

A WARRIOR UNDEFEATABLE/ A Man Like None Other Chapter 3732

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3732-“Such a reckless fool...” Selma glanced at Jared, who had now become as still as an ice sculpture, and let out a cold huff. Others, meanwhile, watched Jared with a series of sighs.

“Who would have thought that a Third Level Tribulator could unleash such power? It’s a shame he lacked self-awareness, which led to his current state.” “Selma is a renowned Top Level Tribulator. How could a Third Level Tribulator dare to challenge her?” “The young are fearless. He failed to realize that however good somebody is, there is always somebody better.” Many cultivators greatly admired Jared’s courage, yet they couldn’t help but laugh at his recklessness.

Using the power of a Third Level Tribulator to challenge the Top Level Tribulator? Isn’t this tantamount to courting death?

Even Yuliya’s face was filled with disbelief as she stared at Jared, who had seemingly turned into an ice sculpture.

She couldn’t comprehend what was going through Jared’s mind. Could it be that he truly has no fear of death?

While everyone was busy gossiping about Jared, no one noticed that a flicker of flame had unexpectedly sparked on his chest.

This was Jared’s fire nascence working tirelessly inside his body.

The nascence star shimmered radiantly, virtually releasing all of its nascence power. The flames grew increasingly intense, gradually thawing the ice that had enveloped Jared.

The intense heat tested the cold ice, emitting waves of steam that instantly filled the air.

Beneath the steam, Jared’s figure started to appear translucent.

Upon witnessing this scene, everyone was taken aback. They hadn’t expected Jared to survive under Selma’s Ice Seal, let alone use demonic fire to melt the ice.

Selma was taken aback for a moment, then she frowned slightly and said, "So, he knows fire- related techniques. No wonder he's so audacious. Don't assume that your meager flame could melt my ice. I'll show you what I'm truly capable of." Selma remained calm and composed. With a subtle clench of her hands, the frost energy in the air directly converged toward her.

Upon witnessing this scene, Jared's heart instantly filled with a sense of despair.

He had exhausted every bit of his fire nascence, just to gradually melt the ice surrounding his body.

However, it seemed that Selma was gearing up to make another move, and this time, it appeared to be even more ruthless than before.

Jared was terrified as he knew he wouldn't be able to withstand this attack.

Even if Jared had just narrowly escaped death, there was no doubt that this strike would certainly be his end.

"You probably won't survive this attack. I never thought a mere Top Level Tribulator would push me into a dire situation. Had I known you were this useless, I wouldn't have taken up residence in your consciousness field," Vermilion Demon Lord said, expressing his regret.

However, it was utterly pointless to express regret at this point.

"I'm truly sorry for dragging you into this mess, Mr. Vermilion." Jared expressed his remorse with a heavy heart.

"Do you need me to use my worn-out soul remnant to shield you? This way, you should be safe. However, whether I can remain in this world after that, is uncertain." Vermilion Demon Lord was planning to sacrifice himself to ensure Jared's safety.

Jared tried to persuade the Vermilion Demon Lord, but he himself was prepared for the worst.

"Halt!" Just as Selma was about to strike Jared with her palm, a delicate cry rang out.

Within a distance of several miles, snowflakes were falling. The strong wind was filled with wails and howls.

All the cultivators felt an intense chill coursing through their bodies, compelling them to involuntarily retreat into the distance.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3733-From amidst the swirling snowstorm, a woman garbed in white, reminiscent of a fairy, emerged from the grand hall.

The chilling air around her instantly enveloped the woman, even the cold air manipulated by Selma was swiftly drawn toward her.

“Greetings, Ms. Nieva...” Upon witnessing this scene, Yuliya was the first to fall to her knees. Soon after, every disciple from Lunarius Palace followed suit, all of them kneeling down in unison.

“Is this the head of Lunarius Palace? She’s really stunning!” “Today truly is an eye-opener. I actually got to meet the head of Lunarius Palace!” “What an intimidating aura! I bet the head of Lunarius Palace has already reached Ultimate Realm, hasn’t she?” Numerous cultivators stared in astonishment at the woman who had suddenly appeared.

The head of Lunarius Palace casually waved her sleeve, and in an instant, the snowstorm reversed its course, roaring like a huge wave. The snowflakes that had been floating disappeared in the blink of an eye.

The head of Lunarius Palace looked toward Selma with an icy expression and asked, “Ms. Mueller, you acted as you pleased in Lunarius Palace. Are you aware that you’ve broken our rules? If word of this gets out, who will dare to visit Lunarius Palace?” Selma wore a look of displeasure on her face. She didn’t kneel before the head of Lunarius Palace, showing that she didn’t hold any particular reverence for Nieva.

“Ms. Nieva, this man killed my nephew right in front of me. How can I face my late nephew if I don’t take his life today?” Selma retorted with her teeth clenched.

Nieva said with an icy tone, “Ms. Mueller, if he did kill your nephew, it’s up to the Mueller family to seek justice. Although you’re part of the Mueller family, you’re currently an elder of Lunarius Palace, so you must respect its rules.” Selma’s eyes narrowed slightly. “What if I must kill him today?” Selma, a Top Level Tribulator, surprisingly challenged Nieva, who had reached Ultimate Realm, in public.

This situation instantly left many people utterly baffled.

An elder is having a confrontation with the head of the palace? Has she lost her mind?

Jared was utterly taken aback, staring in shock at everything unfolding before his eyes.

“You cannot kill him with me around.” Nieva waved her hand gently, and in an instant, a transparent ice barrier appeared in front of Jared.

Upon seeing the situation, Selma gritted her teeth, making a grating noise as she exclaimed, “Ms. Nieva, are you seriously cutting ties with the Mueller family over an insignificant brat who has nothing to do with us?” “I am merely upholding the traditions of Lunarius Palace. Must you insist on bloodshed within these walls? Don’t forget, you hold the position of an elder in Lunarius Palace,” Nieva said coldly.

“All right, I’ll wait until he leaves Lunarius Palace, then I’ll tear him to pieces! I’ll also notify the Mueller family and reveal everything that’s happened here. My nephew’s death won’t be left unresolved.” After Selma finished speaking, she shot Jared a fierce glare, then stormed off with a dismissive flick of her sleeve.

Understanding the current situation, Selma had yet to reveal Jared’s true identity as she didn’t want others to beat her to it. She intended for the century long offerings of the Demon Seal Alliance to fall entirely into the hands of the Mueller family.

Nieva told Yuliya, “Yuliya, could you arrange for someone to tidy up this place?”

Afterwards, tell all the cultivators that they can go get some rest. Now, they are free to choose the female cultivators they fancy.” “Understood!” Yuliya gave a slight nod, then left with a multitude of cultivators trailing behind her.

“Don’t push your luck. Ms. Nieva-” “Yuliya, let him stay and lead the others away,” Nieva cut her off.

Nieva set the perfect example herself. She simply would not get close to any male cultivator.

This time, however, Nieva had unexpectedly invited Jared to stay, which greatly surprised Yuliya.

Even so, Yuliya didn’t dare to press further. She could only lead the numerous cultivators away.

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3734-“Come with me...” Nieva said.

She then turned around and walked into the grand hall.

Without any hesitation, Jared followed suit.

Even though Nieva had already regained her physical form, Jared still remembered a time when she was merely a wisp of a spirit, nothing more than a mere holy maiden of Lunarius Palace.

Upon entering the grand hall, Nieva unleashed a surge of spiritual energy, which flowed directly into Jared’s body.

Instead of dodging, Jared simply allowed that surge of spiritual energy to enter his body.

“Although you managed to break free from Selma’s icy seal, your body accumulated a significant amount of frost energy, which could have impacted your subsequent training. I’ve just removed the frost energy from your body,” Nieva told Jared.

“Do you know me?” Jared was somewhat taken aback.

After all, he had drastically changed his appearance, and so much time had passed. There was no way Nieva could possibly recognize him.

“Of course. I will forever remember the great kindness you have shown me, Mr.

Chance. Even though you altered your appearance, your aura remains unchanged. Why would I have intervened if I didn't know it was you?" Nieva replied with a faint smile.

"Ms. Nieva, there's something that I find rather peculiar. How could one of the elders dare to oppose you?" Jared couldn't comprehend it. An elder defying the head was simply outrageous.

"Ah..." Nieva sighed, gesturing for Jared to take a seat. She then said, "Haven't you noticed that the disciples within Lunarius Palace aren't particularly strong?" "The blood demon reconstructed my physical body, enabling me to rebuild Lunarius Palace. I even managed to gather some of the scattered disciples of Lunarius Palace. However, most of them were newly recruited. For Lunarius Palace to grow, it's essential to have resources." Left with no other options, it occurred to me to have the outer circle disciples seek partners. Numerous male cultivators came in droves. As long as they found a suitable partner, they could be of use to Lunarius Palace. Consequently, their resources would also belong to Lunarius Palace. As for Selma, she is primarily interested in the ice-based cultivation techniques of Lunarius Palace.

I, in turn, utilized her status to establish a connection with the Mueller family, enabling me to access some of their resources. All the men in the Mueller family practiced fire-based cultivation techniques. When they later paired with the female disciples of Lunarius Palace for dual cultivation, it allowed for a rapid advancement in their cultivation levels. When it comes down to it, we were merely using each other. Since there is no real hierarchy between us, Selma isn't afraid of me at all," Nieva explained with a helpless look on her face.

Upon hearing this, Jared also felt Nieva's helplessness.

Having just regained her physical form, she was faced with the task of rebuilding Lunarius Palace. On top of that, she had to devise ways to gather resources to facilitate the development of the palace.

This was essentially similar to the initial stages of establishing Lunarius Palace, which were undoubtedly the most challenging.

"Did you just offend the Mueller family for my sake, Ms. Nieva?" Jared felt somewhat embarrassed.

Had he known the consequences, he wouldn't have killed Keiran, which caused Lunarius Palace such a huge trouble.

Nieva had no regrets.

At this point, Jared felt even more awkward. Initially, he had planned to take Demonia Stone and leave. How am I supposed to leave now?

Jared turned toward Nieva and asked, "Ms. Nieva, what's the story behind Lunarius Palace's journey to the polar region? If there's any way I can assist, I'd be more than happy to."

A Man Like None Other Chapter 3735-Surprisingly, Nieva didn't allow Jared to participate in the polar region expedition. Moreover, she knew that Jared was there to retrieve the Demonia Stone.

"Why? Wasn't the whole point of you testing so many people to prepare for the expedition to the polar region, Ms. Nieva? I believe I can help." Jared couldn't comprehend why Nieva wanted him to leave.

"Mr. Chance, you may not know this, but the expedition to the polar region is fraught with danger. True, it's an immortal's tomb, abundant with opportunities and untapped resources. However, it's also a perilous territory. Those who venture there may not have a chance to come back alive. This expedition to the polar region is merely exploratory. It's the most dangerous phase, so you can't go," Nieva explained.

If turned out Nieva was forbidding Jared to take part out of concern for his safety.

"In that case, it's even more necessary for me to ease your burden, Ms. Nieva. If we can figure out this place, perhaps you won't have to worry about resources in the future." Upon hearing that, Jared became even more resolute in his thoughts. Since Ms. Nieva has been looking out for me at every turn, it was only right that I do something in return. The resources in Lunarius Palace are extremely scarce at the moment. Without resources, a sect can hardly flourish.

This is a perfect chance for me to explore the polar region. If I can discover resource-rich areas, it will be a tremendous help to Lunarius Palace!

Taking in Jared's unwavering demeanor, Nieva became at a loss for words. In the end, she could only nod with a sense of resignation.

Nieva let out a sigh and said, "Whether Lunarius Palace can continue to expand in the future hinged on this expedition to the polar region. After falling out with the Mueller family, I fear they would no longer share their demonic fire for dual cultivation with Lunarius Palace's disciples." "Ms. Nieva, I'm willing to undergo dual cultivation with disciples of Lunarius Palace to help them rapidly increase their strength. Even though these disciples can't match the beauty of my women, I'm ready to make this sacrifice to repay the favor of you saving my life. However, I can only handle five people at most in one night. I'm afraid my body won't be able to take it if I overdo it," Jared said helplessly to Nieva.

He had started viewing himself as a stud now. / was treated as a stud when I was previously in the Seizon residence. However, that time wasn't too bad because it only involved the Seizon sisters. This time, there are probably dozens of disciples at the Lunarius Palace. I'm not sure if I can handle it all!

"You can do that?" Nieva was taken aback.

Jared didn't utter a word. Instead, he slightly lifted his right hand, and in an instant, a flame ignited in his palm.

Following that, the flames continued to rise, rapidly increasing the temperature within the grand hall.

At the same time, the fire nascence within Jared continuously surged forth.

"You've actually comprehended fire nascence. This is much more powerful than the Mueller family's fire cultivation technique!" Nieva exclaimed in shock.

"There shouldn't be a problem for me to undergo dual cultivation with Lunarius Palace's disciples, right?" Jared put away the demonic fire, offering a slight smile as he spoke.

"No problem. However, when you say that none of the women from Lunarius Palace are as beautiful as yours, are you implying that you've seen every disciple here?" Nieva asked.
