Mr. Chance? Even if they are only spirits now, we still can’t let them go!”

“Other Demonic Cultivators are approaching us, and they’re strong. We need to leave as soon as possible.”

Upon hearing that, the crowd promptly gathered around Jared with a stern look on their faces.

Jared’s spiritual sense was extremely powerful. They had no reason to doubt his words.

Meanwhile, the two Demonic Cultivators only relaxed when they realized Jared’s group didn’t chase after them.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2926-Although only their spirits were left, the Demonic Cultivators could revive pretty easily. All they needed was to find a new body or pills that could regenerate their bodies.

They might have lost a portion of their power, but it was better than dying for real.

If they hadn’t protected their spirits with demonic fire earlier, Jared’s Demon Flogger would’ve ended their lives for good.

“We need to head back as soon as possible and tell Lord Inferno Devil about that brat’s Demon Flogger,” said one of the Demonic Cultivators before they continued flying away.

However, a few minutes after that, they encountered three people. All three of them possessed powerful auras and the aura of a demon.

“It’s Ms. Baptiste!” The two instantly became excited and flew toward that side.

These three people were Lynette and two demon guardians. They had come to check out the place where the souls were sealed and planned to take Jared away.

When Lynette saw the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators floating toward her, she frowned.

“How did you two end up like this?” she asked coldly.

“You must avenge us, Ms. Baptiste! We didn’t expect those people to escape from the cave! Not only that, the cave collapsed and trapped the spirits underground!” one of the two Demonic Cultivators said, then recounted the entire incident.

When Lynette heard about Demon Flogger, her expression became tense. “You’re saying that that brat knows how to use demonic fire and has Demon Flogger in his possession? Is he really only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator?” How could someone like him know so many tricks? Also, how did Demon Flogger end up in his possession?

“It’s true. Although the brat is only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, his spiritual sense is massive. It’s thanks to him that the others could escape. I apologize for our incompetence. We will accept any form of punishment, Ms. Baptiste.” The two Demonic Cultivators knew they had ruined the operation and would need to be punished for it.

However, they were optimistic that their punishment wouldn’t be too severe since they had already lost their bodies.

“You two indeed should be punished for your incompetence.” Lynette narrowed her eyes, and a flame in her palm instantly engulfed their spirits.

The two Demonic Cultivators screamed, “Have mercy on us, Ms. Baptiste! We’ve been loyal to the cause and done many things for so many years! Why do you want to exterminate us completely?”

They couldn’t understand why Lynette was killing them both.

“It’s precisely because you two have done many things that I need to kill you both. Otherwise, there’s a risk of you two spilling our secrets to others.” Lynette eliminated the two Demonic Cultivators calmly as though she were squashing two bugs.

The destruction of the spirit seal and the appearance of Demon Flogger was a huge blow to the demons.

Demonic Cultivators were already living a tough life, and Inferno Devil had finally recruited a new batch of subordinates after so many years.

If that news were to spread among the Demonic Cultivators, it would cause panic. Some might even escape.

To keep everyone calm, Lynette had to crush the two incompetent Demonic Cultivators.

Soon, the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators were incinerated by her demonic fire.

“What do we do now, Ms. Baptiste? Should we continue searching for the man or return to report on the situation?” one guardian asked.

“Don’t tell Master about this yet. We’ll capture those who escaped and that brat before we discuss this matter further. The only way to ensure Master doesn’t get enraged is to present Demon Flogger to him. Otherwise, if we return now, we’ll be admonished severely.”

Lynette knew that Inferno Devil would scold her if she did not handle the matter well even though it was the two dead Demonic Cultivators’ fault. Inferno Devil had entrusted the matter to her, so she was responsible for it.

She didn’t mind being scolded, but she absolutely didn’t want Josephine to become Inferno Devil’s new favorite. Otherwise, her losses would be significant.

She wanted to capture Jared first before reporting the issue to Inferno Devil.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2927-“Ms. Baptiste, the vast expanse of the far north is boundless. I’m afraid it’ll be quite challenging to locate someone,” one of the guardians said.

“Barken, the three of us can split up and search. Even if they run, they can’t get too far. Once we find them, make sure to restrain all of them. If that’s not possible, at least capture that brat who can use demonic fire!” Lynette ordered.

“Ms. Baptiste, that’s... not a good idea. It’s risky for you to act alone. If something were to happen to you, Lord Inferno Devil would blame us,” Barken said worriedly.

“Hmph! There’s no need to be afraid of a few insignificant cultivators like them. Even if they possess the Demon Flogger, what can they do?” Lynette snorted, her Top Level Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm strength bursting forth.

The only thing Lynette sought at that moment was an opportunity. Once she acquired it, she could break through Body Fusion Realm and advance to the realm of Tribulator.

Once she overcame all the trials of a Tribulator, she could ascend to being a Semi-Demon Immortal cultivator, and that opportunity might lie with Jared, who had mastered demonic fire.

Lynette's eyes blazed with intense passion.

"You're a prodigy, Ms. Baptiste. It's a given that you're not afraid of those insignificant human cultivators." Barken hastily bootlicked Lynette.

"In that case, let's split up and act separately. Otherwise, if they escape, none of us can bear the punishment from Master!"

With that, Lynette leaped up, disappearing into the vast snowy plains.

The two guardians exchanged glances, then left to search in different directions.

Meanwhile, Jared and his party were desperately fleeing for their lives.

Since Jared had mentioned the Demonic Cultivators pursuing them were highly formidable, that must indeed be the case.

After running a distance, Jared frowned and came to an abrupt halt.

"What's the matter, Mr. Chance?" Vasily asked.

"We can't escape like this. The enemy is too strong, and they're chasing us from multiple directions, so someone has to stay behind to stave them off and buy time for the others," Jared explained.

After he finished his sentence, everyone fell silent because they knew whoever stayed behind to delay the enemies would be doomed, and no one wanted to die.

Vasily glanced at Jared, then gritted his teeth and volunteered. "Mr. Chance, I'm willing to stay behind to hold off the pursuing Demonic Cultivators. You should hurry up and run."

Jared shook his head at Vasily. "It can't be you. With your capabilities, they could kill you with a single strike. You won't keep them at bay for long. I'll stay, but I'll need several more powerful people to assist me. Jerison, Vasily, bring Viola with you and escape westward. Be quick!"

After saying that, Jared swept his gaze across Sunny, Konce, Lofton, and Cloud. After all, their cultivation levels were the highest among the group.

If weaker cultivators like Jerison, Vasily, Viola, and the others were to fight the Demonic Cultivators, Jared figured even the aftershocks of the battle could be fatal to them.

"I won't leave. I want to stay and keep you company, Jared!" Viola refused to go.

"Even if you stay, you won't be of any help and will only distract me. All of you with weaker abilities should flee at once! If anyone else wishes to stay and assist me, you're welcome. Still, I must inform you that if we don't join forces and work together now, all of us might end up being consumed by those Demonic Cultivators!" Jared uttered gravely.

"Jared, I'll stay. Putting aside the fact that you saved my life, it is my obligation as a human cultivator to eliminate these Demonic Cultivators." Sunny was the first to voice his commitment to remain behind.

Following Sunny's lead, Cloud also chose to stay.

Konce and Lofton exchanged glances and nodded, indicating their willingness to help as well.

After all, there was strength in numbers. Not to mention, they were the most powerful in the party.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2928-"Mr. Stone, you two should return to Stellaris Sect. If I don't come back in a month, it means I'm already dead. You can tell my dad I died slaying Demonic Cultivators to protect the people!" Cloud said firmly to Tyrone.

"Mr. Seizon, this..." Tyrone was at a loss for words.

"Go. There's no point in you two remaining here," Cloud urged Tyrone and the old woman to leave.

In the end, left with no other choice, Tyrone and the old woman departed.

Viola cast a reluctant glance at Jared but eventually took her leave as well because she knew she would only be a burden if she stayed.

Once those with lower cultivation levels left, Jared began to make arrangements.

At that moment, everyone willingly followed Jared's instructions since he was the one to save their lives.

After he finished giving the instructions, a figure rapidly approached from a distance and stopped right in front of Jared.

The newcomer was none other than Lynette.

Dressed in red with flames enveloping her, Lynette stared intently at Jared.

"Do Demonic Cultivators act so blatantly nowadays? You don't even bother concealing your aura." Jared spoke leisurely to Lynette.

Taken aback, Lynette fixed her gaze on Jared with a hint of surprise flitting across her eyes. "What sort of power do you, a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, possess to confront me so boldly? Did you kill my two subordinates? Are you the one who refined the demonic fire? Are you the wielder of the Demon Flogger?"

She bombarded Jared with a volley of questions, not taking him seriously at all due to their vast difference in capabilities.

In Lynette's opinion, she could do away with Jared effortlessly.

"You asked me so many questions, so which do you expect me to answer first? But yes, I did all those things you mentioned," Jared replied.

"You're quite straightforward. Since you're the culprit, why aren't you running away? Were you waiting for me?"

Lynette's interest in Jared was piqued. She couldn't fathom why a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator like Jared dared to face a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm expert like her without showing any signs of fear.

“Why should I run? You Demonic Cultivators should be the ones to flee, isn’t it? After all, you’re the despicable ones. Indeed, I was waiting for you here. I wanted to see for myself who you really are. You’re a Demonic Cultivator, yet you so brazenly flaunt your aura,” Jared sneered.

Hearing Jared’s words, Lynette laughed instead of getting offended. “Now that you’ve seen me, what do you plan to do?” Lynette asked teasingly.

“If you were a man, I’d kill you. However, you’re a female Demonic Cultivator and fairly attractive at that. Therefore, I’m planning to have some fun with you before ending your life,” Jared uttered with all seriousness.

Lynette burst into laughter. “Hahaha! You’re so amusing! I’ve never seen someone as funny as you. You possess the Demon Flogger and even refined our race’s demonic fire. This shows your fate is intertwined with us demons. Why not join me? Become one of us. By then, I’ll let you have all the fun you want with me. We can even cultivate together so you can refine more demonic fire. What do you say? Bear this in mind. I’m not an easy woman. I only reveal my feelings to those I truly like.”

A seductive expression spread across Lynette’s countenance as she tried to entice Jared.

“Why should I comply with your request just like that? What if you go against your words later?” Jared was unconvinced.

“In that case, why don’t you tell me what I can do to make you believe me?” Lynette chirped.

“Take off your clothes and serve me well. If you satisfy me, I might just go with you,” Jared uttered solemnly.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2929-Meanwhile, Cloud and the others who were hiding not far away were confused as they listened to Jared and Lynette’s conversation.

They could not understand why Jared had started flirting with the Demonic Cultivator and had even suggested cultivating together.

Were they going to watch a grand show for free?

Lynette was still smiling even after hearing Jared's words. "I'd like to have a good time with you now, but there are other people around, and I can't possibly let them see my body. Once I kill them all, I'll take off my clothes and let you admire my body."

With that, flames burst out of her and surrounded Jared to stop him from escaping.

However, just as the flames wrapped around Jared, Jared's body started turning transparent before disappearing entirely.

Lynette's smile froze, and she furrowed her brows. "You're just a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, but you're capable of creating a shadow clone with such ease. You even tricked me. You're really not a nobody."

Lynette had never thought that this was merely Jared's shadow clone. She had thought it was his real body and had not noticed anything amiss at all because the aura of his shadow clone was no different from his original body.

Even Cloud, Sunny, and the others were shocked. They had no idea when Jared had gained the skill to create a shadow clone. Like Lynette, they had thought he had been truly standing there.

It turned out that Jared had been buying time by chatting with Lynette.

"Aren't you guys going to make your move? She has already discovered the trick."

At some point, Jared had appeared behind them.

Four people—three Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators and one Seventh Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator—began moving when they heard Jared's voice.

As they moved in for the attack, they each released a spiritual energy chain to tie Lynette up.

Cloud spat out a mouthful of blood essence to make the ground shake, and ice walls rose up to trap Lynette within them.

"Radiant Ensnarement!" Konce roared. Numerous thin threads of light interwove and turned into a massive net above Lynette.

When the net came down, it trapped Lynette within.

Now that Lynette was bound by spiritual energy chains, surrounded by a wall of ice, and wrapped in a net, it looked like she had been completely controlled.

“Hmph! You’re nothing but a group of foolish men!” Lynette scoffed. There was no trace of panic on her face. Instead, she seemed to be mocking them.

Fiery red flames erupted from her body and shot into the sky like a dazzling fireworks display. They altered the hue of the sky and sent tremors through the ground.

In the blink of an eye, the net and the ice walls turned into dust.

Cloud and the other three were forced to move back because of the intense flames. Despite their swift retreat, they still felt the backlash of that heat wave.

Nevertheless, without stopping, the four of them shared a look before launching attacks at Lynette again.

They knew that they would lose their lives if they did not go all out now.

The four individuals unleashed their abilities, conjuring a tempest imbued with formidable power from all four directions and directing them at Lynette.

At the same time, Jared summoned a fire dragon that roared and charged toward Lynette.

The next second, roars and hisses came from the arcane array Jared had set up as various beasts with frost energy started dashing toward Lynette as well.

Everyone gave their absolute best, leaving nothing in reserve.

Jared had quickly moved backward after summoning the fire dragon. He was not running away. Instead, he was hastily drawing a complicated pattern on the snowy ground.

He was setting up another arcane array. What he needed most was time.

In the face of so many terrifying attacks, Lynette actually laughed.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2930-“You insignificant creatures, do you think a cultivator who is about to enter the realm of Tribulation is someone you can easily defeat? How ridiculous. Don't think you're as powerful as me. We're worlds apart! When you reach my cultivation level, you'll understand what I mean. All I need is an opportunity to reach the realm of Tribulator! Maybe you'll be my opportunity..."

Not only was Lynette not afraid to be up against so many people's attacks, but she even seemed excited.

She had been stuck as a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator for a long time, and the opportunity she sought had never once appeared.

Perhaps this was her opportunity.

Lynette raised her hands, causing orbs of flames to materialize around her.

A total of seven orbs of demonic fire spun around Lynette.

The orbs spun faster and faster, gradually merging into a towering pillar of flame. Lynette vanished from their view as if she too had become part of the flames.

Everyone's eyes widened as they felt a faint tremor in their hearts.

Along with the continuous rotation of the flaming pillar, the colors of the sky shifted, and the snow in the vicinity evaporated, revealing a crystal-clear ice surface.

The flame pillar grew larger and larger until a searing, blinding ball of fire emerged at its core.

That was the purest form of demonic fire.

The ball slowly descended, and the others were surprised to find Lynette in the ball.

Cloud and the others' attacks, when came into contact with the fireball, were instantly crushed before turning into spiritual energy that dispersed in all directions.

Even the fire dragon that Jared had summoned was absorbed by the fireball when it approached the ball.

And before those beasts could reach Lynette, they were turned into nothingness by the hot flames.

Shock was written on the faces of Cloud and the others. They wanted to retreat immediately, but the scattered spiritual energy struck them and sent them flying backward.

Each and every one of them looked at Lynette resentfully. Despite working together, they were no match for Lynette.

Not even Jared's involvement did anything to change the situation.

Lynette, who was still in the fireball, looked at them in disdain. "Foolish creatures, have you finally realized the difference between us?"

Shen then lifted her arms. The fireball continued to rotate, and the surrounding spiritual energy began to condense.

Cloud, Sunny, and the rest could only turn to Jared, putting all their hopes on him.

By then, Jared had already completed his drawing of that complex arcane array and dropped a drop of crimson blood essence in the center of the arcane array.

Seeing Lynette charging toward Cloud and the others, he leaped out of the arcane array and shouted, "Quick, get inside the arcane array!"

They swiftly ran into the arcane array Jared had set up.

Although they had no idea what kind of arcane array Jared had set up, they placed unconditional trust in Jared at that moment. That arcane array would certainly save their lives.

"Still trying to run? Dream on!" Lynette sneered.

At that moment, Jared had taken out Demon Flogger and struck it at the gigantic fireball Lynette was in.

A sharp crack echoed as Demon Flogger shot out a beam of light.

It struck the fireball, and Lynette's body stiffened.

She could feel the immense pressure coming from Demon Flogger despite being inside the fireball.

While Lynette was momentarily stunned, Jared took the opportunity to get inside the arcane array as well.

The second the arcane array was activated, a white curtain of light slowly rose around it.

“Teleportation Array? So you’re trying to escape with Teleportation Array! I will never let you get away with this!”

Lynette jumped into the arcane array as well.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2923

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2923-Jared waited for everyone to escape the cave, then bit his finger and pulled out a couple of talisman papers before drawing special diagrams on them with his blood.

“What are you doing, Mr. Chance?” Cloud asked.

“I’m going to blow up the entrance and seal those spirits inside!” As he spoke, he attached the completed charms to the wall.

Every time he affixed an explosive charm on a surface, he would retreat for a short distance with the group.

It wasn’t until they saw the light coming from the outside that Jared gestured for them to sprint out.

He then performed a spell with his hands before shouting at the entrance, “Detonate!”

In an instant, the cave that stretched thousands of meters underground exploded and flames could be seen.

At the last moment, Jared rushed out of the cave. The cave collapsed and the spirits were once again trapped underground.

“Jared, are you all right?” Viola asked worriedly.

"I'm fine." Jared smiled while shaking his head.

Everyone was relieved that they had successfully escaped.

Many people thanked Jared. Even Konce's opinion of Jared had changed as he proactively thanked the young man.

At that moment, the two Demonic Cultivators sped toward the crowd's location likely because they had detected that something was off.

"The two Demonic Cultivators are coming. All of you, hide." Jared's spiritual sense was powerful enough to detect the incoming enemies.

"Those two lied to us, Mr. Chance. I'm going to tear them apart!" Cloud growled.

"That's right! There's no way we'll forgive them. We must torture them to death!" Konce was also full of anger.

Those people were furious at the two Demonic Cultivators. They wanted to capture those two and make them suffer.

"You guys leave for now. If those two notice we've all escaped, they'll definitely flee. There must still be a massive Demonic Cultivator organization in the far north. There's no way those two are the only ones here. I'll lure them here alone while you all wait for an ambush," Jared said.

Only then did the crowd understand that he was intending to find out the organization those two Demonic Cultivators belonged to.

Quickly, everyone left and hid far beyond the Demonic Cultivators' detection range.

If those two detected their presence, their efforts would be for naught.

When the two Demonic Cultivators arrived at the ice mountain and saw the collapsed entrance, they were dumbfounded.

"W-What's going on? Did the spirits fail to escape?" One of the Demonic Cultivators stared at the destroyed cave entrance in disbelief. And we thought we could receive credit for it! Now we're doomed!

"Who's there?" The other Demonic Cultivator noticed something right then.

“Did someone make it out alive?” The dumbfounded Demonic Cultivator snapped back to his senses and scanned his surroundings.

The Demonic Cultivators promptly activated their spiritual sense to initiate their search. Soon, they noticed the person hiding from them.

One of the Demonic Cultivators barked, “Come out! We know you’re there!”

“To think you two are still sticking around. Did you two plan to watch us vanish before leaving? I’m afraid you two are in for a disappointment, then.”

Jared slowly emerged from the side of the ice mountain.

The duo was visibly astounded to see Jared still alive.

“I can’t believe you’re still alive, but this is perfect. We’ll bring you to meet Lord Inferno Devil and find out why you know how to use our demonic fire!” one of the Demonic Cultivators said.

“Do you really think you two are enough to capture me? Let’s see if you can do that.” The moment Jared ended his sentence, he leaped into the air and vanished.

“How dare you try to run! Get him!” The Demonic Cultivator duo promptly pursued Jared.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2924-Neither of the Demonic Cultivators had expected the people trapped inside the ice mountain to escape or prepare an ambush for them ahead.

Since the cave had collapsed and none of the spirits could escape, the Demonic Cultivators must return to their base with Jared.

They kept using their spiritual senses to lock onto Jared’s location, preventing him from escaping.

When Jared landed back on the ground, he hastily drew a large diagram on the snow before sitting cross-legged in the middle.

It was an arcane array, and it would activate when the two Demonic Cultivators stepped inside.

Soon, the two Demonic Cultivators caught up to their target. When they saw Jared sitting on the ground calmly, they were puzzled.

At that moment, the giant arcane array was activated. White mist filled the air and illusory demon beasts appeared.

Although the demon beasts were made of the mist, their roars still carried a terrifying aura capable of intimidating anyone.

“Do you really think that puny arcane array is enough to stop us?” one of the Demonic Cultivators scoffed, and an ice spear appeared in his hand.

The ice spear was tipped with a raging inferno.

Ice and fire are not compatible, but the Demonic Cultivator managed to use both fire and ice simultaneously.

The Demonic Cultivator with the spear turned to his companion and said, “You check the surroundings for any ambushes. I’ll deal with this guy.”

It was evident that the Demonic Cultivator was quite cautious.

The other Demonic Cultivator nodded before leaping away. Meanwhile, the one with the spear launched an attack.

He stabbed the ground with his weapon and generated gales in his surroundings, shooting wind blades at Jared.

The mist demon beasts roared and charged forward. When the wind blades damaged them, they instantly turned back into mist again.

Jared retreated, avoiding the wind blades.

Seeing that, the Demonic Cultivator smirked and launched himself toward his target in the form of a storm.

At that moment, the Demonic Cultivator was wholly inside Jared’s arcane array. He wasn’t afraid of an arcane array that produced illusory demon beasts.

Upon entering the arcane array, the Demonic Cultivator saw that Jared was retreating rapidly, prompting him to launch his attack that struck Jared like arrows.

Having been stabbed, Jared vomited blood, and his body started to bleed.

The Demonic Cultivator smirked and grabbed Jared's collar. "There's no way you can escape me!"

At that moment, the other Demonic Cultivator concluded his search for ambushes and returned to his companion. He noticed his companion laughing at the air, holding a spear in one hand and nothing in the other.

"Hey!" he shouted, snapping his companion back to his senses.

The latter noticed Jared was gone from his grip. "Is this an illusion array?"

Immediately, he swung his spear, causing a storm of fire to rise. The arcane array that Jared had planted vanished in the fire.

"This guy's pretty good with arcane arrays. We shouldn't let our guard down. We should attack him at the same time!" The other Demonic Cultivator spoke and summoned a magic sword.

Both of them attacked Jared together.

Jared buried his fingers into the ground. Following that, the earth shook, and white chains of spiritual energy surged, binding the two Demonic Cultivators.

When the two Demonic Cultivators noticed they were bound, their expression darkened.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2925-The two Demonic Cultivators exchanged glances before their bodies burst into flames.

Their demonic fire began to scorch the spiritual energy chains.

After only a few moments, the spiritual energy chains were incinerated.

"Do you really think that can stop us? What a joke. You'd better give up now, brat!" One of the Demonic Cultivators smirked.

"You two aren't powerful enough to catch me," Jared sneered.

Following that, dozens of people arrived at his location.

The two Demonic Cultivators frowned when they realized that everyone trapped in the cave had successfully escaped.

Glaring at the two Demonic Cultivators, Cloud said through gritted teeth, "I bet you two b*stards didn't think we would escape, huh?"

"Impossible! How could you all have escaped? Weren't your spiritual senses absorbed by the ice crystal?"

"No way! Those spirits broke through the seal, which proves they absorbed enough spiritual senses!"

The two Demonic Cultivators were dumbfounded. They could not understand why the crowd was doing fine despite the fact that the spirits had broken through the seal.

"It's because Mr. Chance's consciousness field is so vast that his spiritual sense alone is enough! That's how he saved everyone," Vasily sneered.

"What?" The two Demonic Cultivators stared at Jared with even greater disbelief.

They had tricked plenty of cultivators in the past, but none of them had been that powerful. They had messed up by bringing Jared into the cave.

They did not expect a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator to possess such overwhelming power.

They regretted their actions. Instead of getting rewarded, they would both be punished.

At that moment, they wished they could eat Jared alive. However, facing so many people, they dared not attack Jared recklessly.

"Let's just cut the chit-chat and kill them!" Konce was getting impatient.

Never before did he experience such intense humiliation.

"Although there are many of you, it's not that easy to kill us!"

After one of the Demonic Cultivators finished speaking, he opened his mouth and breathed fire.

The other Demonic Cultivator promptly did the same.

The flames instantly met and formed a fireball.

Then, a red mist wrapped around them. Around this mist, there were flames burning.

“Kill them!” shouted Konce.

Just as the crowd was about to attack the Demonic Cultivators, the flames around the two began to explode.

Their bodies spun rapidly, forming a tornado that rose into the air.

“Those two are trying to escape!” Jared could tell the duo was attempting to flee with the explosion of the flame.

He pulled out Demon Flogger and swung it at the tornado.

A crisp slap was heard. There was a flash of white light, followed by the screams of the two Demonic Cultivators.

Their bodies were hit by Demon Flogger and torn apart.

However, their spirits used that opportunity to fly away.

“Dammit! Those two gave up their bodies and got away!” Cloud exclaimed and intended to chase after the Demonic Cultivators.

However, Jared stopped him. “Don’t go.”

“Why, Mr. Chance? Even if they are only spirits now, we still can’t let them go!”

“Other Demonic Cultivators are approaching us, and they’re strong. We need to leave as soon as possible.”

Upon hearing that, the crowd promptly gathered around Jared with a stern look on their faces.

Jared’s spiritual sense was extremely powerful. They had no reason to doubt his words.

Meanwhile, the two Demonic Cultivators only relaxed when they realized Jared's group didn't chase after them.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2926-Although only their spirits were left, the Demonic Cultivators could revive pretty easily. All they needed was to find a new body or pills that could regenerate their bodies.

They might have lost a portion of their power, but it was better than dying for real.

If they hadn't protected their spirits with demonic fire earlier, Jared's Demon Flogger would've ended their lives for good.

"We need to head back as soon as possible and tell Lord Inferno Devil about that brat's Demon Flogger," said one of the Demonic Cultivators before they continued flying away.

However, a few minutes after that, they encountered three people. All three of them possessed powerful auras and the aura of a demon.

"It's Ms. Baptiste!" The two instantly became excited and flew toward that side.

These three people were Lynette and two demon guardians. They had come to check out the place where the souls were sealed and planned to take Jared away.

When Lynette saw the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators floating toward her, she frowned.

"How did you two end up like this?" she asked coldly.

"You must avenge us, Ms. Baptiste! We didn't expect those people to escape from the cave! Not only that, the cave collapsed and trapped the spirits underground!" one of the two Demonic Cultivators said, then recounted the entire incident.

When Lynette heard about Demon Flogger, her expression became tense. "You're saying that that brat knows how to use demonic fire and has Demon Flogger in his possession? Is he really only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator?" How could someone like him know so many tricks? Also, how did Demon Flogger end up in his possession?

"It's true. Although the brat is only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, his spiritual sense is massive. It's thanks to him that the others could escape. I apologize for our incompetence. We will accept any form of punishment, Ms. Baptiste." The two Demonic Cultivators knew they had ruined the operation and would need to be punished for it.

However, they were optimistic that their punishment wouldn't be too severe since they had already lost their bodies.

"You two indeed should be punished for your incompetence." Lynette narrowed her eyes, and a flame in her palm instantly engulfed their spirits.

The two Demonic Cultivators screamed, "Have mercy on us, Ms. Baptiste! We've been loyal to the cause and done many things for so many years! Why do you want to exterminate us completely?"

They couldn't understand why Lynette was killing them both.

"It's precisely because you two have done many things that I need to kill you both. Otherwise, there's a risk of you two spilling our secrets to others." Lynette eliminated the two Demonic Cultivators calmly as though she were squashing two bugs.

The destruction of the spirit seal and the appearance of Demon Flogger was a huge blow to the demons.

Demonic Cultivators were already living a tough life, and Inferno Devil had finally recruited a new batch of subordinates after so many years.

If that news were to spread among the Demonic Cultivators, it would cause panic. Some might even escape.

To keep everyone calm, Lynette had to crush the two incompetent Demonic Cultivators.

Soon, the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators were incinerated by her demonic fire.

"What do we do now, Ms. Baptiste? Should we continue searching for the man or return to report on the situation?" one guardian asked.

“Don’t tell Master about this yet. We’ll capture those who escaped and that brat before we discuss this matter further. The only way to ensure Master doesn’t get enraged is to present Demon Flogger to him. Otherwise, if we return now, we’ll be admonished severely.”

Lynette knew that Inferno Devil would scold her if she did not handle the matter well even though it was the two dead Demonic Cultivators’ fault. Inferno Devil had entrusted the matter to her, so she was responsible for it.

She didn’t mind being scolded, but she absolutely didn’t want Josephine to become Inferno Devil’s new favorite. Otherwise, her losses would be significant.

She wanted to capture Jared first before reporting the issue to Inferno Devil.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2927-“Ms. Baptiste, the vast expanse of the far north is boundless. I’m afraid it’ll be quite challenging to locate someone,” one of the guardians said.

“Barken, the three of us can split up and search. Even if they run, they can’t get too far. Once we find them, make sure to restrain all of them. If that’s not possible, at least capture that brat who can use demonic fire!” Lynette ordered.

“Ms. Baptiste, that’s... not a good idea. It’s risky for you to act alone. If something were to happen to you, Lord Inferno Devil would blame us,” Barken said worriedly.

“Hmph! There’s no need to be afraid of a few insignificant cultivators like them. Even if they possess the Demon Flogger, what can they do?” Lynette snorted, her Top Level Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm strength bursting forth.

The only thing Lynette sought at that moment was an opportunity. Once she acquired it, she could break through Body Fusion Realm and advance to the realm of Tribulator.

Once she overcame all the trials of a Tribulator, she could ascend to being a Semi-Demon Immortal cultivator, and that opportunity might lie with Jared, who had mastered demonic fire.

Lynette’s eyes blazed with intense passion.

“You’re a prodigy, Ms. Baptiste. It’s a given that you’re not afraid of those insignificant human cultivators.” Barken hastily bootlicked Lynette.

“In that case, let’s split up and act separately. Otherwise, if they escape, none of us can bear the punishment from Master!”

With that, Lynette leaped up, disappearing into the vast snowy plains.

The two guardians exchanged glances, then left to search in different directions.

Meanwhile, Jared and his party were desperately fleeing for their lives.

Since Jared had mentioned the Demonic Cultivators pursuing them were highly formidable, that must indeed be the case.

After running a distance, Jared frowned and came to an abrupt halt.

“What’s the matter, Mr. Chance?” Vasily asked.

“We can’t escape like this. The enemy is too strong, and they’re chasing us from multiple directions, so someone has to stay behind to stave them off and buy time for the others,” Jared explained.

After he finished his sentence, everyone fell silent because they knew whoever stayed behind to delay the enemies would be doomed, and no one wanted to die.

Vasily glanced at Jared, then gritted his teeth and volunteered. “Mr. Chance, I’m willing to stay behind to hold off the pursuing Demonic Cultivators. You should hurry up and run.”

Jared shook his head at Vasily. “It can’t be you. With your capabilities, they could kill you with a single strike. You won’t keep them at bay for long. I’ll stay, but I’ll need several more powerful people to assist me. Jerison, Vasily, bring Viola with you and escape westward. Be quick!”

After saying that, Jared swept his gaze across Sunny, Konce, Lofton, and Cloud. After all, their cultivation levels were the highest among the group.

If weaker cultivators like Jerison, Vasily, Viola, and the others were to fight the Demonic Cultivators, Jared figured even the aftershocks of the battle could be fatal to them.

“I won’t leave. I want to stay and keep you company, Jared!” Viola refused to go.

“Even if you stay, you won’t be of any help and will only distract me. All of you with weaker abilities should flee at once! If anyone else wishes to stay and assist me, you’re welcome. Still, I must inform you that if we don’t join forces and work together now, all of us might end up being consumed by those Demonic Cultivators!” Jared uttered gravely.

“Jared, I’ll stay. Putting aside the fact that you saved my life, it is my obligation as a human cultivator to eliminate these Demonic Cultivators.” Sunny was the first to voice his commitment to remain behind.

Following Sunny’s lead, Cloud also chose to stay.

Konce and Lofton exchanged glances and nodded, indicating their willingness to help as well.

After all, there was strength in numbers. Not to mention, they were the most powerful in the party.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2928-“Mr. Stone, you two should return to Stellaris Sect. If I don’t come back in a month, it means I’m already dead. You can tell my dad I died slaying Demonic Cultivators to protect the people!” Cloud said firmly to Tyrone.

“Mr. Seizon, this...” Tyrone was at a loss for words.

“Go. There’s no point in you two remaining here,” Cloud urged Tyrone and the old woman to leave.

In the end, left with no other choice, Tyrone and the old woman departed.

Viola cast a reluctant glance at Jared but eventually took her leave as well because she knew she would only be a burden if she stayed.

Once those with lower cultivation levels left, Jared began to make arrangements.

At that moment, everyone willingly followed Jared’s instructions since he was the one to save their lives.

After he finished giving the instructions, a figure rapidly approached from a distance and stopped right in front of Jared.

The newcomer was none other than Lynette.

Dressed in red with flames enveloping her, Lynette stared intently at Jared.

“Do Demonic Cultivators act so blatantly nowadays? You don’t even bother concealing your aura.” Jared spoke leisurely to Lynette.

Taken aback, Lynette fixed her gaze on Jared with a hint of surprise flitting across her eyes. “What sort of power do you, a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, possess to confront me so boldly? Did you kill my two subordinates? Are you the one who refined the demonic fire? Are you the wielder of the Demon Flogger?”

She bombarded Jared with a volley of questions, not taking him seriously at all due to their vast difference in capabilities.

In Lynette’s opinion, she could do away with Jared effortlessly.

“You asked me so many questions, so which do you expect me to answer first? But yes, I did all those things you mentioned,” Jared replied.

“You’re quite straightforward. Since you’re the culprit, why aren’t you running away? Were you waiting for me?”

Lynette’s interest in Jared was piqued. She couldn’t fathom why a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator like Jared dared to face a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm expert like her without showing any signs of fear.

“Why should I run? You Demonic Cultivators should be the ones to flee, isn’t it? After all, you’re the despicable ones. Indeed, I was waiting for you here. I wanted to see for myself who you really are. You’re a Demonic Cultivator, yet you so brazenly flaunt your aura,” Jared sneered.

Hearing Jared’s words, Lynette laughed instead of getting offended. “Now that you’ve seen me, what do you plan to do?” Lynette asked teasingly.

“If you were a man, I’d kill you. However, you’re a female Demonic Cultivator and fairly attractive at that. Therefore, I’m planning to have some fun with you before ending your life,” Jared uttered with all seriousness.

Lynette burst into laughter. “Hahaha! You’re so amusing! I’ve never seen someone as funny as you. You possess the Demon Flogger and even refined our race’s demonic fire. This shows your fate is intertwined with us demons. Why not join me? Become one of us. By then, I’ll let you have all the fun you want with me. We can even cultivate together so you can refine more demonic fire. What do you say? Bear this in mind. I’m not an easy woman. I only reveal my feelings to those I truly like.”

A seductive expression spread across Lynette’s countenance as she tried to entice Jared.

“Why should I comply with your request just like that? What if you go against your words later?” Jared was unconvinced.

“In that case, why don’t you tell me what I can do to make you believe me?” Lynette chirped.

“Take off your clothes and serve me well. If you satisfy me, I might just go with you,” Jared uttered solemnly.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2929-Meanwhile, Cloud and the others who were hiding not far away were confused as they listened to Jared and Lynette’s conversation.

They could not understand why Jared had started flirting with the Demonic Cultivator and had even suggested cultivating together.

Were they going to watch a grand show for free?

Lynette was still smiling even after hearing Jared’s words. “I’d like to have a good time with you now, but there are other people around, and I can’t possibly let them see my body. Once I kill them all, I’ll take off my clothes and let you admire my body.”

With that, flames burst out of her and surrounded Jared to stop him from escaping.

However, just as the flames wrapped around Jared, Jared’s body started turning transparent before disappearing entirely.

Lynette's smile froze, and she furrowed her brows. "You're just a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, but you're capable of creating a shadow clone with such ease. You even tricked me. You're really not a nobody."

Lynette had never thought that this was merely Jared's shadow clone. She had thought it was his real body and had not noticed anything amiss at all because the aura of his shadow clone was no different from his original body.

Even Cloud, Sunny, and the others were shocked. They had no idea when Jared had gained the skill to create a shadow clone. Like Lynette, they had thought he had been truly standing there.

It turned out that Jared had been buying time by chatting with Lynette.

"Aren't you guys going to make your move? She has already discovered the trick."

At some point, Jared had appeared behind them.

Four people—three Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators and one Seventh Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator—began moving when they heard Jared's voice.

As they moved in for the attack, they each released a spiritual energy chain to tie Lynette up.

Cloud spat out a mouthful of blood essence to make the ground shake, and ice walls rose up to trap Lynette within them.

"Radiant Ensnarement!" Konce roared. Numerous thin threads of light interwove and turned into a massive net above Lynette.

When the net came down, it trapped Lynette within.

Now that Lynette was bound by spiritual energy chains, surrounded by a wall of ice, and wrapped in a net, it looked like she had been completely controlled.

"Hmph! You're nothing but a group of foolish men!" Lynette scoffed. There was no trace of panic on her face. Instead, she seemed to be mocking them.

Fiery red flames erupted from her body and shot into the sky like a dazzling fireworks display. They altered the hue of the sky and sent tremors through the ground.

In the blink of an eye, the net and the ice walls turned into dust.

Cloud and the other three were forced to move back because of the intense flames. Despite their swift retreat, they still felt the backlash of that heat wave.

Nevertheless, without stopping, the four of them shared a look before launching attacks at Lynette again.

They knew that they would lose their lives if they did not go all out now.

The four individuals unleashed their abilities, conjuring a tempest imbued with formidable power from all four directions and directing them at Lynette.

At the same time, Jared summoned a fire dragon that roared and charged toward Lynette.

The next second, roars and hisses came from the arcane array Jared had set up as various beasts with frost energy started dashing toward Lynette as well.

Everyone gave their absolute best, leaving nothing in reserve.

Jared had quickly moved backward after summoning the fire dragon. He was not running away. Instead, he was hastily drawing a complicated pattern on the snowy ground.

He was setting up another arcane array. What he needed most was time.

In the face of so many terrifying attacks, Lynette actually laughed.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2930-“You insignificant creatures, do you think a cultivator who is about to enter the realm of Tribulator is someone you can easily defeat? How ridiculous. Don’t think you’re as powerful as me. We’re worlds apart! When you reach my cultivation level, you’ll understand what I mean. All I need is an opportunity to reach the realm of Tribulator! Maybe you’ll be my opportunity...”

Not only was Lynette not afraid to be up against so many people’s attacks, but she even seemed excited.

She had been stuck as a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator for a long time, and the opportunity she sought had never once appeared.

Perhaps this was her opportunity.

Lynette raised her hands, causing orbs of flames to materialize around her.

A total of seven orbs of demonic fire spun around Lynette.

The orbs spun faster and faster, gradually merging into a towering pillar of flame. Lynette vanished from their view as if she too had become part of the flames.

Everyone's eyes widened as they felt a faint tremor in their hearts.

Along with the continuous rotation of the flaming pillar, the colors of the sky shifted, and the snow in the vicinity evaporated, revealing a crystal-clear ice surface.

The flame pillar grew larger and larger until a searing, blinding ball of fire emerged at its core.

That was the purest form of demonic fire.

The ball slowly descended, and the others were surprised to find Lynette in the ball.

Cloud and the others' attacks, when came into contact with the fireball, were instantly crushed before turning into spiritual energy that dispersed in all directions.

Even the fire dragon that Jared had summoned was absorbed by the fireball when it approached the ball.

And before those beasts could reach Lynette, they were turned into nothingness by the hot flames.

Shock was written on the faces of Cloud and the others. They wanted to retreat immediately, but the scattered spiritual energy struck them and sent them flying backward.

Each and every one of them looked at Lynette resentfully. Despite working together, they were no match for Lynette.

Not even Jared's involvement did anything to change the situation.

Lynette, who was still in the fireball, looked at them in disdain. "Foolish creatures, have you finally realized the difference between us?"

Shen then lifted her arms. The fireball continued to rotate, and the surrounding spiritual energy began to condense.

Cloud, Sunny, and the rest could only turn to Jared, putting all their hopes on him.

By then, Jared had already completed his drawing of that complex arcane array and dropped a drop of crimson blood essence in the center of the arcane array.

Seeing Lynette charging toward Cloud and the others, he leaped out of the arcane array and shouted, "Quick, get inside the arcane array!"

They swiftly ran into the arcane array Jared had set up.

Although they had no idea what kind of arcane array Jared had set up, they placed unconditional trust in Jared at that moment. That arcane array would certainly save their lives.

"Still trying to run? Dream on!" Lynette sneered.

At that moment, Jared had taken out Demon Flogger and struck it at the gigantic fireball Lynette was in.

A sharp crack echoed as Demon Flogger shot out a beam of light.

It struck the fireball, and Lynette's body stiffened.

She could feel the immense pressure coming from Demon Flogger despite being inside the fireball.

While Lynette was momentarily stunned, Jared took the opportunity to get inside the arcane array as well.

The second the arcane array was activated, a white curtain of light slowly rose around it.

"Teleportation Array? So you're trying to escape with Teleportation Array! I will never let you get away with this!"

Lynette jumped into the arcane array as well.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2924

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2924-Neither of the Demonic Cultivators had expected the people trapped inside the ice mountain to escape or prepare an ambush for them ahead.

Since the cave had collapsed and none of the spirits could escape, the Demonic Cultivators must return to their base with Jared.

They kept using their spiritual senses to lock onto Jared's location, preventing him from escaping.

When Jared landed back on the ground, he hastily drew a large diagram on the snow before sitting cross-legged in the middle.

It was an arcane array, and it would activate when the two Demonic Cultivators stepped inside.

Soon, the two Demonic Cultivators caught up to their target. When they saw Jared sitting on the ground calmly, they were puzzled.

At that moment, the giant arcane array was activated. White mist filled the air and illusory demon beasts appeared.

Although the demon beasts were made of the mist, their roars still carried a terrifying aura capable of intimidating anyone.

"Do you really think that puny arcane array is enough to stop us?" one of the Demonic Cultivators scoffed, and an ice spear appeared in his hand.

The ice spear was tipped with a raging inferno.

Ice and fire are not compatible, but the Demonic Cultivator managed to use both fire and ice simultaneously.

The Demonic Cultivator with the spear turned to his companion and said, "You check the surroundings for any ambushes. I'll deal with this guy."

It was evident that the Demonic Cultivator was quite cautious.

The other Demonic Cultivator nodded before leaping away. Meanwhile, the one with the spear launched an attack.

He stabbed the ground with his weapon and generated gales in his surroundings, shooting wind blades at Jared.

The mist demon beasts roared and charged forward. When the wind blades damaged them, they instantly turned back into mist again.

Jared retreated, avoiding the wind blades.

Seeing that, the Demonic Cultivator smirked and launched himself toward his target in the form of a storm.

At that moment, the Demonic Cultivator was wholly inside Jared's arcane array. He wasn't afraid of an arcane array that produced illusory demon beasts.

Upon entering the arcane array, the Demonic Cultivator saw that Jared was retreating rapidly, prompting him to launch his attack that struck Jared like arrows.

Having been stabbed, Jared vomited blood, and his body started to bleed.

The Demonic Cultivator smirked and grabbed Jared's collar. "There's no way you can escape me!"

At that moment, the other Demonic Cultivator concluded his search for ambushes and returned to his companion. He noticed his companion laughing at the air, holding a spear in one hand and nothing in the other.

"Hey!" he shouted, snapping his companion back to his senses.

The latter noticed Jared was gone from his grip. "Is this an illusion array?"

Immediately, he swung his spear, causing a storm of fire to rise. The arcane array that Jared had planted vanished in the fire.

"This guy's pretty good with arcane arrays. We shouldn't let our guard down. We should attack him at the same time!" The other Demonic Cultivator spoke and summoned a magic sword.

Both of them attacked Jared together.

Jared buried his fingers into the ground. Following that, the earth shook, and white chains of spiritual energy surged, binding the two Demonic Cultivators.

When the two Demonic Cultivators noticed they were bound, their expression darkened.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2925-The two Demonic Cultivators exchanged glances before their bodies burst into flames.

Their demonic fire began to scorch the spiritual energy chains.

After only a few moments, the spiritual energy chains were incinerated.

“Do you really think that can stop us? What a joke. You’d better give up now, brat!” One of the Demonic Cultivators smirked.

“You two aren’t powerful enough to catch me,” Jared sneered.

Following that, dozens of people arrived at his location.

The two Demonic Cultivators frowned when they realized that everyone trapped in the cave had successfully escaped.

Glaring at the two Demonic Cultivators, Cloud said through gritted teeth, “I bet you two b*stards didn’t think we would escape, huh?”

“Impossible! How could you all have escaped? Weren’t your spiritual senses absorbed by the ice crystal?”

“No way! Those spirits broke through the seal, which proves they absorbed enough spiritual senses!”

The two Demonic Cultivators were dumbfounded. They could not understand why the crowd was doing fine despite the fact that the spirits had broken through the seal.

“It’s because Mr. Chance’s consciousness field is so vast that his spiritual sense alone is enough! That’s how he saved everyone,” Vasily sneered.

“What?” The two Demonic Cultivators stared at Jared with even greater disbelief.

They had tricked plenty of cultivators in the past, but none of them had been that powerful. They had messed up by bringing Jared into the cave.

They did not expect a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator to possess such overwhelming power.

They regretted their actions. Instead of getting rewarded, they would both be punished.

At that moment, they wished they could eat Jared alive. However, facing so many people, they dared not attack Jared recklessly.

“Let’s just cut the chit-chat and kill them!” Konce was getting impatient.

Never before did he experience such intense humiliation.

“Although there are many of you, it’s not that easy to kill us!”

After one of the Demonic Cultivators finished speaking, he opened his mouth and breathed fire.

The other Demonic Cultivator promptly did the same.

The flames instantly met and formed a fireball.

Then, a red mist wrapped around them. Around this mist, there were flames burning.

“Kill them!” shouted Konce.

Just as the crowd was about to attack the Demonic Cultivators, the flames around the two began to explode.

Their bodies spun rapidly, forming a tornado that rose into the air.

“Those two are trying to escape!” Jared could tell the duo was attempting to flee with the explosion of the flame.

He pulled out Demon Flogger and swung it at the tornado.

A crisp slap was heard. There was a flash of white light, followed by the screams of the two Demonic Cultivators.

Their bodies were hit by Demon Flogger and torn apart.

However, their spirits used that opportunity to fly away.

“Dammit! Those two gave up their bodies and got away!” Cloud exclaimed and intended to chase after the Demonic Cultivators.

However, Jared stopped him. “Don’t go.”

“Why, Mr. Chance? Even if they are only spirits now, we still can’t let them go!”

“Other Demonic Cultivators are approaching us, and they’re strong. We need to leave as soon as possible.”

Upon hearing that, the crowd promptly gathered around Jared with a stern look on their faces.

Jared’s spiritual sense was extremely powerful. They had no reason to doubt his words.

Meanwhile, the two Demonic Cultivators only relaxed when they realized Jared’s group didn’t chase after them.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2926-Although only their spirits were left, the Demonic Cultivators could revive pretty easily. All they needed was to find a new body or pills that could regenerate their bodies.

They might have lost a portion of their power, but it was better than dying for real.

If they hadn’t protected their spirits with demonic fire earlier, Jared’s Demon Flogger would’ve ended their lives for good.

“We need to head back as soon as possible and tell Lord Inferno Devil about that brat’s Demon Flogger,” said one of the Demonic Cultivators before they continued flying away.

However, a few minutes after that, they encountered three people. All three of them possessed powerful auras and the aura of a demon.

“It’s Ms. Baptiste!” The two instantly became excited and flew toward that side.

These three people were Lynette and two demon guardians. They had come to check out the place where the souls were sealed and planned to take Jared away.

When Lynette saw the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators floating toward her, she frowned.

“How did you two end up like this?” she asked coldly.

“You must avenge us, Ms. Baptiste! We didn’t expect those people to escape from the cave! Not only that, the cave collapsed and trapped the spirits underground!” one of the two Demonic Cultivators said, then recounted the entire incident.

When Lynette heard about Demon Flogger, her expression became tense. “You’re saying that that brat knows how to use demonic fire and has Demon Flogger in his possession? Is he really only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator?” How could someone like him know so many tricks? Also, how did Demon Flogger end up in his possession?

“It’s true. Although the brat is only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, his spiritual sense is massive. It’s thanks to him that the others could escape. I apologize for our incompetence. We will accept any form of punishment, Ms. Baptiste.” The two Demonic Cultivators knew they had ruined the operation and would need to be punished for it.

However, they were optimistic that their punishment wouldn’t be too severe since they had already lost their bodies.

“You two indeed should be punished for your incompetence.” Lynette narrowed her eyes, and a flame in her palm instantly engulfed their spirits.

The two Demonic Cultivators screamed, “Have mercy on us, Ms. Baptiste! We’ve been loyal to the cause and done many things for so many years! Why do you want to exterminate us completely?”

They couldn’t understand why Lynette was killing them both.

“It’s precisely because you two have done many things that I need to kill you both. Otherwise, there’s a risk of you two spilling our secrets to others.” Lynette eliminated the two Demonic Cultivators calmly as though she were squashing two bugs.

The destruction of the spirit seal and the appearance of Demon Flogger was a huge blow to the demons.

Demonic Cultivators were already living a tough life, and Inferno Devil had finally recruited a new batch of subordinates after so many years.

If that news were to spread among the Demonic Cultivators, it would cause panic. Some might even escape.

To keep everyone calm, Lynette had to crush the two incompetent Demonic Cultivators.

Soon, the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators were incinerated by her demonic fire.

“What do we do now, Ms. Baptiste? Should we continue searching for the man or return to report on the situation?” one guardian asked.

“Don’t tell Master about this yet. We’ll capture those who escaped and that brat before we discuss this matter further. The only way to ensure Master doesn’t get enraged is to present Demon Flogger to him. Otherwise, if we return now, we’ll be admonished severely.”

Lynette knew that Inferno Devil would scold her if she did not handle the matter well even though it was the two dead Demonic Cultivators’ fault. Inferno Devil had entrusted the matter to her, so she was responsible for it.

She didn’t mind being scolded, but she absolutely didn’t want Josephine to become Inferno Devil’s new favorite. Otherwise, her losses would be significant.

She wanted to capture Jared first before reporting the issue to Inferno Devil.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2927-“Ms. Baptiste, the vast expanse of the far north is boundless. I’m afraid it’ll be quite challenging to locate someone,” one of the guardians said.

“Barken, the three of us can split up and search. Even if they run, they can’t get too far. Once we find them, make sure to restrain all of them. If that’s not possible, at least capture that brat who can use demonic fire!” Lynette ordered.

“Ms. Baptiste, that’s... not a good idea. It’s risky for you to act alone. If something were to happen to you, Lord Inferno Devil would blame us,” Barken said worriedly.

“Hmph! There’s no need to be afraid of a few insignificant cultivators like them. Even if they possess the Demon Flogger, what can they do?” Lynette snorted, her Top Level Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm strength bursting forth.

The only thing Lynette sought at that moment was an opportunity. Once she acquired it, she could break through Body Fusion Realm and advance to the realm of Tribulator.

Once she overcame all the trials of a Tribulator, she could ascend to being a Semi-Demon Immortal cultivator, and that opportunity might lie with Jared, who had mastered demonic fire.

Lynette’s eyes blazed with intense passion.

“You’re a prodigy, Ms. Baptiste. It’s a given that you’re not afraid of those insignificant human cultivators.” Barken hastily bootlicked Lynette.

“In that case, let’s split up and act separately. Otherwise, if they escape, none of us can bear the punishment from Master!”

With that, Lynette leaped up, disappearing into the vast snowy plains.

The two guardians exchanged glances, then left to search in different directions.

Meanwhile, Jared and his party were desperately fleeing for their lives.

Since Jared had mentioned the Demonic Cultivators pursuing them were highly formidable, that must indeed be the case.

After running a distance, Jared frowned and came to an abrupt halt.

“What’s the matter, Mr. Chance?” Vasily asked.

“We can’t escape like this. The enemy is too strong, and they’re chasing us from multiple directions, so someone has to stay behind to stave them off and buy time for the others,” Jared explained.

After he finished his sentence, everyone fell silent because they knew whoever stayed behind to delay the enemies would be doomed, and no one wanted to die.

Vasily glanced at Jared, then gritted his teeth and volunteered. "Mr. Chance, I'm willing to stay behind to hold off the pursuing Demonic Cultivators. You should hurry up and run."

Jared shook his head at Vasily. "It can't be you. With your capabilities, they could kill you with a single strike. You won't keep them at bay for long. I'll stay, but I'll need several more powerful people to assist me. Jerison, Vasily, bring Viola with you and escape westward. Be quick!"

After saying that, Jared swept his gaze across Sunny, Konce, Lofton, and Cloud. After all, their cultivation levels were the highest among the group.

If weaker cultivators like Jerison, Vasily, Viola, and the others were to fight the Demonic Cultivators, Jared figured even the aftershocks of the battle could be fatal to them.

"I won't leave. I want to stay and keep you company, Jared!" Viola refused to go.

"Even if you stay, you won't be of any help and will only distract me. All of you with weaker abilities should flee at once! If anyone else wishes to stay and assist me, you're welcome. Still, I must inform you that if we don't join forces and work together now, all of us might end up being consumed by those Demonic Cultivators!" Jared uttered gravely.

"Jared, I'll stay. Putting aside the fact that you saved my life, it is my obligation as a human cultivator to eliminate these Demonic Cultivators." Sunny was the first to voice his commitment to remain behind.

Following Sunny's lead, Cloud also chose to stay.

Konce and Lofton exchanged glances and nodded, indicating their willingness to help as well.

After all, there was strength in numbers. Not to mention, they were the most powerful in the party.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2928-"Mr. Stone, you two should return to Stellaris Sect. If I don't come back in a month, it means I'm already dead. You can tell my dad I died slaying Demonic Cultivators to protect the people!" Cloud said firmly to Tyrone.

“Mr. Seizon, this...” Tyrone was at a loss for words.

“Go. There’s no point in you two remaining here,” Cloud urged Tyrone and the old woman to leave.

In the end, left with no other choice, Tyrone and the old woman departed.

Viola cast a reluctant glance at Jared but eventually took her leave as well because she knew she would only be a burden if she stayed.

Once those with lower cultivation levels left, Jared began to make arrangements.

At that moment, everyone willingly followed Jared’s instructions since he was the one to save their lives.

After he finished giving the instructions, a figure rapidly approached from a distance and stopped right in front of Jared.

The newcomer was none other than Lynette.

Dressed in red with flames enveloping her, Lynette stared intently at Jared.

“Do Demonic Cultivators act so blatantly nowadays? You don’t even bother concealing your aura.” Jared spoke leisurely to Lynette.

Taken aback, Lynette fixed her gaze on Jared with a hint of surprise flitting across her eyes. “What sort of power do you, a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, possess to confront me so boldly? Did you kill my two subordinates? Are you the one who refined the demonic fire? Are you the wielder of the Demon Flogger?”

She bombarded Jared with a volley of questions, not taking him seriously at all due to their vast difference in capabilities.

In Lynette’s opinion, she could do away with Jared effortlessly.

“You asked me so many questions, so which do you expect me to answer first? But yes, I did all those things you mentioned,” Jared replied.

“You’re quite straightforward. Since you’re the culprit, why aren’t you running away? Were you waiting for me?”

Lynette's interest in Jared was piqued. She couldn't fathom why a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator like Jared dared to face a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm expert like her without showing any signs of fear.

"Why should I run? You Demonic Cultivators should be the ones to flee, isn't it? After all, you're the despicable ones. Indeed, I was waiting for you here. I wanted to see for myself who you really are. You're a Demonic Cultivator, yet you so brazenly flaunt your aura," Jared sneered.

Hearing Jared's words, Lynette laughed instead of getting offended. "Now that you've seen me, what do you plan to do?" Lynette asked teasingly.

"If you were a man, I'd kill you. However, you're a female Demonic Cultivator and fairly attractive at that. Therefore, I'm planning to have some fun with you before ending your life," Jared uttered with all seriousness.

Lynette burst into laughter. "Hahaha! You're so amusing! I've never seen someone as funny as you. You possess the Demon Flogger and even refined our race's demonic fire. This shows your fate is intertwined with us demons. Why not join me? Become one of us. By then, I'll let you have all the fun you want with me. We can even cultivate together so you can refine more demonic fire. What do you say? Bear this in mind. I'm not an easy woman. I only reveal my feelings to those I truly like."

A seductive expression spread across Lynette's countenance as she tried to entice Jared.

"Why should I comply with your request just like that? What if you go against your words later?" Jared was unconvinced.

"In that case, why don't you tell me what I can do to make you believe me?" Lynette chirped.

"Take off your clothes and serve me well. If you satisfy me, I might just go with you," Jared uttered solemnly.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2929-Meanwhile, Cloud and the others who were hiding not far away were confused as they listened to Jared and Lynette's conversation.

They could not understand why Jared had started flirting with the Demonic Cultivator and had even suggested cultivating together.

Were they going to watch a grand show for free?

Lynette was still smiling even after hearing Jared's words. "I'd like to have a good time with you now, but there are other people around, and I can't possibly let them see my body. Once I kill them all, I'll take off my clothes and let you admire my body."

With that, flames burst out of her and surrounded Jared to stop him from escaping.

However, just as the flames wrapped around Jared, Jared's body started turning transparent before disappearing entirely.

Lynette's smile froze, and she furrowed her brows. "You're just a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, but you're capable of creating a shadow clone with such ease. You even tricked me. You're really not a nobody."

Lynette had never thought that this was merely Jared's shadow clone. She had thought it was his real body and had not noticed anything amiss at all because the aura of his shadow clone was no different from his original body.

Even Cloud, Sunny, and the others were shocked. They had no idea when Jared had gained the skill to create a shadow clone. Like Lynette, they had thought he had been truly standing there.

It turned out that Jared had been buying time by chatting with Lynette.

"Aren't you guys going to make your move? She has already discovered the trick."

At some point, Jared had appeared behind them.

Four people—three Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators and one Seventh Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator—began moving when they heard Jared's voice.

As they moved in for the attack, they each released a spiritual energy chain to tie Lynette up.

Cloud spat out a mouthful of blood essence to make the ground shake, and ice walls rose up to trap Lynette within them.

“Radiant Ensnarement!” Konce roared. Numerous thin threads of light interwove and turned into a massive net above Lynette.

When the net came down, it trapped Lynette within.

Now that Lynette was bound by spiritual energy chains, surrounded by a wall of ice, and wrapped in a net, it looked like she had been completely controlled.

“Hmph! You’re nothing but a group of foolish men!” Lynette scoffed. There was no trace of panic on her face. Instead, she seemed to be mocking them.

Fiery red flames erupted from her body and shot into the sky like a dazzling fireworks display. They altered the hue of the sky and sent tremors through the ground.

In the blink of an eye, the net and the ice walls turned into dust.

Cloud and the other three were forced to move back because of the intense flames. Despite their swift retreat, they still felt the backlash of that heat wave.

Nevertheless, without stopping, the four of them shared a look before launching attacks at Lynette again.

They knew that they would lose their lives if they did not go all out now.

The four individuals unleashed their abilities, conjuring a tempest imbued with formidable power from all four directions and directing them at Lynette.

At the same time, Jared summoned a fire dragon that roared and charged toward Lynette.

The next second, roars and hisses came from the arcane array Jared had set up as various beasts with frost energy started dashing toward Lynette as well.

Everyone gave their absolute best, leaving nothing in reserve.

Jared had quickly moved backward after summoning the fire dragon. He was not running away. Instead, he was hastily drawing a complicated pattern on the snowy ground.

He was setting up another arcane array. What he needed most was time.

In the face of so many terrifying attacks, Lynette actually laughed.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2930-“You insignificant creatures, do you think a cultivator who is about to enter the realm of Tribulator is someone you can easily defeat? How ridiculous. Don’t think you’re as powerful as me. We’re worlds apart! When you reach my cultivation level, you’ll understand what I mean. All I need is an opportunity to reach the realm of Tribulator! Maybe you’ll be my opportunity...”

Not only was Lynette not afraid to be up against so many people’s attacks, but she even seemed excited.

She had been stuck as a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator for a long time, and the opportunity she sought had never once appeared.

Perhaps this was her opportunity.

Lynette raised her hands, causing orbs of flames to materialize around her.

A total of seven orbs of demonic fire spun around Lynette.

The orbs spun faster and faster, gradually merging into a towering pillar of flame. Lynette vanished from their view as if she too had become part of the flames.

Everyone’s eyes widened as they felt a faint tremor in their hearts.

Along with the continuous rotation of the flaming pillar, the colors of the sky shifted, and the snow in the vicinity evaporated, revealing a crystal-clear ice surface.

The flame pillar grew larger and larger until a searing, blinding ball of fire emerged at its core.

That was the purest form of demonic fire.

The ball slowly descended, and the others were surprised to find Lynette in the ball.

Cloud and the others’ attacks, when came into contact with the fireball, were instantly crushed before turning into spiritual energy that dispersed in all directions.

Even the fire dragon that Jared had summoned was absorbed by the fireball when it approached the ball.

And before those beasts could reach Lynette, they were turned into nothingness by the hot flames.

Shock was written on the faces of Cloud and the others. They wanted to retreat immediately, but the scattered spiritual energy struck them and sent them flying backward.

Each and every one of them looked at Lynette resentfully. Despite working together, they were no match for Lynette.

Not even Jared's involvement did anything to change the situation.

Lynette, who was still in the fireball, looked at them in disdain. "Foolish creatures, have you finally realized the difference between us?"

Shen then lifted her arms. The fireball continued to rotate, and the surrounding spiritual energy began to condense.

Cloud, Sunny, and the rest could only turn to Jared, putting all their hopes on him.

By then, Jared had already completed his drawing of that complex arcane array and dropped a drop of crimson blood essence in the center of the arcane array.

Seeing Lynette charging toward Cloud and the others, he leaped out of the arcane array and shouted, "Quick, get inside the arcane array!"

They swiftly ran into the arcane array Jared had set up.

Although they had no idea what kind of arcane array Jared had set up, they placed unconditional trust in Jared at that moment. That arcane array would certainly save their lives.

"Still trying to run? Dream on!" Lynette sneered.

At that moment, Jared had taken out Demon Flogger and struck it at the gigantic fireball Lynette was in.

A sharp crack echoed as Demon Flogger shot out a beam of light.

It struck the fireball, and Lynette's body stiffened.

She could feel the immense pressure coming from Demon Flogger despite being inside the fireball.

While Lynette was momentarily stunned, Jared took the opportunity to get inside the arcane array as well.

The second the arcane array was activated, a white curtain of light slowly rose around it.

“Teleportation Array? So you’re trying to escape with Teleportation Array! I will never let you get away with this!”

Lynette jumped into the arcane array as well.

Read A Man Like None Other Chapter 2925

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2925-The two Demonic Cultivators exchanged glances before their bodies burst into flames.

Their demonic fire began to scorch the spiritual energy chains.

After only a few moments, the spiritual energy chains were incinerated.

“Do you really think that can stop us? What a joke. You’d better give up now, brat!” One of the Demonic Cultivators smirked.

“You two aren’t powerful enough to catch me,” Jared sneered.

Following that, dozens of people arrived at his location.

The two Demonic Cultivators frowned when they realized that everyone trapped in the cave had successfully escaped.

Glaring at the two Demonic Cultivators, Cloud said through gritted teeth, “I bet you two b*stards didn’t think we would escape, huh?”

“Impossible! How could you all have escaped? Weren’t your spiritual senses absorbed by the ice crystal?”

“No way! Those spirits broke through the seal, which proves they absorbed enough spiritual senses!”

The two Demonic Cultivators were dumbfounded. They could not understand why the crowd was doing fine despite the fact that the spirits had broken through the seal.

“It’s because Mr. Chance’s consciousness field is so vast that his spiritual sense alone is enough! That’s how he saved everyone,” Vasily sneered.

“What?” The two Demonic Cultivators stared at Jared with even greater disbelief.

They had tricked plenty of cultivators in the past, but none of them had been that powerful. They had messed up by bringing Jared into the cave.

They did not expect a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator to possess such overwhelming power.

They regretted their actions. Instead of getting rewarded, they would both be punished.

At that moment, they wished they could eat Jared alive. However, facing so many people, they dared not attack Jared recklessly.

“Let’s just cut the chit-chat and kill them!” Konce was getting impatient.

Never before did he experience such intense humiliation.

“Although there are many of you, it’s not that easy to kill us!”

After one of the Demonic Cultivators finished speaking, he opened his mouth and breathed fire.

The other Demonic Cultivator promptly did the same.

The flames instantly met and formed a fireball.

Then, a red mist wrapped around them. Around this mist, there were flames burning.

“Kill them!” shouted Konce.

Just as the crowd was about to attack the Demonic Cultivators, the flames around the two began to explode.

Their bodies spun rapidly, forming a tornado that rose into the air.

“Those two are trying to escape!” Jared could tell the duo was attempting to flee with the explosion of the flame.

He pulled out Demon Flogger and swung it at the tornado.

A crisp slap was heard. There was a flash of white light, followed by the screams of the two Demonic Cultivators.

Their bodies were hit by Demon Flogger and torn apart.

However, their spirits used that opportunity to fly away.

“Dammit! Those two gave up their bodies and got away!” Cloud exclaimed and intended to chase after the Demonic Cultivators.

However, Jared stopped him. “Don’t go.”

“Why, Mr. Chance? Even if they are only spirits now, we still can’t let them go!”

“Other Demonic Cultivators are approaching us, and they’re strong. We need to leave as soon as possible.”

Upon hearing that, the crowd promptly gathered around Jared with a stern look on their faces.

Jared’s spiritual sense was extremely powerful. They had no reason to doubt his words.

Meanwhile, the two Demonic Cultivators only relaxed when they realized Jared’s group didn’t chase after them.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2926-Although only their spirits were left, the Demonic Cultivators could revive pretty easily. All they needed was to find a new body or pills that could regenerate their bodies.

They might have lost a portion of their power, but it was better than dying for real.

If they hadn’t protected their spirits with demonic fire earlier, Jared’s Demon Flogger would’ve ended their lives for good.

“We need to head back as soon as possible and tell Lord Inferno Devil about that brat’s Demon Flogger,” said one of the Demonic Cultivators before they continued flying away.

However, a few minutes after that, they encountered three people. All three of them possessed powerful auras and the aura of a demon.

“It’s Ms. Baptiste!” The two instantly became excited and flew toward that side.

These three people were Lynette and two demon guardians. They had come to check out the place where the souls were sealed and planned to take Jared away.

When Lynette saw the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators floating toward her, she frowned.

“How did you two end up like this?” she asked coldly.

“You must avenge us, Ms. Baptiste! We didn’t expect those people to escape from the cave! Not only that, the cave collapsed and trapped the spirits underground!” one of the two Demonic Cultivators said, then recounted the entire incident.

When Lynette heard about Demon Flogger, her expression became tense. “You’re saying that that brat knows how to use demonic fire and has Demon Flogger in his possession? Is he really only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator?” How could someone like him know so many tricks? Also, how did Demon Flogger end up in his possession?

“It’s true. Although the brat is only a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, his spiritual sense is massive. It’s thanks to him that the others could escape. I apologize for our incompetence. We will accept any form of punishment, Ms. Baptiste.” The two Demonic Cultivators knew they had ruined the operation and would need to be punished for it.

However, they were optimistic that their punishment wouldn’t be too severe since they had already lost their bodies.

“You two indeed should be punished for your incompetence.” Lynette narrowed her eyes, and a flame in her palm instantly engulfed their spirits.

The two Demonic Cultivators screamed, "Have mercy on us, Ms. Baptiste! We've been loyal to the cause and done many things for so many years! Why do you want to exterminate us completely?"

They couldn't understand why Lynette was killing them both.

"It's precisely because you two have done many things that I need to kill you both. Otherwise, there's a risk of you two spilling our secrets to others." Lynette eliminated the two Demonic Cultivators calmly as though she were squashing two bugs.

The destruction of the spirit seal and the appearance of Demon Flogger was a huge blow to the demons.

Demonic Cultivators were already living a tough life, and Inferno Devil had finally recruited a new batch of subordinates after so many years.

If that news were to spread among the Demonic Cultivators, it would cause panic. Some might even escape.

To keep everyone calm, Lynette had to crush the two incompetent Demonic Cultivators.

Soon, the spirits of the two Demonic Cultivators were incinerated by her demonic fire.

"What do we do now, Ms. Baptiste? Should we continue searching for the man or return to report on the situation?" one guardian asked.

"Don't tell Master about this yet. We'll capture those who escaped and that brat before we discuss this matter further. The only way to ensure Master doesn't get enraged is to present Demon Flogger to him. Otherwise, if we return now, we'll be admonished severely."

Lynette knew that Inferno Devil would scold her if she did not handle the matter well even though it was the two dead Demonic Cultivators' fault. Inferno Devil had entrusted the matter to her, so she was responsible for it.

She didn't mind being scolded, but she absolutely didn't want Josephine to become Inferno Devil's new favorite. Otherwise, her losses would be significant.

She wanted to capture Jared first before reporting the issue to Inferno Devil.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2927-“Ms. Baptiste, the vast expanse of the far north is boundless. I’m afraid it’ll be quite challenging to locate someone,” one of the guardians said.

“Barken, the three of us can split up and search. Even if they run, they can’t get too far. Once we find them, make sure to restrain all of them. If that’s not possible, at least capture that brat who can use demonic fire!” Lynette ordered.

“Ms. Baptiste, that’s... not a good idea. It’s risky for you to act alone. If something were to happen to you, Lord Inferno Devil would blame us,” Barken said worriedly.

“Hmph! There’s no need to be afraid of a few insignificant cultivators like them. Even if they possess the Demon Flogger, what can they do?” Lynette snorted, her Top Level Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm strength bursting forth.

The only thing Lynette sought at that moment was an opportunity. Once she acquired it, she could break through Body Fusion Realm and advance to the realm of Tribulator.

Once she overcame all the trials of a Tribulator, she could ascend to being a Semi-Demon Immortal cultivator, and that opportunity might lie with Jared, who had mastered demonic fire.

Lynette’s eyes blazed with intense passion.

“You’re a prodigy, Ms. Baptiste. It’s a given that you’re not afraid of those insignificant human cultivators.” Barken hastily bootlicked Lynette.

“In that case, let’s split up and act separately. Otherwise, if they escape, none of us can bear the punishment from Master!”

With that, Lynette leaped up, disappearing into the vast snowy plains.

The two guardians exchanged glances, then left to search in different directions.

Meanwhile, Jared and his party were desperately fleeing for their lives.

Since Jared had mentioned the Demonic Cultivators pursuing them were highly formidable, that must indeed be the case.

After running a distance, Jared frowned and came to an abrupt halt.

“What’s the matter, Mr. Chance?” Vasily asked.

“We can’t escape like this. The enemy is too strong, and they’re chasing us from multiple directions, so someone has to stay behind to stave them off and buy time for the others,” Jared explained.

After he finished his sentence, everyone fell silent because they knew whoever stayed behind to delay the enemies would be doomed, and no one wanted to die.

Vasily glanced at Jared, then gritted his teeth and volunteered. “Mr. Chance, I’m willing to stay behind to hold off the pursuing Demonic Cultivators. You should hurry up and run.”

Jared shook his head at Vasily. “It can’t be you. With your capabilities, they could kill you with a single strike. You won’t keep them at bay for long. I’ll stay, but I’ll need several more powerful people to assist me. Jerison, Vasily, bring Viola with you and escape westward. Be quick!”

After saying that, Jared swept his gaze across Sunny, Konce, Lofton, and Cloud. After all, their cultivation levels were the highest among the group.

If weaker cultivators like Jerison, Vasily, Viola, and the others were to fight the Demonic Cultivators, Jared figured even the aftershocks of the battle could be fatal to them.

“I won’t leave. I want to stay and keep you company, Jared!” Viola refused to go.

“Even if you stay, you won’t be of any help and will only distract me. All of you with weaker abilities should flee at once! If anyone else wishes to stay and assist me, you’re welcome. Still, I must inform you that if we don’t join forces and work together now, all of us might end up being consumed by those Demonic Cultivators!” Jared uttered gravely.

“Jared, I’ll stay. Putting aside the fact that you saved my life, it is my obligation as a human cultivator to eliminate these Demonic Cultivators.” Sunny was the first to voice his commitment to remain behind.

Following Sunny’s lead, Cloud also chose to stay.

Konce and Lofton exchanged glances and nodded, indicating their willingness to help as well.

After all, there was strength in numbers. Not to mention, they were the most powerful in the party.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2928-“Mr. Stone, you two should return to Stellaris Sect. If I don’t come back in a month, it means I’m already dead. You can tell my dad I died slaying Demonic Cultivators to protect the people!” Cloud said firmly to Tyrone.

“Mr. Seizon, this...” Tyrone was at a loss for words.

“Go. There’s no point in you two remaining here,” Cloud urged Tyrone and the old woman to leave.

In the end, left with no other choice, Tyrone and the old woman departed.

Viola cast a reluctant glance at Jared but eventually took her leave as well because she knew she would only be a burden if she stayed.

Once those with lower cultivation levels left, Jared began to make arrangements.

At that moment, everyone willingly followed Jared’s instructions since he was the one to save their lives.

After he finished giving the instructions, a figure rapidly approached from a distance and stopped right in front of Jared.

The newcomer was none other than Lynette.

Dressed in red with flames enveloping her, Lynette stared intently at Jared.

“Do Demonic Cultivators act so blatantly nowadays? You don’t even bother concealing your aura.” Jared spoke leisurely to Lynette.

Taken aback, Lynette fixed her gaze on Jared with a hint of surprise flitting across her eyes. "What sort of power do you, a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, possess to confront me so boldly? Did you kill my two subordinates? Are you the one who refined the demonic fire? Are you the wielder of the Demon Flogger?"

She bombarded Jared with a volley of questions, not taking him seriously at all due to their vast difference in capabilities.

In Lynette's opinion, she could do away with Jared effortlessly.

"You asked me so many questions, so which do you expect me to answer first? But yes, I did all those things you mentioned," Jared replied.

"You're quite straightforward. Since you're the culprit, why aren't you running away? Were you waiting for me?"

Lynette's interest in Jared was piqued. She couldn't fathom why a mere Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator like Jared dared to face a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm expert like her without showing any signs of fear.

"Why should I run? You Demonic Cultivators should be the ones to flee, isn't it? After all, you're the despicable ones. Indeed, I was waiting for you here. I wanted to see for myself who you really are. You're a Demonic Cultivator, yet you so brazenly flaunt your aura," Jared sneered.

Hearing Jared's words, Lynette laughed instead of getting offended. "Now that you've seen me, what do you plan to do?" Lynette asked teasingly.

"If you were a man, I'd kill you. However, you're a female Demonic Cultivator and fairly attractive at that. Therefore, I'm planning to have some fun with you before ending your life," Jared uttered with all seriousness.

Lynette burst into laughter. "Hahaha! You're so amusing! I've never seen someone as funny as you. You possess the Demon Flogger and even refined our race's demonic fire. This shows your fate is intertwined with us demons. Why not join me? Become one of us. By then, I'll let you have all the fun you want with me. We can even cultivate together so you can refine more demonic fire. What do you say? Bear this in mind. I'm not an easy woman. I only reveal my feelings to those I truly like."

A seductive expression spread across Lynette's countenance as she tried to entice Jared.

"Why should I comply with your request just like that? What if you go against your words later?" Jared was unconvinced.

"In that case, why don't you tell me what I can do to make you believe me?" Lynette chirped.

"Take off your clothes and serve me well. If you satisfy me, I might just go with you," Jared uttered solemnly.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2929-Meanwhile, Cloud and the others who were hiding not far away were confused as they listened to Jared and Lynette's conversation.

They could not understand why Jared had started flirting with the Demonic Cultivator and had even suggested cultivating together.

Were they going to watch a grand show for free?

Lynette was still smiling even after hearing Jared's words. "I'd like to have a good time with you now, but there are other people around, and I can't possibly let them see my body. Once I kill them all, I'll take off my clothes and let you admire my body."

With that, flames burst out of her and surrounded Jared to stop him from escaping.

However, just as the flames wrapped around Jared, Jared's body started turning transparent before disappearing entirely.

Lynette's smile froze, and she furrowed her brows. "You're just a Third Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator, but you're capable of creating a shadow clone with such ease. You even tricked me. You're really not a nobody."

Lynette had never thought that this was merely Jared's shadow clone. She had thought it was his real body and had not noticed anything amiss at all because the aura of his shadow clone was no different from his original body.

Even Cloud, Sunny, and the others were shocked. They had no idea when Jared had gained the skill to create a shadow clone. Like Lynette, they had thought he had been truly standing there.

It turned out that Jared had been buying time by chatting with Lynette.

“Aren’t you guys going to make your move? She has already discovered the trick.”

At some point, Jared had appeared behind them.

Four people—three Eighth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivators and one Seventh Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator—began moving when they heard Jared’s voice.

As they moved in for the attack, they each released a spiritual energy chain to tie Lynette up.

Cloud spat out a mouthful of blood essence to make the ground shake, and ice walls rose up to trap Lynette within them.

“Radiant Ensnarement!” Konce roared. Numerous thin threads of light interwove and turned into a massive net above Lynette.

When the net came down, it trapped Lynette within.

Now that Lynette was bound by spiritual energy chains, surrounded by a wall of ice, and wrapped in a net, it looked like she had been completely controlled.

“Hmph! You’re nothing but a group of foolish men!” Lynette scoffed. There was no trace of panic on her face. Instead, she seemed to be mocking them.

Fiery red flames erupted from her body and shot into the sky like a dazzling fireworks display. They altered the hue of the sky and sent tremors through the ground.

In the blink of an eye, the net and the ice walls turned into dust.

Cloud and the other three were forced to move back because of the intense flames. Despite their swift retreat, they still felt the backlash of that heat wave.

Nevertheless, without stopping, the four of them shared a look before launching attacks at Lynette again.

They knew that they would lose their lives if they did not go all out now.

The four individuals unleashed their abilities, conjuring a tempest imbued with formidable power from all four directions and directing them at Lynette.

At the same time, Jared summoned a fire dragon that roared and charged toward Lynette.

The next second, roars and hisses came from the arcane array Jared had set up as various beasts with frost energy started dashing toward Lynette as well.

Everyone gave their absolute best, leaving nothing in reserve.

Jared had quickly moved backward after summoning the fire dragon. He was not running away. Instead, he was hastily drawing a complicated pattern on the snowy ground.

He was setting up another arcane array. What he needed most was time.

In the face of so many terrifying attacks, Lynette actually laughed.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 2930-“You insignificant creatures, do you think a cultivator who is about to enter the realm of Tribulator is someone you can easily defeat? How ridiculous. Don’t think you’re as powerful as me. We’re worlds apart! When you reach my cultivation level, you’ll understand what I mean. All I need is an opportunity to reach the realm of Tribulator! Maybe you’ll be my opportunity...”

Not only was Lynette not afraid to be up against so many people’s attacks, but she even seemed excited.

She had been stuck as a Ninth Level Body Fusion Realm cultivator for a long time, and the opportunity she sought had never once appeared.

Perhaps this was her opportunity.

Lynette raised her hands, causing orbs of flames to materialize around her.

A total of seven orbs of demonic fire spun around Lynette.

The orbs spun faster and faster, gradually merging into a towering pillar of flame. Lynette vanished from their view as if she too had become part of the flames.

Everyone's eyes widened as they felt a faint tremor in their hearts.

Along with the continuous rotation of the flaming pillar, the colors of the sky shifted, and the snow in the vicinity evaporated, revealing a crystal-clear ice surface.

The flame pillar grew larger and larger until a searing, blinding ball of fire emerged at its core.

That was the purest form of demonic fire.

The ball slowly descended, and the others were surprised to find Lynette in the ball.

Cloud and the others' attacks, when came into contact with the fireball, were instantly crushed before turning into spiritual energy that dispersed in all directions.

Even the fire dragon that Jared had summoned was absorbed by the fireball when it approached the ball.

And before those beasts could reach Lynette, they were turned into nothingness by the hot flames.

Shock was written on the faces of Cloud and the others. They wanted to retreat immediately, but the scattered spiritual energy struck them and sent them flying backward.

Each and every one of them looked at Lynette resentfully. Despite working together, they were no match for Lynette.

Not even Jared's involvement did anything to change the situation.

Lynette, who was still in the fireball, looked at them in disdain. "Foolish creatures, have you finally realized the difference between us?"

Shen then lifted her arms. The fireball continued to rotate, and the surrounding spiritual energy began to condense.

Cloud, Sunny, and the rest could only turn to Jared, putting all their hopes on him.

By then, Jared had already completed his drawing of that complex arcane array and dropped a drop of crimson blood essence in the center of the arcane array.

Seeing Lynette charging toward Cloud and the others, he leaped out of the arcane array and shouted, "Quick, get inside the arcane array!"

They swiftly ran into the arcane array Jared had set up.

Although they had no idea what kind of arcane array Jared had set up, they placed unconditional trust in Jared at that moment. That arcane array would certainly save their lives.

"Still trying to run? Dream on!" Lynette sneered.

At that moment, Jared had taken out Demon Flogger and struck it at the gigantic fireball Lynette was in.

A sharp crack echoed as Demon Flogger shot out a beam of light.

It struck the fireball, and Lynette's body stiffened.

She could feel the immense pressure coming from Demon Flogger despite being inside the fireball.

While Lynette was momentarily stunned, Jared took the opportunity to get inside the arcane array as well.

The second the arcane array was activated, a white curtain of light slowly rose around it.

"Teleportation Array? So you're trying to escape with Teleportation Array! I will never let you get away with this!"

Lynette jumped into the arcane array as well.