escaping from Imperial Beast City. Maybe they're calling for reinforcement."

When Lucian lifted his head and spotted that, he furrowed his brows. Seeing that his father didn't reply, Xandros asked again, "Dad, should we stop it?"

Lucian remained silent, his gaze fixed on the flame. After a while, he waved his hand. "No, we don't need to."

"Why not, Dad?" Xandros was confused. "Whatever is that must be someone dispatched by Imperial Beast City to summon reinforcement! They think that by doing this we won't know."

"That's not a member of Imperial Beast City. That's the phoenix!" replied Lucian.

"Phoenix?" Xandros was stunned for a moment. "It's been years since it appeared! Why is it suddenly here at Imperial Beast City? Is it because-"

"No need to speculate because it's definitely not what you think. Ignore the reason for its presence here and command the others to attack now." A cold look swirled in Lucian's eyes.

He suddenly had an ominous feeling that something bad was going to happen, so he didn't want any further delays. Xandros nodded and unleashed a palm strike,. which generated an explosion in the air.

That thundering sound spurred Norwal City's army to advance. Hundreds of thousands of soldiers started marching toward Imperial Beast City.

Meanwhile, a guard sprinted toward Yuven and reported, "Bad news, Your Majesty! King Lucian's army has begun to attack!"

Yuven frowned and hastily exited the hall to ascend the city tower. When he arrived at the top, he gazed at the sight before him and saw tens of thousands of soldiers from Norwal City marching uniformly toward his city.

In front of the army were various demon beasts, growling. Yuven was aware that those beasts were part of Lucian's vanguard. Their goal was to gauge the enemy's capabilities..

If Imperial Beast City didn't even have the guts to face Lucian's vanguard, it would demoralize the troops within the city. However, if Yuven dispatched his soldiers to eradicate those beasts, he'd be throwing their lives away.

Yuven's strategy was to buy as much time as possible for Feenix so that she could contact the other kings before it was too late.

Ivasha glanced at Yuven. Knowing what her father was worried about, she whistled. Soon, a figure arrived beside her. That person was the furry Leifr.

"Leifr, I command you to lead your wolf army to hold off the enemy!" ordered Ivasha.

"Understood!" replied Leifr without hesitation. It was impossible for Leifr's wolves to block the march of an army of ten thousand. Despite knowing that would spell his death, he did not hesitate.

Just as he turned around, ready to leap down, Ivasha held back her tears and said, "Be careful, Leifr."

Wordlessly, Leifr nodded and jumped down. Following that, he let out a howl.

moment later, thousands of Demon Wolves rushed toward him from all directions in the city. Those Demon Wolves growled as they defended the gate.

Xandros' lips curled in disdain. "Dad, what is Imperial Beast City trying to do? Do they think that amount of Demon Wolves can stop the advancement of our mighty troops? What a joke!"

Lucian did not relax and explained, "Those Demon Wolves aren't there to block our path. They're meant to boost morale."

"What do you mean?" Xandros didn't understand his father's words.

"Those Demon Wolves are well aware they will die trying, but they won't back away. They want all the soldiers in Imperial Beast City to witness their courage, hoping that'll inspire hope. I must say, Yuven's quite ruthless. He doesn't care if his subordinates are eliminated to achieve that goal." Lucian sounded impressed.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3170-Yuven stood above the city, staring at the thousands of Demon Wolves. His heart was filled with reluctance and guilt. He felt particularly bad for Leifr because he knew what Leifr meant to Ivasha.

Ivasha grew up playing inside the mountains and forests, with Leifr accompanying her. It could be said that Leifr watched her grow up. Yet, Ivasha had sent Leifr to die.

Yuven knew Ivasha was more devastated than him, but it had to be done. When Imperial Beast City was ruled by Tigerus, many loyal warriors were brutally murdered. Imperial Beast City's loyalty toward Yuven, in general, had decreased significantly.

The confidence of the soldiers within Imperial Beast City was likely to falter when they faced a powerful army.

It was something Ivasha was well aware of, which was why she had ordered Leifr to disrupt the advancement of Lucian's troops. After all, at that moment, only Leifr was the most loyal to Yuven and Ivasha.

Ivasha was hoping that the fearless death of the Demon Wolf army would inspire the warriors of Imperial Beast City.

If everything went according to her plan, the fighting spirit of the soldiers within Imperial. Beast City would be renewed.

Leifr understood her intention, which was why he had obeyed her command without hesitation. If his death could ensure the safety of Imperial Beast City, he'd gladly sacrifice his life.

Quietly, Leifr stood ahead of the Demon Wolf army. When a breeze passed him by, the fur on his body fluttered.

A resolute and fearless look flashed across his eyes as he gazed at the mighty battalion marching toward him. The Demon Wolves glared at their enemies with fierce expressions, baring their fangs.

Leifr was loyal to Imperial Beast City, while those Demon Wolves were loyal to him. Due to their unwavering loyalty, death didn't terrify them.

"Charge!" Leifr transformed into a gigantic Demon Wolf and dashed forward.

The thousands of Demon Wolves followed behind him.

In an instant, the Demon Wolves crashed into their adversaries and began killing them. The Demon Wolves weren't that powerful. Even Leifr's strength paled in comparison to the invaders. However, they were determined and brave.

The sound of killing reverberated in the air as clouds of smoke rose. Moments later, a sea of blood and a mountain of corpses were seen at the entrance of Imperial Beast City.

As Ivasha watched the scene unfold, she teared up. A dozen minutes later, the sounds of killing gradually stopped, and the smoke dissipated.

Every last Demon Wolves were dead, lying in a puddle of their blood. Despite their valiant sacrifice, they had caused minimal damage to their enemy.

Leifr's corpse was raised high on a spear by the invaders to provoke Imperial Beast City. Upon seeing Leifr's body, Ivasha couldn't hold back her tears anymore and sobbed out loud.

Yuven's eyes became moist as well.

When the warriors within Imperial Beast City witnessed that scene, murderous intent filled their reddened eyes.

At that moment, their fighting spirit was aroused.

Above the mountain miles away from the city, Lucian watched his subordinate raise Leifr's corpse. Enraged by that scene, Lucian reprimanded, "That fool!

Doesn't he know provoking the enemy like that will only strengthen their resolve to fight?"

"So what if Imperial Beast City resists, Dad? There's nothing they can do. Their experts have already been killed. All they have left are scared cowards," said Xandros brazenly.

"Your words reveal your ignorance! Summon our troops back now!" scolded Lucian. Xandros was about to recall the vanguard when the earth shook.

A moment later, he saw the gates of Imperial Beast City open. Tens of thousands of warriors immediately poured out of the city, roaring with murderous intent.

The soldiers of Imperial Beast City were initially afraid. However, they grew courageous after witnessing Leifr's death.
