A Man Like None Other Chapter 3268-Found It “Let’s split up and look around to see if there’s anything unusual about this place. I think there must be something in this area that’s facilitating the formation of nascence beasts!” With that, Jared leaped to his feet and glanced at the empty space in front of him. Seeing that, Miya headed in another direction.

The nascence beast roared before lunging toward the both of them, seemingly trying to stop them from searching around.

“Go and look for it. I’ll hold this guy off,” Jared instructed.

“How am I supposed to look for it when I don’t even know what I’m looking for?” Miya was utterly confused. What even is that thing? How do I look for it?

“Just look around. I’m sure there will be something unusual surrounding that thing, and you will notice it.” With that, he began to battle against the nascence beast with his Dragonslayer Sword in hand.

The activated Golem Body, coupled with the infusion of metal nascence, emitted a more radiant glow. Moreover, it was surrounded by flickering arcs of electricity.

The combination of metal nascence and lightning nascence was perfect. To keep the nascence beast busy, Jared mobilized every ounce of power he could.

Attempting to kill this nascence beast here was simply impossible, for the nascence aura here was abundant. The nascence beast would immediately be replenished by a substantial influx of nascence aura as soon as it was injured, thus healing its wounds.

Therefore, the nascence beast was immortal as long as it was in this area. All he could do was hold the nascence beast off the best he could, allowing Miya to find the thing that was controlling it.

While he was battling the nascence beast, Miya kept searching the area frantically. Not long after, she realized there was an abnormal glow somewhere inside this enormous cave.

Quickly, she leaped down and got closer to the light source, only to find an egg sized stone shining brilliantly.

In the meantime, several silhouettes were slowly forming around the stone. Miya examined the phenomenon closely and discovered that the silhouettes formed were actually various nascence beasts, and they were materializing at a visible speed.

Upon observing this, she understood this was exactly what Jared was looking for. The nascence aura was forming into nascence beasts, all facilitated by this stone.

“I found it!” she exclaimed. Hearing that, Jared immediately turned around and looked in her direction. In that split second of distraction, the colossal nascence beast swung a massive paw at him.

Unable to dodge in time, Jared was sent flying by its attack. Even though he was giving his all, his efforts seemed futile when up against the gigantic nascence beast. This beast is invincible! I can't kill it at all!

“Jared!” Miya leaped into the air, attempting to rescue Jared.

“Don't come here!” Jared called out frantically. He could withstand a blow from the nascence beast due to his Golem Body. However, the same could not be said for Miya, and if she were to be struck, it would be perilous.

Despite his warnings, she was determined to rescue him as panic surged within her. But just as she leaped into the air, the nascence beast roared and exhaled a burst of aura, propelling her through the air.

She plummeted and crashed onto the stone heavily. A gush of fresh blood spurted from her mouth, and her body began to bleed heavily as well.

Her blood tainted the stone and was swiftly absorbed by its surface. Gradually, the stone's radiance transformed into a crimson hue, and the nearly formed nascence beasts around her dissipated entirely.

As her body began to levitate slowly, the huge nascence beast seemed somewhat terrified while staring at the stone, which was emitting a red glow.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3269-War Wolf Seeing that, Jared hurried toward Miya. At that moment, however, her eyes were closed, and she was enveloped by a crimson glow. Right as he got closer to her, an abrupt and tremendous energy catapulted him away.

Roar! After letting out a furious roar, the nascence beast turned around and dashed out of the cave. Seeing that, Jared understood that the stone -glowing with a scarlet hue-was definitely the thing controlling the nascence beast.

Yet, he couldn't get close to Miya currently and could only shout from afar, "Ms.

Seizon! Ms. Seizon!" He wanted to wake her up and have her pick up the stone. Nonetheless, she remained motionless, as if she was sound asleep.

In the meantime, the stone gradually ascended and hovered in mid-air before abruptly entering Miya's body. As soon as the stone entered her body, a burst of aura suddenly exploded from her.

A rampant aura began to sweep across the area, and her eyes snapped open, though they now glowed with a crimson hue. Following that, a large amount of the surrounding nascence aura began to surge toward her body.

"How could this happen?" Jared was taken aback, not expecting the stone to allow Miya to absorb nascence aura after it entered her body. Could a mere stone have triggered Miya to unlock her nascence space and comprehend nascence? If this stone is truly this mystical, it would be a priceless treasure!

After a while, the crimson light surrounding Miya's body gradually dimmed. The influx of nascence aura also stabilized, no longer rushing fervently into her body.

"W-What's happening to me?" Astounded, Miya examined herself. She felt a surge of power coursing through her entire body, accompanied by an unfamiliar aura pulsating within.

Noticing Miya was awake, Jared approached her and explained, "You've comprehended nascence aura. Just now, a significant amount of nascence aura flowed into your body. Now you can try to discover what your own nascence space is.” Upon hearing this, Miya immersed her spiritual sense into her being with skepticism. Soon, she was astonished to discover a vast expanse of forest within her consciousness field.

This was Miya’s nascence space; it was not as immense as Jared’s cosmic galaxy, but it was certainly sizable enough. Compared to those activated nascence spaces resembling houses or palaces, it was significantly larger.

“H-Have I really comprehended nascence? Have I activated my nascence space?” Miya exclaimed in disbelief. Jared told Miya, “”Try using your nascence aura.” Miya nodded before closing her eyes and harnessing the nascence aura within her. In no time, a war wolf adorned in golden armor appeared before her eyes.

This golden-armored war wolf was manifested by Miya using her metal nascence. Howling with its massive maw wide, it seemed majestic and powerful.

Jared couldn’t help but be awed by the scene. I didn’t expect Miya to utilize metal nascence by manifesting it into dangerous and aggressive objects that could deal damage! Meanwhile, my metal nascence is mostly used for defensive purposes and to fortify my Golem Body. It’s also perfect if I use it along with my lightning nascence!

As there were many methods of utilizing nascence, that meant the way one expressed it varied across individuals despite comprehending the same type of nascence. Similar to the spiritual energy between heaven and earth, it could be molded into various forms when different approaches were used.

“Where’s the nascence beast?” Miya asked Jared.

“It ran out. We can still catch up to it if we start chasing it down right now,” he responded. Upon hearing that, she immediately ran out of the cave, and he followed closely behind.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3270-Windfall Just as they rushed out of the cave, Jared and the others saw the enormous nascence beast, roaring wildly as if sensing a looming threat. Miya waved her hand, and the golden- armored war wolf charged straight at the massive nascence beast.

Once again, Miya unleashed her metal nascence, transforming it into a swarm of golden-armored war wolves that aggressively rushed toward the nascence beast.

Though these golden-armored war wolves were not large in size, the huge nascence beast seemed to fear them. It evaded their attacks and kept retreating. The ferocious golden-armored war wolves opened their mouths and fiercely tore into the nascence beast.

The nascence beast howled in pain as its body was torn apart, and a large amount of golden nascence wafted away. Surprisingly, the nascence beast's wounds did not heal this time.

The nascence beast grew weaker and weaker. Seeing this scene, both Jared and Miya burst into laughter. It seemed that the stone was indeed crucial in defeating this massive nascence beast.

As Jared and Miya watched the golden-armored war wolves fiercely battle the nascence beast deep within the mountain, Jadiel began to expand despite being embedded in the mountain.

Cracks appeared around him. Finally, the rocks shattered, allowing Jadiel to escape. Seeing the nascence beast on the brink of defeat, Jadiel knew his opportunity had come. If he could kill this nascence beast now, he might comprehend the nascence.

Jadiel's eyes sparkled with excitement. Spinning his stone hammer continuously, he leaped up and swung it at the nascence beast's head.

Jared and Miya were too engrossed in the battle to notice that Jadiel had escaped from the mountain and was attacking the nascence beast.

Boom! Following the thunderous sound, the massive nascence beast collapsed under Jadiel's stone hammer. Its body slowly dissipated, turning into countless nascence auras.

Standing under these nascence auras, Jadiel felt clarity in his consciousness field, followed by a different aura generated within him!

Jadiel knew he had comprehended the nascence aura. He guffawed. "I've comprehended it! I've comprehended the nascence aura!" Jadiel laughed ecstatically, looking incredibly excited. Miya looked at Jadiel with a murderous glint in her eyes. Now that she had also sensed the nascence aura, her strength had increased significantly. She planned to have those golden-armored war wolves kill Jadel.

Jared noticed Miya's intention and shook his head, saying, "Let's focus on absorbing the nascence aura now. Its concentration is pretty dense now, and we might not encounter it again. We must seize the opportunity to absorb it!" Miya nodded and began absorbing the metal nascence aura. The entire mountain hollow was saturated with it. It was an unexpected windfall. It would be hard to get more metal nascence once they left the ancestral land, so they shouldn't waste any time.

Without hesitation, Jared also started absorbing the nascence auras, not only from the metal nascence but also from the other nascence auras he had already sensed.

However, he didn't have much time here. If possible, he wished he could stay longer to explore the wind nascence with the Stillwind Orb.

Hearing the commotion, Yorath, Cloud, and the rest rushed over. They had already slain the smaller nascence beasts. As Miya and Jared seemed to be in a trance, Cloud and Livya didn't know what was going on.

"Miya? Miya!" Livya called with concern, but Miya didn't react.

"Livya, I think Miya and Mr. Chance are cultivating and absorbing the nascence aura," Cloud explained after a brief observation.
