

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3681-“Mr. Chance, how about I take the lead and scout things out for you?” Seeing Jared determined to enter the cave, Faiyar decided to scout things out first.

After all, they knew nothing about the situation in the cave. Given Jared’s current condition, it would be dangerous for him to enter rashly.

“No, it’s not safe for you to enter the cave with your current capabilities.” Jared shook his head.

At that, Trystan offered, “Mr. Chance, I’ll go instead.” Since Faiyar’s capabilities were too low, he felt that he could venture into the cave since he was the sect leader of Soul Demon Sect.

“Mr. Pruitt, although there are restraints in the cave, it’s not necessarily a dangerous place. If one can’t break the restraint, he will be propelled out by a mysterious force. There shouldn’t be any risk to life, so there’s no need to worry excessively. However, there are over a dozen restraints in the cave. If one has no confidence to break through them all, there’s no point in wasting time. Many people are drained after breaking through the first few restraints and are sent flying out,” Norman interjected.

“What? Over a dozen restraints?” Trystan exclaimed with shock written all over his face.

If there were only a single restraint, one could still find a way and go all out to break through it to retrieve the cultivation technique secret scrolls. But these are more than a dozen restraints. Given Jared’s current condition, it’s uncertain if he could accomplish it!

Upon hearing about the dozen restraints, Jared also frowned, looking somewhat surprised.

Who on earth was it set up so many restraints and sealed away Demon Sect’s cultivation technique secret scrolls?

“Regardless of the number of restraints, since I’m here, I want to give it a try.

Hasn't someone already gone in and remained there for a long time? There's no time to lose. I must act now." After Jared had said that, he headed toward the cave.

As a beam of light shot up into the sky, Jared's figure vanished into the cave.

Trystan, Faiyar, and the others all broke out in a cold sweat on his behalf.

Meanwhile, Norman wore an expression of admiration. A Second Level Tribulator cultivator actually ventured into the cave alone without a hint of fear!

How impressive!

When Jared entered the cave, his vision blurred for a moment. When he turned around, the crowd behind him had disappeared. It was as if he had stepped into a void of nothingness.

His surroundings were shrouded in haze, with no end in sight. He couldn't see anything, much less sense any trace of human aura.

"What a peculiar aura. It seems as though this space was created separately," Vermilion Demon Lord couldn't help but exclaim upon sensing the aura of the space.

"A space that was created? Isn't this an illusionary realm?" When Jared first entered, he thought he was in an illusionary realm. If the person had set up an illusionary arcane array first and foremost, once someone entered, he would be trapped in the illusion realm and wouldn't be able to get out.

Few in Ethereal Realm knew such an arcane array.

However, Vermilion Demon Lord claimed that it was a space that was created.

That made Jared's heart lodge in his throat.

After all, someone who could create a separate space had definitely attained Ultimate Realm or even higher.

A mere Tribulator cultivator was not yet capable of tearing the void, let alone creating a separate space.

"Mr. Vermilion, are you certain this is a separate space and not just an illusionary realm?" Jared asked Vermilion Demon Lord.

Verily, he couldn't think of anyone would do that.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3682-"Mr. Baal, please calm your anger. That's not what I meant. I trust you," Jared apologized repeatedly.

As he apologized, Jared swiftly moved forward. Since that was a newly opened space, Jared was curious to see just how vast it was.

After all, the larger the space that was opened up, the more strength and spiritual energy would be consumed.

Y Just as Jared took a few steps forward, he suddenly froze.

Before him, a beam of white light gradually appeared, followed by countless twinkling points of light.

With the emergence of the speck of light, Jared suddenly felt a sense of familiarity with that place, yet he couldn't recall why for a moment.

As Jared was lost in thought, the countless points of light surprisingly began to merge slowly, swiftly transforming into a human form.

Initially, the figure was ethereal, its features completely indiscernible.

However, as the human figure became increasingly solid, Jared was instantly stunned.

Upon seeing the person who materialized from the specks of light, Jared immediately cursed, "F*ck! Why is it you?" "Hahaha! I expected you would show up, brat!" The solidified phantom let out a hearty laugh and said to Jared, "No wonder I felt a sense of familiarity with this aura just now but couldn't place it for a moment.

So, it turns out to be you, Mr. Baal. Did you set up this restraint?" Jared's face was filled with excitement. He joyfully stepped forward, intending to embrace Baal.

Regrettably, Baal was merely an illusion, impossible to grasp.

"I merely left behind a trace of my soul for the sake of seeing you, brat.

Unexpectedly, you didn't keep me waiting for long," Baal said with a laugh.

"Mr. Baal, can you tell me what exactly is going on?" "After realizing that Baal had set the restraint, Jared felt relieved. He wanted to know what exactly Baal had experienced after returning to Ethereal Realm." "Okay. I'll tell you." With a smile, Baal began to speak.

Jared listened quietly, unconcerned about whether anyone was still attempting to break through the restraint.

After Baal returned to Ethereal Realm with the soul of Lunarius Palace's holy maiden, he sought Demoniac Sect to acquire Demoniac Stone, aiming to help the holy maiden of Lunarius Palace restore her physical body.

That was the only way the holy maiden of Lunarius Palace could be revived and then rebuild Lunarius Palace anew.

However, when Baal came to reclaim Demoniac Stone, he was fiercely rebuffed by Norman. In a fit of rage, Baal hid Demoniac Sect's cultivation technique secret scrolls within a mountain cave and laid down more than a dozen restraints.

Moreover, he also took with him most of Demoniac Sect's Demoniac Stones, leaving Demoniac Sect with only one final piece.

Norman was taken aback but didn't dare to obstruct. Moreover, he lacked the ability to do SO.

As long as their souls remained and Norman could seek Trystan's help to restore those disciples' physical bodies, they would essentially be revived.

"Mr. Baal, how did you know I would come to Ethereal Realm and Demoniac Sect, and even breaching your restraints?" Jared was quite puzzled, wondering how Baal could have known.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3683-"Demoniac Sect only has one Demoniac Stone left. It's uncertain whether you'll get it or not," Baal said with a laugh.

"Mr. Baal, since you have a dozen or so Demoniac Stones in your possession, I do not need to approach Demoniac Sect. I can simply ask you for one. Where are you right now? I'll come to find you immediately. All you need to give me is a Demoniac Stone, isn't it?" Since Jared found out Baal had taken the Demoniac Sect's Demoniac Stones, why would he need to seek Demoniac Sect out?

"No way. I don't care about that old brat, Whalreth. If he personally pleaded with me, perhaps, out of my great mercy, I might give him one," Baal said with a playful smirk on his face.

Upon hearing that, Jared responded, "If you refuse to give it to me, allow me to break through the restraint and retrieve the cultivation technique secret scrolls to exchange that one Demoniac Stone from Demoniac Sect." "You must rely on your abilities to break through the restraint. Why should I assist you? Besides, I'm merely a wisp of a soul now. How could I possibly help you?" Baal waved his hand and spoke.

"It's one thing for you to not give me the Demoniac Stone, but you wouldn't even help me break through the restraint you set yourself. Did you leave this strand of your soul behind just to mock me?" Jared was getting somewhat angry.

Seeing Jared angry, Baal chuckled. "Well, consider it as me laughing at your expense. Now that I've seen you, I can travel at ease." After Baal finished speaking, his figure began to fade and would soon vanish entirely.

Upon seeing the situation, Jared hurriedly shouted, "Mr. Baal, Mr. Baal, please don't just leave like this!" "Stop shouting. I'll tell you. The holy maiden of Lunarius Palace has reestablished Lunarius Palace at Demoniac Mountain. I've placed all the Demoniac Stones in her place. If you're capable, ask her yourself. However, you must first find Lunarius Palace." The voice of Baal echoed, but the sound gradually faded into the distance until it finally disappeared completely.

"Mr. Baal! Mr. Baal!" No matter how much Jared shouted, there was no longer any sign of Baal.

Jared fell into deep thought. Should I seek the holy maiden of Lunarius Palace for a Demoniac Stone, or should I continue to break the restraint, acquire the cultivation technique secret scrolls of Demoniac Sect, and exchange them for the Demoniac Stone?

"What's the matter? Are you too afraid to break through this restraint?" Vermilion Demon Lord's voice echoed.

“What am I afraid of? Let’s break through this restraint. I want to see who exactly is in front of me.” With a cold huff, Jared immediately dashed forward.

Jared effortlessly passed through the first layer of the restraint. It seemed that the first layer of the restraint set up by Baal was not meant to keep everyone out, but rather, it was intended for him to meet with Jared.

Subsequently, Jared began to break through the subsequent restraints. Many of those restraints relied on the activation of arcane arrays. If one wanted to break through forcefully, they would undoubtedly be sent flying with great force.

Jared could easily locate the core of the arcane array, and then break it. The restraining power would then disappear.

With a flash before Jared’s eyes, he found himself in a vast cave. However, that cave was densely filled with countless strands of silk.

“Elder Nesser?” Upon seeing that person, Jared instantly let out a cry of surprise.

Upon hearing Jared’s startled cry, Skylar instantly turned around. Then, he saw Jared.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3684-“Why are you here?” Upon seeing Jared, Skylar was also profoundly shocked.

He had never imagined that Jared would actually be there.

Moreover, Jared was hunted down by the Demon Seal Alliance. They even schemed to harm him, yet Jared was standing unscathed right before Skylar at that moment.

“Why are you here, then? Do you know that the head of the Nesser family has already met a tragic end?” Jared also asked confusedly.

However, no sooner had he finished speaking than Jared’s eyes were already fixed intently on Skylar.

That was because he discovered that Skylar was unexpectedly emanating the aura of a Top Level Tribulator at that moment. In such a short time, Elder Nesser has advanced to become a Top Level Tribulator. This is unbelievable! Moreover, he also possesses the aura of a demon. How could that be possible?

Jared was well aware that the Nesser family members were not Demonic Cultivators. They were all human cultivators.

Looking at Skylar in front of him and thinking about Skylar being with Pablo, as well as the tragic death of Cameron, it seemed as though Jared had come to understand something.

With a vigilant gaze, Jared turned toward Skylar and asked, "Who exactly are you? You're not Elder Nesser?" Hearing Jared voicing his doubt about his identity, Skylar figured there wasn't a need to keep up the pretense. Jared is merely a Second Level Tribulator. I'm now a Top Level Tribulator. It'll be a piece of cake for me to eliminate Jared.

There's no need to hide my identity any longer.

Skylar laughed heartily and said, "Hahaha, you're still as clever as ever, Jared.

You're right. I'm not Elder Nesser. I've merely been using this old geezer's body." Listening to Skylar's voice, Jared fell into deep thought. Then, he asked again sternly, "Who exactly are you?" With a cold smirk on his face, Skylar said, "Jared, have you forgotten even your old friends? You all thought I was dead, but unfortunately, I've come back to life.

Once I obtain the Demoniac Stone and restore my physical body, I can return to my original self." "Skylar?" Jared was stunned, an image of Skylar instantly flashing through his mind..

However, back then, Jared had seen that Skylar was dead. Later, Jared was drawn into the Ethereal Realm. However, unbeknownst to Jared, Skylar's soul remnant was also absorbed into the Ethereal Realm.

Skylar laughed and said, "Congratulations on getting the answer right, but there's no reward. However, I can ensure that your death will be less painful." "I truly didn't expect you to be still alive, hiding within the body of the Nesser family's elder all this time. However, I defeated you when we were in the mundane world. Things will still be the same in the Ethereal Realm. So what if you're a Top Level Tribulator? Your frail and worn-out body, I fear, simply won't allow you to exert your full strength. Moreover, this place is riddled with restraints. I'm not afraid of you at all. If I could kill you once, I can certainly do it a second time." Jared spoke nonchalantly.

In that case, Skylar would become a soul remnant again. How could he kill Jared, then?

"Is that so? Why don't you give it a try, then?" After Jared finished speaking, the Divine Bow suddenly appeared in his hand.

Only the two of them were present in that cave. Therefore, Jared could unabashedly draw out the Divine Bow.

At that moment, the Divine Bow was Jared's most powerful weapon.
